THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

. . . The State Is Our Campus

Located in Lexington, an urban community of over 140,000 population in the heart of Kentucky's famed Blue Grass region, University of Kentucky is a state-supported, land-grant institution which celebrated its centennial year in 1965.

The present school, which this fall expects 21,000 students and now offers instruction in 10 academic colleges plus a Graduate School and a Community College system, had its beginnings in 1865 when it was established as a part of old Kentucky University. This action by the State Legislature united sectarian and public education under one organization for the first time. Federal funds authorized under the Morrill Act were used to develop agriculture and mechanical arts within KU and, in 1878, A&M College was separated from KU to become a separate state institution on the general site of what is now the 706-acre main campus. Name changes in 1908 and 1916 resulted in the title by which the school is now known.

The University is on the approved list of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is fully accredited in its respective colleges and departments by all of the major professional societies and educational organizations.

A new chief administrative officer, Dr. John W. Oswald, took over reins of the University at the beginning of the 1963-64 school year.

Dr. Oswald, at the age of only 49 years, came to his position at Kentucky well-equipped in academic training and administrative experience plus an unusual (for a college president) background as both player and coach during his collegiate days. The UK president picked up his bachelor's degree from DePauw University and was awarded the Ph.D. degree by University of California, the institution from which he transferred to Kentucky. At California, John Oswald held many academic and administrative positions, rising to the post of vice-president-administration for the Statewide University. The special field of the UK president is plant pathology. His athletic background that now stands him in good stead came while he attended DePauw. There he played the grid sport for three years, served as team captain in his senior season of 1937, and lettered as well in basketball and track. Later, while associated with California, the Phi Beta Kappa graduate and former PT boat skipper tried his hand three years (1949-50-51) as a football coach (by avocation) of the Davis campus team. Dr. Oswald was honored in 1962 by selection on the Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-America football team.

ATHLETICS AT KENTUCKY

Kentucky's athletic program, a well-balanced and ambitious activity featuring inter-collegiate competition in ten different sports, is organized under the Department of Athletics and a corporation known as the University of Kentucky Athletics Association.

The program is conducted without overemphasis or sacrifice of educational objectives and in strict compliance with the rules of the University, the Southeastern Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

A board of directors, headed by University President John W. Oswald in the capacity of chairman, maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program. Ex-officio members, in addition to the president, include Vice Presidents Robert Johnson, and Glen Creech, Dr. W. L. Matthews in the capacity of secretary to the board, and a student representative—all appointed by the president. Twelve other men, drawn from the University faculty and the general public, also serve on the board as appointees of the president.

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the nation's top athletic programs is Bernie A. Shively, a former Illinois grid All-American and a veteran of over 25 years in the post of Director of Athletics.

The Association's Board of Directors is composed of the following:

Dr. John W. Oswald, Chairman	Dr. Glen Creech
Robert Johnson, Vice Chairman	Dr. John Douglas
Dr. W. L. Matthews, Jr., Secretary	Dr. Lyman Ginger
Dr. Ralph Angelucci	Dr. A. D. Kirwan
Prof. David Blythe	Charles O. Landrum
Dr. Aubrey Brown	James H. Pence
Dr. Thomas Clark	Dr. N. J. Pisacano
Steve Cook (Student)	Dr. Charles B. Wilson
	Floyd Wright

KENTUCKY'S COLORS

The blue and white of the University of Kentucky are known to sports fans everywhere. Officially the colors are Yale blue and white, but in the beginning, when the Lexington institution was still known as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky, the colors were "Stoll blue" and white. One day back in the 1890's a group of Kentucky football stalwarts met to choose their school colors. Someone suggested blue and white—"blue like Dick Stoll's necktie"—and those colors were immediately adopted. "Dick" Stoll was to become Judge Richard C. Stoll, distinguished public servant and, for more than fifty years before his death, a member of the U.K. board of trustees.

SEC ELEVEN OF THE DECADE (1950-59)

Chosen For the Associated Press by 65 Leading Sportswriters and Sportscasters of the South

Pos.	Player (School)	Senior Year
ENDS	Steve Meilinger (Kentucky)	1953
	Jimmy Phillips (Auburn)	1957
TACKLES	Lou Michaels (Kentucky)	1957
	Bob Gain (Kentucky)	1950
GUARDS	Zeke Smith (Auburn)	1959

HALFBACKS	Billy Cannon (LSU)	1959
	Jackie Parker (Miss. State)	1953
FULLBACK	Charley Flowers (Mississippi)	1959

The Associated Press poll also honored Kentucky players in the following manner:

Parilli—Best Passer and Runner-up to Cannon as Outstanding Player, Best Back.

Michaels—Top Lineman, Best Offensive Lineman, Third in Outstanding Player voting.

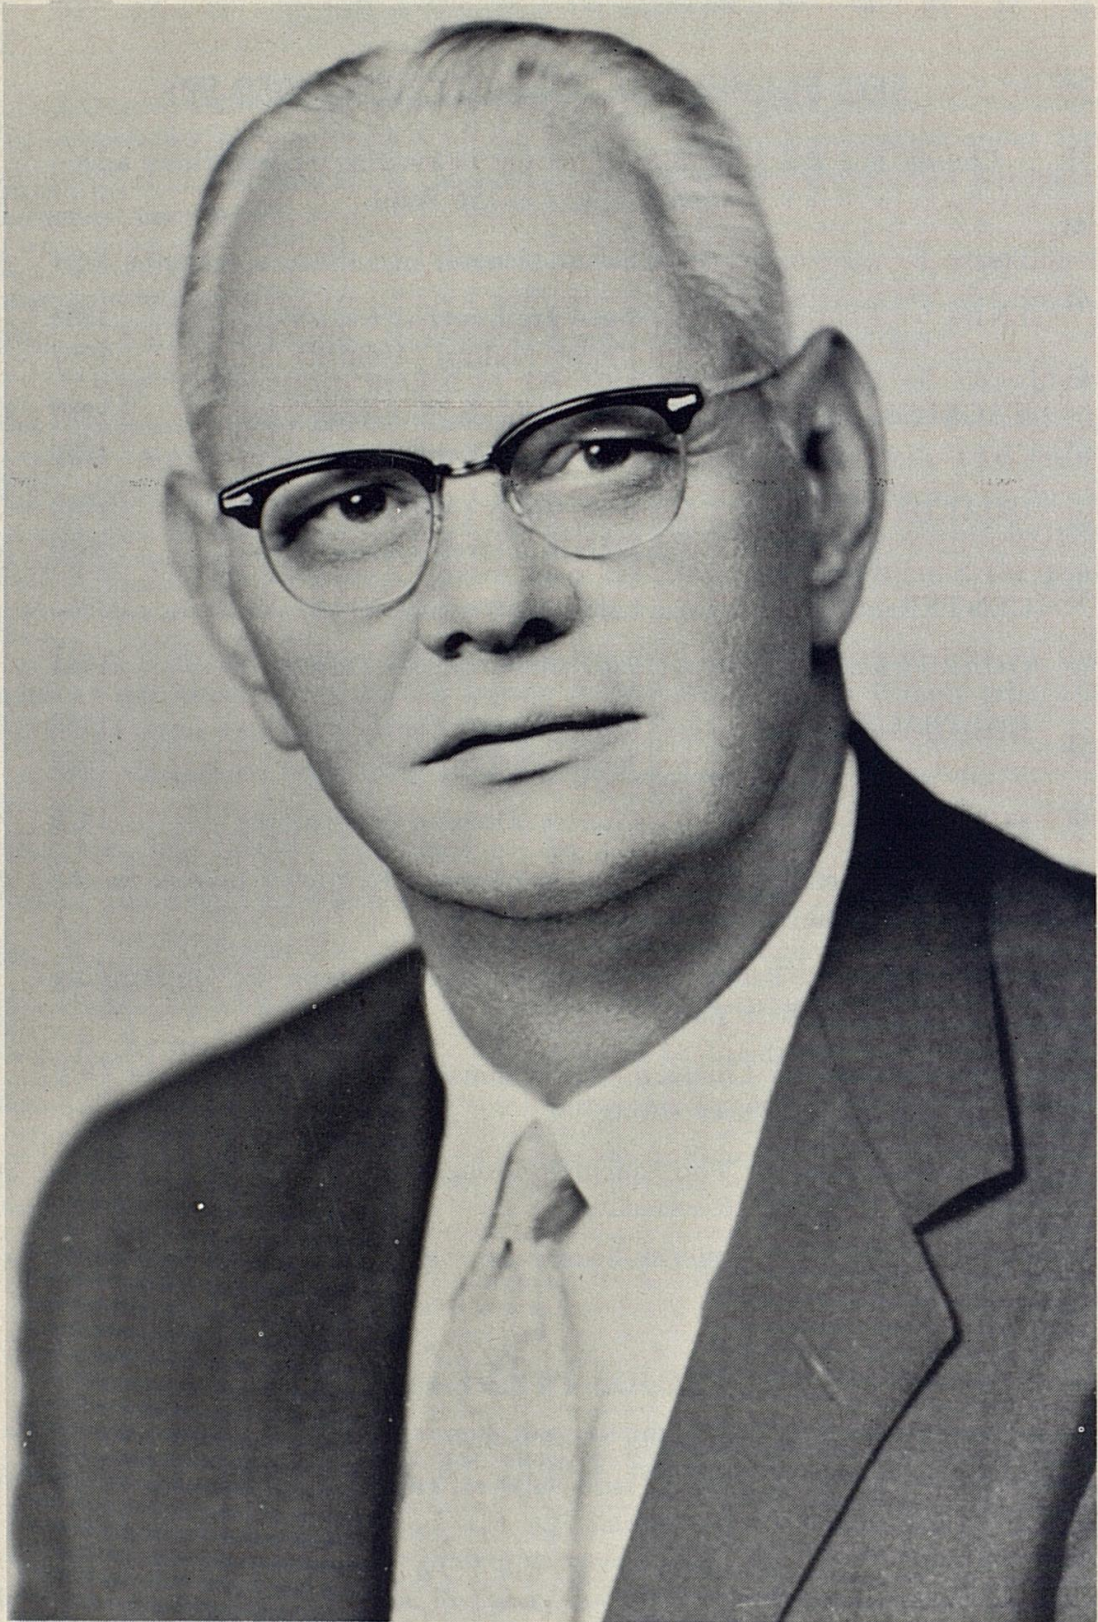

Gain—Second in Top Lineman voting.

Kentucky played its first night football game, possibly the first in the South, against Swanee in Lexington Oct. 4, 1930. The Wildcats shut out the opposition with a 37-0 victory.

Dicky Lyons, in his first varsity season (1966) for the University of Kentucky, appeared in every category of individual offensive and defensive statistics, quite a novelty in this day of two-platoon football.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
Bernie A. Shively

University of Kentucky is able to boast proudly of having one of the nation's most harmonious and well-balanced athletic programs—September to June activity in 10 different sports featuring more than 500 athletes in action before audiences that exceed a half million persons and involving use of facilities valued at several million dollars.

Supervising the steady growth and balanced development of one of the top intercollegiate athletic programs in the country today is a tall silver-haired, former gridiron All-American known familiarly to thousands of UK sport fans as "Shive."

He is, by name, Bernie A. Shively. In his position as Kentucky's Director of Athletics since 1938, this gentleman of many talents has been largely responsible for guiding the University to increasing prominence in the athletic world.

In addition to a fair-minded policy direction that has resulted in "big time" stature for the school's athletic teams, Shively during his 29-year tenure has directly supervised major expansions in the physical plant designed to keep pace with the growing patronage by a sports-minded public. Among these have been the doubling of the seating capacity of Stoll Field, construction of a four-million-dollar coliseum and preparation of a spacious sports center to provide top facilities for spring sports teams and football practice.

The football stadium expansion upped the number of seats to approximately 37,500 and placed the facility on a par with stadiums located in heavier-populated areas. In addition, powerful new "iodized" lighting equipment was installed during the 1948-49 construction to bring night football into new popularity and, more recently, attention was given to improving the playing surface. A major renovation raised the level of the field to provide the fans better visibility of the action and a special, tough strain of Bermuda grass replaced the existing Blue Grass that succumbed annually to tearing cleats. Now, the far-sighted Shively dreams of an entirely new stadium located on campus and the project is in the serious "talking stage" with financing and physical planning being studied.

Proof of Shively's vision of future needs is given by the overwhelming number of cage devotees who now make use of the opportunity to see the successful basketball Wildcats in 11,500-seat Memorial Coliseum. Few besides the UK Athletic Director could foresee continual capacity crowds when the Coliseum became the biggest and finest on-campus arena in 1950.

The Sports Center—with an all-weather rubber-asphalt track, two baseball diamonds and the most spacious football practice field in the South—has few, if any, equals in the country.

Shively's first claim to fame came during undergraduate days at University of Illinois as he achieved All-America recognition as a guard on the 1926 grid team.

Shively also has found time to be active in civic and alumni affairs and attained national prominence for his chairmanship of the NCAA's University Division Basketball Tournament Committee. Just prior to completing his second term at the head of this committee, Shively and the University were honored as he was named to the NCAA Executive Committee.

Born in Oliver, Ill., May 26, 1903, Shively attended Paris (Ill.) High school and there began his athletic career by participating in track and football. Although he was considered an outstanding backfield man in high school, Shively didn't attract the serious attention of collegiate scouts. He entered Illinois and tried out for the football team on his own. From that humble beginning, Shively went on to become a great guard under Coach Bob Zuppke on the same Illini team made famous by the immortal Red Grange.

Played With Grange at Illinois

Shive played two years with Grange, running interference for the "Gallop- ing Ghost" and made All-America in 1926 as a senior despite a bad knee that handicapped his playing. He also won the heavyweight wrestling championship of the Big 10 and was a standout in track to rank as one of the finest all-around athletes in Illinois' history.

Shively came to Kentucky in 1927 as line coach of football under Harry Gammage and six years later was named head of the UK Physical Education Department. He succeeded Chet Wynne as Athletic Director in 1938. During this period and the years following, he also served as track and baseball coach for several seasons and continued to assist the football staff as line coach until 1944. The next year, 1945, he assumed full charge of the grid squad for one season before turning the job over to mentor Paul (Bear) Bryant in 1946.

The Kentucky Athletic Director for the past 14 years has been president of the Southeastern Conference Coaches and Athletic Directors Association. He served as chairman of the SEC Basketball Committee for a number of years and is a past chairman of the NCAA summer baseball group.

Shively and his wife, Ruth, have two children. Doug was a star end on the UK grid team for three years ending in 1958 and is now coaching at UK while daughter Suzanne was a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of UK in 1957.

BRADSHAW THIRD ALUMNUS COACH

Charlie Bradshaw, an alumnus of the University of Kentucky class of 1949, became the third graduate of the school to take over the head football coaching reins when he was hired January 10, 1962. The first coach with that distinction was J. White Guyn, tutor of the Wildcats in 1906-08, and the only other grad to take up duties at his alma mater was A. D. (Ab) Kirwan, coach for the seasons 1938-44.

Like their boss, four members of the coaching staff did their collegiate footballing at Kentucky. The playing career of assistant George Sengel overlapped that of Bradshaw (player 1942, 46-49; staff '54-58 while aide Doug Shively played when Bradshaw was on the staff. Asst. Coach Jimmy Poynter began his UK career as a freshman in Bradshaw's final year as an assistant. Bill Conde was a sophomore in 1949 as Bradshaw wound up his playing days and started his coaching career.

GALS' COACH FIRST UK MENTOR

Prof. A. M. Miller, who became Kentucky's first football coach in 1892, was chosen because he had learned about the game from sideline observations while a student at Princeton. His only previous coaching experience was at a girls' school in Pennsylvania.

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH
Charles Bradshaw

After five hectic years, Charlie Bradshaw stands high as a coach and gentleman fully vindicated in his promise to rebuild the shattered foundations of Kentucky football into a solid front and re-establish a winning tradition.

Exemplifying the faith placed in his hard work philosophy and procedures is the unique "lifetime" contract tendered the youthful and determined ex-Wildcat upon the successful (6-4) completion of an adversity-plagued 1965 season. The new pact, believed unique to college-coach relationships, assures Bradshaw of tenure similar to that given academic personnel. At such time as he ceases to perform his current coaching duties, he will have the opportunity to take another position on the University staff.

Bradshaw, a 42-year-old former UK end and assistant coach, returned to his alma mater in 1962 to take on the difficult task of repairing a sputtering Kentucky football machine that had not run well since the glorious early fifties Bowl Era.

The magnitude of the repair job probably never will be fully understood by anyone less closely connected with it than the self-sacrificing Bradshaw. Only he could take a positive approach to the almost impossible problems—and, more importantly, stick with it in the face of increasing odds. How he tackled the assignment of producing a winner out of the meager raw material reflects the type of person Charlie Bradshaw is—the personification of qualities of inner fortitude, outwardly serious demeanor, ability, confidence, integrity and quiet determination. He is an inspirational leader possessing the valuable trait of exuding enthusiasm and confidence to a degree that inspires those around him—players and assistants—to get the job done in a way that pays off with success. He demands great effort of himself and others in the belief that success cannot be purchased easily.

Bradshaw Influence Felt Around State

Bradshaw's influence not only is paying off with success on the gridiron—his 1965 team posted the school's best record since 1956—but also is being felt around the state. Coaches, alumni, general public and prospective Wildcats are rallying to the side of Bradshaw's long-range program in a fashion never before seen in the State of Kentucky.

He believes in the direct way of doing things. The emphasis is on how to win instead of what mistakes can be costly enough to cause a loss. He makes a habit of being fair, sincere and honest with his team and in turn expects the same from his players. He stresses the pride to be gained from 100 percent effort and of doing things right—which he feels to be synonymous with winning football. The church and school also play prominent roles in the plan of devoutly Christian (Baptist) Bradshaw.

The football philosophy of Bradshaw, who assumed his first head coaching position in January, 1962, when he succeeded Blanton Collier as the institution's third alumnus coach, was schooled into him by nine years' service in an assistant's capacity on the staffs of UK and Alabama. Yet, the approach to the game taken by the Wildcat mentor is mainly and uniquely Bradshaw's own.

Charlie grew up in Montgomery, Ala., and started his football at the age of 15 in Sidney Lanier High. Upon graduation, he was attracted to the University of Kentucky and attended one semester in 1942 without seeing any grid action.

