General Report for 1927

(By A. S. Wilson, Secretary of K. N. E. A.)

Activities.

Besides helping to prepare the regular annual program, the Secretary's office has been the center of a number of special activities. Among these were the State Spelling Contest. Five hundred words were selected and sent throughout the state, along with a set of rules to govern the contest. Several contests were personally supervised by the secretary. Another contest was the oratorical contest, which was urged throughout the state with the various district organizers serving as leaders. The secretary personally attended two district elimination contests and kept in close touch with the others. The directions for a state-wide Essay Contest on the "Patriotic Achievements of Kentucky Negroes" were also sent from this office as well as some matter on Kentucky soldiers when requested by the children.

Industrial and Literary exhibits also received much attention. This is a vital problem to the secretary when it is recalled that one hundred prizes must be provided and competent judges selected to properly award each prize.

Several teachers have also been given positions through this office. Thus the office of the secretary has served as a clearing house for our various year around activities.

The K. N. E. A. Bulletin.

Our publications for 1927 have been larger and greater in number than at any time in our history. Besides the Annual Proceedings, which were sent out in November, three Bulletins have been issued: one in January, another in March and a third one in April—with each one consisting of eight pages. Approximately 5000 Bulletins were sent out to Kentucky Teachers and Friends of Education. The matter in the K. N. E. A. Bulletins consisted of educational notes, and facts of interest regarding our Program and activities. This year our most advanced step toward the establishment of an educational journal was made. Next year we hope to issue a twelve page Bulletin and make another step to the front toward a leading educational magazine.

The expense of such a publication is a problem. This year the publication and mailing of our Bulletins cost approximately $250.00 or twenty cents of each one dollar enrollment fee. An increase of fifty cents to the annual fee would provide a sum sufficient to cover the publication of the kind of journal we should have. This is in line with the policy of the Kentucky Education Association, $1.50 including membership fee and subscription to the Kentucky School Journal.

The 1927 Session.

At this session we have aimed to bring before you our best educators as well as feature the contests already described. This year our speakers have cost nearly three hundred dollars ($300) or about twenty-five cents of each one dollar fee paid. Besides the latter amount the K. N. E. A. Treasury has allotted nearly Two hundred dollars ($200) for exhibit prizes, the latter amount being about fifteen cents out of each one dollar enrollment fee paid. A part of the remaining forty cents of each one dollar fee was paid for the publication of our Annual Proceedings which cost nearly Two hundred dollars ($200) or fifteen cents of each dollar.

The remaining twenty-five cents was used for circular letters, advertisements, clerical hire, badges, enrollment forms, etc. Pursuant to the above explanation a diagram of the K. N. E. A. dollar was published in the January Bulletin to show exactly how it is spent.

Our Income.

If the K. N. E. A. depended only upon enrollment fees we could have no yearly balance. Other sources of income have been our Physical Exhibitions at the Armory, ads in our Proceedings and Program, and special gifts. This year the secretary secured ads to the extent of about One hundred and twenty dollars ($120), a gift of Sixty-five dollars ($65) from the Louisville Convention and Publicity League to pay the rental of our meeting places, and a gift of Ten dollars ($10) toward exhibit prizes. Our yearly budget now calls for about $1800, about one-third of which comes from sources other than enrollment fees. All money collected by the K. N. E. A. secretary is deposited in the First Standard Bank and bills are paid only by checks, duly signed by our treasurer, Mr. J. R. Ray. Strict economy is our policy, no bills being paid unless they would be approved by the directors. Bills are itemized where the amount is large. A careful record is kept and our books are open to every member.

The office expense of the secretary has amounted to a bit over One hundred dollars ($100), the major part of this being paid for stenographic work and clerical hire. This is an exceedingly low figure and would amount to only about Ten dollars per month for a school year.

This report is given in order that the teachers may know how their money is spent and what the officers are doing.

Co-operation.

The secretary could not make this report without the co-operation given him. First, the president of the K. N. E. A. has given his encouragement and sanction to all activities outlined, and at all times been anxious that our work was in progress. He has held a number of conferences with the secretary, and they have worked together in a most harmonious way. County organizers and district organizers have also been faithful. We thank them for their work.

