

S. Armand de Tencé,
Kemp Down. Brighton.
March 26. 1858.

My dear Mr. Barlow. I shall be in Town on Thursday next, and shall be delighted to dine with you - and Mr. Barlow (to whom pray make my best remembrances) at 9 o'clock on that day - sans façon, as you kindly propose.

We have the most lovely weather here imaginable at present. The sea is like an Italian lake in summer - and the dawns are delicious.

My daughters are quite well, and desire their best regards to you and Mr. Barlow.

Yours sincerely,
Yours
W. Harris a Crispworth
