

RICHARD, 4th Earl of Effingham, m. 14 June, 1785, Harriet-Elizabeth, dau. and co heiress of John Marsh, but by her (who d. 7 March, 1827) had no issue. At his death, 10 Dec. 1816, the earldom of Effingham ceased; but the barony reverted to his kinsman (refer to the descendants of Sir William Howard, of Lingfield, 2nd son of the 1st Baron Howard, of Effingham).

This true Value is better known in England than in

Tell Tullman this Country has a good look, we lodge at a Wine Merchants, of I have every Day Drank his Health, together with your fthat of our Friends in Sweden, in most excellent Swedish Wine of which I have bought an anchor, to carry to Petersburgh. it Costs very little more than in Germany & no better can be Drank.

When I know more of this Empire, I shall be happy to find that any account I can capable of sending you may be worth your perusal, in the mean time be assured of my Constant regard & remembrance of your friendly Behaviour while I was on your side of the Water. My wife & brother beg leave to join, in kindest remembrance. believe me Dear Sir

Dear Sir,

After a tedious Voyage of ten Days, we are safe arrived at Revall. & as you were so kind as to say, for I should interest yourself in what befall us, I am encoraged to indulge myself at your expence, & give you this trouble.

I thought we should have got away the Day before yesterday, but the Russian custom House, may be in Tedious resps with any I have honour of knowing. No I must do them the Justice to say, I have no chicanery to complain of. Their rules seem ill contrived, for they told me that if I paid here the Duty of a D. I had have above three hundred Rubles to pay, but by giving

Bond to produce the Seals antroke at Petersburg I have only to Pay for what is new, (amounting to about five Rubles,) at Petersburg I shall by the Help of McHcart, come off for about twenty more for my Cloathes &c. or perhaps less. This Circumstance of their Customs I thought might prove not uninteresting to you, as I believe it rather uncommon to charge old Wearing Apparel, Watchs Rings Snuff Boxes & such things as Merchandise, when they are only in such Decency as a Gentleman may be supposed to have for his own use.

I must beg you to make my Particular Respects to Count Osterman, & to inform him, that it is a great Disappointment to me not to have had the Honour of Receiving by his kind Recommendation as the Prince of Holstein is at a Country House, & does not return for fourteen Days. I would have Written to him myself, but fear'd the short time I have had the Honour of his Acquaintance, might not, Authorise such a Liberty.

Baron Cocceji of Boron Juel, claim also my gratefull Acknowledgement of their Nobleness & Kindness to me, I must beg of you to acquaint my Obligation in the kindest Terms.

Never must I forget to say, how much I wish S. Gustafs Powers way in Civility, & Attentive regard may not deprive us of the pleasure of keeping our Country men. I hope sincerely Mr Lyell holds firmly his resolution of visiting England this Year.
