

BIBER, rev. George Edward, D.D., German scholar; ordained in English church, 1839; edited "English Review," and published many pamphlets; d. 19 Jan. 1874.

Emma Bibb
1801-1874
authess.
(Emma)

Roehampton
London S.W.

Roehampton
Surrey

Sep' 23-

Dearest Laura

Your pleasant note with its kind enclosure for the baby's institution ought to have been recognised by return of post but I beg you will excuse the delay as my attention has been much engaged by increasingly bad Bullets from Brighton and by Dr Bibb's unexpected departure for that neighbourhood

I was vexed after you were gone the other day for not having asked several things I wanted to know Was I dreaming or did not you or your sweet sister say something of an intention your dear mamma had of leaving home? Only I have been thinking I must have been wrong in my impression as this used to be rather the season of your returning - Have you been nothere this summer? If not it has been an exception methinks

And did you not also allude to some young Angel you were patronising and whom you spoke of in your note as - "darling Temple" you remember how fond I used to be of hearing about your frocks!
An epanchement of yours is always a treat! With best love to the whole dear circle I remain dear Lamma
Yours most affectionately
P. Biber

6833 P.S.

Emma a. B. [unclear] wife

June 18, 1914