

After Hours

UK's Gurney Norman gets grip on past via the Kentucky River. SEE PAGE 3.

Sports

Cats hope to avoid an upset, wash the Tide. SEE PAGE 11.

15°-25°

 Today: Cold with flurries
 Tomorrow: Cloudy and colder

Kentucky Kernel

Vol. XXI, No. 106

Established 1894

University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky

Independent since 1971

Friday, February 12, 1988

School heads petition GA

By MARK R. CHELLGREN
Associated Press

FRANKFORT — Kentucky's university presidents were back before the General Assembly yesterday to complain about the budget proposed by Gov. Wallace Wilkinson and to emphasize their concerns are real.

"I'm not here to whine around at you," said University of Kentucky President David Roselle. "I'm here to tell you it's not going to be business as usual."

Roselle, who repeated later that he was "not whining," may have been directing the comments at Wilkinson, who said last week that the presidents should "stop crying so much" about the budget and spend the money they will get more wisely.

The presidents paraded before the Senate Appropriations and Revenue Committee with a tale of woe similar to the one they gave a House panel last week that prompted Wilkinson's comment.

Again, the presidents said that the lack of any real additional money for higher education would mean a loss of talented faculty members, abandonment of routine maintenance and student financial assistance.

If enacted, the governor's budget "would strike a profoundly damaging blow to higher education," said University of Louisville President Donald Swain.

Of particular concern to all the presidents was the budget's lack of specific money for a salary increase for teachers or staff.

Swain noted that a salary increase of 2 percent is specified in the 1989 fiscal year budget for state employees and teachers, but not university personnel.

"They are perceiving now they are the one group in the entire state to be picked out, to be punished," Swain said.

Swain and Western Kentucky University President Kern Alexander said the universities have done all they can to reorder spending to give faculty raises.

"There isn't any money to pay for salaries unless we stop doing academic programs," Swain said. "What a cruel choice."

Roselle said not keeping salaries for Kentucky professors up to competing universities makes poor economic sense. Many faculty members, he said, also have grants and research programs that bring in additional money to the state and university.

The research pays salaries of other people, provides assistance to graduate students and, in effect, is a small business, Roselle said.

Sen. Mike Moloney, D-Lexington, started the meeting as chairman with a word of encouragement to anyone who testified.

Moloney said he had been told that members of the executive branch had been told "to cool criticism of this budget."

"I personally consider that an affront to this General Assembly," Moloney said.

Administration budget officials said they were unaware of any directive to tone down criticism of the budget if there is any.

Universities' effect on state economy key to more funding

By JAY BLANTON
Executive Editor

FRANKFORT — State university presidents have found themselves in the difficult position of trying to convince state legislators with short-term goals that they should increase funding to higher education, which seems to pay long-term dividends.

Specifically, the universities of this state — if they hope to get any increases in funding — are going to have to convince an election-minded legislature that higher education benefits this state economically, not only in the future, but right now.

State legislators are concerned

ANALYSIS

1988 State Legislature

with re-election every two years in the House and every four years in the Senate. Consequently, legislators have to bend over backward listening to their constituents, who want fast relief to their economic and financial woes.

Former Wildcat shares championship memories

By JULIE ESSELMAN
Staff Writer

Rev. Ed Beck, captain of the 1958 UK NCAA Championship basketball team, and five of his former teammates gathered last night to share memories of their years under coaches Adolph Rupp and Harry Lancaster.

Beck gave a talk titled "The Gospel According to St. Adolph and St. Harry" at the Singletary Center for the Arts as part of the Newman Center's Distinguished Speakers Program.

"We're here to celebrate and share with you the memories we have and our love," said Beck, who is now the senior pastor of Sunrise United Methodist Church in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Joining Beck on the stage were Adrian Smith, dubbed "Odie" by his teammates, Phil Johnson, Johnny Cox, Don Mills and Vernon Hatton. Former Kentucky Gov. A.B. "Happy" Chandler and Adolph Rupp Jr. were also on hand.

"What a close bunch of guys we had," Beck said. "We had a great team."

Beck described the word "gospel" as representing a string of stories, and "tonight we'll string stories together to share insights," he said.

Beck spoke of the time he was being recruited for basketball by various universities, including UK. One morning he saw his high school coach standing with someone unfamiliar to him.

"Son, do you know who I am?" the man said.

When Beck shook his head, the man said, "Once I tell you my name, you'll never forget it. My name's Adolph Rupp."

"And I never forgot it," Beck said.

Beck also said the importance of gospels is their message. The gospels of coaches Rupp and Lancaster stressed commitment, practice, giving their all and paying the price.

He described gospels as means of instruction, something at which his coaches were experts.

"They had unbelievable gifts and graces," he said. "The greatest human psychologist I knew was Adolph Rupp, and Harry Lancaster wasn't far behind."

He recalled how Rupp and Lancaster would stand at opposite ends of the basketball court during practice, and he and his teammates "always heard scathing comments

Sweetheart

Melanie Glasscock, a pre-law major sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta, won the Valentine's Day pageant last night. Amy Hayner was first runner-up. Jennifer Wilson was second runner-up.

Now ideally there is nothing wrong with this practice. After all, representatives are elected to represent their constituencies and their concerns. But in practice this form of representation forces legislators to endorse short-term, quick-fix measures that will please the voters back home and continue to put the representative back in office.

UK President David Roselle said that to get anything done you have to convince the General Assembly that voters care about it — through letters or direct contact.

State universities, however, operate from a much different perspective.

The primary concern of a state university is faculty and their research. Although research in several instances reaps economic benefits almost immediately, most of it is long-term in focus.

It is hard to convince a legislator, however, to raise the taxes of constituents who are already struggling to make ends meet for their families.

As one legislator put it a senate subcommittee meeting yesterday, you "can't get that to go over too well."

To be fair to legislators, Gov. Wallace Wilkinson has compounded the problem, trying to blackmail legislators by reportedly threatening to back or oppose legislators in their upcoming re-election attempts.

Furthermore, Wilkinson has promised the people out in the state — where he is immensely popular — that he can deliver economic reform and development without raising taxes.

Higher education, though, essentially has been left out of the picture.

Higher education will receive virtually no increase in funding in the 1988-89 fiscal year and only a 5 percent increase the following year.

When Wilkinson's budget was first released, university officials seemed to take a defensive posture, clamoring about the mass exodus of faculty from state universities, rising construction costs, and unusual maintenance and capital expenditures.

See VOTERS, Page 10

ED BECK

about your heritage and physical actions over and over again.

But he also said "there was a sensitivity, and that's what we remember after 30 years."

Beck said Rupp and Lancaster were "gospel-like" in their effective communication with their team and the great memories they invoked.

"I remember the nostalgia of blue and white," he said. "I remember one night in Louisville, Ky., when we were playing in a national championship, and Adolph Rupp said, 'We're going all the way tonight, no matter what.'"

"And we won. I cherish the memory of Adolph Rupp, the greatest mentor the game has ever known."

New Harrison—Walnut street named for rights activist King

By JAYE BEELER
Staff Writer

The Lexington alumni chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity began more than a year ago the project of renaming a Lexington street after Martin Luther King Jr. Last night that dream became a reality.

Lexington's Urban County Council gave formal approval to rename Harrison Avenue and Walnut Street as Martin Luther King Boulevard.

"The renaming of Harrison Avenue and Walnut Street to Martin Luther King Boulevard is an appropriate contribution and a visible reminder to people of the things Dr. King accomplished during his life," said Lee Jackson, spokesman for the fraternity.

"The Urban County Council voted the same as Tuesday. No one changed their minds. The vote was 10-4, because one member was absent," said Debra Hensley, a council member representing the 3rd district, which includes UK.

"Last night, we made it law," Hensley said.

The Urban County Council services committee held an official public hearing Monday, and at that time it recommended passage of the proposal.

On Tuesday, the full council voted 10-5 for the proposal.

Other possible streets suggested were Georgetown Street and Rose Street.

"There was opposition to Georgetown Street because some people wanted a more prominent street that was more visible and not an isolated street in the black part of the county and city," Hensley said.

"Then Rose Street extension came up," Hensley said. "There was opposition to that street because some people did not want to name just half a street — they wanted to name the whole street because Martin Luther King Jr. was not half a man."

Harrison Avenue and Walnut Street will be realigned by construction that will be completed in 1990. State and local funds are financing the improvement.

Hensley said the location was ideal because the new Martin Luther King Boulevard goes through the heart of downtown, connects with UK and is generally a well-traveled street.

The new street signs will be put up starting today. They should be up before the arrival of Coretta Scott King (King's widow) on Tuesday.

Hensley said it's an appropriate honor for her arrival and for the community.

"The passage was not without some controversy, Jackson said.

"I was very surprised at the opposition of some of the council members," he said. "They listened to their constituents and disregarded King, the man. They should have voted with their conscience."

Jackson said it soon developed into a racial issue. "It is unfortunate and unbelievable — this shows the underlying racism in this community and maybe this community needs to discuss the race relations."

"This whole experience should bring this community closer and make Lexington a better place to live," Jackson said.

William Parker, UK vice chancellor of minority affairs, said "I think changing Harrison Avenue and Walnut Street to Dr. Martin Luther King Boulevard Jr. is wonderful. I don't understand why it took so long."

Officials fear scam in dorms

By THOMAS J. SULLIVAN
News Editor

Residence Life officials say they are on the lookout for two periodical peddlers.

