Wildcats Tackle Rebels Tomorrow

Mississippi Contest Is First SEC Game

By Tom Diskin
Kernel Sports Editor
The University of Mississippi, football champions of the South, will meet the Kentucky Wildcats in the final contest on this fall. Game time is 8 p. m.
Last week both teams oozed the 1948 campaign with victories. Kentucky swamped a weak Xavier team, 48-7, while Ole Miss clipped Florida, 14-0 at Gainesville.

The game tomorrow night will feature the excellent forward wall of Ole Miss versus the speedy backs of the Wildcats. The Rebels' back line team, which averages 203 pounds per man, is considered one of the best in the South in recent years. Six of the seven linemen have lettered at least twice in former seasons with Ole Miss. The seventh man, Center Ken Farragut, is only one year younger, but he received a letter last year as a freshman.

In the backfield, the Rebels are relatively new. The quarterback post is somewhat of the Wildcat's, Coach Johnny Vaughn. However, fullback, Arthur Salomon, first-year linemen caller for the Red and Blue returned in a fine game against Florida last week and may have solved that problem for UM. Only time will tell.

Kentucky is ready to make the game the fifth between the teams, each having won two contests in the past. In 1944, Kentucky won here in a football game, 19-10. In 1945, Ole Miss took honors 21-7 at Memphis. In 1946, in Coach Bryant's first game as head of the Wildcats, Kentucky won 20-10. Last season, the Rebels upset UK, 14-7, at Oxford, as Charley Conery and Barney Poole teamed up to prove themselves.

The All-American Conery, who set a new all-time collegiate passing yard record for Kentucky in the season of 1947, is no longer on the squad. Left end Barney Poole, now the head of the football team, is a senior and this is absolutely his last at Ole Miss. These two stars combined to score 108 points for the Red and Blue in 11 games for the 1947 campaign. Conery, now with the New York Giants professional gridiron, threw 70 TD passes.

Book, meanwhile, set a new national college record for yardage caught during a regular season with 85 spots for 823 yards and eight touchdowns. The 8' 3", 220 pound Poole was selected in 10 different All-American teams at the conclusion of last season. He was also selected in 1944 and again in 1946 as All-American end at Army.

Cousin Phillip At Guard
Other starters in the Ole Miss line will be Roland Deane, a 6' 2", 185 pound left tackle; Phillip Poole, cousin to Barney, expected to start at left guard. He is a senior, 5' 7" and weighs 205 pounds. The center will be 6' 4", 225-pound Ken Farragut, a very promising sophomore. On the right side will be

I don't know exactly how it happened, but all of a sudden I was being involuntarily swept up a ramp that led to—I knew not where—and in a mass of mad maniacs that probably knew less. My only clue to my destination was a small grey ticket indicating a certain seat, which had been thrust into my hand somehow and mysteriously had come out of nowhere, snatched my little ticket, tore it in two and handed me the half minus the seat number. I was then muffled at by another party that there would be no reserved seats. And the crowd charged on.

The Kentucky Kernel

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Kernel: During the five years that I have been at this University working toward a B.A. degree, I have been an ardent and faithful reader of The Kentucky Kernel.

It is only in the last two years that I have noticed in its pages a marked trend toward moralism. I believe this attitude is typified by a letter printed last week on the editorial page.

The letter to which I refer was written by one Green Pearl McFisch on the subject of intoxicating beverages. (And this is not the first such letter of a moral tone contributed by Miss McFisch.)

Of course Miss McFisch has a right to her own opinion. But has she the right to use the Kernel, supposedly the voice of all UK students, to foster the opinions of the WCTU? And has she the right to invade the privacy of loyal UKians flocking to a football game and photograph them at their innocent gambolings?

World Miss McFisch do away with the traditions of Kentucky? With distilleries moonshine stills, and Rose Street taverns? Would Miss McFisch leave hundreds of mountain families without an income?

It is my opinion that Miss McFisch is pushing her opinions and ideals a little too far when she tries to force them on the student body

Ed. Note: The Kernel is not trying to reform the student body. The Kernel is not trying to close down Rose Street's taverns. The Kernel is not trying to do Kentucky's mountains folk out of their daily bread. Miss McFisch is entitled to the use of the 'Letters to the Editor' column, and her opinions are not necessarily those of The Kernel.

Where's Your Pep?

