Miss Anne English, mezzo-soprano, will present the opening Sunday Afternoon Musicale of this season's series in Memorial Hall at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Miss English, who received her Master of Arts degree with a major in music last June, is an instructor in voice in the music department during the sabbatical leave of Almo Kiviniemi this semester. Mr. Kiviniemi is now taking advanced work under Bernard Taylor at the Juillard School of Music in New York City. Upon his return, Miss English will resume her studies also with Mr. Taylor.

PIANO ACCOMPANIST will be Miss Ann Hudcletton, who is known to Lexington audiences as accompanist for the University Men's Glee Club and for advanced vocal majors. Others will be members of Phi Beta musical fraternity.

Numbers ranging from compositions by Bach, Schumann, Gluck and Wolf to folk songs of Finland, Wales and the Appalachian regions of the United States, have been selected by Miss English.

The schedule for the Sunday Afternoon Musicales for the season 1950-51 is:

SEPT. 15, Nathaniel Patch, pianist; NOV. 5, Arnold Blackburn, organist at Christ Episcopal Church; NOV. 11, Earl Holloway, baritone; DEC. 3, Gordon Kinney, cellist, and the University Chamber Music Group; DEC. 10, Christmas Program, University Choralists.

English Club Will Sponsor Plays, Talks

The English Club plans to sponsor several one-act plays, prominent speakers, and a folklore evening.

David Lewis, president, said at the club's first meeting Monday night.

Another project which is still indefinite is the founding of a campus literary magazine.

All undergraduate students in all colleges and departments are invited to join the English Club. Organized only last year, the club promotes student participation in creative writing, drama, and folklore, and cooperates with the speech department in bringing outstanding speakers to the campus.

Other officers of the club are Dot Harrod, vice-president, and Cliff Stamper, secretary.

Grads Wed Too Late

College graduates marry too late, says Cornell Sociologist Dr. W. W. Anderson in a UP dispatch yesterday. College graduates are marrying sooner or be faced with the possibility that at some future time college graduates produced by college graduates will be practically extinct.

Anderson surveyed some 1500 Cornell graduates. At the time of graduation the men were about 23 years old. However, the average age at which the graduates married was 28, considerably older than the average for the rest of the population.

Author Will Address Education Students

Mrs. Marguerite Henry, author of children's books, will speak to elementary education students at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the auditorium of the William S. Taylor Building.

Mrs. Henry has recently completed "Born to Trot". Her book "King of the Wind", a story of the ancestors of Man o'War, won the Newbery award for the outstanding children's book of last year.

The author will autograph books at Wolf Wile's department store on Wednesday afternoon.

Y-Membership Drive Will End Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the last day of the Y-Membership Drive. Students wishing to join may do so at the ticket booth in the SUB.

Membership fees are $1. New members may pledge any amount they wish to the Y which may be paid at any time.

The organization is divided into active and associate membership. The active members take part in

Six Nominated For UK Board Of Trustees

Six persons have been nominated for four-year term on the UK Board of Trustees. Three of the six nominees will be selected by the nominees of University alumni, and one of the three will be named by Governor Barlow. Clements to succeed H. D. Palmore when his term on the board expires Dec. 31.

The nominees are H. D. Palmore, Frankfort; James S. Shropshire and William H. Townsend, both of Fayette County; Iley Baker Browning, Ashland; Mrs. Bess Hayden Collins, Louisville; and Thomas H. Cutler, Frankfort.

Kernel Will Be Distributed To Greeks Via P.O. Boxes

The Kentucky Kernel will be circulated to fraternity and sorority houses this semester through the University post office. Yo Coulter, Kernel circulation manager, has announced.

Each group must sign up for a box at the post office, and ten Kernels will be placed in the box every Friday.

Misunderstanding Is Blamed For Card Section Turmoil

By Paul Knapp

"Lack of understanding was the reason for the postponement of the planned card-section at the UK-LSU game," Frank Maturro, president of SUKY, stated this week.

"By learning more about it, students will be more willing to cooperate."

Breaking down his reason further, he went on to say, "There had been a mix-up on the time the gates were to open. By the time the assigned persons arrived, other students were in the seats and refused to move. This week there will be more users and additional petitioners to see them properly."

The card section is composed of 966 choice seats in the student section of the stadium. These seats are in a block 42 seats long and 23 rows high ranging from the 50 yard line to the 20 yard line.

THESE SEATS WILL BE distributed to organized groups, such as residence halls, fraternities, and sororities, and to individuals who may reserve two seats each.

In an undertaking of this kind it will be necessary for the organized group to petition for an allotment of seats. If the group fails to supply their allotment, they will be penalized by a reduction in the number of seats at the next game.

Groups should turn in their petitions not later than 12 noon Thursday before each game at the SUKY mailbox in the S.U.B. The petition must designate the person authorized to pick up the tickets. Tickets must be picked up on Friday before each game.

INDIVIDUALS may get their tickets at the S.U.B. ticket booth from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the Friday preceding each game.

Eugene Stevens, past-president of SUKY, agreed with Maturro that students do not yet realize the possibilities of this idea in entertaining the alumni and visitors in the stadium stands, nor the effect of this unified group upon the pep of the entire student body.

First Kyian Pictures To Be Taken Nov. 3

Individual pictures for the 1951 Kyian will be taken beginning on Monday, and will continue to Friday, Nov. 3, in the Y-Lounge of the Student Union Building, Mary Shinnick, editor, has announced.

Seniors and juniors are urged to sign up immediately for appointments. Only pictures taken by the official photographers at the Y-Lounge will be used in the Kyian. All sororities, fraternities, honoraries, administrative groups, juniors and seniors will have individual pictures in the Kyian.

Subscriptions for the 1951 Kyian will be sold in the Y-Lounge while pictures are being taken. The price through Nov. 3 is $4. After Nov. 3 the price will be $5.

All students are urged to order Kyians now, as there will be no extra copies for sale in the spring. Seniors will receive books upon payment of their graduation fee.

Dr. Gladden Writes Article For "Motive"

Dr. James C. Gladden, professor of sociology and teacher of the course, "The Family," is the author of an article appearing in the current issue of "Motive," the official magazine of the Methodist Student Movement.

The title of the article is "What Do College Women Prefer?" The preference Dr. Gladden discusses are: a career with marriage, a career without marriage, and a career of marriage.