Two college-age females have been soliciting student dorm rooms peddling magazine subscriptions claiming to represent a periodical company, said Bob Clay, acting director of Residence Life. And the University has reason to believe that the students who buy these subscriptions are being swindled, he said.

The students who have been solicited could not remember the name of the periodical company, UK officials said.

All residence hall employees have been made aware of the situation and advised to escort the salespeople out of the building if they are spotted and call the police, Clay said.

"They were extremely rude and extremely pushy," said Ned Benson, Keeneland hall director.

"Apparently what (these saleswomen) do is they represent that they are in a contest and that they are getting points to sell magazines," Benson said.

Once they convince a student to buy a subscription, they require immediate payment in the form of either cash or a check made out to one of the two women, not the company, Clay said.

Clay says that these saleswomen, legitimate or not, are in violation of University policy.

"It could be magazine salesmen, pots and pans salesmen, shoot, insurance salesmen, anything, and some of them may be legitimate. But anybody soliciting in our halls is doing so against University policy," Clay said.

A company can request to solicit students in the lobby area of the dorms — not in the living areas, Clay said. The University must approve the company before they can solicit in the lobby areas.

This company has not requested permission, Clay said.

"They've been told several times that they are not to solicit in the residence halls, which is the first clue

See OFFICIALS, Page 2

Approach to Buddhism topic of weekend seminar, lecture

By MICHAEL TUCKER
Contributing Writer

The Shambhala Training Center, directed by retired English professor Bill Gordon, will hold a Level One training seminar this weekend beginning with a lecture at 8 p.m. tonight.

Shambhala training, a secular approach to teaching Buddhism, progresses through five levels of awareness. Established by a Buddhist teacher some 2,500 to 3,000 years ago in Tibet, it is based on the idea that a person can become not only sane and gentle, but strong and capable.

"Shambhala trains how to see things as they are and how to act properly," Gordon said. "The consequence of Shambhala training is that people become less selfish and willing to help others."

The Shambhala Training Center also will conduct seminars Saturday and Sunday at 9 a.m. consisting of talks by Gordon, personal interviews, group discussions and the practice of sitting meditation.

As the training progresses through the levels, each one provides a foundation of practice and experience for the next. Between levels there are periods to continue to practice, study and assimilate the experiences, so that participants may complete the entire training.

According to Shambhala tradition, it is possible to transform one's life into what is known as the way of the Warrior. This path gradually leads to complete accomplishment as a human being.

"Lexington isn't the largest city, but it has one of the best Shambhala training centers in the country," said Lance Brunner, a music theory professor.

Brunner attributes the quality of the training center to Gordon's teachings. "He is a fascinating and excellent teacher."

Gordon has trained in Chicago, Washington D.C. and Colorado. "There is a natural desire, not to just get people to agree with you, but give them what you have," Gordon said.

The effects of the training differ for everyone. And Gordon said that it is important to train at an individual level. "We aren't trying to put out clones, we are putting out real people."

About his own training, Brunner said, "Training gives me the opportunity to turn knowledge into wisdom. It allows me to see how my mind works and hence to free me from the tyranny of my thoughts. Ultimately it's about freedom."

The seminar this weekend deals with establishing the ground for the whole Shambhala path and it will emphasize the teachings of meditation.

Gordon said he wants to teach people why and how they should meditate, as well as instructing them how to relate to the teachings, and to see the value of meditation for themselves in their lives.

The lecture tonight is free and open to the public and will provide basic information on why there is a need for Shambhala Training.

However, the cost of the weekend seminar is $60 for adults and $45 for students and senior citizens. The lecture and seminar will take place at the Shambhala Training Center at 257 Lexington Ave.

Officials fear salesgirls are fakes

Continued from Page 1

that they aren't exactly on the up and up," he said.

Carole Ludwick, executive director of the Better Business Bureau of Central Kentucky, agreed. "The tactics of this company don't sound good," she said.

"If they haven't got something to hide, why aren't they going through the proper channels?" "We don't know yet whether these students are going to receive these magazines, it's too early to tell," Ludwick said. But of this type of situation "is one of the biggest areas where we have inquiries and complaints (of riffs):"

"It's a very common persuasive sales technique," Ludwick said.

Several students ordered some magazines and gave full payment, officials said. Others didn't.

Benson said that Steve Thompson, a Keeneland Hall Resident Advisor, was approached by the women under the guise of students wishing to be rated on their sales pitch. (They didn't say that they were selling anything.)

After Thompson rated them on their performance, they asked him if he would like to purchase a subscription. When Thompson declined, "they were outraged," Benson said. "He had to escort them out of the building."

Thompson could not be reached for comment.

The only way for students to be sure that they don't get swindled is for students to protect themselves, Ludwick said.

First of all, "at no time should students ever make checks payable to an individual in a business transaction," she said. "They should never... pay cash, unless it is an over-the-counter transaction."

If approached by these sales people, Ludwick recommends that students "get as much information as possible about these people and try to send someone to call the police."

Or, if the student turns out to have been swindled, they should report the case to the Better Business Bureau, Ludwick said. "We log all complaints and information, and if it is significant enough, we can call the police and (give them the information)."

All UK students are members of the Better Business Bureau and are entitled to the use of special member phone lines, Ludwick said. All reports or complaints can be called into the BBB at 268-4088.

UK cheerleaders' victory on ESPN

Staff reports

ESPN will air an hour-long program at 2 p.m. Sunday covering the UK cheerleading squad's National Championship.

The ESPN coverage of the Holiday Inn National College Championships will include the entire championship, including most of the 20 finalists' routines. Last year the station only showed the finalists in the dance competition and the top cheerleading squads.

CONTINENTAL TANNING CENTER, INC.
299-6822

10 visits $25
20 visits $45
or $4 per single visit with coupon

Trevor Island Lotions (located in the Continental Inn)
801 New Circle Rd. NE Lexington, KY 40506

Wolf Tanning Beds and Bulbs

Sun. 1-6
M-F 7 a.m.-10 p.m.
Sat. 8 a.m.-7 p.m.

CORRECTION

The Continental Tanning Center, Inc. ad that ran in the Valentine's Day supplement appeared with an incorrect phone number. The correct number is 299-6822. We are sorry for any inconvenience.

The Kernel

438 S. Ashland Ave.
Chevy Chase

Sub Center

FREE DELIVERY
269-4693

Limited Delivery Area

DELIVERY HOURS
Mon-Thur. 11a.m.-11:30 p.m.
Fri-Sat. 11:30 a.m.-12:30 a.m.
Sun. 12 p.m.-11:30 p.m.

The "Falconer"

Named after WKQQ's own weatherman, Frank Falconer. Turkey, ham and cheddar cheese on a bed of lettuce, tomatoes and onions. A shower of Italian dressing to top it off.

75¢ off The Falconer
reg. $4.74 exp. 2/14/88

Monster Mix
(The Italian Sub) *Potato Chips*
$3.84 exp. 2/14/88

Tomlin's Showcase

Wedding & Formal Attire
278-2103

Register to win:
Gift Certificate from Walden's Photographs,
Home Day Bakers,
Flowers from Myers,
Gold Shield Custom Services

180 Moore Drive
Lexington, Kentucky

LCC
LEXINGTON COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Are you interested in a health career?

Dental Hygiene • Dental Laboratory Technician • Nuclear Medicine Technology • Nursing - Associate Degree • Radiologic Technology • Respiratory Therapy

The deadline for admission to the 1988 health programs is March 1, 1988. *Dental Laboratory Technician - July 1, 1988
For more information call the Lexington Community College Admissions Office 257-4872.

You're invited to March and Rally for Higher Education

Tuesday, Feb. 16 at Frankfort, Ky.

Here's your chance to show your support for higher education in Kentucky... to demonstrate for higher education and show that thousands of Kentuckians care... to call for adequate funding and support for measures of excellence and to provide adequate student financial assistance.

Here's your chance to aid the cause of higher education by making your support known to the General Assembly and the people of Kentucky.

2 p.m. — March to the State Capitol
Join thousands of alumni, students, faculty, bands, cheerleaders and friends of higher education in a historic, four-block march to the State Capitol.
(Assemble at 1:30 p.m. on Second Street east of Capitol Avenue in Frankfort.) Brief program on the Capitol steps.

3:30 p.m. — Rally to Celebrate Higher Education
Civic Center Arena, Capital Plaza Complex, Frankfort. Gather to the stirring music of pep bands... Witness a student showcase of talent and entertainment... Hear brief statements on behalf of 630,000 constituents of higher education.

Door Prizes:
Two tickets to the NCAA Final Four.
8-day free trip for two to visit four of the great universities of England and Scotland.

Show Your Support — Be in Frankfort Tuesday, Feb. 16

Ky. Advocates for Higher Education, Inc.
Students Advocates for Higher Education

The University Club presents

Late Night Happy Hour
10-1 Mon-Sat
$1.00 Long Necks
$1.50 Well Drinks
Free Chips and Salsa

Ladies Night
(every Wednesday)
$1.50 Fuzzy Navels
$1.00 Wine Spritzers
$1.25 Margaritas

New Express Lunch Menu
$3.00
(everything priced under $3.00)
Great Food ... and affordable

Stop by and See Us 381 S. Lime

AFTER HOURS

Erik Reece
Arts Editor

TURNTABLE TALK

UK freshman LeRon Ellis sweats on and off the court — literally. At least that's what his taste in music would have you believe.

Favorite album: Keith Sweat by Keith Sweat. "It's a real good album," says Ellis. "I like music you can dance to, but I also like easy-going music you can listen to on your headphones. The album is a good combination."

