THE first volume of the "KENTUCKY STATE REGISTER," prepared for the year 1847, is now presented to the community for their patronage. The utility of the work cannot be questioned. We have endeavored to make it a book useful to every citizen, and believe we have consummated that desideratum. There are, doubtless, many errors in names of individuals, which it was impossible for us to correct,—originating, as they did, in the difficulty experienced in deciphering the writing of the returns from some of the Counties. We have strenuously endeavored to guard against errors, and trust that our efforts have been somewhat successful.

Should we, at a future period, issue another volume, we shall be able to free it from many imperfections contained in the present.

We contemplated giving a tabular view of the Schools in Kentucky, but the Returns were too imperfect to carry out successfully, the design.

We would here return our warmest acknowledgments to His Excellency Governor Owsley,

Hon. Secretary of State George B. Kinkead, and his assistant, A. S. Mitchell, Esq., Hon. James Harlan, Prof. Henry Pirtle, and many others, who have rendered us much aid in procuring the matter for the "REGISTER."

Should the present volume meet with a liberal patronage, it will be succeeded by others. We cherish a hope that our labors will be approved of by our fellow-citizens.

THE EDITOR.

GOVERNMENT OF THE
STATE OF KENTUCKY.

---

The powers of the Government of the State of Kentucky shall be divided into three distinct departments, and each of them be confided to a separate body of Magistracy, to wit: those which are LEGISLATIVE to one; those which are EXECUTIVE to another; and those which are JUDICIARY to another.

No person or collection of persons, being of one of those departments, shall exercise any power properly belonging to either of the others, except in the instances hereinafter expressly directed or permitted.—Constitution of the State, Art. II., sec. 1, 2.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Time of meeting—last day of December, annually, except when said last day may be on Sunday, and then on the day before.—Session Acts, p. 83. 1833.

The Legislative power of this Commonwealth shall be vested in two distinct branches; the one to be styled the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, the other the SENATE; and both together, THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY.

Not less than a majority of the members of each house of the General Assembly shall constitute a quorum to do business. Each house shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its members, also the rules of its proceedings, punish a member for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Neither house, during the session of the General Assembly, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days.

The members of the General Assembly shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, breach or surety of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the sessions of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same.—
Constitution of the State, Art. II.

1. SENATE.

No person shall be a Senator who, at the time of his election, is not a citizen of the United States, and who hath not attained to the age of thirty-five years, and resided in this State six years next preceding his election, and the last year thereof in the district for which he may be chosen.

The members of the Senate shall be chosen for the term of four years; and when assembled shall have power to chose its officers annually.

The Senate shall consist of twenty-four members at least, and for every three members above fifty-eight, which shall be added to the House of Representatives, one member shall be added to the Senate.—Constitution of the State, Art. II.

2. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The members of the House of Representatives shall continue in service for the term of one year, from the day of the commencement of the general election, and no longer. They shall be chosen on the first Monday in August in every year, but the polls may remain open for three days, at the request of any one of the candidates.

No person shall be a representative, who at the time of his election is not a citizen of the United States, and hath not attained the age of twenty-four years, and resided in this State two years next preceding his election, and the last year thereof in the county or town for which he may be chosen. Every fourth year an enumeration of all the free male inhabitants of the State, above twenty-one years of age, shall be made in such manner as shall be directed by law. The number of representatives shall, in the several years of making these enumerations, be so fixed as not to be less than fifty-eight, nor more than one hundred; and they shall be apportioned, for the four years next following as may be, among the several counties and towns in proportion to the number of qualified electors.

The House of Representatives shall choose its speaker and other officers—Constitution of the State, Art. II.

REPRESENTATIVES FOR 1847.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

The supreme executive power of the Commonwealth shall be vested in a chief magistrate, who shall be styled the Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The Governor shall be elected for the term of four years, by the citizens entitled to suffrage, at the time and places where they shall respectively vote for representatives.

He shall be at least thirty-five years of age, and and a citizen of the United States, and have been an inhabitant of this State at least six years next preceding his election.

He shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of this commonwealth, and of the militia thereof, except when they are called into the service of the United States.

He shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint all officers whose appointments are not otherwise provided for.

He shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, grant reprieves and pardons, except in cases of impeachment. He shall sign every Bill passed by the General Assembly, or, if he disapproves of it, he shall return it with his objections to the house in which it shall have originated.

A Lieutenant Governor shall be chosen at every election for a Governor in the same manner, continue in office for the same time, and possess the same qualifications. He shall, by virtue of his office, be speaker of the Senate. In case of the death, removal or resignation of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor shall exercise all the powers appertaining to the office of Governor.

