Dear Madam.

It is not my custom to allow my acknowledgments to be long delayed, as my first duty is to clear my desk, each morning before touching other work. If I have not acknowledged the receipt of "Magnum Hausen", it must be due to the fact, that some one else interfered with my desk, & swept the letter book aside, but that I received it now is not the least doubt as I have it among my Congo & Swahili books. I am glad to be told at this late hour even who the donor was, and I shall remember the name better now by being reminded of it by you.

Yours faithfully

Henry Winstanley

Mrs Emily Schön
