The Honorable John Y. Brown, Jr. Governor of Kentucky

John Y. Brown, Jr., became the 51st governor of Kentucky on December 11, 1979.

Born on December 28, 1933, Governor Brown graduated from Lafayette High School in his hometown, Lexington, and obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Kentucky in 1957. He graduated from the UK College of Law three years later.

The Governor served in the U.S. Army Reserve from 1959 to 1965.

He has been named the Outstanding Young Man of America by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce (1965), as one of the outstanding Civic Leaders of America (1967) and Louisville's Outstanding Variation (1967). standing Young Man by the same group. Lions Club International gave him an Outstanding American Award (1974) and he is the youngest person to be named to the University of Kentucky's Hall of Fame. This past summer, Gov. Brown was elected vice chairman of the Democratic Governors Conference and states' co-chairman of the Appalachian Regional Commission.

He has three children by a previous marriage, John Y. Brown, III (18), Eleanor (16) and Sandra (15). He married Phyllis George on March 17, 1979 and they recently added a fourth child to the family, Lincoln George Tyler Brown, born in June, 1980.

Ashland Oil has an infinite source of energy-

the creative minds of our research scientists and engineers.

Instead of searching around the world for new sources of crude oil, Ashland Oil is developing alternative sources of energy in the laboratory. For example:

More gasoline from crude oil. Ashland Oil's new Reduced Crude Conversion (RCC) process makes it possible to get 24 percent more gasoline out of every barrel of crude oil we refine. This means that Ashland will be able to produce the same amount of gasoline we're producing now, using fewer barrels of expensive crude oil

And if the RCC process is adopted by other oil companies, America could substantially decrease its dependence on foreign crude oil.

Crude oil from coal. America has enough coal to take us well into the 22nd century. At Ashland Oil, we're experimenting with coal liquefaction, the process which turns coal into synthetic crude oil. This new synthetic crude oil can be refined into gasoline and other petroleum products.

We now plan to build a major facility in Breckinridge County, Kentucky, to produce oil from coal commercially.

Both our RCC and coal liquefaction projects are under way at our refinery in Catlettsburg, Kentucky.

Gasohol from corn. Ashland will soon be able to meet 12 percent of America's goal for ethanol production from its coal-fired South Point, Ohio, ethanol plant.

By converting corn into ethanol (ethyl alcohol) and adding ethanol to gasoline, we'll be producing gasohol—a third important ingredient in America's formula for decreasing energy dependence.

At Ashland Oil, we're depending on one of America's greatest natural resources – new technology from our innovative research team.

Administration

OTIS A. SINGLETARY University President

The University of Kentucky has become one of the major institutions of higher learning in the United States under the leadership of Dr. Otis Singletary, the eighth president of the University. His tenure has been marked by rapid growth and a commitment to excellence.

"The University, with all its problems, is still the single most important institution in the state," Dr. Singletary has said. "Its network of influence is felt throughout the state, not just in the instruction of the state's young people but in the great pattern of research, the things we are doing to improve the quality of human life and the wide range of services we are providing throughout the state.

"Contrary to popular opinion, our institutions of higher education are not operated exclusively for students, or for faculty members, or for administrators, or for trustees — or, for that matter, for all of these. Historically speaking, universities have been created and supported by our society to perform important functions for the common good of society. This is the larger meaning of the term, 'the public interest,' as it applies to institutions of higher education."

Before being named UK president in 1969, Dr. Singletary served as executive vice chancellor for academic affairs in the University of Texas system and as director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The Gulfport, Miss., native holds degrees from Millsaps College and Louisiana State University. He is a nationally recognized history scholar and is the author of two books and several monographs.

In the 12 years he has been president, the University has grown to where there are now more than 23,000 students on the Lexington campus and more than 19,000 students in UK's 13 community colleges. UK has gained an international reputation in such diverse fields as medicine, business, engineering, law and agriculture. The University also is noted for its research in the fields of energy, to bacco and cancer. The Sanders-Brown Research Center on Aging is one of the first facilities of its kind.

The UK Alumni Association has recognized Dr. Singletary's special service by presenting him its Alumni Service Award. It is an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

Dr. Singletary is in the second year of his two-year term as president of the Southeastern Conference. As University President, he serves as chairman of the board of directors of the UK Athletic Association, the body which maintains overall policy supervision of the athletic program.

A Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, he is commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He and Mrs. Singletary, the former Gloria Walton, have three children: Bonnie, Scot and Kendall.

The Singletarys live at Maxwell Place, traditional home of UK presidents.

Athletics Director

CLIFFORD O. HAGAN Director

The story of Cliff Hagan's reign as chief of the UK Athletics Department has been one of fine attendance at the two big revenue-producing sports, increased attendance in Lady Kat basketball and men's baseball, and a steady upgrading of facilities.

The University will be host to the SEC Basketball Tournament in March of next year and the NCAA Championship Finals in 1985. The UK Relays were renewed this past spring.

Hagan, who has seen and overseen vast improvements in all phases of the UK athletics program since returning to his alma mater as assistant athletics director in 1972, has under his command a total of 20 sports ranging from football and men's basketball in Level I, to women's basketball in Level II, and a baker's dozen sports in Level

He was named in 1972, assistant to Harry C. Lancaster and given the task of implementing the Blue & White Fund for 57,600-seat Commonwealth Stadium and later for Rupp Arena. Hagan replaced Lancaster as athletics director in July, 1975.

Hagan received one of his highest individual honors three years ago when he became the first University of Kentucky basketball player to be installed in the Naismith Memorial National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. At UK, he played on teams that won 86 of 91 games and an NCAA championship (1951). He went on to star in the NBA with the St. Louis Hawks and in the ABA with the Dallas Chapparals as playercoach.

He received his M.S. in education from Washington University in 1958.

Head Coach

Fran Curci Enters Ninth Season At Kentucky Helm

With his second good recruiting crop in a row, Fran Curci enters his ninth year as University of Kentucky football coach with hopes of returning the Wildcats to their fine back-to-back seasons of 1976, when they finished 8-4 and were Southeastern Conference co-champion and Peach Bowl champion, and 1977, when they finished 10-1 and were undefeated in conference play.

Curci's victory total at UK now stands at 44 (44-43-2), second only to the 60 victories registered by Paul Bryant (60-23-3, 1946-53) and ahead of the 41 by Blanton Collier (41-36-3, 1954-61).

Youthfulness, inexperience and injuries took their toll of the Wildcats last year, when four games were lost in the closing seconds, including two with no time left on the clock, en route to a 3-8 record.

During his tenure at UK, Curci has been named SEC "Coach of the Year" by both wire services—UPI in 1973 and AP in 1977—and has finished high in the national balloting (1977).

He has produced four All-Americans and three Academic All-Americans at UK, which did not have an All-American of any type during the nine years before he came to Lexington. He also has produced 10 All-SEC players named 15 times to the honor squads.

Curci came to UK from the University of Miami, FL, where he was head coach two years. He started his career as freshman coach there in 1962 after earning All-American honors as a quarterback for the Hurricanes in 1959 and playing QB for the old Dallas Texans in the AFL.

Curci went to Tampa as head coach in 1968, putting together a 7-3 season that included victories over Mississippi State and Tulane and earned him the Florida Sports Writers Association's "Coach of the Year" award, a recognition repeated in 1970.

His 1969 team finished 8-2, while his 10-1 record in 1970 included a 31-14 triumph over Miami and brought the Tampans the nation's No. 1 College Division ranking. Curci was runner-up for the College Division "Coach of the Year" honors.

He coached the Hurricanes in 1971 and 1972.

A native of Pittsburgh, PA, Curci played his high school football in Miami, where he lettered three years as a quarterback at Archbishop Curley High and was All-City, All-Conference, Catholic All-State and his team's Most Valuable Player.

At Miami, where he was known as the "Mite-y Magician," he parlayed intelligence and desire to become All-America as a senior in 1959 after receiving All-America honorable mention in 1957.

He set Hurricane seasonal and career marks for total offense, most passes thrown, most passes completed and most yards gained passing. He was co-holder of the record for most passes thrown.

He rolled up 2,767 yards rushing and passing during his varsity career, breaking a total offense record that had stood for more than two decades. He captained the Hurricanes his senior year and climaxed his career by engineering a stunning upset of Michigan State.

