KERNEL TO HAVE NEW FEATURE DEPARTMENT

Contributions Requested For Section To Be Run Once a Month

CHANCE FOR GENIUS

The Kernel wishes to inaugurate a new feature section, to appear once a month and cover one page—provided the students of the University will help to put it through and contribute to it. We feel that there is real literary talent in the student body, talent which should show itself in some tangible productions. It is the purpose of this new department to gather these literary gems and publish them all together once a month. Without the help of you who are the student writers and dreamers, we can do nothing. We cannot write the copy ourselves. If you have anything that you have dashed off in moments of inspiration, bring it to us, whether you think it is good or not. Prose, poetry, essays, stories, anecdotes, sketches—anything that you have written, bring it in to us and we will print it if it is fit to appear in decent society. All you budding geniuses, here's your chance!

U. K. MAN'S INVENTION HAS WIDE PUBLICITY

Carburetor Patented By Professor Anderson Given Pictorial Presentation

The carburetor, patented by Professor Charles H. Anderson, professor in the College of Engineering in the University of Kentucky, and said to be the most remarkable improvement on the gas engine invented in its history, is given pictorial public presentation for the first time in the fourth edition of the Lexington Herald Screen Review, now being shown at the Strand Theater, subsequently being shown at other theaters in the Blue Grass.

This device, made by Professor Anderson, is the result of two years' work in experimentation in problems of carburetion and is in line with the work that Professor Anderson is teaching in the University. It is stated that this device will be given commercial exploitation the forthcoming spring with a number of prominent Lexington people figuring in its manufacture. A number of tests have been given to this device and it is said to have stood most drastic examination. The carburetor is self-feeding and is claimed to do away with complicated vacuum feeding systems now in use.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The U. K. orchestra concert announced for Sunday afternoon has been indefinitely postponed.

HOLIDAY CELEBRATED AT JOINT Y MEETING

Dr. Bush Talks on Two Great American Heroes

Special Washington's Birthday exercises were held Sunday night at the joint meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. in the Recreation Hall of Patterson Hall. Dr. Benjamin J. Bush was the speaker and a special musical program including a cornet solo by R. Woodward and a duet by Josephine Evan and Adele Slade was enjoyed. George Gregory was the leader.

"The greatness of Washington and Lincoln," said Dr. Bush, "was not that they were geniuses but that they stuck to their most baffling problems and thought things through.

"Though in many ways different, these two great American leaders were linked together in many points," the speaker continued. "They were both physical giants, both the sons of border states where the very atmosphere made for the encouragement of the fearless utterance of convictions and the growth of moral stamina. Both owed a great debt to womanhood, Washington to his own mother and Lincoln to his two mothers. They were alike surveyors and soldiers and both received honors in their respective states.

"Each in his own environment was a great moral tower of unswerving honesty. Washington's word was as good as gold; the goods sent to be sold in England from Mt. Vernon were never questioned as to weight or value put upon them by the owner of the estate. Lincoln was known in Illinois as 'honest Abe.'

"Neither Washington nor Lincoln could be termed brilliant. It has been said, however, that greatness is a capacity for sincerity and as year succeeds year the sincerity of Washington and Lincoln will stand out untainted and crystal clear."

During the social hour which succeeded the exercises, refreshments of ices, cakes and nuts were served.

ORATORICAL CONTESTS AT UNIVERSITY SOON

Clifford E. Smith To Be U. K. Representative In Meets

VISITORS ARE JUDGES

Clifford E. Smith, a freshman in the College of Law, who has won out in all preliminary contests, will represent the University of Kentucky in the two oratorical contests that will take place here March 1, and March 5.

The Kentucky Intercollegiate Oratorical Association will be held in chapel March 1, with representatives from Transylvania, Centre, Georgetown, Berea and Kentucky Wesleyan to compete. The judges will be Professor H. G. McGrane, University of Cincinnati; Professor C. W. Park, University of Cincinnati; Professor V. A. Ketcham, Ohio State University.

The winner of this contest will represent Kentucky in the inter-state contest against winners of state contests in Ohio, Indiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan.

The second contest, the Southern Interstate Oratorical League will be held March 5. Representatives from the state universities of Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Johns Hopkins and Vanderbilt. The following list of orations will be given:

"The Shantung Question," Clifford E. Smith, Kentucky.

"Our Unloved People," Doney Whittell, Vanderbilt.

"The Alternative to Bolshevism," Meyer Lavenstein, Virginia.

