

November 3, 2003

Celebrating 32 years of independence

http://www.kykernel.com

Candidates discuss plans for UK

Chandler wants to lower tuition by upping state funding; Fletcher said cutting waste could help lower tuition

By Ashley Woods
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Both candidates for governor said there are areas to improve upon that will affect students and staff at UK, including tuition, employee pay and benefits and student interaction.

And many say the new governor will have his work cut out for him. "The most important task the governor will have when elected will be the financial aspect," said Student Government President Rachel Watts. "The new budget coming out in the spring will have a huge impact on higher education."

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Ben Chandler, who graduated from UK's College of Law, said he wants to lower tuition by having more funds provided by the state.

In order to achieve this goal, Chandler said he promotes gambling in Kentucky as a way to generate more money.

He said he believes that money spent on casino boats in surrounding states would be a key factor in funding more programs and educational systems in Kentucky.

"I'm going to do everything I can to challenge to get more," he told students at the Oct. 8 Gubernatorial Convocation at Worsham Theater.

Chandler also proposes the idea of expanding Kentucky's prepaid tuition plans to give everyone the ability to go to college.

"We've had too many (tuition) increases in recent years," he said. "I believe we should have more of a taxpayer-supported system."

Employees are lacking funding around the state also, he said.

Chandler wants to focus on attracting employees with domestic partner benefits, but the decision to implement the plan needs to be left up to the universities

See UK on 3

A long wait for heartbreak

JONATHAN PALMER | KERNEL STAFF

Communications freshman Julianne Jones looks on the field in disbelief as the Cats enter yet another overtime.

By Jeff Patterson
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

Dragging his helmet in his left hand and struggling to keep his head up, UK quarterback Jared Lorenzen left the field to a hero's ovation.

After coming up one yard short on the final play, he felt like anything but a hero.

Lorenzen led the UK football team back from a 24-17 deficit with three minutes left in the fourth quarter during overtime.

That was only the start of Lorenzen's emotional roller coaster at Commonwealth Stadium Saturday.

Like two prize fighters, UK and Arkansas hammered each other back and forth in an NCAA overtime seven overtimes. Each team had a chance to deliver the fatal blow. But in the seventh overtime Arkansas dealt a fatigued UK a knockout.

Arkansas running back DeCori Birmingham blew by UK's defense for a 25-yard touchdown and quarterback Matt Jones added a two-point conversion pass to tight end Jason Peters to give Arkansas a lead in the seventh overtime.

Then Arkansas stopped Lorenzen one yard short on fourth-and-2 on the 5, ending the four-hour, 56-minute epic and giving Arkansas the 71-63 win in front of 66,124 heart-wrenched fans. The 134 points combined for an NCAA record.

Tired from the game that would not end, Lorenzen laid face-first in the turf before receiving a hero's applause as he walked to the locker room.

"I don't know if I can feel anything right now," Lorenzen said. "That is the most emotional roller coaster that I've ever been on in my entire life."

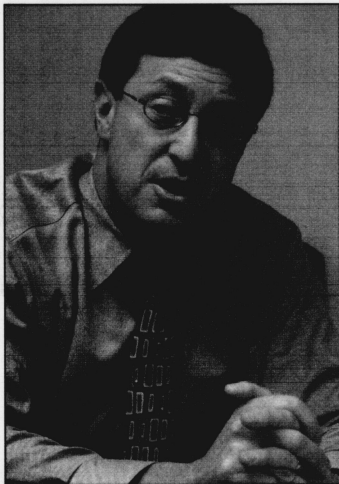

The ride started like it always does for UK: a slow first half, then a ferocious second half comeback.

UK's only first half score came from Andrew Hopewell's blocked punt that he recovered for a touchdown. Arkansas answered with its own

See GAME on 8

THE RACE FOR GOVERNOR

THE BIG SHOWDOWN

JOHN FOSTER | PHOTO EDITOR

Chandler craves small businesses, criticized as looking for a free ride

By Karen Henderson
STAFF WRITER

While driving through Jefferson County, Attorney General Ben Chandler keeps his eyes glued to the speedometer. It's not the speed limits that make him cautious.

"Jefferson County is where Ben crossed paths with his first big Democrat," said his wife Jennifer.

He can't take risks in the town where he destroyed the political career of former Sheriff Jim Greene for deputizing his supporters, she said.

Chandler, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, has fought a list of "corrupt" state and local officials during one term as state auditor and two terms as attorney general, he said.

Many, like Greene, were major players in Chandler's own party.

"He sees the issues out, even when he has to take a fellow Democrat down," said Jonathan Miller, the incumbent candidate for state treasurer.

Supporters said it's Chandler's independence and willingness to take political risks for what's right that makes him better than Republican opponent Ernie Fletcher.

Critics say he's not as independent as he says he is. Sen. Albert Robinson, R-London said that Chandler's independence is nothing more than political grandstanding.

"He jumps on his own party for notoriety," Robinson said. "He wants to appear as the white knight in shining armor, but his record shows he's looking for a free ride."

Chandler, 44, said his aim is to concentrate on economics and education. "I'm interested in producing a world-class education system in Kentucky, both at the primary education and higher education levels," he said.

He supports expanding gambling at Kentucky's race tracks as a way to raise funds. While education is the hinge, the economy remains the greatest weight in the balance.

Chandler ties Kentucky's budget crunch to the national

See CHANDLER on 2

BONNIE LITTLE | KERNEL STAFF

Fletcher plans a research lab, blamed for lack of Kentucky jobs

By Megan Boehme
STAFF WRITER

Doctor. Air Force pilot. Lay minister. U.S. representative. Ernie Fletcher said the variety of experiences he's had in life qualify him to be the first Republican governor of Kentucky in 32 years.

"I think (the jobs) bring a greater breadth of real-life experience," he said. "It's certainly about details and discipline. I like to think that is what Frankfort needs right now."

If elected, Fletcher will have to leave his current post in Washington, D.C., as the 6th district representative.

Right now, however, Fletcher, 50, is focused on campaigning.

With time running down, the Fletcher campaign took its efforts on the road.

Oct. 25 was another long, tiring day of campaigning.

That day, everyone from former Wildcat announcer Ralph Hacker to Fletcher's son Ben and wife Glenna rode with him through Eastern Kentucky on the stomping trail. The passengers on the bus joked between stops.

In London, Ky., the town blocked off a street downtown and Fletcher spoke atop a flatbed still hitched to a pickup.

He discussed an attack on drug abuse and his motto, "cleaning up the mess in Frankfort."

Among his priorities, Fletcher said he wants to start a federal research lab, establish affordable health care and bring more jobs to Kentucky.

The research lab would involve a partnership between the University of Louisville and UK. It would attract top researchers to Kentucky, Fletcher said. Kentucky is one of the last states without such a facility, he said.

Fletcher also wants to cut taxes on small businesses to attract them to the state. He wants to aim money at education

See FLETCHER on 2

“People in college want job opportunities when they get out. Students raised here would like to stay here.”

— Attorney General Ben Chandler, Democratic gubernatorial candidate

“My favorite part is meeting people. You meet some of the most amazing people.”