After graduation in 1960 with a degree in marketing, he played one year for the Texans and then served as a lieutenant in the Army, coaching and playing football for the Fort Eustis team, which won the National Service championship in the Missile Bowl.

Curci has been selected seven times to coach in all-star games. He assisted Bear Bryant with the South team in Tampa's first annual American Bowl game five years ago, then served as South head coach the next year. He helped Charlie McClendon of LSU and Alex Agase of Northwestern direct the East in the Coaches All-America game and has also appeared at the North-South Game, Japan Bowl, East-West Game and Hula Bowl.

He was elected to the Miami Sports Hall of Fame in 1980.

Kentucky Kickoff Spotlights:

Charlie Bailey

The one bright spot in a dismal season for the Kentucky Wildcats has been the play of a defense that has seen much too much field time.

Much of the credit for molding this courageous group of young players must go to Assistant Head Coach Charlie Bailey. Coach Bailey saw his charges open the season without the defensive signal caller and leader Scott Schroeder whose knee operation put him out for the season. Tackles Jeff Smith and Keith Martin are only sophomores and neither had much playing time last year.

Coach Bailey came to Kentucky in 1975 and took over as Fran Curci's defensive coordinator. The 1976 Wildcats went 8-4 and featured a tenacious defense anchored by Richard Jaffe. That squad won the Peach Bowl. The following year the Cats were 10-1.

Before coming to the Bluegrass, Coach Bailey spent three years at Rice as defensive coordinator and assistant head coach. The Poca, W. Va., native played both offensive and defensive end at the University of Tampa where he lettered four years. Among the honors he earned were being named outstanding lineman and team captain

After graduating from Tampa in 1962, he coached one year each at Poca High and Brandon (Fla.) High before returning to Tampa as an assistant from 1964 to 1970. With Head Coach Curci at Tampa, the team enjoyed great success (the 1970 team was ranked No. 1 in the College Division). Coach Bailey was Curci's defensive coordinator one year at the University of Miami before moving to Rice.

He is married to the former Barbara Foster of Huntsville. They have one daughter, Kim. Ivy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Ivy of Huntsville.

A native of Scranton, Pa., Ham came to the University in 1969 as administrative assistant to football coach John Ray, and was reassigned to the athletic director's staff in 1972.

Ham graduated from high school at Niles, Michigan and completed his undergraduate work at Olivet College. He did graduate work at Indiana University and coached high school football and track at John Adams High in South Bend. He then returned to Olivet as athletic director and head football and basketball coach.

In 1962, he became assistant to the president at Olivet, with responsibilities in public and alumni relations. He was in private business from 1956 until 1968.

Defense Receives Good Marks

By Marc S. Kidd

This afternoon marks the end of a long and tough season for Kentucky. It has been an educational experience, far tougher than any mid-term or final for the young, inexperienced Wildcats.

With the exception of the VPI and Florida games, the play of the defense has been exceptional, keeping Kentucky close in each contest. Assistant Head Coach Charlie Bailey explains: "At the beginning of the season, we were unsure on some particular people, but so far some of the guys have played better than we anticipated."

The season started with the defense counting on Scott Schroeder, who led the team with 82 solo tackles and 62 assists last year, and senior defensive back, Venus Meaux. However, Schroeder injured his knee before the season started and Meaux went down a few weeks later.

Kentucky was forced to move some people around early in the season to compensate for injuries. Playing the 5-2 or Oklahoma defensive scheme places a large burden on the noseguard. He's the guy that makes the defense go. Effley Brooks has been hurt but still is the fourth or fifth leading tackler on the team, according to Bailey. Brooks was injured in the Clemson game and has not been at full speed since.

Looking at the UK defense, it breaks down as follows: the defensive ends have been Don Roe, Don Fielder and David Lyons. "These three guys have basically played all year," Bailey continued. "Fielder is big and strong and has played great at times." Roe and Lyons have alternated at the other spot.

The defensive tackles have been manned by two sophomores, Keith Martin and Jeff Smith with James Bowen seeing some action. Coach Bailey feels that Martin has done an outstanding job. The ends are coached by Bill Glaser, a native Kentuckian, who has done a super job.

John McVeigh has been filling in for Effley Brooks at the noseguard spot. And he has played hard, but keep in mind that McVeigh weighs 205 pounds and has had to play people twenty to thirty pounds heavier.

