THANKS TO KY. H. S. PRESS

Every former student of the University of Kentucky who has had the privilege of sitting in the classroom of the late beloved Prof. Enoch Grehan, for 23 years head of the department of journalism, or of studying under the guidance and direction of our wonderful "Miss Margie," for 36 years a professor of journalism at the University, should feel a personal indebtedness to the Kentucky High School Press Association which has so recently honored these inspired teachers.

As announced in others columns of this magazine, service certificates in the fields of newspaper and year-book service were awarded last June to 184 high school seniors in Kentucky, honoring the memory of Professor Grehan and the continuing contributions of Miss Mc-

MR. GUTHRIE'S GIFT TO UK

A. B. Guthrie's name has made the rounds of editorial pages since it was announced this week that he had received the coveted Pulitzer prize for fiction.

We had known that "The Way West" was a great novel. But, like Mr. Guthrie, we were surprised and delighted when it was chosen from thousands of others for the honor.

There is very little we can add to the more widely-read and expertly-written statements of the others. We know that Mr. Guthrie appreciates their plaudits. We know, too, that he is sincerely modest in accepting them.

He doesn't write for writing's sake, for money's sake or for art's sake. Yet, while he believes writing to be the greatest medium of communication, he doesn't frown on the money with an anti-materialistic sniff, and he hopes that his work, because it is genuine and heartfelt, is realistic art.

To him, praise is merely the acceptance and understanding of his work. The rush among students to register in his classes here, and the long list which must be turned away, indicate strongly enough that they appreciate his work. Therefore praise is not necessary.

We can, however, consider our good fortune in having Kentucky's first Pulitzer prize winner at the University, and be grateful to whomever brought him here. Certainly no man here has been more influential than A. B. Guthrie, Jr., in improving the literary reputation of the University.

Lexington Girl Wins '50 Alumni Scholarship

Miss Dolly Raye Sullivent, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Sullivent, of Lexington, has been awarded the University of Kentucky Alumni scholarship, UK Vice President Leo M. Chamberlain has announced.

A member of the senior class of Henry Clay High School, Miss Sullivent was selected from among 15 top-ranking high school pupils from throughout Kentucky. She was graduated from high school on June 2.

The scholarship, known as the University of Kentucky Alumni Loyalty Fund Scholarship, is a four-year grant at $2,800. It is the largest scholarship awarded at the University.

Nominations are made by organized alumni clubs or by individual members of the alumni association and are not limited to Kentucky high school pupils. Nominees are interviewed and given a written examination, and are selected after consideration of scholastic aptitude, character, personality and participation in high school extra-curricular activities.

Miss Sullivent is a member of the National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll, and the YWCA. She is a member of the editorial staff of the Henry Clay High School Times and is active in school literary societies, dramatics and the school chorus. She will study journalism and commerce at the University.

The alumni scholarship, established in 1948, was won that year by John Biggerstaff of Berea and in 1949 by Don Hartford of Covington.

Pharmacy College Dedicates Library; Late Dean Honored

Unveiling of a portrait of Dr. Gordon L. Curry, late dean of the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy, marked the dedication, on March 3, of the college's new 2,500-volume library.

The library, named in honor of Dr. Curry, is on the second floor of the college at 104 W. Chesnut, Louisville. The photographic portrait is a gift of

Dolly Sullivent

Benjamin Floyd Brown, B.S. '41, of Ashland, who holds the M.S. degree from Carnegie Institute of Technology, obtained his doctor's degree from that institution last June.

Dr. Curry's son, Gordon Cromwell Curry, Bronxville, N.Y., who unveiled it.

Dedicatory speaker was Arthur P. Markendorf, member of the City-County Health Board and a president of the college when it was known as the Louisville College of Pharmacy. It became a part of the University of Kentucky in 1947.

The library was furnished at a cost of approximately $6,000. A $1,000 annual fund will be available for purchase of pharmaceutical reading material in the future, college officials said.

Mrs. Judith Berkowitz, librarian, said the library would be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except Saturdays and Sunday.

Dr. Curry, who died last January, founded the old pharmacy library. He served as first dean of the Louisville College of Pharmacy from 1894 to 1917, and as dean again from 1925 until retirement in 1946.

Membership Prize Contest Announced Aug. 1

Awards, 40 Tickets To Ky.-Fla. Game

In an effort to stimulate interest in membership in the Alumni Association, the executive committee, at its mid-summer meeting voted to purchase 40 good tickets to the Kentucky-Florida Homecoming football game on Nov. 4, to be awarded to individual alumni and organized clubs obtaining the most members for the 1950-'51 fiscal year. The contest closes October 1.

The executive committee of the general association feels that it is imperative that membership be increased to at least 5,000 this year if we are to have a vital, forceful association, and with this in mind the following rules and regulations for entrance in the contest have been set up by the membership committee, of which Robert H. Hillenmeyer, Jr., is chairman.

The winning contestants will be announced in the November ALUMNUS, and the awards will be mailed to the winners as soon after October 1 as the finalists have been determined.

ALUMNI MEMBERSHIP CONTEST

1. Two tickets each will be awarded to the ten individuals who write the most alumni memberships. Not over one winner can come from any one county or metropolitan club.

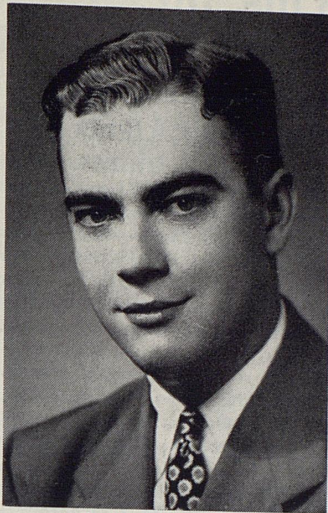

The club president will certify to the Alumni Secretary the number of memberships written by the contestants. In case an alumnus not affiliated with an organized club enters the competition, he or she may be certified to the Alumni Secretary by five alumni in good standing with the association.

2. Four tickets each will be awarded to the five clubs which obtain the highest percentage of eligible members. The disposition of these tickets will be left to the Alumni Club.

3. NO PERSON CAN QUALIFY TO WIN BUT ONE CONTEST.

4. IMPORTANT—Alumni memberships must be in the office of the Alumni Secretary, room 124 Student Union, University of Kentucky, Lexington 20, Ky., not later than October 1 in order that contestants qualify for this contest.

5. Eligibility for membership is as follows:

R. H. Hillenmeyer

- (a) All graduates
- (b) Any former student who has completed as much as one full semester or two full quarters of work with equivalent credits on the books of the Registrar.

6. MEMBERSHIP DUES ARE AS FOLLOWS:

A Membership — $3.00 including subscription to the Ky. Kernel and Kentucky Alumnus for one fiscal year.

B Membership — $2.00 including subscription to the Ky. Alumnus for one fiscal year.

C Membership — $50.00 including subscription to the Ky. Kernel and Ky. Alumnus for life.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION'S FISCAL YEAR BEGAN JUNE 1, 1950 AND WILL CLOSE MAY 31, 1951 AT WHICH TIME ANY MEMBERSHIP SOLD IN THIS CONTEST WILL AUTOMATICALLY EXPIRE.

Travelstead, '50, On Alumni Board

Chester Travelstead, of Lexington, music educator and candidate for a Ph.D. degree from the University at the August commencement exercises, will represent the 1950 graduating class on the executive committee of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association for the 1950-'51 fiscal year.

1950 Class Officers Chosen By Colleges

The University of Kentucky awarded degrees to a record-breaking number of graduates, 1,579, at the 83rd annual commencement exercises held Friday night, June 2 in the new Memorial Coliseum, and for the fifth consecutive year, each college elected its own class officers in order that the Alumni Association might have more direct contact with the large numbers of graduates leaving the campus annually.

All colleges had not reported to the Alumni office at the time this report was written, but class officers for the following colleges have been announced:

College of Arts and Sciences

President, Shelby Darbishire; Vice President, Joe Ross; Secretary, Mary Carolyn Carver; Treasurer, Venita Dawson.

College of Engineering

President, James R. Gibson; Vice President, Roger N. Stark; Secretary-Treasurer, David R. Bingham.

College of Education

President, Dale Barnstable; Secretary-Treasurer, James Insko.

College of Commerce

President, William L. Fouse; Vice President, Louis Di Francisco; Secretary, Clyde Barrow; Treasurer, Robert C. Halvorsen.

College of Pharmacy

President, Sheldon D. Ayers; Vice President, Robert Lincoln Brown, Jr.; Secretary, Mary Joan Deddens; Treasurer, Ivan Edward Kerr.