Last Friday night the first pep rally of the year was held behind the Student Union Building. It was a pep rally in name only.

A rally, according to Mr. Webster, is "a mass meeting intended to arouse group enthusiasm." If we accept Webster's definition to be correct, then the meeting held to "inspire the football team to victory" was more like an old maid's sewing circle.

An unofficial count placed the attendance at approximately 250 hardly enthusiastic souls. For a university with an enrollment of about seven-and-a-half thousand, this is worse than a disgrace!

We know that at least five sororities on the campus gave rush parties the night of the "rally." We also know that at least eight other organizations, supposedly sponsored by the University of Kentucky, gave parties of one form or another at the time their guests should have been out cheering their team on.

At the rally, members of the team and coaching staff were introduced. One would have thought they were going to the guillotine from the "thunderous" ovation they received, rather than to a football game they were destined to win.

It's about time the students on this campus realized school spirit is more than something to read about in the accounts of Notre Dame football battles. Let's get behind our teams. We're not ashamed of them - why should they be ashamed of us?

Just A Reminder

An article appeared in this newspaper July 9, 1948, concerning an announcement by Dean of Men Kirwan that "Although the lounge and game room of Bowman Hall will not be open to women visitors at all times, certain days and hours will be designated for that purpose, and a chaperone will be provided." Dr. Kirwan further stated that plans for informal recreation and for formal dances and parties would be put into effect at the beginning of the fall semester, and that University men will be permitted to entertain visitors in the recreation rooms at that time.

So far, the plans as stated in the article have not been carried out, and at Bowman Hall's official "open house" last Sunday, many of the residents of the dormitories were asking the question, "When may we start entertaining our dates in these rooms, instead of merely at open house?"

Just a question - and a reminder.

FULLBACK CLAYTON WEBB

Player Of The Week: Clayton Webb

By Kent Hollingsworth

Plunging the sombrero high for the 18-year-old Clayton Webb! The sophomore engineering student from St. Albans, West Virginia, not only scored two touchdowns against Xavier last Saturday night, but intercepted three enemy passes, and got hold of the ball seven times to run 90 yards for an average of 13.7 yards per try. Webb weighs a solid 190 pounds, measures 5 feet 11 inches tall, and is described by backfield coach Frank Mosley as a boy who really likes to play football, has "lean-muscle," and a great deal of drive.

Clayton is fast, a sure passer, and an excellent punter. The way he bucked the line for five yards at a crack last Saturday figures to be an important man in Coach Bryant's plans for a bowl team. Hailed as a sure fire prospect by the coaching staff last year, Webb had all the breaks come his way. At least that's what happened the first time he got his hands on the ball in a varsity game last year. He went scooting around right end and ran smack dab into a bunch of burly Bearcats from Cincinnati. Webb got up, shrugged it off rather awkwardly and hung up his football shoes for the season with a broken collar bone. Thus his freshman season ended after only one run. However he bounced back last spring and turned out for baseball practice. As on the football field, speed, hustle, and a good throwing arm sparked his play. Although he didn't meet the ball too well at first, at the end of the season he started hitting it consistently and far, and is slated as a starter next spring.

Other nominees for Player of the Week were: Norman Klein, senior from Louisville who did some banging running, and Big Bob Gain, Kentucky's Rock of Gibraltar, who did a stalwart job in the line.

[Cuff Notes]

Ken (Dynamite) Parragut, Moss Point, Miss., sophomore, is the heavyweight center in Ole Miss grid history, scaling in at 225 pounds. He's 6 foot 4 inches in height, 19, and married. Frank Smotherman, giant Kentucky tackle, has been going through light workouts this week and might see service against Mississippi tomorrow. Smotherman, a 6 foot 4 inch, 215 pound junior from Murfreesboro, Tenn., has been sidelined with a leg injury. Ole Miss last year defeated every "A" styled team they faced... Kentucky, Florida, South Carolina, Tulane and LSU.

Halfback Bobby Wilson Rebel's Top Triple Threat

"Bobby Wilson has the ability to become a great football player and we expect him to begin no later than September 25, 1948. He's a good runner, a fine kicker, and I believe he will develop into a good passer." So said the University of Mississippi Head Coach Johnny Vaught, of his capable tailback, last spring.