We also hear he bakes a mean gingerbread house. Let's see Rex Chapman do that.

LeRON ELLIS

CLUB

Austin City Saloon — 2350 Woodhill Shopping Center. Greg Austin Band will play tonight from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover is $3.

Babylon Babylon — 113 N. Limestone. Reunited Blotted Floeters and the Royal Crescent Mob will play tonight from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover is $6. Tomorrow night, Paul K. and the Weathermen and Mom will play from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover is $3.

The Bearded Seale — 500 Euclid Ave. Repeat Option will play tonight from 9 to 1 a.m.

The Bottom Line — 261 W. Main St. Brian and the Nightmares will play tonight from 10 to 1 a.m. Saturday, Shakai' Pat and Family will play from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover is $3.

The Brass A Saloon — 2909 Richmond Road. The Blitz Kids will play tonight and tomorrow night from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover is $3.

Cheapside Bar — 121 Cheapside. The Bruce Lewis Trio will play tonight from 9 to 1 a.m. David Wunsch will play tomorrow from 9 to 1 a.m. No cover.

Comedy on Broadway — 144 N. Broadway. Alpha Trivette, Ricky Vincent and Liz Wright will perform tonight and tomorrow night at 8 and 10:30 and Sunday only at 7:30. Cover tonight and tomorrow night is $6 and Sunday night is $6. Valentine's Special: All women receive roses.

Copperfields — 249 W. Short. Parker Colman will play tonight and tomorrow from 9 to 1. No cover.

Kings Arms Pub — Lyndon Jones will play tonight from 9 to 1 a.m. Saturday, Plain People will play from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover is $2.

Main Streets — 269 W. Main St. The Metro Blues All-Stars will play tonight and tomorrow night from 10 to 1 a.m. Cover is $2.

Spirits — Radisson Plaza hotel. Nervous Melvin and the Mistakes will play tonight and tomorrow from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover is $2.

Two Keys Tavern — 333 S. Limestone St. L.E.D. will play tonight and tomorrow night from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover for men is $2 and no cover for women.

The Upper Class — 368 Woodland Ave. The Bad Guys will play tonight and tomorrow from 9 to 1 a.m. Cover is $3.

REEL TO REEL

Action Jackson — Rated R. (Crossroads: 1:50, 3:50, 5:45, 7:50, 9:50, and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:45. Also showing at North Park: 1, 3:05, 5:10, 7:50, 10 and tonight and tomorrow only at midnight.)

Batteries Not Included — Rated PG. (Fayette Mall: 1:30, 3:35 and 5:35.)

Broadcast News — Rated R. (South Park: 1:30, 4:15, 7:30, 9:55 and tonight and tomorrow only at 12:15.)

Fatal Attraction — Rated R. (South Park: 5:20, 7:50, 10:05 and tonight and tomorrow only at 12:15. Also showing at North Park: 7:30, 9:45, and tonight and tomorrow only at midnight.)

For Keeps — Rated PG-13. (Crossroads: 1:40, 3:40, 5:35, 7:40, 9:40 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:35. Also showing at North Park: 1:15, 3:15, 5:15, 7:40, 9:40 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:40.)

Good Morning Vietnam — Rated R. (South Park: 12:30, 2:50, 5:10, 7:35, 10 and tonight and tomorrow only at 12:10. Also showing at North Park: 1, 3:15, 5:30, 7:45, 10, and tonight and tomorrow only at 12:15.)

Helling Out — Rated R. (Turfand Mall: 2, 3:50, 5:40, 7:50, 9:40 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:20.)

Ironweed — Rated R. (Turfand: 2, 4:40, 7:30 and 10:05.)

Julia and Julia — Rated R. (Fayette Mall: 7:50, 9:50 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:45.)

The Last Emperor — Rated R. (South Park: 1, 4, 7:45 and tonight and tomorrow only at 10:45.)

Missing in Action III — Rated R. (North Park: 1:20, 3:20, 5:20, 7:40, 9:40 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:40.)

Moonstruck — Rated R. (1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:35, 9:35 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11.)

Planes, Trains, and Automobiles — Rated PG-13. (North Park: 1:40, 3:40, 5:40, 7:40, 9:40 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:40.)

Raw — Rated R. (North Park: 2, 3:50, 5:30, 7:30, 9:20 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:10.)

Satisfaction — Rated R. (North Park: 1:10, 3:10, 5:10, 7:40, 9:40 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:40. Also showing at South Park: 1, 3:05, 5, 7:40, 9:40 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:30.)

She's Having a Baby — Rated PG-13. (Lexington Mall: 1:15, 3:20, 5:25, 7:45, 9:50 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:50. Also showing at Turfand Mall: 1:15, 3:20, 5:25, 7:45, 9:50 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:50.)

Shoot to Kill — Rated R. (Fayette Mall: 1:20, 3:25, 5:25, 7:35, 9:40 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:40. Also showing at North Park: 1:05, 3:15, 5:25, 7:45, 9:55 and tonight and tomorrow only at midnight.)

The Serpent and the Rainbow — Rated R. (Fayette Mall: 1:40, 3:40, 5:40, 7:45, 9:45 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:40. Also showing at North Park: 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:50, 9:50 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:50.)

The Couch Trip — Rated R. (North Park: 1:45, 3:45, 5:45, 7:45, 9:45 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11.)

Three Men and a Cradle — Rated PG. (North Park: 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:30. Also showing at South Park: 11:50, 3:20, 5:15, 7:35, 9:35 and tonight and tomorrow only at 11:30.)

The Werasham Theater — "No Way Out"; tonight and tomorrow at 8, Sunday at 7 p.m. "Dr. Strangelove"; tonight and tomorrow at 10 p.m.

Kentucky Theatre and Movies on Main — closed for repairs.

Compiled by Staff Writer Will Ranshaw

River-berations

Writer Gurney Norman learns hard truths on Kentucky River

By ERIK REECE
Arts Editor

Like Mark Twain rambling down the Mississippi River through the guise of Huck Finn, Kentucky writer Gurney Norman is adopting the Kentucky River as a metaphor for rough waters that need to be navigated if Kentucky is to resolve some of its more pressing social and political issues.

Narrated and presented by Norman, "Time On The River" is an hour-long television special featuring the Kentucky River and the people surrounding it. The show will be broadcast at 8 Sunday night on the Kentucky Educational Television network (Channel 46).

Norman, well-known to his Kentucky readership as the author of Kinfolks and Divine Rights Trip, sees the program as a possible stepping stone to a greater understanding that needs to be established between the academic community and the laypeople of the state.

"This humble TV show that we put together in 1987 is a modest example of possibilities of establishing not only a line of communication, but a tone of voice, in which Kentuckians of all social strata can talk to each other about the common problem," Norman said yesterday. "It's an interesting coincidence to me that the show is being aired at the very moment that there is a perceived alienation between tax-paying citizens and the University," Norman said.

Norman, a 59-year-old native of Hazard, Ky., (situated on the Kentucky River), and a professor at UK, finds himself emphasizing with both sides of the raging debate over funding for higher education.

"There's a deep-seated anti-intellectual attitude in Kentucky,"

WHEN, WHERE AND HOW MUCH

☐ "Time On The River" can be seen on KET, Channel 46, at 8 p.m. Sunday.

he said. "And I think that while university people must petition and lobby and politic in every possible way to get a fair deal, universities need to find a way to be visible and neighborly and intimate with average folks of the state. It's from those families that the students come and the tax money comes."

"Time On The River" is a title taken from a Thomas Wolfe novel, took roughly a year to shoot. But according to Norman, it was more than 30 years in the making.

Through newspaper articles, poetry and experimental fiction, he has written continuously about the Kentucky River.

It was this writing that captured the attention of John Morgan, the director and producer of "Time On The River." "The whole thing was John Morgan's concept," said Norman. "But I got more deeply involved than I ever had planned because it came so naturally. It was an honor for a UK faculty person to be invited to address the commonwealth about something he had been thoughtful about for 30 years."

Tim Tassie, director of broadcasting for KET, considers "Time On The River" to be "a poetic and historic look at the Kentucky River through the eyes of Gurney Norman. He obviously makes his living communicating his thoughts and ideas with people. That adds a lot to the visual aspect," said Tassie. This visual aspect, provided by Morgan, merges still-life photography with a panoramic cinematography that captures the autumn beauty of the Kentucky River.

Writer and UK professor Gurney Norman gives a rambling account of his adventures on the Kentucky River in "Time On The River."

A tributary of the larger Ohio River, the Kentucky River flows north-west, its 20 flowing miles embrace 7,000 square miles. Its source of the river is on Pine Mountain at the Kentucky/Virginia border. This is where Norman starts his trek. And it's almost where he ends it.

"I launched my canoe all in wild urban haste," Norman says at the beginning of the program in his congenial, narrative voice. "My mind was only half-present to consider what I was doing." His canoe tips over near Beatyville and Norman drifts down the river with

See RIVER, Page 10

Jazz Ensemble 'in mood' for Valentine's concert

By JACKIE LATIMER
Staff Writer

You want to do something special for your sweetheart this Valentine's Day. Why not serenade him or her? Nice idea, but your vocal ability is confined only to the privacy of your own shower?

Then head to the UK Jazz Ensemble Valentine's Day Sunday concert at the Singletary Center for the Arts.

Vince DiMartino, director of the Jazz Ensemble, said the program will consist of jazz arrangements of love songs. "It will be ballads and love songs in nature of the day," DiMartino said.