The duties of these class officers will be to keep in touch with their classmates, urge on them the importance of membership in the Alumni Association and the necessity of keeping in touch with the Alumni office, and, when reunions for their class are scheduled, they will be asked to communicate with their classmates and urge their return to the campus.

Mr. Travelstead was chosen from a group of eight students nominated from the seven colleges and the Graduate School. (Continued on Page 7)

UK Faculty Man Wins '50 Pulitzer Fiction Prize

A. B. Guthrie, Jr., for 21 years a Lexington newspaperman and currently a professor of narrative writing in the University of Kentucky department of English, was awarded the 1950 Pulitzer prize for fiction for his best-selling historical novel, "The Way West."

The first resident of Kentucky ever to win the award, Mr. Guthrie is a native of Bedford, Ind., and was brought up in Choteau, Mont. He came to Lexington in 1926 and was a member of the Lexington Leader staff for 21 years. He was executive editor when he resigned three years ago to devote himself to full-time fiction-writing.

The favorably reviewed "The Way West" had been selected earlier by the New York Times' Orville Prescott as one of the best novels of 1949. It is the second book of a four-volume panel on the history of the west. Guthrie's first book of the series, "The Big Sky," was published in 1947 and attracted wide attention. It won the $1,000 literary prize awarded by the Friends of American Writers. This book was completed while Guthrie was a Nieman Fellow at Harvard.

"The Big Sky" has been sold to Winchester Pictures.

UK Girl, National Oratorical Winner

A University of Kentucky coed, Jeanne Harrell, of Louisville, became the first Kentuckian ever to win the women's division of a national oratorical contest on April 28.

Miss Harrell captured first prize in the women's division of the 76th annual Inter-State Oratorical meet held April 27 and 28 at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

The nation's newest womens' oratory champion was a member of the University's June 1950 graduating class and majored in radio arts. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Phi Beta speech and music society and has been active in campus radio and theatrical work.

Greensburg Alums Entertain Seniors

Alumni, University of Kentucky students and friends living in Green county entertained the seniors and juniors of the Greensburg High School with a buffet luncheon May 5 at the American Legion Clubhouse in Greensburg.

The University movie was shown, and short talks were made by prominent Green county alumni and friends. Following the brief program Shiny Herrington '34, and his Swingettes orchestra provided a program of dance music for those who wished to stay. A total of 125 attended.

John H. Ewing, '33, Green county agent, initiated and sponsored the event assisted by Henry Coleman Durham a University student from that county. Assisting with the arrange-Milby, a former student; Donald Rose, '47 and Dorothy Shively Rose, '48; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moore, former students and Elizabeth Hodges, John Durham and Elinor Gorin, all friends of the University.

Mrs. Mary E. Dilly, registrar emerita of the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy and widow of Oscar C. Dilly, for many years dean of the college, was honored by the 1950 class of pharmacists last June when she was designated "guest of honor" at their senior breakfast and was singled out for additional tribute when the class unveiled a plaque to be hung in the College of Pharmacy and dedicated "To Our Beloved Mrs. Mary E. Dilly, Registrar Emerita, First Lady of Kentucky Pharmacy. In Honor of Her Many Years of Faithful Guidance to Us and Other Graduates, Class of 1950, University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy."

E. R. Denney, George Hillen, Head Alumni Body

Judge Edwin R. Denney of Mt. Vernon will head the University of Kentucky Alumni Association during the coming year, it was announced June 1 at the annual commencement week banquet for University graduates and former students. He succeeds J. Stephen Watkins, Lexington engineer.

Named as the association's new vice president was George P. Hillen, Louisville business man, who takes over the post from Robert H. Hillenmeyer of Lexington.

The retiring vice president joins Marshall Barnes, Owensboro banker, and Mrs. John N. Browning of Maysville as new members of the alumni group's executive committee.

The new officers and executive committee members were elected in recent nationwide balloting conducted by mail among thousands of former University students. Results of the annual election are customarily withheld until the night of the Alumni dinner.

Judge Denney, a native of Monticello, received a bachelor's degree from UK in 1929 and his law degree in 1932. He was a practicing attorney at Mt. Vernon from 1932-46 and served in the General Assembly at Frankfort in 1946, resigning to accept an appointment as successor to John Sherman Cooper as judge of the 28th Kentucky Judicial District.

The new vice president, Hillen, is a native of Louisville and in 1949-'50 headed the Jefferson County UK Alumni group. A 1932 graduate of the College of Commerce, he is now manager of the Bluegrass Pipe and Culvert Company, Louisville.

Of the trio of graduates named to the executive committee Hillenmeyer is a member of the Class of 1943, Mrs. Browning the Class of 1922, and Barnes the Class of 1924.

A veteran of World War II, Hillenmeyer is associated with the Hillenmeyer nurseries, Lexington. Mrs. Browning, the former Miss Carlisle Chenault, is a life member and former vice president of the Alumni Association. Barnes, who heads the University's Owensboro Alumni club, is president of the Beaver Dam Deposit Bank and vice president of the Owensboro National Bank. He is a one-time member of the UK board of trustees.

New York Holds Annual Picnic

The officers and directors of the Alumni Association of Greater New York entertained the membership of the New York club at a summer meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Rapier, Saturday night, June 24 in South Orange, New Jersey.

The spacious gardens of the Rapier home were the scene of the al fresco supper, where Kentucky mint juleps and charcoal broiled steaks were included in the menu.

Charles B. Clark served as chairman and chief chef for the party, assisted by William E. Butler, New York club president.

Wives, husbands and dates were included in the party invitations and tennis, and other games were scheduled on the program, with a promise of "no speeches."

The summer outing at the Rapiers has become an annual affair which is looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by the New York Club membership.

Marvin Rabin, '39, Joins Music Staff

Marvin Rabin, '39, instrumental music director at Louisville Atherton High School since 1941, has been appointed assistant professor of music at the University, the appointment having taken effect at the opening of the summer term last June.

In addition to his duties at the University, Mr. Rabin will also direct the Central Kentucky Youth Music Society Orchestra.

A native of South Bend, Ind., Professor Rabin attended Transylvania College and was graduated from the University in 1939. He also holds the masters degree from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N.Y.

His tenure at Louisville was interrupted by three year's service with the Army Air Corps. During this period, 1942-'45, he served two years as a flight instructor and one year as a pilot in the Air Transport Command. Except for the period of his military duty, Mr. Rabin has been a member of the Louisville Symphony Orchestra since 1941.

Mr. Rabin currently is vice president of the Kentucky Band and Orchestra Directors Association and the Kentucky Music Educators Conference.

ALUMNUS

Alumni Hold Biggest Reunions In UK History

The campus re-echoed to the chant of "remember when?" last June as records fell during the 1950 class reunion week festivities.

More than 100 members of the 1925 class, celebrating its silver jubilee, returned for a class dinner on May 31. Forty out of a possible 58 members of the 1910 class came back to celebrate its 40th reunion; eight members of the possible 16 living came back from the class of 1900 to receive their Golden Jubilee certificates; and other classes returned in lesser numbers to celebrate a few days of happy recollection with classmates and friends.

Feature of the week's festivities were special class reunion luncheons and dinners for the classes holding special and scheduled reunions; the annual alumni banquet on Thursday night, June 1, at which Thomas A. Ballantine, '25, president of the Louisville Taxicab and Transfer Co., and a member of the Silver Jubilee class was the principal speaker; the annual President's reception on June 1 at Maxwell Place honoring graduates, alumni, faculty and friends; and the commencement luncheon on Friday June 2; all preliminary to the 83rd annual commencement program that evening.

Speakers at the commencement luncheon were two of the south's most distinguished educators — Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, and Dr. J. D. Williams, Kentucky alumnus and chancellor of the University of Mississippi.

Speaking on the subject, "Where Are We Seated on the University Train?" Mr. Ballantine opened his banquet address with some delightful reminiscences about his days at the University but stated that when he was invited to give the talk he knew he would not be contented "merely to reminisce."

Picturing the University as a mythical train, upon which each alumnus rides, he asked the large audience to analyze their various positions on the University train and said: "Let each answer for himself whether he is riding with the engineer and helping direct the course of the train—or sitting in the lounge car and reading the whistle stops as the train moves on?"

Pointing out that these are critical days in these United States, the speaker urged on his audience the importance of preserving those things which are considered traditionally American and the necessity of college-educated people practicing, explaining and expanding these traditions. "How better can this be accomplished than through education of the masses of the people, and the development of leaders capable of assuming the authority of leadership in the trials that lie ahead."

Raising the question as to the connection between University alumni and the current struggle of ideas which involves the peoples of the world, Mr. Ballantine said that "as alumni, you and I are closer to this struggle than we think."