Without them the secretary's work could not be a success. Special mention should be made of the efforts of Miss M. S. Brown, who did her best to enroll every teacher in the first district. The principals and county organizers have been faithful as shown by our large honor roll. Before the K. N. E. A. meeting opened every city school in Kentucky with but few exceptions had sent in its fees, thus surpassing all previous records and opening our session with an advance enrollment of over one thousand members. Our final enrollment is now 1355, the largest in the history of the K. N. E. A. The co-operation of all is appreciated and each one is thanked for the work done in 1926 and 1927.

Report of the Legislative Committee

APRIL 21, 1927.

We, your Committee on Legislation submit the following report:

I. Educational Problems Facing the Kentucky Negro.

There are three or four outstanding problems confronting the Negro of Kentucky and especially the leaders in the educational field. Definite progress can scarcely be made in improving present conditions until these problems are met, understood and solved.

(1) The first of these problems to be mentioned is the lack of unity among the colored people themselves. The Kentucky Negro is preeminently an individualistic group. "Each man for himself and the devil take the hindermost" seems to be the motto of the average Kentucky Negro. This is true practically in every phase of our life. Geographically the Kentucky Negro is divided into four great groups, the independent, belated mountain Negro; the proud, haughty, self-contained Blue Grass Negro; the Louisville Negro who with some show of reason has long since modestly admitted that he is of the chosen people of God, and the veritable salt of the earth, and the sensitive, neglected and yet capable ambitious Western Kentucky Negro, who because of certain characteristics geographical, industrial and educational isolation constitutes a class by himself. There is scarcely any unity of thought or purpose or action between any of these four groups, certainly no great state-wide question has within recent years ever dominated these groups or welded them into one great force.

(2) The Kentucky Negro is also educationally divided into cliques and groups in hostile camps, and at no time since the fathers in the early days bravely and successfully battled for equitable distribution of public school funds, and for institutions for the training of teachers have the Negroes united in a great educational campaign not for the personal aggrandizement of certain groups of leaders but for the whole people of the state and especially for the children of the state. In this particular it might be said without fear of successful contradiction that if during the last Legislature the Negroes of the state together with their white friends had gone before the General Assembly as one man with one great state-wide constructive educational program, there is little doubt but that the Legislature would have granted their request even to the extent of a million dollars. But here as elsewhere we were divided into little groups, each group asking for a mere pittance, fearing and suspecting the leaders of the other groups. Is it, therefore, any wonder that we failed miserably in our larger program before the law makers in Frankfort?

(3) Denominationally the Negro is also divided into hostile camps with little or no cooperation or fellowship between the various religious organizations that function among the people. The somewhat worn story of the Negro Baptist and Methodist congregations on opposite corners, the one singing "Will there be any stars in my crown?" and the other singing at the same time "No, not one," illustrates the extent to which our denominational activities have prevented in many cases cooperation of these great denominations in great forward-step movements for the race.

(4) We have not been able to bring ourselves to the point where we could unite as a race on any great industrial enterprise and hence until within the last four or five years no banks, insurance companies or great industrial enterprises of any kind have appealed to our people and even now our heroic gallant young men who have launched out upon the almost untried seas of commerce and industrial activities find themselves hampered by the lack of racial consciousness, racial confidence and spirit of unity and cooperation. As well as our banks and insurance companies have done under the circumstances what might have been the record had our people spurned and discriminated against by white business enterprises rallied as one man to the support of these new and vital enterprises among our people?

The unvarnished truth in regard to the whole matter is that the Kentucky Negro of the present day has little sense of the importance of racial unity or racial cooperation in the fields just mentioned and in many cases would rather remain in the ditch himself than to see his Negro brother arise with him. He has shown little conception of the power of Interracial importance, though work of our Interracial Commission has shown the importance of such cooperation.

These are some of the problems which have made the educational progress of the Negro so slow and painful and our educational position a by-word in other states far less favored than our own and these are some of the conditions which your legislative committee has had to face and in facing them has gone down in defeat when victory might have perched upon our banner.