Moving to the linebackers, Kentucky has played only two people,

Kentucky's 5-2 defense reacts against Clemson

Linebacker Kevin McClellend

Kevin McClelland and John Grimsley. "I think John Grimsley has done an outstanding job all year" stated Bailey. "Kevin has not been as consistent as he can be. We're very young at linebacker but we have a chance to be very good in the future."

The defense has been most consistant in the secondary. According to Bailey, "When you start talking about the secondary the guy you gotta talk about is Andy Molls." Molls is a 5-10, 186 pound Junior who missed three games last year as a result of a broken foot. "Andy's a hitter and he really enjoys the game of football."

Greg Long has also been a strong performer in the Kentucky secondary along with Kerry Baird who may be the best all-around athlete. Rounding out the defensive backfield is Tom Petty who Bailey feels is a kid with a lotta guts.

The special teams are made up of defensive players for the most part and the coordinator is Coach Glaser. Glaser said punt returns have been a pleasant surprise. "This year we have been very fortunate to have Andy Molls to return punts for us," Glaser continued. "Andy doesn't have 4.6 or 4.5 speed in the forty, but you put the pads on and with his quickness he plays much faster than he is.

"Our punting has been solid and our extra points and field goals have also been very good. We spend a great deal of time on our special teams during the season and before the season starts, we practiced three times a day with one of those strictly for the kicking game.

Kentucky's defensive has gained valuable experience this season, some players having played as much as 100 plays in a game. The tests will be completed this afternoon and when the grades are posted, you'll find the defense has passed.

THE ESCAPE HATCH

Escape to where you long to be.

Here's the kind of engineering designed to take you miles away from the middle of the road. The 1982 Cavalier Hatchback. A brand-new car that owes its creation to innovation. Not imitation.

Escape with the goods.

Reclining front seats, power brakes, side and rear window defoggers and a remote hatch release (quite a remote feature on ordinary hatchbacks) combine with 38 other standard features to make the '82 Cavalier the most complete new car we've ever introduced.

On the technical side, innovations in front-wheel drive, aerodynamic design and operating efficiency help add up to 43 Est. Highway/ 26 EPA Est. MPG.* And engine buffs will be interested to know Cavalier's standard 1.8 Liter, 4-cylinder engine actually delivers more horsepower per liter than some highly regarded V8s.

Plan your escape now.

Your Chevy dealer can help put your escape plan in motion, starting with a test drive. Get inside. Drive it around the block. Then all that's left to do is to decide whether you want to buy or lease a new 1982 Cavalier. Whichever you choose, one thing's for sure:

You won't have any trouble at all adjusting to your new freedom.

*Use estimated MPG for comparisons. Your mileage may differ depending on speed, distance, weather. Actual highway mileage lower. Chevrolets are equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.

The simple pleasures of driving a Honda Prelude. Starting from the top.

We think you'll agree, it's a real pleasure to look at.

But our sportiest Honda also sports the kind of features that make it a thrill to drive.

THE POWER-OPERATED MOONROOF. FOR OPENERS, IT'S STANDARD.

At the push of a button, the tinted-glass moonroof slides back. At the same time, an automatic deflector helps keep the wind out.

When you're behind the wheel, you'll be pleased at what you see in front of it. This year, the instrument panel houses a separate tachometer and speedometer, a quartz digital clock, a maintenance reminder and an electronic warning system.

Of course, the Prelude is just as much of a pleasure to sit in.

Its luxurious interior features comfortable bucket seats and adjustable headrests.

SOME SIMPLE ENGINEERING FACTS.

Our sportiest car has frontwheel drive, four-wheel independent suspension, rack and pinion steering and a responsive 1751cc CVCC® engine. The fact is, the Honda Prelude is designed to give you years of good performance.

POWER STEERING COMES AUTOMATICALLY WITH THE AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION.

The 5-speed stick shift is standard. But with the optional automatic 3-speed, you also get variable-assist power steering.

And after you've weighed all your options, we hope you drive off in the Honda Prelude.

HONDA

We make it simple.

