

Lexington campus—1500
Community colleges—400

FACULTY

The school was started as part of Kentucky University under a cooperative plan authorized by the legislature. In 1878, when the people of Kentucky decided to establish a state institution of higher learning, the Agricultural and Mechanical College was separated from Kentucky University and re-established on land given by Lexington and Fayette County. To provide a separate campus for the new institution, the city of Lexington had donated its 50-acre fairground and park which, during the Civil War, had been utilized as a bivouac area for Union troops. Lexington and Fayette County contributed $50,000 for the construction of buildings, and President James K. Polk, whose service to the institution began in 1869, loaned his personal savings to supplement the building fund. Thirty years later the legislature changed the name of the institution to State University, Lexington, Kentucky, and gave it additional financial support. In 1916 the name was changed to the University of Kentucky.

that Extension has made in boosting agricultural production and in improving living standards of rural and urban families has developed into one of the greatest success stories in the history of the nation.

UKRF

The University of Kentucky Research Foundation is a private, non-profit corporation through which funds may be received, invested and expended in the interests of certain legitimate activities of the University of Kentucky. Within the framework of the University, the Foundation operates as an administrative arm of the University in soliciting and administering contracts, grants and gifts originating from extramural sources. These funds are used in support of research, training and other related activities. UKRF received 528 awards during the fiscal year 1972-73, its twenty-seventh year of service. These awards totaled more than $17 million.

about the University of Kentucky

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

Fall Semester starts in late August and ends before Christmas holidays.
Spring Semester begins in mid-January and ends in early May.
Four-week Summer Term begins in mid-June and ends in early August.
Eight-week Summer Term begins in mid-June

ADMISSION 1973

Kentucky residents are admitted as beginning freshmen if they are graduates of an accredited high school and file the application for admission with their American College Test results. High school juniors with unusual ability are accepted without graduating from high school in certain circumstances. Non-resident applicants whose records indicate a reasonable probability of academic success at the University also are admitted.

UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

The services of the University Hospital have been greatly expanded through a "team approach" concept that brings the resources of the entire hospital directly to bear on health problems. The care rendered in the emergency room increased to nearly 32,000 visits. The hospital admitted more than 2,000 patients than during the previous year—reaching a total of 16,507. Visits to outpatient areas increased to 114,903. The hospital has provided educational experience to over 2,000 health professional students, more than half of whom are now practicing their various professions in the Commonwealth.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

University Extension reaches more than 30,000 persons throughout Kentucky, the nation and many foreign countries each year through its seven divisions:

- Conferences and Institutes
- Continuing Education
- Council on Aging
- Evening Class Program
- Extension Civil Defense Program
- Extension Class Program
- Independent Study Program

KENTUCKY GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

The Kentucky Geological Survey, a research and service department of the University, investigates geological and mineral resources of the Commonwealth and makes this information available to the public. Major programs involve (1) mineral resource research and (2) cooperative work carried on jointly with the U.S. Geological Survey in water resources, topographic and areal geologic mapping. Although the state was completely topographically mapped by 1956, the maps are constantly revised as changes occur. The areal geologic mapping program for Kentucky, the largest of its kind in the U.S., now is more than 80 percent completed.

COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE

Cooperative Extension work, carried on jointly by the UK College of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and local county governments encompasses agriculture, home economics, resource development, 4-H youth work and many urban-centered programs. A corps of more than 400 Extension specialists and agents, with a broad background of education and experience, brings practical research-based information to farm and non-farm families in every county of Kentucky. ## DEGREES OFFERED

The University at Lexington offers the following degrees: Bachelors in Architecture, Arts, Arts in Education, Arts in Journalism and Arts in Social Work; Bachelors in Business Administration, General Studies, Health Sciences, Music, Music Education, Nursing, and the Bachelor of Science in 14 fields; the Master in Arts, Arts in Education, Fine Arts, Business Administration, Social Work, and the Master of Science in 18 fields; the Doctorate in Business Administration, Education, Dental Medicine, Medicine, Musical Arts, Pharmacy, as well as the Doctorate of Philosophy, Musicology and Juris Doctor—and in addition, a Specialist in Education degree. UK's community colleges offer three degrees for two-year programs: Associate in Arts, Science and Applied Science. In 1972-73, UK and the Community College System granted 5,235 degrees, or an increase of more than 3,500 over the number awarded a decade ago.

STUDENT FINANCIAL AID

The undergraduate financial aid program of the University is administered by the Office of Student Financial Aid. This program includes scholarships, educational opportunity grants, student loans, college work-study and part-time employment. The Office of Student Financial Aid distributes financial aid application forms to all Kentucky high schools. Out-of-state students may secure applications by writing directly to the Office of Student Financial Aid, University of Kentucky.

COUNSELING AND TESTING CENTER

The Counseling and Testing Center has a staff of trained counselors to help students solve academic, vocational and personal problems. All interviews are confidential and voluntary. Individual testing, including intelligence, aptitude, achievement, personality, vocational interests and study skills, is available upon referral by a Center staff counselor. All placement, orientation and classification tests administered to new and transfer students are given under the supervision of the Center, which also locally administers various national scholastic tests. Services are available by appointment to all students, faculty and staff.

PLACEMENT SERVICE

The UK Placement Service assists undergraduates, graduate students, alumni and community college students with employment opportunities. It provides employment counseling by providing information about immediate employment opportunities, sends credentials to prospective employers and recommends possible candidates to these employers. Undergraduates and postgraduates are encouraged to register for full-time employment opportunities at the beginning of their final year at the University.

MINORITY STUDENT AFFAIRS

The Office of Minority Student Affairs provides assistance and support to UK minority students both before and after their enrollment. Services include counseling and referral, tutorial aid, career and educational advising and campus orientation. The Office provides program support and sponsorship for minority organizations, coordinates minority student activities, and publishes a minority student directory. In its efforts to broaden educational opportunities for minority students, the Office sponsors cultural and educational forums, a college preparatory program, and a talent search project.

HOUSING COSTS

Men's and Women's Residence Halls $1,046 to $1,184 per year (According to meal plan selected).

HOUSING

The University houses about 5,000 students. In addition to the new Blanding-Kirwan Complex, which houses both men and women, there are five women's residence halls and three for men. Each dorm has its own lounge, recreation rooms and study areas. Several dorms are air conditioned and carpeted. In addition, the University also maintains two apartment complexes for married students: Shawneetown and Cooperstown. Students who must seek off-campus housing may obtain a listing of non-University-owned rooms, homes and apartments from the Dean of Students Office.

DINING

The University Food Services facilities, staffed by qualified dieticians and trained employees, consist of two categories—Residence Hall Contract Cafeterias and Cash Units. Blazer, Donovan and Blanding-Kirwan Cafeterias serve students on prepaid meal plans. Students living in residence halls have a choice of three meal plans: three meals a day; breakfast and dinner, or any two meals a day. The Student Center Cafeteria and Grill, K-Lair Grill, and Blanding-Kirwan Grill are open to all students, faculty, staff and guests on a cash basis.