After that first semester, he withdrew to enter the Marine Corps. He served for three years and saw 19 months' action in the Pacific Theater. Following his discharge, Bradshaw returned to UK to play on Paul Bryant's first three Wildcat aggregations. He earned the first of four letters as a center in 1946 and picked up his three subsequent monograms as a 165-pound end. Attempting to get in an allowable fourth year of competition as a graduate student in 1949, he was ruled ineligible after three games by the SEC Commissioner.

Bradshaw remained on the coaching staff as a student assistant for the remainder of the season and then, in 1950, returned to his home town high school (Sidney Lanier in Montgomery, Ala.) as coach and co-ordinator of a junior high program—a position he retained until chosen an aide on the first UK staff of Blanton Collier in 1954. After five years as end coach and later offensive back-field coach, Charlie moved in 1959 to Alabama as a line tutor for Coach Bryant.

Graduated From Kentucky In '49

Coach Bradshaw was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1949 with an AB in Commerce and physical education and later was awarded a master's degree in school administration. He married his high school sweetheart, Martha Austin of Montgomery, in 1945 and they have a daughter, nine-year-old Leigh, and a son, Charles Austin, born just prior to 1964 season.

Bradshaw's first five seasons at Kentucky have been remarkable in view of the fact that they have been beset by all manner of troubles—ranging from lack of talent and wholesale departures of players unwilling to pay the price for eventual success to untimely bad luck and injuries to key personnel. Fighting back with all the resources and determination at his command, the dedicated coach kept his Wildcats' collective head above water as he built a solid base that has begun to show results.

In 1962—his first season—Bradshaw's "Thin Thirty" (only 28 men finished the campaign) won just three games. Despite the presence of eight sophomores in the lineup the next season, Kentucky refused to give up and won three again. After suffering through two rebuilding seasons with a combined record of 6-11-3, Bradshaw's 1964 force proved itself a coming power. The team upset two pre-season choices for the national title (Mississippi and Auburn), won some other games with hard in-fighting and claimed a second place tie in the tough Southeastern Conference. The experts were startled by the bold Wildcats, who made their highest finish in more than a decade and a significant jump from 11th place the year before. In 1965, Kentucky climbed another rung on the ladder as it put a 6-4 record on the books despite being plagued by injuries. The Wildcats were in bowl contention all the way until dropping the final two games following injury to All-America quarterback Rick Norton. They ranked 17th in the final UPI poll—marking their first appearance at the end of the season among the nation's top 20 since 1954.

Bradshaw, honored as National Coach of the Week in 1964 following his team's stunning upset of Ole Miss, served as an assistant on the Grays' coaching staff for the 1962 Blue-Gray Game in his hometown of Montgomery, Ala.

WILDCAT COACHING STAFF

GEORGE SENDEL

Offensive Coach

A holdover from one year (1961) on the Blanton Collier staff, George (Chink) Sendel was retained by Charlie Bradshaw out of confidence in his coaching ability. Sendel's collegiate career at Kentucky spanned three of the same years (1942, 1946-47) as his new boss. A native of Louisville, "Chink" was an All-State end at Louisville Manual High in 1939 and started his collegiate career at Kentucky in 1940. After lettering as the team's regular end in 1942, he spent three years in the Army Air Corps. Returning to UK in 1946, he picked up two more letters prior to graduation in 1948 and then spent one year as a revenue agent. He began his coaching career as a freshman assistant at Kentucky in 1949. For the next five years (1950-54), Sendel served as head coach and athletic director at Clay County High in Green Cove Springs, Fla., and was head coach-AD at Apoptka (Fla.) High two seasons before returning to his home town as end coach for Male High. He joined Blanton Collier's staff in 1961 as coach of ends and now is in charge of the offense for Coach Bradshaw. Born 9/14/21 . . . Married to former Mary Alice Duncan of Lawrenceburg, Ky., with two sons—George III 16 and David 9½.

CLARENCE UNDERWOOD

Defensive Coach

Back "home" after a 10-year absence from the Wildcat scene, Clarence (Buckshot) Underwood re-joined the Kentucky coaching staff shortly after the end of the 1965 season. His chief responsibility is to shore up the defense—an assignment at which he excels. The tough-but-popular West Virginia native spent eight seasons at the University of Kentucky (1948-55) in his first try at collegiate coaching and proved himself a master to two bosses—Paul Bryant (6 years) and Blanton Collier (2 years)—in the capacity of line coach. In addition to regular coaching duties, Buckshot took on the added responsibility of prodding the gridders in their academic activities during his previous UK duty tour. He started his grid career by playing high school football at Woodrow Wilson High in hometown Beckley, W. Va., and entered Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va., following graduation. He lettered in football three years and was on the boxing team at Marshall before finishing with the Class of '38. He began coaching at Beckley High School and spent four years there before serving in the Navy as a lieutenant in World War II. Returning to Beckley High upon his discharge in 1945, Underwood got in two more seasons before joining Bryant's Kentucky staff in '48. He left UK in 1956 to become Athletic Director and Head Coach at Thomas Jefferson High in Port Arthur, Texas. In 10 years, he compiled a 77-26-6 record and won six district championships. He was elected Texas high school Coach of the Year in 1957 and coached the South All-Stars in the 1960 Texas North-South schoolboy classic. Married to the former Edith Smith of Morgan, Ky., and they have three daughters—Janet, 22; Nancy, 19; Barbara, 16 . . . Born 10/3/12.

BILL CONDE

Offensive Line Coach

Newest addition to the staff assisting Head Coach Charlie Bradshaw is Bill (Moon) Conde, a former Wildcat player of the glorious early fifties "Bowl Era." The 40-year-old coach, appointed last spring, succeeds resigned aide Ray Callahan and will spend most of his time working with the offensive line. During his undergraduate days at Kentucky, Conde saw action as an offensive guard and linebacker on defense with three of the greatest teams in school history—the elevens of 1949 ('50 Orange Bowl), 1950 (SEC champ and '51 Sugar Bowl), and 1951 ('52 Cotton Bowl). Although seeing only extensive reserve duty behind some great guards, Conde won a letter for his help all three seasons. He graduated from the University in January, 1952, and picked up an MA degree here the following year. Moon launched his 15-year (7 high school and 8 collegiate) coaching career by accepting an assignment to help Coach Bradshaw in 1952 at Sidney Lanier High in Montgomery, Ala. From there, he moved in 1953 to the head coach position at Corbin (Ky.) High School and then spent three seasons (1954-56) at the larger Louisville Male High as line coach for UK grad Charley Kuhn. After a one-year (1957) stint at Catholic High in Charleston, W. Va., Conde went back to Louisville as head man at Manual High. In his one season there, he tutored a 7-3 record. For the next seven years (1959 through 1965), Bill assisted on the grid staff at Virginia Tech. He was engaged in private business most of last year, but jumped at the opportunity to return to his alma mater. He is married to the former Helen Isaac of Charleston. No children. Born 10/13/26.

WALLY ENGLISH

Quarterbacks Coach

After putting in one season (1965) of apprenticeship on Coach Charlie Bradshaw's football staff in the role of a graduate assistant, Wally English was promoted to the status of a full-time aide in January, 1966. In his new capacity, he fills the post of coach of the quarterbacks and takes over duties performed in 1965 by Asst. Coach Leeman Bennett, who resigned to move to University of Pittsburgh. The 29-year-old native of Louisville has a background of playing and coaching experience in Kentucky and Texas. He attended University of Louisville and operated three seasons as a quarterback for the Cardinals (1955-57). English started his coaching career in his hometown of Louisville as an assistant on the staff at DeSales High School in 1959 after a service hitch. The next four years (1960-63), he spent as head coach of Louisville's Bishop David High and then was at Mt. Carmel High in Houston, Texas, for the 1964 season before returning to his native state. Shortly after his return, English joined the Kentucky staff as a graduate assistant. Born 6/28/37 and married to the former Peggy Karem of Louisville . . . They have three sons—Jon, 6; Steven, 5; and Daniel, 3. In 1961, he was the leading passer of the Louisville Raiders in the United Football League.

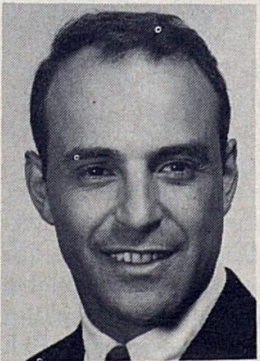

LEON FULLER

Defensive Backfield Coach

Former All-Conference defensive back and academic All-America while performing at University of Alabama, Leon Fuller was added to the University of Kentucky football coaching staff shortly after the 1965 season. The slightly-built, youthful Fuller moved to the Wildcats from Oklahoma State, where he had served as an assistant for three years. A native of Nederland, Texas, Fuller was a four-sport standout in high school there before entering Tyler (Tex.) Junior College. At Tyler, Leon attained Junior College All-America honor in 1958.

He then transferred to Alabama for a final two years of competition and played under Charlie Bradshaw, then a Crimson Tide assistant, in 1959 and 1960. In addition to lettering both seasons, Fuller was chosen as an All-SEC defensive back, made the Academic All-America team and was selected as Alabama's outstanding athlete in 1960. He was named to play in the Shrine North-South Game and the Senior Bowl following Alabama's appearance in the Bluebonnet Bowl. Fuller has the distinction of serving as his team's captain in his final year as a schoolboy, junior college, and collegiate performer . . . Born 7/28/38 in Nederland, Tex. . . . Not married.

PHIL OWEN

Centers and Kicking Coach

Phil (Duke) Owen, a highly-successful schoolboy coach at Mt. Sterling (Ky.) High for nine years, joined the Bradshaw staff at his state university just a few weeks before the 1964 season opened. A 36-year-old native of Lebanon, Ky., Duke (like two other current UK assistants) is tutoring in the collegiate ranks for the first time. He worked primarily with the freshmen for the past three seasons, enjoying an undefeated campaign in 1964. Owen's varsity assignment for the 1967 season will involve coaching centers and kickers. Owen attended high school in his hometown of Lebanon and later enrolled at Georgetown College, where he was an outstanding halfback for four years prior to graduation in 1953. He served as the Tigers' captain in both his junior and senior seasons. The UK aide began his coaching career at Mt. Sterling in 1955 following released from two years Army service in Europe. During his nine-year tenure, his teams posted winning records six times and he was honored as Central Kentucky Conference "Coach of the Year" in 1960. He guided the Trojans to Recreation Bowl wins in 1959, '60 and '62 and served on the staff for the 1959 schoolboy East-West classic . . . Born 1/12/31 . . . Married to former Florence Deeb of Louisville and they have two sons—David 9, and Mitchell 7.

CHARLEY PELL

Defensive Interior Line Coach

Experienced through stellar collegiate line play at University of Alabama and as a member of Coach Paul Bryant's Crimson Tide coaching staff, Charley Pell became a Bradshaw aide shortly after the 1964 season. Familiarity with his new boss and the confidence Bradshaw places in Pell stems from his three-year player-coach relationship at Alabama. Pell began his collegiate career as freshman in 1959 while Bradshaw was an Alabama assistant and missed playing under Bradshaw's direction only in 1962 when the coach had moved to Kentucky as head man. During his playing days, Pell operated as a six-foot, 190-pound guard, tackle, end and linebacker to earn three letters. He was a member of the 1961 National Championship team and also lettered in basketball and track. Pell, who played with Tide in Bluebonnet Bowl as a sophomore, joined UK tackle Junior Hawthorne as a post-graduate participant in the 1963 Crusade Bowl. Following graduation from Alabama in '63 he stayed on as an assistant for one season (1963) and then spent a year in private business in Huntsville, Ala. At UK, he now works mainly with the defensive interior line . . . Born 2/27/41 in Albertville, Ala.

JIM POYNTER

Offensive Backfield Coach

Former Kentucky Wildcat fullback Jim Poynter joined the football coaching staff of his alma mater following the 1965 season and brought with him credentials as one of the state's most promising young mentors. In five seasons in the high school ranks, he directed his teams to a composite record of 40-10-1 for one of the best marks in history among Kentucky high school coaches. The 30-year-old native of Danville, Ky., is a 1961 graduate of the University of Kentucky where he lettered two years as a fullback under Coach Blanton Collier. He capped a sterling career in 1960 by winning the Lexington Salesmen's Club award as UK's best defensive back and was cited as a member of the All-America Blocking Team the same year. Upon graduation from UK, Poynter took over as head coach at Glasgow (Ky.) High and gave the school its first winning team in 10 years. His two-year record was 12-8. In 1963, he moved to Clark County (Ky.) High where his teams won 17 games, lost only two and tied one in two seasons. The Cardinals copped a league title in '63 and tied for the top spot the following season. Another move prior to the 1965 season brought him to Lexington Henry Clay High and he proceeded to direct the Blue Devils to a perfect, 11-0-0 record. Henry Clay took the league championship on the strength of its first unblemished record in history and Poynter was honored as "Coach of the Year" in the Central Kentucky Conference. Jim is married to the former Gale Foster of Danville and they have two sons—Darrell 9 and Barry 6 . . . Born 7/1/37.

DOUG SHIVELY

Linebackers and Secondary Defense Coach

Added just before the 1966 campaign to the staff of Coach Bradshaw, Doug Shively is a former Wildcat star and youthful veteran of eight years in the coaching profession. He returned to his Alma Mater after serving in an assistant's capacity for six campaigns with the Virginia Tech Gobblers. Doug, the 29-year-old son of UK Athletic Director Bernie Shively, played end for the Wildcats from 1956 through 1958 and served as co-captain of the team in his final season. He also handled punting chores for the gridders and was centerfielder on the baseball team. Following graduation in 1959, he played minor league baseball briefly with the White Sox rookie league team in Holdrege, Neb. Later that year, Shively started his grid coaching career under Clarence Underwood at Thomas Jefferson High School in Port Arthur, Texas. After one season, the rising young mentor switched to Virginia Tech to join the staff of Jerry Claiborne. He served the first year as a freshman coach and then was assigned duties as coach of the linebackers and defensive ends. By strange coincidence, Shively is continuing a pattern that has associated him all through his coaching career with men having UK backgrounds—Underwood, a former coach; Claiborne, an ex-Wildcat and coach; and Bradshaw, who played at UK and was a staff assistant during Doug's playing days. A native of Lexington and former all-sports star at Lafayette High, Shively is married to the former Patsy Moores of Lexington and they have three children—Doug (Chip) Jr., 5½; David, 4; and Kelley, one . . . Born 3/18/38.

RALPH BERLIN

Head Football Trainer

A 32-year-old Marine Corps veteran with a background of football play and nine years of training experience, Ralph Berlin has served as head football trainer at Kentucky since 1964. He was born in Pasadena, Calif., but moved across the country to Philadelphia, Pa., at an early age and gained his first football experience there as a schoolboy. After his graduation from high school, he enlisted in the Marines and rose to the rank of sergeant. Returning to civilian life after this service hitch, Berlin in 1958 entered Iowa State University, where he played tackle on the freshman team. When an injury cut short his playing days, Ralph turned to training to stay near the game. His rise as an athletic trainer since 1959 has been swift. He served as an assistant at Iowa State three seasons before graduation in 1962. From 1962 until taking over at Kentucky in 1964, Berlin was head athletic trainer at DePauw University in Greencastle, Ind. During the summer months of 1963 and 1964, he also worked as an assistant trainer for the St. Louis Cardinals professional football club of the NFL. In 1964, he heeded the call of Kentucky Coach Charlie Bradshaw and came to the Wildcats. In addition to putting in long hours attending the needs of the UK gridders, Trainer Berlin also serves as a top recruiter of future talent. He holds a master's degree from Indiana University in health and safety with a major in athletic training. Ralph is married to the former Dee Meachim of Torredale, Pa., and they have two children—Elizabeth 6 and Steven 4½ . . . Born 7/22/35.

BROWN

RICE

BUSTER BROWN—Equipment Manager: Handling the duties of handing out thousands of dollars' worth of football gear to the team is a seasoned veteran, S. C. (Buster) Brown. The tough-but-popular Brown served the University athletic teams in the capacity of Equipment Manager for several years before World War II. After wartime work as a stevedore on the West Coast, Buster returned to Kentucky and his old job in 1952.

KEN KUHN—Information Director: A veteran of 19 years in the job of publicizing Wildcat football and other sports activities of UK, Kuhn came to Lexington via Michigan State from which he was graduated in 1942 and later served as an assistant in the Public Relations Department. Before moving over to the Athletic Department in 1948, he worked two years as News Editor in UK's Department of Public Relations. Kuhn is a past president of the Southeastern Conference Sports Publicity Association and active in COSIDA, a national sports information group.

RUSSELL RICE, Asst. Information Director: After 16 years of valuable experience in the newspaper field, Rice transferred his talents last April to the UK Sports Information Office to assist in publicizing Wildcat sports. In moving to the University, he left a position of Sports Editor of the Lexington Leader which he had held since 1962. A native of Paintsville, Ky., Rice won letters in high school football, basketball and baseball. He attended Kentucky Wesleyan one year before transferring to UK, from which he graduated in 1951. He is an avid fisherman and past president of the Kentucky Casting Association.

HONORS COME LATELY

From its football beginnings in 1881 through 1942, Kentucky had only one player named to a recognized All-America team. In the short span of years since, no less than nine have earned first team mention on the national honor rolls and four of the stars were repeaters. In 1965 alone, three UK players added their names to the list—the first time this was done in school history. Twenty-two Wildcats have received All-Conference recognition a total of 31 times since the loop was organized in 1933.

ORIGIN OF "WILDCATS" NICKNAME

Kentucky's athletic teams are known to sports fans as the Wildcats. This first and only nickname borne by University varsities had its origin in 1909 in a speech made by Commandant Corbusier, then head of the military department of old State College. Speaking to a chapel audience of students on the showing of the Kentucky football team in defeating Illinois six to two, the Commandant declared "they fought like Wildcats." The tag was popularized by word of mouth and by the press with the result that it has since become synonymous with all major Kentucky athletic teams.

While the name is old in origin, no claim is made regarding precedence over similar nicknames boasted by Northwestern, Villanova and about 10 other major athletic teams.

An alumnus in 1947 presented a live Kentucky Wildcat to SUKY, student pep organization. Named "The Colonel," the cat served as a live mascot for UK teams until his death in 1955. The current mascot is a stuffed wildcat obtained from a Brooklyn taxidermist just before the 1958 football season and named "Tucky." Plans under way to get a new live cat.

