FOREWORD

The great mass of Mississippi newspapers which had been accumulated since 1902 in the Mississippi Department of Archives and History presented an appalling problem to the writer when he assumed responsibility early in 1938 for the preservation of these newspapers and for making them available to researchers. Some of the newspapers were bound in various arrangements, some were being bound by a Works Progress Administration project (1,1611 volumes were eventually bound), and some were accumulating in growing stacks in storerooms. The task of making all of these newspapers readily and efficiently available to researchers seemed to be almost hopeless.

Eventually the writer decided to attempt to use Works Progress Administration workers to begin an issue-by-issue checklist of the newspapers in the Department. This work was finally taken over by the Historical Records Survey under the efficient direction of Mr. Robert E. Strong. The main purpose in compiling the checklist was to create a tool that would assist in making the newspapers available to interested researchers. Detailed information as to origins, successions, mergers, changes in title, editors, and publishers was left for the future.

Persons who have never had occasion to use newspapers for research sometimes question the value of the efforts made by the Department in collecting and preserving newspapers. All questions concerning the value of newspapers for research purposes are answered in the following statement, made in 1939 by Dr. Clarence S. Brigham, Director of the American Antiquarian Society, Worcester, Massachusetts:

"The value of newspapers as sources of historical study is often overlooked by libraries. Since they are difficult to acquire and since they take up considerable shelf room, they are frequently rejected in favor of source material not nearly so useful in research. I doubt whether any contemporary expression of printed opinion and fact, both for national and local history, measures up to the newspaper. No history of a town or city can be written without recourse to its newspapers. In the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries even the advertisements have unique value in social and economic study. In the wider fields of history, whether state or national, the whole trend of events is reported at regular intervals, in the printing of documents and letters, in the arguments of partisan communications, and in editorial opinion. The newspaper is omnivorous. Not only political history, but religious, educational, and social history, find place in its pages. Literature, especially essays and poetry, was constantly supplied to its readers. If all the printed sources of history for a certain century or decade had to be destroyed save one, that which could be chosen with the greatest value to posterity would be a file of an important newspaper."

The great bulk of the collection of newspapers in the Department obviously presents a problem of space, for state departments seldom have

The first issue of the newspaper was published in 1850 in the district of Columbia. It was a weekly paper and was published by the Government. adequate room in which to perform the duties with which they are charged by law. Efforts have been made to get an appropriation for the purchase of equipment for microphotography. If sufficient equipment is ever acquired, recent newspapers will be photographed on film and then will be destroyed. The film will have a longer life than the newspaper and can be reproduced, the expense of binding the newspapers will be eliminated, and there will be an estimated ninety-eight percent saving of space.

A recapitulation of the work done in producing this checklist shows that the Department has on file more than six hundred thousand Mississippi newspapers. This number is increased daily, for the Department undertakes to preserve for public use all newspapers that Mississippi editors will send to it. Continuous efforts are made to acquire back files of Mississippi newspapers from newspaper offices, retired editors, book dealers, and other sources. The Department is now on the mailing list of approximately ninety weekly and fifteen daily newspapers in Mississippi. The editors of these newspapers are requested to continue the Department on their mailing lists and other editors are urgently requested to place the Department on their mailing lists. This is excellent insurance that a file of a newspaper will be preserved in case the newspaper office is destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, or other disaster.

The writer wishes to express sincere appreciation to the officials of the Works Progress Administration and its successor, the Work Projects Administration, for their kind and thoughtful co-operation in this work. Particularly does he appreciate the interest and the work of Mr. Robert E. Strong and Mr. Nash K. Burger, of the Historical Records Survey, and of the numerous workers of that organization who toiled many weeks over the hundreds of thousands of newspapers.

The first part of the report is devoted to a general survey of the situation in the country. It is followed by a detailed account of the work done during the year. The report concludes with a summary of the results and a list of recommendations.

The work done during the year has been of a very satisfactory nature. It has been possible to carry out the programme of work which was laid down in the report for the previous year. This is due to the co-operation of the various departments and to the assistance of the staff.

The results of the work have been very good. It has been possible to complete the work on the various projects which were undertaken. This is a very important achievement, especially in view of the fact that the work was carried out in a very short time.

The following are the main results of the work done during the year:

- 1. The work on the various projects has been completed.
- 2. The results of the work have been very good.
- 3. The work has been carried out in a very short time.

The following are the main recommendations:

- 1. The work should be continued in the next year.
- 2. The results should be used to guide the work in the next year.
- 3. The work should be carried out in a very short time.

PREFACE

This preliminary checklist of Mississippi newspapers published from 1805 to 1940 and available in the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, lists these newspapers by title and shows the date of issue of each newspaper. More detailed information concerning successions and mergers, changes in title, and names of editors and publishers, is included in the Union List of Newspapers Available in Libraries, Courthouses, Private Collections and Offices of Publishers in Mississippi, being prepared by the Mississippi Historical Records Survey.

In all 661 titles and some 600,000 issues are cataloged. The titles are arranged in formalized entry form alphabetically by place of publication with the entries numbered from 1 to 661. Under each place of publication the newspaper titles are listed alphabetically by the name of the newspaper, followed by the frequency of publication. In the body of the entry the available issues of each newspaper are shown in a condensed style to give the maximum of information in the minimum space.

In explanation of this compact arrangement, entry 454, Weekly Courier and Journal (Natchez), shows in the first two lines of the body of the entry that there are on file in the Department the weekly issues of this newspaper published in 1837 on January 6, 13, and 27; from February 10 through April 21; from May 5 through June 2; from June 16 through August 4; from August 25 through September 8; from September 22 through October 13; on October 27; from November 17 through December 1; on December 15; and from December 29 through February 16, 1838. The remainder of the entry indicates the presence of scattered issues of this newspaper until September 27, 1848.

The Title Index provides a complete alphabetical list of titles and the Chronological Index shows by entry number, the newspapers on file for each decade.

A partial listing of Mississippi newspapers in the Mississippi Department of Archives and History was made in 1939 by WPA workers assigned to a project sponsored by the Department. In February 1941 the Mississippi Historical Records Survey undertook the work under the supervision of Nash K. Burger, Project Technician, and completed it by December. Every effort was made to attain the highest degree of accuracy, each step being checked and rechecked several times. Mrs. Josephine E. Jones was in charge of and responsible for listing, editing, and checking all data by an editorial unit which included: Mrs. Carrie Lutrick, Mrs. Malvina Horton, Mrs. Grace McNeil, and Maurice Price. Miss Elmise Fant typed the draft copy and Miss Effie C. Lucas cut the stencils for the completed checklist.

The Survey acknowledges with sincere appreciation the help and assistance given by Dr. William D. McCain, Director of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, as technical editor and as Official Sponsor's representative, and by WPA administrative officials of the State and Regional WPA offices.