Vol Outlook

Tennessee Is 6-3 and looking for bowl bid

Coach Johnny Majors' Volunteers started the year with back to back losses to Georgia 44-0 and Southern California 43-3. After a disappointing start the Vols bounced back to post three straight victories against Colorado State, Auburn and Georgia Tech before losing to Alabama in Birmingham. Last week the Vols upped their record to 6-3 with a victory over Ole Miss. Willie Gault broke a school record for return yardage and he was a thorn in the Wildcats' side last year.

Scouts from the Hall of Fame, Tangerine, Peach and Independence Bowls are taking a long look at the Volunteers.

The offense is anchored by All-SEC center Lee North who has good size and quickness. Fullback Doug Furnas has been the most consistent performer in the Vols backfield which has had problems at quarterback forcing Coach Majors to alternate between seniors Steve Alatorre and Jeff Olszewski. Alatorre will probably start this afternoon against the Wildcats. Kentucky's secondary will have their paws full stopping the UT receivers. Possessing World Class sprinter speed, Willie Gault, Anthony Hancock and Mike Miller give the Vols the ability to break the big play from anywhere on the field. Hancock is on his way to becoming Tennessee's all-time leading receiver and is also a threat to run the ball, averaging 12.1 yards a carry.

Tennessee's defense is led by Reggie White and Bill Bates who leads the team in interceptions with four. The Vols play a 5-2 or Oklahoma defense which is the same as the Cats. The defense is young but has played well the latter part of the season.

The Volunteer kicking game may well be the strongest part of the Tennessee attack. Punter Jimmy Colquitt is averaging 44.2 yards a punt with his longest being 62 yards. He is the nephew of Craig Colquitt who punts for the Pittsburgh Steelers. The field goal duties are handled by freshman Fuad Reveiz who is the team's leading scorer with 30 points.

Anthony Hancock

This afternoon's Kentucky-Tennessee game marks the 75th renewal of one of the oldest gridiron rivalries in the nation.

The rivalry dates back to Oct. 21, 1893 when the Cats whomped the Vols 56-0 in Knoxville. Since 1901, the teams have played every year except for 1917-18 and 1943.

Tennessee holds a 45-21-9 edge in the battle for the beer barrel. The Wildcats pretty much held their own in the early games of the series but the tide began to turn against the Cats after the 1925 season. The best the Cats could manage were two ties in the next nine games after that. After UK won 27-0 in 1935, the Volunteers strung together 12 straight victories, battled to a 0-0 tie, and then won three more and tied one before Kentucky also won three in a row in 1957-58-59.

Tennessee has practically owned Kentucky since. The Vols won 13 of the next 15 before Kentucky won in 1976 and 1977. Tennessee has won the three games since.

Last year at Neyland Stadium before 90,000 fans, Tennessee found the offensive punch they had lacked all season. The impressive 45-14 Vol win snapped a four-game losing streak.

Kentucky made a game of it in the first half but the tide turned when Tennessee marched 72 yards for a score a minute before intermission. Earlier, the Cats had been shocked by Willie Gault's 92-yard return of the opening kickoff. But the Cats didn't fold. On their third possession, Kentucky marched 74 yards in 11 plays capping the drive with Larry McCrimmon sneaking over from the one.

Tennessee came out cooking in the third quarter. The Vols scored the first four times they got the ball and had a final drive stopped on the Kentucky 15. The Cats ran only 19 plays—including four punts—in the second half.

To the winner goes the beer barrel

Quarterback Steve Alatorre, wide receiver Willie Gault and tailback James Berry—all back this year—were heroes in the revival of the Tennessee offense last year in Knoxville. Alatorre completed 11 of 17 passes, Berry rambled for 125 yards and Gault returned a kickoff 92 yards and caught a 48-yard rainbow from Alatorre.

Vol Chief

JOHNNY MAJORS Head Coach

INTO his fourteenth year of college coaching, Johnny Majors has secured a niche as one of the nation's most widely respected mentors.

Two of his previous 13 teams reached such heights of achievement that Majors was chosen national coach of the year. The Football Writers Association picked him for the honor in 1973, and three years later the authors were joined by the American Football Coaches Association in naming Majors as the season's outstanding coach.