The 22 musicians of the Jazz Ensemble will perform such songs as the 40s favorite "Like Someone in Love," "My Funny Valentine," "A Time for Love," and "In The Mood."

But the music isn't the only treat of the afternoon.

Nancy Unger, director of public relations for the Singletary Center for the Arts, said candy — compliments of Sharp's Candies — also will be provided. "Red foil-wrapped chocolate hearts for all jazz lovers will be distributed," Unger explained that the candy is a way for the Center and the Jazz Ensemble to show its appreciation for its supporters.

WHEN, WHERE AND HOW MUCH

☐ The UK Jazz Ensemble will be in concert on Sunday at 3 p.m. Admission is free.

As part of Sunday's program, two members from the Sophisticates — Kathryn Dixon, a vocalist, and Steven Penn, a pianist — also will perform, along with various solos from selected Jazz Ensemble members.

And those selected members are looking forward to the concert. Al Hood, trumpet soloist, said the concert is a great idea and Lee Kearns, trombone soloist, agreed. They hope Sunday's concert will make more students aware of the Jazz Ensemble. "The Valentine's Day gimmick is a selling point to get more students out to hear the band," Kearns said.

DiMartino added that he'll do something special for the event too, Trumpeter Al Hood and Lee Kearns on trombone gear up for the UK Jazz Ensemble's Valentine's Day concert.

but it won't be dressing for the occasion — as he did for the Christmas concert — as Cupid. Instead, DiMartino will play "My Romance" as a trumpet solo.

The concert, which is the Jazz Ensemble's first Valentine's Day special performance, will be an exposition of pleasant music, DiMartino said. "It'll show the broad scope of what the group can do." The blues song "Can't Stop Loving That Man" will be played in jazz format, Unger said.

The Jazz Ensemble's performance, DiMartino pointed out, is a way to educate the students in the ensemble as well as those in the audience. And he believes that there'll be something in this performance for everyone, from community members to children.

"The Jazz Ensemble provides a dual service," DiMartino said, "one to the campus community and the second to the community at large. There'll be something at the concert that everyone will like."

BLOOM COUNTY

BY BEARKE BREAETHED

1. YOU ARE HERE? NO. AREN'T YOU? YES.

2. EXCUSE ME, BUT HAVE YOU EVER BEEN SHOWN, SWAYED, TRIPPED, BATTERED, CLUBBED, MASHED, ROLLED, MURDERED, BEATEN, BATTERED OR BENEARED? NO.

3. EVER BEEN SHOWN, SWAYED, TRIPPED, BATTERED, CLUBBED, MASHED, ROLLED, MURDERED, BEATEN, BATTERED OR TOASTED? NO.

4. YOU JUST RUN AWAY FROM ALL MY OWN MURKIN? YES.

5. HERE'S ONE!

6. BLAM! BLAM! BLAM! BLAM! BLAM!

Viewpoint

State's students can brighten the dim outlook for Higher Ed

The Kentucky Advocates for Higher Education are staunchly supporting increased funding for higher education. Our goals are to move the level of higher education funding for your institution to one that is comparable to similar institutions in surrounding states; to see Centers of Excellence and endowed chairs retained and expanded; and to increase state support for student financial aid programs. These goals, if achieved, provide the opportunity for fair and just faculty and staff salaries, for adequate classroom support, better working conditions, and equitable student access.

If you have been following events in Frankfort, you know that the executive budget recommendation, for the two years beginning next July 1, treats higher education harshly, yes, even meanly. As a former member of the Council on Higher Education, and through my role as Chairman of the "Advocates," I have had a singular opportunity to be exposed to the realities of higher education's financial condition in this state. In my opinion, beginning July 1, 1988, there will be essentially no increase in state funds to meet increased operating expenses or to provide any kind of significant increase in faculty salaries overall.

The Kentucky Advocates are convinced of the value of your teaching and research efforts and we are pushing as hard as we can for an increase in higher education funding. If you want to join us in this effort, there are several meaningful and important things you can do.

First, identify your state representative and your state senator in the General Assembly. If you are uncertain, call the County Clerk's office in your county of residence, give your name and address, and ask them to help you identify your representative and senator.

Second, you can take a moment to make two calls, one to your senator and one to your representative at (800) 372-7181 and leave a message that you are calling in support of increased funding for higher education. It is a toll-free call which is very, very important that you make.

Third, you can write your senator and representative a brief letter indicating your support for increased funding for higher education. If you have an example of how funding problems are limiting your effectiveness, assisting with economic development efforts or with supporting the public schools, you can state that effort. Simply address the letters to your senator and representative, by name, c/o Kentucky General Assembly, State Capitol, Frankfort, KY 40601.

Fourth, you can address another letter to the governor with your concerns. Address the letter to Gov. Wallace Wilkinson, State Capitol, Frankfort, KY 40601. You can also write Lt. Governor Brereton C. Jones, same address.

Personal letters can be effective. They should be objective, concise, to the point, but not personally critical — otherwise, they will be counterproductive. It would be most helpful if you would provide copies to the Advocates of letters you write, but, of course, that is up to you.

I hope you have heard by now that the Advocates are having a statewide rally for quality higher education. The event will be held in Frankfort on Feb. 16 beginning at 3:30 p.m. That rally will be preceded by a march to the Capitol beginning at 1:30 p.m., sponsored by Student Advocates for Higher Education. You can join us for the march and rally. The Student Advocates are inviting all friends of higher education to participate in their march. I will be marching with the students and urge you to join them and, also, to join us for the rally at the Dudgeon Civic Center Arena.

More information about these events will be available on your campus. Contact your university Public Information office for additional details.

For as long as we have been a nation, citizens have engaged in marches and demonstrations in order to petition their government. In the last two decades, academicians and scholars have been at the forefront of efforts to address and resolve some of the most searing public problems. Should we do any less in the interest of quality higher education? Isn't this a noble cause for the late '80s?

We are at a critical juncture for Kentucky higher education. You and your work is important to the future of Kentucky. The students and young minds you are nurturing offer the most hope that we have for a better Kentucky. You must make your voices heard if you are to have the tools necessary to accomplish the honorable work in which you are engaged.

Robert D. Bell is chairman of Kentucky Advocates for Higher Education.

Rally could decide future of Higher Ed

Pull out your checkbook, sacrifice your education, or leave the state.

Unless something is done to stop the Wilkinson budget, these three choices may be the only ones available to students at Kentucky's public colleges and universities. These choices represent a tragedy in the making for the future of our Commonwealth.

At the University of Kentucky, the increase in funding proposed in the Wilkinson budget has already been committed to specific programs by the governor and thus results in an actual decrease in funding for the university. The practical effect will almost certainly be no increase in faculty and staff salaries without some as yet undetermined increase in revenue.

Students may well have to pull out their checkbook to pay for the inevitable tuition increase. The as yet unmentioned means of raising revenue may come in the form of a higher increase in tuition that would not ordinarily have occurred. This is not a solution that any student wants to bear.

Unfortunately, it seems that if students are not forced to pay higher tuition, UK will have no other source of money. This can only mean that faculty and staff salaries will not increase and vacant positions will not be filled. The quality of our education will undoubtedly suffer. Furthermore, as Dr. Roselle has said, some of our best faculty may not leave because of the lack of money, but because they cannot help but feel that their hard work is not appreciated by the leaders of this state. Thus the second choice becomes sacrificing the quality of our education.

It is the third choice which represents potentially the greatest loss for Kentucky. The unmistakable message of the Wilkinson budget is that higher education is not important in Kentucky. This message is being heard by the most promising students in our high schools and they will inevitably begin looking outside Kentucky for the higher education that can challenge their intellect. The loss of our greatest talent and future leaders would be a direct result of the perceived lack of commitment to higher education on the part of this administration and the blame for this loss must and will be placed squarely with Governor Wilkinson.

There may yet be one way to convince the legislature that adoption of the Wilkinson budget proposal would be a grave error from which we may not soon recover.

The opportunity to make our voices heard will come on Tuesday, Feb. 16, 1988. Students and education leaders will march on the capitol and then rally for the cause at the Civic Center in Frankfort. This is our chance to make a difference. If you have never been involved in student affairs before, now is the time. If you do one thing for the University of Kentucky while you are a student, make it your attendance at this rally. This issue has a direct effect on every student on this campus. Our message is unmistakable and the governor and legislature will not be able to ignore this show of support for the future of Kentucky.

For the march and rally to be successful, thousands of students must converge on Frankfort. The capitol grounds should be standing room only. The Civic Center should be filled to the rafters with others turned away at the door.

The Student Government Association is providing bus transportation to Frankfort on Feb. 16. For more information, please call 257-3191. If you cannot attend either the march or the rally, at the very least contact your legislator about this important issue.

There are no easy answers to the problem of funding state government in Kentucky. The financial picture is bleak, but the future of the Commonwealth is inextricably tied to a quality system of higher education. The future of higher education in this state could be decided with this rally. You owe it to yourself and others to attend. I urge you to take action and stand up and be counted in Frankfort.

Gene Vance is a first-year law student and one of the SGA Student Lobbyists.

C.A. Duane Bonifer Executive Editor
 Jay Blanton Executive Editor
 Michael Brennan Editorial Cartoonist
 Dan Hassert Editor in chief
 Thomas J. Sullivan News Editor
 Karen Phillips Design Editor

Letters

UK should address parking

The University's parking situation is something at which we could all laugh if it wasn't such a disaster! Parking stickers, regardless of their destination, are no more than hunting licenses. The prolific construction of new buildings on campus during the past three to four years has greatly decreased available parking.

