Play to Be Taken to Pineville, Middlesboro and Harlan in May.

"Lady Widermer's Fan," the Stroller production for this season, is being rehearsed nightly and is being whipped into shape for presentation in Lexington on the nights of April 26 and 27.

The cast having been selected some weeks ago is especially capable and strenuous rehearsals are being held every night in the armory where the set to be used in the presentation has been set up.

JAMES W. CARNAHAN '96

"We have every reason to be proud of the growth and development of the University of Kentucky. Graduates of the University have competed successfully with the graduates of other institutions in all fields of endeavor. After all this one thing—the standing of her graduates in business and professional life—is the only standard by which the greatness of any institution can be measured. I am proud of the Alma Mater and of the record of her alumni and prophesy that under the able leadership of our worthy president and his able faculty that the University will attain a more enviable record in the future than in the past."

—J. W. C.
Mr. Carnahan is owner of Lyons & Carnahan, one of the largest educational publishing houses in the country. A recent gift of his to the Student Loan Fund will provide for seven students for a year.

WILDCATS TAKE OPENING DIAMOND GAME FROM TIGERS OF GEORGETOWN

Visitors Suffer 15-7 Defeat From Blue and White Nine.

TWO GAMES THIS WEEK.

Cats to Meet Notre Dame Friday, Michigan Outfit Saturday.

With the thermometer hovering very near the freezing point, the Wildcat diamond artists administered a sound trouncing to the Georgetown Tigers Wednesday, March 28, on Stoll Field by a 15-7 count. Turner Gregg went the entire distance on the mound for the Cats and with the exception of two bad rounds turned in a very nifty game. Bauer, Tiger hurler, was wild in the early innings, but held the hard hitting Cats to three marks in the last six frames. Both pitchers had a hard time handling the sphere in the wintry weather.

The Cats opened with a rush after Gregg set the Tigers down one-two-three and combining hits with four walks and two sacrifices carried five tallies across the platter. The Tigers came back with two runs in the second, mainly gifts because of Gregg's wildness, but the Cats again scored five.

measures adopted in the last ten years, has considered employment of a full-time executive secretary who might render invaluable service. This plan has been adopted by half a dozen other states.

Professor Enoch Grehan, head of the University's department of Journalism, has been closely identified with the work of the Kentucky press. Professor Grehan originated a plan for awarding an annual prize for the best newspaper, outlining qualifications which have done much to raise the standards of Kentucky newspapers.

START 1923-24 DRIVE

Increased Membership of Ex-Students Is Association's Plan.

A drive for members of the Alumni Association for 1923-24 will be started in the next few days. By a special arrangement with the publisher the Kernel will be sent also for the remainder of this session to all the new members for next year who join in the next month.

Less than two per cent of the graduates are "lost" but addresses have been obtained for only a few more than 1,500 former students. The co-operation of every alumnus and student is sought in locating the thousands of "lost" non-graduates. The slogan "Every Member Get a Member" has helped the Association greatly in previous drives.

LOUISVILLE COMMITTEE NAMED

The program committee in charge of the K. E. A. Banquet April 20 at the Hotel Henry Watterson, in Louisville, is Miss Helen McCandless '08, George Jackson '18, Homer Puckett '04 and J. T. Priddy ex-'03, president of the club. Among the speakers are President Frank L. McVey, Dean F. Paul Anderson, Miss Emma J. Woerner, Professor W. J. Craig and Professor R. T. Whittinghill.

HONOR ROLL GROWS

The Student Loan Fund continues to grow though still unable to serve the needs of all the students who apply to the committee for help. Progress has been made possible largely through the co-operation of alumni. On the Honor Roll are: James H. Gardner '04. Charles R. Brock '06. J. W. Brown '06. Howard P. Ingels '06. Each of these alumni has subscribed $500 or more to the fund. This plan was started by the suggestion of Mr. Gardner with the co-operation of Professor W. S. Webb '01, chairman of the Loan Fund Committee. A subscription of $500 will place the donor in the Honor Roll even though the payment be spread out over an extended period.

PLAN RE-UNIONS

Classes With '9's and '3's in Numerals Due For Commencement

Class secretaries, moved by happy thoughts of days spent on the old campus, are announcing their reunions for Commencement Week, June 10-13.