The 1976 national championship year at Pittsburgh was followed by a summons from his alma mater, Tennessee. Vol fans wanted their former All-America hero to return to his native country and put the football program back on course. Steady improvement brought a 7-4 record in 1979 and a trip to the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Johnny Majors is as much a part of Volunteer folklore as Neyland, McEver, Cafego and Lauricella. The dazzling deeds of the 1956 Vols, an undefeated aggregation that ranked second in the nation, were tied to the heady little field general from Huntland. More than two decades in the coaching profession took Majors from an assistant freshman post at Tennessee to the reins of national champion Pittsburgh, and finally back to his alma mater as head coach. Stopovers at Mississippi State, Arkansas and Iowa State sharpened the young coach's football savvy as he made his way through the gridiron vineyards.

Majors came to Tennessee in 1953 after playing for his father at Huntland High School where he scored an unbelievable 565 points.

Majors' selection as UT'S nineteenth head football coach brought him back to the campus where his myriad talents earned him All-America recognition and back to the state where the name Majors brings to mind a legendary sports family. The return to UT brought Majors back to his roots, only a few miles from the beautiful Sequatchie Valley where Johnny grew up and where father, the late Shirley Majors, coached football at the University of the South.

Johnny was a charter inductee into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame. One of the most significant honors bestowed on Majors was his selection to the All-SEC quarter-century team picked by sports writers and broadcasters for the years 1950 through 1974.

DR. EDWARD J. BOLING

University President

Tr. Edward J. Boling, 17th president of the University of Tennessee, was appointed in 1970 after a career in teaching, industry, state government, and university administration. He is the chief administrative officer of a statewide system of higher education which includes four primary campuses, several special units, and statewide programs of research and public service. During his presidency, the alumni and fund raising programs of the University of Tennessee have received national recognition. And, in 1980, UT completed a $57 million fund-raising campaign.

DR. JACK E. REESE

Chancellor

n. Jack E. Reese gained the experience and perspective essential to his work as chancellor of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, through years spent in classroom teaching, scholarly research, academic administration, and community involvement.

Prior to being named chancellor in September, 1973, Dr. Reese had served as associate vice chancellor for academic affairs and dean of graduate studies. A professor of English at UTK, he also taught at the University of Kentucky and served at the University of Arizona as an academic administrative intern of the American Council on Education.

BOB WOODRUFF

Director of Athletics
SUCCESS by Vol teams in headto-head combat has characterized the UT sports program since

Bob Woodruff took command as director of athletics in 1963.

The Vols have captured seven Southeastern Conference all-sports championships in the last 12 years, bringing to mind Woodruff's assertion when he was named to the athletic director's post 19 years ago: "Any sport worth having is worth supporting."

A dominant force in the SEC with its span of all-sports titles from 1969 to 1972, Tennessee returned to the throne in 1975 and then put together back-to-back championships in 1980 and 1981. The Vols have finished first, second or third for 12 of the past 13 years.

Ten years ago the Tennessee

Hall of Fame opened its doors to Woodruff, enshrining him as a standout football player at UT in the late Thirties, the highly successful head coach at Baylor and Florida, and—of most satisfaction to Tennesseans—for his achievements as UT athletic director.

Even before his induction into Tennessee's Hall of Fame, Woodruff was similarly honored by the Hall of Fame of his native Georgia.

Even as Volunteer athletic teams racked up victories in unprecedented numbers, UT stayed ahead of the times with an ambitious building program that included a swimming facility with indoor and outdoor pools, an enlarged football stadium to provide seating for a growing student body, a modernized baseball plant, a new tennis stadium and a golf putting and pitching area.

A native of Athens, Ga., Woodruff was a standout tackle at Tennessee from 1936-38 on teams that won 23 games and lost only 5. After receiving his engineering degree, he remained on the Vol football staff as an assistant to Bob Neyland in 1939 and 1941. Entering the Army in 1942, he was discharged in 1946 with the rank of major. In 1944 and 1945, he helped coach West Point to two national championships under Earl Blaik.

In 1946, he was line coach at Georgia Tech, moving to Baylor as head coach the following season. Prior to being named athletic director at Tennessee, he was an assistant coach of the Vols for two seasons (1961-62).

Woodruff serves as NCAA District Three representative to the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

University of Kentucky Cheerleaders — Best in Nation

This year's University of Kentucky cheerleaders are one of the best collegiate squads in the nation. They have already earned top honors from pre-season competition with other outstanding squads in the United States.