"... Your first obligation is so to conduct your business or professional life that all who come in contact with you will become inspired and devoted to those things for which you stand and which your business or professional life typifies."

"It has been a matter of deep concern to me for a long time that two things happen to many of the fine young men and women of Kentucky. One is that upon completion of their training they "sought their acres of diamonds" in other fields . . . The second thing that concerns me about Kentucky's youth in the past has been the tendency of many of our leading families to encourage their children to attend universities outside of the State of Kentucky. In solving this problem I believe that the alumni and only the alumni can completely serve their University. If there is a capable young man or young woman in your community, some alumnus of the University of Kentucky knows the individual or his family. What greater contribution can you make to the development of leadership in your own state than to cause the finest of her youth to attend the University of Kentucky?"

"... In the events of this Commencement Week let us, the alumni, pause long enough to embrace the memories and joys of the past — but

They came back in great numbers, headed by the Half Century Club, to make the 1950 June reunions the most enthusiastic and best-attended of them all.

Degrees Granted To 1,579 At UK

Degrees were granted to 1,579 students at the University's 83rd annual commencement on June 2. The program was held in the newly dedicated Memorial Coliseum, and the Hon. John Sherman Cooper, Washington, D. C. and Somerset, Ky., special consultant to the Secretary of State, delivered the principal address.

A note of caution that "you cannot afford to let fear of war create anxiety which would prevent you from advancing or fulfilling your capacities," was given graduating seniors by Mr. Cooper.

Cooper's advice was voiced at the close of his commencement address in which he described the "status of the world situation, the threats of Russian aggression and the efforts of the Western powers to offset it.

In the class which Cooper was addressing were many war veterans whose opportunities to attend college had been delayed four or five years.

The audience of 13,000 persons, including 1,579 graduates, applauded when the UN delegate said he had "no doubt that" Secretary of State Acheson "can lead and direct our foreign policy to a successful end."

He described the secretary as "a man of great intellectual capabilities and spiritual force.

Cooper discussed the UN charter, the North Atlantic Pact, the recent conference of foreign ministers and other phases of the so-called "cold war."

"We know," he said, "that the Soviet Union has pursued aggression."

Russia, Cooper continued, has a great ground force, a great air force and a great submarine force. Added to those weapons now, he asserted, is the atomic bomb.

Cooper declared that the United States and the countries allied with it in the "cold war" must have a position of strength that they (the Russians) will respect. It is impossible to negotiate with Russia without that strength.

"I want to emphasize that you can know the facts, face the implications and make the decisions necessary—you can help to create the control which will avert war and create peace."

Recipients of honorary degrees at the University's 83rd annual commencement exercises last June included two prominent alumni; Alexander Bonnyman, president of the Blue Diamond Coal Co., Knoxville, Tenn., and Dr. J. D. Williams, Chancellor of the University of Mississippi. The six men, so honored were: top row, left to right: Dr. Hardin Craig, professor of English, University of Missouri; John Sherman Cooper, special consultant to the Secretary of State; and Mr. Bonnyman. (Second row, left to right;) Dr. Henry H. Hill, president, Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Williams, and Dr. W. E. Wrather, Washington, D.C., director of the U. S. Geological Survey.

Dean Of UK Resigns; Goes To Chicago U.

Dr. Maurice F. Seay, dean of the University of Kentucky since 1946, has resigned to accept a position at the University of Chicago as professor of educational administration.

A member of the University staff since 1937 when he was appointed director of the Bureau of School Service and head of the department of school administration, Dr. Seay has served as registrar and dean of the University.

In 1949 a full-time registrar was appointed, and since then Dr. Seay has devoted his time to the duties of the deanship.

In reporting Dr. Seay's resignation to the Board of Trustees, President Donovan said that "in view of the fact that the University's income is diminishing rapidly as a result of the loss of G.I.'s for whose education the Vereran's Administration has been paying a large part of the cost, it has been necessary for us to reduce the University's budget in the sum of $342,000. All departments have had to take some cuts in their budgets and I am recommending that the University administration likewise assume its share in the reduction of expenditures. Therefore, I am proposing that the office of dean of the University be discontinued thereby saving approximately $10,000 per year in the administration of the University."

In the University's administrative reorganization Dr. A. D. Kirwan, dean of men, will be given the additional title of dean of students and all departments dealing with student welfare will report directly to him. Other departments that have been under Dean Seay's administration will report directly to the vice president of the University.

Coliseum Dedication Historical Event May 30

By Helen G. King

Never again, so long as one brick remains upon another in the new Memorial Coliseum, will the University of Kentucky be something apart from the minds and hearts of Kentucky people. For on May 30 this mammoth structure of brick and stone and concrete was dedicated to the memory of Kentucky's 9,265 World War II dead, and with that dedication came a union between the University and the people of the Commonwealth which neither time nor the passing of the years can dissolve.

The magnificent building, erected in memory of a generation of Kentuckians who gave their lives that their successors might "live in peace, erect and strong and free," became a symbol to all Kentucky last May 30 through the impressive program of dedication, and the more than 12,000 Kentuckians who were present left its portals with the definite sense of belonging to the University and the knowledge that this building and the institution of which it is a part, belongs to them.

The dedicatory program was part of the baccalaureate exercises for the 1950 graduating class, and a capacity audience filled the new coliseum for the first time to hear Dr. Daniel A. Poling, New York clergyman and editor, tell the more than 5,000 families of the honored dead and the graduates that "these whom we honor today — in whose sacred memory we dedicate this building — were men of Washington's breed and men of Washington's faith . . . May we be worthy of them. If we are, we shall win the peace." Dr. Poling was introduced by Governor Earle C. Clements.

This country's unity, Dr. Poling said, was the supreme achievement of World War II. This unity is equally essential now, in peacetime, as the nation again faces — in communism — an immediate challenge to its freedom. "Never before in all recorded history has human liberty been threatened as it is now, threatened by this anti-God, atheistic totalitarianism."

Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University, compared the massive $4,000,000,000 structure to a bridge —

"a span over which youth must pass from ignorance to enlightenment.

"The youth of one generation have purchased this building with their lives that the youth of later generations might enjoy it in the enrichment of their lives. . . ."

"To the citizens of Kentucky, who have erected this magnificent structure, we solemnly pledge that it will be so used as to return to your sons and daughters great human dividends."

The Right Rev. William R. Moody, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Lexington, asked the invocation and pronounced the benediction, and the University chorus and orchestra, presented selections during the program.

Impressive ending to the solemn occasion was the sounding of taps and the singing of "God of Our Fathers" by the assembly.

ALMA MAGNA MATER HONORS UK SENIOR

Omer L. Stikeleather, of Leitchfield, a senior in the University of Kentucky College of Commerce, was awarded the Alma Magna Mater trophy for "unselfish, unrecognized and outstanding service to the University of Kentucky," at the May meeting of the group held last spring in the Student Union building.

An annual award, the trophy was presented by Kenneth Blevins, Covington, president of Alma Magna Mater, and Pat Moore, Winchester, secretary-treasurer.

Sullivan Awards Go To Three

E. L. Gillis Honored

Prof. Ezra L. Gillis, director of the University of Kentucky Bureau of Source Materials in Higher Education, was awarded the University's 1950 Sullivan Medallion as the commonwealth's outstanding citizen of the year.

Student awards, presented annually to the outstanding senior man and senior woman went to Eugene Ryburr Weakley, Shelbyville, and Sara Mae Green, Mt. Sterling.

The Sullivan awards, presented each year to a citizen and two graduates of the state university in 15 Southern states, were established in 1925 by the New York Southern Society in memory of Algernon Sydney Sullivan, noted New York lawyer of the post-Civil War period.

Vice President Alben W. Barkley received the Kentucky citizen award last year.

Prof. Gillis, a native of Anderson county, joined the University staff in 1907 as an instructor in the normal department, which later became the College of Education. Three years later he was appointed registrar, a post he held until 1937. During that period he established many techniques and services which since have been adopted nationally by college and university registrars. Since 1937 he has headed the UK Bureau of Source Materials, an office whose principal purpose is the collection and compilation of educational data.

More recently Prof. Gillis has directed a statewide survey aimed at correctly listing all the state's 9,265 World War II dead. Names of these Kentuckians have been inscribed in the University's new Memorial Coliseum.

The former UK registrar attended Transylvania College and received the AB degree from Central Normal College, Danville, Ind. He taught school in his native county for 14 years and from 1902 to 1907 served as president of Minerva College, near Maysville. In 1945 Prof. Gillis was awarded the first Certificate of Merit given by the University to a faculty or staff member for long and distinguished service.

Miss Greene and Weakley, student recipients of the 1950 Sullivan Medallions, were graduated from the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Agriculture, respectively.