— Rep. Ernie Fletcher, Republican gubernatorial candidate

More than just a score

Tim Wiseman
KERNEL COLUMNIST

Stop second-guessing and dwelling on missed chances and mistakes.

Stop playing "what if" and start remembering what made Arkansas against Kentucky so incredible.

We should not focus on what this game could have been. Instead, we should remember what this game was — a five-hour classic that will stay with us forever.

As a UK football fan, I will never forget the pain of this loss, but I will remember so much more than that final score. This game had so much that it would be dead wrong to reduce it to one blue box score.

This was so much more than just a loss; this game belongs in a different category altogether. It is simply unforgettable.

The Cats gave us enough highlights to replay for weeks. We should remember those plays, not the plays that came up a few feet short.

We should remember Alexis Bensewee booting off defenders and driving into the end zone. Or Andrew Hopewell breaking through to block a punt and score. Or Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns battling on virtually one leg through overtime after overtime.

And then there is Jared Lorenzen, the fiercest behind UK's dramatic comeback. He did everything. He threw for two touchdowns and ran for three more. He willed his team back into the game.

Remember everything Lorenzen did that night, not the one yard he didn't get. He deserves more than that. He earned more than that with his gritty and gutsy performance.

With 3:15 left, the Cats trailed 24-17 and Lorenzen had the chance to be a hero. He delivered. Lorenzen engineered one of the most impressive drives in UK history. He took the Cats 79 yards in less than two minutes to tie the game. He had to make plays and he economy, blaming President Bush for turning a surplus from three years ago into the largest deficit ever.

See CLASSIC on 8

CHANDLER

Continued from page 1

Chandler and his running mate Charlie Owen said they will boost the economy by creating jobs. Chandler said he identifies with students facing a weak job market. "People in college want job opportunities when they get out," he said. "Students raised here would like to stay here. So many have to leave the state."

His plan calls for 100,000 more jobs through incentives for small businesses.

Describing himself as fiscally conservative, Chandler saves money by cutting coupons. His two boys share bunk beds, and his home isn't air-conditioned.

He lives in Versailles with his wife and their three children on the property his family has owned since 1784.

Since winning the primary, Chandler has spent 16-hour days campaigning.

At a recent rally in Carrollton, the line for Chandler stretched 20 people longer than the line for barbecue. Some talked politics. Some asked for favors. Some wanted to shake his hand.

"I always have to pull him away," said Morgan McGarvey, Chandler's field campaign manager. "People are drawn to him."

While Chandler loves campaigning, he said he is dissatisfied the ads on TV.

"If UK students want someone who stood up to special interests regardless of the political consequences, if they want someone with integrity, I'm the guy," Chandler said.

E-mail
khenderson@kykernel.com

FLETCHER

Continued from page 1

and save money from the budget by examining wasteful spending.

His opponent, Ben Chandler, criticizes what he's done in Congress. Chandler and others said Fletcher voted for President Bush's economic policies which they said have contributed to the loss of about 60,000 jobs in Kentucky.

Critics point out that he's missed 17 Congressional votes during his time campaigning for the position.

When Fletcher's speech was over, the clapping continued with a few whistles.

"My favorite part of campaigning is meeting people," Fletcher said. "You meet some of the most amazing people, and they all have a story to tell."

He said he remembers

those he's met on the trail.

"You talk to people in their 90s who can tell you what Kentucky was like years ago," he said.

Later in the afternoon, Fletcher stopped by the Woolly Worm Festival in Lee County. It was his fourth stop of the day.

While some gathered to shake Fletcher's hand, many merely stared at the unbecoming silver bus, moving their lips to the words written on the side. "Next stop: Cleaning up Frankfort."

At the woolly worm race, Fletcher challenged State Rep. Robert Stivers. Fletcher's worm conquered.

Though he did not deliver a speech, he greeted citizens. After shaking hands with elderly ladies in the front row of a bluegrass band concert and others for an hour, Fletcher returned to the bus to indulge in apple dumplings and vanilla ice cream — Glenna Fletcher's treat.

E-mail
kernel@uky.edu

Questions & Answers

BEN CHANDLER

Q What's your car?

A A Mercury Mountaineer.

Q What posters were on your wall during college?

A Mostly maps. I have always had maps all over my walls. I'm just a map person. I like to know where places are. I have maps from all over.

Q What CD do you play while you're on the road?

A I'm a Van Morrison person. He's wonderful. I just got his new one.

Q What has been your most embarrassing campaign moment?

A When I was at a dedication of a prison I was sitting on the stage toward the back end. When I scooted my chair back, one leg went off the edge. Do you know what happens when you lose one leg of your chair? Off I went six feet to the ground.

Q Are you afraid of anything?

A I'm not excited about flying. I've flown at least fifty times over the ocean and I figure my odds get worse each time.

Q Who has had the greatest influence in your life?

A My granddaddy, who farmed in Woodford County, had an enormous influence on my life. He taught me that you get the most joy when you give to others and see no end of it. I remember riding around with him while he dropped veggies off at people's doorsteps without them knowing who had done it.

Q What is the greatest frustration in your life?

A My greatest frustration right now is not being able to sufficiently answer the falsehoods in the TV ads.

Q What would you do with one hour of free time?

A Read a book. I love history and have a pile of unfinished books on my bedside table.

Q How well do you take criticism?

A I've had a great deal of it. I hope I take it well.

Q What is the messiest room in your house?

A The children's play room. Although it's a close call — every room in our house is messy. When you have three small children, a campaign and no help you end up with a messy house.

Q What is the most beautiful part of Kentucky?

A The mountains are glorious. Central Kentucky is without parallel. Western Kentucky, with its lakes, is just tremendous. Even the knobs have beauty.

Q Who is your favorite UK basketball player?

A That's tough, but I would have to say Dan Issel. He was the star when I was growing up.

Q In one word, how would you describe Fletcher?

A He has the potential to be nice if he would take other people's advice.

Q In one sentence, why do you want to be governor?

A I love this state, and I want to contribute to the people of my state.

Compiled by staff writer
Keren Henderson. E-mail
khenderson@kykernel.com

ERNIE FLETCHER

Q What's your car?

A A Mercury Marquee.

Q What posters were on your wall during college?

A UK basketball calendars. Actually, I'll tell you what I had up, shots of the moon landing. I was headed toward being an astronaut.

Q What CD do you play while you're on the road?

A Probably two of my more favorites are Paul Simon's Graceland and Oh Brother, Where Art Thou? I don't think that will help me with the young people's vote.

Q What has been your most embarrassing campaign moment?

A When I leaned over to give a lady an autograph and then I realized that she didn't want mine, but she wanted J.P. Blevins'. The look of disappointment on her face when I was giving her my autograph. When she asked, "Can I have your autograph?" I thought she was talking to me. I realized half way through the autograph, "You didn't want my autograph did you? You wanted J.P.'s."

Q Who would you say was the greatest influence in your life?

A I'd have to say my father because he was a very caring but dominant figure growing up. He always engendered a great deal of respect from those around him, including myself.

Q What is the greatest frustration in your life?