The happiest and most appealing letter received in the Alumni Office in many months is a circular from R. T. "Big Whisk" Whittinghill to the class of "Naughty Three."

One member of the class of '83 is living, James W. Taylor, superintendent of schools at Trenton, Ky. Efforts will be made to have him lead the jollification of the "youngsters" June 12. Other classes due for reunions are '88, '93, '98, '03, '08, '13, '18 and '20. Mr. Whittinghill wrote to his class:

"The venerable president of our day has passed his reward. It is proposed to erect a bronze statue to his memory. This is one statue that I am heartily in favor of.  This is re-union year for our class. I wonder how many can and will get back for commencement. Let's hear from you."

HOPKINSVILLE ORGANIZES

The latest and youngest of the alumni clubs, is that of Christian County, at Hopkinsville. This club entertained the Glee Club at dinner March 26, at the Latham Hotel. A letter from Clarence Clark '17, president of the new club says:

"The University Glee Club has just given a performance in Hopkinsville which was delightful and very successful. They made a fine impression here with their program, and as men, and we ex-University people here greatly enjoyed being with them.

"If the University is rightly brought before the students in high school, there will soon be mammoth increase in attendance at the University. Since being in school work I am endeavoring each year to do this. I am hoping to visit the University this spring with representatives from the Hopkinsville High School in the Kentucky Interscholastic meet." Mr. Clark is principal of the High School at Hopkinsville.

PLAN GREAT PROGRAM

Philadelphia Club Will Bring Together Kentuckians in New Society.

The Philadelphia Club held its monthly meeting Saturday, March 17, at the home of Henry Marsh, Wilmington, Del. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Taliferro, Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Clarke, Miss Frances Marsh, Henry Cromwell, H. B. Hedges, C. M. Roswell, Chas. Schrader, W. T. Clark and guest Henry N. Marsh.

After a delightful supper, the regular business meeting was called to order. Mr. Marsh read the report of the committee appointed to investigate possibilities of a Kentucky Society in Philadelphia. It was the consensus of opinion of this organization that a Kentucky society be formed with this body as a nucleus. The name will be "Kentuckians of Philadelphia." Its purpose will be to promote in an effective way some worthy cause in Kentucky (the particular cause to be decided by the complete organization) and also to develop social intercourse between the Kentuckians resident in this vicinity. The Society is to have two smokers a year and one subscription dinner-dance.

The following resolution was adopted: "RESOLVED, That the Philadelphia Club is in hearty accord with the program looking toward legislative support in Kentucky and we are awaiting receipt of a definite program and as soon as that comes through we are ready to co-operate in every way possible." A committee on Legislation, consists of Frank Daugherty, chairman; Thornton Lewis and Roy S. Clarke. The committee, after being informed of the definite program of the University, will in turn, send out a short report to each member as to what they want done. Every member is expected to follow the program mapped out by the Alumni Association and its committee.

The Executive Committee, which consists of the three officers and two members, was designated, Mr. Daugherty and Thornton Lewis to act on this committee. This committee will meet once a month to discuss important business matters, allowing more time for a social gathering at the regular monthly meeting.

The names of Miss Frances Marsh and W. Taylor Clarke were accepted as eligible to membership in the Philadelphia Club. A letter was read from Mr. Daugherty, inviting the Club to meet at his home the second Saturday in May. The meeting adjourned after a rising vote of thanks to Mr. Marsh and his mother for their excellent hospitality.—Roy S. Clarke, Secretary.

CINCINNATI MEET

The Cincinnati Alumni Club's executive committee has scheduled a big event for Wednesday, April 11. Or that evening the Spring Party of the Club will be held in the Della Robit room of the New Hotel Gibson.

President McVey of the University will be present and after a typical Gibson dinner will deliver an interesting address to the members and guests. Then there will be the annual election of officers and perhaps some other stunts. Those who desire may dance to the music of the Hotel Gibson orchestra. So come and bring your wife, husband or sweetheart. We must know beforehand how many to count on. But we will expect every member or friend of the University.—Adele Slade, Secretary.

A WORTHY CHAMPION

(From Editorial Columns of Lexington Leader.)

It is enough to arouse something of chagrin, and, we hope, something of emulation, in the breasts of Kentuckians to read that the Michigan legislature has appropriated fifteen million dollars for the use of the University of Michigan, the most important institution of its character in the commonwealth, not excepting the Ford Motor Company. Furthermore, the University of Illinois has asked for, and seems certain to receive, ten million dollars, an increase of about two million.

