My dear S Childs

I am very much obliged by your paper received safe, the only thing that occurred to me at the time was that it was almost my last one, but you were welcome to it. The costumes are excellent & just what is required for puritans - only almost too simple & severe, almost to theatricality but I have no doubt correct - We hear this morning from Rosetti

This morning that George Hake was almost killed while bathing by a young & favorite dog that would climb on to his shoulders & bite his head — He was only saved by Mrs a large black retriever which came & seized the other with admirable sense — The young one again & again returned to the attack — Possibly in the intention of pulling his master out of the water —

He was shot immediately after - Glad to hear you are at work - Yours with all kind remembrances from all - F. Madison Brown

What do those D - D fellows of the Institute mean by turning both Lucy's pictures out after asking us to send them?