A Probably managing my schedule.

Q What would you do with an hour of free time?

A Probably read. Right now I am reading Churchill by Jeffrey Best, but I usually read three or four books at a time.

Q How well do you take criticism?

A Reasonably well. I usually welcome what I consider constructive criticism, but it depends on what I define as constructive criticism.

Q What is the messiest room in your house?

A Probably the office, that's because it has an ironing board with a stack of clothes on top of it that will probably never be ironed.

Q What do you think is the most beautiful part of Kentucky?

A It has different beauties. I think the mountains are beautiful in one way, and the western part of the state with the lakes, that is a different beauty. It's hard to say one is more beautiful than the other; they are just different beauties.

Q Who is your favorite UK basketball player?

A I'd have to say there are two. One who sticks out most in my mind is Cotton Nash. And then, probably Dan Issel.

Q In one word how would you describe Chandler?

A Right now? Worried.

Q In one sentence, why do you want to be governor?

A To restore hope to every Kentuckian by bringing real change in Frankfort.

Compiled by staff writer
Megan Boenke. E-mail
kernel@uky.edu

WILDCATS
UK Student Men's Basketball Ticket Lottery

Monday Nov. 3
@ 6pm
Memorial Coliseum

Distribution For:
Michigan State
$14 - Dec. 13 - Michigan State
@ Ford Field

Indiana
$32 - Dec. 20 - Indiana
@ RCA Dome

KENTUCKY

SPORTS WEEKLY CALENDAR
1113103 - 1119103

STUDENTS, COME OUT AND SUPPORT YOUR CLASSMATES

MONDAY 11/3	Women's Golf @ Ross Resorts Invite, Nov. 3-4 - Pinehurst, N.C. Cross Country @ SEC Championships - Athens, GA.
TUESDAY 11/4	MEN'S BASKETBALL VS TEAM NIKE (EXH.) 7:30 PM - RUPP ARENA
WEDNESDAY 11/5	VOLLEYBALL VS SOUTH CAROLINA 7:00 PM - MEMORIAL COLISEUM
THURSDAY 11/6	Women's Soccer @ SEC Tournament, Nov. 6-9 - Orange Beach, AL. Men's Soccer @ MAC Tournament, Nov. 7-9 - Bowling Green, OH. Men's Tennis @ ITA National Indoors, Nov. 6-9 - Ann Arbor, MICH. Men's Tennis @ Georgia Fall Invitational, Nov. 7-9 - Athens, GA. Women's Tennis @ ITA National Indoors, Nov. 6-9 - Dallas, TX. Women's Tennis @ SEC Fall Coaches Classic, Nov. 7-9 - Peachtree City, GA.
FRIDAY 11/7	VOLLEYBALL VS TENNESSEE 7:00 PM - MEMORIAL COLISEUM
SUNDAY 11/9	RIFLE VS MURRAY STATE

HOME EVENTS ARE IN ALL CAPS AND ARE FREE TO STUDENTS EXCEPT FOR MEN'S BASKETBALL AND FOOTBALL
CHECK OUT UKATHLETICS.COM FOR MORE INFORMATION

UK thanks its Corporate Partners:
McDonald's, Papa John's, Pizza, Kroger, Alltel, Gatorade, Nike, Delta Airlines, Fifth Third Bank, Pepsi Cola and Southern Belle Dairy

Write-in candidates want votes

Both write-in gubernatorial candidates running as alternative to traditional two-party system

By Moira Bagley
STAFF WRITER

There will be two alternatives on the ballot Tuesday for Kentuckians who don't support the politics of gubernatorial candidates Ben Chandler or Ernie Fletcher.

Write-in candidates Jeffrey Hillebrandt and Stacy Abner both support a drastic overhaul for Frankfort's political scene.

Reform Party candidate Jeffrey Hillebrandt, a retired U.S. Department of Justice Federal Bureau of Prisons employee, is running with his wife Margarita for governor and lieutenant governor.

Vietnam veteran Hillebrandt has also served as president for many local unions, he said.

Hillebrandt's choice to run for governor as a write-in candidate was an issue of, among others, money, he said. The filing fee for a write-in candidate is $50, while the fee to file as an independent on the ballot is $500.

He said he feels the only way for people to change the wrongs in the government is by running for office, and the amount of money spent on a campaign should not determine its outcome.

The changes Hillebrandt said he would like to see in Frankfort are numerous, but at the top of his list is his goal of removing the paid lobbyists from Frankfort.

"It's time to take the for-sale sign off of Frankfort and Washington, D.C.," Hillebrandt said.

Hillebrandt says that if he and his wife win on Tuesday, he would donate his salary to charity, rent out the governor and lieutenant governor's mansions and live on his retirement funds and his wife's salary as lieutenant governor.

"I won't be the king, she (his wife) won't be the queen, and the taxpayers won't be the peasants," he said.

Hillebrandt said he realizes that either Fletcher or Chandler will probably come away with the win on Tuesday, but views any amount of votes he receives as a victory.

"I won't be giving any concession speech because I won't concede," he said. "I'm hoping to get enough votes to cause one of them (Chandler or Fletcher) to lose."

Earlier this year, KET, a public television station funded in part by taxpayer's money, hosted a gubernatorial debate, but denied Hillebrandt or Abner the ability to participate.

Hillebrandt said he feels no animosity toward his write-in opponent and sees a link between them.

"Both of us have been denied our freedom of speech," Hillebrandt said.

Abner, a 30-year-old Eastern Kentucky paramedic, has no prior experience in politics. He could not be reached for comment.

Abner doesn't claim to be a politician. In his race for governor, Abner said on his Web site that he is striving to be the voice for blue-collar workers across the state because he is one.

"I have decided that the majority of people in this state do not have anyone that truly represents them," he wrote on the Web site.

On Oct. 27, the Lexington Herald-Leader published that Abner filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy in Berea.

Abner writes that his real-life experiences make him qualified to run for governor.

"I have flipped burgers, drove trucks, worked in factories and now work as (sic) paramedic in south east Kentucky," Abner wrote on his Web site.

On the site, www.free-dom4ever.com, Abner wrote, "I am fed up with the current political system in this state and country."

Like Hillebrandt, Abner said he admits he probably won't win.

"Many people think I am crazy, maybe I am," he wrote.

Abner's response to many of the issues presented in the 2003 Kentucky Gubernatorial National Political Awareness Test, such as crime, guns and poverty, was to blame their existence on "underlying societal issues."

Abner's opinions on political issues in Kentucky, as well as those of other three gubernatorial candidates were published in a question and answer article on the Greater Owensboro Chamber of Commerce's Web site, www.owensboro.com.

On the issue of expanded gambling, Abner said that adding gaming for the purpose of increasing revenues is like "putting a dirty bandage on a cut."

He also questioned where the lottery money is going and was unclear on the current level of funding for education.

E-mail mbagley@kykernel.com

UK

Continued from page 1

heart, vulnerability and compassion," he said.

The Republican candidate, Rep. Ernie Fletcher, also has plans concerning higher education reform.