Various states all over the South have been rapidly increasing their appropriations for university purposes as the vital importance of higher education has dawned upon their people, and many of them have far outstripped Kentucky in this regard. North Carolina is one of the most notable examples in America of the value of education in dollars and cents, and the profound influence which institutions of learning have upon the expansion of industry and the increase of wealth.

Certain great leaders of thought in that state by persistent efforts in the direction of universal literacy and the development of schools and colleges, lifted the commonwealth out of poverty and mud at the same time, redeemed agriculture, opened up mineral resources, and built a factory system which has brought to the people a new era of prosperity and progress. The University of Kentucky is the most important single institution of the state. Its product cannot be adequately measured in terms of money, yet it functions in such a way as to vastly increase the wealth of the commonwealth materially. Education, if it means anything, means higher efficiency. The young men and women who are prepared for a life work at the university become far more capable in whatever they undertake, more valuable as workmen and citizens, more highly productive, with greater powers of leadership, and more dedicated to the higher interests of life and to the steady advancement of society in whatever constitutes its growth and improvement.

No investment which Kentuckians can make can possibly give richer returns or contribute more permanent values than money appropriated to the higher education of the rising generation. Ten thousand university graduates scattered over the length and breadth of the state would mean more, measured by the standard of true progress, than the development of as many miles of good roads or new railway lines.

The next general assembly should be constituted of men who have caught the vision which has transformed the old Tar Heel State, and who will no longer be willing to see the University of Kentucky starved.

FRESHMAN CHAPEL

Reverend Ragland, pastor of the First Baptist Church, addressed the Freshman class Tuesday morning in chapel on "How to get the most out of a University Course."

Dr. Ragland emphasized four essentials for a person who wished to obtain any good from a University training: First, a student must come to college with a purpose to get good results—many come with other reasons, yet all expect to be made into perfect specimens without any "will to do" their part. Daniel and Samson were both well reared in religious homes yet when the test of true manhood came Daniel who had a purpose in his life was successful whereas Samson came to a fateful end. The second essential is to take time to accomplish anything. Get below the superficial things of life to the real thing and in order to do this one must take time. A third essential is—take the right road of service in the place of working for one's self. Education for efficiency leads to selfishness. The last essential is: don't quit until you achieve your purpose; integrity is reliability and character and it is only by not being a quitter can we expect to get the most out of life. Life is a battle and he who purposes to win, takes time to accomplish, is on the right road and is persevering until the end is a sure winner.

REGISTRARS FROM STATE

a discussion of "What the Registrar Can do to Assist the Dean of Women," by Miss Frances Jewell, of the University of Kentucky; and a discussion of educational measurements by H. L. Donovan, dean of the Eastern State Normal School. An informal conference was held during the latter part of the morning session.

Thursday afternoon, a school of methods for colleges and university registrars, the first of its kind in the United States, was opened. This school will continue for ten days, closing on April 13. A four hour session will be held each day, two hours in the morning and two in the afternoon.

One hour will be taken up with a discussion of statistical method as it relates to the work of the registrar, given by Dr. Wiest.

Registrars of universities, standard and junior colleges in Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Maryland and South Carolina are expected to enroll in this school, which was initiated by Professor Gillis, and has caused wide comment in educational circles. No course of instruction has heretofore been available to prepare men and women for work in this field.

FLAPPER'S PRAYER

I want the lights that brightly shine,
I want the men, I want the wine,
I want the fun without the price,
I want to be naughty and still be nice,
I want the thrills of a long-drawn kiss,
I want the things that nice girls miss,
I want the arms and heart of a man,
And still stay single if I can.
What I want is some good advice,
On how to be naughty and still be nice.

Answer to the Flapper.

You can't have the lights, the men, the wine,
Without the price, little friend of mine.
You can't have the feel of a passionate kiss,
Without some forfeit and a risk.
Arms? Yes, those you can have every day.
Hearts? No, you see men don't love that way.
Are you really looking for good advice?
If you are bound to be naughty, then don't try to be nice.

 Its many-throated praise.