"The Present Crisis in American Democracy," George Goetz, Johns Hopkins.

Wm. Bobbitt, North Carolina.

The judges who will render the decision in this contest will be Professor H. S. Woodward, Western Reserve University; Professor C. H. Thurper, Purdue University, and Professor B. C. Van Wye, University of Cincinnati.

1920 MILITARY BALL A BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Music For Dance Furnished By U. K. Jazz Band

The Army of the University of Kentucky presented a gala appearance for the Military Ball which was given there Friday evening from 8:30 to 1 o'clock. Red, white and blue crepe paper was interlaced, forming an imitation ceiling. The lights and windows were covered with the three-colored strips of paper, which were also hung from the ceiling to the raised platform where the University Trio and the Jazz Band furnished the music. Flags and swords were suspended along the walls. Members of the battalion and former service men wore the uniform of soldier or sailor, and the girls were resplendent in evening dresses.

One particularly interesting feature of the ball was the ladies' choice dance, which came as the encore at the end of the seventh no-break. Punch and small cakes were served throughout the evening.

The chaperones for this brilliant social affair were President and Mrs. McVey, and Mrs. A. S. J. Tucker, Dean and Mrs. C. R. Melcher, Dean and Mrs. P. P. Boyd, Dean and Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Dean and Mrs. F. Paul Anderson, Dean Simrall, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Funkhouser, Professor and Mrs. Enoch Grehan, Dr. and Mrs. John Tigert, Professor and Mrs. Alfred Zembrod, Miss Margaret McLaughlin, Miss Frances Jewell, Miss Margaret Stevens and Miss Dora Berkley.

A matter of peculiar pride to the University was the favorable comment which was made on the music and dancing on this occasion. The dance music was modern and full of "pep" and yet was not of the barbarous jazz type that has called forth so much unfriendly criticism at modern dances by cultured people.

GIRLS IN DORMITORIES ADOPT POINT SYSTEM

Fourteen To Be Maximum Number Allowed To Each Girl

OFFICES RESTRICTED

At a mass meeting of the Student Government Association held last Thursday evening at Patterson Hall, a point system was adopted for the purpose of restricting the number of offices which may be held by any one member of the association. While the system has not yet been thoroughly worked out, it was decided in the ruling which was passed by the body that fourteen should be the maximum number of points given to any girl. Points will be graded on a scale of ten, eight, six, four, two, every office being counted according to the time required and the responsibility which the office carries. The exact number will be determined at a meeting of the presidents of all organizations in which women students are eligible for membership.

It is hoped that the use of the point system will lead to greater efficiency in every activity of the University.

SEAT SALE BEGINS FOR STROLLER PRODUCTION

Annual Play of Dramatic Organization Assured Unrivaled Success

Anticipating the annual Stroller production, "The Climbers," for which the cast is now rehearsing and which the Strollers hope to give the last week in March, a number of clubs, societies and organizations on the campus have already made inquiries for tickets. This fact alone has inspired the Strollers to new efforts. It is confidently believed that the 1920 play will be the most largely attended of any play given in the history of the Stroller organization.

It is also known that calls for tickets have come from various towns in Central Kentucky from persons who having sons, daughters, comrades and friends in the Stroller cast, will be in the audience that night. It has been the custom for certain fraternities and sororities to purchase boxes and blocks of seats so that they might enjoy the play together, and also to decorate the boxes in fraternity colors. But as the former are limited to only four in the Lexington Opera House, it has been deemed advisable to speak early for seats and it might not be unwise for such organizations to ribbon off their blocks of seats. All of the boxes have been sold already. Those wanting seat reservations should speak to Bob Raible, bus-

EX-SERVICE MEN MAY SECURE FARM LANDS

One Hundred and Sixty Acres in Wyoming Offered By Government

Ex-service men who are so inclined may secure 160 acres of farm land in Wyoming, according to information sent out recently by the United States Department of Agriculture.

According to an announcement made by Secretary Lane of the Department of the Interior, a bill has been passed by Congress giving ex-service men sixty days priority in filing on land for homestead purposes and that privileges under this recent law granted to ex-service men will be, permission to file on lands in the recently completed irrigation projects of "North Platte" and "Shoshone" in the State of Wyoming. This land has been leased for grazing purposes but now upon the completion of these irrigation projects by the Reclamation Service the leases have been recalled and the land will be thrown open to homestead settlement.