A Secretary shall be appointed and commissioned during the term for which the Governor shall have been elected. An Attorney General shall be appointed, whose duties shall be regulated by law.—See Constitution of the State, Art. III.

[The first and second Auditors' offices are created by law, and filled by appointment by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Treasurer, State Printer and Librarian are elected by the joint vote of the two branches of the Legislature.—Editor.]

JUDICIARY DEPARTMENT.

The judicial power of this Commonwealth, both as to matters of law and equity, shall be vested in one supreme court, which shall be styled the Court of Appeals, and in such inferior courts as the General Assembly may from time to time erect and establish.

The Court of Appeals, except in cases otherwise directed by this constitution, shall have appellate jurisdiction only, which shall be co-extensive with the State, under such restrictions and regulations, not repugnant to this constitution, as may from time to time, be prescribed by law. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior; but for any reasonable cause, which shall not be sufficient ground for impeachment, the Governor shall remove any of them, on the address of two-thirds of each house of the General Assembly.—Constitution of the State, Art. IV.

I. COURT OF APPEALS.

The Court of Appeals holds two terms per annum, and meets in Frankfort. The Spring Term commences on the first Monday in April, and the Fall Term, the first Monday in September. This court is composed of a Chief Justice and two Judges. All causes are decided by the court at the term at which they are heard, unless the court shall order a re-argument at the next term. Each term continues in session not less than forty-eight juridical days.—Statute Laws of the State.

JUDGES.

The Hon. E. M. Ewing, Chief Justice, of Warren County.

The Hon. Thos. A. Marshall, Associate do., of Fayette County.

The Hon. Daniel Breck, Associate do., of Madison County.

All appointed by the Governor.

CLERK,

Jacob Swigert, of Frankfort, Franklin County.
Appointed by the Court, 1825.

II. GENERAL COURT.

The General Court of Kentucky is created by Statute, and is composed of the Circuit Judges. Either of them can hold the court. It is the duty of the Judge of the 17th District to preside, and it is not obligatory on the others to attend.

The General Court has jurisdiction in all causes, suits, and motions against public debtors, sheriffs, clerks of superior and inferior courts, and all collectors of public money, and all public debtors of every denomination whatsoever, for and in behalf of the Commonwealth.

When the General Court takes jurisdiction from the character of the parties, all the plaintiffs and all the defendants must be non-residents; or all the plaintiffs must be non-residents, and all the defendants citizens, or vice versa.

A non-resident of Kentucky cannot in the General Court sue a resident, unless he is also a citizen of Kentucky.

A non-resident citizen of Kentucky has the same right to sue in the General Court which a non-resident citizen of any other State has.

Terms—First Monday in January, and the Tuesday succeeding the second Monday in August in each year. Continues twelve juridical days, if necessary.—Statute, 1834.

PRESIDING JUDGE,
 Hon. Mason Brown, Frankfort.

DEPARTMENT
COUNTY MATTERS;

EXHIBITING THE COUNTY SEATS, TERMS OF THE COUNTY
COURTS, PUBLIC OFFICERS, PHYSICIANS,
PRINCIPAL MERCHANTS, &c.

COUNTY COURT.

The County Court in Kentucky is a monthly court, established by the constitution, and held in each county at the respective places assigned for that purpose, on the days which may be fixed by law, and at no other time and place.

It is composed of the Justices of the Peace appointed for each county, three of whom shall be sufficient to constitute a quorum.

The County Court has the power to recommend the appointment of Surveyors, Coroners, Justices of the Peace, and to appoint Inspectors, Collectors, and their deputies, Surveyors of the Highways, Constables, Jailors, &c.

The Act of 1796 thus defines the jurisdiction of the County Court, viz :

“ The County Courts shall and may have cognizance, and shall have jurisdiction, of all causes respecting wills, letters of administration, mills, roads, the appointment of guardians and settling of their accounts, and of admitting deeds and other writings to record ; they shall superintend the public inspections, grant ordinary license, and regulate and restrain ordinaries and tippling houses, and appoint processioners ; they shall hear and determine, according to law, the complaints of apprentices and hired servants, being citizens of any one of the United States against their masters or mistresses, or of the masters or mistresses against the apprentices or hired servants ; they shall have power to establish ferries and regulate the same, and to provide for the poor within their counties.”