Miss Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Greene of Mt. Sterling, received the AB degree with a major in social work. She is a member of the Student Union board, the campus YWCA, the Committee of 240, and Chi Omega social sorority. She will leave shortly for Cleveland, Ohio, where she has accepted a post as district director of Girl Scouts in the Cleveland area.

Weakley, who received the BS degree in agriculture, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Weakley of Shelbyville. He is a member of Lamp and Cross and Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's leadership societies; Alpha Zeta, honorary group for agriculture students; Block and Bridle animal husbandry society, and the campus pep club, SuKy. He is also a member of Alpha Gamma Rho social fraternity.

Dr. William S. Ward, associate professor of English at the University has been elected president of the campus chapter of the American Association of University professors for 1950-'51.

W. S. Webb Honored By The University

Dr. William S. Webb, '01, head of the department of physics and anthropology at the University of Kentucky was appointed to the school's highest faculty rank, Distinguished Professor of the University, by the school's board of trustees at its quarterly meeting last June.

Established at UK in 1948, the distinguished professor rank is an honor given only to a small number of faculty members who have distinguished themselves as scholars and teachers. Doctor Webb is the ninth faculty member to be appointed to a distinguished professorship.

A native of Greendale, Dr. Webb obtained his B.S. from the University in 1901 and his M.S. the following year. He was appointed assistant professor of physics in 1908, promoted to a full professorship in 1913, and two years later became head of the department. In 1927 he was made head of the department of anthropology and archaeology, thus becoming one of the few men in the history of the University to head two departments simultaneously.

Widely known as educator, scientist, and author, Dr. Webb was named by his colleagues in 1947 as the 'Distinguished Professor of the Year in the College of Arts and Sciences.'

E. A. VOSSMEYER, '26, MOVES TO NASHVILLE

E. A. Vossmeier, '26, of West Palm Beach, Fla., formerly of Newport, Ky., who has been district manager of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in West Palm Beach since it was formed there in June 1944, has been appointed agency manager of the Middle and Eastern Tennessee area, with headquarters in Nashville.

Mr. Vossmeier, former Wildcat football star at Kentucky, was graduated from the University in 1926 with a B.A. in commerce.

While he resided in West Palm Beach he served as director of the Rotary Club there, a member of the Board of Advisors of the Community Chest, member of the Salvation Army advisory council, president of the Life Underwriters Association and was chairman of the 1948 cancer campaign.

Beloved "Uncle Enoch And Miss Marge" Honored

Enoch Grehan

Rev. C. A. Scott, '47 Catlettsbug Pastor

The Rev. C. Arthur Scott, '47, of Lexington, who was ordained a minister in the Presbyterian church on May 7, was installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Catlettsbug on June 4.

The new pastor was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1947, and from the Louisville Theological Seminary this past June. His ordination took place at the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church in Lexington.

The charge to the new pastor was administered by the Rev. Thomas C. Rhea of Lexington. The Rev. F. F. Ford, pastor of the Normal Presbyterian church at Ashland, presided.

The Reverend Scott gave the invocation and benediction at the annual Alumni Banquet sponsored by the University Alumni Association on June 1.

Clyde E. Johnson, '43, of Los Angeles, Calif., Kentucky's first football All-American, received his master of science degree in education in January from the University of Southern California.

Mr. Johnson is presently coaching at East Los Angeles Junior College.

Two pioneers in journalistic education in Kentucky were honored during the June commencement season through presentation of service certificates to top-ranking Kentucky high-school seniors.

The awards were on the basis of the seniors' contributions to journalism in their schools.

The certificates, known as the Enoch Grehan Certificate of Newspaper Service and the Marguerite McLaughlin Certificate of Yearbook Service, were issued by the University's Department of Journalism in the name of the Kentucky High School Press Association, which maintains its state headquarters on the campus.

The newspaper award honors the late Professor Grehan, who founded the university's department of journalism in 1914 and served as its head until his death in 1937. Under his direction, the department became one of the nation's pioneers in the field of professional journalistic instruction.

Honored through issuance of the year-book award is Miss McLaughlin, assistant professor of journalism at the university and a member of the departmental staff since its establishment 36 years ago. "Miss Margie," as she is affectionately known to thousands of current and former university students, was one of the first women teachers of journalism in the United States.

Nomination blanks were mailed to principals and publication advisors of all Kentucky high schools having newspapers or yearbooks, according to Dr. Niel Plummer, who succeeded Grehan as head of the department of journalism.

Sixty-three schools nominated 184 students to receive the awards. The nominations were on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, and journalistic service to their schools. Grehan certificates were presented to 102 students, and 82 received the McLaughlin certificates.

Both Mr. Grehan and Miss McLaughlin have contributed much to the advancement of journalism in the state, and many journalists, working on Kentucky newspapers, received their early training under these two professors.

John Kuiper, '50, Gets Scholarship

John Kuiper, '50, of Lexington, son of Prof. John Kuiper, head of the department of philosophy and Mrs. Kuiper, was awarded a General Education Board scholarship for graduate work at a school of his own choice, just prior to his graduation from the University last June.

Approximately 25 such scholarships were awarded to college and university seniors throughout the south. The scholarship provides tuition and fees, travel expenses to and from any institution in the U.S. and $125 a month subsistence allowance for one school year.

Mr. Kuiper plans to enroll at the Chicago Institute of Design in September. Under terms of the scholarship he will enter the teaching ranks upon completion of his advanced education.

An honor student at the University for four years, Mr. Kuiper was tapped for Phi Beta Kappa last spring and was graduated from the University in June "with high distinction."

Gala Parties Planned For 1950 Homecoming

Nov. 4 Big Day For Ky. Alumni

Carlisle Myers, Jr., chairman of the Alumni Association's homecoming committee for 1950, has announced a full program of events for Nov. 4, the day Kentucky meets Florida on Stoll Field.

As has been the custom for several years now, the Alumni Association will sponsor a buffet luncheon in the Bluegrass Room of the Student Union from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. that day. The meal will be served cafeteria style with each person paying for what he eats. The time of the luncheon has been set from 11:30 so that alumni who come back for the day may enjoy a leisurely meal with their friends, and be on the campus and near the stadium at game time, avoiding the last minute traffic congestion and rush from downtown Lexington.

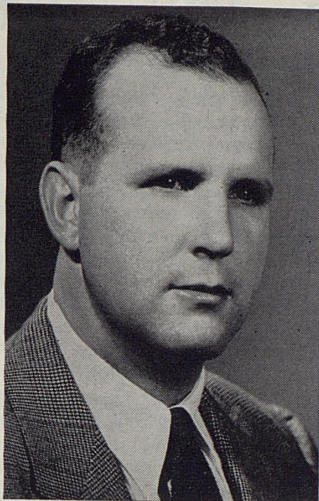

The committee has arranged with the campus traffic department to permit all alumni to park where they choose on the campus, provided they come out in time for the buffet luncheon.

From 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on Homecoming morning, conducted tours of the new coliseum will be arranged so that returning alumni may see the new building.

Following the game, President and Mrs. Donovan will be at home to alumni, faculty and friends of the University at the annual Homecoming reception at Maxwell Place.

That evening, from 8:30 to 12 p.m., the executive committee of the Alumni Association will be hosts to returning alumni at a dance in the ballroom of the Lafayette Hotel. This party will be free to all alumni and their friends, and an orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

Dr. Herbert Sorenson, professor of educational psychology at the University, has completed work on a new 16mm instructional motion picture, "How To Develop Interest," released last spring by Coronet Film. Dr. Sorenson served as educational collaborator during production of this unique educational film.

UK Graduate Given Air Medal, Citation

Prof. Ernest L. Cleveland, A.B. '38, M.S. '40, of Rella, Mo., assistant professor of physics at the University of Missouri's School of Mines and Metallurgy, has been awarded the Air Medal by the War Department.

The award was made for "meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight from Jan. 10 to March 20, 1946."

Prof. Cleveland was then a captain in the Air Corps and was in charge of a mission to determine the results of certain conditions on aircraft radio reception.

The citation which accompanied the medal, reads: "While assigned to the Engineering Division Air Technical Service Command, Capt. Cleveland was designated officer-in-charge of a special flight research mission to obtain data on the character of atmospheric and precipitation static interference to aircraft radio reception encountered over widely separated regions of the earth's surface.

"The professional ability, initiative, and courage displayed by Capt. Cleveland contributed to the successful accomplishment of a dangerous and difficult assignment and reflect credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Prof. Cleveland has continued his interest in military organizations since his discharge and now holds a commission as a major in the Reserve Corps.