Priority for the ex-service men will extend from March 5, to May 4, on the North Platte section and from March 13, to May 12, on the Shoshone.

Another feature of the homestead privilege for ex-service men is that they will be given credit for the time that they served, in the army, navy or marine corps during the Mexican border trouble and the world war. This credit will count towards the three years' residence on the land, required by the homestead law, and the credit for service will be up to two years. Five months leave of absence out of each year is also allowed. Therefore, if a man had two years' service to his credit, it would take off two years of the three required for residence and with the five months leave of absence, he would have to reside on the land only a total of seven months before he could get a clear title to his 160 acres.

This should be worth an investigation by every ex-service man and anyone who is interested should see Harry Cottrell, in the Ag. Building or the Department of Journalism. He has several pamphlets showing the location of available public lands for settlement and information as to the homestead requirements for former soldiers, and "dope" on the opening of the irrigation projects in Wyoming.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

PHILOSOPHIAN.

Professor Farquhar met with the Philosophian Literary Society last Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the Recreation Room of Patterson Hall and discussed the play, "Wolves and the Lamb," which is to be given by the society in the spring. Members were selected for the preliminary try-outs to be held Thursday afternoon.

As soon as the cast is decided upon work upon the play will begin in earnest under the direction of Professor Farquhar.

PATTERSON.

The Patterson Literary Society met last Friday in Mechanical Hall, when one of the most delightful programs of the year was presented. A graduate of the class of '16, an old Patterson man, who was on the debating team which defeated Congressman

King Swope and his colleagues at Centre several years ago. Professor Julius Wolf, made a very interesting and instructive talk on "The Genius of Edison."

J. A. Estes, known on the campus as "Simp," recited two original poems, "A Dissertation on the Abuse of the Slang Lingo," and "The Lonk of Garthyngling." H. B. McGregor completed this part of the program with a humorous reading.

The following officers for the second semester were elected at the meeting also: President, R. D. Warth; vice president, George Robinson; secretary, H. B. McGregor; treasurer, F. P. Bell; critic, C. E. Smith.

ness manager, at once.

Professor Lampert will be asked to prepare a program of preludes and interludes especially adapted to the occasion, and it is understood that young musicians in the University are greatly interested in the event.

Many professors of the University have already indicated their intention of being present for the purpose of making this a real University night.

ATTEND THE CONTESTS.

The University of Kentucky has been designated as the convening place of two outstanding, important oratorical contests, the Kentucky International Oratorical Association, March 1, and the Southern Interstate Oratorical League, March 11.

These contests should be occasions of pouring of students, who come ready to support their representatives in mental combat with the same vigor which is exhibited in their support of their representatives who come ready to support their representatives in mental combat with the same vigor which is exhibited in their support of their representatives who come ready to support their representatives in mental combat...

The men who are to represent the University in these contests have had training as intensive and difficult in this line as the training a varsity man undergoes. So is it fair to give hearty support to one and ignore the efforts of the other?

The University has always been ably represented in oratorical meets and many honors have been won, but the co-operation of the student body is necessary to gain desired success. In the second of these contests our visitors will be members of faculties and student bodies of a large number of southern state universities, and the impression of the University of Kentucky as carried away by these visitors on their return to their own universities depends on us.

They must see Kentucky as she really is, an enthusiastic, wide-awake and red-blooded group of girls and boys, keenly alive to the highest interests of their Alma Mater.

It is the privilege and duty of every member of the faculty and student body to attend and support the team.

-A. S.

The Kentucky Colonel says: "Well, sub, heredity is something that every father believes in until his son begins to act like a nut."

"Daddy," asked a mite of eight summers, "God makes us do the good things, doesn't he?"

"Yes," replied the father.

"And Satan makes us do the naughty things?"

"Yes."

"Well, who makes us do all the funny things?"—London Post.

"I hope the folks at home don't kick up a row about my grades," said the Knight of the Lexington Drug. "They ought to know from past experience that I come through my exams with perfect ease." (E's.)

"Any of you got an old uniform?" asked the sergeant.

A private, scenting a new one, proudly displayed his frayed edges and stains.

"It isn't fit for much, is it?" commented the sergeant. "Parade at two-thirty for a coal fatigue."

Henry Grehan: Ed, what is the sweetest combination of fruits?

Ed. Parker: I'll bite. What is it?
Grehan: A date with a peach.

To hear Terrell Corn address Margaret Smith as "Marg," one would think he said "Morgue"—but she is far from dead yet.

Pat Hall Pastimes.