In a previous response to parking complaints, the University issued the following evaluation of the situation: "There is not a lack of parking, only a lack of convenient parking."

Those of us with off-campus commitments during the day must take issue with this since it is often impossible to find a legal space upon returning to campus.

It is time the University re-examined or formulated policies regarding the construction of new parking facilities to accompany new buildings, along with replacing previously existing spaces neglected by construction.

Since constructing new parking facilities is futuristic, at best, considering the proposed state budget, the following suggestions are made in hopes that present spaces be managed more efficiently:

(1) Vehicles without stickers should be towed instead of merely ticketed.

(2) Service and University vehicles should park in areas designated for service parking only.

(3) Guards/parking attendants should monitor cars passing through the gates more closely; those without permits should not be allowed to pass through, or given a 30-minute visitor's pass. In all fairness, the gentleman at Gate 1 must be praised for his diligence in monitoring incoming vehicles. At other gates, attendants often never even look at cars passing.

(4) Patrolling lots should begin earlier in the day (before 8 a.m.). This could free a number of spaces during the early morning hours when traffic is the heaviest.

As one of the state's largest employers, the University should be obligated to provide adequate parking facilities for its employees. Continued expansion demands that employee parking be an intrinsic part of future planning.

Rhonda Bryant, Robin Fudge Gray, Sharon Lawson and Lynda Green are all counselors in the financial aid office.

Editor's note: This letter was signed by 10 other UK employees.

803!

Friday Happy Hour

3 p.m.-8:03

NOW FEATURING CORONA!

$1.00 Mixed Drinks

$1.65 pitchers

85¢ K&M&S & Drafts

Attention Advertisers ... Don't Miss FASHIONALITY 1988

Publication Date: Monday, March 7, 1988
 Space and Copy Deadline: Friday, February 26, 1988

Don't miss this opportunity to advertise in our FASHION TAB just prior to spring break!

Call today to reserve space. 257-2872
Linda Collins

How to run your own show.

The American Express® Card can play a starring role virtually anywhere you shop, from Tokyo to Thailand. Whether you're buying a TV or a T-shirt. So during college and after, it's the perfect way to pay for just about everything you'll want.

How to get the Card now. College is the first sign of success. And because we believe in your potential, we've made it easier to get the American Express Card right now. Whether you're a freshman, senior or grad student, look into our new automatic approval offers for details, pick up an application on campus, or call 1-800-THE-CARD and ask for a student application.

The American Express Card. Don't Leave School Without It.™

UK fencer to be in Jr. Olympics

By EVAN SILVERSTEIN
Staff Writer

The Junior Olympics is the last step for athletes before the Summer Olympic Games. Held in Cleveland Feb. 13-15, it is sure to present fierce competition for communications sophomore Donna Osburn, who will be entering the games in the fencing category.

Osburn, 19, who had never participated in the sport before college, has been competing in fencing tournaments since joining the UK fencing club her freshman year.

She has won two tournaments — the Novice Tournament in Park Knox last December and the Under 20 Tournament in Louisville last January, which qualified her for the Junior Olympics.

Osburn is the No. 1 seed in Kentucky with a state ranking of "E," a respectable ranking for one relatively new to competition, she said. The ranking of "A" indicates a world-class competitor, while "U" is the lowest.

Osburn said she primarily sees the Junior Olympics as an opportunity to learn, but not necessarily as a chance to advance to the "real" Olympics.

UK student fencer Donna Osburn will compete in the National Junior Olympics this weekend.

"After I found out that winning the Under 20 qualified me for the Junior Olympics, I said I'd like to go, because I may not get another chance to do this again," she said.

"It's going to be awhile before I can qualify for the Olympics — probably — it may be a few years."

Osburn is being sponsored by McDonald's restaurants in Lexington. The company will finance all hotel, food and traveling costs.

McDonald's, also a major sponsor for the Olympic Games, is financing Osburn for local reasons. "McDonald's tries to be very involved in the communities in which they exist," said Sundae Park, public relations coordinator for McDonald's.

"Getting involved in something like this on a local level really excites us to be able to help her go," she said.

Another person enthused about Osburn's weekend trip to Cleveland is Abdelmoneem Rizk, who will coach her during the Junior Olympics.

"I am hoping with her enthusiasm and interest she will reach the finals," Rizk said. "She is very enthusiastic, she has been showing both interest and (hard) practice — this is the reason why she decided to go."

"This is the Olympic trials for (fencers) under 20. There are going to be very good fencers, they have a lot of experience and it's going to be tough competition," Rizk said.

Osburn is only one of a dozen members who compete in tournaments from the UK fencing club. In addition to at least eight hours of practicing a week, she helps to demonstrate fencing techniques in Rizk's one-credit-hour fencing course.

Governor's wife says she'll be 'ambassador' for education

By C.A. DUANE BONIFER
Editorial Director

Kentucky first lady Martha Wilkinson told an audience at Lexington Community College yesterday that she is ready to be an "ambassador of education for the next four years."

Wilkinson said that if Kentucky is to become better off, then it must improve its educational standards.

Wilkinson said she wants to travel around high schools in Kentucky trying to motivate students to get a quality education.

"I want to say to youngsters, 'It's not important that they are getting a diploma for your mom and dad,'" she said. "It is important that we get across to our young people today to care about oneself."

One program Wilkinson says would help school children care about themselves would be a summer reading program.

The program, which Wilkinson said would not cost any money, would encourage local school districts to sponsor summer reading programs in which students would read one book over the summer months.

Wilkinson said she can especially relate to citizens of the 5th and 7th congressional districts where low levels of education are the most severe.

Wilkinson, who is a native of Casey Co., in the 5th District, said she wants to work with adults in those areas so they may acquire their general equivalent diploma.

"I want to relate to those people that I came from the 5th District," she said. "Instead of putting people down ... I think I would be an understanding source."

Although the state does not have the funds to institute many new programs, Wilkinson said optimism could make up that financial gap.

"If we keep an open mind and let nothing come between our accomplishments and goals, we are going to change the thinking in Kentucky," she said. "I think there is no limit to people who are determined ... The sky's the limit."

Following her 25-minute talk, Wilkinson fielded questions from the audience.

Several members of the audience commended Wilkinson for promoting education, but many of them were concerned over the future of higher education in Kentucky.

Gov. Wallace Wilkinson's proposed budget for the next biennium only gives higher education a 0.5-percent raise for the first fiscal year.

Mrs. Wilkinson was quick to point out that "I'm not here to discuss the budget cuts in the governor's budget. He's the governor."

However, she said, "if we had had my husband leading Kentucky 10 years ago we would not have the nasty situation facing us today."

Kentucky needs a year to "get (itself) in order," she said, and it must "realign our priorities."

Some state legislators have suggested raising taxes to help meet the state's $53.7 million deficit, but Wilkinson said her husband does not want to "take the easy way out."

The easy way would be to increase taxes and paying what we owe now, but there would still be no money for higher education," she said.

LCC Student Government Association Senator Chris Essid said he was disappointed with Wilkinson's endorsement of the governor's budget.

"I thought she contradicted herself by saying the value of education ... but at the same time, she defended her husband's budget that cuts off funding for higher education."

However, Melissa Lloyd, an LCC sophomore and a member of Phi Beta Lambda, said Wilkinson handled herself very well.

"I think she handled herself very well, considering the circumstances," she said.

WORSHAM THEATRE

NO WAY OUT
Wed. Feb. 10 - Sun. Feb. 14
8 p.m., Sun. at 7

winner of 60 international awards
Dr. Strangelove

Wed. Feb. 10 - Sat. Feb. 13
10:00 p.m.
Admission $1.95 for more info call 257-1287

Don't compete with a Kaplan student — be one.

MCAT
Classes for the April 30 exam start Feb. 15 - 6 p.m.-10 p.m.

KAPLAN
STANLEY H. KAPLAN EDUCATIONAL CENTER LTD.
2134 Nicholasville Rd. Suite 16 276-5419

April Flowers Florist
Dudley Square
254-7814

Order Early for Valentine's Day

Open Sunday, Feb. 14th Valentine's Day!

KERNEL

sweatshirt painting!

McAlpin's

Have our artist paint your favorite valentine, Kentucky design, or create your own.

Artists will be in McAlpin's on Saturday, February 13 from 11:00am-8:00pm

Buy a sweatshirt from our Casual Sportswear department for $9.99 and the artist will paint your favorite design for only $7.00.