REX ALLISON, '31, IS INDUSTRIAL SUCCESS

"Suburbs Unlimited," was the heading of a feature article on Rex Liebert Allison, 39, of Seattle, Wash., and Birmingham, Ky., youthful department store executive and graduate of the University of Kentucky in 1931, in the May 8 issue of Time Magazine.

The article, featuring Mr. Allison's dream of expansion which materialized into an $18,000,000 shopping center at Norgate, a suburb of Seattle, says that 'as boss of Seattle's $30,000,000 a year Bon Marche department store, Rex Liebert Allison, 39, was afraid he wasn't getting his share of customers from the city's fast growing population' . . . "To find a way to reach the new Seattle citizens, Rex Allison in 1946 ordered an aerial photographic map of the entire north end. He pored over the map with pencil and compass, soon found that a suburban branch located just outside the city limits would be within 12 minutes driving time of 275,000 people who spend $500,000,000 every year. Allison sold the idea to Allied Stores, Inc., (owner of Bon Marche, then persuaded the Equitable Life Assurance Society to buy $6,000,000 worth of mortgages to help finance a super shopping center."

The story goes on to describe the deluxe shopping center, and points out that the project, anticipated to gross $5,000,000, might gross as much as $20,000,000 as soon as the rest of Northgate is in full swing.

Mr. Allison was an outstanding student in the College of Commerce during his undergraduate days, and received the Sullivan Medallion as the outstanding senior man in his graduating class.

George Yates Joins Study Tour Abroad

George Yates, '33, superintendent of Versailles city schools, president of the Central Kentucky Education Association, and former Wildcat basketball and football star, represented Kentucky last spring in a "flying classroom" project which sent American educators on a six-week study of Great Britain and 10 European countries.

Mr. Yates joined 60 American educators in New York in April, and they

Major Transportation Company Head, Former University Student

By Cameron Coffman '36

David L. Ringo, former student at the University of Kentucky, at 38 has become one of the youngest presidents of a major transportation company in the United States.

Mr. Ringo, who attended U.K. from 1930 until 1932, on May 18 was named president of the Cincinnati, Newport and Covington Railway Company and the Dixie Traction Company (The Green Line System of Northern Kentucky). He succeeds the late Philip G. Vondersmith, who died May 4 in Cincinnati.

"Dave" was captain of the freshman tennis team in 1930-31 and went on to star and manage the varsity racket welders during his sophomore year. He is a member of Delta Chi social fraternity.

A former Lexingtonian, Ringo attended the Maxwell Street public school and was graduated from Holmes High School, Covington. He is the son of the late D. L. Ringo, former Lexington druggist, and Mrs. Ringo, who is currently living in California.

Ringo joined the Green Line System as a laborer in 1930 during his summer vacation from the University. From that time he has held practically every job in the two companies. He worked as timekeeper, rodman, mileage clerk, and assistant engineer before being transferred to the transportation department.

He subsequently held the positions of traffic engineer, assistant superintendent of transportation, and superintendent of transportation before being elevated to assistant general manager in March 1945. He became general manager in 1947 and last year was named vice president.

Mr. Ringo is active in civic and charitable organizations. He is vice president of the Society for Advancement of Management; a member of the Kenton County-Covington Chamber of Commerce; National Aeronautical Society; Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers; and is a registered transportation engineer in Kentucky. For several years he was active in the Kenton County chapter of the American Red Cross.

The new Green Line System president is married to the former Miss Ruth McDonnell of Covington. They have three sons, Jan, Phillip and Peter.

RIFLE TEAM SECOND IN NATIONAL MATCHES

The University of Kentucky ROTC rifle team took second place in the William Randolph Hearst national rifle matches this past spring, and received Hearst marksmanship medals at a special military review held last April.

The UK team fired a team score of 943 out of a possible 1,000 in the Hearst matches, second only to Fordham University's 944.

Robert K. Salyers, former University student from Carrollton, and currently director of the Bureau of Veterans' Re-Employment Rights in the U.S. Department of Labor, has been elected president of the Kentucky Society of Washington for the coming year.

Dr. Sholto M. Spears, B.S.C.E. '22, C.E. '33, is currently dean of the School of Engineering at Fenn College, Cleveland, Ohio.

Dr. Spears holds the Ph.D. degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Michigan.

R. H. Taylor, 36' Designated Kenton's "Young Man Of Year"

A former U. S. Army captain of intelligence, who made 15 trips into North Africa prior to the invasion by the Allied Forces in 1943, was designated as the "Young Man of the Year" in Kenton County, at a dinner in his honor at the Chamber of Commerce Building, Covington. The award is presented annually by the Covington-Kenton County Junior Chamber of Commerce for the young man, between 21 and 35 who has contributed most for the betterment of the community.

Robert H. Taylor, 66 Forest Avenue, Erlanger, received the award from Thomas Rusk, 150 Park Road, Fort Mitchell, who was the recipient of the award last year.

A graduate of Holmes High School in the class of 1932, Taylor, who is now a national bank examiner, received his degree in 1936 from the University of Kentucky, where he was a

Some Of 1904 Class Reuners

Thirteen members of the class of 1904 attended their reunion. Seven of them are shown above. They are: Seated, Mrs. V. D. Roberts, Somerset; Heber H. Rice, class president, Washington, D. member of Adolph Rupp's championship basketball aggregation for three years. He was president of his social fraternity, Phi Kappa Tau during his senior year and was also active in many other extra curricular activities during his collegiate career.

Upon his return from college Taylor began an extensive program of service to the young people of Kenton county. He was appointed to the board of the Covington Y.M.C.A., and elected to the official board of his church, the First Methodist of Covington, where he served in many capacities.

At the present time, Taylor has more than 100 boys under his guidance in athletic programs and coaches 10 basketball teams in various leagues in Kenton County. Mr. Rusk pointed out in summing up the services of the new award winner, who is active in the men's club work at his church, as well as the church youth and the underprivileged children of the community. Taylor is an instructor in the Citizenship Training Class, sponsored by the Kenton County Juvenile Department.

Alumni Clubs Active At Close Of School Year

A continuing interest in organization and development of alumni clubs was manifested by alumni throughout Kentucky as the regular school year drew to a close last spring, and on the first of June 78 clubs in Kentucky and throughout the nation were functioning actively.

During May, Clark, Franklin, Lincoln, Garrard, Jessamine, Hopkins, Bourbon, Marion and Henry county held club meetings, to which many included high school graduates of their respective counties to hear talks by faculty and staff members from the University campus.

Some of the speakers who appeared before these clubs were: Coach Adolph Rupp, Coach Harry Lancaster, Dr. Rhea Taylor, department of history; Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women and Miss Jane Haselden, assistant dean of women; Dr. Lysle Croft, Mr. James S. Shropshire, Loyalty Fund chairman and Mr. Larry Shropshire, sports editor of the Lexington Leader; Coach Paul Bryant, Coach Harry Lancaster and Coach Carnie Laslie; Mr. Hambleton Tapp and your executive secretary.

In addition to regular club meetings many of the groups held special meetings to decide organization policies and many alumni club presidents in Kentucky assumed the responsibility of heading up the season football ticket sales committees in their home counties.

Membership chairmen of the various clubs are working toward 100 per cent membership of their club rosters in the national association, and altogether, the clubs have provided stimulus and assistance to the work of the general association throughout the fiscal year which closed in June.

John R. Bullock, '29, of Cincinnati, past president of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association, was one of the four speakers on the Legal Forum sponsored last spring on the University campus by Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity.

Dr. Ferrel Atkins, of Lexington, who holds the Ph.D. degree from the University where he has served as a mathematics instructor, will join the Bowling Green, Ohio State University faculty in September as assistant professor of mathematics.

Joseph Henry Gardner, B.S. '46, M.S. '47, of Covington, received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from St. Louis University last June.

in 1940 and was honorably discharged with the rank of captain in 1945. His work with the Intelligence Corps, with headquarters in England, consisted mainly of maintaining liaison between the French underground in North Africa and the Central Allied Intelligence Division. For his work he was one of seven U.S. Army officers to receive a special decoration and commendation from the King of England, received by proxy from the Consul General in Cincinnati.

The class of 1910, 40 strong, came back for its 40th reunion last June and broke a record in returning 40 out of a possible 58. Pictured here are some of those who returned to enjoy a class luncheon on Thursday, June 1, the alumni banquet, commencement luncheon and other reunion festivities.

Kentucky Loses 16 Lettermen From '49 Squad

By Ken Kuhn, Sports Publicity Director

How to mould a smattering of potentially good sophomores and an all-too-small group of seasoned veterans into a smooth-functioning, Gibraltar-strong front line may be the key problem in Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant's efforts to keep his Bluegrass grid machine on a winning plane in 1950.