Tau Sigma Will Hold Pre-Tryout Practices

Tau Sigma, honorary modern dance fraternity, will hold pre-tryout sessions Monday and Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. The Monday meeting will be in the Men's Gym. Final tryouts will be held October 9, 6:30 p.m. in the Women's Gym.

College Night Program To Feature Pep Rally, Carnival, Dance, and Show

HENRY DURHAM, JUANITA FERGUS, and JIMMY INMAN put their heads together to plan tonight's College Night program. Activities will include a pep rally, a carnival and a dance highlighted by a floor show.

Lances' Carnival Will Accept Entries

Entries in the annual entertainment contest at the University-Lances Carnival—should be mailed to Bob Gregory, 905 S. Limestone Street by Wednesday.

The Carnival will be held on Oct. 13 on the Intramural Athletic Field. Trophies will be given to first and second place winners.

The entry should explain the type of booth or show planned, and the approximate number of feet in frontage and depth it will require. This is done to prevent duplication of shows.

Booths or shows will begin performing at 7 p.m. or immediately after the Suky pep rally. The performances will cease promptly at 10:00 p.m.

Each entry must have a sponsor.

UK Students Eligible For Delta Upsilon Scholarships

Six regional leadership scholarships, valued at 500 each, will be awarded on Dec. 1 by the trustees of Delta Upsilon Educational Foundation.

The purpose of the scholarships is to give financial aid in education to male undergraduates in colleges and universities of the United States and Canada. These students must have shown leadership potentiality and actual constructive achievement on the campus.

Kentucky, along with 13 other states, is in region three. One award will be given to this region.

Letters of applications should be mailed to Delta Upsilon Educational Foundation, P.O. Box No. 1655, Columbus, Ohio.

These letters should include biographical data; a transcript of academic record in college; full information as to college activities and honors; financial need of the applicant; and a brief statement of the reasons the applicant believes he is worthy of a scholarship.

The letters should be accompanied by a picture of the applicant, two letters of recommendation from members of the faculty, and two letters from student leaders.

Successful applicants will be notified between Dec. 1-15, 1950.

Bible College Is Dedicated

The College of the Bible's new seminary building, located across the campus from Memorial Hall, was formally dedicated Wednesday.

The building, consisting of a chapel, library, and educational building, was long planned by the Transylvania faculty.

The dedication services were preceded by a tour of the buildings and a luncheon at the Student Union Building where UK's Dr. Herman Donovan spoke on "The Meaning of The Day."

UK Band Will Lead Parade To Festival

By Bill Mansfield

A pep rally will start the University's annual College Night program tonight at 6:45. Other events in the program, which is sponsored by the Student Union Board, SGA, and YM-YWCA, include a carnival, dance, and floor show. The Carnival program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The band will lead the pep rally at the Fine Arts Building and march to the men's dormitories to pick up the men students. From there they will continue down Base and Maxwell Streets where the sorority girls will join the parade, and then to the men's dormitories on Limestone Street.

The parade will end at the intramural field where the cheerleaders will lead the pep rally.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER the pep rally the College Night Carnival will begin in the lounge of the SUB. This year's carnival will feature a magician, puppet show, and movie, as well as the usual fortune teller, weight guessing booths, and candy gifts. The east entrance of the SUB will be open so that students will be able to go directly from the intramural field to the lounge.

At 8:30 p.m. the dance will start in the Bluegrass Room of the SUB. Music for the dance will be furnished by Tinker Bagarry and his orchestra.

BOB MCCOVAN will act as Master of Ceremonies for the floor show which will start at 8:30 p.m. in the Bluegrass Room. Included in the acts to be presented are Jean Carter, tap dancer; Lucian Rouse, guitar; and the Meltones Quartet.

There is no charge for any part of the College Night program which is presented to give freshmen students an opportunity to meet upperclassmen.

Contents Of Cornerstone Are Listed

The complete contents of the cornerstone of the Journalism-Publication Building, dedicated last week, have been announced by Dr. Neil Plummer, head of the Journalism Department.

The following books and papers have been sealed in the cornerstone: Catalog of the University; copies of the booklet printed for the dedication; The Lexington Leader, Sept. 20, 1950; the Lexington Herald, Sept. 20, 1950; the Louisville Courier-Journal, Sept. 20, 1950; the 1950 Kentuckyian; the May Alumni, featuring the Graham-McLaughlin story; Directory of the Kentucky Press Association; two copies of the Kentucky Press; printed information on National Newspaper Week; a schedule book for 1950-1951; a copy of the motion picture, The University in War and Peace; the Kentucky Kernel, Sept. 22, 1950; and the picture book, Your State University.

Those Without I-D Cards Meet Today At Coliseum

Pictures for identification cards will be taken at 3-5:30 p.m. today in the rear of Memorial Coliseum.

Students who have their pictures taken at this time will have their registration stubs stamped for use at Saturday's football game.

President Issues Statement Explaining I-D Picture Jam

"The students were impatient with standing in line. I don't blame them one bit. The students had ample reason to criticize the University for not having this worked out in such a way as to avoid those intolerable lines."

"However this was the first time the University has used this method of admitting students to all activities on the campus and as a result of this inexperience we didn't know we were likely to run into the jam which we had during registration."

"The company the University contracted to do this work positively stated that one camera would be sufficient and that the work would be done so rapidly that there would be no lines. The company fell down on the job and it was entirely responsible for the resulting confusion. The work of this company was inferior and different arrangements will be made next year."

"I should like to state that University officials did everything they could to facilitate the work and that they should be absolved from all blame. The responsibility for the confusion should rest entirely upon the contractor who fell down on his promise."

"The picture will be of use to the student in being admitted to all activities on the campus and in town for transacting business."

—PRESIDENT HERMAN L. DONOVAN

NANCY WEST pins the blue feather, symbol of Y-membership, on Shirley Akers as Sue Dossert, membership chairman, looks on. Other members of the cabinet joined the rally.

The Explanation

The thousands of students who have justly complained about "that horrible registration mess" will find the answers to some of their questions in President Donovan's statement on page 1.

Although it may not completely erase the memory of that endless line, we can find some consolation in the President's explanation and the assurance that different arrangements for the pictures will be made next year.

And while we're on the subject of better arrangements, let us include the distribution of the I-D cards. Those lines were almost as long and frustrating as the ones at registration. If the present distribution process can't be speeded up, perhaps the cards could be mailed to the students.

