One of the questions most pressing for this group was the perception of higher education among legislators.

"We have an equal commitment to higher education and KERA," Clarke said. "We just had a hard time putting money in higher education when we weren't getting kids to you who could read and write."

Clarke said it's impossible to pre-dict how much funding universities will get because economic projec-tions haven't been made.

"But I'm not very optimistic that things will turn around very quick-ly," he said. "It looks to be pretty flat."

Liberty National makes library donation

Calling the facility a "statewide resource," Liberty National Bank last week contributed $100,000 to the fund for UK's new Central and Life Sciences Library.

"All the research organizations and businesses in Kentucky will have access to the vast facilities that this library will provide," said Malcolm B. Chancey Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of Liberty National.

National.

"It takes a concerted set of resources to create a library of this caliber, and it makes sense for UK to house the principal data base of information for the state," he said.

UK President Charles Weblington said the "sepeneous gift from Liberty National to support the library project will pay dividends to generations of Kentuckians to come."

More than $19 million in corporate and individual contributions have been made to the library fund. Construction is scheduled to begin in 1994, with completion set for two years later.

The structure will provide study space for more than 4,000 users and will contain shelf space for more than 1.2 million books.

Laundry tokens soon will be useless

Beginning Oct. 1, students must have Plus accounts with UK Food Services to wash their laundry on ampus.

All token dispensers and acceptors will be deactivated on this date, Food Services officials said.
"Tokens have always presented problems," said Robert Braun, director of Food Services.
"Now, with the machines wired to run on the Plus Account, we have both security and convenience."

Sorority wins several national awards

UK's Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority was awarded the 1993 Honor Roll for the Chapter Efficiency Award, the International Council Merit Award and the Rush Award at the Alpha Gamma Delta International Convention this summer in Chicago.

The Honor Roll recognition for the Chapter Efficiency Award recognizes members of UK's chapter for excellent chapter attendance and well-written, timely reports.

Also an Honor Roll recipient of the International Council Merit Award, the chapter was recognized for earning a top merit score, and Honor Roll for the Rush Award was given to the group for its success in membership recruitment.

Wuerffel winner wilts Wildcats' win

Two relative unknowns spoil UK's dream

Ioss to No. 7 Florida Saturday night was strange. Weird situations, formations and tribulations filled one of the best games ever played in Commonwealth Stadium.

If was a night that the number 13 would have ruled and supersitions were prevalent. Only Eddie Vedder singing the "My Old Kentucky Home" could have been more strange.

First Quarter:

"Horida starts with the ball amarches to the UK 14-yard line. The Cats hold the charge there, and the Gators settle for a field goal. Nothing weird here, right?

The Gators line up for the field goal with just their snapper and holder over the ball. The rest of the linemen, who are 10 yards down the line, suddenly move over in the correct formation like a herd of cattle.

Definitely one of the weirdest-

Hanks.
The pitch falls into Hanks' hands like rain. But somehow, someway, Hanks does not catch the ball. If Hanks had caught it, the Gators were all but assured of scoring.
The Wildcats keep possession and top off the eight-minute, 54 second drive with a field goal by Juha Leonoff.

looking plays of the game, Florida ididn't seem to gain any advantage by lining up in that formation. Second Quanter:

*Florida is forced to punt at the 12:09 mark of the quarter. Second-grank of the quarter back Antonio O'Ferral comes in to return the punt from Gator kicker Bayne Edge.

O'Ferral, who appeared late in last week's drubbing of Kent, never that seturmed a punt in a game. The kick lands in the endzone this time, but late in the third quarter, he does.

Florida redshirt quarterback Dan-ny Wuerffel throws to Willie Jack-son near the goalline. UK's Duce Williams bites on a fake, and Jack-son ties the game.

Florida outscored UK in the final quarter 15-6 and totaled all of those within eight minutes.

Volleyball Cats corral Lady Longhorns

They took the bull by the horns. The 14th-ranked UK volleyball team defeated No. 3 Texas in a five game shoot out 16-18, 15-12, 15-1, 6-15, 15-9 to remain unbeaten on the year and hand the Lady Longhorns their first loss.