Plagued most seriously by the loss of 16 lettermen from last season's "surprise team of the South," the Wildcat chieftain foresees many vulnerable spots in the combination slated to carry the Kentucky colors in the race for the Southeastern and national honors.

In general, the biggest difficulties will revolve around an over-all lack of depth at most positions, especially in the line, of men with good sound football ability, the absence of team speed that characterized last year's aggregation, and particular weakness in the pass receiving and defensive secondary departments.

None, however, seems to be quite as acute as the general lack of depth in the line caused by the absence of 10 key men who bolstered the forward wall rated at season's end as the toughest major-college line to score on and supported the Wildcats' claim to the nation's "best all-around defense" title. Only once in five Southeastern contests was Kentucky's goal line crossed during the 1949 campaign and, in 11 regular-season games prior to the Orange Bowl encounter, opponents were allowed an average of only 153.9 yards per game in combined rushing-passing offense.

A glance down the Wildcats' roster for the coming season reveals the cause for Bryant's worries in regard to the lack of impregnability in the forward wall. Although All-American tackle Bob Gain (co-captain for 1950) returns for his final year of competition, the line otherwise shows signs of being only a shadow of its 1949 self with two ends and a tackle missing from the offensive starting lineup and a center, tackle, and end absent from the defensive squadron.

Only one sophomore has proved a top-flight prospect for first-string duty. Gene Donaldson is expected to see a lot of guard duty. The East Chicago, Ind., schoolboy star stands 5-9 and tips the scales at 190. He was All-State three straight years at Roosevelt High school in the Chicago suburb, playing one season each as a tackle, fullback, and guard, and was state high school wrestling champion two years straight without ever losing a match.

PHILADELPHIA CLUB TO ENTERTAIN AFTER VILLANOVA GAME

The Philadelphia Alumni Club will sponsor an after-the-game reception on October 21, following the Ky-Villanova game in that city.

The party will be held at 5:30 p.m. at the Benjamin Franklin hotel, which is team headquarters, and those planning to attend are urged to notify Palmer Evans, Secretary-Treasurer of the Philadelphia Club, at 3863 Anne St., Congressional Hill, Pa., telephone Madison 3-6417.

Filling the remaining gaps in the all-important line, which Coach Bryant credits with playing a considerable part in Kentucky's best season in its football history last year, will be relatively inexperienced reserves and upcoming sophomore prospects.

Summing up the potentialities on the credit side of the 1950 prospects ledger, Bryant cagily points out that the services of 31 lettermen from the Orange Bowl squad will be available for assignments, the probability of a slightly better offense, a strengthened passing attack, and the prospect of material help from two prize rookies.

The prospect of a "slightly improved" offense seems hinged to a large extent on an increase in the effectiveness of a passing attack already firmly impressive. Six veteran backfield men will be missing and all were primarily cogs in the ground attack. The Wildcats' 1950 backfield, without the services of such speed merchants as Don (Dopey) Phelps and ten-second-man Ralph Genito, will be lacking much of the demoralizing speed of last season as well as capable replacements.

On the shoulders of the Southeastern Conference's top passer of 1949, Vito (Babe) Parilli, and a promising rookie flinger in the person of Bill Farley, sophomore all-state quarterback from Charleston, W. Va., rest Kentucky's chief hopes for a devastating aerial attack. The classy Parilli, as a yearling varsity man last season, topped all other SEC passers by hitting a receiver on 54 percent of his tosses for a net gain of 1,081 yards. With a capable replacement behind him this year, observers look for the Wildcats to fill the air with passes in an effort to bolster a slightly-crippled ground attack.

Facing a difficult, 11-game schedule again this season, the Wildcats will have to settle their problems quickly. It will be imperative for them to round into top form to avoid being knocked out of title and bowl contention by early engagements with such powerhouses as Louisiana State, last year's Sugar Bowl runner-up, and Mississippi, hotly seeking revenge for a crushing defeat at the Cats' hands last season. Later engagements call for top-notch play against standout elevens of Cincinnati, Villanova, Georgia Tech, Tennessee, Florida, and Mississippi State.

Kentucky Nine, SEC Eastern Division Champs

Minor Sports Have Good Season At UK

By Fred Luigart, Jr., Sports Publicity Dept.

The University of Kentucky spring sports agenda saw the Wildcat baseball and golf teams walk off with top honors for the 1950 season while most other minor sports aggregations gained respectable records.

The baseball charges of Coach Frank Moseley opened their campaign with two quick losses to Georgia, but from there on were unbeatable until tournament time.

Fifteen consecutive victories, believed to be a record at the Bluegrass school and possibly in the South, followed the two losses to Georgia before the Kentuckians were bumped by Alabama, Western division champions, in the opening round of the SEC Eastern-Western division play-offs.

In the best three out of five series for the SEC crown, Alabama annexed the opening two contests at Tuscaloosa. Moving to Lexington, the Wildcats won the third game only to see their chances of an SEC baseball title quelled in the fourth game of the series by the strong Alabama nine.

Both Kentucky and Alabama represented the SEC in the NCAA District II tournament at Kannapolis, N. C. A loss to Wake Forest, a win over Clemson, and another loss to Wake Forest spelled the end of Wildcat hopes in the NCAA tournament. However, Alabama avenged the rough treatment administered to Kentucky by Wake Forest by trouncing the Deacons for the tournament crown.

Three Kentucky players, Walt Hirsch, first baseman, Benny Zaranka, outfielder, and Dominic Fucci, catcher, salvaged honor from the NCAA tournament by being selected to the all-tournament team. Hirsch, in addition, was voted the most valuable player on the Kentucky team by scouts and sportswriters.

All told, the Kentucky nine came through what could easily be termed a "highly successful" season, with a record of 16 wins, seven losses and one tie.

In the golf department, the Kentucky linksmen posted the best over-all record ever achieved by any Wildcat links team.

Johnny Owens, a Lexington senior, won the SEC individual golf championship to become the first Kentucky golfer ever to annex this crown. As a unit, the Kentucky linksmen took third place in the Southeastern Conference.

Owens also represented Kentucky in the National Collegiate tournament, but was ousted in second-round play by defending champion Harvey Ward of North Carolina.

Kentucky golfers chalked up a season's record of 12 wins, 4 losses and one tie.

Kentucky's track team, under the guidance of Coach Don Seaton, balanced the season's total at two wins and two losses.

A leg injury to Wildcat cinder star Tony Dallas just prior to the SEC track championships dimmed Kentucky's chances of picking up points in this meet. At the SEC carnival in '49, Dallas took third place in the high hurdles and fourth place in the low barriers.

John Netoskie, Kentucky gridiron end, scored the Wildcats' only points in the 1950 meeting by taking fourth place in the javelin throw event.

The Blue and White tennis team fell prey to strong opponents. Lacking in experience and constantly hampered by bad weather, the Kentucky netters connected for but one win against six losses.

Wildcat fencers surprised their limited followers and the school at large by writing seven wins and three losses into the '50 record book.

Last spring the columns of the Kentucky Alumnus carried the notice of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Rollins, of Chicago, Ill. Kenney was the first member of Kentucky's Fabulous Five of basketball fame to graduate. Since that time three of the other four members, Wallace Jones, Cliff Barker and Ralph Beard have passed out the cigars—It's a girl for the Barkers and the Jones', and a boy for the Beards.

Ammunition For Rupp's Rifle

All other Southeastern Conference schools take notice (and Notre Dame, too!) The quintet above belongs to Joe ('34) and Alice Daugherty ('ex.) Reister, of Lexington, and they are already spoken for as basketball recruits for Baron Rupp a few short years from now.

Healthy, Hearty, and Handsome, the two eldest already have their season football tickets ordered for 1950, and, as you can see, are wearing Kentucky sweat shirts.

Johnny Owens Takes SEC Crown

Johnny Owens, Kentucky's golfing ace, captured the Southeastern Conference Golf championship at Athens, Georgia May 1 by shooting a final 73 for a four-round total of 291. This is the first time in history that a Kentucky golfer has won the championship.

Owens finished five strokes ahead of last year's champion, Hal Spears, Jr., of Georgia, who shot a four round total of 296.

For the four rounds Owens shot a 75-73-70-73 for a total of 291 which is just three strokes over par for the 6,554 yard Athens Country Club course.

Owens, a Lexington boy, has been a consistent winner at UK. In 1947, his freshman year, he was chosen captain of the varsity golf team. In this same year he played the No. 1 spot on the team and won 16 of 19 individual matches to help the Wildcats win 17, lose one, and tie one.

Also in 1947 he won the City Golf Championship and was runner-up for the State Amateur title. He won every amateur tourney he played in except two, and he lost only five of the 100 matches he played during that season.

