My dear friend,

I am staying here for a couple of days and should have been so exceedingly happy to see you. But they told me
at Chapman & Hall
that you are not in town and they could not even say at what place you are staying

now. So I can only send you by these lines my sincerest
regards.

I am leaving this evening for Paris and hope that we may have the pleasure of seeing you in Germany soon.

Please remember me
kindly to your family
and believe me
ever

Your most sincere
Fidelity
