

PROFESSOR ROBERT WILLIAM ROGERS,
MADISON, NEW JERSEY

January 14, 1924.

My dear Mr. North:-

I thank you for the kind thought of sending me the editorial, very skilful and clever it is, on my old friend Tut-ankh-Amen. I am to lecture on him at Hamilton College on Wednesday night.

If you will take a look at the address upon your envelope which I enclose you will see why the letter was slow in reaching me. Eh?

I hope that Mrs. North has entirely recovered, and that you are planning a trip to England next summer. That would refresh her as naught else!

Ever affectionately + gratefully
Robert W. Rogers.