Last year in the Southern Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, (which also decides the Southeastern Conference champion) Owens crashed the charmed championship flight although the team finished out of the money. He outscored several of the top Southern collegiate linksmen to gain a final berth in the championship consolation.

Kentucky's other golfers finished far down the list. Marvin Lear shot a 310, Craig Wright had a 314, and Bud Lewis carded a 315.

The University of Georgia took the SEC team crown with an even 1,200 score. Auburn placed second at 1,227, and Kentucky took third with 1,280.

Godbey Receives Fellowship For Year's Study At Harvard

Gordon Godbey, A.B. '41, M.A. '48, of Lexington, head of the Bureau of Audio-Visual Materials at the University of Kentucky, has been awarded a year's fellowship for graduate study at Harvard University. He and his family will leave Lexington Sept. 1 for Cambridge.

Mr. Godbey has been granted a year's leave of absence from the University to accept the fellowship.

The University man was one of five to receive fellowships in the Harvard Graduate School of Education. The fellowship, patterned after the Nieman Fellowship for journalists, will enable him to participate in any study he chooses on the Harvard campus.

A native Kentuckian, Mr. Godbey served as manager of the Cincinnati office of the D. T. Davis Company and principal of the Lee County High School before joining the University staff in 1946. During the war he worked in the training division of the Lexington Signal Depot at Avon.

The Harvard Graduate School made its selection on the basis of a candidate's ability to perform "outstandingly in whatever work he pursues at Harvard," and to make a "significant contribution to American education."

UK Research Appropriation Stimulates Varied Projects

By Paul Crowds

An item amounting to little more than one per cent of the University of Kentucky's total 1948-49 budget has, according to President H. L. Donovan, proved a greater stimulus to the UK faculty than any appropriation made by the General Assembly in recent years.

The item to which Dr. Donovan refers was an appropriation of $60,000 for University research, half of which was allotted to the Engineering Experiment Station for theoretical and applied industrial research and the remaining half to other university departments and divisions for general research projects.

Results of the stimulus which Dr. Donovan attributed to the one per cent budgetary item are clearly shown in the annual report of Dr. L. A. Pardue, dean of the Graduate School and chairman of the University research fund committee.

Engineering aside, the report shows that approximately 40 UK faculty members currently are engaged in research projects financed in whole or in part by the $30,000 general fund. Actually the total number of projects receiving assistance from the research fund is far more than 40, some staff members being at work on numerous projects at the same time. Others already have been completed.

The studies range from a history of Kentucky's hemp industry to improved personality tests for children, and from a book on Dutch foreign policy to the potability of water in Fayette county wells. Results of several projects already have been published and others will be rolling steadily off the presses for many months to come.

Noteworthy is the volume of research directly related to Kentucky as a state, with important contributions being made to existing knowledge of the Commonwealth's history and literature, and equally important studies being pushed ahead by UK scientists in bacteriology, botany and zoology.

Typical of these latter projects is a study still in progress by Dr. R. H. Weaver, professor of bacteriology, on the purity of Central Kentucky water supplies. Examination of water samples from 30 Fayette county wells showed only two to be free from pollution, Dr. Weaver reports.

Other Kentuckiana projects assisted by the special research appropriation are a "History of the Hemp Industry in Kentucky" by Dr. James F. Hopkins, assistant professor of history, and a "Guide to the Pronunciation of Kentucky Cities and Towns," by Dr. Niel Plummer, head of the Department of Journalism. Dr. Plummer's study already has been published and Dr. Hopkins' book is slated for early publication by the University Press.

In the field of letters the research fund has made possible collection of material for two books on the Kentucky novelist, Elizabeth Maddox Roberts, by two members of the Department of English staff. These include a biography of Miss Roberts by Woodridge Spears, English instructor, and "Seeing Them Through the Press: Elizabeth Maddox Roberts at Work," by Dr. Herman E. Spivey, head of the Department of English.

Another literary study assisted by the research fund is a bibliography of novels with a Kentucky background now being conducted by Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, director of University Libraries, and Miss Algernon Dickson, fine arts librarian. To date, Dr. Thompson and Miss Dickson have identified 493 novels having Kentucky settings, and 105 of the titles have been added to the King Library collection.

Still another project involving the King Library and aided by the research appropriation is a collection of early Kentucky maps. Being carried on by Mrs. Amelia Buckley and Miss Carolyn Reading of the library staff, the search already has uncovered ap-

Annual Report To The Alumni

MINUTES OF BUSINESS MEETING
UK ALUMNI ASSOCIATION,
JUNE 1, 1950

The annual meeting of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association was held June 1, 1950, following the annual banquet in the Student Union ballroom.

Mr. J. Stephen Watkins, the retiring president, opened the meeting and conducted the part relating to old business, then turned the chair over to Judge Edwin R. Denney, newly elected president of the Association.

The report of the secretary was presented by the executive secretary, Helen G. King, as follows:

SECRETARY'S ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE ### UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION YEAR 1949-50

Expansion has been the keynote for the University of Kentucky Alumni Association during the fiscal year just closed, and I am very happy to report that since June 1, 1949, we have organized or revitalized seventy alumni clubs in Kentucky and have seen continuing interest sustained in our metropolitan clubs scattered throughout the country.

We are greatly indebted to the president of the University for this expansion, as he has loaned to us during the past year, Mr. Hambleton Tapp, his assistant, to aid us in this work of club organization. Mr. Tapp has travelled throughout the state and a number of University faculty men and women have assisted us by making personal appearances before these clubs. I wish to acknowledge with deep appreciation the contributions that have been made along this line by Mr. Tapp, Dr. Elvis J. Stahr, Professor W. L. Matthews, Dr. Lysle Croft, Dr. Maurice Seay, Dr. Leo Chamberlain, Mr. Bernie A. Shively, Coach Adolph Rupp, Coach Paul Bryant, Coach Harry Lancaster, Coach Carney Laslie, Coach Ermal Allen, Coach Dick Holway, Dr. Rhea Taylor, Dean Sarah B. Holmes, Miss Jane Haseldon, Dr. Frank Dickey, Dr. A. D. Kirwan and last but certainly most important of all, President H. L. Donovan.

In addition to these men, several members of our Alumni Executive Committee have devoted a great deal of time and effort to organizing these clubs and we are sincerely grateful to them.

I wish at this time to say something to you about active membership in the Alumni Association. Our total membership for 1949-50 was 3,639 which means that we have passed the total of 1948-49 by only three members.

Your treasurer will submit a budget estimate to you tonight for the fiscal year just beginning, which has been made up by him, your auditor and your executive secretary and you will note in this report that we have deliberately anticipated larger expenditures than income.

We have based the income estimate on 1949-50 receipts because we have no reason to believe that our income will increase in any great proportion unless each member of this association makes it his personal business to help us to obtain many new members this year.

This leaves the matter directly up to you individual members of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association. We can curtail the budget for 1950-51 and stay within our anticipated income but this will mean that our Alumni Association will stand still for another year, and I don't believe that there is a man or woman in this room who will approve of this policy, therefore I am urging you as insistently as I know how to help us with the membership campaign which officially opened today, and obtain for us as many new members for the Alumni Association for 1950-51 as is in your power to persuade.

Our Life Membership went up to $50.00, in June, 1949, and since that time we have only taken in thirteen life members. Our total investment to date is $17,300.00, $1,000.00 of which is earmarked Loyalty Fund.

In assisting us in selling new memberships this year I wish you would call to the attention of eligible members the fact that alumni who pay their dues from this date until June 30, 1950, are eligible to apply for season football tickets under the alumni priority. The alumni office staff consisting of the office secretary and five student assistants have worked very diligently this year as witnessed by the fact that the University postoffice estimates that we have sent out 120,000 individual pieces of mail. I wish to acknowledge publicly the loyalty and cooperation of the staff.

The Alumni Association sponsored football and basketball banquets this year for our two fine teams, both of which made their appearance in major bowls. I believe no other school in the country can boast that record and in addition our baseball team won the Eastern division of the Southeastern Conference this year.

Mr. Shropshire, chairman of the Loyalty Fund drive for 1949-50, was appointed late in November and in spite of the handicap of late organization, has done a tremendous job of bringing in a total of $5,011.50.

Our 1950-51 Loyalty Fund Scholarship was assured early enough so that we authorized the Kentucky Research Foundation to accept applications and the 1950 scholarship has been awarded to Dolly R. Sullivant, a senior in Henry Clay High School in Lexington. The total receipts for the three year Loyalty Fund drive amounted to $15,917.54 as of May 31, 1950.