The thrill of the ring of a telephone bell
Sounding through the corridor.

A moment's pause—an echoing yell—
Oh! I wonder who it's for.

Call for Miss Arabelle Linda Lee Jones.

I wonder just who she could be;

I wish I'd be called to one of the phones—

Yes? Hold it! I'm coming! It's me!

Mademoiselle On Dit says: "The picture was positively hair-raising! She kissed the hero and he had a mustache!"

REVENGE.

If I had a nice pet dinosaur
That weighed ten thousand pounds
I'd feed him right
And treat him white

And take him on my rounds.
We'd call on Professor Miller and say we couldn't see
His biologic curve of grades that left me with an "E."

If I had a nice trained octopus
With tentacles nine feet long
I'd teach him to fight
With all his might
Whene'er I got in wrong.

We'd call on Doctor Funkhouser and tell him we didn't think
That a misspelled word of some awful bird should need so much red ink.

If I had a nice strong solvent
HF or HNO3
I'd make it a pet
And then you bet
I'd get what's comin' to me.
We'd call on Mighty Maxon and ask him to explain
Why he should hawl me out in class because I failed again.

If I had a nice fat bacillus
The wickedest kind that grows
I'd bring him up
Like a well-trained pup,
And lead him by the nose.
We'd call on Doctor Sherago, this bacillus and I
And prove without a microscope that he was doomed to die.

If I had a nice trained instrument
For torture in dungeon or cell
I'd set a trap.
And think mayhap
I'd done my duty well
We'd hope to catch a science prof and then I'd like to see
If I could not get even for the things they've done to me. —VICTIM.

YEA, VERILY—

(Showing How Sorrow Pursueth Doggedly the Footsteps of the College Man.)

Yea, verily, a man pursueth Knowledge as a boy who looketh for a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.
The brain is muddled, and the pocket-book fatteneth itself out, when a man steereth his ship toward the Harbor of Knowledge. All is indeed Vanity and a striving after wind.

Father receiveth a pain when the mid-term report of his promising offspring cometh to his hand. He tear eth his hair and stampeth the dust of the field on the carpet of the best room in the house. He bruleth the floor of the kitchen with his hob-nailed shoes. Yea, the impact of his fist jarreth the dishes on the table, as the dogs and the cats of the old homestead look solemnly at each other and make a motion to adjourn. Mother gathereth her apron to her face and sheddeth a briny tear therein. Then she goeth straightway to the Lord of the House, and pacifieth his Majesty with sweet soothing words, after this manner: "Now Father, thou shouldst not be so hard on our darling child; he hath been spitefully misused and harshly dealt with, and it remaineth for us to comfort him in his adversity, and bear with him in his few shortcomings!" Thus she turneth away the wrath of her Lord and the dear Beloved stayerth at the University.

Even so, but the torture of their absent one goeth on. As the river floweth ever toward the sea; as the sun appeareth in the East in the morning, and disappeareth in the West in the evening, so continueth the misfortune of the College Man. His days are long and fraught with sorrow, even tho he sitteth in the seat of the righteous and walketh in the way of the godly. Selah!

SOLOMON II.

"THE NOTE-BOOK BLUES."

When the evening shadows flit through the window-pane,
I seek the study table, and open my books again,
And I sing a mournful ditty, the saddest I can sing.
"The Note-book Blues"

I cram the useful knowledge into a softening brain,
And the stuff I don't remember would drive a nut insane;
So I write it in a note-book, and sing this wild refrain:
"The Note-book Blues"

REFRAIN.

The wee little note-book
That cost a small dime,
With it's characters and figures
It's knowledge sublime.
We love the dear note-books
Though their pages often are vague
And we study the scribbles
We have in class made;
And ponder and wonder
At the meaning of the scars
On the margin of pages
What'n the --- are they for? —FRIZZY.

A PRAYER.

Fortune, with heavy heart I see
How the professor wearily
Scratches zeros down.
O make my bare brain fertile
For his sake!

Here in my poor thick top-my-not
There's treasured naught, for all's forgot
Of mathematics divine,
The knowledge fled of proof and sign.

I offer my brain, pour the knowledge through
Of squares and cubes, equations, too,
I who have not tried before
Try at last with conscience sore.

But let this great miracle be
Wrought with care and patiently,
My clogged brain does slowly run,
Sums by me were never done.

Fortune, pity my woeful stress
Make the awful zeroes less
For howsoever hard I try
I only get the rules awry!