Fletcher, who graduated from the UK College of Medicine in 1974, wants to cut tuition by using state funds more effectively, increasing loans to students, such as the Federal Perkins Loan, and focusing on low-income families.

"We need to strive to get higher education funding to keep tuition low," he said.

He wants to get more funding into Kentucky by exercising tax modernization.

Fletcher said students should get more involved and compare what each candidate is about.

"It's important they not be a separate entity," he said of students. "It's important they be a part of the community."

His view on the domestic partner benefit is similar to Chandler's.

He said he believes the decision to enforce the plan should be left up to individual universities.

He also wants to attract more employees by providing more funding.

According to Fletcher's

book, "Prescription for Kentucky," Kentucky teachers are being paid 14.5 percent less than the national average.

Fletcher says he will work to raise salaries to the regional level.

Fletcher's running mate, Steve Pence, said the greatest campaign difference was that they were moving up in image and want to concentrate on bringing change to Kentucky.

"Ernie has experience and knows how to work with the legislature," Pence said.

E-mail kernel@uky.edu

"I want to provide a governor to believe in, someone with integrity, heart, vulnerability and compassion."

- Ben Chandler, Democratic gubernatorial candidate

"Ernie has experience and knows how to work with the legislature."

- Steve Pence, running mate of Republican gubernatorial candidate Ernie Fletcher

ALA
Honor Society Meeting
Tuesday, November 4
6 p.m. in the
Gallery of the Library
Free Food & Prizes
All members are invited to attend.

Are you 18-22?
Do you want to be PAID FOR YOUR TIME
to be in a research study?
UK Visit uktstudy.com
for more info

CHARLIE BROWN'S
RESTAURANT AND LOBBY
MONDAY & TUESDAY SPECIALS!
• Domestic Beers: $1.75
• Imports: $2.50
• $1.00 off all Litr Drinks
816 Euclid Ave.
269-5701

KENTUCKY INDOOR SOCCER & SPORTS
NOW IN TWO LOCATIONS
NICHOLASVILLE
190 COMPUTEX DR
887-8877
LEXINGTON
(FORMERLY SPORTS BLAST)
404 SPORTING CT
219-1499
COLLEGE TEAMS WELCOME
COMPETITIVE AND RECREATIONAL
DEADLINE NOV 5TH.
$700 PER TEAM
NO MEMBERSHIP FEE!
FREE SUPPLEMENTAL MEDICAL INSURANCE
FOR MORE INFO, VISIT OUR WEBSITE AT WWW.KENTUCKYINDOOR.COM

UK
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
MEETINGS
• Panhellenic Meeting, 3:45pm Exec. Council, 4:15pm, Full Council, Student Center, Rm. 359
• UK American Civil Liberties Union Meeting, 8:30pm, Student Center, Rm. 221
• Prayer and Praise, 9:00pm, the chapel between Tri-Delt and ADP houses
• Bible Study and Dinner, 6:00pm, Wesley Foundation
• Fellowship of Christian Athletes, 8:00pm, Student Center, Rm. Worsham Theatre
ACADEMIC
• N.A.B.J. Monthly Meeting, 4:30pm, Graham Journalism Building, Rm. Maggie Hall
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 8:00-8:00pm, 307 Commons, 9:00am-8:00pm, Mathskeller (POT)
• Chemistry Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-8:00pm, Blazer Small Dining Room
• Physics Tutoring, All 100 Level classes and 211/213, 6:00-8:00pm, Blazer Small Dining Room
• Biology Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-9:00pm, Blazer Small Dining Room
ARTS/MOVIES
• Women's Studies Fall 2003 Film Series: Silence Broken: Korean Comfort Women, 7:00pm, Bingham-Davis House, Rm. 1F Floor, Free!
SPECIAL EVENTS
• Monday Night Football, 8:00pm, Cats Den in the Student Center
• Election Eve with the Capitol Steps, 7:30pm, Singletary Center, Rm. Concert Hall, $25.00, Students with an ID $15.00
ELECTION DAY!
MEETINGS
• Alpha Phi Omega, Pledge Meeting 6:00pm, Active Meeting, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 359
• Green Thumb Environmental Club, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 106
• TWI (Tuesday Nights Together), 7:30pm, Baptist Student Union, 429 Columbia Ave. (behind W.T. Young Library)
• College Life, North Campus, 4:00-5:00pm, Patterson Hall Lobby, Center, 5:00-8:00pm, Haggin Hall Lobby, South, 5:00-6:00pm, upstairs of Commons Market, Rm. 307
• MESA, 8:00pm, Statement of Lafferty Hall, Rm. 108
ACADEMIC
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons
• Chemistry Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-9:00pm, 307 Commons
• Physics, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-8:00pm, 307 Commons
• Biology Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-8:00pm, 307 Commons
ARTS/MOVIES
• Kentucky writer Sites House to Read at UK, 7:30pm, W.T. Young Library Auditorium
• "X TV Series "Get Backers" 7:00-10:00pm, Student Center, Rm. Center Theater, Free!
SPORTS
• UK Fencing Club, 8:00-10:00pm, Bull Armory
• UK Women's Rugby Practice, 4:45-7:00pm, Club Sports Field (rugby pitch)
• The Kwon Do Club Practice, 6:30-8:00pm, Alumni Gym's Loft
SPECIAL EVENTS
• "8 Ball Tournament, 7:00pm, Cats Den in the Student Center, Free pizza and drinks provided!
MEETINGS
• Table Francaise, French conversation group, 3:00-4:30pm, Student Center, Rm. 231
• Inter-Den Programming Assembly, 4:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 206
• Free Food for the Body and Soul, 7:00-8:30pm, St. Augustin's Chapel
• Encounter-Bible Class, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 230
• Creative Writing Corner, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 228
• Young Library, Rm. Writing center B108
ACADEMIC
• Job Search Strategies for Government Employment, 4:00-4:50pm, Career Center
• LCC Republican Meeting, 1:00pm, Oswald Building, Rm. 210
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons, 9:00am-7:00pm, Mathskeller (POT)
SPORTS
• UK Women's Rugby Practice, 4:45-7:00pm, Club Sports Field (rugby pitch)
SPECIAL EVENTS
• Safety Walk, 7:00pm, Lobby in front of Student Government, Contact jessica@ukusa.com if you want to participate
• Comedy Careers, 8:00pm, Cats Den in the Student Center
ARTS/MOVIES
• Art @ Noon - Latin American Art, 12:00pm, UK Art Museum
MEETINGS
• UK Lambda Meeting, 7:30pm, Student Center, Rm. 231
• UK College Democrats, 7:30pm, Student Center, Rm. 206
• UK Inter-Den International Meeting, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 228
• Walkers for Choice weekly meeting, 5:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 215
• CRU, 7:30pm, Worsham Theater in the Student Center
ACADEMIC
• Student Coalition for Better Education, 4:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 319
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Courses, 9:00am-7:00pm, Mathskeller (POT)
ARTS/MOVIES
• Slingshot-Supernovas: Dave Yamin, 8:00pm, Cats Den in the Student Center, Coffee and refreshments will be available.
• The World is Your Canvas, 11:00am-5:00pm, Student Center, in the Resallard Gallery
• The Arts: Seven Female Visionaries Before Feminism, Noon-5:00pm, UK Art Museum Galleries
SPORTS
• UK Fencing Club, 8:00-10:00pm, Bull Armory
• UK Women's Rugby Practice, 4:45-7:00pm, Club Sports Field (rugby pitch)
SPECIAL EVENTS
• Friday Football, 3:00pm, Good Barn Field, across from Commonwealth Stadium
• Freshman Focus, 7:30pm, Baptist Student Union, 429 Columbia Avenue (behind W.T. Young Library)
• Monday Night Worship Service, 8:00pm, Wesley Foundation
INTRAMURAL/RECREATION
• UK Dressage Team, 5:00pm, Garrigus Building, Rm. 109
ACADEMIC
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Courses, 9:00am-5:00pm, Mathskeller (POT)
SPORTS
• Friday Football, 3:00pm, Good Barn Field, across from Commonwealth Stadium
• The Kwon Do Club Practice, 5:30-7:00pm, Alumni Gym's Loft
ARTS/MOVIES
• UK Lambda Movie "Get Real", 8:00pm, WTY Library, Rm. Auditorium
SPORTS
• UK Hockey Game vs. Louisville, Midnight, Lexington Ice Center, $5.00 at the door
• The Kwon Do Club Practice, 11:00am-12:30pm, Alumni Gym's Loft
MEETINGS
• Newman Center Mass, 9:00am, 11:30am, 5:00pm, 8:30pm, Newman Center 229 Ross Lane
• College Worship Service, 8:12pm, Southside Church of Christ
ACADEMIC
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-8:00pm, 307 Commons
• Chemistry Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 7:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons
• Physics Tutoring, All 100 Level classes and 211/213, 7:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons
• Biology Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 7:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons
• Statistics 200, 281, 4:30-7:00pm, 307 Commons
SPORTS
• Ultimate Frisbee, 10:00pm, Haggin Field

