ROTTINGDEAN,
SUSSEX.

Dec. 28th 1909.

Dear Lord D'Alryth,

I thank you for your kind letter. I know how busy you must be just now, I quite understood how you found you could not get to my studio before Christmas.

I am returning to town on Thursday, & shall, I hope, be in London till the end of the first week of January. The picture
- which I am sincerely anxious

That you should see - is at my studio, & I shall be very happy to show it to you any day till 8th Jan - or after I return - say about 16th. But it would be very nice if you found you had time to get across before then - My telephone number is 607 WESTERN *

if you gave me an hour's notice, I would make a point of being in any day that suited you.

Yours very truly Philip Warner-Jones.
