Gentlemen

I am applied to
by a French gentleman,
a member of the Institute, about a translation which he wishes to bring out of the life of Henrietta durban of Belgium, one of my series of "Princesses of England"

I do not know how your copyright might affect the case; I have none not at all,
but I think it better
to name the subject,
I shall be glad to know that you do not object to the proposed translation - I am,

Gentlemen,

Yours obediently

Dear Mr. Finsley,

In the note in yesterday morning, as a
against the probable cost of not seeing you, I took for some knowledge of other than that which derived from reading. For