PAGES OUT OF THE HISTORY BOOK

Kentucky's first inter-collegiate football game of record occurred Nov. 12, 1881, when Kentucky A & M College took the measure of Kentucky University (later Transylvania) by a score of 7¼ to 1 . . . One of the most illustrious pages in UK football history covers the perfect-season exploits of the 1898 team which became the first and only Kentucky grid outfit to go undefeated, untied and unscored on . . . Spring practice was held for the first time in UK grid history in 1926 by Coach Fred Murphy . . . Coach E. R. Sweetland experimented with a new formation at the start of the 1910 season that saw all four backfield men lined up side by side instead of in the conventional pattern with the quarterback directly behind center . . . One of the greatest individual performances ever seen on the nation's gridirons took place in Lexington in 1914 as Kentucky quarterback Jim Park, later active in politics, passed for five TD's and personally scored five more in an 81-3 rout of Earlham . . . Only All-America Babe Parilli has come close to surpassing the school record as he twice connected for five scoring aerials in the 1951 season . . . The "Kentucky Babe" still holds the all-time SEC record for TD passes thrown in a single season, accounting for 23 in regular season play in his junior year of 1950. He connected for one more as the Wildcats upset Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day, 1951 . . . Kentucky copped the Southeastern Conference football championship for the first and only time in history in the 1950 season.

* * * *

Kentucky's longest touchdown play, rushing, was a 91-yard run by Harry Jones against George Washington in 1951. The longest touchdown, passing, was an 80-yarder from Ermal Allen to Junior Jones vs. Georgia in 1939.

KENTUCKY FOOTBALL OUTLOOK IN '67

The optimism of youth and the strength of numbers are evident throughout Kentucky's 1967 football camp, but several big questions face Charlie Bradshaw as he begins his sixth season as Wildcat head coach.

First is the task of finding replacements for 14 graduated lettermen, including five offensive and four defensive starters.

He'll draw from 19 lettermen and a pool of some 75 players, largest ever during his tenure but still thin in certain key positions.

Included in the ranks of the departed via graduation are last year's two top ground gainers, top punter, three top pass receivers and one of the nation's better linebackers.

Statistics tell the value of tailback Bob Windsor, No. 1 ground gainer with 356 yards in 101 carries, and wingback Larry Seiple, No. 2 with 256 yards in 81 carries.

In addition, Seiple was the No. 1 pass receiver with 28 catches for 499 yards and Windsor No. 3 with 11 catches for 132 yards; Seiple top scorer with 34 points, Windsor third with 18 points.

Lyons Slated To Take Up Slack

Much of the offensive slack must be taken up by Dicky Lyons, who switched from defensive cornerback to tailback-wingback-fullback in mid season.

The junior all-conference candidate, who appears set at tailback this year, was third in yards gained with 177 in 56 carries, second in scoring with 24 points and first in punt and kickoff returns. He kicked five times for 208 yards, a 41.6 average, while Seiple kicked 64 times for 2,443 yards. The versatile Lyons also completed a 75-yard pass against Vanderbilt and intercepted two passes.

He'll team with senior quarterback Terry Beadles to give stability to a backfield which will undoubtedly have a youthful flavor.

Beadles is expected to pick up where he left off last spring, when he reported lighter, faster and a more-accurate passer.

The big problem is fullback, where four players seek the starting position. Senior Don Britton, who gained 62 yards in 25 carries and scored one touchdown last year, is back and hopefully healthy after recovering from a knee injury received the second day of spring practice.

Sophomore challengers include Bill Duke, who switched from defense and rushed for more than 100 yards in a scrimmage before injuring a foot, plus Keith Raynor and Ronnie Phillips, who definitely need more seasoning.

There is some speculation Bradshaw may switch sophomore Roger Gann, most valuable back in the Blue-White game, to fullback. As understudy to Lyons at tailback, Gann came along slow in spring practice but finished on a strong note. Bradshaw says he has unlimited potential.

Like fullback, the offensive guard positions are glaring weak spots. Rich Machel and Mike Cassity are gone, leaving juniors Louis Wolf and Leonard Rush and senior Mike Beirne to fight for the positions.

Tackle seems pretty well-staffed on offense, with senior Dwight Little returning and Ronnie Roberts switching from linebacker to fill a vacancy left by Basil Mullins.

Bradshaw eyes sophomore Phil Thompson and junior Derek Potter as ample replacements for ends Dan Spanish and J. D. Smith. Thompson is a favorite target of sophomore quarterback Stan Forston, whose superb passing arm makes him a definite contender at quarterback. Sophomore speedster Joe Jacobs at wingback is another prime target.

Another key loss is center Calvin Withrow, who should be capably replaced by Bill Cartwright or sophomore Pat Eckenrod.

Defense Pleases Coach Bradshaw

The defense is the pride of Bradshaw's experienced eye and he doesn't expect to "rob Peter to pay Paul" as he did last year when seven key players were switched in an effort to gain offensive punch. The most noticeable backfield loss is Jerry Davis, whose safety position should be capably handled by sophomores Bob Abbott or Tom Windsor.

The Wildcats boast perhaps the finest defensive flanker combination in the nation in Jeff Van Note and Doug Van Meter and Bradshaw feels his young linebacker corps of sophomores Vic King, Marty New and Fred Conger will make fans forget Mike McGraw.

Sophomore Nat Northington seems the best defensive cornerback since Bradshaw has been at UK and nose guard Kerry Curling, rover Bill Jansen and tackle George Katzenbach are familiar faces on defense.

Bradshaw plans to again utilize a pro-type offense and probably throw more from the spread formation. The defense will be an Oklahoma with a three-deep secondary and rover.

Lyons, Beadles and sophomore quarterback David Bair are accomplished punters and the Wildcat kicking game should be generally good if the players adjust to a rules change which allows only players eligible to receive forward passes to release on the ball snap.

Bradshaw says Wildcat coverage will be spotty because of lack of speed, but he envisions more out-of-bounds kicks. The Wildcat punt-return game will be excellent, however, if kicks get in the hands of either Northington or Lyons.

The schedule is even tougher, if possible, than those faced in recent years, starting with Indiana at Bloomington and including Virginia Tech and West Virginia, in addition to regular conference foes.

Bradshaw feels the Wildcats may surprise some people, but the matter is entirely in the hands of returning lettermen and young players "who can help or destroy you."

Bradshaw said he won't care about the abundance of youth "if we can get them excited."

POSITION ANALYSIS

ENDS—Strong . . . Starting with defensive flankers Jeff Van Note, voted best defensive player in spring Blue-White game, and Doug Van Meter, named by coaches as most improved defensive player . . . backed by Greg Page, strong sophomore . . . Offense shapes up well despite losses of quick end Dan Spanish, who caught 22 passes for 346 yards, and strong end J. D. Smith . . . filling Spanish's position is Phil Thompson . . . pushed by another soph, Jerry Imsland . . . while Derek Potter, most improved offensive player, has inside track on other side.

TACKLES—Good blend of experience, size and youth with Ronnie Roberts switching from linebacker to blocker on side opposite veteran Dwight Little . . . battles looms on defense with soph Bob Freibert challenging returning starter George Katzenbach and sophs Dick Palmer and Doyle King, both "walk-ons," battling Marty Joyce.

GUARDS—Lot to be desired offensively . . . Slack left by Rich Machel and Mike Cassity . . . experienced returnees include Louis Wolf and Len Rush . . . senior Mike Beirne must bolster the position called one of two big weak spots by Coach Charlie Bradshaw . . . Kerry Curling back at nose guard . . . Fred Conger is a hard-hitting soph to watch . . . he teams with sophomores Marty New and Vic King and junior rover Bill Jansen for what Bradshaw calls his best corps of linebackers ever.

CENTERS—Junior Bill Cartwright expects a fight from sophomore Pat Eckenrod for Cal Withrow's old position . . . they're ample, barring injuries.

QUARTERBACK—Stronger . . . A lighter, faster, more poised and confident Terry Beadles pushed by sophs Stan Forston and Dave Bair . . . Forston led the frosh with 25 completions in 59 attempts for 339 yards, three touchdowns and a conversion . . . found a fine target in Thompson during spring practice . . . Bair doubles as tailback . . . back-up man is soph Dick Frasca, who doubles at wingback.

FULLBACKS—Big question mark . . . Senior Don Britton missed most of spring practice with knee injury . . . soph Bill Duke switched from defense and filled in admirably before injuring foot . . . sophs Keith Raynor and Ronnie Phillips need seasoning while Dick Beard is untried but highly touted.

HALFBACKS—Strong . . . Dicky Lyons can do it all . . . gained 177 yards in 56 carries last year after switching from defense, where he intercepted two passes and led the team in kickoff returns with 267 yards in 16 tries and punt returns with 419 yards in 25 tries . . . also punted five times for 208 yards, caught one pass for 10 yards and completed one of two passes for 75 yards . . . backed up by Roger Gann, all-SEC frosh and best offensive player in Blue-White game . . . Tom Fee moved from defense to bolster the position. Juniors Al Phaneuf and Phil Greer give good defensive strength . . . so does promising sophomore Nat Northington.

WINGBACK—Question mark . . . Soph speedster Joe Jacobs steps into a position manned by both Larry Seiple and Bob Windsor last season . . . Seiple ended the season at wingback, Windsor at tailback and Lyons at fullback . . . Seiple gained 256 yards in 81 carries, caught a team-high 28 passes for 499 yards and averaged 38.2 yards on 64 kicks . . . Windsor caught 11 passes for 132 yards and led the team in rushing with 356 yards in 101 carries.

SAFETY—Stronger . . . Sophomores Bobby Abbott and Tom Windsor fighting for the position vacated by Jerry Davis.

Kentucky's football Wildcats will play only two night games in 1967, meeting Virginia Tech at 8 p.m. Oct. 14 and Georgia at 8 p.m. Oct. 28. Both games will be played in Lexington. Kentucky played its first night football game, possibly the first in the South, against Sewanee in Lexington Oct. 4, 1930.

WILDCAT MASCOTS HAD COLORFUL NAMES

Over the years, Kentucky athletic teams have been spurred on in efforts toward victory by numerous colorfully-named wildcat mascots. Records indicate the first animal was given to the University in 1921. Named "Tom," this live Kentucky wildcat died quickly in captivity and was replaced with "TNT." Other live mascots followed—including "Whiskers," "Hot Tamale," and "Colonel"—only to pass from the scene due to death or being turned loose in the mountains after they did not thrive out of their native habitat. The current mascot, displayed at football and basketball games by SUKY (student pep organization), is a stuffed Kentucky wildcat obtained in 1958 from a Brooklyn taxidermist.

The most points scored in a single game by a Kentucky football team was 87 against Wilmington in 1914. The visitors failed to score on Stoll Field that day. One week later, the Wildcats defeated Maryville, 80-0. During that 5-3 season, they also defeated Earlham, 81-3.

STOLL FIELD — McLEAN STADIUM

Much confusion among the general public and the sports-writing fraternity apparently exists over a seeming duplication of titles in referring to the University of Kentucky's football setup along "Avenue of Champions."

Officially, by action of the University Board of Trustees, the general area encompassing the playing field is known as "Stoll Field." Likewise, by authority of the same body, the stadium proper is known as "McLean Stadium."

Kentucky's first football field, occupying the general site of what is now an intramural field west of the stadium, was first given a name when it was dedicated on October 14, 1916, as Stoll Field in honor of the late Judge Richard C. Stoll, prominent alumnus, trustee and benefactor of the University of Kentucky. Soon after the first sections of the present concrete stadium were completed on September 4, 1924, the new field site and stadium were likewise officially known as Stoll Field.

The first attraction to be held on the new Stoll Field was a football game with the University of Louisville on October 4, 1924. A gridiron clash between Kentucky and the then-powerful Centre College team was the first game played in the fully-completed stadium on November 1, 1924.

The later reference to the concrete stands as "McLean Stadium" has existed since November 1, 1924, when the stadium was officially dedicated in memory of Price Innes McLean and a bronze plaque placed in the south stands by the Class of 1925. McLean, regular center on the 1923 Kentucky football squad, died November 7, 1923, as the result of injuries sustained in the U.K. Cincinnati game played in the Queen City the afternoon before.

Major expansions of McLean Stadium in 1948, 1949 and 1959 have resulted in a current over-all seating capacity of approximately 37,500. The latest construction installed 3,655 new permanent box seats at a cost of $115,000 and increased capacity by 1,629. New-type, "iodized" lights were installed in 1961.

A complete "face lifting" was accomplished on Stoll Field during the spring of 1962 at a cost of several thousand dollars. In the interest of preparing a durable turf that will eliminate the almost annual resodding process, a complete new drainage system was installed and tons of specially mixed topsoil hauled in to replace the existing hardpan. The project also raised the crown of the playing surface for better visibility by spectators. With the special strain of Bermuda grass thriving to an extent never before seen at Kentucky, the Wildcats now entertain foes on one of the best football fields in the nation.

New practice facilities were prepared in 1960 for the football Wildcats on the University farm. As part of a $320,000 Sports Center, the varsity and freshman gridders now practice on an area equivalent to five football fields in size. Along with the new field, they have space in a large new dressing room building—making a facility recognized as one of the best in the nation.

The former practice lot and dressing room building, off Rose Street, were abandoned to make way for a new men's dormitory.

"Avenue of Champions" came into being in the spring of 1950 as an honorary title for that stretch of Euclid Avenue running between the University's $4,000,000 Memorial Coliseum and McLean Stadium. The street was officially re-named by the City of Lexington in recognition of the UK athletic teams' unprecedented success of 1950 in annexing the Southeastern Conference titles in both football and basketball and their national championships in the Sugar Bowl grid game and the NCAA cage tournament.

STOLL FIELD 'COW PASTURE' BIRTHPLACE OF DIXIE FOOTBALL

University of Kentucky's campus boasts the distinction of serving as the birthplace of Dixie football. Ironically, however, the forerunners of the present day Wildcats were not involved in the early grid contest.

The first inter-collegiate football game ever played in the South, and probably the first to take place west of the Alleghanies, came about April 9, 1880, on old Stoll Field. This gridiron, located adjacent to the present U.K. stadium, was the site of the early tilt which saw Kentucky University (now known as Transylvania College) take the measure of Centre College, 13¾ to 0. The match, which was said to resemble a combination of soccer and rugby, followed by only six years the introduction of the game of football to the United States.

University of Kentucky (then called A & M College of Kentucky) did not play its first game until a year later on the same field, which once served as the private pasture for University President James Patterson's bovine herd.

One of Kentucky's most thrilling football comebacks fell short in Auburn two years ago. Trailing 17-0 in the third period, the Wildcats rode Rick Norton's bombs to three touchdowns (passes of 76, 74, and 44 yards), but missed tries for two-point pass conversions as Auburn won, 23-18.

University of Kentucky athletic director Bernie Shively, still a tough competitor on the handball court or golf course, was an All-America guard in 1926 at Illinois as a teammate of Harold (Red) Grange. He also won letters in track and won the Big 10 heavyweight wrestling championship.

Four additional advance football dates with Indiana will see the Wildcats and Hoosiers in a home and home arrangement from 1971 through 1974. Kentucky and Indiana open the 1971 season at Bloomington on Sept. 17 and the Hoosiers play a season opener in Lexington on Sept. 16, 1972. The next two meetings follow the same pattern, with a clash at Bloomington Sept. 29, 1973 and the final scheduled meeting in the series taking place at Lexington Sept. 28, 1974. The Kentucky-Indiana grid rivalry goes back to 1893 and has been interrupted since 1927.

Ralph Kercheval, now a thoroughbred horse trainer in Lexington, still holds the Kentucky, national and Southeastern Conference records for the most punts in a season. He punted 101 times in 10 games in 1933. He also holds the UK, national and SEC record of most yards (4,394) on punts during a season (1933). He set an SEC record by averaging 52.0 yards on 10 kicks against Cincinnati in 1965). He leads the individual career high for total rushing attempts (397 in 30 games), rushing yards (1,699), kickoff returns (38) and most yardage on kickoff returns (909).

* * * *

Ralph Kercheval, who holds all the Kentucky punting records, set the Southeastern Conference record when he averaged 52.0 yards on 10 kicks against Cincinnati in 1933. His longest, however, was a 78-yarder against Georgia Tech in the same year.

SERIES HISTORY: Seven interesting games, spread over a span of 70 years, make up the colorful series history of the Kentucky-Indiana rivalry. When the two clubs resume relations this year after a 40-year lapse, the visiting Wildcats will be looking for only their third win in the series that stands at 4-2-1 in favor of the Hoosiers. Indiana built its current edge with success in each of the last three meetings. Kentucky's last victory came in the opening game of an abbreviated (cut short by a flu epidemic) season of 1918. UK's only other win over Indiana was a 12-0 decision annexed back in 1904 on the first visit to Bloomington. The tie resulted from the first game played between the two in 1893. Kentucky last met a Big 10 member in football 20 years ago—defeating Michigan State, 7-6, at East Lansing. Against seven of the members of the Big 10, Kentucky has managed only six victories offset by 15 for the combined opposition and one tie (with Indiana).

LAST MEETING: Oct. 1, 1967 (Lexington) IU 21 UK 0—"Coach Pat Page unleashed a football team that resembled a tank," was the lead sentence in a local newspaper article the day after Indiana rolled over Kentucky before 8,000 partisans at Stoll Field. Out of action with injuries in the first half of a bruising game were "Kentucky's four principal candidates for stardom—Paul Jenkins, Len Miller, Gayle Mohney and Alfred Portwood." The smaller Wildcats still battled gamely, however, and actually won the statistical battle—seven first downs and 135 yards to three first downs and 107 yards—in the first half, although Indiana led, 6-0, at intermission. "The year before, a Hoosier back by the name of Bennett ripped the Wildcat line to pieces," the local newsman wrote. "He repeated his performance, aided and abetted by a bareheaded young giant by the name of Reinhardt." Bennett "shattered the right side of the Kentucky line" and sped 20 yards for the first touchdown in the opening quarter. He repeated with a 16-yard run in the third quarter. The third touchdown was set up by a blocked punt which Indiana recovered in the end zone. A 27-yard field goal in the third quarter accounted for the other Indiana points.