KEYS
The World Famous
SPORTS BAR & GRILL
LAUGH TRACK LIVE EVERY TUESDAY
Monday Night Maddness!
250 Wings and $1.00 Buds
& Bud Light Longnecks!
WATCH YOUR FAVORITE COLLEGE TEAM!
TAILGATE WITH US AT THE 'KEYS ON SAT!
EAT SUNDAY BRUNCH & WATCH EVERY N.F.L. GAME! 50+ TV'S!
333 S. Limestone • Lex., KY • 254-5000

CAMPUS CALENDAR
Week of October 27 - October 2

The Campus Calendar is produced by the Office of Student Activities, Registered Student Orgs. and UK Sports. For more information or to request a FREE online ONE WEEK PRIOR to the MONDAY information is to appear at: <http://www.uky.edu/CampusCalendar>. Call 257-8887 for more information.

MEETINGS
• Panhellenic Meeting, 3:45pm Exec. Council, 4:15pm, Full Council, Student Center, Rm. 359
• UK American Civil Liberties Union Meeting, 8:30pm, Student Center, Rm. 221
• Prayer and Praise, 9:00pm, the chapel between Tri-Delt and ADP houses
• Bible Study and Dinner, 6:00pm, Wesley Foundation
• Fellowship of Christian Athletes, 8:00pm, Student Center, Rm. Worsham Theatre
ACADEMIC
• N.A.B.J. Monthly Meeting, 4:30pm, Graham Journalism Building, Rm. Maggie Hall
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 8:00-8:00pm, 307 Commons, 9:00am-8:00pm, Mathskeller (POT)
• Chemistry Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-8:00pm, Blazer Small Dining Room
• Physics Tutoring, All 100 Level classes and 211/213, 6:00-8:00pm, Blazer Small Dining Room
• Biology Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-9:00pm, Blazer Small Dining Room
ARTS/MOVIES
• Women's Studies Fall 2003 Film Series: Silence Broken: Korean Comfort Women, 7:00pm, Bingham-Davis House, Rm. 1F Floor, Free!
SPECIAL EVENTS
• Monday Night Football, 8:00pm, Cats Den in the Student Center
• Election Eve with the Capitol Steps, 7:30pm, Singletary Center, Rm. Concert Hall, $25.00, Students with an ID $15.00
ELECTION DAY!
MEETINGS
• Alpha Phi Omega, Pledge Meeting 6:00pm, Active Meeting, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 359
• Green Thumb Environmental Club, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 106
• TWI (Tuesday Nights Together), 7:30pm, Baptist Student Union, 429 Columbia Ave. (behind W.T. Young Library)
• College Life, North Campus, 4:00-5:00pm, Patterson Hall Lobby, Center, 5:00-8:00pm, Haggin Hall Lobby, South, 5:00-6:00pm, upstairs of Commons Market, Rm. 307
• MESA, 8:00pm, Statement of Lafferty Hall, Rm. 108
ACADEMIC
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons
• Chemistry Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-9:00pm, 307 Commons
• Physics, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-8:00pm, 307 Commons
• Biology Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-8:00pm, 307 Commons
ARTS/MOVIES
• Kentucky writer Sites House to Read at UK, 7:30pm, W.T. Young Library Auditorium
• "X TV Series "Get Backers" 7:00-10:00pm, Student Center, Rm. Center Theater, Free!
SPORTS
• UK Fencing Club, 8:00-10:00pm, Bull Armory
• UK Women's Rugby Practice, 4:45-7:00pm, Club Sports Field (rugby pitch)
• The Kwon Do Club Practice, 6:30-8:00pm, Alumni Gym's Loft
SPECIAL EVENTS
• "8 Ball Tournament, 7:00pm, Cats Den in the Student Center, Free pizza and drinks provided!
MEETINGS
• Table Francaise, French conversation group, 3:00-4:30pm, Student Center, Rm. 231
• Inter-Den Programming Assembly, 4:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 206
• Free Food for the Body and Soul, 7:00-8:30pm, St. Augustin's Chapel
• Encounter-Bible Class, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 230
• Creative Writing Corner, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 228
• Young Library, Rm. Writing center B108
ACADEMIC
• Job Search Strategies for Government Employment, 4:00-4:50pm, Career Center
• LCC Republican Meeting, 1:00pm, Oswald Building, Rm. 210
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons, 9:00am-7:00pm, Mathskeller (POT)
SPORTS
• UK Women's Rugby Practice, 4:45-7:00pm, Club Sports Field (rugby pitch)
SPECIAL EVENTS
• Safety Walk, 7:00pm, Lobby in front of Student Government, Contact jessica@ukusa.com if you want to participate
• Comedy Careers, 8:00pm, Cats Den in the Student Center
ARTS/MOVIES
• Art @ Noon - Latin American Art, 12:00pm, UK Art Museum
MEETINGS
• UK Lambda Meeting, 7:30pm, Student Center, Rm. 231
• UK College Democrats, 7:30pm, Student Center, Rm. 206
• UK Inter-Den International Meeting, 7:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 228
• Walkers for Choice weekly meeting, 5:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 215
• CRU, 7:30pm, Worsham Theater in the Student Center
ACADEMIC
• Student Coalition for Better Education, 4:00pm, Student Center, Rm. 319
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Courses, 9:00am-7:00pm, Mathskeller (POT)
ARTS/MOVIES
• Slingshot-Supernovas: Dave Yamin, 8:00pm, Cats Den in the Student Center, Coffee and refreshments will be available.
• The World is Your Canvas, 11:00am-5:00pm, Student Center, in the Resallard Gallery
• The Arts: Seven Female Visionaries Before Feminism, Noon-5:00pm, UK Art Museum Galleries
SPORTS
• UK Fencing Club, 8:00-10:00pm, Bull Armory
• UK Women's Rugby Practice, 4:45-7:00pm, Club Sports Field (rugby pitch)
SPECIAL EVENTS
• Friday Football, 3:00pm, Good Barn Field, across from Commonwealth Stadium
• Freshman Focus, 7:30pm, Baptist Student Union, 429 Columbia Avenue (behind W.T. Young Library)
• Monday Night Worship Service, 8:00pm, Wesley Foundation
INTRAMURAL/RECREATION
• UK Dressage Team, 5:00pm, Garrigus Building, Rm. 109
ACADEMIC
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Courses, 9:00am-5:00pm, Mathskeller (POT)
SPORTS
• Friday Football, 3:00pm, Good Barn Field, across from Commonwealth Stadium
• The Kwon Do Club Practice, 5:30-7:00pm, Alumni Gym's Loft
ARTS/MOVIES
• UK Lambda Movie "Get Real", 8:00pm, WTY Library, Rm. Auditorium
SPORTS
• UK Hockey Game vs. Louisville, Midnight, Lexington Ice Center, $5.00 at the door
• The Kwon Do Club Practice, 11:00am-12:30pm, Alumni Gym's Loft
MEETINGS
• Newman Center Mass, 9:00am, 11:30am, 5:00pm, 8:30pm, Newman Center 229 Ross Lane
• College Worship Service, 8:12pm, Southside Church of Christ
ACADEMIC
• Math Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 6:00-8:00pm, 307 Commons
• Chemistry Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 7:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons
• Physics Tutoring, All 100 Level classes and 211/213, 7:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons
• Biology Tutoring, All 100 Level Classes, 7:00-10:00pm, 307 Commons
• Statistics 200, 281, 4:30-7:00pm, 307 Commons
SPORTS
• Ultimate Frisbee, 10:00pm, Haggin Field