"This is a big win for our program," head coach Fran Ralston-Flory said.

have to play Texas again, and that will be the important match."

UK (6-0) came out strong in the opening game, grabbing an early 3- 0 lead bethind two solid spikes by outside hitter Krista Robinson.

After a short Texas rally put the Lady Longhorns up 4-3, UK went on a 6-0 run and appeared to take charge before Lady Longhorn's two senior stars Kaity Jameyson and Holly Graham took over.

With Jameyson serving, Texas (6-1) scored seven straight points to take a 14-12 lead.

"I was totally focused coming into this match. I wanted to win this match really bad." Robinson said.

UK destroyed Texas in game three, 15-1. Senior setter Jane Belanger seemed to be in the right place at the right time as she made several difficult assists.

"After game four, we realized that passing was the key to the match," senior Ann Hall said. "The way the tempo was going in all the games, I really felt that we would not lose game five."

"Texas is the team that always fires me up. I do not know why. I guess it is because we always seem to have to play against them late in the year and lose to them at the last minute," Hall said.

"We thought serving short was their weakness. The key to the match was taking away the middle blockers because we did not feel there outside hitters would beat us, and they did not," Ralston-Flory said.

After four years of hard work and little reward, Moore and his Cats finally had their breakthrough win. The defense, injured, maligned and offended all week, had held the Southeastern Conference's top offense to 17 points. For 59 minutes and 52 seconds, they had been magnificent, stepping up at exactly the right time for the big stop.

But of course, they still play 60 minutes in college football. And Florida proved it still knows how to win, this time with a backup freshman quarterback finding a former walk on for a game-winning touchdown.

Blue Jays win, grab 2-game lead

TORONTO — The Toronto Blue Jays completed a three-game sweep yesterday as Paul Molitor's three-run homer broke a fifth-inning scoreless tie in a 4-1 victory against the California Angels.

The victory moved the Blue Jays two games ahead of the New York Yankees, who lost 10-2 at Kansas City.

The homer, Molitor's 19th, matched his career-high set in 1982, and gave the 37-year-old designated hitter 100 RBIs for the first time in his 16-year career to become the oldest player to record his first 100-RBI season. It came off Chuck Finley (14-12).

Dave Stewart (9-8), forced to leave after re-aggravating his right groin, which he pulled on Aug. 26, allowed one run on four hits in 6 1-3 innings for the victory.

Photographer paints with pictures

For Levy, photography can be made into an art form

By Regan Rock Contributing Writer

UK students who don't spend time at the Reynolds Building may be unaware that a critically acclaimed artist is living and working right here on the Lex-

Sherman's Alley by Gibbs & Voigt

The moral and spiritual angst that characterizes many Allen films is conspicuously absent from this movie, which was made during the bloody, personal battle the director has fought with former lover and co-star Mia Farrow.

Allen plays an editor, Larry, in a New York publishing house, whose wife Carol (Diane Keaton) begins to suspect their neighbor may have murdered his wife.

The movie's somewhat generic title belies the fact that it is an homage to great murder mysteries of the past. There are scenes that recall "Rear Window," "Dial 'M' for Murder," "Double Indemnity" (which the characters actually go to see in the this movie) and other classic Hollywood thrillers.

Allen's script also reveals his fa-miliarity with the mystery genre, as it is replete with twists and blind curves and the occasional red her-ca Larry spouts to cope with his own terror.

The absence of this tension really doesn't hurt the film. Allen's incessant and very funny one-liners make the audience confident that no matter how harrowing the circumstances, nothing tragic awaits the main characters.

In "Mystery." Allen sacrifices the generic-thriller feeling of physical menace, instead poking fun at the seriousness with which those movies often take themselves.

As with any Woody Allen film, "Mystery" is more complex than dizzying hand-held camera shots and rapid-fire comedy. Like other Allen films, "Mystery" also explores the intricate relationship between human notions of life and death.