Keep The Office Open

Again the Kernel enters a complaint about the practice of closing important campus administrative offices one and one-half hours for lunch.

These offices, among the busiest of which are the Comptroller's and the Registrar's, all have enough employees to make possible an arrangement whereby lunch hours are staggered so that there is someone in the office at all times during the day.

The need for keeping these offices open is especially evident during this first part of the semester when students have so many fees to pay and so many other matters of business which must go through the administrative offices.

A student whose lunchhour coincides with that of the offices, and who works in the afternoon has no chance to transact his business. This also applies to the people downtown who often have business at the University, but who work from 8 to 5 and have their lunch hour from 12 to 1. And although most other offices are open until 4:30 or 5, the Comptroller's office closes at 4.

A plan for keeping these important offices open during this busy part of the day at least deserves a trial. It could then be determined whether or not the amount of business made continuation of the plan worthwhile.

Bouquets To The Band

Included in most rehearsals of the exciting Kentucky-LSU game were words of admiration for the University Marching Band, which made its first appearance of the year Saturday.

The band's snappy, new double-time step and constantly moving formations should erase the students' long-standing complaints about the band's "concert complex." This peppy aggregation will provide a lot of spirit which is so sadly lacking at most University games.

Another important change is the dropping of the meaningless title, "The Best Band in Dixie." This name, carried since 1936, only invited sharper criticism of the band and often antagonized visiting bands. We think there will be little mourning over its timely death.

Mr. Warren Lutz, new full-time band director, will be able to give more time to working out interesting and intricate formations such as those demonstrated at Saturday's game. These, plus precision marching and the use of such devices as lights at night games, promise to make the University band one the students can be proud of, no matter how good the visiting band may be.

Miss Owen, if it's not too much trouble, would you sit up front, please?

The Mailbox

DEAR Editor:

There Shall Be Light

Cupid is being murdered. The brave, I say, that knave, who put those lights in the Botanical Gardens is raining death and destruction upon the life of too many of the students. I say, students.

This must be stopped. I say stopped. In no other university would such a thing as this be permitted. I say, permitted. Likewise, I'm sure, it must also be stopped here. I say, stopped.

Under present conditions, it has become virtually impossible for students to enjoy each other's company during the cool of the evening. No longer is it possible to go to this place and meditate. I say, meditate.

Who are, I say, who are the persons who have ordered this darkness? They should be dealt with if the University expects to have students enroll here in the future, they must retrace their steps and demolish these enemies of mankind. I say, demolish.

That is all I have to say, dear editor. I say, say.

Sincerely,
Gen. E. Letric

Our Hero

Dear Editor:
This is the first of the semester, and this is the best time for me to say what I have been wanting to say ever since I first entered the doors of the Kernel newsroom. Yes, I'm going to complain, but I feel it's time someone did.

As a former Kernel staff member, I have had the chance to observe the newspaper procedures very closely—and I firmly believe that if arrangements were made to give the Kernel workers credits towards their journalism degree, the entire process of publishing a Kernel would be greatly simplified.

Only four of the workers on the Kernel staff receive a check for their work. This is greatly unfair, but if the credits system were adopted, students would look on it in an entirely different light.

Everyone connected with the Journalism Department will admit that the Kernel office are the place to learn the profession, even rather than the classroom. If they believe this, surely a credit system can be devised. Students spend many valuable hours in the Kernel, and these

Same Old Complaint

What has happened to the old UK school spirit? During recent football games the stands have sounded more like a morgue at midnight than the exciting event a football game should be.

The greatest blame should go to the student body which sits and stares at the cheerleaders with closed mouths, but perhaps a little more action on the part of the cheerleaders would help also. I know the cheerleaders are busy just like the rest of us, but a few acrobatic stunts on their part would

Kernels of the Past

Every student in the University as well as students in 150 other leading American colleges and universities, received their ballots in week for the "Peace Pail" conducted by the Association of College Editors in cooperation with the Literary Digest.

The survey at this time should show just as accurately as possible the sentiment of college students on the vital question of world armament or disarmament.

To make such improvements in the registration system as will speed up the arrangement considerably was decided by the committee on registration, meeting 4 p.m. in the registrar's office. Principal amount create a lot more interest and would probably wake up a few of the "sleepers."

We have a good team this year, and it deserves all the support we can give it. How about it, people? Why not leave a few of the cheers and help the cheerleaders do a better job? Perhaps if the Kernel printed some of the cheers more of us could make some noise to let the boys know we're behind them.

A Fan

Band Congratulated

As a football fan who always appreciates a good half-time show I want to congratulate Mr. Lutz and the "Best Band in Dixie" for the fine show they put on last Saturday night at the UK-LSU game.

I really believe it was one of the best performances I have seen. The sweatshirt theme was very effective and the "Four Leaf Clover" idea was especially good. I heard many fans comment later that they were really surprised at the improvement in the student body which sits and stares at the cheerleaders with closed mouths, but perhaps a little more action on the part of the cheerleaders would help also.

I know the cheerleaders are busy just like the rest of us, but a few acrobatic stunts on their part would

Freshmen Will Play Twelve Home Games

Tri-weekly shooting practices are getting sixteen varsity Wildcat cagers primed for the 1950-51 season which will see them in a new home. Full-scale drills will start about Oct. 15 in preparation for the Memorial Coliseum inaugural against Purdue on Dec. 9, according to Harry Lancaster, freshman and assistant varsity coach.

The squad gains seven players and loses three members from last year's Southeastern Conference champs.

New additions are six sophomores — Lin Castle, Frank Ramsey, Ches Riddle, Lou Fyeroopoulos, Elvith Price, and Cliff Hagan — and one transfer senior, Paul Lansau, a first-semester at Cornell two years ago. Hagan will not be eligible until February. Lansau said it was not definite whether Hagan, who averaged 28 points per game as a freshman last year, would use up a semester of eligibility this season.

Departed from the fold are Jim Line and Dale Barnstable, through graduation, and White Pearson, who didn't return to school this fall. Also Dick Pickmore, a high-scoring member of Lancaster's 1949-50 crew, did not come back.

Light workouts, set for every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, started Sept. 18.

One game has been added since a 23-game card was announced in August. The schedule is still incomplete.

Enrollment Is 6447 For Fall Semester

Enrollment figures for the fall semester now stand at 6447 students, Registrar Lee Sprowls has announced. This figure is just slightly less than the 6500 students expected to enroll at C.K. this fall.