It never said, "Our pep is dead,"
 And moaned to see it die;

Success

"My boy," said Farmer Brown one day, "I'll let you go to college. You've served your time at pitching hay, go forth and seek some knowledge." Old Farmer Brown sold off his flocks and sold the one-horse shay; he sold off all the Plymouth Rocks that would not sing or lay. "My lad, you'll not be old and bent from hoeing corn like me; but be the nation's president and full of wisdom be." Young Jake quit courting Sallie Snout, for the sake of education; he caught the noonday local out, stocked up with aspiration. The neighbors shook their knowing pates and offered hunks of 'ole that larnin' soon would take young Jake into the county jail. Now Farmer Brown had not the knack of repartee or blow, but got a mortgage on the shack and sent young Jake more dough. Well, every dog does have its day and Farmer Brown had his. He sailed into the general store with glee upon his phiz. "By ding, I guess you fogey jays will stop your doleful whine, and not another howl will raise against this boy of mine.

 You said book larnin' made a fool and was no good, by crack! But them there fellers at the school has made

DORMITORY STUDENTS LEAD IN SCHOLARSHIP

Smith Hall First and Chi Omega
 Second in Group Ratings of University.

Women students of the University of Kentucky living in dormitories or in fraternity houses make on an average a higher scholastic standing than those who board in the city or live with parents or relatives, according to an announcement of comparative standings given out at the registrar's office recently.

The rank of the students, according to place of residence and in order of scholastic attainment follows: Smith Hall, whose students made the highest average of B; Chi Omega house;
 Kappa Delta house; Kappa Kappa Gamma house; Patterson Hall; Alpha Xi Delta; girls living with relatives;
 Alpha Gamma Delta house; Boyd Hall; Sigma Beta Upsilon house and girls boarding in town, the last two groups making the same average.

"The reason for the better scholastic standing of students who live in houses that are under university supervision," according to Miss Frances Jewell, dean of women, "is that these girls as a whole have fewer diversions and more regular hours for study than girls living on the outside."

FURTHER PLANS MADE TO BOOST KENTUCKY

Members of Council Will Hear
 Cantrill Speak at Alumni Club
 Luncheon

The Greater Kentucky Council met at the Delta Chi fraternity house Thursday night and considered plans for the further activity of the organization for boosting the University.

Reports brought in by the members of the council indicated that the mass meetings held before Easter had been a great success. Many students who were going home for the holidays pledged themselves to talk to five prominent men of their home town, numerous speeches were made, and a great deal of enthusiasm for boosting the University was shown.

It was explained at the meeting Thursday night that the work of the Greater Kentucky Council is not so much in boosting the University as in urging a bigger program for general education in the state. Through the council it is hoped the student body will be formed into a giant booster organization. One of the immediate aims of this organization will be to create sentiment in favor of a legislature favorable to a larger educational program for the state in general. When the Su-Ky Circle is on the campus, the Greater Kentucky Council will be in the state.

Members of the council have been invited to attend the regular monthly luncheon of the Alumni Club at the Lafayette hotel Saturday, April 14, when J. Campbell Cantrill, candidate for Governor of Kentucky, will address the club.

Those present at the meeting Thursday night were:

GLEE CLUB VISITS WESTERN KENTUCKY

Four Towns Entertain University Boys—Prof. Lampert and Quartette Are Praised.

The University of Kentucky Glee Club toured the Western part of the state last week, and according to all reports, the trip was successful in every respect. Four cities were visited, concerts being given in Hopkinsville, Morgafield, Henderson and Owensboro.

The club, composed of twenty-four men, including Prof. Carl Lampert, director of music, and Prof. S. E. Leland, faculty treasurer, left Lexington on Monday, March 26, in a special car, arriving in Hopkinsville that afternoon. The concert, which was given in the city auditorium, was well attended. A dinner was given by the Hopkinsville alumni club in honor of the club, and after the concert, the high school entertained with a reception.

On Tuesday, the University quartette, consisting of Robert Clem, E. Maxwell Heavrin, Earle Baughman and Elbert DeCoursey, Robert Porter representing the student speakers' bureau, and Henry Taylor, business manager of the club, were guests of the Morganfield Kiwanic Club. A short concert was given in the high school building and the regular performance was presented at the Court House.

Henderson was next on the itinerary, and despite several counter-attractions, the concert was well attended. The final performance was given in Owensboro, where the high school auditorium proved inadequate to accommodate the crowd which gathered to hear the club.