The only point where there is practical agreement is in the political world, where on and a few weeks preceding election the Kentucky Negroes cease their hostilities against each other long enough to vote under the log cabin for Republican men and measures, which do not vitally effect the interest of the Negro himself. When this is religiously done, the various groups return to their camps and to their independent individualistic ways with the air of men and women who had risen to great heights and had accomplished great and daring deeds. There are signs, however, that solidarity of the Negro politically is breaking up, a consummation to be devoutly prayed for.

What might have been accomplished for the race along educational lines if this single example of racial unity and cooperation seen in the political work had been turned to account in some great constructive measure demanded by these black men and women of the political bosses who without these same black men and black women would never have a look into a public office much less holding one? And, further what might not have been accomplished for the education of our children if some of these divisions which are so apparent in other phases of our life had appeared in our political life to the extent that both great political parties were actively bidding for the vote of members of all of the groups that make up our life?

Another problem which we have had to confront has been politics in the Negro schools, a problem that has long since been relegated from the white schools. We have also been confronted with an unaroused public sentiment both white and colored which was not opposition but absolute indifference to the conditions and needs of the Negro schools.

Another problem which is a serious handicap in our educational work, is the almost universal custom of small and inadequate salaries. It is safe to say that a comparison between the salaries of white and colored teachers in the city schools of the state of Kentucky, will show that the white exceed that of the Negro by one-fourth and often by one-third. Announcement was made recently by a certain Board of Education that the increase in the salaries of white teachers was $50.00 a year and the increase in the salaries of colored teachers was $25.00 a year, though the salaries of the white teachers were already at least one-fourth larger than that of the colored teachers. And while according to law colored teachers in rural districts are under the same salary schedule as white, a way is often found by which the inequality of salaries mentioned above is somehow maintained.

Another serious handicap is the attitude of a great many white people in the state which indicate a conviction that the colored people are not really a part of the citizenship of the county and of the state, and have therefore no inherent right to any public fund to say nothing of equal distribution of public funds and that whatever is handed out to them is in the way of a gift and that therefore the colored people should be satisfied with whatever a generous-hearted white people in a given community should desire to dispense.

Along with this is another evil which not only handicaps the colored people but strikes at the very foundation of our constitution and government. It is the custom in some places of attempting to run the colored schools on the taxation derived from property owned by colored people and to run white schools on property owned by white people and is often called the double system of taxation.

Another problem confronting us is that of proper facilities for the training of our teachers. In this respect our state is placed in the amazing attitude of setting up certain standards for the qualification of colored teachers and then make no provision for meeting these qualifications in our state institutions. For instance, while certain standards are required of principals of high schools in the state, the state up to this time has provided no facilities with which to meet these requirements, forcing our prospective teachers to go out of the state for training which would enable them to meet the standards which the state itself has set up.

These are some of the handicaps confronting the colored teachers of Kentucky and they are some of the problems which the K. N. E. A. is expected to meet and solve.

II. Objects Obtained.

The Committee is glad to report progress as the following will indicate:

Through the publication of the resolutions of your legislative committee adopted at the last meeting of the K. N. E. A., and the widest publicity given these resolutions in our colored papers and in the great dailies of the state, much of the lethargy and indifference have been removed and white and colored people alike have been aroused to the alarming situation that confronts us. The public press and leaders of thought among the white people of the state in many fields, headed by Governor Fields have insisted and urged that Kentucky take her place along by the side of North Carolina, West Virginia, Missouri, Tennessee and other states in the educational provisions for the education of her Negro population.

While the changing of the name of our State Normal at Frankfort to that of "State Industrial College" is simply a gesture toward the higher education of the Negro, it is a gesture and the very mentioning of the name "College" indicates an ideal toward which we are moving. In that sense even the small matter of changing the name from an institution to a college is a step forward.