QUOTE OF THE DAY

In my career, we have always had the bad breaks, and we have always bounced back."

— UK wide receiver Derek Ahney after Saturday's epic seven-overtime loss to Arkansas

IN OUR OPINION

Students: Get out and vote

It's hard to think your vote will matter this election day. Of the hundreds of thousands of people who will vote, what kind of a dent will students be able to put in the election results?

Some say voting isn't worth it. They say it's too much trouble. Lexington isn't their home, so why should they care what happens here?

This belief goes both ways. Why should candidates try to please students when the students didn't get out there and vote? When the Lexington Area Party Plan was being discussed two years ago, an Urban County Council member said students' opinions shouldn't matter because they don't vote, said Donald Gross, a UK political science professor.

"Students just notoriously don't vote," Gross said. "The numbers are real low."

Besides, even if one vote doesn't make a dent, it's all about group action, Gross said. This means the more students who vote, the better.

Tomorrow is election day (which you should already know, unless you completely skipped the front page), and that means it's time for students to have their say in who should lead Kentucky.

Should the current attorney general take on the role of governor? Or should it be a representative in the U.S. Congress who replaces Patton? There's as much of a hodgepodge of political candidates as there is a mixture of candy in a child's trick-or-treat bag. There's the well-known pot-smoker the former Democrat, the majority leader in the Kentucky House of Representatives — and the list goes on.

It's your turn to choose. Take a taxi, ride the infamous LexTran — do what you must, but get out there and vote.

Students' votes do matter. College students are expected to be the "swing vote" in the 2004 presidential election, according to a recent article by Philip Walzer in the Virginian-Pilot. That's a lot of power.

According to a poll Harvard conducted, in which political scientists surveyed 1,202 college students, we aren't all that apathetic. Eighty-six percent of us think community issues can be solved through political engagement. Two-thirds of us see tangible results in our political involvement.

We hope that this is the way it works at UK, too. This election day is important for the future of students, Gross said. "Who's in office affects the quality of your life," he said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Fletcher endorsement puzzling, misguided

What is so attractive about conservatives these days? I was surprised to see that the Kentucky Kernel endorsed Fletcher for Tuesday's election. In a way, I agree with the Kernel. Fletcher should win this election, but not because he is the best thing for Kentucky.

Fletcher should win because he has spent twice what Chandler has brainwashing the public. It is disheartening that Fletcher and later Chandler believe that their constituents are so damn stupid that they have to make commercials with puppy dogs for us to understand what is going on. In the end, each of the opponents goes into heat and presents himself when big business starts waving big money.

The only thing that Fletcher will change in Frankfort is a shift in political favors from one special interest to another. One of Fletcher's big selling points is to "eliminate needless business regulations."

What are some regulations that get in the way in Kentucky? Pretty much anything that might protect the people from large coal companies. I say "might" because the current laws are not enforced under Paul Patton, ex-upper echelon employee of Elkhorn Coal.

But Fletcher cares about the environment and supports "clean coal technology." According to the Lexington Herald-Leader, "a plan to import up to a million tons of processed municipal garbage a year from New York and New Jersey to be mixed with coal and gasified to produce electricity has the backing of the U.S. Department of Energy and $78 million in 'clean coal technology' money."

Fletcher's dogged support of burning New York garbage or mountaintop strip mine operations is ultimately a dead end for Kentucky.

Some people say that they are against violence toward women while they beat their wives. Ernie says that he is for the environment as he works to deregulate the few safeguards that our environment has.

If Ernie is for the environment, why hasn't he addressed the Martin County coal sludge disaster? Why doesn't he set an example by going to Martin County and drinking some water from Cold Creek or admitting that the water is contaminated and forcing Martin County Coal, a subsidiary of Massey Energy, to clean up its mess at its own damn expense instead of using state and federal tax dollars?

Fletcher is going to create jobs. What politician isn't? They all say that they will create jobs, and you know what, Fletcher might. But what kinds of jobs are we talking about? Probably minimum-wage jobs that free-thinking people like me would rather die than do.

At minimum wage you may net $4 an hour after taxes. If you work 40 hours a week, then you bring home $160 a week or $640 a month. After paying $500 for rent, electric, gas, water, garbage, etc., and whatever you spend on food a month, which for me is more than $160, you don't have much money anymore.

As far as I am concerned, they can take their jobs and shove them up their asses. Unless the jobs pay a living wage, working at such institutions will not produce a life worth living.

The most irrational thing that some Fletcher supporters suggest is that by helping corporations get richer, they will loosen their purse strings and share the wealth. I guess that some of us missed the Wild West days of Reagan's "trickle down economics theory." Theory: Give rich people more money and they will use it to create jobs and stimulate the economy. Reality: The rich get richer and the poor get five to 10 years in prison.

