Gentlemen:

Please advise if you make small magnets such as the horseshoe type. If you do make this type we would appreciate information on the various small sizes and prices.

I wish to experiment with a magnet held in the hand for the purpose of lifting a small weight which probably would not exceed 5 pounds. It is for this reason that I requested above some information as to the magnetic lifting power of the different sizes.

Yours very truly,

Supt. Bldgs. & Grnds. Dept.