It was on September 25, 1948 that Bobby Wilson snagged a Florida pass on his own two-yard line, and picking up some solid blocking, ran the other 88 yards to help in the Ole Miss 14-0 victory over Florida. Last year the 6'1" physical education major played understudy to "Chuckin'" Charlie Conerly and was used mostly on defense. However, he gained reputation as an enemy pass snagger, pulling down five loose ones to go for 150 yards and lead the nation in that department.

Nearly Missed Ole Miss

As he was from Piedmont, Alabama, Wilson promptly showed up at the Tusculooosa school following his 22-month tenure in the Army. Receiving very little encouragement from Frank Thomas and his aides, Wilson gave up his dream of succeeding Gilmer, and enrolled in the rebel camp at Oxford, Miss.

He's interested for two years and has a couple more to go, one of which he can throw footballs at that Grand Old Man of collegiate football, Barney Poole.

also was the chief fence buster.

Wilson Versatile Bobby Wilson is slowly developing into one of the best backs around the Magnolia State. He handles the bulk of the Rebels punting and also excels at passing. In 1946, Wilson completed seven aeriels in 15 attempts; in 1947, his average was six good in 13 tosses.

Last season, the fleet-footed halfback intercepted six enemy passes, including one for 56 yards against Chattanooga, another for 35 yards in the LSU game, and then a 35-yard interception against Mississippi State.

He is one man to watch Saturday night, along with Barney Poole, Fatsy "Fish" Salmon and Duke Howell.

Cats Unbeaten Here By Johnny Rebs

Kentucky has met Ole Miss four times; the Cats won the first and third games on Stoll Field, while the Rebels took the two played in their back yard. As this is the fifth year, and the game is to be played on Stoll Field, the Wildcats are rated 6 point favorites.

Cats Maul Muskies, 48-7; Webb & Jones Score Twice

By Dudley Sanders

Coach Paul Bryant lifted the curtain last Saturday night on his third annual production of the Kentucky Wildcats before 22,000 gridiron fans in McLean stadium.

The antagonist, Xavier Muskies found the Wildcat Warblers dramatically potent in a flashy sort of way and left immediately after the game to return to Cincinnati for a little more seasoning. Oh yes, Kentucky won, 48-7. What Kentucky's front-line chorus lacked, the backfield stars made up for in speed and razzle-dazzle. Paced by George Blanda's passing, Norman Klein's running, and Clayton Webb's pass defense, the Wildcats rolled up two markers in the first, third and fourth quarters and a single marker in the second period.

End Wah Jones and Clayton Webb scored twice, Ben Zaranka, Don Prael and Norm Klein once each. Bob Gain split the uprisings for four points and Bobby Brooks for two.

Zaranka Scores First Kentucky's first touchdown march started in its own 38. Lee Truman picked up six yards, and then Norm Klein sprinted 27 yards for a first down on the X 29. Two plays later George Blanda passed to Benny Zaranka for 27 yards and a touchdown. Bob Gain converted a n.d. Kentucky lead 7-0, after five minutes of play.

Xavier took over on its own 20 and drove 80 yards to score their lone touchdown on a McQuade-to-DeFranco pass from the Wildcat 25. Kefe converted and the score was 7-7 with 10 minutes gone. Phelps returned the kick-off to the 30. Then Norman Klein went off tackle for the longest run of the evening from scrimmage to score after a 70 yard run. Gain once again split the uprisings and Kentucky was away 14-7. Nine minutes were gone in the second quarter before Don Phelps fired a running jump pass to Wah ones in the end zone, who made a leaping catch. Gain's conversion was good. Kentucky 21, Xavier 7. Another Kentucky drive carried to the X 21 as the half ended. Second Half Midway in the third quarter Kentucky started a drive from midfield that was climaxed by Blanda's pass from the 18 to Jones on the six. Wah plowed the remaining six yards to score his second T.D. of the evening, and Gain bootied his fourth p.a.t. to practically settle any doubt as to who was running the show. Barely a minute later Clayton Webb made the first of three brilliant pass interceptions on the 32 and scampered to pay dirt. Brook's effort for the conversion was futile because of a bad pass from center Kentucky 34, Xavier 7. In the fourth quarter Hebb intercepted another McQuade pass the 12 and returned it to mid-field. Kentucky lost the ball on down but Don Frampton immediately r.

Barney Poole Now In Eighth Season Of College Football

The names of Poole and the University of Mississippi are practically synonymous in Southern football circles. For in the last decade a steady stream of "Pooles" of all sizes have flowed through the Oxford, Miss. institution.

