Dear Mr. Brown

Will you in the 27th volume please excuse my delay in acknowledging your "Papers by the not-odd hands", which I have read with a great deal of pleasure. Possibly there is something a little peritrous in your elucubrations, though I don't believe a good way about that.

I have not your address, and so am sending this in care of your printer.

Yours very truly

E. C. Robinson