The veto by the Governor of the Jones Bill, which would have thrown all the public schools of the state back into politics was another sign that the grip of politicians is being loosed from the throats of the children of the state. Your legislative committee used its influence to defeat this measure. Your committee also cooperated with other agencies in securing certain general educational legislation which will inevitably improve the condition of colored schools. We are glad to note that in cooperating with the Interracial Commission provision was made by the recent legislature for an institution for feeble-minded colored children. Through the activities of your committee in cooperation with the Interracial Commission, influences have been brought to bear upon authority to do away with the separate school boards and separate school taxes on white and colored property.

Perhaps the most outstanding undertaking of your committee, in cooperation with the Interracial Commission and other organizations, was securing the withdrawal by Governor Fields of a bill calling for a bond issue of $5,000,000 for the University of Kentucky and substituting another, calling, among other things, for the expenditure of $500,000 for Negro education. The Governor went before the Legislature and made an appeal for this bill in behalf of the colored boys and girls of the state. It was carried by a large majority in the House and defeated by only four votes in the Senate, and this with the most meagre kind of cooperation between the various groups that are especially supposed to be interested in education.

This single incident illustrates what might be accomplished if the Negroes throughout the state were united in a great state-wide far-reaching educational program cooperating with the white educational forces of the state and with the organizations interested in the welfare of the Negro.

Another incident might be related which teaches the same lesson. For more than six years the Interracial Commission has been quietly working toward the establishment of a unit in the University of Louisville for the higher education of the Negro. That dream as the result of interracial cooperation and good will and understanding is just now about to be realized, and the day is not far distant when the colored people of Louisville and of the state of Kentucky will, as the result of this interracial cooperation, have an institution for the higher education of the Negro as a unit of the University of Louisville, the first to be established in the Southland.

What should be the goal for the coming year?

Your Committee would recommend the following:

(1) The creation of at least two "A-1" standard colleges for the State of Kentucky, meeting all the requirements which would admit them into the Association of Colleges and admitting their graduates into the graduate schools of the Universities of the country.

(2) That the Legislative Committee be instructed to secure closer cooperation in general between the K. E. A. and the K. N. E. A.

(3) That the Legislative Committee of the K. N. E. A. be instructed to seek an understanding with the similar committee of the K. E. A., so that at the next session of the Legislature the K. E. A. and the K. N. E. A. will cooperate in the selection of Legislators and in putting through legislative enactments

(4) That efforts be put forth to secure an exchange of speakers between the K. E. A. and the K. N. E. A., believing that such contacts would be helpful in removing misunderstandings and in securing the unification of all the educational forces of the state, without which all the educational interests of the state will not be served to the best advantage, for ultimately all teachers of the state, white or black, must go up together or remain down together.

(5) That the K. N. E. A. be requested to call a conference of all the principals of the state at Frankfort at an early period during the session of the 1928 General Assembly and that this conference be requested to cooperate with the Legislative Committee of the K. N. E. A. on the basis of an understanding reached as suggested in number three.

(6) That the K. N. E. A. set aside a reasonable sum of money to be known as the fund for the securing legislative enactments favorable to the schools of the state. That such funds be used at the discretion of the Board of Directors in the defraying of expenses of the committee or individuals sent to Frankfort in behalf of legislation agreed upon by the K. N. E. A.

(7) That the K. N. E. A. publish a leaflet embodying the facts as to handicaps, for general distribution throughout the state.

(8) That these facts be kept constantly before the people of the state through the public press, white and black.

(9) That each bulletin record the efforts of the Legislative Committee and progress made.

(10) That the K. N. E. A., through its committees, and especially through its Legislative Committee, cooperate with Mr. L. N. Taylor, Rural School Agent, a man who is known for his high sense of justice and fair play.

We make these recommendations in the firm belief that the outstanding hope for relief from the handicaps herein mentioned is a strong, judicious, calm and manly appeal to the sense of justice and fair play of our white fellow citizens, facing the facts without prejudice or excitement or bitterness of any kind, on the one hand, and without fear or cringing or excuse on the other hand.

We stand first and always for Interracial good will, mutual understanding and for the closest kind of cooperation between the progressive white and colored people of the state. And in our efforts to solve our problems and to remove our handicaps we ask full and complete understanding, sympathy and cooperation.