This total includes 1531 students who enrolled under the G. I. Bill 172 at the College of Pharmacy, and 228 at the Northern Extension Center in Covington.

Despite all rumors to the contrary, it is NOT true that the United States is "Attached to Texas for rations and quarters."

Dr. Carr, professor emeritus of Latin from Columbia University, is back again as visiting professor at the University this year.

Dr. Carr is also the director of the service bureau of the American Classical League.

Clara-fying Campus Capers

By Clara Early

A week-end that the Sigma Nu's would call "real great" is in store for the social cats at UK come Friday.

COLLEGE NIGHT at the SUB, is really gonna be something! It starts off with a pep rally, and continues with a carnival, dance, and floor show. College Night will be loads of fun, everyone is invited, and what's more it's FREE! (Hard to believe?)

JOHNNY LONG'S BAND at Joyland will also get plenty of attention from the students. You can be sure that dancing and listening will be mighty popular to the tune of that soft, swing music.

CONGRATULATIONS to all you Greeks on a fine rush week. You really worked hard, and got a grand bunch of pledges.

REST OF LUCK to Hugh Hunt as he assumes the office of president of the Sig. Eps. Hunt is replacing Bill Reese as president. Bill, a member of the reserve, is waiting to receive his call into active service and did not return to school.

Dan Rawlins has taken over the duties of the vice-president, and Oakele Petrey the position of corresponding secretary.

Dr. Carr is also the director of the service bureau of the American Classical League.

Have you ever seen a more exciting game than the LSU-UK tussle last week-end? In spite of the wind that blew in from Alaska, it was a wonderful game.

OLE MISS AND UK will meet on the gridiron this Saturday for another thriller. Let's hope the boys will do as well as they did last week. Yes, fellows, we are really proud of you.

CUPID has been plenty busy on the campus since school began. Pins have been traveling, rings have been those permanent bands have been given and received, and several of placed on the third finger of the left hand.

Sorry it is impossible to supply a list of Cupid's Capers this summer, but we'll do our best to keep you posted on the happenings during the school year.

Here are Cupid's latest Capers.

Here Are The Details On Parking Permits

The following regulations for parking anywhere on the University campus are in effect under the administration of the Student Government Association.

Permits are issued, in respective order, to physically handicapped, faculty and staff, and commuters according to their distance from school as long as there is available parking space to accommodate these persons.

Special handicap cases may receive permits by consulting with the Student Government Association Judiciary Committee. This committee also reviews all other applications for permits and hears all violation appeals.

Any person parking on the campus without a parking permit will receive a traffic ticket.

When a student receives a ticket for a traffic violation, the ticket will cost $1 provided the ticket is acknowledged by payment or referring to the Secretary of the Student Government Association within one week of the date that the ticket was given. After one week has lapsed, the ticket is considered delinquent and costs $2.

If six or more tickets are accumulated against a person and he makes no appearance to pay his fine or report the ticket, the sixth ticket and every ticket thereafter will be $5 each.

All fines are to be paid to the Secretary of the Student Government Association in the Administration Building.

Fraternities List Pledges

73 Men Affiliate With Eight Groups

Despite the delayed pledging rule which severely cut fraternity pledging when it went into effect last fall, 73 men have been pledged by eight fraternities who have announced their lists. Ten other fraternities have not yet released the number of men they have pledged. The delayed pledging rule states that a student must have a standing of 1.9 or better before he is eligible to pledge a fraternity.

River parties, hayrides, house parties, and visits to ranches and other points of interest around the Bluegrass, were the general run of festivities during the two and one-half weeks that fraternities have been rushing.

The men pledged through this week were:

UK Mascot Cat Whines Displeasure

By Paul Garber, Jr.

A wildcat should have a name. This is the opinion of the University's wildcat mascot. It believes it should have a name suitable to its sex.

"I am a female," the wildcat said, "and I am a lady that desires a name that is soft and feminine, but wild enough to match my fierce nature. 'As you know,' the brown feline said, 'my physical proportions are delicately balanced. My measurements are distinctively small if you insist on having the perfect figure. The name I want must not only match my personality, but fit my physique.'

"My soft paws," she related, "are equipped with exquisite yet extremely sharp nails. These nails are useful in discouraging romantic and deceitful notions of acquaintances who wish to bother me."

"The brightly colored wildcat weighs about 30 pounds and requires two and one-half pounds of meat daily."

"The diet I receive is really very

Eight-Year-Old Majorette Offers Gridmen Competition

By Joe Coyte

Since the start of the present UK football season, a pint-sized, golden haired attraction has appeared on Stoll field at half-time who bids fair to out-pull Parilli and Company as a crowd-pleaser. Although she can't run 54 yards for a spectacular touch-down or throw a bullet pass, she can certainly throw a baton in a manner that has had the grownups sitting back in amazement.

You guessed it. The cause of all the half-time comment is a little lady named Donna Jo Wilson who is every day of eight-year-old. She is the partner of another talented twirler named Don Wilson who has been with the UK band somewhat longer than she, and who, incidentally, is her father.

The elder Wilson is somewhat close-mouthed about his own abilities, but he'll talk with understandable pride all day about Donna, and the following is what he'll tell you: DONNA HAS BREN three years and marching with her dad since she was four and a half. However, she did not put in an appearance at Stoll Field until two years ago. This is the first year that she has come into her own as an individual performer. As a matter of fact, Don will tell you with a grin that there are several tricks that he taught his offspring to do that he cannot bring off himself.

It seems that the body conformation of women, and especially the slender ones, is more suited to the rendering of certain stick tricks than that of the male. For instance, there is one trick that consists of throwing the baton around the neck then ending by passing it rapidly across the front of the stomach that few, if any, of the big boys can do. Donna does it with ease.

ALL OF THE little girl's virtuosity with the spinning bar can be traced to her Dad's wise and thorough training methods. Like all great coaches, Don has insisted that she master the fundamentals before going on to the trickier stuff. Donna started on the simplest routine, and then allowed to work up to the more intricate ones. It seldom takes her over two weeks to learn a routine. There are many of them, however, that it will be impossible for her to learn until she is much older. To date, Donna has mastered from 40 to 50 baton routines, which is nothing short of sensational, in anyone's books.