1967 OUTLOOK: Coach John Pont has his most inexperienced squad in three seasons at the Bloomington school, but a strong sophomore group has more size, speed and ability and provides a highly competitive situation at almost every position. The big project this season was to shore up defenses against the long play and the big pass. Opponents last year made the third-down play better than 50 per cent of the time. Mike Krivoshia, No. 2 rusher in the Big 10 last year, gives the Hoosiers an established fullback to go with a big, deep but untested backfield. Krivoshia set a new I.U. one-game record with 141 yards against Minnesota. Top lineman in the Hoosier camp is Doug Crusan, 6-5, 253 lb. senior who has switched to defense after two years on offense. Ken Kaczmarek also merits ranking as leading tackler at linebacker last season.

SERIES HISTORY: A strange sequence of upsets and near-upsets flavors the comparatively young, but colorful and intense rivalry between the Wildcats and Ole Miss. Twenty-two meetings have been held since the series started in 1944, but it was 1958 before the Rebels could claim a distinctive edge in the battling. The Wildcats got the series off to an auspicious start by winning the first game, but Mississippi took the decision in three out of the next four meetings. The fireworks really started in 1949 as Kentucky claimed a 47-0 upset in Oxford and started on the road to big-time prominence. Since then, the Kentucky game has been a “make or break” situation on the Rebels’ schedule. The 1954 meeting in Memphis was a penalty-marred spectacle resulting in several conference records for violations that still stand. In 1955, UK added new fire to the “beat the favorite” series history by upending the defending SEC champs in Lexington for their only loss enroute to a second straight title and Cotton Bowl win. Ole Miss achieved a measure of revenge by winning the next eight in a row. UK extended the SEC "Team of the Decade" eight years ago by forcing a long field goal and a freakish, 51-yard quarterback sneak TD in final seconds for a 16-0 decision. In 1964 and 1965 seasons, Kentucky mustered monumental upsets over the Rebels with the frustrating benefit of freakish big plays.

LAST MEETING: Sept. 24, 1966 (Jackson) OM 17, UK 0—Kentucky was a two-touchdown underdog and a capacity crowd was tuned to the occasion. Despite the obvious overconfidence of Ole Miss fans, the Wildcats seemed to pick up right where they left off during the past two years, taking the opening kickoff and marching to the Ole Miss 20 in eight plays. Then the roof fell in. Terry Beadles' pass bounced off Bob Windsor's outstretched hands and was taken by Bruce Dillingham, who was finally hauled down on the UK 44. Ole Miss marched to paydirt in eight plays, with Jodie Graves scoring from the seven. The Wildcat defense was caught off guard in the second quarter and fullback Bob Wade ran 48 yards to the UK 25. Wade made three over right tackle and Doug Cunningham carried 19 yards to the three. Pat Street plunged for the score. The Wildcat defense stiffened, limiting the Rebels to a 33-yard field goal in the final quarter, but the offense couldn't click, especially after Beadles received an ankle injury.

1967 OUTLOOK: Ole Miss has undertaken a new look in '67 and the change could be bad tidings for foes. For one major overhaul, Coach Johnny Vaught and staff installed a new defensive alignment, a six-man front, to go with last year's 5-4 overshift. The "old" defense ranked third nationally in '66. The change includes abandonment of the MG berth and putting Jimmy Keyes, all-SEC in '66, in the linebacking area, and transferring veteran LT Dan Sartin to LG and Mac McClure from LB to RE. The Rebs step out with a veteran front wall on offense and completely rebuilt backfields. Quarterback Bruce Newell and fullback Bobby Wade are the offense returnees. Other holdover aces include FB Don Street, SE Mac Haik and ST Alan Bush on offense, and LE Jerry Richardson, LG Dan Sartin, RT Jim Urbanek and RH Bruce Dillingham on defense. Big, strong and fast is the verdict.

SERIES HISTORY: Former Southeastern Conference football “dormats,” Kentucky and Auburn, first got together on the gridiron at Lexington in 1934—the year after the league was organized—and played another game the following season at Montgomery before interrupting their series for nearly two decades. Each held a victory out of the early meetings and the 1954 scrap, which resumed the rivalry, resulted in a 21-14 decision in the Wildcats’ favor. Tilts between the new-found powers in the years since have been fraught with frustration. With but two exceptions (a 33-0 Auburn win in 1959 and Kentucky’s stunning, 20-0 upset in 1964) the annual clashes have seen neither influence a decisive change in the trend to close games. Kentucky walked away with a memorable 14-12 upset victory in 1961 on the Tigers’ home ground where no Auburn eleven had been beaten in 30 straight games. Prior to the win, UK had been able to score on the stingy Plainsmen only once in five years.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 1, 1966 (Lexington) UK 17 AU 7—Kentucky and Auburn fans are used to close games and spectacular plays, and last year's encounter proved no exception. With Auburn leading, 7-3, late in the second quarter, Jimmy Jones stood on the UK 23 for a field goal attempt. Dick Lyons roared in from a defensive halfback position and blocked the kick. End Doug Van Meter grabbed the ball and headed for the goal. He was losing ground to defenders, however, and in his anxiety to escape, dropped the ball at the 15. An over-eager Auburn player hit the ball near the 10 and deflected it back to the prostrate Van Meter on the 13. The Wildcats scored in five plays with fullback Don Britton going over from the one. Kentucky had drawn first blood on a second quarter 35-yard field goal by Chuck Arnold. Halfback Richard Plagge set up the Auburn touchdown with a 53-yard run to UK's 18. Tom Bryan scored from the six. Kentucky scored again in the third quarter on a 21-yard pass from Terry Beadles to Larry Seiple.

1967 OUTLOOK: With 33 returning lettermen, an improved offense and an outstanding defense, Coach Shug Jordan's Tigers are taking dead aim for the top half of the SEC. Gusty Yearout, magnificent middle guard, leads the defensive line with solid support from tackle Charley Collins, end Tommy Groat and linebacker Robert Margeson. An aggressive little sophomore, 5-10, 172 lb. Buddy McClinton, has juiced up the secondary. He and Robert Fulghum make it tougher than usual for opposing passers. Offensive improvement comes from game experience of the '66 Backfield, plus the transfer of Al Giffin (6-3, 220) to fullback from defensive end where he starred last year. End Freddie Hyatt, a premier pass receiver, and soph Mike Shows are the chief targets of quarterback candidates Larry Blakeney, Loran Carter and Dwight Brisendine.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky holds a slight edge (3-2-2) in gridiron relations with the Virginia Tech Gobblers. The series got underway Oct. 30, 1926, at Lexington as Coach Fred Murphy's Wildcats and the visiting Virginians battled to an indecisive, 13-13 standoff. Another meeting the following season, in the heyday of John Simms (Shipwreck) Kelly, saw UK emerge on the long end of a 20-6 count. Virginia Tech notched its first win over Kentucky in 1932 at Blacksburg, 7-0, in a game that was to be the last in nine years. Meeting on neutral territory as the series resumed in the war years of 1941 and 1942, UK captured a high scoring (37-14) decision at Louisville and then had to settle for a 21-21 tie at Roanoke. After another inter-Claiborne's third season as VPI head coach) with host UK taking a 33-14 decision. Last year, Virginia Tech claimed its second win in the series.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 8, 1966 (Lexington) VPI 7, UK 0—Virginia Tech held Kentucky to a minus nine yards rushing and took advantage of penalties and miscues to give Jerry Claiborne his first victory in two tries against his alma mater. Tech's aggressive defense stopped the Wildcat offense cold until the last minute, when Roger Walz engineered the Wildcats to Tech's six before running out of time. The game's only touchdown came after Kentucky muffed a fine opportunity. Early in the third quarter, Jeff Van Note recovered a Tommy Stafford fumble on the Tech 31. Four plays later, the Wildcats were second and 35 in their own 40 after 20 yards in penalties and an eight yard loss. A 23-yard pass from Walz to Bob Windsor put UK back in business on the 28 but Tech threw the quarterback for a five-yard loss and Tech took over on the 33. Tommy Francisco carried six straight times to the one and then smashed over for the touchdown with 11:54 left in the game.

1967 OUTLOOK: Optimism is the keynote in the camp of Tech's Gobblers, who are 29-11-1 for the past four seasons and expect to have their best-ever football team this year. There are good reasons. Tech had few significant losses from its '66 defensive unit which wound up fifth in the nation in rushing defense and 11th in total defense. Heading the unit are All-America safetyman Frank Loria and end George Foussekis. Although tailback Tommy Francisco and the remainder of the starting backfield are gone, Tech expects to have enough talent to alternate two backfields. The crop includes Dickie Longerbeam, a faster and more talented runner than Francisco, and red-shirt sophomores Bert Henderson and Terry Smoot. New emphasis on the passing game figures to take better advantage of the abilities of ends Ken Barefoot and Gene Fisher.

SERIES HISTORY: Inaugurated with a game at Baton Rouge in 1949, the Kentucky-Louisiana State grid series is the youngest football rivalry within the Southeastern Conference. A total of 17 meetings make up the series which has been annual encounters with the exception of the 1951 season and the count now stands tipped in the Bengals' favor, 11 wins to five plus a 6-6 tie in 1953. The Billy Cannon-led Tigers, enjoying their greatest seasons during the 1957-59 period, overcame the Wildcats' 4-2-1 edge in the series by taking three straight decisions in these years. UK tied it up seven years ago with a 3-0 upset victory in Lexington and then nationally-ranked LSU survived determined bids for glory by the upstart 'Cats in the last six seasons to notch successes that again gave it the lead. A new era in the rivalry dawned in 1962 with a pair of youthful ex-Wildcats at the grid helms of the respective schools, but the Tigers hold a six straight game advantage.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 15, 1966 (Lexington) LSU 30, UK 0—Heavily-favored LSU had trouble moving through Kentucky's stubborn defense for 13 minutes, but broke the game wide open at the close of the first quarter. The big play was an 80-yard punt return by Sammy Grezaffi, who runs the 100 in 9.5 in track uniform. UK coach Charlie Bradshaw tried everything to turn the tide, using defenders Mike McGraw and Dicky Lyons on offense and going to a pro-type spread offense with Roger Walz quarterbacking. After Grezaffi's stirring run, Steve Daniel booted a 42-yard field goal and the LSU offense gained momentum. The visitors scored twice in the third and once in the final quarter.

1967 OUTLOOK: There are wails of lack of depth in the Bayou country and of a defensive line which needs rebuilding, but opponents of LSU's perennially tough Tigers feel Charles McClendon is "crying wolf." It's a fact, however, that LSU has been plagued for several seasons by continuous knee injuries to quarterbacks, causing McClendon to switch to a passing game. He'll use speedster Sammy Grezaffi, who played safety last year, as a chief target in his new split-back formation, and hope Nelson Stokely can recover fully from a second knee operation to run the offense. Junior Fred Haynes, who gained 836 yards last year, is the next quarterback. All isn't bleak-looking, however, as fine running backs Jim Dousay and Tommy Allen and first rate receiver Tommy Morel line up for the Tigers. Center Barry Wilson should shine on defense while end John Garlington and linebacker George Bevan are all-star caliber.

SERIES HISTORY: Georgia and Kentucky began their rivalry on the football field with a game at Louisville on Oct. 21, 1939. The two schools met almost annually from that time until the series was broken off after the 1949 game and not resumed until 1956 with a game at Athens. During the 22 years that Wally Butts tutored the Bulldogs (1938-60), Georgia laid claim to nine victories in the 14-game series. Kentucky took the initial game in 1939 and tied the following year, but it was 1947 before it picked up another win. All told, UK shows but five victories with the last in 1965. Despite Georgia's superiority, the series generally has been interesting as reflected by the fact that Butts' four SEC championship outfits managed an average win margin of only 11 points over Kentucky. Demonstrating the frustrating turn that the series has taken in recent years is the fact that only 15 points separated the two clubs in the five meetings preceding a 21-7 loss by Kentucky three years ago. In 1965, the Wildcats smacked Georgia with its worst defeat of the campaign—a 28-10 lacing representing the most points ever scored by UK in the series.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 22, 1966 (Athens) UG 27, UK 15—In an effort to stop a losing trend, Charlie Bradshaw rejuvenated his offense, switching Dicky Lyons, Basil Mullins and Rich Machel from defense. The Wildcats scored first on a six-yard pass from Terry Beadles to Larry Seiple, but the Bulldogs roared back with two second quarter touchdowns—a three-yard run by Kirby Moore and a 13-yard pass from Moore to Payne—for a 14-7 halftime lead. Hardy King took the second half kickoff and ran 62 yards, but UK rose to stop the Bulldogs on the six-inch line. The Wildcats got a big opportunity when Jeff Van Note blocked a field goal attempt and John Harris grabbed the ball and ran to the Bulldog six. Beadles scored from the four. Beadles hit Seiple with a pass for two points and the Wildcats led, 15-14. Moore started riddling the UK secondary with passes. The Bulldogs scored twice in the final quarter en route to the conference co-championship with Alabama.

1967 OUTLOOK: Impressive is the word for Georgia's returning backfield. Kirby Moore, quarterback, gained 1,013 yards (rushing and passing) last year; fullback Ron Jenkins gained 669 rushing to earn All-SEC honors and his sub, Brad Johnson, made the all-soph team. Tailback Kent Lawrence is the fastest player in the league (9.4 clocking for 100) and wingback Hardy King is a top blocker and receiver. The offensive line must be rebuilt and replacements found for six defensive regulars, including All-Americans George Patton, T, and Lynn Hughes, safety. With tackles Edgar Chandler, an NEA All-America, and Bill Stanfill leading the offensive and defensive lines respectively, the task shouldn't be hard.

SERIES HISTORY: One of the oldest rivalries on the Kentucky grid schedule, relations between the Wildcats and Mountaineers date back to Nov. 4, 1905. In that first game at Morgantown, the visiting Wildcats absorbed a 45-0 licking that stands as the biggest advantage either team has enjoyed. The series was interrupted after that contest for 34 years, not resuming until West Virginia visited Lexington for a return engagement in 1939 and absorbed a 13-6 revenge licking. The two teams met annually after that (with the exception of 1943 when UK did not field a team) until the series was broken off again following a game at Morgantown in 1947. Kentucky holds the edge in the series, 7-4-1 and held the distinction of taking the last four decisions until West Virginia stopped the string with an upset victory at Morgantown in 1964 resuming the rivalry. Kentucky's 20-point decision in 1965 was the biggest UK victory in the series since 1944 and the third largest win margin by either team—exceeded only by WVU's 45-0 win in 1905 and UK's 40-9 score in 1944. A frustrating tie resulted last season.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 29, 1966 (Morgantown) UK 14, WVU 14—Homecoming spirit was high when the Wildcats invaded West Virginia last year and Pete Secret, an unheralded third-string quarterback gave the home folks plenty of thrills as he almost led the Mountaineers to an upset victory over UK. But it was his fumble on the UK 21-yard-line late in the fourth quarter which halted the Mountaineers, Kentucky then unleashed a dazzling air attack which carried the ball to the WVU 15 before a pass interception in the end zone ended Wildcat hopes. Kentucky started sensationally, as Terry Beadles passed to Larry Seiple for a 56-yard touch-down. Five minutes later WVU tied the score as the Mountaineers moved 66 yards in nine plays, with Secret scoring from the one. West Virginia went ahead, 14-7, on a Secret to Larry Sine pass from the six. Bob Windsor scored from the one-yard line in the final quarter and Chuck Arnold kicked the point to end scoring.

1967 OUTLOOK: Garrett Ford and 21 other returning lettermen gave West Virginia a rosier outlook as Coach Jim Carlen enters his second year as head coach. Ford, a 6-2, 222 lb. senior tailback, carried 236 times for 1,068 last year (4.5 average) to rank sixth nationally. He's backed this season by experienced quarterbacking, with juniors Pete Secret and Tom Digon battling for the job. Weakside tackle George Begalla and strongside guard Bob Cummings are the offensive line leaders while John Mallory, one of the nation's top secondary and runback men, remains at the free safety position after a brief try at wingback. Baker Brown, Ron Yuss and Carl Grennel appear to give WVU its best linebacking corps in years. Loss of 20 lettermen left big holes at fullback, wingback, tight end and defensive tackle, but the Mountaineers feel they have the horses to fill those vacancies.

SERIES HISTORY: Kentucky and the Vanderbilt Commodores first got together on the gridiron way back in 1896 at Nashville and the rivalry has been perpetuated intermittently ever since with the result that it is one of the oldest in the South from the standpoint of first meeting and number of games. History shows a record solidly in Vandy's favor—23 wins to Kentucky's 12 and four ties. Vandy registered 12 shutouts in the first 26 years of the rivalry and UK did not get into the win column until 1939. However, the postwar record shows only four setbacks. Kentucky's 27-0 homecoming rout of the Commodores in 1960 ended a three-year trend to close games, but the rivalry got back in the groove in 1961 as UK struggled strangely before taking a 16-3 decision. The 1962 contest proved almost a carbon copy of that game as UK just could not connect on all the scoring chances weak Vanderbilt offered and wound up taking only a 7-0 decision. The closeness trend was over-emphasized to the degree that both clubs wound up scoreless in 1963 and only one point, (22-21) separated the pair in 1964 as Kentucky broke a four-game losing streak, but hungry UK blasted Vandy, 34-0 two years ago and notched one of its three 1966 wins at the Commodores' expense. Vandy has not been in the winning column against UK since 1959.

LAST MEETING: Nov. 6, 1966 (Lexington) UK 14, VU 10—The weather was rainy and cold, with snow still standing under some of the Stoll Field seats, but that was only part of the discomfort. The homestanding Wildcats floundered in bad luck all over the field while the invading Commodores said “thank you” for gifts totaling 10 points. The Wildcats lost three fumbles to Vandy’s none and were penalized 47 yards to Vandy’s 15, with the fumbles and penalties coming at most crucial moments. Vandy took the lead, 3-0, on a 25-yard field goal by Fred Klaass in the second quarter after two roughing the passer penalties against UK helped advance the ball. The Commodores padded their lead to 10-0 in the third quarter after a Terry Beadles pass bounced from the hands of Dan Spanish and was eagerly picked off by Vandy’s Tom Gillespie and returned to the UK 19. The Wildcats held, but fumbled and the Commodores marched in from the 15. The Wildcats roared back in the last quarter, scoring on a six-yard pass from Beadles to Larry Seiple and a one-yard run by Dicky Lyons. The second touchdown was set up by a 75-yard pass play from Lyons to Spanish with three minutes remaining.