At the prestigious Universal Cheerleading Association competition this past summer, UK's cheerleaders came out with "best overall squad" honors—beating out Ohio State and Memphis State which were the No. 1 squads in the country the past two years. Now UK's cheerleaders are ready to turn on their many talents for the UK fans. UK's cheerleaders are ably coached by T. Lynn Williamson, acting dean of students.

We salute the Kentucky Wildcats with the U of K pep song.

On, on U of K
We are right
for the fight, today.
Hold that ball
and hit that line,
Every Wildcat star will shine.
We'll fight, fight, fight for the blue and white.
As we roll to that goal, varsity.
We will kick, pass and run
Till the battle is won and we'll bring home a victory.

There are many people who are very serious about that catchy little phrase, "It's Your University." These are the same people you might hear saying, "The University has been very good to me."

They're the kind of people who

They're the kind of people who
—no matter what catch phrase is used to describe them—are willing to give of themselves in volunteer efforts on behalf of the University of Kentucky.

"The key to any successful development program is the effort of its volunteers," says Ray Hornback, UK vice president for university relations. "And, UK is extremely fortunate to have many such keys.

"You just can't say enough good things about such people," Hornback contends. Just mentioning their names on paper constitutes a sizable publication each year from the Development Office. "It reads like a 'Who's Who' of volunteer community service," Hornback notes.

And their efforts have a remarkable payoff.

In 1980 alone, volunteer efforts on behalf of UK helped bring in $5.3 million in private financial support—a 32 percent increase over 1979.

Private support to the University comes from many sources including the annual Alumni-Giving Fund, corporate contributions, and special development projects.

This year's Alumni-Giving fund has received an additional impetus known as the "Nutter Challenge."

Ervin J. Nutter, a 1943 UK graduate, now living in Xenia, Ohio, challenged fellow alumni to give $100,000 in "new dollars" to the University. If the challenge is met, Nutter, who is the 1980-81 UK Development Council Chairman, promises to personally contribute another $100,000 to the University.

Under the leadership of Lexington's Tommy Bell, who is in his second year as chairman of the Alumni-Giving Fund, the alumni surpassed the half-way mark in meeting the Nutter Challenge in early October.

"Tommy Bell has worked the annual giving program with a vengeance this year," says Hornback. "He has done everything the University has asked of him and a lot more."

Successful completion of the Nutter Challenge, combined with continuing alumni gifts, will put the annual fund over the $1 million mark for the first time. In 1980, this giving totaled $859,339.

Among persons who have volunteered considerable personal efforts on behalf of UK's development programs is Robert T. McCowan, vice chairman of the board of Ashland Oil, Inc., and a member of UK's Board of Trustees.

McCowan is now in his second year as chairman of the UK Fellows Program which saw more than 90 new members added to the Fellows roster in 1980. The Fellows Program alone has generated more than $20 million in private support for the University since its beginning in 1966.

To become a UK Fellow, a person must contribute $10,000 or more to the University, either in one gift or by pledging $1,000 a year for 10 years, or donate through other deferred giving plans.

New UK Fellows were honored last night at a special dinner as a part of UK's annual Development Council weekend. More than 400 UK boosters attended the Fellows' dinner.

Then generosity of personal gifts to the University is a continuing source of amazement and pride to those responsible for Development Office programs, Hornback says.

In May, William and Eloise Sturgill made a personal contribution of $400,000 to the University.

Sturgill, a 1946 UK graduate in business administration, has served on the University's Board of Trustees since 1972 and was recently re-elected to another term as the board's chairman.

"This most recent act of devotion is just one of the many ways Bill Sturgill has significantly contributed to UK," Hornback says.

Large corporate gifts are becoming another very exciting trend, too, UK Development Office officials say.

Ashland Oil, Inc. began the trend last year with a $1 million grant to improve and enrich the College of Business and Economics. At the time, it was the largest single corporate gift to UK in its 115-year history.

Another $100,000 from Ashland Oil awarded at the same time will pay for visiting professors at UK.

Under this program nationally acclaimed journalist Tom Wicker, a columnist for The New York Times, began teaching special courses at UK earlier this month.

Other major corporate contributions have included $200,000 from IBM to aid both the colleges of Business and Economics and Engineering, and $266,000 from Philip Morris, Inc. to the UK College of Agriculture.