Newspapers of each city visited were profuse in their praise of the program presented by the club, and special mention was made of the University quartette and Prof. Lampert. Many requests for return engagements were made and each community vied with the others in extending a royal welcome to the boys.

The program as presented was:

A born vivant was Harold Dephew; his shoes were Florsheim's own. His ties were of killing hue, hit hat was Stetson grown. Like Billy Bryan he had a line. His flapper friends just knew, that Wally Reid and 'Gene O'Brien had nothing on Dephew. He made a goose egg in his chem; in Math, he made an "E." And sage old profs poured down on him dire words of prophesy. "Take heed," quoth they, "this will not bring you in the hall of fame. There's nothing gained by majoring in an idle social game. For you, the bow-wows sure will get; you'll toil for pauper's pay." But Harold paid them not one whit, and made a date with Fay.

Well, fourteen years old Daddy Time has tucked beneath his cap; Dephew has yet to earn a dime and yet to hit a tap. A Kuppenheimer work

"It's a long lane that has no turning," he explained to her as he turned the car into a dark side of the road.

"No, ma'am, it goes by electricity. All aboard."

You are writing gospel,
A chapter each day,
With the deeds that you do,
And the words that you say;
Men read what you write,
Whether faithless or true;
Say, what is the Gospel,
According to you?

KENTUCKY RUNNERS ARE OUTCLASSED IN INDOOR MEETING AT LOUISVILLE

World's Record Holders Too Swift for Wildcat Track Squad.

TEAM SCORES ONE POINT

Gorman Takes Third in Half Mile, Making Only Score.

By taking third place in the half mile run Gorman saved the Wildcat track team from going scoreless in the indoor meet held last Saturday night in the Jecker County Armory at Louisville. No other man on either the varsity or the Freshman squads was able to place with the classy track men they met. Other Kentucky teams fared but little better than the Cats, Centre winning four points and the University of Louisville being white-washed. The Kentuckians do not feel down-hearted over their showing, however, as they realize the class of athletes they were pitted against.

Illinois Athletic Runners succeeded in carrying off the honors of the meet and it is not strange as they entered several men who rank as national champions. The world's champions ran in the meet. Joie Ray, the Illinois Athletic club miler who holds the world's record in that event and who has represented America in the Olympic games; Desch, the Notre Dame hurdler who ranks as world's champion hurdler, and Ray Watson, who holds several victories over his teammate, Joie Ray, are a sample of the track talent against which the Cats ran. It's a peculiar turn of fate that all the world's champions who took the floor at Louisville were defeated by his teammate Ray Baker and Desch being nosed out by Carl Anderson another Illinois Athletic Club runner.

The race in which Gorman scored for Kentucky was a thriller, Ray Watson of I. A. C. defeating Kimbel of the Centre ace by a margin of two feet, after a great spurt on the stretch. Gorman trailed these men and crossed line for Kentucky's only point. Porter despite the fact that he was thrown out of his training when he made the glee club trip last week, ran a pretty race in the mile open, finishing fifth. The Kentucky runners in the mile handicap did not place but they were handed a compliment when their position was assigned almost with the scratch man.

This meet was considered the most successful of the annual meets which have been held in Louisville for several years and it produced the best running talent of the country.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Prof. J. J. Hooper, head of Department of Dairying, has been invited to judge the Jersey cattle, numbering approximately 400 animals, at the Illinois State Fair, next fall. This fair is one of the largest in the country and is like their state university in that respect. The fair at Springfield is a very old institution and has for years been known as one of the big ones. September 18, is the date set for the judging and Professor Hooper is very proud of the fact that he has been extended an invitation by such an institution as the University of Illinois.

DIAMOND CHATTER

The Freshman nine will open its season in Georgetown April 12 with the Tiger Cubs furnishing the opposition, according to the schedule announced by "Daddy" Boles. Other contests on the card include two games with Louisville Manual Training High, two games with Eastern Normal and contests with Union College, Cumberland College and Kentucky Wesleyan.

About 100 Yearlings responded to Coach Paul Cooper's call for first-term candidates and are working out daily under the mentor's watchful eye. Several finds have already made their appearance and the outlook for a successful season is pre-eminent.