And in each quiz make me aware
When a's a cube and b's a square
Then through a maze beyond my ken
I'll get a D at last.—Amen. —"HAM."

PRESS ASSOCIATION ASKS CO-OPERATION

The Press Association of the University, a student organization, serving newspapers throughout the State, with information affecting activities of students in publications in counties whence they came, would appreciate it if the students would co-operate with our reporters when called upon, by giving them promptly and accurately, information they seek. The purpose of our work is to acquaint our homefolk with the progress made from time to time by their sons and daughters while in school, and thus to establish closer personal relationship between the people of the Commonwealth and the University of Kentucky. Our work is constructive. We seek information concerning only the commendatory activities of our comrades, preferring to leave the rest, if there be such, in the keeping of the informant.

U. K. ARTISTS GIVE TREAT TO STUDENTS

Professors Cornell and Noe Entertain Chapel Audience.

The students and faculty who attended chapel Tuesday were given a very rare treat in the program rendered by two professors of the University.

Professor Cornell, former director of the band at the University of Iowa, rendered two trombone solos, "Sweet Evening Star," by Wagner, and "Little Gray Home in the West," by Lohr. He was accompanied by Leland Snoddy. This was the first time that the students were given the opportunity of hearing Dr. Cornell play and they showed their appreciation by hearty applause.

Professor Noe gave two readings of his own composition, "Omnemon," a love poem, and "Compensation," a short ludicrous poem. Professor Noe's poems have attracted much attention and are always heard with the keenest appreciation and enjoyment.

ANNUAL INITIATIONS

Chi Omega and Kappa Delta Take in New Members.

CHI OMEGA.

"Tynebrae," the quaint country home of Martha McClure, situated on the Harrodsburg pike, was the scene of the initiation ceremonies of Chi Omega fraternity, held Sunday evening. After the services, a delicious buffet supper was served.

Nine pledges were initiated: Emma Lee Young, Eugenia Young, Mona Saunders, Louise McKee, Sarah Metcalf Piper, Virginia Griffith, Elizabeth Allen, Fannie Summers Tarlton, Antoinette Harrison.

The active chapter present includes these names: Margaret Harbison, Mary A. Talbott, Katharine Tucker, Jane Bell, Katie Henry, Katharine Herring, Elizabeth Jackson, Betty Davis, Ethel Fletcher, Margaret Smith, Kathleen Renick, Claribel Kay, Martha McClure and Frances Marsh.

The following alumnae were also present: Mrs. McClarty Harbison, Nancy Inness, Eliza Piggott, Lucy Young and Mamie Miller Woods.

KAPPA DELTA.

Kappa Delta held its annual initiation and banquet at the Phoenix Hotel Saturday evening. After the ceremonies, conducted by the retiring president, Louise Will, the banquet at which the newly initiated members, active chapter and alumnae friends took place.

Three baskets of white roses, the fraternity flower, decorated the table; dainty place-cards were tied with green and white cords, the Kappa Delta colors. Miss Martha Buckman, the newly-elected president, was toast-mistress; and the following responses were most charming and clever.

"Hidden Corners," Louise Connell.

"Opportunity," Myrtle Clar.

"Love," Elizabeth Kraft.

"Unity," Nancy Smock.

"Message from the Alumnae," Marguerite McLaughlin.

The guests attending the banquet and ceremonies include these names: Active Chapter—Martha Buckman, Louise Will, Elizabeth Kraft, Nancy Smock, Katharine Denton, Allene Fratman.

Initiates—Sally Burns, Anna L. Connor, Clara Blocker, Louise Connell, Mary E. James, Mary E. Venable, Laura Sandridge, Myrtle Clar, Beulah Stillwell, Arabel Ehrlich, Mattie Lee Watts.

Pledge—Allie Russell Fish.

Alumnae—Mayme S. Dunn, Laura Steele, Katharine Howells, Aime Dietrich, Elizabeth Fried, Annette Martin, Marguerite McLaughlin, Lois Brown, Mrs. Bradley Bowen.

A. T. O. FRATERNITY HAS ANNUAL BANQUET

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity celebrated the installation of the chapter with the annual banquet at the Phoenix Hotel Saturday night. William R. Campbell acted as toast-master and toasts were given by the following: John McKenzie and Dick Duncan, '19 alumnae, Harrison Bralifford, and A. E. Ewan, chief of Prov-

Kittens Lose By a Close Score

Old Kentucky put another feather in her cap last Saturday night when she overwhelmed Kentucky Wesleyan College in an exciting game played before a record crowd in the gymnasium of the University. The score was 43 to 13. The boys' Varsity did not furnish all the fun of the evening. The Kittens, co-ed basket artists, thrilled the spectators with their heroic but unsuccessful attempt to smash the Wesleyan co-ed outfit.

