

115^A HARLEY STREET,
W.

18th June 1910.

Dear Dad Justice.

I am most unfortunate.
I am going into the country
within the next few days,
to busy myself with work with which I am seriously behindhand,
and cannot be in London on July 21st. Fate is indeed grudging to me.

I hope you are well. My wife joins me in sending you many kind messages.

Believe me
yours most faithfully
Arthur D'Almeida