It is their belt straps rather than their purse strings that are being loosened. With Democrats in power, we still have to bend over and take it like a man, but at least they have a few policies that make big business spend a little money on Vaseline to ease our pain. Granted, they are buying the Vaseline from their own company and writing it off on their taxes, thus making money on both the front and rear end of the deal.

A vote for Fletcher is a vote to end needless expenditures on Vaseline. It's not going to stop anyone from getting bugged; on the contrary, it will just hurt a lot more!

JOSHU GOEBELER
 HISTORIC PRESERVATION GRADUATE STUDENT

WEEK IN REVIEW

Here's a look back at events and issues from last week. If you want to sound off on any of these, e-mail the Dialogue desk at dialogue@kykernel.com.

MONDAY

Frederik W. de Klerk, former president of South Africa, said the long-term way to combat terrorism must include "tackling the roots of poverty and repression" in a Monday night lecture at the Singletary Center for the Arts.

De Klerk's talk focused on the role of the United States in an increasingly globalized world. He is perhaps best known for ending apartheid, or South Africa's racial segregation laws, and transforming the country into a democracy by allowing black citizens to have voting rights.

De Klerk called the United States the "chief of police of the globalized village" because of its "unchallenged military, economic and technological empires." He acknowledged the jealousy and hatred this role can prompt from other countries.

TUESDAY

UK students will not be forced out of their homes due to the Live Where You Work initiative, UK administrators said.

The Kernel reported on Tuesday that the employer-assisted housing program announced two weeks ago was not designed to remove students from the neighborhoods surrounding campus, designers of the plan said.

The plan, which is being sponsored by UK, the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government and Samaritan Hospital, is intended to entice employees to move into the area, said Brenda Weaver, director of the Kentucky Partnership Office of Fannie Mae, a company that helps coordinate employer-assisted housing programs.

WEDNESDAY

A Kentucky General Assembly district representative for Lexington said in a speech to UK students for Life that he wants to provide information for women about the effects of abortions.

State Rep. Stan Lee, R-Lexington, said, "It is a very dangerous thing for young women to go through abortions."

"The lack of morality has led to horrendous things. Human life isn't worth much anymore," he said.

Lee said there has been much success in the pro-life movement in Kentucky. He quoted statistics stating a decline in abortions from 8,696 in 1992 to 3,502 in 2002. He also said Lexington had a dozen abortion providers ten years ago, and now has only two.

THURSDAY

The UK Board of Trustees took the first step Wednesday toward building a $25 million basketball practice facility adjacent to Memorial Coliseum. The members of the board voted unanimously to approve the contract for the project's $2.5 million design phase. The 92,300-square foot facility will be located in the E lot behind Memorial Coliseum between Rose Street and the Wildcat Lodge.

FRIDAY

A UK task force has proposed capping UK's fixed contribution to 65-and-over retirees' health benefits, the Lexington Herald-Leader reported Friday. The rule would limit UK's monthly contributions to $625. UK currently contributes $249 to retirees' benefits. Health insurance in Kentucky is expected to be a minimum of 12 percent. At $625 for the monthly contribution, UK will be paying more for fewer services in about nine years. Joey Payne, UK's director of employee benefits and a member of the task force, told a Herald-Leader reporter the plan is the fairest solution, one that would allow retirees to keep their benefits when health care costs are squeezing institutions all over the country.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Limbaugh critics should be wary of hypocrisy

First of all, in response to the letter to the editor appearing Oct. 30 in the Kernel, I am not making a sympathized effort to defend Mr. Limbaugh. I make no move for either the Republican or Democratic notions.

In fact, I believe that when one attempts to defend either of the liberal or conservative agendas, he or she loses (falling fallacy to the opposition). However, I must point out the double standard in Thursday's letter to the editor.

Mr. Wachtel explains: "The reason liberals did not agree with the drug penalties of Mr. Sorkin and Mr. Downey is that the drug laws in this country are ridiculous and have caused more pain than they've cured..."

I presume that Mr. Wachtel considers laws against illegal drugs such as marijuana (Mr. Downey's recreational drug of choice) as harsh. Despite Mr. Wachtel's sympathy for Sorkin and Downey, he also explains "Limbaugh should be treated as any other accused criminal and, if convicted, sent to jail with other drug users."

Whether or not Rush Limbaugh should be incarcerated for his problems is not for me to decide. However, why is Limbaugh persecuted for his problem with legal, prescription drugs when Downey and Sorkin's drug penalties (in their use of illegal drugs) are disagreeable in regards to the "ridiculous" laws on which the penalties were based?

NATHAN DENNEY
 MANAGEMENT JUNIOR

GAME

Continued from page 1

blocked punt and Birmingham rushed for 97 yards and one touchdown on 17 carries in the first half. Arkansas took a 17-7 lead into halftime.

A 51-yard touchdown pass to running back Alexis Bwenge cut the lead to 21-14 with 3:44 left in the third.

With 3:15 to go in regulation, Lorenzen needed 79 yards. Facing fourth-and-five from the UK 26, Arkansas jumped offside and UK took advantage. Bwenge plowed 9 yards for the first down.

UK's offense weaved its way down field with a 12-yard pass to wide receiver Derek Abney, followed by 35-yard pass to wide receiver Chris Bernard. Then Lorenzen dumped a 13-yard pass across the middle to Bernard for the game-tying score.

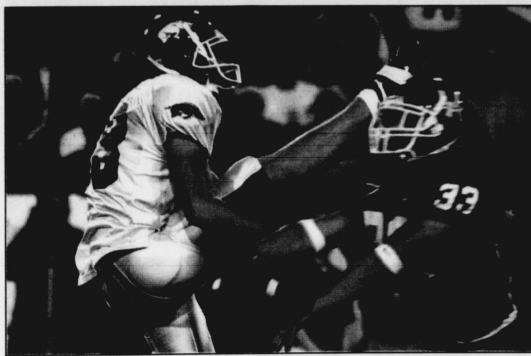

Arkansas and UK matched each other for six overtimes. Each team teetered on the edge of victory.

Down 38-31 in the second OT, Arkansas faced third-and-goal from the 2, but a false start pushed them back to the 7. As adversity looked Jones in the eye, he didn't blink. Chased by a tiring UK defense, Jones found Peters in the end zone for the score.

"You just can't measure heart," Jones said of his team's resilience.

And then UK showed a little heart of its own. Playing with a sprained right ankle, UK defensive end Vincent "Sweet Pea" Burns led UK's defense on three pivotal stops from the 8 in the third overtime. Arkansas settled for a field goal to take a 41-38 lead.

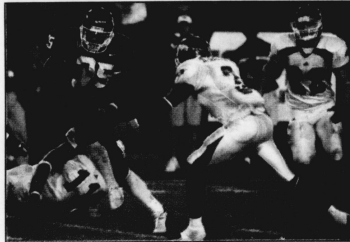

This was UK's golden chance, the chance to end the ride. But it took yet another unexpected twist. Facing fourth-and-goal from the Arkansas 1, UK prepared for (top) Andrew Hopewell blocks Jacob Skinner's punt in the first quarter and runs it back 14 yards to even the score 7-7.