Immediately after the girls' game the Kentucky boys' varsity trotted out on the floor and began the merciless slaughter of their Wesleyan opponents. Throughout the game the Kentucky quintette played circles around the Wesleyanites, placing nearly a score of baskets from the field before their opponents had been successful in a single attempt. It was not until within the last two minutes of play that the first two field goals were thrown by the visitors. Their other nine points were made by fouls thrown.

Captain Everett added his name to the usual duet of goal tossers, Hayden and Blakey, by safely placing six baskets, and aiding in many other floor plays that resulted in points for Kentucky's tally. Blakey and Hayden played the usual sensational game, seeming to be everywhere at once, at the right place at the right time, and usually sure of their shooting. They divided the foul tossing, and were each very successful. Ridgway and Burnham, at the guard positions, presented an ever-present source of worry to the Wesleyan goal tossers.

Scarcely had the second half of the game begun when Coach Buchheit began to give the other members of Kentucky's squad an opportunity to try their hand at goal tossing and defense work. Substitution followed substitution, until the Kentucky team had entirely changed, and the Kentucky scrubs were battling fiercely with the Wesleyanites to prevent them from placing a single field goal. Wilhelm had replaced Everett at center, Lavin was in Blakey's position at forward, Evans was playing forward in Hayden's place, Smith had replaced Ridgway at running guard, and Carr was in Burnham's place under Kentucky's goal.

Summary of the game:

ANNUAL FRAT FIGHT FOR CUP THIS WEEK

Preliminary Games Won By
S. A. E., S. N., K. S.
and A. T. O.

FINALS NEXT WEEK

Fraternity basketball began this week in the University with three hard-fought games featured principally by the roughness of play and keen spirit of rivalry existing between each team. In the first game of the series, played Monday night, the S. A. E. team proved too much for the Sigma Chi aggregation, winning by the score of 9 to 4. The game scheduled between the Sigma Nu's and Pi Kappa Alpha teams was forfeited by Pi Kappa Alpha, which was not represented by a team.

Tuesday night the Kappa Sigma team took the large end of a 5-to-3 score from the Phi Delta Theta five, while Alpha Tau Omega defeated Kappa Alpha 6 to 4. A considerable number of rooters turned out at each game to support their fraternity, and many more are expected to attend the final games.

The second lap in the race for the fraternity cup comes Monday night, when the winners in the games of this week will continue the elimination contest, leaving two teams to fight it out for final honors and the cup later in the week.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon five will tackle the Sigma Nu team, and the Alpha Tau Omega's will tie up with the Kappa Sigma's. Both games will be a battle from the first sound of the whistle, as each team is about evenly matched. The S. A. E.-S. N. game will be of particular interest from the fact that if the S. A. E.'s win, they will be one step nearing winning the series, and with it the cup, since having won it in 1919, another victory will mean the cup will permanently belong to Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The Sigma Nu aggregation, although it has not been seen in action yet, hold the favorite's position in the coming contest, but the fact that they have had no chance to play together in a game will work to their disadvantage.

The line-ups of the games played this week were as follows:

- S. A. E., 9; Sigma Chi, 4.

PRE-SEASON WORK ON FOR BASEBALL HONORS

Coach Sees Prospects For Banner Season; Urges
Daily Practice

Indoor baseball practice is going steadily forward. The "spat" of a swift curve as it settles down into the groove of the catcher's mitt is a familiar sound to those who hang around the armory these days. At every convenient hour of the day aspirants for the coveted position of varsity hurler for the promising 1920 baseball squad may be found indoors "warming up." Catchers are being developed into exceptionally good receivers, and fielders are busy rolling the pill across the floor to one another in an effort to straighten out muscular kinks resulting from several months of inactivity.

From every angle the pre-season work is being very successfully conducted, and prospects for a banner season in baseball are exceedingly bright. Coach Gill wants it understood that every candidate for the squad is expected to get a few minutes' practice each day. The candidates for the battery positions should report daily to Coach Gill between the hours of 3:30 and 5:00 o'clock.