1967 OUTLOOK: The Commodores have a new athletic director, Jess Neely, and a new head coach, Bill Pace, but the road back to old-time prestige will be rugged. For offense, Pace has a set of undistinguished, but game-tested quarterbacks in Gary Davis and Roger May, plus some small but sharp receivers in Curt Chesley, Bob Goodridge and Chuck Boyd. Sophomores Johnny Valput should spice things with his running. Defensively, linebacker Chip Healy is a standout while Bob Pegg is a rugged end. No less than eight rising sophomores are expected to be in the first 22 men on the Commodore squad. The accent will be on quickness and speed, with the defensive unit averaging just under 200 pounds. In addition to several new faces, Pace has installed an “I” formation for an all-around fresh look at Vandy.

SERIES HISTORY: The Wildcats have enjoyed things pretty much their own way over the years of the grid rivalry with Florida, posting an advantage of 12 wins to the Gators' five in the 17 contests played since the series started with a 52-0 shellacking administered to Florida in the final game of the 1917 campaign. The Sunshine Staters could manage only a pair of victories prior to 1952, but the outcomes since then have been less one-sided. In the first four years (1952-55), the two schools each produced two winning efforts—oddly enough the even year encounters (1952-1954) were Gator victories while Kentucky took its decisions on the odd years. This aspect of the strange trend of the series came to a halt with the UK success in 1956. But another unusual angle developed as a field goal with only seconds remaining played a vital part in the Wildcat wins. In 1955, a scant 23 seconds remained when Delmar Hughes, a quarterback sidelined earlier in the contest by a broken nose, came off the bench to kick a successful 20-yard field goal that gave UK a 10-7 decision. A year later, tackle Lou Michaels booted a rain-soaked ball 34 yards to put the Wildcats in front to stay. This time, only two seconds remained before the end of the first half.

LAST MEETING: Oct. 5, 1957 (Lexington) UF 14, UK 7—Jimmy Dunn weighed only 139 pounds and had missed several days practice because of a cold, but the little Gator quarterback proved too big for a Wildcat team which was seeking to avoid three straight opening losses, something which hadn't happened since 1896. Dunn scored the Gators' first touchdown on a 32-yard run in the opening period and then passed to halfback Jim Roundtree in the third quarter for a 27-yard touchdown. The Wildcats got their first touchdown of the season on a six-yard run by sophomore quarterback Lowell Hughes. The only other bright spot was the play of All-America tackle Lou Michaels, whose side of the line was discreetly avoided by the Gators. Michaels averaged 53 yards on five punts, including one which went for 71 yards and set up UK's touchdown situation. Kentucky was to lose five straight that season before defeating Memphis State, 53-7, and finishing with a 3-7 record.

1967 OUTLOOK: Steve Spurrier is gone after three starring years as leader of the Gator offense, but returnees include tailback Larry Smith, the SEC's best running back who burst into the national limelight with 187 yards rushing to crush Georgia Tech. All-time SEC receiver Richard Trapp (63 catches for 872 yards and seven TDs last year) returns for the aim of senior QB Harmon Wages and soph QB Jackie Eckdahl. Tackle Don Gordano, end Brian Jetter and back Tom Hungerbuhler should anchor a strong defensive unit while Larry Rentz, great safetyman as a soph last year, will operate at flankerback, or maybe at quarterback. Coach Ray Graves expects to run more this year. With Smith carrying the ball, he might also enjoy it more.

SERIES HISTORY: Among the oldest football rivalries in the nation, the Kentucky-Tennessee series dates from a memorable encounter in Knoxville 74 years ago. In that meeting, Oct. 21, 1893, the Wildcats annexed a 60-0 victory to get the warfare off to an auspicious start in a fashion that hasn't been equalled in the many and colorful renewals of the traditional rivalry. Except for three war years (1917-18 and 1943), the two schools have met annually on the gridiron with the result that the Vols hold a distinct-but-fading edge of 34 wins to Kentucky's 19 and nine ties. Tennessee's sparkling advantage has become tarnished in the past few seasons as Kentucky started reversing the victory trend with an upsetting tie in 1952 and ate into the Vol's polished record with successes in eight of the last 14 meetings. The seniors on the 1955 UK squad became the first class in 43 years to graduate with the accomplishment of never playing in a game in which the Vols emerged victorious and they bowed out in a blaze of glory, triumphing 23-0 over the bowl-hungry Vols in the most one-sided Kentucky win since 1935. Tennessee took the 1961 meeting for its first victory in five years, but UK's courageous "Thin Thirty" fought back to win a 12-10 squeaker in 1962. The Vols caught Kentucky in a let down three seasons back to annex a 19-0 decision, but Kentucky capped a strange 1964 campaign in glorious fashion by capturing a hard-fought, 12-7 victory over the equally-inconsistent Tennesseans. Without passing star Rick Norton, injured the week before in the Houston game, Kentucky could not cope with the Vols in '65 and dropped a 19-3 decision. The 'Cats turned in possibly their best effort of the season last year, but lost a heart-breaker, 28-19.

Since 1925, the two schools have stimulated their grid rivalry with a rotating trophy—a battered old beer barrel. Many shenanigans on the part of the rival student bodies have added to the color of the series. Following the 1953 UK win, disgruntled Tennessee students raided the Kentucky campus and "kegnapped" the barrel—holding it until persuaded to return it by threats of reprisal against their coon dog mascot, Smoky. In 1955, UK students visited the Tennessee campus hiding place of Smoky and "dognapped" him. UT students promptly retaliated by painting up the Kentucky campus in a surprise raid and carting away "Colonel," UK's stuffed wildcat mascot. A trade was engineered at the '55 game. For a couple of years, things were comparatively quiet. Then the stunts erupted again in 1958 as Vol students caught a guard "napping" and slipped away with UK's stuffed Wildcat. Despite promises to return it at halftime of a nationally-televised basketball game, the mascot wasn't given back until nearly four months later. A post-game sidelight to Kentucky's victory in 1959 saw a strange calm shattered by rioting UK students protesting a faculty refusal to reward the win with a traditional pre-Thanksgiving holiday. Up to 5,000 demonstrators and onlookers carried on for about four and one-half hours, marching on the UK president's home and setting a bonfire at a main intersection in downtown Lexington. The famed beer barrel, which had remained in hiding during "Tennessee week" in 1960, came up missing almost four months later under unusual circumstances. Vanderbilt students "kegnapped" the trophy in a surprise attempt to gain support of Vol fans for the Commodores' basketball team which was meeting the Wildcats in Knoxville in a playoff for an NCAA Tournament berth. The stunt backfired, however, as UK won. Embarrassed Vandy students did not return the trophy until several months later. Six years ago, another chapter was added to the keg's history as two UK freshman players forgot to bring the barrel to the game and the Vols left town without claiming it. Kentucky sent the keg on to Knoxville later. Since then, a strange calm has surrounded the old beer barrel.

LAST MEETING: Nov. 19, 1966 (Knoxville) UT 28, UK 19—The Wildcats last season did what no other team was able to do—score three touchdowns on defense-minded Tennessee. That wasn't enough, however, as the Vols took a 14-13 lead near the end of the first half as quarterback Dewey Warren hit a host of talented receivers for 14 completions for 275 yards and four touchdowns. Mills caught seven for 225 yards, a UT record. The Vols drove 54 yards for the game's first score with Warren hitting Austin Denney for the final three yards late in the opening quarter. The Cats quickly tied it up, however, when sophomore Dicky Lyons returned a punt 72 yards for a TD. Kentucky took the lead after Beadles hit Seiple for 78 yards to the UT two. Beadles scored from the one. Dan Spanish missed the conversion. Tennessee drove 61 yards for the go-ahead score 15 seconds before the half, with Warren hitting Flowers for a seven-yard TD. Tennessee marched from its 29 to the UK 18 just before the third quarter ended and iced the game with a 72-yard pass play from Warren to Mills. UK scored its final TD by Lyons from the 10.

1967 OUTLOOK: With the excellent passing of Dewey Warren and the potential length-of-the-field receiving of Richmond Flowers, Coach Doug Dickey's Vols should rank as one of the most exciting teams in the nation. Warren connected on 136 of 222 passes for 1,716 yds. and 18 TD's last year, with Olympic hurdler prospect Flowers catching 35 of them for 407 yards and five TDs. Terry Dalton and Mike Gooch help Flowers with the receiving and TB Charley Fulton keeps the defense loose with his sharp running. Joe Graham is a fine offensive guard and Bob Johnson may be the nation's best center. The Vols have no All-America linebackers, defensively, this season, but Nick Showalter is above average. End Neal McMeans, tackle Derrick Weatherford and safetyman Bill Young are tough. Dickey could have the Vols bowl-bound for the third in his four seasons on the hill.

VICTORY KICKS

A game unique in University of Kentucky football history occurred in 1900. Kentucky beat the Louisville YMCA, 12-6, without running a single offensive play during the entire game. Kicking on first down every time they gained possession of the ball, Kentucky made its scores through the recovery of opponent fumbles in the end zone.

UK TOSSES FIRST PASS IN '06

The first forward pass ever attempted by a Kentucky football team was thrown in a game played at Lexington Oct. 13, 1906—the year that the forward pass was legalized by national rules—against Eminence Athletic Club. Accounts of this early contest do not mention whether the pass was completed or the name of the thrower. Earl Stone was listed as quarterback of Coach J. White Guyn's Kentuckians.

BOBBY ABBOTT Soph. Def. Back 5-8 170 21 (1/27/46) Kingston, Tenn.
Roane Co. HS Coach Bill Long Major: Education Letters: 0

Although one of the smallest men on '66 varsity, Abbott looms very big in talent picture after fine showing during frosh campaign year ago . . . Named to Atlanta Journal's All-SEC Freshman team . . . Led Kentucky yearlings in punt returns and interceptions . . . His four steals in season represented freshman record . . . Alternate frosh tailback's big moment came when ran back intercepted pass 90 yards for TD against Tennessee Frosh, only to see play nullified by penalty . . . Best showing came against Va. Tech Frosh as he scored twice and returned pair of interceptions 43 yards to set up two other scores . . . Expected to battle for starting duty at safety this season . . . Tallied 296 points in career at Roane County High in Kingston, Tenn., for school record . . . Gained 4,975 yards and had eight-yard average . . . All-State 1965 . . . Plans career in Art.

TOM ANDERSON Sr. End 6-0 180 23 (7/27/44) Birmingham, Ala.
Ramsay HS Coach Thompson Reynolds Major: History Letters: 0

Chances are good that this Alabama native can make important contribution this season as offensive flankman after three previous varsity campaigns (red shirt 1964) . . . Ticketed as prospective No. 2 quick end after promising spring practice . . . One of dozen seniors on squad, he will be counted on for leadership . . . Still looking for first letter award after seeing only sparse action both ways . . . Prepped at Ramsay High in Birmingham, Ala., and then spent 1962-63 school year at Staunton (Va.) Military Academy . . . All-State in high school football and selected on second team All-Military while prepping at Staunton . . . DAVE BAIR Soph. QB 6-0 180 20 (7/28/47) Greensburg, Pa.
Salem HS Coach Robert Williams Major: Physical Education Letters: 0

Coaches are hopeful that this good looking, former Pennsylvania schoolboy star has now regained confidence after battling bum knee (from high school days) last season . . . Bair turned in good spring practice showing, topped by strong bid in Blue-White Game in which he engineered winning touchdown drive for Whites' 14-7 decision . . . Healing knee operation somewhat limited effectiveness as substitute quarterback last year when played behind promising Stan Forston . . . Had only one completion for nine yards in seven tries . . . Handled most of punting chores, averaging 30.2 yards per try on 15 boots . . . Best game as yearling came against Virginia Tech Frosh when engineered two quick touchdowns to cement 37-8 victory for UK Kittens . . . Has potential to be good Southeastern Conference quarterback and should prove it in important reserve action this season . . . All-State and All-WPIAL at Greensburg Salem as connected on 99 of 200 passes for 1,700 yards and led Lions to consecutive seasons of 9-1 and 8-2 in final schoolboy years . . . Also standout pitcher on three straight championship baseball teams, posting 20-2 career mark.

TERRY BEADLES Sr. QB 5-11 190 21 (4/20/46) Fulton, Ky.
Fulton HS Coach Frank McCann Major: History Letters: 2

Key to Wildcats' success in offensive operations, Terry Beadles enters his final collegiate campaign as team's prospective starting quarterback for second straight year . . . In first try at running varsity attack last season (after serving as regular safetyman as sophomore in '65), Terry was hampered by unfamiliarity, lack of confidence, too much weight and an ankle sprained in second game of season (Mississippi) . . . Still wound up sixth in SEC passing with record of 47 completions out of 113 attempts for 725 yards . . . and five scores . . . Ninth in tandem offense with total accumulation of 753 yards . . . Longest toss in '66 went 78 yards against Tennessee in final game . . . This spring, Beadles reported about 10 pounds lighter, improved in quickness, more poised in manner and looked better mechanically . . . Led Whites to 14-7 win over Blues in spring intra-squad game, although passed only sparingly (7-2-33 yards) . . . Gamble by Coach Bradshaw in switching Beadles to defensive safety as soph in '65 following brilliant frosh campaign on offense paid off handsomely as former Fulton star adjusted in fashion that won him second team All-SEC mention, All-League Defensive team and All-SEC Sophomore team honors . . . Tied for conference lead in interceptions with six—half of them against Missouri for school record . . . Limited soph season offensive duty counted seven completed passes in 13 tries for 59 yards . . . Eight in SEC that season on punt returns (16-185) . . . Terry paced UK Frosh to undefeated campaign in '64 by becoming team's leader in total offense (614 yards), passing (24-14-304-3TD) and scoring (24 points) plus No. 2 man in rushing . . . In junior year at Fulton, Terry set school record by scoring 148 points . . . As senior, rolled up 1,020 yards rushing . . . Despite credentials, he went virtually unnoticed—second team All-State and few college offers other than Kentucky's . . . Proved himself by winning Outstanding Back award in state high school all-star game . . . Basically a running-type quarterback . . . Ran 49 yards for TD first time had hands on ball as UK freshman . . . Lettered first two varsity seasons.

DICK BEARD Soph. FB 6-2 200 20 () Altoona, Pa.
Altoona HS Coach Earl Strohm Major: Phys. Educ. Letters: 0

Eligible for Kentucky football after winning big battle with books, Beard could provide important strength at problem spot of offensive fullback . . . Must catch up quickly after missing competition of his freshman season (1966) and spring practice for 1967 campaign . . . Coaches are hopeful that Beard's tremendous potential will come to forefront in time for him to provide needed depth at fullback . . . In high school at Altoona, Dick operated as halfback on both offense and defense on same club with UK teammate Dick Frasca (soph WB) . . . Gained 987 yards and scored 9 TD's in senior year in helping Altoona Mountain Lions to 7-3 season record . . . Attained All-State notice and played as linebacker in Pennsylvania's famed Big 33 all-star game.

McKeesport HS Coach Harold Weighel Major: Spec. Educ. Letters: 0

Used mostly as back-up man at middle guard last season, Beirne likely will switch to strong guard duty on offensive platoon in '67 and looms as prospective starter . . . Coaches are hopeful that much-moved young Pennsylvanian will "find a home" in senior campaign and provide needed strength at weak offensive guard location . . . Mike has yet to pick up first varsity letter as he has been seen only limited game action in first two years at various positions . . . Made excellent showing in spring intra-squad game this year as starting strong guard for winning Whites . . . Now

Came to UK in '63, held out in 1964 and saw only sparse game duty in both 1965 and 1966 . . . Needs only game experience to mature into dependable operative . . . Worked at guard early part of freshman season, then switched to center . . . Started football career at age 11 with famed McKeesport "Little Tigers" and team lost only six of 30 games during Mike's three years . . . Beirne, whose legal first name is Regis, was born in Pittsburgh and is one of 17 varsity players from Keystone State.

CHUCK BLACKBURN Soph. End 6-2 201 21 (7/10/46) Westerville, Ohio
Westerville HS Coach Nick Decenzo Major: Bus. Adm. Letters: 0

Joined Kentucky team first in fall of 1965 as offensive end and defensive half-back . . . Saw most of freshman year action at end and wound up season third among Kitten pass receivers with eight catches netting 65 yards and one TD . . . Figured high at defensive end last season, but left squad before season opened and did not return until this spring . . . Turned in good spring practice to rate as chief reliever at strong end spot in lineup . . . Catches ball real well, turns in good job downfield and is good blocker . . . Husky Buckeye native (born in Columbus) came to UK by way of Staunton (Va.) Military Academy, where played in 1964 following three years at Westerville . . . Won 10 athletic letters in three sports . . . Scotch nationality . . . Father is ceramic engineer and Chuck plans to enter business after graduation.

AL BORNE (Bor-nay) Soph. Def. Back 6-1 185 20 (4/17/47) Louisville, Ky.
St. Xavier HS Coach John Meihaus Major: Education Letters: 0

Time and experience are expected to make this native son into fine collegiate griddy . . . Came along slow in early freshman campaign last year due to injury received in auto accident, but closed strong . . . In season finale with Vanderbilt Frosh, Al turned in outstanding performance—intercepting pass to kill come-from-behind Vandy drive . . . Classed as outstanding student of game . . . Good size, natural speed and plenty of ability . . . Likely to see reserve duty at defensive half-back . . . Showed up well this spring in experimental try at safety . . . Nicknamed Dutch, he played high school ball under ex-Wildcat Johnny Meihaus . . . Covers 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds and set regional record of 23.1 in 220 dash . . . Family nationality German.

MIKE BOULWARE Soph. Guard 6-2 205 18 (12/14/48) Columbus, Ohio
Bishop Watterson HS Coach Dick Walker Major: History Letters: 0

Touted as one of top line prospects up from frosh team, Boulware is expected to push veteran Kerry Curling at defensive nose guard position . . . Regular quick tackle for '66 frosh and doubled on defense—one of few two-way starters . . . Opened every game in yearlings' 3-1 season . . . Some interior linemen bigger than Boulware, but few more eager to learn and succeed through hard work . . . Can be expected to see considerable action in first varsity campaign . . . Led his high school team to undefeated season in final schoolboy year of 1965 . . . Also played basketball, baseball and swimming . . . Born in Washington, D. C.