Saturday, Feb. 13 11:00am-8:00pm
TURFLAND MALL Lexington Mall
Melissa Rowe Robert Depp
Located in the Casual Sportswear Department

USA Cinemas
NORTH PARK 233-4420	SOUTH PARK 272-6611
Braddock: Missing in Action III R 1:20-3:20-5:20-7:40-9:40 Fri/Sat 11:40	Fatal Attraction R 12:40-3:20-5:15-7:50-10:35 Fri/Sat 12:15
Serpent and the Rainbow PG-13 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:50-9:50 Fri/Sat 11:50	The Last Emperor PG-13 1:00-4:00-7:05-10:45
Eddie Murphy in Raw R 2:00-3:50-5:40-7:30-9:20 Fri/Sat 11:10	Satisfaction PG-13 1:30-3:10-5:10-7:40-9:40 Fri/Sat 11:40
Satisfaction PG-13 1:10-3:10-5:10-7:40-9:40 Fri/Sat 11:40	Good Morning Vietnam R 12:30-2:30-5:10-7:35-9:55 Fri/Sat 12x
Action Jackson R 1:00-3:05-5:10-7:50-10:00 Fri/Sat 12:00	Broadcast News 1:05-4:45-7:30-10:00 Fri/Sat 12:15
Three Men and a Baby PG 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:30-9:30 Fri/Sat 11:30	Three Men and a Baby PG 1:15-3:20-5:20-7:45-9:45 Fri/Sat 11:55
Shoot to Kill R 1:05-3:15-5:25-7:45-9:55 Fri/Sat 12:00	LEXINGTON MALL 269-4626
Fatal Attraction R 1:45-4:15-7:30-9:45 Fri/Sat 12:00	She's Having a Baby PG-13 1:15-3:20-5:25-7:45-9:50 Fri/Sat 11:50
For Keeps PG-13 1:15-3:15-5:15-7:40-9:40 Fri/Sat 11:40	Moonstruck PG 1:30-3:30-5:30-7:35-9:35 Fri/Sat 11:50
Good Morning Vietnam R 1:00-3:15-5:30-7:45-10:00 Fri/Sat 12:15	CROSSROADS 272-6111
FAVETTE MALL 272-6662	Action Jackson R 1:00-3:05-5:10-7:50-10:00 Fri/Sat 12:00
Shoot to Kill R 1:20-3:25-5:25-7:45-9:40 Fri/Sat 11:40	For Keeps PG-13 1:00-3:00-5:30-7:40-9:40 Fri/Sat 11:35
Serpent and the Rainbow PG-13 1:45-3:45-5:45-7:55-9:55 Fri/Sat 11:40	TURFLAND MALL 276-4444
BARGAIN MATINEES DAILY	Survived R 2:00-4:40-7:30-10:05
	She's Having a Baby PG-13 1:15-3:20-5:25-7:45-9:50 Fri/Sat 11:50

STUDENT GROUP HEALTH INSURANCE

DEADLINE FOR ENROLLMENT

Students who wish to participate in group health insurance for the spring semester and are enrolling for the FIRST time must observe the deadline for enrollment as stated below.

The enrollment form with proper premium fee must be mailed to the Company and post-marked no later than midnight, February 12, 1988.

OR

Enrollment form and check may be brought to the Student Health Service Insurance office by 4:30 p.m. Friday February 12, 1988. Student Health Service is located in Medical Plaza, behind the wildcat blue doors. Come to Room 169 B.

NOTE: If you are renewing your enrollment, the above deadlines do not apply.

Company address:
Parker and Parker Insurance Company
100 2nd Avenue, North, Suite 220
St. Petersburg, Florida 33701

If you have questions, please call (606) 233-6356
(Insurance Company - Fidelity Security Life Insurance Company)

Kentucky Kernel

Love Notes

Hot-knot TKA Freddy,
Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
I love you,
And your wazoo too!!
Happy V Day!
Love,
Hot-knotette

GLENN,
Hey Slicker! Where's the liquor?
We left it behind for Brigitte to find.
Remember at Bar's and Bonnie's too?
Just what were we suppose to do?
I didn't know then but I do now,
That Molly loves that squirt gun,
AND HOW!
I love you with all my heart
And don't ever plan to part because you've made my dreams come true
since I've always loved
YOU!
LISA

TRACEY
I LOVE YOU-I LOVE
YOU-I LOVE YOU
I LOVE YOU-I
LOVE YOU!
JEFF

CALVIN B.
HOPE YOU HAVE A HAPPY V-DAY!
DO YOU REMEMBER
2-14-87?
LOVE,
ANG

Am
XO
I Love You,
Let's Be Funny
Love, Your Honey.

Christine
It has been a GREAT two years!
Here is to a LIFETIME more YFH,
Rick

NERD
Roses are Red
Violets are black for Valentines day
I got you a 2-pack!
It's been a surprise
3 1/2 weeks!!
HAPPY VALENTINES DAY
oh yeah!-will be my VALENTINE

Dearest S.P.
All my love
to you, my love!
For now and for always!
❤️

Pebbles
Happy Valentines Day
Pool Bears
I have enjoyed our last 10 months
together.
I ♥ U
2/12

Some call you Prof.
Some call you Mr. G.
But I'm the one who loves you
And I call you
Turkey!

SKYLINE
Loves
UK
3 or 4-WAY
Garlic Bread
Large Pop
$ 3.50
EXPIRES: 2-15-88

Rick C.
I'll love you Always
your Valentine
Tracey

My Love Sunny ☺
For Valentine day
why don't you spare me some of your Precious time. I can think of a lot of things to do.
Happy Valentine
Honey. Acceptance will be highly appreciated.
Love,
Mo

Roseanne
Happy BIRTHDAY
Love,
mom - DAD
CHRIS
HAROLD TOM

With secret sighs,
And silent whispers,
Oh I love you,
My thoughts turn,
Numerous as snowflakes,
In the Arctic night,
Your way.
My Comrade,
Even though we may only be able to be friends, you are a special friend and I'll always love you in a special way.
The Red Trishman

Lynne,
You are the best valentine one could ASK For. And these past 2 1/2 years have been wonderful!
Love,
Stahud

Leigh,
Thanks for the most wonderful,
oblivious year of my life.
Dornd

TIM
I miss you when we're
I miss you when we're
But I want you to always remember
I'll love you from the bottom of my HEART!
LOVE
KIM

I LOVE YOU

KD Kim B.
Dinner Saturday?
Hoping you'll be mine
for a long while!
A.S.A.

Dear Sunny (Jo)
I wish you the happiest Valentine ever. I Love you more than you ever think. I wish I would be able to do more with you on this day but I guess
I'll have to wait.
Love you
Mo

AGB BILLY — We'll have a blast tomorrow nite! Can't wait!
Ann, my one and only love. Be my Valentine. Love ya.
Randy
Brian, I Love Valentine's Day. I Love You Very Much. A.S.
Cleave, Ms. Turtle, etc. We love you all! The Next
(D.E.P.A.R. — Happy Valentine's Day from the Boss in the Blue Dress)
Evan, Why can't I get just one kiss? Love, Richard Happy Valentine's Day, Odell, I LOVE YOU! Jackie
I Love My Staff. You are the greatest! Kaitouchian Ed-tor Nealand
JAY, Two Months. Ugggg! Happy Valentine's Day
Love, Heidi
Jeremy, the warmest, softest, most open person over!
Love, Fred
KAT — Kim L.H. — Will you be my Valentine? — Chris
J.B.
Lance L. — Happy Valentine's Day — Again! Love Always, Sarah
Lisa, Please be my Valentine today and always! Love,
Randy
Lorrie, Where are you? Call me! Lynn
MARY, I LOVE YOU TOO!
NEW considering our past our future looks great more me!
Shirah, I'm having a Big Mac Attack! Love you —
Tracy equal
Super Sue McDuck: Be my Valentine. Love, Mik and Candice
SWEETHEART, I GOBBLE, GOBBLE LOVE (GDB
P.E. GORBLE) YOU
TOMCAT, You make me so happy. I love you Lana.
To my best friend, Kim, Happy Valentine's Day! Veneta
TRACEY — Your the greatest! I LOVE YOU! — fore-er Love, JEFF

ADP, CALIAPA,
HAPPY VALENTINES
DAY.
I LOVE YOU
ALWAYS,
VLADAMIR

ME MAJOR DALLER
I wish I could change the last four months. Meet me in "Heaven"! I really Love you!!
Jalrie

Ky Cowboy
Thanks for Greatest last 5 months.
Looking forward to more.
Love you,
Country girl!

Stegs,
I Like you, ALOT!
maybe even more than that!
Happy VALENTINES
DAY!
Love,
Melbo

Gregg
Happy Valentines
Day #2!!!
I Love you
Very much!!
Elizabeth

Denise,
I can't wait to become your Mrs. on May. I love you more than I can say. Happy
Valentine's Day
April,
Ken

She's the nicest that being with you. I smile a little less quickly.
I am a little brighter.
The sun shines a little warmer. For life is so much better being with you. Take me to a different place... A place called
LOVE.
I'm so thankful you came into my life.
I LOVE YOU!
(Smile)

KEVIN,
THIS HEART'S FOR ALL THE WORLD TO SEE THAT I LOVE
YOU AND YOU
LOVE ME!!
ALWAYS,
HARVEY

Bradley, You'll always be the best guy
I know!
Love,
Shelly

KRISSY B.:
LOVE YOU TWO TIMES, LOVE YOU
TWICE EVERYDAY!
I ♥ U,
CHRIS

KELLY S.
SORRY WE CAN'T BE TOGETHER TODAY.
HOW ABOUT
MARDI GRAS
TOMORROW?
HAPPY V-DAY!
DOUG
W.

KD Velvetten Rabbit,
Valentine's Day
approaches. Will you be mine?
REAL Love awaits,
Yours.

Harvey Bear,
Happy Valentines Day!
My One and Only... You are the best thing to ever happen to me!!
Love forever,
Your Sunggle
Bear!

