

7, Norham Gardens,
Oxford.

25/11 1900

My dear Professor

I was so glad to hear from you. Yes, I am better, and the cause of the mischief is removed — more than I was expected. I am, however, tired, & cannot do any work which is rather tedious. If only spring would come, and if only the Boers would give in!

The Dialogues of Buddha will take their place,
I hope, by the side of the Dialogues of Plato, I hope,

Yours very truly

F. Max Müller

MAX MULLER, Friedrich. German Orientalist and Philologist. A.L.S. lp., 8vo. Oxford, Nov. 25, 1900.

INTERESTING LETTER. "I am better and the cause of the mischief is removed— more than I ever expected. I am, however, tired and can not do any work which is rather tedious. If only Spring would come and if only the Boers would give in. The Dialogues of Buddha will take their place, I hope, by the Dialogues of Plato."

✓ 704 MAX MULLER, Friedrich. German Orientalist and Philologist.
A.L.S. 1 p., 8vo. Oxford, Nov. 25, 1900.

INTERESTING LETTER. "I am better and the cause of the mischief is removed—more than I ever expected. I am, however, tired and can not do any work which is rather tedious. If only Spring would come and if only the Boers would give in,
The Dialogues of Buddha will take their place, I hope, by the Dialogues of Plato."