Dear Patterson,

I am really obliged by the Trouble you have suffered yourself to be put to by Cox on my Account - your Advice has been un-influential, as I have received a note from him declining to take back my Horse. I have therefore availed myself of the only consolation in such case, writing to blow ma try.

him up and cut him - I have also promised him a similar favorable Consideration on the part of my Friends, so that if you know any one wishing to purchase, you can let him know where he ought not to go. I thank you also for your friendly offer of a Run for him, but I hope to be able to manage here until the Autumn when I shall hope to sell him. - Had I thought of your being at the Athenaeum on Saturday Evening I would have given you a look in, but I understood your intention was to go to the Opera.

Yours very sincerely,

Thomas Thomas.