Don maintains that most of the credit for teaching Donna to twirl should be given to his wife for keeping the child at her lessons. After school each day, Donna comes home and practices for one half to three quarters of an hour with the baton just like any other kid would with the piano or sax. Then she goes out to play.

DONNA IS a normal girl with a normal eight-year-old's interests, and her father sees to it that the baton doesn't occupy too great a place in her activities. He spaces her appearances so that she won't spend too much time twirling, and yet will always have a goal to shoot at. For instance, after the appearances at the UK games are over, Donna and her father will give performances for various clubs and other such organizations about town. All through the year Donna is also entered in twirling contests in Kentucky and throughout the midwest, especially, where competition is keener. To date, she has won eight medals in rough competition.

This twirling business has its practical side which Don is quick to emphasize. For one thing it brought Donna out of a painful case of shyness that she was afflicted with before she took up the baton. Now she considers it no great shake to do her stuff before a crowd of 35,000. Perhaps the most practical aspect of allowing the little girl to perform, is that all the money she receives from performances, contests, etc., is being saved for her future schooling. And if there's a place that gives scholarships for twirling a baton, she's cinch to land one.

IF ANYONE THINKS that the Wilson duo has reached the height of its performing powers, Don cautions them to hold on to their hats at the Ole Miss game. Just as a rough idea of what will take place, Don says that Donna and he have just about perfected a routine whereby they throw the baton over the goal posts to each other. Also, as a highlight of this season's activities Donna and Dad will appear at the Tennessee game.

One of the questions that is frequently asked Don is whether he has any more children, and if so, do they also twirl the baton. Don answers yes he does have one other child, aged five. And does he twirl? Then Don will say a trifle sadly that the boy's only interest in life is with a smiling character who has probably never had a baton in his hands. His name is Hopalong Cassidy.

Band Offers Trophy Cup For Best Skit

A trophy will be awarded to the fraternity or sorority who contributes the best skit for the band to use in the homecoming game. Warren Late, University band director, announced.

At least half of tomorrow night's half-time show will be in the dark to permit the use of lighting effects. First the band will take the form of a cake while they play "If I Knew You Were Coming, I'd Baked A Cake". This will be a greeting to the Mississippi team. Then they will form a moon and a mountain, with the moon ascending the mountain, as they play "How High the Moon". Billy George, freshman, will be featured in a trumpet solo in "Stairway to the Stars."

Dating In South America Doesn't Exist, Says Native

By Dorothy McDaniel
Girls, here is your chance to find out what the South American girls have that we haven't. This information comes from an authoritative source, Hector Oliver, a UK engineering student from Cali, Columbia. Hector lists the following assets and liabilities on this question of the day.

1. The independent women and the American dating system are a shock to the South American, at first.
2. It is strange to see women not only sitting in bars, but smoking and drinking in public.
3. South American women are very dependent upon the man, more considerate of a man's wishes, more emotional, and command more respect than the women of the States.
4. The South Americans are also more individualistic in that they fall into a certain pattern and are not easily moved from it. There is no mad craze in South America. If one girl cuts off her hair, the rest do not adopt the style for the year.
5. All of their women are pretty, but have a different type of beauty. Instead of being thin, they have bigger hips and a heavier build.
6. Columbian women go to private schools, but rarely attend college. They are usually married by that time, because if a woman does not marry by the time she is 20.

THEY'LL BE TALKING

for some time to come about the great defensive game the Wildcats played last Saturday.

Threatened several times, the Cats rose up to thwart every LSU scoring threat and prove that the title they lost last year was the best defensive team in the country was no fluke. In 1949, they allowed an average of only 153.3 yards per game. And they set two new all-time college records by intercepting 28 passes and returning six of them for touchdowns.

On the runbacks, they traveled an even 700 yards and that shattered for plenty the old season's record for such returns, the total of 580 set by Texas in 1943.

The other record was a one-game mark, the 240 yards produced by interception runbacks during that massacre of Ole Miss, the opponent here Saturday night.

WAA News

By Anne Boyd

What with most of the lines gone things have just about settled down to normal UK life. This "normal life" here on campus, as the new students are learning, is far from just thought. WAA desk in the Women's Gym is no exception.

This year is slated to be the greatest. With its direct aim set to attempt to meet the needs of more people, WAA plans to offer a wider and more active program of sports than has ever been presented along these lines. More sports will be offered for tournament participation; it will be possible for competitors to put more members in each tournament. And several events will be offered as co-recreation.

So if you've been looking for some real fun and good times, stop your search—WAA has every thing you could possibly want in the line of sports on its program this year.

Back of this extensive program is a group of hard-working girls who make WAA tick. The following are the members of the organization: Pres, Dot Hornor; V. Pres, Rula West; Treas. Louise Borie; Sec., Marilyn McDonald; Council members, who have charge of their respective sports: Golf — Bonnie Sharp; Tennis — Maryann; Volleyball — Ruth Halverson; Bowling — Mary McKim; Badminton — Charlotte Walton; Hokey — Phy Klecker; Softball — Wanda McInerney; Squash — Sue Newman; Table Tennis — Ruth Saltz; Swimming — Tissy Shorten; and Social Chairman — Alice Fisher.

Swimming is the biggest question on everyone's mind. When, How and in What State?

WAA, in preparation for their swimming meet to be held Oct. 30-31, is offering a practice period for those girls who would like to swim in the meet. Admission is free; all one needs is a health examination which can be secured at the infirmary.

To be eligible to swim in a meet a girl must attend four of these practices. These begin Monday, Oct. 2, and will be held every Monday and Tuesday until the meet from 5 to 6 p.m.

These practice times are to teach those wishing to enter the meet some of the finer points in meet swimming. An organization may enter as many girls as it wishes, but not less than six. Girls will be permitted to wear their own swimming suits in the meet.

There's more than swimming going on, though. Entries for tennis doubles and golf must be into the WAA desk not later than Friday, Sept. 29. These tournaments start Monday, Oct. 2.

Now's a good time to get your lastiling at outdoor sports before cold weather closes us in completely. WAA hokey practice is in full swing behind Pitts. Hokey after-noon from 4-5 p.m. Billings and George Mikan. The game will be played in the Eastern College gym. No exhibition is scheduled at Memorial Coliseum this season for Indianapolis.

The Olympics was their division title last year, but lost out to Anderson by two points in the second round of the playoffs. That was during the period in which Wahi Jones was suffering from a badly cut eye and Ralph Beard had a heavy cold.