Marshall,
My life was Blessed with you. I love you
Lynn

JACKIE FRANK
DEC 4 ♥ 1984
LOVE
TODAY
TOMORROW
AND FOREVER

Bobby Bad,
a few days apart has made all the difference in the world.
I Love you more than ever!!!
Happy Valentine's
Day!
Eunice
Good

CAROL
I Cherish our time
we spend together
HAPPY Valentine
Day
Love Always
MARK

BI & XN Kim H,
I had a "Crutch", but now I have a Crush on you!
Bad Luck
in B-I

AOP, Shannen,
Thanks for making this past month with you so special!!
Can't wait to spend Valentines Day
with you!!!
Love,
Happy

AMY
HAPPY
VALENTINES
DAY TO THE BEST FRIEND AND ROOMIE A GIRL COULD HAVE!
I LOVE YOU,
YOUR SIS,
Jenny

Libby,
Happy Valentines
Day
with all my Love
Eric

SUSIE,
HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY SWEETHEART!
YOU'RE THE BEST!
Love Always,
Curt

Kellie So,
For 340 Days You have Made My heart Pound. I'm happy for every day we've had Together, and each day more than the last Happy
Valentines
Geek.
Love,
Sam

ATTENTION: "WARHEAD" (J.C.S.)
I HAD ALMOST FORGOTTEN
WHAT A GREAT DANCER
YOU ARE, TOO. THANKS.
HAPPY V-DAY
H.B.L.

Shawn, (w.w.)
Happy 22nd on Valentine's Day.
I hope to make it
the Best ever!
I LOVE you!
Herrat

ROSES to the KK
NEWS STAFF
Thanks for the
VALENTINE'S TAB and giving up your weekend!
THE AD STAFF

Roseanne
Has it only been 3 months they've been Fantastic!
Just Remember, you always take my breath away Love,
David

Dear Mary, I will remember all that one month like it was the best time and we will have the best time together. All these memories will stay with me forever,
I love you!
Forever yours,
Eric

Fuzzy Lover Man,
I'm so glad you came into my life. I would be lost without you. You are my everything. Happy
Valentine's Day!
I love you!
Forever Yours,
Sherrisse

EX Reid,
For when we're together or when we're apart, you're first in my thoughts and first in my heart. Happy Day!
I LOVE
YOU!
Betsy

MARTIN from KFC
"HAPPY
VALENTINES
DAY!"
VENETTA

RUPALI:
SLEEPING ---
I SEE YOUR FACE
IN ALL MY DREAMS
FILLING MY HEART WITH HAPPINESS
WAKENING ---
I REALIZE THAT YOUR IS THE FACE
I WANT TO SEE EVERY DAY
FOR THE REST OF MY LIFE

POOCHIE
I'm Sorry
Happy Valentines Day

DAVID -
IF The Sun
Refused to Shine,
I would Still Be
Loving you!!!
Forever,
Tonya

Sports

Gym Kats playing host to W. Va.

By SALLY MACY
Staff Writer

After three weeks of no competition, the Kentucky gymnastics team finally gets to see if its extra practice will pay off. UK faces the Mountaineers of West Virginia at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Memorial Coliseum.

Due to some scheduling conflicts, the Gym Kats have had three weeks to help them prepare.

"We needed the time to train because we were not in peak condition in the first few weeks of the season," Kentucky coach Leah Little said.

Although the Mountaineers don't appear to be as strong as some of the Southeastern Conference schools, UK is preparing for a close meet.

"We need a really high score this meet," senior co-captain Kendall Lucas said. "We all need to put forth a 100-percent effort to get back into contention in the SEC."

Little is hoping her squad will be in top condition tonight. The last few weeks have included a few coughs, sneezes and sniffles.

"There's a lot of illness and flu bugs going around," Little said. "It's hard to know if everyone will compete. Hopefully everyone's mostly recovered by now."

Senior co-captain Robin Leggett is limited to competing on the vault due to an ankle injury. Little said Lucas and freshman Aaron Aldrich will have to pick up the slack. But then, they have so far.

"Aaron is doing exactly what we need her to do right now," Little said. "Kendall has been a consistent performer this year, just as we were expecting."

CLAY OWEN/Kentucky Star

Assistant coach Brad Wunderlich assists a UK gymnast in practice yesterday. Kentucky meets West Virginia tonight at 7:30 p.m.

No. 10 Cats to try washing Crimson Tide to shore again

By CHRIS ALDRIDGE
Staff Writer

The Kentucky Wildcats resume Southeastern Conference play tomorrow against the Alabama Crimson Tide. The real struggle, however, may not be on the court, but inside the UK players' heads.

"The biggest key Saturday night is that we respect the Tide," UK assistant coach James Dickey said. "We can't afford to be upset at home. We've put ourselves in a position to win the conference."

The Cats are in sole possession of first place in the league with a 9-3 mark. Wednesday's win over Auburn, coupled with Georgia's upset of Florida, put the Cats atop the SEC.

Senior center Rob Lock said he felt "damn good" to be first in the conference.

In contrast, the Crimson Tide is bringing up the rear in the conference race with a 3-8 record, tied with Mississippi and Mississippi State.

"We're not used to last place around here," Alabama coach Wimp Sanderson said. "When we've had good teams, they've played the best in February and March." The Tide had a good team last year, capturing the SEC championship. However, the only player on this year's squad that played last season is 6-foot-7 forward Michael Ansley. He's the Tide's leading scorer, tossing in 18.8 points a game.

"He's one of the best players in the league," UK senior forward Winston Bennett said. "He does an excellent job in the paint area."

Although the Cats are favored to win tomorrow's game, Bennett said

ABOUT THE GAME

Matchup: Alabama 11-12 (3-8 SEC) vs. Kentucky 17-3 (9-3 SEC)

Time: 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Place: Rupp Arena.

Radio Coverage: Live on the UK Radio Network, WLW-AM 700 with Cawood Ledford and Ralph Hacker.

TV Coverage: Live on WKYT-27 with Tom Hammond and Dan Isell.

he still believes in giving respect, even where it may not be due.

"We don't fear anyone, but we respect everyone," Bennett said. "Because they're in last place, you may have a tendency to take them lightly. That makes them dangerous."

UK freshman forward LeRon Ellis said Alabama is in a prime position to pull off an upset in Rupp Arena.

"They're going to come in here playing relaxed, and a lot of times that makes a team that is bad have a good game," Ellis said. "On any given day, they can beat anybody."

Sutton said he toyed with the idea of starting freshman Eric Manuel in place of Ellis against Alabama, but said Ellis will remain a starter.

Manuel scored 12 points versus Auburn in 30 minutes of playing time, while Ellis managed only two in 20 minutes.

"I believe we're a better basketball team offensively, and probably

Todd Jones
Sports Editor

Jim White
Assistant Sports Editor

a better basketball team with Eric Manuel in the offense at the present time," Sutton said.

"It would be a throwback to two years ago when we had three guards in the lineup, because I consider Eric a guard."

Sutton said he particularly likes Manuel's lack of turnovers. He's had only eight for the season, which prompted the UK coach to say, "for the amount of time he's playing, that's unheard of for a freshman."

Sutton says it is to the Cats' advantage to play at a "little faster pace Saturday."

"One of the biggest keys in the game will be tempo — trying to speed the thing up," Sutton said.

"The other night (against Auburn) we were able to do that. Hopefully, we'll be able to do it again Saturday afternoon against the Crimson Tide."

• Don't ask the Wildcat's to recommend too many places to eat in Auburn, Ala.

After the game with the Tigers Wednesday, the UK team went to grab a bite to eat at a restaurant.

At this fine establishment, the Cats soon discovered they were not dining alone. Center Rob Lock looked down at his onions and saw a cockroach. The unwitting guest was not fried like the onions. He was crawling.

"It was a big one," Lock said. "Yeah, it was really big," Ellis said.

The name of the restaurant will be withheld to protect the guilty.

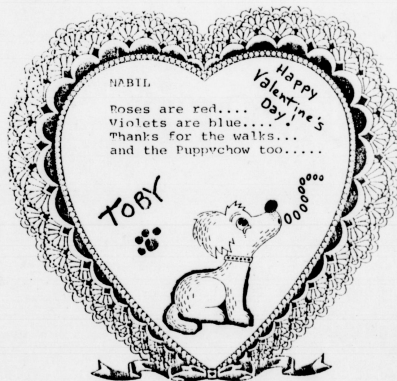

Give the Gift that says: "I love you enough to care about your future"

BesType

Typesetting Service
257-6525

This Valentine's Day, surprise that significant other with a professional-quality resume from BesType Typesetting.

Cheaper than roses
Less Fattening than Candy

American High Fashion Consultant

Go to the head of the class by joining the "American High" team of retail professionals. Bright, energetic, eager individual with high taste level is needed for our location in the Fayette Mall.

We offer competitive salaries along with a comprehensive benefits package. Previous retail experience a plus. If you can work days and are interested in a career opportunity that is sure to score straight A's, contact: CARMEN at 272-9002.

American High Lexington, KY 40503
Fayette Mall Equal Opportunity Employer M/F

Kentucky Kernel

Editor in chief: Dan Hassert
Executive Editor: Jay Blanton
News Editor: Thomas J. Sullivan
Design Editor: Karen Phillips
Editorial Editor: C. A. Duane Bonifer
Photo Editor: Clay Owen
Arts Editor: Erik Reece
Sports Editor: Todd Jones
Assistant Sports Editor: Jim White

Adviser: Paula Anderson
Production Manager: Scott Ward
Advertising Manager: Linda Collins

The Kentucky Kernel is published on class days during the academic year and weekly during the summer session.
Third-class postage paid at Lexington, KY 40511. Mailed subscription rates are $15 per semester and $30 per year.
The Kernel is printed at Standard Publishing and Printing, 534 Buckman St., Shepherdsville, KY 40165.
Correspondence should be addressed to the Kentucky Kernel, Room 026 Journalism Building, University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY 40506-0042. Phone: (606) 257-2871.

