

PROFESSOR ROBERT WILLIAM ROGERS,
MADISON, NEW JERSEY

November 1, 1923.

My dear Friend: -

I have made a shift in my small affairs and have cleared out an engagement for November 14th. It is therefore perfectly possible for me to begin a course of lectures in Summit on that day, if it be desired. I write this to you now that you may lay it before the Committee which is considering the question of employing me or not for this year. I am not presuming that I may be invited, but leaving that decision, pro or con to the wise decision of kind friends. I fear that the course which I have offered is not quite so interesting as some of its predecessors, but it is the best, the very best, that I can do. Less than that I should not offer to Summit.

To
Mr. E. D. North.

Cordially Yours,
Robert W. Rogers.