An exhibition is scheduled in Richmond Oct. 13 between the Olympians and the Minneapolis Lakers, giving fans in this area a chance to see one of the famous battles between Alex Groza and the Olympians.

The agency or persons responsible for this move is to be congratulated. It is high time that someone recognized that a football game can't be watched through bloodshot eyes. University officials have never condoned the practice, but it is difficult to control the situation.

The Indianaapolis Olympians open practice at the Butler Fieldhouse Monday. They are now part of the new pro circuit, a coalition of the old Basketball Association of America and the National Basketball Association.

Revenge-Minded Rebs Foe Of Cats Saturday

Game Is Kentucky's Step No. 2 Toward SEC Football Title

The University of Kentucky takes step No. 2 in its march for a Southeastern Conference football championship when it entertains the Rebels of the University of Mississippi on Stoll Field Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

And that second step may be a tough one.

The Rebs are smarting from that 47-0 plastering they took last year in their Homecoming game, and it goes without saying that they will be out for blood.

Coach Johnny Vaught brings a 52-man squad to Lexington, including 17 lettersmen, four of them regulars last year. The four are Ken Farragut at center, Bill Stribling at right end, Rocky Burt at quarterback, and Jim Dotley at fullback.

On the replacement side, Vaught must field the gaps left by Jack Stribling, All-Southeastern end; Jackie Poolo, No. 1 defensive left end; five four-season linemen, Cape, Roland Dale and Jim Clark, tackles, and Jimmy Crawford, three-time All-Southeastern guard, and Bob Fuest, guards; Billy Muslin and Red Jenkins, offensive halfbacks, and Bobby Wilson, defensive safetyman, punter and passer.

Rebs' Middle Strong

But the quartet of returnees gives the Rebs strength down the middle. Farragut will be one of the top centers in the country; Byrd, starting his junior year, is matured with experience, and Dotley, the No. 1 pound-gainer in the nation last year, heads the line of the offense.

First Night IM Football Opens Nine-Point Program For 1950

By Bill Samuels

A field of nine sports has been scheduled for the fall intramural program along with non-credit basketball and bowling leagues.

Swimming was the only new sport annexed to the UK intramural program, although basketball and bowling will be started this semester for the first time. Neither of the latter sports will count toward the totaling of points.

Play in three events opens Tuesday when football, golf and tennis swing into full stride, Bill McCubbin, UK intramural director, said this week at a meeting of the fraternity athletic managers. Swimming is slated to get under way later in October.

Other sports planned for this semester include volleyball, ping pong and Turkey Run, all to be held in November. The basketball free throw shooting contest will be staged during January. No date has been set for wrestling.

Five individual events, two team relays and a diving contest have been planned for these splashing meets. Dates for these splashing events have been tentatively set for Oct. 29, 34 and 25.

Individual aquatic play, the 50, 100 and 300-yard free style swim, the 100-yard backstroke and the 100-yard breaststroke are planned. Relay competition will be the 150-yard medley and the 400-yard free style. Diving will include a running front dive, a back dive, a running front somersault and one optional dive.

All touch football games are scheduled for under the lights at the Omicron Delta Kappa field this year. The opening date has been moved to Tuesday to allow each team an extra day of practice.

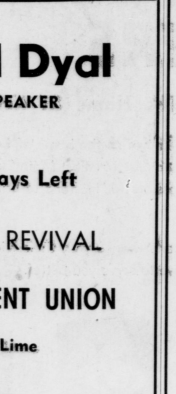

Any organization or group interested in forming a football team is requested to submit the name of the team and a roster of players to the intramural office along with the $2 entry fee by 5 p.m. today.

So far, only about four independent teams have entered and the IM

Kentucky Cagers Dominate Kitten Basketball Squad For Coming Year

By E. T. Kirk

Six home-grown cagers are among the ten freshman scholarship boys who got their first experience in Wildcat ways and means this week.

These ten basketballers, plus several good-looking prospects who aren't on scholarships, turned out for open house practice Monday through Wednesday. The tryouts were open to every incoming student in the University.

Freshman Coach Harry Lancaster, whose 1949-50 yearlings won 14 out of 15, said he and Head Coach Adolph Rupp were well pleased with this year's newcomers. "We got most of the prepsters we were looking for," Lancaster said.

This past high school basketball season, UK didn't have to beat the out-of-state bushes for talent as they have been forced to do in the past three years. It was astounding right in the backyard.

From Lafayette's 1950 state champs right here in Lexington comes Jimmy Weiland, a slick-smooth operative who stands 6 feet and weighs in at 150 pounds.

Jimmy Weiland, 6 feet 3, 180 pounds, from Dearborn, Michigan; and Randy Whaley, 6 feet 3, 180 pounds, from Pelzer, South Carolina.

The Freshman schedule cannot be made until the varsity slate is complete.

Galley Rose, 6 feet, 155 pounds, is a demon dribbler and a dead-eye field shot from nearby Paris. . . . Dickie Prater, 6 feet 3, 160 pounds, is here from Pikeville after being bounded by virtually every school in the country. . . . Betsy Massey, who scored 54 points in one game last winter, hails from Somerset. He hits the six-foot standard and weighs 165 pounds. . . . Jim "Fargo" Wells cut his hot will; the Cats after sparring his Clark County Cardinals of Winchester to the finals of the state tournament. He is 6 feet 3, 170 pounds, and married. . . . Billy Evans is a 6 feet 1 inch, 170-pound sharpshooter from Berea. He pletes.

You Had Better Not Try To Keep Up With The Jones' or Salleys Saturday

Double Exposures Cause Confusion To Gridiron Fans

You might as well bring that flask along, 'cause you'll be seen double at the game Saturday night anyway. Yes, you will be seeing double for in the Ole Miss-TK clash will be performing two sets of identical twins—Dave and Jim Salley for the Rebels and Harry and Larry Jones for the Cats.

All four are halfbacks. The Salleys hail from Kingsport, Tenn., and are juniors, with Dave running in the first-team left half slot. Both boys are hard-hitting runners and more than capable six feet and weigh in at 175 pounds.

They operate as a tandem a good part of the time on both offense and defense.

As for the Jones, they come from Louisville and are sophomores. Harry is the starter of the two, having opened the LSU game—left halfback.

Rather than being hard-hitting runners, the Jones boys are extremely shifty. They stand five feet, 10 inches and weigh 152 pounds.