Career Opportunities for the Hospitality Industry

Here's your opportunity to fill out applications, to be interviewed and to learn first-hand about the hospitality industry from working professionals. Hyatt Regency Lexington will sponsor an OPEN HOUSE to allow you a one-on-one question and answer session with personnel from the following areas:

- ★ Hotel management
- ★ Food and Beverage Division
- ★ Engineering
- ★ Personnel
- ★ Sales
- ★ Accounting

Hyatt Regency Lexington is an equal opportunity employer with a strong commitment for promotion and transfer from within the corporation.

Open House
Tuesday, February 16, 1988
3 pm until 7 pm
Hyatt Regency Lexington
Regency Ballroom
(606) 253-1234 Ext. 1920

JOHN COUGAR MELLENCAMP

THE LONESOME JUBILEE TOUR

ON SALE TODAY

FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 8:00 • RUPP ARENA
ALL SEATS RESERVED $16.50

TICKETS GO ON SALE TODAY

Tickets available at the Lexington Center Box Office and all Ticketmaster locations including this one. Tickets also available at Ticketron and the usual in and out of town locations. Charge (606) 233-3535 or 1-800-525-5900.
Produced by Sunshine Promotions.

BUY ANY LARGE PIZZA FOR THE PRICE OF A SMALL PIZZA

SAVE UP TO $5.00

Now through 2/14/88 you can buy any large 16 inch pizza, and pay only the price of a comparable 12 inch pizza. No coupon necessary. Just ask!

No other coupons valid with this offer. Offer valid only at:

276-4437 1641 Nicholasville Rd.
269-9655 801 Euclid Ave.

DOMINO'S PIZZA DELIVERS FREE.

©1986 DPI Our drivers carry less than $20.00 Limited delivery area

Tennis Cats swing back into action

By TOM SPALDING
Staff Writer

The UK men's and women's tennis teams will play on their home court for the first time this season and in the process will try to volley past a couple of national powers.

The 14th-ranked men's team, fresh off a Wednesday afternoon victory over Louisville, will host Top 25 teams Minnesota, Clemson and South Carolina in the first annual Hilary J. Boone Invitational.

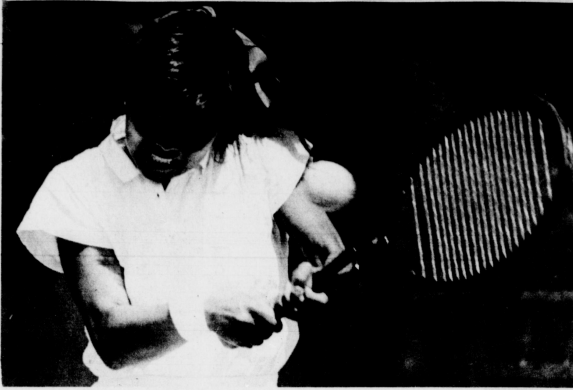

"Clearly they are three of the top programs in the country," Kentucky coach Dennis Emery said. "Clemson (No. 9) and South Carolina (No. 7) are two of the best teams in the south outside our conference."

The UK men, 1-1, will get things underway with a 6 p.m. match tonight against 24th-ranked Minnesota.

The Cats take on No. 9 Clemson at 2 p.m. Saturday. The finale will be at 2 p.m. Sunday against 7th-ranked South Carolina.

"We're excited and ready to play," Emery said. "Essentially, with three teams ranked in the Top 15, (the Boone Invitational) is one of the top invitations in the country." Emery said the event was even more special because of the three opposing coaches coming in.

"All of these coaches know each other real well," Emery said. "And the coaches like to beat each other."

MARK ZEROF/Kernell Staff

Kentucky senior All-American Tamaka Takagi returns a shot in a match last spring. Takagi will lead UK against Vanderbilt and Georgia this weekend at the Hilary J. Boone Tennis Center.

The fact that (UK) won both at Minnesota and South Carolina, they want to get us back."

Emery said more important than that, however, is that the invitational will be somewhat of a warm-up for the Feb. 17 USTA/ITCA National Team Indoor Tournament in Louisville.

"It's a good warm-up," he said. "But the matches are more important in terms of getting an NCAA bid (at the end of the season)."

The 9th-ranked Kentucky women's team, 1-0 after beating Miami (Ohio) two weeks ago, will face a stiff challenge when they face two Southeastern Conference opponents, Vanderbilt and No. 7 Georgia.

"The Georgia match should be a good one," said UK coach Susan Rudd. "Both teams are close to each other and evenly matched."

"But Vanderbilt is a good team too and it would be foolish of us to underestimate them. Every conference match will be tough."

Both the Kentucky men and women have a tentative line-up. For the men, Greg Van Emburgh will be the No. 1 seed, followed in order by Richard Benson, Mario Rincon, Willie Laban, Adam Malik and Sammy Stinnett.

The women will showcase Sonia Hahn at No. 1 with help from Tamaka Takagi, Chris Karges, Beckwith Archer, Caroline Knudten and Helene leBeller.

UK lady golfers ranked 12th

Staff reports

The UK Lady Kat golfers were placed 12th in the latest NCAA rankings released this week.

The UK squad trailed 11th-ranked California by only one point. WILDCAT WRAP-UP

The Lady Kats' first competition of the spring will be Feb. 19, at the Lady Gator Invitational at Gainesville, Fla.

"I'm thrilled that we're ranked as well as we are," coach Bettie Lou Evans said. "I thought we might even be higher in the poll than that but it's encouraging because I think that we can do nothing but get better."

UK senior Kate Rogerson was ranked seventh among individuals in the nation. Rogerson was a second-team All-America selection in September by Golfweek Magazine.

"I'm extremely excited," Rogerson said. "I thought that I'd be ranked in the Top 20 but I didn't think it would be as good as this."

Junior College split end Alfred Jones, a junior, signed with the Cats. Jones, a 6-foot-5, 190-pounder, is the third player to sign from Northeastern Oklahoma A&M.

UK tight end Charlie Darrington, who earned a starting position with the Cats last season, also hails from the Oklahoma school.

Fans get the vote

Fans attending the UK-Alabama game Saturday at Rupp Arena will have a chance to vote for an NCAA All-Time Final Four team.

The balloting, sponsored by the NCAA and USA Today, is being conducted as part of the 50th Anniversary Commemoration of the Men's Basketball Championship.

A panel of former collegiate basketball coaches, including former UK coach Joe B. Hall, selected 50 players to be listed on the ballots that will be distributed nationally.

Swimmers hit the road

The Kentucky swim teams travel to the University of Cincinnati tomorrow for a 2 p.m. meet.

The UK women will enter the water with a 3-2 record while the men are looking to even their 2-3 mark.

Claiborne gets one more

The UK football team added another signee to the list yesterday, bringing the total to 28.

JOHN KENNETH GALBRAITH
ECONOMICS IN PERSPECTIVE

From Aristotle to the Present Day

There are many books on the subject of economics, but few on the history of economic thought. Now John Kenneth Galbraith supplies a much-needed overview of the development of this ambitious and imperfect science, from Aristotle to Keynes and beyond. Here is a lively account of the social, political, financial, and industrial preoccupations and passion of the Western World. Houghton Mifflin Company —$19.95

A CRITICAL HISTORY

The Mail at Lexington Green/Nicholasville Rd. at New Circle/(606) 273-2911

Joseph-Beth Booksellers

For fast pickup or delivery the all new

D's Deli
440 S. Ashland
268-4006

Hey UK, Wanna Real Sub?

Our "Northern Grinder" features 5 oz. of Ham, Turkey & Salami dressed to kill on a bakery fresh submarine roll. Now for a limited time buy one ($3.50) and receive the second for 1/2 price. So go ahead, pass the bread and get some meat!

Offer expires 2/23/88

GOOD READING!
The Kentucky Kernel

shoppers VILLAGE LIQUORS

Chandon Brut or Blanc de Noir Champagne
999
750 MI.

Kahlua Coffee Liqueur
1059
750 MI.

Gemini Asti Spumante
499
750 MI.

Glen Ellen White Zinfandel
348
750 MI.

Seagrams 7-Crown
1199
1.75 L.

Valentine Sale!

Corona Mexican Beer
519
6-Pak

We Will Match Any Lexington Competitor's Advertised Price! Bring in Their Ad!
CHEVY CHASE PLACE • 269 3003 CROSSROADS PLAZA • 272 6305
VERSAILLES ROAD • 238 1060 CHINDE VILLAGE • 268 4335
NORTH BROADWAY • 293 0344 LAKEVIEW PLAZA • 269 9157

This spring, make a break for it.

$49.50 This Spring Break, catch a Greyhound® to the beach, the mountains or your hometown. For $49.50 each way, you and your friends will have a great time when you go Greyhound. GO GREYHOUND And leave the driving to us.

Greyhound • 477 New Circle Road • 255-4261

Must present a valid college student I.D. card upon purchase. No other discounts apply. Tickets are nontransferable and good for travel on Greyhound Lines, Inc., Trailways Lines and other participating carriers. Certain restrictions apply. Fare is each way per person based on round-trip purchase. Offer effective 2/15/88 through 4/25/88. Offer limited. Not valid in Canada. Greyhound also offers an unlimited mileage fare for $59.00 each way. Some restrictions apply. © 1988 Greyhound Lines, Inc.