DONNIE BRITTON Sr. FB 5-10 200 23 (1/28/44) Broomall, Pa.
Marple-Newton HS (Larchmont) Coach Lou Bonder Major: Commerce Letters: 1

Fullback looms at best as trouble spot for '67 and Donnie Britton as prospective No. 1 trouble shooter . . . Donnie, however, had troubles this spring as he prepared for final swing of duty in an "almost" career—he hurt a knee on second day of practice and missed much vital learning . . . Britton, a reserve fullback the past two seasons with just 80 yards rushing to his credit, is still tagged as man for rookies to beat out . . . Experience and leadership qualities are on side of reddish-blond-haired veteran from Pennsylvania . . . He was regular early last season before lineup shuffle inserted soph sensation Dicky Lyons—who moves to tailback this year . . . Donnie is at his best as a blocker and short yardage runner . . . Not blessed with great speed but makes up the deficiency with inner toughness and hustle . . . Entered UK in 1963 and spent first varsity campaign (1964) on the sidelines . . . Had fine schoolboy career in Philadelphia Suburban League, averaging 5.4 yards on 127 trips and voted top linebacker in the league plus All-State . . . A Presbyterian by faith, Donnie is past president of the UK chapter, Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

JIM BROADWATER Soph. Guard 6-2 205 19 (11/23/47) Fairless Hills, Pa.
Pennsbury HS Coach Erle Baugher Major: Education Letters: 0

Converted from a high school fullback and defensive end, this husky Keystone State prospect turned in creditable job as a freshman interior lineman and figures high in the varsity picture this season . . . Break-in duty seems likely at quick or on defense as backup man to veteran Kerry Curling at nose guard . . . Son of a Pennsylvania steel worker and former captain of his high school grid team, Jim was one of the team leaders among freshmen in tackles with 33 during the four-game season . . . Quick, hard-hitting and one of team's strongest men, Jim was a champion weight lifter in high school . . . As schoolboy gridder, he made All-State and won honorable mention Big 33 squad . . . Born in McKeesport, Pa. . . One of 17 from state on 1967 varsity. (LATE NOTE: Moved to defense as a RT candidate.)

BILL CARTWRIGHT Jr. Center 6-0 200 20 (2/13/47) Princeton, Ky.
Caldwell County HS Coach Fred Clayton Major: Agriculture Letters: 1

One of only two listed candidates for the job at offensive center and lone experienced hand available at the problem position, Cartwright will be "under the gun" this season . . . Spring practice and Blue-White Game showings indicate a stirring battle for the starting nod between Cartwright and soph Pat Eckenrod . . . Bill's experience stems from 1966 duty as reliefer for Cal Withrow—action that won him a first varsity letter . . . He impresses with his quickness, hitting ability and willingness to work . . . Starter at center as UK freshman in '65 . . . Teamed with fellow Wildcat Kerry Curling to help Caldwell County annex state AA grid championship and post undefeated season in junior year of 1963 . . . Cartwright played every position on team except quarterback, winning three letters and top All-State honors . . . Played in East West All-Star Game following graduation.

ROD CLOYD Jr. Def. Back 6-0 195 20 (5/2/47) Lawrenceburg, Ky.
Anderson HS Coach Bob Kincer Major: Phys. Educ. Letters: 0

Coaches are anticipating more help from this young Kentuckian this season as he matures and gains game experience . . . Due to work at defensive corner back location—the same assignment he had last season in his break-in with varsity . . . As a Kentucky freshman two years back, Rod worked chiefly as a reserve quarterback . . . Posted third best rushing record on team with 42 yards gained from his signal calling position . . . Second among yearlings in passing as he connected four times in 12 tries for 50 yards . . . Cloyd's high school team recorded a 9-1 season ledger when he was a senior and team captain . . . Honorable mention All-State . . . Born Harrodsburg, Ky. . . Plans career as coach and teacher.

FRED CONGER Soph. LB 6-0 210 18 (11/2/48) Feasterville, Pa.
Neshaminy HS (Langhorne, Pa.) Coach John Petercusk Major: Phys. Educ. Letters: 0

Conger broke his wrist in pre-season practice last year as a freshman and missed action in the Kittens' first three games . . . Returned to duty in season finale against Vanderbilt Frosh and proved one of game's standouts in the interior line . . . Operated as a guard with the freshmen and ticketed as a starting linebacker in his opening varsity campaign . . . Classed as hard hitter with lots of speed, quick reactions and alertness . . . The former star guard for the Neshaminy Redskins played on both defense and offense in 1965 renewal of Pennsylvania's famed schoolboy grid classic, Big 33 Game . . . Plans career in pro football or coaching.

Has such a deft technique for warding off blockers that coaches often use him as an example for younger players . . . Missed much of spring practice this year due to a bout with pneumonia, but came back strong near end of off-season drills . . . Despite some obvious shortcomings in the size department, the fire-plug type native Kentuckian makes up some lack of size with great football instinct as well as loads of hustling determination to be at the right place at the right time . . . Muscled his way to starting duty as a linebacker his first varsity year (1965) and became one of the prize rookies in the Southeastern Conference . . . Last year, he operated as Kentucky's regular middle guard—the same position at which he is due to be stationed this season and win acclaim as one of the league's best defensive men . . . Curling's high school team captured state AA schoolboy grid title in 1963 with a 13-0 record . . . A current UK teammate, center Bill Cartwright, played on the same club . . . Kerry won personal recognition as first unit All-State and mention on All-Southern and All-America teams. Dutch-Irish descent.

DENNIS DRINNEN Jr. Tackle 6-1 225 20 (9/6/46) Loveland, Ohio
Loveland HS Coach Stanley McCoy Major: Commerce Letters: 0

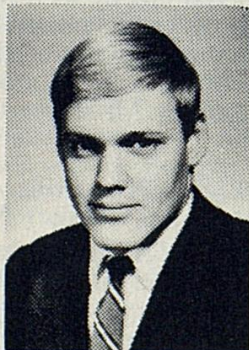

One of the squad's most improved offensive linemen, Drinnen figures to see important action this season at tackle . . . Most likely to back up starter Dwight Little at quick tackle . . . Saw reserve duty last season as a sophomore after being held out of competition in 1965—his opening varsity campaign . . . Now shows more maturity, better quickness and balance plus greater grid savvy . . . One of nine Ohio products on varsity this season, Drinnen hails from Loveland—small community near Cincinnati . . . His hard-nosed tackling and linebacking helped Loveland Tigers cap Conference title in AA competition . . . Also earned four baseball letters and three in basketball . . . Born in Cincinnati . . . Dennis' father (Raymond) served in Marines with Coach Bradshaw . . . Irish-Polish descent.

Daviess Co. HS Coach Waymond Morris Major: Mech. Engineering Letters: 0

Although he is lacking in impressive size at 5-11, 182 and is smallest of fullback candidates, Duke is considered worthy of another close look by coaches . . . He was a regular defensive halfback as a 1966 freshman and started out this spring at same position . . . Then fate intervened: Bill was showing much promise at the familiar defensive back job when he was suddenly tagged for a try at plugging a hole at offensive fullback created when Donnie Britton injured his knee on second day of spring drills . . . Duke took advantage of the opportunity at the problem spot in the lineup, learning fast and showing up well until fate stuck her "nose" in once again . . . Bill was sidelined for rest of spring with foot trouble (arch and ligaments) Expected to be OK for start of new season and may try once again at fullback or another location . . . PAT ECKENROD Soph. Center 6-4 200 18 (12/13/48) Chattanooga, Tenn.
Notre Dame HS Coach Tom Clary Major: Architecture Letters: 0

Scheduled to make strong bid for starting assignment at offensive center in first varsity campaign . . . Started every game as UK Frosh center last season . . . Will get competition for regular duty this season from junior letterman Bill Cartwright, whom he had beat out in the spring . . . One of youngest men on squad, Bill needs time to mature but signs point to his immediate bolstering of the depth-shy problem position . . . Possesses excellent range and good speed . . . Expected to develop into an outstanding blocker with game experience under his belt . . . Some compare the rangy Eckenrod to ex-Wildcat Irv Goode, All-America in 1951 . . . Pat started playing football as a fifth grader back in Chattanooga and wound up memorable career by being selected the city's most outstanding player and winning All-State honors . . . His father is airport manager in Chattanooga . . . Pat is studying Architecture . . . Family is Irish-Dutch in descent.

TOM FEE Sr. TB 5-9 170 22 (2/22/45) Uniontown, Pa.
Uniontown HS Coach Bill Powers Major: Biological Science Letters: 2

Moved from defensive halfback assignment to offensive tailback this spring to lend depth and experience to the position . . . Tom adapted rapidly and well, proving himself a terrific inside runner with valuable knack of spotting holes in enemy forward walls . . . Whether Fee stays at tailback may depend on where one of his rivals, soph Roger Gann, lands in the lineup—reserve tailback or potential starting job at fullback . . . At tailback, he'll battle Gann for No. 2 spot in lineup—behind sensational junior Dicky Lyons . . . Fee first entered UK in 1963, picked up his first varsity "K" the following season as a sophomore defensive back and then missed the '65 campaign . . . Operated at defensive right half last year . . . Lack of size has never been handicap to Fee in getting job done . . . Earned All-State and was a member of the Big 33 squad while prepping at Uniontown High School in Pennsylvania . . . Team went undefeated his first schoolboy year to win state AA crown . . . Also regular on 1962 state champion cage outfit . . . Family extraction Italian . . . Married . . . Favorite subject Russian.

TOM FERGUSON Soph. LB 5-11 180 20 (4/18/47) Ashland, Ky.
Blazer HS Coach Rex Miller Major: Bus. Educ. Letters: 0

Tagged as a player to watch now that he has apparently settled down at one position, Ferguson is scheduled to operate as a rover linebacker sub this season and see important action . . . The former star quarterback at Paul Blazer High in Ashland has adapted very well to defense as a collegian . . . First caught the eye of UK coaches during freshman campaign (1965) when he won starting job as a defensive halfback and intercepted two passes . . . Shifted to outside linebacker duty last season as a sophomore but failed to see any game action . . . Also tried as inside linebacker before moving to rover this spring . . . Chiefly a quarterback in high school, Tom set school record by tossing 11 touchdown passes in one season . . . Named second team All-State and honorable mention All-American . . . Played in 1965 East-West All-Star Game.

STAN FORSTON Soph. QB 6-1 190 19 (1/11/48) Lexington, Ky.
Henry Clay HS Coach Jim Poynter Major: Chemistry Letters: 0

One of the top 10 schoolboy gridgers of the nation and a prep All-America selection by Coach and Athlete magazine, Forston is a gem discovered right in the back yard of the Wildcat camp . . . Everything he did last season as a UK freshman and this spring as a prospective varsity performer indicated that he is enroute to collegiate stardom . . . Coach Bradshaw is on record with the evaluation that Forston "has great potential and all the ingredients . . . It's just a question of how quickly he can come along." At the start of his soph campaign this year, Stan is scheduled to back up senior Terry Beadles at quarterback . . . May be hard to hold back . . . Poised, stable and pressure-proof, he followed up fine freshman season with good showing in spring work and the Blue-White game . . . He was the leading frosh passer with 25 completions in 59 tries for 339 yards and three TD's in four games . . . The scrambler also personally picked up 42 yards rushing and scored four times . . . Chosen Most Valuable Player in freshman "Dollars For Scholars" game . . . In the Blue-White Game, Forston connected on 11 of 20 aerials for 123 yards and personally scored a touchdown in guiding a losing cause . . . During one hot streak, he hit six out of six in a sensational touchdown drive . . . Freshman Coach Duke Owen predicts the lean Lexingtonian may never be a statistical great, explaining "he's too unselfish for that . . . But he is the kind who can beat you; who can take a team downfield and score and who can come up with the big play when you need it most." . . . Coached in high school by current UK aide Jim Poynter . . . Team went undefeated (11-0-0) in his final schoolboy year of 1965 . . . Good student with "B" average majoring in chemistry.

DICK FRASCA Soph. WB 6-2 205 19 (4/13/48) Altoona, Pa.
Altoona HS Coach Earl Strohm Major: Physical Therapy Letters: 0

One of the top schoolboy grid prospects to come out of Pennsylvania last year, Frasca brought with him a reputation as a highly-touted quarterback . . . Tried at the signal-calling post as a Kentucky yearling in '66 but had the misfortune to be injured prior to the season and played only sparingly . . . Completed one (15 yards against Vanderbilt Frosh) of only two pass attempts . . . Punted three times for average of 37.3 . . . Frasca started spring practice this year again at quarterback but soon moved over to wingback, where he battled soph Joe Jacobs for starting duty this fall . . . Entered with Dick Beard from Altoona High, where he was an all-sports standout—football QB-Saf., forward in basketball and 212-foot javelin thrower . . . Too valuable and versatile to ride bench for long . . . Italian ancestry.

ROGAN GANN Soph. TB 6-2 200 19 (11/9/47) Fayetteville, N. C.
Fayetteville HS Coach Red Wilson Major: Mech. Engineering Letters: 0

People who have seen Roger Gann in action are convinced that he is fully deserving of all the flowery descriptions that have already been heaped on his broad shoulders or are still to come . . . As Coach Bradshaw puts it, "Roger doesn't know his full potential and neither do we." . . . He came to Kentucky last season rated one of the nation's top prizes with a host of personal honors and the obvious ability to back them up . . . Selected by Coach and Athlete magazine as a prep All-America and one of the top 10 schoolboy grid stars of the nation . . . Starting tailback as a UK freshman in '66 and posted team-leading rushing record of 367 yards on 74 trips during four-game season . . . Averaged healthily 4.9 yards per carry, chalked up a 60-yard TD jaunt versus Vanderbilt Frosh and won spot on All-SEC Frosh team . . . One of best showings came against VPI Frosh as he registered 143 yards despite sitting out half game while coaches looked over other material . . . Capped fine spring practice effort by winning nod from coaches as "Outstanding Back of Blue-White Game" in which he led both squads in ground gained with 93 yards on 28 carries and caught 22-yard pass . . . Big question in mind of sideline observers is where he will play this season—at tailback behind equally-talented Dicky Lyons, at the weak fullback spot where he gained high school fame or another needy position . . . The fabulous Fayetteville star, whom Bradshaw feels could become one of America's finest running backs, gained his experience in high school as a single wing defensive tackle turned fullback . . . Scored 24 TD's final season . . . Has size, speed, power and body control . . . Son of professional soldier, Roger has lived in eight states and foreign countries . . . Married . . . Has 20th birthday two days before Vanderbilt game . . . Scores well in classroom with B plus average in pre-engineering studies.

STEVE GRAY Soph. WB 6-2 20 (3/13/47) Houston, Texas
Dixie Hollins HS (St. Pete, Fla.) Coach Forrest Page Major: Education Letters: 0

Hampered by a knee injury and slow recuperation from surgery, Gray is still looking for his first minute of game action . . . He was held out of action last year as a sophomore defensive back and saw very little activity this spring . . . Listed on tentative depth chart for 1967 as reserve wingback, but how much he is able to play will depend on the bum knee and how much he can develop in light of a lack of experience . . . The knee was injured in Florida's North-South schoolboy All-Star Game following his graduation from Dixie Hollins High Schools in St. Petersburg, Fla., in 1965 . . . Team compiled 8-2 record in each of his last two seasons when he played end and halfback both ways and won honorable mention All-State and All-America plus MVP honors . . . Family background German. (LATE NOTE: Switched to defensive halfback.)

Jenkins HS Coach Raymond Ricketts Major: History Letters: 0

Came to Kentucky as a quarterback, switched to end last season and now has settled in defensive secondary as a cornerback . . . He had the inside track on starting duty at defensive left half this spring but undoubtedly will have a fight on his hands this fall to beat out Al Phaneuf . . . Showed marked improvement in spring over his play since enrolling in 1964 . . . At Jenkins High, he played quarterback and defensive halfback to help Cavaliers win Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference championship in 1963 . . . Once tossed five TD passes in single game . . . All-State and mentioned All-America as he netted 640 yards and 54 points passing in his final season . . . Twenty-first birthday comes three days before Tennessee game . . . Greer's brother, Roger, is a 195-pound fullback-end who was conference scoring champ last year and is due to enter UK this fall.

Big and stocky with the necessary strength and know how to be a fine interior lineman and this could be the year he proves himself if a bum knee holds up satisfactorily . . . The injury has hampered Jim since mid-season 1965 when he was hurt during a drill in sweat clothes . . . Missed last half of that season and bothered throughout the '66 season by the knee . . . At the time he was injured, Jim was considered one of the most promising young linemen in camp . . . This season, he's slated to operate as a relief man at the demanding nose guard job with the defensive platoon . . . Considered a "sleeper" at the time he signed since he was only third team All-State while performing for Jeffersonville (Ind.) High as a fullback, end and defensive tackle . . . DAVE HANSON Soph. Tackle 6-2 220 18 (12/20/48) Greensburg, Pa.
Hempfield Area HS Coach Bill Abraham Major: Commerce Letters: 0

Follows in footsteps of former Wildcats John Andrighetti and Rich Tucci in coming to Kentucky following standout career under Coach Bill Abraham at Hempfield Area High in Pennsylvania . . . As a UK freshman last season, Dave was a strong side starter at tackle offensively and doubled on defense—one of the handful of consistent two-way operators . . . This year, he is scheduled to concentrate on offense and serve as the back-up man to senior Ronnie Roberts at quick tackle . . . Turned in good job this spring . . . Possesses fine attribute of being able to stay with a block once he makes contact with an opponenet . . . He hits well, runs well and works hard . . . Also has qualifications for stardom with 6-2, 220 size . . . Hanson, at the time of his graduation, was one of the most-sought-after line prospects in State of Pennsylvania . . . Hempfield Spartans psted identical, 9-1 records in each of Dave's final two seasons . . . Swedish-English background . . . Loves Italian food.

Made a good showing in his freshman year at UK (1963) as a guard, but did not come along quite fast enough in his varsity break-in campaign of 1964 to see any game action . . . In the fall of 1965, Roger was tried briefly at center and then shifted back to guard where he was ticketed as a potential alternate starter . . . Then injury "bug" struck as he hurt a knee that required surgery . . . Last year, the knee was holding up pretty good and Hart was once again making a strong bid when he injured his foot . . . This spring, history repeated itself as a chest injury sidelined him most of the session . . . Hopefully, Hart will be ready to go this fall as a reserve linbacker and stay healthy . . . All-State at Albertville—northeast of Birmingham . . . Scotch-Irish descent . . . Plans to be school teacher.