Fans of Pearl Jam, Nirvana. Tool and Smashing Pumpkins, please welcome Dig into the fascinating and overflowing world of that exceedingly popular and formerly aphetic genre known exclusively as "grunge" rock.
Yes, that term thrown at absolutely every band from Seattle and any band dressed in flannel and ripped jeans has been cursed upon one more band.

Dig consists of vocalist/guitarist Scott Hackwith, guitarists Jon Morris and Johnny Co bassist Phil Friedman and drummer Anthony Smedile. The band is touring with King Miss

Hackwith does not grunt as much as Kurt Cobain but sings more in the style of Smashing Pumpkins' vocalist Billy Gorgan.

However, his voice can be filled with as much pent up frustration as Eddie Vedder, yet still captures that 'take life as it is' sound that Gor-gan manages to portray.

with the idea to the extent that she breaks into his apartment to search for clues.

Investigating the murder be-comes Carol's only means to feel alive and invigorated.

Her marital relationship is, in some sense, dead when the movie starts, and it is through the couple's growing fascination with this murder and their greater proximity to death, that it is resuscitated.

An interesting double feature would be to pair this movie with "Crimes and Misdemeanors," Allen's dark, powerful 1989 film in which a man has his mistress killed to save his reputation.

In the latter work, a lover was killed in favor of a wife, in this film the reverse appears to be true. Yet, both deal with the notion of using death as a means of preserving or enhancing life.

"Manhattan Murder Mystery" just approaches this rather grim topic with a well-honed sense of humor that is distinctly Woody Al-len.

people. It's crazy.

Although students are the majority of the crowd that fills The Ho, the restaurant usually gets a diverse group of customers.

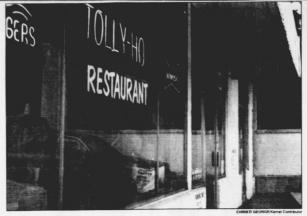

Business men, families and people from the streets come in regularly.

He also said the restaurant does fine during the off-season when the students aren't even around.

Nonetheless, The Ho has the repu tation of being one of the best hang-outs for UK's students.

The hours, the food and the small-town atmosphere attract students daily.

"The Ho is a UK tradition. It is just a great place to hangout," biolo-gy junior John Hargman said.

Tolly-Ho, affectionately called 'The Ho,' has been a popular hangout for UK students for many years. Students say the food, the atmosphere and the hours are among the reasons they return.

I've heard today," Wethington said.
"I think that's what's been missing. We know we have some problems, but it's good to hear we're doing some things well."

The conference concludes today at the Holiday Inn-Fern Valley in Louisville.

Arafat would sport his traditional pistol, neatly pressed green fatigues and black-and-white checkered headdress to the White House.

"I think it was much more difficult for him to change his garb than to change the real politics behind it, but symbols sometimes are very difficult to fade out," said Arafat's aide, Nabii Shaath.

Three Israeli soldiers were killed by Muslim militants opposed to the accord, and the thorny dispute over the future of Jerusalem surfaced.

While praising the self-government agreement as "an important, positive and correct step," Arafat also told reporters before leaving Tunis for Washington that the agreement would lead to "an independent Palestinian state, with Jerusalem as its capital."

"He can forget about it," was Ra-bin's retort when told of Arafat's prediction.

"I assure Chairman Arafat that . Jerusalem will remain always unit-ed under Israel's sovereignty and our capital forever."

"The Blessed Virgin said she'll take care of us," Feldman said.

"Sometimes I get a little scared," said Arlinghaus. "But we know we're supposed to go."

The two are ameng 48 people from the Cincinnati area on a 10-day tour led by the Rev. Leromand Smith, former pastor of St. Joseph Church in Cold Spring. Feldman and Arlinghaus said they weren't sure how many others were bound for the same refugee camp.

Feldman's husband, Earl, said the two women took 40p pairs of shoes and socks, numerous coats and some medicine. Each boarded the plane Wednesday with the maxi-