Both squads have a hard time identifying the "double exposures." In the Reb camp, they use a number system: 45 for Dave and 34 for Jim. In the Cat lair, a slightly different twist is used: 1A for Harry and 1B for Larry.

In any case, it's going to be mighty tough on the fans in the stands to tell which is Larry or which is Harry or which is Dave or which is Jim come about the third quarter. And it sure will be murder if all four get in the game at the same time!

Better bring along a seeing eye dog or some contact lenses or something—and pass that bottle please!

Students Sign Scrolls In Freedom Crusade

The Crusade for Freedom is nearing completion on the University campus, as hundreds of students sign the Freedom Scrolls. Booths containing the scrolls in all of the major classroom buildings on the campus have been busy throughout the week. The scrolls will remain in the booths through tomorrow.

Pupils at the University Training School also are signing the Freedom Scrolls in large numbers. Director Lyman V. Glinger reported. Members of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, assisting in the drive, are manning Crusade booths in the Campus Book Store, the Student Union Building, and at all fraternity and sorority houses.

Kentucky Smothers Louisiana State, 14-0, In First Battle For Conference Grid Crown

By Fred Lawson

Kentucky won its first conference game last Saturday night as they defeated a powerful Louisiana State team, 14-0, before 35,500 happy fans on Stoll Field.

The Wildcats pushed over a touchdown with only a minute and 47 seconds left in the first half and then fought off three serious LSU scoring threats in the last half to take a long step toward the SEC grid crown. Parilli went over on a quarterback sneak late in the fourth quarter to sew up the game.

From the opening kickoff the game was marked by thrills and surprises. Kentucky received and the fans were surprised to see the Cats open up by using the single wing formation. And on the first play Parilli faked back and threw a long pass down the field that just went over the intended receiver's outstretched hands. Had the pass been completed it could have meant a touchdown for Kentucky.

Kentucky opened up as if they were going to pass the Tiger's dizzy. Of the first 18 plays that Parilli called, 10 of them were passes. But only three of these were completed.

In the first quarter neither team could get a drive started. And in the second period the teams battled up and down the field but there were no serious scoring threats.

Then late in the second quarter the Tigers drove down to the Cats 40-yard line. But on the next play Harold Woodell intercepted Lee Hedges' pass on the Kentucky 25 and ran it back to the 45. This ended the LSU threat and the fans settled back to see what appeared to be a scoreless half.

But the Wildcats struck back explosively. Parilli took the ball and handed it off to Leskover who de-layed a moment and then went through center, cut to his right and sped down the sideline. It seemed he was going all the way but three LSU men who were racing after him finally pushed him out of bounds on the one-foot line.

On the next play Leskover dived over for the first Kentucky score. Bobby Brooks converted and Kentucky led 7-0.

Kentucky kicked off and the half ended three plays later.

After the half the Tigers came back strong. LSU kicked off and then recovered a Wildcat fumble on the next play. Five plays made it first down on the Kentucky four.

Here is where the Cat line showed what it is made of. Big Bob Gain stopped two plays for no gain, a pass was incomplete and on fourth down Buggert was stopped on the one-foot line.

Parilli kicked out 51 yards to the LSU 49. But the Tigers started moving again. Hedges passed to Virgetz for a first down on the Cat 17-yard line. But here the Kentucky line held again and the Cats took over on their own 13.

Late in the third quarter Kentucky started a drive that carried 74 yards down to the Tiger goal line. Ed Hamilton went off tackle but fumbled as he got to the goal line and LSU recovered for a touchback.

Midway of the last quarter Konz kicked short to the LSU 40-yard line. Eight plays later Kentucky had their last touchdown. The big play of this series was a 12-yard pass from Parilli to Pucel. With the ball on the one-yard line, Parilli ramm ed through the middle of the line for the score. Brooks again converted and the score was 14-0.

With seconds to go in the game LSU again marched down to the Kentucky six, but the Cats held and took over here. Two running plays and the game was over.

Kentucky also won the battle of the statistics. The Wildcats ran up 30 first downs to LSU's 11. And the Cats ground out 324 yards rushing to 83 yards for the Tigers. But in passing LSU amassed 323 yards on for an average of 26.9 yards, and LSU seven times for 53 yards.

Bill Leskover was the leader in rushing yardage as he piled up a total of 179 yards, gained from scrimmage.

Ben Ali Brings Back Vaudeville Third Year

By Gum

For the third consecutive year, vaudeville comes to the stage of the Ben Ali theater to augment the usual live screen entertainment.

The first program this year, which opened yesterday and closes Saturday, is marked by the booking of five stellar acts, including:

FANSY THE HORSE, a three-people act, veterans of vaudeville, musical comedy, television and motion picture. This is a comedy act which once featured motion picture star Virginia Mayo as the back end of said horse.

WALTERS and PRISCILLA, in "Ventriloquist Nonense" . . . Walter Walters, acts as master of ceremonies and performs his own act with Priscilla.

THREE ROYAL ROCKETS, in "Skiting Fire" . . . a differently routed skating diversion.

TUBBY and SPATZ, "Acrobats," a boy and girl hand-balancing team. On the screen is the technician production, Rogues of Sherwood Forest, a swashbuckling, romantic adventure. John Derek and Diana Lynn are co-stars in the film, in which adventure's most stirring era is brought to life in the son of Robin Hood and his Merry Men in new exploits.

The character of Robin Hood, or his son, has been variously portrayed on the screen by a number of famous romantic stars who combined a magnetic personality with athletic prowess. Derek, who has established himself as a new romantic idol with brilliant performances in Humphrey Bogart's "Knock On Any Door" and "All The King's Men," is now essaying the colorful role of the son of Robin Hood.

As the dashing greenwood's fighter, Derek turns in a performance worthy of such distinguished predecessors as Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., and Cornel Wilde. Derek rises to the rigorous demands of his arduous role as he engages in hard riding, stirring swordplay and displays an acrobatic ability reminiscent of Fairbanks at his best.

"Rogues of Sherwood Forest" tells a swift-moving story of how the tyrannical grip of King John (George Macready) over 13th century England was broken. Derek, returned from the wars, immediately opposes the harsh treatment meted out to the people by the king's soldiers. He escapes with the aid of the King's bestial ward (Lynn) and retires to Sherwood Forest, there to gather Robin Hood's Merry Men. In a series of brilliant forays, the king's forces are harassed to the point where he cynically promises to give his ward's hand in marriage to a French soldier in exchange for his mercenary. But the wedding procession is ambushed by Derek and his men in the exciting climax. Thus, the king's power is curbed and the love of Derek and Miss Lynn re-achieved.