Your executive secretary has attended club meetings this year in Bourbon, Caldwell, Christian, Clark, Daviess, Franklin, Henderson, Jefferson, Jessamine, Logan, McCracken, Nelson, Boyd, Scott, Shelby, Simpson, Todd, Henry, Woodford, a district meeting held in the fall at Cumberland Falls, and out of state meetings at New York, Atlanta, and New Orleans. I have also attended K. E. A. where Alumni Headquarters were set up.

Four years ago the Executive Committee of the Association instituted the custom of choosing one member of the graduating class to serve as an honorary member for the succeeding year. Chester Travelstead of Lexington was chosen by the committee this year and is present tonight. I wish Mr. Travelstead would stand and be recognized by the Association.

The various colleges of the University followed their annual custom of holding elections this spring so that the alumni office may keep in touch with members of the graduating class.

Early this spring ballots were sent out to the active members for you to select officers for the 1950-51 fiscal year. It is my pleasure to announce the new officers of the Association as follows: President, Judge Edwin R. Denney of Mt. Vernon; Vice President, George P. Hillen of Louisville, and three members of the executive committee chosen for three year terms as follows: R. H. Hillenmeyer of Lexington, Mrs. John N. Browning of Maysville, and Marshall Barnes of Owensboro.

I believe it can be said without fear of contradiction that more constructive projects have been initiated by the Alumni Association this year than in any year of its history and much of the credit for this work is due to your outgoing president, Mr. J. Stephen Watkins, his officers and his executive board. I wish at this time to also acknowledge with deep appreciation the fine cooperation afforded the alumni office by the entire administrative staff of the University.

The future success of the Alumni Association rests with you. We of the office staff are working overtime to make this association a strong and forceful organization with a militant and progressive program, but without great numbers of active members, our hands are tied. I cannot urge upon you too strongly the need for a large active membership and knowing of your loyalty and cooperation in the past, I feel that I can rely on you to assist us in building a powerful organization in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

Helen G. King

ANNUAL AUDIT

The Executive Committee
University of Kentucky
Alumni Association
Student Union Building, Room 124
University of Kentucky
Lexington, Kentucky
Gentlemen:

I have made an examination of the financial records of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association for the period May 1, 1949, through April 30, 1950. The audit was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such auditing procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, the accompanying balance sheet presents fairly the financial position of the Alumni Association as of May 31, 1950, and the statement of income and expense, the results of its operations for the fiscal year then ended.

Respectfully submitted,
Oliver Clay Maupin, Jr.

It was moved by Mr. Cutler and seconded by Mr. Kirwan that the report of the treasurer be approved. Moved and seconded, the motion carried.

The Loyalty Fund report was presented by Helen G. King as follows:

Mr. J. Stephens Watkins, President
University of Kentucky Alumni
Lexington, Kentucky

Dear Sir:

As of May 31, we have contributions totaling $5,011.50 for our Loyalty Fund, for the year 1949-50. While I am not satisfied with this drive, I do feel that it is a good showing considering we were not able to get it under way until early December 1949.

It should be pointed out that, we have had 143 individual contributions this year, and that 11 organized University of Kentucky clubs have made contributions, of this number eight clubs reached or exceeded the goal set for them of $100.00.

For the consideration of the Alumni Association and succeeding Loyalty Fund chairman, in the light of lessons learned during this campaign, I offer the following suggestions:

(1) That an appropriation of $400.00 be budgeted to carry on this work. Each drive run on the same fiscal year as the Alumni Association office.

(2) That stenographic work and necessary records be accomplished by employees of the Alumni Association under the direction of the Loyalty Fund committee.

(3) That a card file record be kept of contributions as a valuable source of information for succeeding drives.

(4) That in the light of experience, quotas be assigned our organized alumni clubs throughout the state and nation. This should be our largest source of funds and would allow for the maximum personal solicitation.

(5) That the first mailing for the drive will be made prior to the opening of school at the University this fall. The second mailing should carry a report on the scholarships previously awarded, and any further scholarships or other activities that are planned.

(6) That the maximum use be made of the Kentucky alumnus for publishing the information relative to the campaign and giving the reports of it.

(7) Each year a report to be made by the recipients of the scholarships to alumni through the columns of the Alumnus (see February 1950 Alumnus).

(8) That some additional activity be supported during the coming year.

I would be remiss in my report if I failed to mention the excellent cooperation of the members of the executive committee, the executive secretary, and Mrs. Crowell (Jane Freeman), class of 1938, who was employed on a part-time basis to help with this work.

Respectfully submitted,
James S. Shropshire

It was moved by Marie Louise McCown and seconded by Mrs. H. C. Adams that the report of the Loyalty Fund chairman be approved. Moved and seconded, the motion carried.

President Watkins then thanked the committee for the cooperation given him as president of the organization and the fine work of the staff for the past year. He then turned the meeting over to the new president, Judge Edwin R. Denney, and said that he hoped each and every one would give him the same fine support and cooperation.

Judge Denney appointed Mr. Cutler and Mr. Watkins as chairmen of the two nominating committees for the Board of Trustees election to be held in the fall and named the following to serve with them: On Mr. Cutler's committee are Mr. Townsend and Mrs. Williams and on Mr. Watkins' committee are Mr. Myers and Mrs. Browning. These two committees will make their report on nominations at the next Executive Committee meeting on June 24, 1950.

The Atlanta, Georgia, club resolution commemorating Coach Rupp, as published in the May Alumnus, was then introduced by Miss King. Miss King moved, seconded by Mr. Palmore, that the resolution be approved and adopted by the general association. Moved and seconded, the motion carried.

Mr. Watkins moved, seconded by Mr. McCrosky, that the mid-summer meeting be held on June 24, 1950, in Lexington. Moved and seconded, the motion carried.

Miss King then reported on the Alumni Building Committee. She told the alumni present that President Watkins had appointed a committee composed of John Bullock, chairman, J. S. Shropshire, R. H. Hillenmeyer and herself to investigate the possibility of raising funds for the purpose of erecting an alumni building on the campus which would include rooms, recreational and dining facilities as well as office space for the Alumni Association. She said that the whole plan was in the embryonic stages at the moment, but that it was the hope of the committee that a substantial sum or sums might be contributed by prominent alumni for this purpose.

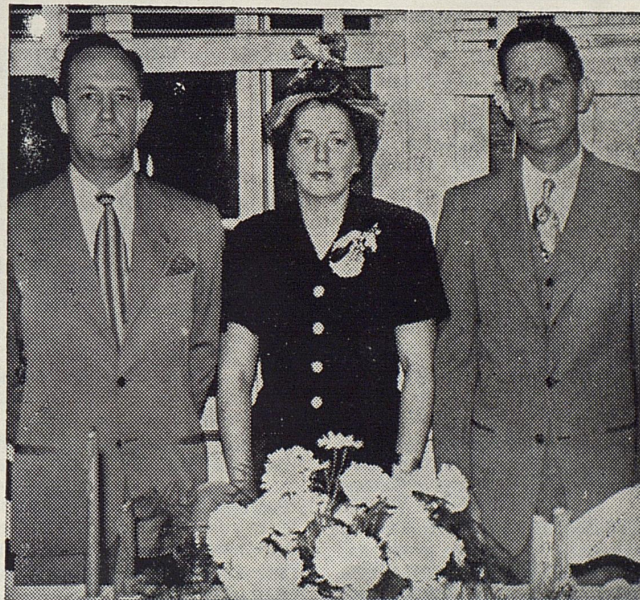

Following Miss King's report the new president of the Association continued the committee for the 1950-51 fiscal year.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Ingrid Brims,
Office Secretary

A Message From The President

Your expression of confidence in electing me president of the Alumni Association is deeply appreciated. To measure up to the high standards of accomplishment of the preceding administration presents a real challenge.

At our June Commencement 1579 graduates were expressive testimony that the citizenry of Kentucky has awakened to educational activity and quickened to a determination to erase the record that only one State has a smaller proportion of adults who have graduated from high school and college.

To meet the demands of its 8000 students, the University has utilized every available facility and mapped a program for mandatory expansion. This year has seen the completion of the Fine Arts Building and the magnificent Memorial Coliseum, which will serve as a meeting place of intellectual influence for every Kentuckian. Another outstanding and major accomplishment has been the bringing to the University faculty progressive and alert men of national reputation. Still high on the list of necessities and imperative to its continued growth and service are the construction of dormitories, and financial means for retaining superior instructors.

I present to you Alumni the following program for the year: Be sincerely interested in and acquaint yourselves with the accomplishments and needs of your University. Make these facts known to your legislators, other alumni, and every Kentuckian. Encourage liberal support of the Loyalty Fund. Band yourselves together in active Alumni Clubs so that by intelligent and concerted action our University will soon become the institution the brilliant heritage of our State so richly deserves.

EDWIN R. DENNEY, President

University of Kentucky Alumni Association