(right) Sophomore running back Alexis Bwenge runs 51 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter off a Jared Lorenzen pass. The touchdown narrowed Arkansas' lead to 21-14.

MATT GOINS | KERNEL STAFF

its last play.

"We were going for it right then and there," Lorenzen said. "Give the ball to Shane (Boyd) and let him do something with it." But a substitution infraction ended any idea of going for it. Running back Draak Davis led the huddle as the 12th man and UK had to settle for a 24-yard field goal.

They went back and forth for three more overtimes before UK faced its last shot. On fourth-and-2 on the 5, Lorenzen stretched for what he knew would be short of a first down and fumbled the ball.

UK (4-5, 1-4 SEC) must wait until Nov. 15 at Vanderbilt before it can rebound from another emotional loss.

"In my career we have always had the bad breaks and we have always bounced back," Abney said. "That is just what my team does."

Email

jpatterson@kykernel.com

Team	1	2	3	4	OT	Score
Arkansas	7	14	0	3	47	71
UK	7	0	7	10	39	63

Passing - UK, Lorenzen 28-49-2 TD-1 INT-226, Boyd 0-2-0-0; Arkansas, Jones 16-25-0-250, Sorohan 13-0-0-91
Rushing - UK, Bwenge 22-89 2TD, Lorenzen 15-39 3TD, Davis 5-31, Boyd 4-17, Abney 1-2, Johnson 1-1, Burton 3-23; Arkansas, Birmingham 40-96 2TD, Jones 15-112 TD, Cobbs 9-46, Dudley 1-9, Pierce 2-3 2TD, Harris 1-15, Sorohan 3-17
Receiving - UK, Abney 10-91, Bernard 4-82 TD, Cook 4-39, Davis 4-13, Broomey 2-25, Bwenge 1-51 TD, Holt 1-17, Burton 1-7, Boyd 1-1; Arkansas, Wilson 9-112 TD, Smith 5-69 TD, Osley 1-12, Hicks 1-11, Peters 1-7 TD

CLASSIC

Continued from page 1

did. Remember that.

This game was not about UK falling short. It was about UK standing tall and fighting to the end.

We should remember this game as one of UK's greatest, alongside the Duke game of 1992. That game was heartbreaking, no, devastating. But we still remember how amazing it was.

UK's effort against Arkansas was no less spectacular, no less admirable.

The Cats and the Razorbacks gave us everything they had for five hours, and that alone is worth remembering. They gave us the longest game in college football history and the most points ever scored, too. They gave us more drama, more excitement than some entire UK seasons have.

After the game, Arkansas head coach Houston Nutt reminded everyone what this was all about.

"You have to remember that these are 18- and 19-year-old kids that just want to win for their fans," he said.

That's the point. For four quarters and seven overtimes, each player did everything to win.

There were spectacular plays and some mistakes. In the end, the desire and devotion of every player made this game fun to watch.

I wanted this game so badly for the Cats that I could barely watch the ups and downs of overtime. But I am so glad I saw it. I will never forget those five fantastic hours of the best of college football.

E-mail kernel@auky.edu

SportsBytes

Women's basketball wins in exhibition game opener

Volleyball team gets 3-1 road win against Auburn

AUBURN, Ala. — The UK volleyball team held off the Auburn Tigers on Sunday to earn a 3-1 conference win.

Sophomore Leigh Marcum led the Cats with 58 kills and 11 digs in her fifth career double-double.

Senior middle blocker Sissy Canfield earned her 1,000th career kill in the second game.

Freshman libero Jenni Casper had a career-high 33 digs, the most by any Southeastern Conference player this season.

The Cats (13-11, 5-7 SEC) play South Carolina at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Memorial Coliseum.

UK women's basketball head coach Mickie DeMoss earned her first Wildcat win Sunday, beating Athletes in Action 73-64.

A women's exhibition record crowd of 1,012 attended the game at Memorial Coliseum.

After trailing by as many as 10 points, the Cats began to rally at the end of the first half. Senior forward Shambrica Jones led the charge and finished with 17 points.

Sophomore forward Jennifer Humphrey recorded a double-double with 15 points and 14 rebounds.

UK shot 83.3 percent in the second half to secure the win.

UK plays its final exhibition at 7 p.m. Nov. 15 against Premier Players.

COMPILED FROM UK ATHLETICS REPORTS

Dr. Kari Carpenter
Optometrist
Located inside Wal-Mart on Nicholasville Rd. - Man O' War
971-0589

- Comprehensive Eye Care
- Contact Lenses
- Treatment of Eye Infection and Diseases
- Walk-ins Welcome

Hours:
Mon, Tue, Thurs, Fri: 10 am - 7 pm
Wed: off
Sat: 9 am - 5 pm

Summer in Paris 2004

Two 5-week Summer Sessions & French Immersion for Academic Credit

Other Special Programs

Consult: www.aup.edu
Contact: summer@e.aup.fr

Paris Office:
Tel: 33 / 1 40 62 06 14
Fax: 33 / 1 40 62 07 17

U.S. Office:
Tel: 1 303 757-6333
Fax: 1 303 757-6444

THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF PARIS

NEWMAN FOUNDATION, INC. PRESENTS:

Fr. Robert Barron

Author of four books including Thomas Aquinas, Spiritual Master and Now I See: A Theology of Transformation

Take a virtual tour with Fr. Barron around medieval cathedrals and hear stories about the art and architecture of these splendid testimonials to people's faith in God.

Lecture - "Heaven in Stone and Glass"

Free and Open To the Public

Friday, November 7, 7:30 p.m.
UK Newman Center • 320 Rose Lane • 255-0880

For you created my inmost being; you knit me together in my mother's womb. I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made; your works are wonderful, I know that full well.
Psalms 139:13-14

Right to Life of Central Kentucky
169 East Reynolds Rd. Suite 201A
Lexington, KY 40517
(859) 272-3920 CKRTL@juno.com
UK Students for Life

Look What's On Top At

Pazzo's & Pazzo's Pub

Best Hand Tossed Pizza In Lexington

Over 100 Bottled Beers! Catch all of the football action on Pazzo's 12 TVs!

Plus...
37 Beers on Tap!

Daily Pint Specials
Monday - Kronenbourg 1664 $2.50 Pints
Tuesday - Sierra Nevada $2.00 Pints
Wednesday - Leffe Pint Glass Night

$1.00 OFF All Import Bottles Tuesday 9-Close

*2 Leffe Pint Glasses With Every Pitcher Purchase! While Supplies Last.

Pazzo's Pub
Open at 5 p.m. Daily

Pazzo's Pub can accommodate large groups, parties & private functions.
For more information, contact Dave or Willie @ 255-5125.

255-5125 Corner of South Lime & Euclid

76% of UK students drink once a week, less than that, or not at all.

party smArt

Based on the Alcohol Education Office (2003) random survey of 786 UK students. Alcohol Education Office 859.257.9637
1 drink = the alcohol content of 12 oz. beer or 4 oz. wine or 1 oz. distilled spirits.