KITTENS DEFEATED BY WESLEYAN TEAM

Crippled Five Lose Close Game To Visitors.

"Shortie" Harris, defensive forward for the Winchester crew, was the conspicuous figure in the defeat of Kentucky's co-eds by a score of 18 to 14 last Saturday night when the Wesleyan five tackled the Kittens. Although none of the Kittens was especially in trim for the occasion, each played with unusual skill, and demonstrated her ability to play creditably even under difficulties. Two of the varsity were ill with the Flu, which prevented them from playing, and this impeded the speed of the game.

Katie Henry put up a good defensive game, and checked the advance of her rapid forward on numerous occasions. Mildred Porter kept her eye on the basket and scored ten points for the Blue and White.

The star playing of the evening was done by the ubiquitous Wesleyan forward, who, putting it in the vernacular of the sporting world, was there. Dodging guards, worrying the center, and tormenting the forward, she attracted attention throughout the game. The Wesleyan center also played a good game, and scored more than half the points of the visiting team. The line-up is as follows:

- Starr (2) Harris (2)
Forward.
Porter (10) Harneal (2)
Forward.
Harbison Connely (10)
Center.
Dean Johnson (2)
Guard.
Henry (2) Smith (2)
Guard.

Dates for four games with Transylvania College will be announced later.

In Selecting a University

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

WILDCATS LEAVE TO PLAY THREE GAMES

Quintette Starts Out With Crippled Team.

Hard luck seems to be camping on the Wildcats' trail just on the eve of the annual southern trip in quest of basketball honors. Captain Everett is ill of influenza, and Blakey has been called home on business, so two of the most valuable of the Varsity members will be unable to accompany the remainder of the team on the southern trip. The team leaves Lexington Thursday morning, plays Cumberland College at Williamsburg, and then plays Friday and Saturday nights at Knoxville with the University of Tennessee.

Little is known of the reputation or actual strength of the Cumberland outfit, but even under our handicap it is thought that Kentucky can easily outclass its first opponent of the weekend. But it is certain that Tennessee will give the Blue and White all that it can handle, and a couple of safe victories will be quite a compliment to the Kentucky aggregation, considering the fact that Tennessee defeated Kentucky twice during the earlier part of the season.

Accompanying Coach Buchheit on the southern trip will be a squad of eight men, probably composed of Hayden, Burnham, Ridgway, Lavin, Wilhelm, Carr and Evans.

FRATERNITIES ADD EIGHT NEW MEMBERS.

Before this time, there has been no way of regulating the distribution of offices, with the result that all responsibility has been placed in the hands of a few students. The point system, by making it impossible for one girl to hold more than one major office, and not more than one or two minor positions, will make for greater efficiency in the managing of organizations, and will also afford opportunities for a greater number of girls to receive the training in leadership which work in college activities brings.

It will not apply to girls who do not live in the dormitories, since they do not belong to the Student Government Association. It places no restrictions upon membership or interest in the work of organization. It simply says that a girl cannot carry too much of the responsibility which offices in these organizations involve. Kentucky is among the last of the leading Universities and colleges of the country to accept this plan. In practically every institution of higher learning in which women take an active part in college activities, the point system has been adopted and found successful.

The White Mathematics Club met Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Civil and Physics Building. Dr. P. P. Boyd spoke on "Quadratic Transformations."

FRATERNITY BANQUET

Twenty-three were present at the banquet, including eighteen active members and five pledges.

The following toasts were given: Alumni, Dick Duncan; Province 8, A. E. Ewan; Corporation, W. K. Reimers; Active Chapter, J. W. McKenzie; Freshman, H. D. Brailsford.

The roster of the local chapter is: Active members, W. R. Campbell, J. W. McKenzie, W. C. Walker, Herman Bersler, Jesse Tapp, James A. Dixon, E. Y. Van Deren, Everett Eelsey, Irvine Scribner, W. D. Thompson, C. V. Watson, Charles Smith, Sam Royster, Lawrence Burnham, Leonard Rouse, Harrison Brailsford, Stuart Neff, Charles Yaeger, Tom Campbell, Reginald Dealtry.

Pledges, Birssett Pribble, Addison Kackley.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME TO BE LEAGUE FINAL

Winner of Series To Challenge Fraternity Victors.

The game to determine the champion basketball team on the campus of the University of Kentucky, which was scheduled for Saturday, February 21, was postponed by the authorities in charge of the Campus League. The new date arranged was for Thursday afternoon, February 26, at 4 o'clock. As the Kernel goes to press on Thursday it is impossible to give the results of the Campus League final in this issue.