MIKE HERRON Soph. LB 6-0 210 19 (11/13/47) Henderson, Ky.
Henderson City HS Coach Bill Dawson Major: Commerce Letters: 0

Latest in an impressive list of Wildcat lineman hailing from Henderson, Herron has been slowed in his development by illness and injury but has shown much promise as a linebacker and should see considerable action this season . . . Struck by illness before opening of freshman season (1966) but rebounded rapidly to rate as one of Kittens' line stalwarts . . . Recovered two fumbles in four games, one at 15-yard line of VPI Frosh that set up Kentucky's first touchdown . . . Knee strain kept him out of rough work this spring but he is counted on for relief help at linebacker. . . . Tutored in high school by ex-Wildcat Bill Dawson . . . As High school fullback, he came within one point of Conference scoring record when he made five TD's in game against Owensboro Catholic. . . . Averaged 9.6 yards a carry final season (1965) . . . All-State . . . Father (Paul) played football at Indiana University in early 40's . . . Has ambition to go on to Law School. (LATE NOTE: Due to be given chance at center.)

DON HOLLAND Soph. LB 6-0 180 19 (1/3/48) Worthington, Ohio
Bishop Watterson HS Coach Dick Walker Major: Economics Letters: 0

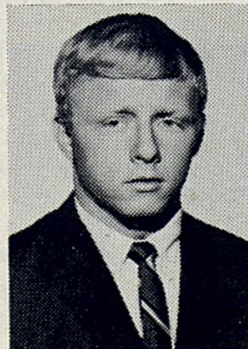

One of the top schoolboy athletes to come out of Ohio a year ago, Holland played well in 1966 as a regular defensive end for the Kentucky Frosh and is expected to see considerable duty this season as a reserve rover linebacker . . . Made the opposition backs leary of trying to "turn the corner" . . . Recovered three fumbles and caused several others . . . He's not as big as many Southeastern Conference linebackers, but he's smart and quick enough to be in right place at right time . . . Teamed with fellow Wildcat Mike Boulware to spark his high school to an undefeated campaign in his final schoolboy season . . . Played as both end and linebacker three years and capped his career with an appearance in Ohio's North-South All-Star game . . . All-State selection and team captain . . . Irish decent . . . Bothered in spring practice by ankle sprain but showed up well in defensive work . . . Good speed.

Northville HS Coach Ronald Horwath Major: Education Letters: 0

A Michigander out of the bastion of the Big 10, Imsland may be the "big one that got away" . . . Jerry is sizeable, quick and has the ability to catch anything thrown in his direction . . . Proved himself a dangerous receiver from the first moment he put on pads last year . . . Thoroughly embarrassed varsity in scrimmages and proceeded to become leading pass catcher for the yearlings in '66 with 11 receptions lugged 140 yards . . . Operated as the regular strong side end and displayed size, speed, intelligence and hands to become great collegiate receiver . . . Opponents didn't stop him but weight slowed him down . . . Got little too heavy during off-season conditioning program and this had some effect on his play in spring practice . . . A trimmed-down Imsland this fall should be hard to handle at quick end . . . As a Northville schoolboy, Jerry was regarded as one of the top pass catchers in Michigan history . . . In his senior year, he caught 63 passes in only eight games, gained 811 yards and nine TD's to set school records . . . Totaled 15 catches for 231 yards in one game . . . Posted career mark of 83 for 1,129 yards and another record . . . All-State . . . Classed with ex-Wildcat record holder Rick Kestner as a receiver.

JOE JACOBS Soph. WB 6-0 175 19 (10/21/47) Hobbs, N. Mex.
Hobbs HS Coach Bob Burris Major: Pre-Dental Letters: 0

Recruiting Joe Jacobs was a fairly easy matter—he sold himself . . . During a visit to Lexington as a delegate to a convention of the National Association of Student Councils, Joe became impressed with UK and its School of Dentistry . . . With the aim of furthering his planned career as an orthodontist and enjoying his favorite sport (football), he wrangled a scholarship out of Coach Bradshaw and neither has been sorry since . . . Joe is pursuing his classroom studies with an average well above a "B" and doing extremely well in the football classroom—where this fall he is expected to take over the starting wingback duty vacated by graduated Larry Seiple . . . Smart and sure on the field and in the classroom . . . Good speed and fine hands . . . The former New Mexico All-State product (believed first ever from that state on UK football team) and school valedictorian operated as regular wingback and also saw some duty at defensive halfback as a UK freshman in '66 . . . Fifth in rushing with 80 yards netted on 11 trips for 7.3 average . . . Had 27-yard jaunt vs. Cincinnati Forsh . . . Dominated game by scoring winning TD . . . Caught five passes for 59 yards and one TD in four games . . . Improved as a receiver in spring drills . . . Needs seasoning, fundamental work to blossom into first rate back . . . Born Electra, Texas.

Flaget HS Coach James Kennedy Major: Commerce Letters: 1

Followed up fine high school career at Louisville Flaget by turning in consistently good performances in his first two collegiate campaigns and is expected to make even more important contribution this fall . . . Probably see his action mostly at the rover linebacker assignment—a tribute to his quick mind, all-around ability and experience . . . A former All-State end, Jansen worked chiefly at split end as a freshman starter at UK in '65 . . . He registered five catches for 87 yards, including a TD reception of 37 yards against Vanderbilt's Frosh that allowed Kentucky to win the game . . . Won Most Valuable Lineman Award in East-West All-Star Game in 1965 . . . Did tremendous job both ways in the game and as a UK yearling . . . Exceptionally aggressive as defensive man, smart and quick reacting.

Roxborough HS Coach Fred Hauser Major: Phys. Educ. Letters: 1

Considered one of the prize rookies in camp ever since he first appeared on the Wildcat scene in 1964 with a glowing schoolboy reputation . . . Thoroughly fulfilled expectations with a terrific first season of action last year, earning All-SEC Soph team selection for his play as Kentucky's regular defensive right tackle . . . He played almost every minute on defense, showing marked improvement for the apprenticeship year spent on the sidelines as a red shirt in '65 and his play this spring evidenced even finer performances in the making . . . George not only heads the tackle corps, but is being counted on to provide experienced leadership to rest of the young squad . . . He will have battle on his hands as he changes sides in the line from right to defensive left tackle, with opposition coming from sophomore Doyle King . . . Katz should do well, however, as he recognizes play action quickly and rushes better than a year ago . . . The strapping Pennsylvanian has the physical attributes needed for greatness although not the biggest of tackle hopefuls . . . Regular RT as a freshman in 1964 and won Freshman Leadership Award . . . Reputed to be one of Pennsylvania's finest schoolboy linemen in years when he became one of nation's prize recruiting catches . . . Played G-T at Philadelphia Roxborough High . . . All-State, Big 33 Game participant and winner of numerous awards—including outstanding high school gridder in Philadelphia . . . President of senior class and sang in acappella choir . . . Active in Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Considered one of better ends on the Kentucky frosh outfit that dropped only one of four games last season, Vic shifted at his own request this spring to inside linebacker . . . Adjusted so well that he may be No. 1 man at the position . . . His coaches say that King has terrific instinct for following the ball . . . Tall enough to see over the line and tough enough to do something about it . . . Vic's freshman pass receiving work in high school netted 17 catches . . . He was No. 2 receiver for the Kittens in his first collegiate season in 1966, recording seven catches in four games for 128 yards and pair of TD's . . . Long play was 41-yarder against Tennessee . . . Caught pair of TD passes to help keep UK in the game . . . His defensive play was one of highlights of win over Vandy Frosh . . . A highly-touted roving linebacker, Kujawski last season was one of the key operatives on the defensive platoon of the UK Frosh that allowed four opponents a season average of just 213.8 total yards a game . . . Dick played the difficult position extremely well, stopping foes' running attack and defending against short passes with equal effectiveness . . . Big moment of first collegiate campaign came in game with VPI Frosh . . . Made difficult interception, returned it five yards to set up a Kentucky touchdown . . . Smart and hard hitter who thrives on contact . . . Missed most of spring practice but counted on to be ready to help importantly at rover position.

Crittenden County HS Coach Bill Huff Major: History Letters: 2

Considered widely as one of the South's best offensive linemen, Little was selected this spring on the Advance All-SEC team by the Birmingham (Ala.) News and is due to be strong contender by season end for both conference and national honors . . . His coaches claim Dwight has as much ability as UK has ever had at quick tackle position and is only one step away from greatness . . . Coach Bradshaw feels that Little can be as good as he wants to be and needs only motivation to develop . . . The Crittenden County strongboy has good size and quickness needed on the job . . . Good hitter and he is coachable . . . Performance as a UK freshman in 1964 branded Little as "a real comer" . . . He was starting tackle on undefeated frosh unit, served an apprentice year as a soph in '65 and moved into regular duty at quick tackle in junior season (1966) . . . Played in every game . . . Outstanding as schoolboy end, tackle and fullback . . . Also annexed 10 letters at Crittenden County High in basketball, baseball and track . . . Dwight's aggressive tackling and overall hustle won him honor as Outstanding Lineman in 1964 East-West All-Star Game . . . Current UK teammate Terry Beadles won top back award in same game . . . Dwight's father, Ercel Little, played basketball at UK on the early teams of Coach Adolph Rupp.

St. Xavier HS Coach John Meihaus Major: Physical Education Letters: 1

One of the most versatile and dangerous backs in the country, Lyons does everything with and to a football . . . He makes a habit of figuring in every statistical department of the game . . . A solid bet for top conference and national recognition this season as he concentrates on offense . . . Due to operate at tailback after playing first half of 1966 campaign as a defensive back before switching to fullback in sixth game . . . Despite the varying duties, soph sensation Lyons paced the conference and stood second nationally in punt returning with 419 yards on 25 runbacks—a 16.8 average and only 24 yards behind the national leader . . . Finished third on team in rushing with 177 yards on 51 trips in five games . . . Led UK and was sixth in league in kickoff returns (16 for 267 yards) . . . His first varsity pass off FB option play covered 75 yards and set up winning TD against Vanderbilt . . . Punt returning was his chief forte and he cracked several records, including single game standard for long runback when he romped 97 yards for TD versus Houston (fourth longest in SEC history and longest in 14 years) . . . Had 74-yarder vs. Tennessee . . . Punted five times for 41.6 average and likely to handle this chore in '67 . . . Named to All-SEC Soph team and runner-up by revised count for "Sophomore of the Year" . . . Selectors, undecided where to place the versatile, two-way operator, accorded Lyons place on second team defense All-SEC . . . Pre-season polls this year pinpoint the Kentucky star as good material for All-Conference honors . . . Birmingham News poll named Lyons and picked him as second best runner in SEC this season . . . Operating chiefly as a tailback in freshman campaign, Lyons led in six statistical departments . . . Rushed 257 yards on 89 trips Won MVP trophy for work against Tennessee Frosh and selected on All-SEC Freshman team as defensive back . . . Coach Bradshaw says his ace may be best open field runner Kentucky has ever had and possibly is most versatile back in the league . . . Lyons gives his team the big play at least once a game . . . Personally recruited by Bradshaw (following valuable "groundwork" by aides) to win a heated battle with Notre Dame and numerous other major schools . . . Coached at Louisville St. Xavier High by ex-Wildcat Johnny Meihaus . . . Built glowing reputation that he has already lived up to at UK . . . Outstanding Back Kentucky's East-West game . . . Taft HS Coach Fred Garretson Major: Physical Education Letters: 0

Big, strong, fast and quick, Marty turned in a sparkling performance as Kentucky yearling in 1966 and is ticketed for extensive duty at linebacker this season as he begins varsity play . . . Operating at both strong guard on offense and LB on defense, New was considered one of the most talented members of the '66 Frosh . . . Playing only about a third of the time due to frequent substitution plan of Frosh Coach Duke Owen, the former schoolboy All-America led squad with 41 tackles, forced number of fumbles with hard hitting and intercepted two passes . . . At Hamilton Taft High, he saw action three seasons as linebacker and doubled at slot back in last half of his senior year . . . All-America, All-State and played in Ohio's North-South All-Star Game . . . Listed on the roster at 220 pounds but plans to trim that down to 205 or 210 by time season opens . . . Reported as freshman at 225, cut down to 218 this spring . . . Originally from Harlan, Ky . . . A brother, Cecil, is due to play with UK freshman this fall.

Thomas Jefferson HS Coach James Gray Major: Commerce Letters: 0

Touted as potentially one of Kentucky's best-ever corner backs, Northington has excellent speed, quick reactions and fine ability to intercept which allows him to play opposing man tighter . . . Also runs very effectively as attested by performances as a freshman last year and this spring . . . Yearling record as tailback and defensive safety saw Nat sprint to No. 2 position in rushing accumulations with 197 yards on 33 jaunts for a 6.0 yards per try average . . . Longest run 43 yards for TD against Va. Tech Frosh . . . Led in kickoff returns with 111 yards on six trips (18.5 average) . . . Brought one back 32 yards against Tennessee Frosh . . . Described as so fast and agile that he covers five yards in two strides, Nat had a tremendous spring practice . . . In consecutive scrimmages, he returned kickoffs 70 and 86 yards and ran back an interception 85 yards— all for touchdowns . . . Doesn't seem to run fast but darts through holes quickly . . . The slender Negro, who gives every indication of future stardom, is classed as having a fine temperament and easily coachable . . . Helped his high school team, Thomas Jefferson of Louisville, post 9-1 record in his senior season of 1965 and earned personal honor as All-State . . . Also named MVP (defense) on his team . . . Played in Kentucky's East-West All-Star Game.

A Horatio Alger type, Dick Palmer has run the gaunt from a "nobody" to a VIP . . . Two years back, he came out for the freshman team without an invitation or the benefit of scholarship aid; now he stands on the threshold of starting duty and potential stardom . . . Another improbability in Palmer's career is the route he traversed in coming to Kentucky . . . Born in Lexington, he once lived in Cleveland, Dallas, Chicago and Okinawa before returning home . . . Graduated from Kubasaki High on Okinawa where his father was a civilian employee of the U.S. Army . . . Both parents are UK grads . . . Proved himself early by winning starting job at defensive right tackle for the UK Frosh . . . Performed creditably but held out last year to gain more maturity . . . Scheduled this season to rank No. 1 at defensive right tackle and touted as potentially great in the tradition of UK All-Americans Bob Gain, Lou Michaels and Sam Ball . . . Very impressive in spring drills.

 Elkhorn City HS Coach Jack Hall Major: Commerce Letters: 1

Regular strong end for the Wildcats last season and the top returning pass receiver (6 catches for 53 yards), Potter is a key operative in Kentucky's plans for varied attack this fall . . . Due to hold down starting job again in '66 and his performance in spring practice lent much hope for strength at the vital strong end . . . Voted by coaches "Most Improved Offensive Player" in spring drills . . . Made excellent progress as blocker before suffering shoulder separation in final week of spring practice as he dove for a ball . . . He had first hurt shoulder in final (Tennessee) game of last season . . . As a Kentucky freshman end in 1965, Potter was considered one of top rookies in camp and saw most of his action on defense duty before switching over to offensive platoon . . . Also saw some activity in freshman season as a wingback—the position at which he gained All-State recognition while at Elkhorn City . . . Helped his high school team capture state Class A football title in 1964 . . . Played in East-West All-Star contest . . . Born Clincho, Va.

 Boyle County HS Coach Dennis Sexton Major: Education Letters: 0

Slated to be reserve wingback this season in his first shot at varsity duty, but may be a year away from reaching his full potential . . . Coaches believe Jay has good hands that will allow for improvement in his pass-catching ability and are confident his timing will come as he matures with experience . . . Looked promising as UK freshman last year . . . One of the top collegiate grid prospects ever developed at Boyle County High, he led Rebels to an undefeated (10-0) season . . . Named to third unit All-State team after setting several school records while playing five positions . . . Collects Civil War momentos as a hobby.

DON RICKETTS Soph. Def. End 6-4 205 18 (9/26/48) Louisville, Ky.
 Manual HS Coach Billy Mitchell Major: Physical Education Letters: 0

Operated as a kicking specialist for the UK Frosh last season and likely to see some duty in this capacity during his break-in varsity campaign . . . How much KO-FG-PAT work he handles may be decided by starting of another kicking specialist, David Weld . . . While latter has not kicked in collegiate game competition, Ricketts posted ledger as freshman last year with 12 of 15 extra point tries and a 34-yard field goal—only two yards shy of varsity record—against VPI Frosh . . . Connected on 40-yard boot in high school play . . . Coached at Manual High by ex-Wildcat Billy Mitchell . . . Born Harlan, Ky. . . Listed on roster as defensive end.

RONNIE ROBERTS Sr. Tackle 6-3 225 21 (12/26/45) Louisville, Ky.
 Manual HS Coach Tom Harper Major: Special Education Letters: 2

Roberts might qualify as a utility man if he were not in the running as a prospect for All-Conference honors at offensive tackle . . . His versatility in playing everywhere except in the offensive backfield should recommend him and prove helpful as he tries his hand at tackle duty for first time in collegiate career . . . Moved over to strong tackle on offensive platoon this spring after spending 1966 season as the Wildcats' regular linebacker . . . He had been pressed into service at this position in mid-season 1965 to shore up sagging defense . . . Prior to the move, Ronnie figured as relief man for Calvin Withrow at center . . . Saw very little action as Withrow did not seem to need relief . . . Made a center as UK freshman after schoolboy experience at guard, tackle, end and linebacker for Class AAA Louisville Manual . . . Coaches figure Roberts equally adept as offensive blocker or defensive linebacker . . . He has good size and quick reactions . . . Chosen on only third team All-State but has developed rapidly in college . . . Born in Beaver Dam, Ky., and hopes to play pro football or teach and coach.

SALOTTI

LEN RUSH Jr. Guard 6-2 225 20 (1/24/47) Hamilton, Ohio
Garfield HS Coach Lou Florio Major: Education Letters: 1

One of the team's most promising young interior linemen, Rush goes to the post this season with letterman experience at tackle and strong candidacy at guard . . . Len opened the first six games last season as strong tackle with offensive platoon . . . Moved in one spot this spring and now is top contender to be starter at strong guard . . . Strong blocker and much improved in speed, according to his coaches . . . Hits real well and needs only work to become A-1 lineman . . . Named on All-Conference Sophomore team for fine showing in 1966 . . . With the UK Kittens two years ago, Rush held down No. 2 assignment at offensive left tackle . . . During outstanding prep career at Hamilton (Ohio) Garfield High, Rush achieved mention on All-State team and a place on All-Greater-Ohio League eleven . . . Played for South in Ohio's North-South All-Star Game . . . Born London, Ky. . . Teammate Marty New also from Hamilton.