In August, the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. made a $1 million grant to the UK College of Agriculture for tobacco research and the tobacco extension program. The grant begins in January 1982 and will continue for four years. The grant is the largest the to-bacco company has made for research.

Whether it's private or corporate contributions, UK is keenly aware of the vitality such development efforts lend to the institution.

"It's people like this who are helping make the University a better place at a time when public dollars are drying up," Hornback says. "Without this kind of support from private sources, we would not be able to do a lot of things which help keep us in a competitive position with other land grant institutions in the region."

Alumni News

By Liz Demoran Editor, Alumni Publications

E ach year the University of Kentucky Alumni Association honors four to five of the volunteers who keep the organization running smoothly throughout the nation. This year's select honorees are Ted B. Bates of Lexington, Albert G. Clay of Mt. Sterling, Betty White Nelson of Hopkinsville and William E. Vick of Burbank, California

Mr. Bates was honored for his service as a member of the Alumni Board of Directors since 1974 and his work as president of the Association in 1978. While in office he initiated a program to keep the alumni board continually apprised of the academic programs on campus, enabling the board members to more fully answer questions about the university arising in their hometowns. This program was so well received that it was carried forward by his successors. Mr. Bates, a graduate of the class of 1952 with a major in agriculture, is manager of Wimbledon Farms in Lexington. Only nine times in 20 years have non-alumni of the university received an award for their service to UK and to the Alumni Association. The ninth person in this elite group is Mr. Clay. Mr. Clay is currently vice chairman of the UK Board of Trustees. (He served as chairman from 1972-1974.) He is on the board of the UK Development Council, is a UK Fellow, has served on the Spindletop Research Board and is recognized as an extraordinarily good friend of the College of Agriculture. Mr. Clay, president of the Clay Tobacco Co. of Mt. Sterling, has also been recognized for his service to the Boy Scouts of America and was awarded the 1976 Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Betty White Nelson has been president of the alumni club in Hopkinsville on two occasions and a member of the Alumni Board of Directors for six years. During her first term as president of the Christian County Alumni Club, she initiated the idea of club scholarships for students graduating from the local community college and continuing their education at UK in Lexington. That idea has since been copied by other clubs and is another vital link in the UK's growing alumni program. As a member of the board of directors, she chaired several committees but most importantly was instrumental in revising the procedures for the Great Teacher Awards program, a program which enjoys widespread visibility among students and faculty alike.

Mr. Vick came 2,200 miles to attend the alumni Homecoming activities not knowing that he was to be honored for his more than 20 years of involvement with UK alumni affairs. Never letting distance diminish the place of his Alma Mater in his heart and mind, he bridged the distance by constantly working as a volunteer leader in UK's Southern California Alumni Club. One highlight of the year is the club's annual Kentucky Derby Party, now in its 22nd year. The gathering has continued for so long on such a high note because volunteers like Mr. Vick are among the first to arrive, greet newcomers and sell chances on a famous Kentucky product to raise money for club projects. He and Mrs. Vick also invite the club leadership into their home to encourage the continuation and vitality of the program.

The UK Alumni Association's Distinguished Service Awards were first presented in 1961. Since that time 79 men and women have been singled out for their greater than usual service to the Association and the University. Next Homecoming four to five other volunteers will be recognized for the time and energy they give to help make the Association and UK better institutions.

With the final football game of the year, the University of Kentucky Alumni Association wishes to extend its best wishes to all of the alumni for the holiday season ahead. May the joy of giving which predominates at year's end bring you happiness as you give and as you receive.

Out-of-state alumni clubs are an excellent source for new friends, local community information and a continuing tie with the old stomping grounds. If you're moving or visit the communities listed below, consider introducing yourself to a UK Alumni Club.

The five colleges of the Medical Center — Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing, Pharmacy and Allied Health - have more than 2,000 students pursuing bachelor, masters and doctoral degrees in health-related fields.

Of major significance in the area of medical research is the Sanders-Brown Research Center on Aging, one of the first facilities of its kind in the nation.

UK graduates almost 6,000 students each year from the main campus and the community col-leges. The UK Alumni Association, therefore, continues to grow in number of clubs (64) and paid members (22,000).
