9 July 1872

Dear Sir,

I much regret that Mrs Booth was not well enough this morning to come into the city and keep her appointment with you. Perhaps you could make it convenient to call here on Friday about twelve. Please send me a post card tonight and I will arrange with Mrs Booth to come in at that hour. She desires me to thank you for the volume entitled "Letters and other writings of Lord Edward Denmison".

Yours faithfully,

W. Bramson Booth.