FRANK SALOTTI Soph. Def. Tackle 6-2 210 18 (1/3/49) Monessen, Pa.
Monessen HS Coach Joe Gladys Major: Pre-Med Letters: 0

Needs only time and experience to develop into a dependable, SEC-type lineman and the know-how should come this season as he works as backup man at defensive tackle . . . Already possesses necessary tools of natural ability and size . . . Should reach his full potential this year if situations allow . . . Will be brought along carefully . . . impressive in scrimmages against varsity . . . Excellent student preparing himself for medical school and career as a doctor . . . Hobbies include weight lifting and piano playing . . . One of 17 Wildcats from Keystone State, Salotti played both offense and defense at tackle in high school . . . Wears contact lenses . . . Family background Italian . . . Father deceased.

CARY SHAHID (Shay-hid) Soph. LB 5-10 190 19 (7/28/48) Ft. Walton Beach, Fla.
Choctawhatchee HS Coach Wyman Townsel Major: History Letters: 0

Comes up to varsity with reputation of being hardest hitter, pound for pound, on last year's freshman contingent . . . Toughness will be needed this season to offset size he is likely to face from his linebacker location . . . Operated at guard and tackle in yearling campaign . . . Team leader in fumble recoveries with four in four games . . . Against Virginia Tech Frosh, Shahid threw the opposing quarterback for a 14-yard loss and stole the ball in the process to set up a Kentucky score . . . His other three recoveries helped demoralize Vanderbilt's Frosh . . . Besides Choctawhatchee, Shahid won football letters at St. Leo's in Tampa, Fla., and Holy Cross in New Orleans . . . Born Birmingham, Ala.

DAVE SULLIVAN Soph. LB 5-11 185 19 (5/13/48) Lexington, Ky.
Lafayette HS Coach Eddie Sellier Major: Commerce Letters: 0

One of the hardest and most willing workers on the '67 varsity, Dave makes up in hustling determination what he lacks in sheer size . . . Played only sparingly last fall, but still counted as very much in the picture for important linebacker duty . . . Counted on by his coaches to improve markedly this year as he picks up experience and gains more maturity . . . Hampered to some degree by illness and missed out on indoor conditioning program last winter . . . Did well in spring drills and Blue-White Game . . . Son of famed Lexington sportscaster, Claude Sullivan . . . Coaches feel sure that hometown boy will make good contribution before winds up career.

PHIL THOMPSON Soph. End 6-2 185 19 (8/3/48) Louisville, Ky.
Seneca HS Coach Ron Cain Major: History Letters: 0

Coach Bradshaw likes to sum up Thompson this way: "He doesn't hear footsteps . . . He'll give you the big catch—more often than not at the time you need it the most" . . . Great concentration plus speed, agility, quickness and presence of mind make the former Louisville Seneca star a leading candidate at quick end . . . Phil is getting better all the time . . . Blossomed into fine receiver this spring after somewhat mediocre (4 for 36) record as a rookie in '66 freshman season . . . Leading receiver (4 for 15) in losing cause in Blue-White Game . . . Suffered shoulder separation in motorcycle accident during summer of 1966 and did not don pads until couple weeks before first game . . . Made great strides since to be compared with Wildcat end greats of past—Tom Hutchinson, Steve Meilinger, Howard Schnelberger and Rick Kestner . . . Former schoolboy All-America rates as one of top receivers in Kentucky high school history from record-beating days at Seneca . . . Stood out in AAA championship game two years ago by leading his team from behind with three-key pass catches and drawing an interference call . . . All told, his performance accounted for all but final four yards in drive that allowed Seneca to claim first state grid title . . . Won choice as consensus All-State end in '65 along with UK teammate Greg Page of Middlesboro . . . Brother, Gordon, played football at UK five years ago and father, Roger, at Centre in 1933.

SCOTT VALENTINE Soph. Tackle 6-0 210 20 (3/19/47) Fairfax, Va.
Fairfax HS Coach Richard Claypool Major: Pre-Med Letters: 0

Valentine has not zeroed in on regular duty as yet, but nobody is about to make the mistake of "selling him short" . . . He has ambition and all the needed physical qualifications to be good player . . . Added year's experience he picked up as '66 redshirt should bring his talent into useful focus this season . . . Scheduled to work as back-up man at quick tackle on offensive platoon . . . As an outstanding prepster at Fairfax (Va.) High, Scott was named first string All-State as a junior . . . Co-Captain of his team in 1963 and '64 . . . Top choice All-Metropolitan and All-Northern Virginia . . . A top student, Valentine was his school's most valuable student, cabinet officer in student government and president of Baptist youth group . . . Planning to enter medical school after graduation from UK.

DOUG VAN METER Sr. Def. End 6-0 200 21 (12/25/45) Owensboro, Ky.
Catholic HS Coach Don Netoskie Major: Commerce Letters: 2

Although he was born on Christmas Day, Doug Van Meter usually is not in accord with the holiday spirit of giving—unless it is a hard time to opposing ball carriers trying to go around his end of the line . . . Forms one half of what could be toughest defensive end combination in the SEC this season (other half—Jeff Van Note) . . . An indication of his toughness in the eyes of his coaches is given by his selection by coaches as the Wildcats' "Most Improved Defensive Player" in spring practice this year . . . He operated as team's regular defensive left end as junior in 1966, but may switch over to right side in final campaign . . . Comparatively small in stature as defensive flankmen go but makes up for this "deficiency" with extra hustle, ability and mental attitude . . . Had fine break-in year with varsity two seasons back . . . One of best performances came against Florida State when he hit FSU quarterback Ed Pritchett so hard he caused a fumble that UK recovered at FSU 12 . . . Impressive as two-way end in '64 freshman season . . . Played QB and end at Owensboro Catholic High . . . Family lived in Texas and Florida before settling in western Kentucky.

JEFF VAN NOTE Jr. Def. End 6-1 210 21 (2/7/46) Anchorage, Ky.
St. Joe Prep (Bardstow, Ky.) Coach Dick Blocker Major: History Letters: 1

Considered by his coaches as perhaps the finest defensive end in the nation, Van Note posted his credentials for all to see last season as a sophomore . . . This year, he vows to surpass the standard of play that won him All-SEC Sophomore team selection and second team, defense, All-Conference . . . He's the biggest end on the roster and matches size with superb ability that is already being recognized—the Birmingham (Ala.) News poll chose Jeff on the pre-season alternate team, defense . . . Sure to be strong candidate for personal honors if he turns in the sterling job for his team that he has done as a freshman in 1964, as a redshirt in '65 and during his first varsity season a year ago . . . Worked at fullback as a freshman and defensive right end last season . . . Due to switch with Doug Van Meter and play on left flank this year . . . Voted outstanding lineman in Blue-White Game this spring . . . Ranked as team's top ground gainer in only try at offense (freshman fullback) with terrific 5.9 rushing average for 329 yards on 55 trips in undefeated, four-game season . . . Played all backfield positions at St. Joe Prep . . . All-Conference in three sports (football, baseball and basketball) and league's MVP each activity . . . Honorable mention All-State in football . . . Coached by former UK center Dick Blocker . . . Born in Hackensack, N. J., and lived in Michigan and Illinois before Kentucky . . . Van Note has ambition to go on to Law School.

DAVE WELD Jr. KS 5-9 165 23 (5/6/44) Malvern, Pa.
Great Valley HS Coach A' Como Major: Commerce Letters: 0

Came to Kentucky in 1966 as transfer from Hardin-Simmons, where he spent one year on a basketball scholarship . . . Layed out required year and now eligible for varsity play . . . Most likely to be used as palce-kicking specialist—the duty he performed impressively this spring after coming out for team on his own . . . In high school at Conestoga and Great Valley, Weld played left halfback and defensive middle guard . . . Won notice as honorable mention on All-Philadelphia team . . . Hobby is scuba diving . . . Born Tulsa, Oklahoma.

TOM WINDSOR Soph. Def. Back 6-1 195 20 (1/2/47) Silver Spring, Md.
Montgomery Blair HS Coach Vince Puglesie Major: Physical Education Letters: 0

Brother of graduated WB-TB Bob Windsor, who was leading ground gainer for varsity last season, Tom enters 1967 season as leading candidate for duty at safety . . . Last season as a freshman, Tom was an outstanding running back . . . Operating mostly at tailback, he gained 53 yards on 12 carries for a 4.4 average . . . Long run went 21 yards against Virginia Tech Frosh . . . Intercepted pass on Cincinnati Frosh to turn tide to Kentucky victory . . . Came to UK with impressive credentials of All-Metro and honorable mention All-America for play at Montgomery Blair High school in Silver Spring, Md . . . Broke all school rushing records, including single game mark toppled by his 284 yards . . . Played FB-QB-End and Guard . . . Three sport star also had six interceptions in one game.

LOUIS WOLF Jr. Guard 5-11 190 20 (2/8/47) Louisville, Ky.
 St. Xavier HS Coach John Meihaus Major: Commerce Letters: 1

Part-time starter at offensive guard last season, Wolf gained an inside track on regular duty at quick guard this year on basis of fine showing in spring practice . . . Could provide vital help at one of problem spots . . . The sizeable youth turned in creditable job at offensive guard and looked good as linebacker on defense in 1965 freshman campaign . . . Had outstanding career as schoolboy guard and tackle under ex-Wildcat John Meihaus at Louisville St. Xavier High—helping Tigers win state AAA championship in 1962 and earning All-State honor . . . Served as president of freshman football house first year at UK.

KENNY WOOD Jr. LB 6-1 195 20 (11/21/46) Montgomery, Ala.
 Robert E. Lee HS Coach Tom Jones Major: Commerce Letters: 0

Slow recovery from a knee operation caused this promising youngster to miss most of his sophomore campaign last season, but he came back strong this spring . . . Could develop into an outstanding linebacker as he matures and picks up game situation experience in 1967 . . . He is termed a "blue chip" athlete who impresses with hustle and determination . . . Looked good as linebacker in freshman season of 1965 . . . Hails from same hometown in Alabama (Montgomery) as Coach Bradshaw, but attended Robert E. Lee High while his coach graduated from Sidney Lanier High . . . Wood helped his schoolboy team to win Alabama championship in both 1963 and 1964, captained team and won All-State honors in '64 . . . Played in Alabama All-Star Game. (LATE NOTE: Shifted to offensive guard.)

MARTY YERDON Soph. Guard 6-1 215 20 (9/5/46) Troy, N. Y.
 Bordentown MA Coach Jay Luisi Major: Art Letters: 0

Much hope for vital help at guard (one of the predicted weak spots of the '67 Wildcats) rests on the broad shoulders of this highly-touted young man—a prep All-America selection in his final schoolboy year at Bordentown (N.J.) Military Institute and an All-SEC Freshman first team choice at UK in '66 . . . Played on both offense and defense as collegiate yearling and was equally outstanding either way . . . Probably will concentrate on offense this season as quick guard candidate . . . Quiet, determined perfectionist who works hard, hits hard and stands out as a leader . . . Chosen as one of Kittens' season co-captains following team's successful, 3-1 season . . . Served as secretary of Kitten Lodge (frosh football house) . . . Plans career in some form of art.

ditional knowledge and improving techniques . . . The husky young Buckeye has necessary physical equipment for any duty assigned him and to become top-flight collegiate lineman . . . Started as an offensive guard candidate as a UK freshman in 1965 . . . Posted stellar schoolboy career at Valley Forge High in Parma, Ohio—Dream Team, All-Scholastic, All-Lake Erie League . . . Played in Ohio North-South Game . . . Born in Cleveland. (LATE NOTE: Due to be tried at nose guard.)

JOHN ZELES Jr. End 6-2 190 21 (9/3/46) Phoenixville, Pa.
Phoenixville HS Coach Paul Tomko Major: History Letters: 0

A bout with mononucleosis shortly before the season opened last year set Zeles back in his development and cost him an opportunity for regular duty in 1966 . . . John saw some action, but not enough to letter . . . Did not get into a game in first varsity season two years back . . . Only statistics to date came from frosh activity that recorded one pass catch for 17 yards . . . Zeles came to UK with excellent schoolboy experience at Phoenixville, where his pass catching (27 for 650 yards) aided his team in posting 11-0 record in 1963 and copping state championship . . . Born in Germany . . . Latvian extraction.

Vito (Babe) Parilli holds the Kentucky career football record of 4,446 yards for 36 games in the 1949, '50 and '51 seasons. Rick Norton is credited with the most offensive plays—812 in 30 games from 1963-65.

Jim Poynter, assistant football coach at the University of Kentucky, was a member of the Chattanooga Times' All-America blocking team in 1960.

Kentucky's two recipients of the Birmingham Quarterback Club's award for Most Valuable Player in the Southeastern Conference were tackles. Bob Gain won the honor in 1949, Lou Michaels in 1956. Gain and fellow tackle Walt Yowarski also earned positions on the all-time Sugar Bowl team for their performance in a 13-7 Wildcat victory over Oklahoma in the 1951 renewal of the classic.

Jim Park of Lexington scored five touchdowns and passed for five more as Kentucky beat Earlham 81-3 in 1914. Babe Parilli passed for five touchdowns on two different occasions in 1950 and Bob Davis scored five times twice in his career, once in 1936 and once in 1937, but no player has beat Park's record of doing both in the same game.

Indiana was one of only three foes faced by the University of Kentucky football team in 1918. The Wildcats beat the Hoosiers, 24-7, in the season opener at Lexington, lost to Vanderbilt, 0-33, and defeated Georgetown, 21-3, before cancelling the remainder of the schedule because of a big flu epidemic in the World War I year.

Kentucky and Virginia Tech football staffs have a close "kinship." Tech Athletic Director Frank O. Moseley was an assistant at UK from 1947-51; head coach Jerry D. Claiborne played and served as an assistant at UK and assistant Joe Moss also spent a year on the UK staff. Kentucky assistants Doug Shively and Bill Conde both served as assistants at Tech.

When Kentucky met West Virginia in Lexington in 1965, it was the first time since 1955 that the homecoming opponent had not been a Southeastern Conference member. Kentucky beat Rice 20-16 in that year's homecoming game and downed the Mountaineers, 28-8. Independent Houston embarrassed UK, 56-18, last year and West Virginia is this season's Homecoming foe.

Kentucky's Larry Seiple punted 35 times for a 42.1-yard average in 1964 to rank sixth in the nation as a sophomore. However, he was ranked only third in the Southeastern Conference behind Frank Lambert of Ole Miss, who led the nation with a 44.1 average, and Alabama's Buddy French, 42.9. Seiple kicked two 63-yarders during the season and had a 66-yard punt in 1965 when he averaged 39.8 for seventh place among the punters.

Kentucky's football coach in 1892, Prof. A. M. Miller, was chosen because he had learned about the game from sideline observations while a student at Princeton; his only previous coaching experience was at a girls' school in Pennsylvania. His record for the year at Kentucky was 2-4-1.

TOTAL 685 GAMES (120 Opponents)			371	275	39

* Record includes four games (2-2) with Mississippi A & M, which later became known as Mississippi State.

 Record includes 19 games (13-5-1) with Kentucky University, which became known as Transylvania in 1909.

* * * *

When Kentucky beat West Virginia 28-8 in the 1965 Homecoming game, it was the 16th time in 18 years the Wildcats had won their Homecoming contest. The only losses in that period were to Tennessee (26-16) in 1961 and Georgia (17-14) in 1963.

* * * *

When Kentucky finished in a three-way tie for second place in Southeastern Conference in 1964 is marked the first time since 1953 that the Wildcats had finished that high. Kentucky jumped from 11th place in 1963.

* * * *

Kentucky junior end Al Phaneuf of Montreal, Quebec, is the first Canadian ever signed to a Kentucky football grant-in-aid. He led the freshman team in receiving in 1964 with eight catches in four games for 144 yards and one TD, was held out of action in 1965, then became a starting defensive half-back last season.

(Kentucky University is not to be confused with the present day University of Kentucky. U. of K., known in these early days as A&M College, was separated from K.U. in 1878. Transylvania College of Lexington evolved from old K.U. while A&M became Univ. of Ky. During the process, U. of K. carried successive titles of A&M College, Kentucky State College, and State University of Kentucky. See footnote A for explanation of scoring in early games.)

Footnote A — Although numerical scoring had not yet been introduced in Rugby football, either here or in Great Britain, when Kentucky and Transylvania (then known as Kentucky University) played their series in 1881, persons in charge of the games obviously had arrived at some sort of agreement assigning numerical values to the various scoring plays. Records never existed and men who played in the games are now deceased. All we can do is accept the scores printed in the newspapers—and surmise that a touchdown perhaps counted $\frac{1}{4}$ point and that a goal or an end-kick (a punt into the modern end zone) counted 1. That seems logical, since in the ratio scoring of that day, a touchdown was worth one-quarter of a goal. The end-kick, a British heritage, undoubtedly was introduced because all realized that green players would score few goals, if any.

Footnote B — The football rules took no official position on the score of a forfeited game until 1908 when it was pegged at 1-0 to make it different from any other score possible in the game. By common consent, forfeited games prior to that were entered into the records as victories by 6-0 for the offended team—everywhere, that is, except in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, predecessor of the Southern Conference and the Southeastern Conference. In the S. I. A. A. the 6-0 practice was followed unless the offended team had a greater number of points. In that case, the offended team won by the greater score to nothing. Thus, Kentucky's forfeiture to Central University in 1900 is 6-0, since Kentucky led by 11-0 at the time. Kentucky led Cumberland by 12-11 in 1905 when the Tennesseans forfeited. The Blue and White, under S. I. A. A. rules, gets credit for a 12-0 victory.

University of Kentucky and its veteran Director of Sports Information, Ken Kuhn, were honored by the Football Writers Association of America for publishing the best football brochure in the United States for 1965. The certificate shown above was presented to Mr. Kuhn at the summer meeting of the organization in Chicago. The U.S. Basketball Writers made it a rare double honor by citing Kuhn's 1965-66 basketball brochure for the top national award.