The two teams contesting for the championship and the prizes are the Freshman class team and the Sophomore class team, both having shown their superiority over the other teams of the League either by winning all or a majority of their games, or by the forfeiture method.

The winner of the game Thursday will challenge the winner of the Fraternity League series, which is being played during the present week, and the winner of this Class-Fraternity game will be proclaimed champion of the University.

Why Not Trade Here?

—BECAUSE—

The selection of suitable drug store goods is better here than usual for the very simple reason that not only do we stock practically anything and everything that any drug store anywhere could offer you, but we arrange and display them in such a way as to make selection easy, rapid and satisfactory. The quality of everything we sell is high-grade. True, there are medium priced and low-priced goods, but value for value, price for price, there are better offerings here than elsewhere. When the question of drugs is considered there is but one quality and that is the highest that science can produce.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

After returning from Cleveland, where he attended the National Education Association as a member of the Committee on Military Instruction and the Work of the Educational Institutions, Doctor McVey will go to Louisville on Saturday to deliver a patriotic address at the Temple Adath Israel. Mrs. McVey will accompany him.

Dean Simrail returned from the Convention of Deans of Women held Monday and Tuesday of this week at Cleveland, Ohio, where she appeared on the program. Her subject was: "The Social Problem Among Women." This is the first time that the University has been represented on a program of that organization.

From Savannah comes the information that Elsie Heller, of Paris, a graduate of the class of '16, Arts and Science, was among the ones injured in a recent wreck which happened when Seaboard Air Line Train No. 3, which runs between New York and Jacksonville, Florida, was wrecked nineteen miles south of Savannah.

She was a spectacular player on the basketball quintet during her four years of college and was captain of the team during her senior year. For more than a year she has been engaged in Y. W. C. A. work in Richmond, Virginia.

Professor Wm. E. Butt is confined to his home this week on account of illness.

Professor Tuthill lectured before the Woman's History Club of Mt. Sterling, on "Trend of the Times."

Doctor Cornell attended the Red Cross conference which was held on Friday and Saturday of last week in Cleveland.

Professor George M. Baker attended the National Education Association which met in Cleveland on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

On March 3, Doctor Tigert will go to Cincinnati, where he will give the first of a series of lectures on advertising, which he is to deliver in that city, at Exchange Hall, Board of Commerce.

Just this week the writer noticed a letter addressed "Editor, Kentucky Kernel," which, in addition to the date, bore the postmark, "New York, N. Y., City Hall Station." Wonder if any of the University boys got incarcerated while in New York for last week-end and are needing succor.

Homer G. Cress, of the Experiment Station, has been appointed official tester of dairy cows and has been placed at Hopkinsville by the Department of Dairying of the University. The first official co-operative breeders' testing association formed in the United States has been established in Christian County by sixteen members.

J. W. Wesson, class of '15, a graduate of the College of Agriculture, is supervisor of the Louisville branch of the Federal Grain Supervision, and has for one of his assistants, Thomas Gordon, class of '17, agriculture.

S. J. Lowery, class of '15, agriculture, who has until recently been County Agent in Oldham County, has resigned to engage in farming in Christian County. He is succeeded by "Nemo" McCarty, class of '16.

The Pre-medical Society was entertained Monday evening by Miss Marian Sprague at "High Oaks," her country home. Several friends of the society were guests, besides the members of the society. Dr. Funkhouser made an informal talk on the subject of heredity, after which the society were amused with various games. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sprague and Miss Martha McClure.

BENEFIT SILVER TEA GIVEN BY FRATERNITY

Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta gave a silver the dansant in the Recreation Room of Patterson Hall Saturday afternoon for the benefit of a summer camp which the national fraternity is maintaining for children of city slums.

The Recreation Hall was attractively transformed with decorations appropriate to Washington's birthday. The lights were covered with red, white and blue crepe paper and festoons formed of the three colors crossed and extended from all the lights. Potted plants were placed in the windows and bows tied of the colored paper were pinned to the curtains. A large flag hung over the door, completed the decorations.

The patronesses, Mesdames Ezra Gillis, M. L. Pence, George Roberts, Alfred Zembrod, J. T. C. Noe, poured tea and assisted by Mrs. Brown, Miss Berkeley and Miss Stevens acted as chaperones.

The afternoon was spent in card-playing and dancing, music being furnished by the University Jazz Band.