At the present time, Barney is in the limelight for the clan. His reputation is well known around Lexington. Last season, the famous Charley Conerly-to-Poole aerial combination was the major factor in the Wildcats' 14-7 defeat at Oxford to open the 1947 campaign. This passing combine went on from this game to break the collegiate record for number of completed aerials in one season. Needless to say, both Conerly, now with the New York Giants pro gridder, and Barney made All-American honors.

Poole is a senior, 25 years of age, stands six-foot, three-inches, and tips the beams at 225 pounds solid avoirdupois. This is now his eighth season of collegiate football. Here is the story.

Barney entered Ole Miss in 1941 and played there both that year and in 1942. Then he entered service and eventually landed with the University of North Carolina, eleven under the V-12 program of the Marines. That season he stood out and was named All-Conference, on the 1942 selections.

The big boy from Gloster, Miss., then applied for admission to West Point, was accepted, and in the fall of 1944 joined the Army elite along with two other fellows named Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard, whom you may have heard of in recent years.

Twice All-American

These three, along with a few more All-Americans, teamed up to form the great Army teams of 1944, 1945, and 1946. Barney made the All-American selections in '45 and '46. At West Point, Poole was responsible for 10 blocked punts in three seasons.

After leaving the Point, Barney somehow made his way back to Mississippi and decided to join the Rebels since the seasons with North Carolina and Army did not count, as it was part of his "service training."

Since he only played two years before the war at Ole Miss, Barney then rejoined the Red and Blue as a junior back in 1947. This will definitely be his final season with Ole Miss. Rumors have it that Mr. Barney turned down a $12,000 offer from the N.Y. Giants professional gridder last January. He preferred to remain at his beloved school. Possibly the huge end might accept the offer after the '48 season and join Conerly in the pro ranks.

Real Football Family

Barney, Jim and Ray are often considered the best football family in the country. Jim, now an Ole Miss coach, formerly starred with the Giants, making the All-Professional team three times. Ray, an All-SBC end in 1946 and UM's captain in '47, now has succeeded his brother Jim at the Giants' terminal position.

Another family of Pooles are Oliver, Fleming, Phillip and Jackie—all present or past members of the rebel eleven.

Then comes the clan featuring Leslie, a former player, and three up-and-coming brothers, namely Frank, now 18 years old; Shirlee, 16, and Conway, 14 years old. Naturally they intend to enter Ole Miss after finishing high school at Gloster.

Oliver, mentioned above, played with the N. Y. Yankees gridiron team; Jackie is a sophomore on Ole Miss this season; 21 years old and base, Phillip, second base; Fleming, shortstop; Jackie, third base.

One summer recently, the Poole folks got together and formed a very successful baseball team. Barney caught, Ray pitched. At the other positions were Oliver, first an ex-Navy vet, Leslie is a tackle; Phillip a guard.

Ray Property Of Cubs

Incidentally, Ray Poole was signed by the Chicago Cubs baseball team and last season hurled for the Memphis Chicks. Ray also scored the only touchdown for the Rebels on a pass from Clayton Blount in Mississippi's last appearance at Stoll Field back in 1946, when UK trimmed the boys from the Magnolia State, 20-7.

In 1947, natural gas was sold to more than 10,000,000 customers by gas utility companies.

Petroleum experts believe the present shortage may last another four or five years.

Wildcats Maul

covered a fumble on the Xavier 28. Bianda's passing moved it to the four yard line, where Webb barked around right end for the score. Brooks converted to make it 41-7.

With less than two minutes to go, McQuade fired a pass that was intercepted by Don Fucci on the 23 and returned 77 yards for the final Wildcat touchdown. Brooks converted to make the final score 48-7.

DisKentucky

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

According to the football "experts," Kentucky is a six-point favorite to win over the Mississippi Rebels in their clash tomorrow night.

However, in the practice sessions early this week, the Wildcats looked very mediocre, especially on running plays, and might easily be upset by Ole Miss.

Coach Paul Bryant was very much disturbed Wednesday evening, after watching the Cats workout. He was worried over the lack of spirit and drive that his griders displayed Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

The 34-year-old mentor said that his scouts are of the opinion that the Rebel line is "one of the best ever seen on a college football team," or at least judging by their play last week against Florida Gators at Gainesville.