AT THE KENTUCKY, the season's most delightful musical comes to town today with the arrival of My Blue Heaven, co-starring Betty Grable and Dan Dailey.

The world's most popular blonde and one of the screen's top flight comedians and song-and-dance-men make the most of eight swell songs and a fair-to-middle-sized story.

The prime reason My Blue Heaven is such satisfying seeing is the songs by Harold Arlen and Ralph Blane and the terrific dance numbers. The Arlen-Blane score ranks among the best ever composed for a movie musical.

The picture casts Miss Grable and Dailey as a celebrated husband-and-wife team of radio entertainers. It moves smoothly between the affairs of both their private and public lives. In the former it is concerned with their inability to have a family of their own and their endeavors to adopt a baby. In the latter it follows their progress in switching from radio to the new medium of television. "My Blue Heaven" marks the first Hollywood invasion of TV, and reveals more about its mechanics and techniques than any video viewer ever saw before.

The top number of the "My Blue Heaven" score is "The Friendly Islanders," in which a dare-devil Miss Grable joins Dan Dailey in a witty and wonderful takeoff on

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Dorm, SAE Out To Repeat As IM Champions

Returnees Galore On Both Squads

By Lewis Donohew

Breck Hall's "thundering horde," always a dread on the intramural sports field, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, a strong contender in the fraternity loop, will be seeking to duplicate their championship performance of last fall when they take to the field for their respective football games next week.

The dormitory team will field a squad of practically the same quality as that of their 1959 aggregation, having lost only three men from that group.

They will have three of their past throwers - Bob Butler, Fred Larson, and Dick Wohlstein - returning to the backfield. Gene Auser, Roy Turner, Bob Lincoln, and Johnny Carpenter, all experienced ends, will be set to catch their flings.

George Thraskill, at tackle-guard, and Fred Pittard at center, are also returnees.

The SAE's have eight men who are returning veterans. Alan Marsh, Carroll Jacobs, Bill Harding, and Frank Bassett, the first three also stalwarts on the softball field, were regulars on the cross-country team.

Charlie Dushman, Andy Polites, and Bill Lancaster also softball players, saw considerable action on the football field last year for the fraternity champions. Franklin Coates rounds out the squad of men returning.

Both squads have been holding practice sessions on the intramural field since last week.

(For additional details on the I-M football season see the intramural sports column in another section of this issue.)

Collegians Feel Hot Breath Of Koreans—Even At UK

By Don Armstrong

Instead of the battle of the fighting lines, it's the battle of the waiting lines for able bodied UK men this fall.

School hasn't fenced in the apprehensions of some, however, who feel the hot breath of Communist Korea on the back of their necks. Most of the campus males are exempt at present, but feel their time draws nigh.

One unprotected twenty-year-old senior lamented, "I can't vote, I can't drink, all I can do is get drafted."

Other men of the Bluegrass, the veterans, are more secure with their homes and families, except certain ones who are in demand because of their abilities.

AN EDUCATION JUNIOR from Missouri who was formerly a signal corps supply technician felt that he'd be called from the inactive reserve unit to which he belongs, though he has a wife and children. "That's what they're taking now, you know," he said, "... but I won't go into that again, I'll volunteer for combat medic work first."

For many, as in the case of a journalism junior who is in the third year of ROTC and has a wife and baby daughter, school is keeping the Red from the door. He feels glad to be exempt, at least for the time being, though after graduating in '52 he will probably be in the employ of our rich Uncle.

THE LOCAL BOARDS have been calling men in the twenty-two and three-year age groups and will reach a large untouched number from twenty-one downward. Since most of the now-eligible freshmen and sophomores are a few vital years younger, they may yet reach the protective wing of the ROTC advanced program.

Instructors in the ROTC program in discussing the limited number of exemptions that can be doled out have urged that 1-A students try to get deferments on their own. Some will be left in school because of high standings and some may finally realize the uses of red tape and confusion.

ANOTHER of the eligibles, a sophomore in the college of Arts and Sciences, reached his nineteenth birthday last March and as yet, has not received any notice of classification. He isn't eager for a fight on foreign soil.

"I'm too young to die," he said.

Bob McCallill of Marquette got off a four-yard punt against Ole Miss in 1941 for the shortest punt in football history. Ole Miss won, 12-6. A two-yard punt in the same game was wiped out by a penalty.

Kernel Adds Another Year To Its Life On UK Campus

By Nancy Gaskin

Thirty-five years ago this week a college newspaper was born. Its name was—and still is—the Kentucky Kernel. But that was not always its name. Its immediate predecessor was a strong, active publication called the Idea.

The Idea's staff members weren't satisfied with its name. They wanted a title that would be more expressive, more general, more appropriate for the student newspaper of the University of Kentucky. So, on May 15, 1915, the Idea announced a name contest with a cash award for the person sending in the best name.

TWO STUDENTS, J. B. Nichols and O. S. Lee, sent in the same name—the Kentucky Kernel—and they divided the two dollars between them. The Kentucky Kernel published its first issue under that title on Sept. 23, 1915.

Besides the Idea, the Kernel had two other predecessors, the Cadet, first mentioned in the Faculty Minutes on Feb. 6, 1894, and the K. S. C. Record, first published on Sept. 28, 1890.

Korean War Raises Engineer Job Hopes

The war in Korea is making it easier for engineering graduates to find jobs, according to Dean D. V. Terrell of the College of Engineering.

All members of the June graduating class in engineering either have jobs or have been offered jobs, the dean said. Large companies that have been hiring only a handful of graduates are taking up to a hundred since the start of the war.

Dean Terrell continued that prospects for young engineers look even better because of the increase in industrial requirements and the decrease in the number of graduates.

More of the University's engineering graduates are staying in Kentucky each year, the dean added. Three things account for this: new industries are springing up in the

Bendix Bubbles And Baffles All

By Nancy Gasikin

As I was passing by the laundry-room on the fourth floor of Jewell Hall the other day, I saw a confused young man—a transfer student—standing in the middle of the room in a state of bewilderment. Closer inspection revealed that the floor was awash with soapy water.
