

New-York, August 11, 1831.

Dear Sir,

Please do me the favour to present the accompanying volume to Mrs. Francis, with my best wishes, and most respectful compliments. It contains all the engravings ever published in the Mirror, and I have had it bound expressly for her. I shall be gratified if it serve to pass away a leisure hour pleasantly, and her acceptance of the same will but add to the debt of gratitude which your repeated acts of friendly attention have entailed upon me.

Believe me, my dear sir, with sincere esteem,

Your devoted friend, and

Obt. servant,

Geo. P. Morris.

2 Bnd St.

A numerous Meeting of Citizens, friends of Literature and the Drama, was held at the Astor House on the 13th instant.

On motion of Gen. Wetmore, Gen. John Lloyd was appointed Chairman, and Alexander Hamilton, Jr. and Daniel Kingsland, Secretaries.

The meeting was addressed by Gen. Sandford, Gen. Wetmore, J. N. Reynolds, Esq., and several other Gentlemen, and letters were received from Chief Justice Jones, Com. Perry, Gen. Chandler, M. M. Noah, Alfred A. Smith, and numerous other distinguished Citizens, all cordially uniting in the objects of the meeting.

Whereupon, it was unanimously

Resolved, That the liberality and public spirit which have at all times been evinced by Gen. Morris, in forwarding objects of public interest and cultivating a taste for literature, and in extending encouragement to letters and the fine arts, entitle him to an expression of the respect and good feeling of his friends at the present time, when it is understood he has written the libretto of a New Opera, soon to be produced at the Park Theatre.

Resolved, That those present will, with a cordial zeal, unite to render the Author's benefit a substantial proof of their regard and esteem.

Resolved, That those present address a circular to such friends of Literature and the Lyrical Drama as in their opinion may be disposed to promote the object of this meeting, informing them that the Secretaries will attend at the Astor House with the box-plan for the purpose of disposing of tickets for the Author's night.
