30. September 1890

Dear Alfred,

What has become of you and dear Vera I do not see her clever articles in the Lady's Pic and I have you into residence at Queen's College.

Do you think you could arrange my birthday October 6 next Thursday in The Balls and will you and Vera as true and staunch supporters come to lunch that day here at 2 o'clock

Yours very
Clement Scott

What a dear that Tree is Clement Scott I have clear and distinct witness that neither Tree nor Grandy had ever seen Dana's novel 'The Three Musketeers' until better than than he wanted to do it
