Dear Mr North:-

An appeal from the Grolier Club in regard to the exhibition of the Lamb items reached me a week or so ago and I have left at the Club House, in care of Miss Grannis, a memorandum of the books in my possession. My collection is very small as the prices demanded, while no doubt correct enough, appear to me to encourage a very selfish indulgence when so many deserving families are lacking the essentials for education and health. I am not adding to my collection until social conditions assume a better outlook.

What I have is at your service should the items thereof be considered of sufficient value to exhibit.
