

Selby, Octob. 20, 1879.

Dear Canon Westcott,

A short time since I was sending a copy of the enclosed paper to an eminent man, with not-very much more excuse for doing so than that I had been examined by him for the Cl. Tripes.

May I now venture to send a copy to another eminent man, with no excuse at all, except that I had the honour to be one of his examiners? Allow me to remain

Rw. Canon Westcott. Faithfully yours
F. W. Harper.