Head football coach at Mississippi is John H. Vaughn, who had quite a season in 1947—his first campaign as a head pilot. After the Rebels copped the SEC championship, he was nominated as the league's Coach-of-the-Year, the first freshman mentor ever to gain that distinction.

Shortly thereafter, Ole Miss made its initial appearance in a post-season bowl game and led a strong TCU squad, 13-6.

Another outstanding event of the 1947 season for Ole Miss was their first win over Tennessee in 45 years.

Vaughn is a native of Olney, Texas. In 1932 he was named All-American at Texas Christian. Since that time he has tutored at North Carolina, Corpus Christi Naval Air Station, and North Carolina Preflight, the latter two during the war.

To supplement the loss of Charley Conerly, Coach Vaughn has incorporated the "T" formation, besides the usual Notre Dame box system in the Rebel offensive strategy.

Kentucky's 48 points against Xavier last Saturday were the most scored on a Musketeer eleven since 1946. X's All-Ohio tackle, Ray Stachouse, played a very poor game last week in comparison to last season's citizen-scouter at Cincinnati. . . . Dom Fucet's 77-yard run in the Xavier battle so impressed one Louisville scribe that he moved the New Yorker led right up behind George Blanda as the team's top quarterback. . . . Ole Miss's Barney Poole was selected on 12 different All-American teams in 1947. . . . that loud silence that you hear this week came from down Knoxville way as the Volunteer followers rubbed their eyes in disbelief at the 21-7 licking by Mississippi State Saturday. . . . thank heavens that State's Shorty McWilliams did not decide to follow his former teammate, Barney Poole, from West Point to Ole Miss after the 1946 season. . . . Instead, he returned to the Starkville, Miss. institution, where he started as a freshman before going to Army to play next to Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard.

Cage Tryouts For Freshmen Begin October 6

By Tom Spillman
Basketball tryouts will be held in Alumni Gym for all freshmen who are interested, on Wednesday and Thursday, October 6 and 7, at 3 p.m.

Freshman Coach Harry Lancaster announced that each man must bring his own equipment for the tryout.

Although the frosh with basketball scholarships began practice Monday afternoon, Coach Lancaster emphasized the fact that there are vacancies in the squad which, at top strength will number 15. This is the final year for several men of the top team of the nation, and this year's frosh will count heavily in the future varsity competition.

The Southeastern Conference rule, stating that men must serve their first college year on the freshman team before stepping up to the varsity, has been reinstated after being relaxed during the war.

No definite cage schedule has been planned, but titles with the freshman squads of KMAC and junior colleges will be arranged. Among those under consideration are Georgetown College, Kentucky Wesleyan, Asbury College, and the Ashland and Cumberland Junior College teams.

FARLEY (FISH) SALMON is the Rebel's top quarterback. He'll do most of the passing Saturday. Salmon, a 5'8 1/2", 155-pound senior from Clarksville, Miss., was moved from right halfback to the signal-calling position after the 1947 season to replace Charles Conerly.

According to the athletic directors and coaches of the SEC, here is how the teams will finish for 1948: 1. Tech; 2. Tennessee; 3. Alabama; 4. Georgia; 5. Kentucky; 6. Vanderbilt; 7. Mississippi State; 8. Mississippi will be played until additional field space is obtained at University High. All games will be played on the intramural field at the rear of Alumni Gym, until further notice. Games will begin at 4:00 and 5:00 p.m. Schedules of games are posted in Alumni gym basement.

Bill McCubbin, I-M Director, announced that officiating will be handled mainly by Physical Education majors enrolled in sports officiating classes.

John Crosswhite has been added to the intramural staff as Assistant I-M Manager. John will assist in conducting the touch football and volleyball teams, and will be charged with scoring team and individual participation points. Other appointments to the staff will be announced soon.

TENNIS DELAYED

Eighty-five tennis entrants await clearing skies to demonstrate their racket skills. Among the top contenders for net honors are some of last season's finalists: SAE's Holland; and SK's Mosley. Upsets are predicted, particularly in the doubles tourney.

GOLF

Approximately 74 potential "divot-replacers" are ready to get under way on Picadome's fairways, to match strokes. Prognosticators are predicting SN's John Abel; KA's Griffin; KS's Dunn; and SAE's Wright. They are listed as the ones to beat in the contest for golfing honors.

Participants are urged to get student tickets, available only to tournament players, at the Intramural Office, priced at 50 cents.
