

My dear Sir.

Wyndham has begged so hard - and promised so much that I have consented to his living out of College if you agree to it - I have told him very fairly - and shoud his own will that Competence or Parents will be his Lot in proportion as he does his duty to himself.

I remain always very Dr. Sir your much obliged obedient Servant
Sydney Smith.

I was however struck with thinking afterwards that it seemd as if I had sent to you to speak to me in the Coach - the morning I called, which would have been a piece of absurd presumption andness - whereas I told the Servant I would wait in the Coach till you came down to your room.
