22. Charles St. Berkeley Square

Dec. 8. 1832.

My dear Sir,

Your letter of the 26 ult only reached me yesterday — It has run the gauntlet of every post office in London — pray accept my best thanks for it & the thanks of our Committee for your liberal patronage of the object which we have in view & which advances I hope as it ought to do — We have sent letters to every part of Europe & trust that due honour will be made to the memory of the illustrious Scott.

We hear constantly from my brother David from Switzerland — I wish he were here that we might go together to pay you our personal respects —

I am much flattered by your approval of Zohrab. Opinions such as Yours are worth having & I assure You that I appreciate it much.

My Brother & Sisters are quite well & join with me in wishing the Comp[ts]. of the Season. Believe me

My dear Sir
faithfully Yours
James Morier

Cr. Boyd Esq.

3.00

F. L. Pforzheimer

22, Charles St., Berkeley Square
                    Decr 8. 1832.

Dear Sir,
            Your letter of the 26 ult only reached me yesterday.
It has run the Gauntlet of every post office in London - pray accept my best thanks for it & the thanks of our Committee for your liberal patronage of the object which we have in view & which advances I hope as it ought to do. We have sent letters to every part of Europe & trust that due honour will be made to the memory of the illustrious Scott.
  We hear constantly from my brother David from Switzerland. I wish he were here that we might go together to pay you our personal respects.
  I am much flattered by your approval of Zohrab. Opinions such as yours are worth having & I assure you that I appreciate it much.
My mother & sisters are quite well & join with me in wishing the Compt of the season.

                    Believe me my dear Sir faithfully yours

      Mr Boyd Esq   James Morier

_____

  James Justinian Morier (1780?-1849), diplomatist, traveller, and novelist; wrote "Zohrab the Hostage" in 1832. He was praised by Sir Walter Scott in the Quarterly Review as "the best novelist of the day". David Richard Morier (1784-1877), his brother was Minister the the Swiss Confederation from June 5, 1832 to 1847.