With three new men in the infield, the Cats have a combination that bids fair to be one of the best in the Southland. Captain "Dutch" Burnham at second concedes ground to no one either on the field or at bat. Phil Powell at first, although playing his first year for Kentucky, is a veteran at the first sack and is displaying a marked ability to swat the pill. Arnold at third covers a lot of ground and with a little more work in handling bunts should fill the hot corner admirably. Paul Rouse, at short, seems to be one of the best finds of the year. Paul accepted seven chances in the Tiger affair without an error, and although failing to hit safely in that game, can hit and should improve much with the advent of warm weather.

The two contests carded for Friday and Saturday are real treats for the fans and weather permitting should prove big drawing cards. Gregg and Stokes are Coach Barger's best bets for the two scraps with VanArsdale working against Notre Dame and Gregg against Michigan.

Friday's game will start at 3:30 and the Wolverine scrap will begin at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

WILDCATSTAKE OPENING

markers on clean hitting. Georgetown managed to score four more runs in the third and the Cats retaliated with two markers in the same frame, making the count 12-6.

Neither team was able to score again until the eighth when the Tigers counted once and the Cats three times. All four tallies were the result of hard-hitting.

Reed Miller and Paul Rouse were the stars for the Cats while Cloré and Pollock stood out for the Tiger. Miller collected a double and a triple in four trips to the platter, while Rouse, at short, handled seven chances without a bobble. Rouse, playing his first contest for the Blue and White, more than came up to expectations and with a little more experience is bound to hold his own with the other short field artists of the state. Sauer, Pribble and Powell also starred for the Cats.

The Cats will go up against a lot harder opposition Friday and Saturday when the Felines meet Notre Dame and Michigan on successive days. Both Universities have exceptional teams and victories for Kentucky will help a lot.

Coach Barger has not definitely decided upon his mound choices for the two contests but it is thought that Gregg will draw the assignment against Notre Dame with Stokes or Van Arsedale trying to stop Michigan. Michigan's annual appearance never fails to attract a large crowd of Stoll Field, although the Cats have never been able to defeat the Wolverines. The chances of the Blue and White this year seem better than ever and it would not prove a surprise for the Cats to emerge victors.

100-200 YARD SPRINTS WON BY UNCAS MILLER

The 100 and 220 yard dashes in the interclass meet at the University of Kentucky were run off Tuesday afternoon on Stoll Field, and Uncas Miller, freshman team member, captured both of them.

Although every event has been held, the winner of the meet is in doubt because of the declaration that Turkey Hughes, who has been running under the yearling colors, was a sophomore. If Hughes is an accredited sophomore and the points he has won go to the grey's standing, the second year class will be the winner of the silver trophy.

STATE HIGH SCHOOL TRACK MEET MAY 4-5

The Kentucky interscholastic track and field meet will be held under the auspices of the University of Kentucky May 4-5 on Stoll Field, it was announced Saturday by S. A. Boles, athletic director of the University. Teams representing the schools from all parts of the state will participate in the meet, the trials of which will be run off on Friday and the finals in all events on Saturday. Close to 250 high school athletes will be guests of the university during the two days' meet, which is an annual affair.

How Electrical Engineering began

IT IS not enough to experiment and to observe in scientific research. There must also be interpretation. Take the cases of Galvani and Volta.

Oneday in 1786 Galvani touched with his metal instruments the nerves of a frog's amputated hind legs. The legs twitched in a very life-like way. Even when the frog's legs were hung from an iron railing by copper hooks, the phenomenon persisted. Galvani knew that he was dealing with electricity but concluded that the frog's legs had in some way generated the current.

Then came Volta, a contemporary, who said in effect: "Your interpretation is wrong. Two different metals in contact with a moist nerve set up currents of electricity. I will prove it without the aid of frog's legs."

Volta piled disks of different metals one on top of another and separated the disks with moist pieces of cloth. Thus he generated a steady current. This was the "Voltaic pile"—the first battery, the first generator of electricity.

Both Galvani and Volta were careful experimenters, but Volta's correct interpretation of effects gave us electrical engineering.

Napoleon was the outstanding figure in the days of Galvani and Volta. He too possessed an active interest in science but only as an aid to Napoleon. He little imagined on examining Volta's crude battery that its effect on later civilization would be fully as profound as that of his own dynamic personality.

The effects of the work of Galvani and Volta may be traced through a hundred years of electrical development even to the latest discoveries made in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company.