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

The Justices of the Peace in this Commonwealth shall have concurrent original jurisdiction of all contracts, written or parol, express or implied, for the payment of money or property, or for the performance of any act or acts, duty or duties, in cases where the debt, the balance of the debt or the damages, which the the obligee or promisee shall be entitled to recover by the breach of, or in virtue of said contract, shall not exceed fifty dollars, and the parties shall have the same right of appeal from the judgments rendered by Justices of the Peace in relation thereto, which plaintiffs and defendants now have on judgments or controversies for like sums, and on the same terms and conditions, and where the matter in controversy shall exceed five pounds, they shall have the same right of trial by jury which now exists in regard to controversies of like amount.—Act of 1828.

An appeal can be taken to the Circuit Court.

Where any defendant refuses to swear when called on by the plaintiff, or where the plaintiff refuses when called on by the defendant, the justice of the peace shall render judgment against the party so refusing.

Justices of the Peace have jurisdiction of actions of detinue and trover, where the value of the property does not exceed five pounds.

The powers and duties of Justices of the Peace in Kentucky, are too extensive to be specified in a book of this size, and the above are given as the most prominent.

* Michigan was not formally admitted into the Union as a State at the time when the electors were chosen. After the votes for President and Vice-President were counted by the tellers of the Senate and House of Representatives, Martin Van Buren was declared elected President of the United States, and the President of the Senate declared that no person had been elected Vice-President. The Senate then proceeded to elect a Vice-President, and made choice of Richard M. Johnson, he having 33 votes, and Francis Granger 16.

1770. Oct. 18. Treaty of Lochaber, in South Carolina, (otherwise, as well as Hard Labor, unknown) was concluded. It changed and enlarged the colonial boundary from a point six miles above Long Island, in Holston river, to the Great Kenhawa; thence to the Ohio.

1773. May 29. Captain Thomas Bullitt joined the McAfees, from Bottetourt, Virginia, descended to the Falls of the Ohio, while there he rested of a night on Corn Island, and surveyed several land warrants granted by Lord Dunmore, below the Falls, to Salt River, and up the same, including Bullitt's lick.

July 16. The M'Affee company having separated from Bullitt at the mouth of the Kentucky river, ascended the same to the present site of Frankfort, and surveyed six hundred acres there.

1774. James Harrod, from the country on the Monongahela, ascended to Harrod's Landing, on the Kentucky river; he built the first log cabin in Kentucky, on the present seat of Harrodsburg, Harrod's town, or Old town, as it was indifferently called.

1774. October 10. The battle of Kenhawa, or Point Pleasant, was fought by Col. Andrew Lewis against the Shawnees; they were driven by the Virginians over the Ohio river.

Treaty of Camp Charlotte, eight miles from Chillicothe, on the Scioto, said to be concluded by Lord Dunmore with the Shawnees. Exact place and time unknown.

1775. March 17. Treaty of Wataga concluded between the Cherokees and Richard Henderson & Co. of North Carolina. It acquired the territory of Kentucky, (called by this company, the Colony of Transylvania in North America,) between the Ohio, the Kentucky, or Louisa river, and the Cumberland mountains, and river of the same name. Purchase money, £10,000 sterling. It was not recognized by Virginia, but the matter was compromised by grants of land.

March 21. Proclamation of Lord Dunmore issued against the above purchasers.

April 1. Fort at Boonsborough began by Dan. Boone, for Richard Henderson & Co. 14th June it was finished. Fort at Harrodsburg began; as also St. Asaph's near Stanford, Lincoln county. It was begun in May of this year. George Rogers Clark arrived in Kentucky from Virginia; he had been a captain in Dunmore's army.

May 23. The deputies of the people of Transylvania, (the primitive name of Kentucky,) composed the first popular body that assembled west of the Allegany mountains, for the purposes of legislation. It met at Boonsborough under a great elm, near the Fort wall, and established a proprietary government in Kentucky.

June 5. George Rogers Clark and Gabriel John Jones, were elected at Harrodsburg, as deputies of the people from the western parts of "Fincastle county, on the Kentucke river," to the Virginian convention.

1776. Dec. 6. Kentucky county established out of Fincastle county, by Virginia.

August 23. Executive council granted, with great difficulty, 500 pounds of gunpowder, for the use of the people of Kentucky, and trusted it to George Rogers Clark for delivery, who brought it down the Ohio, and hid it on the bank until sufficiently reinforced.

Dec. 25. Col. John Todd, with a party, defeated by Indians, who had followed Clark down the Ohio from Pittsburg. The battle happened about the Blue Licks, and put off the recovery and delivery of the Gunpowder at Harrodsburg.

Dec. 29. M'Clellan's Fort, on Elkhorn (now Georgetown, Kentucky,) attacked by the Indians. This year 156 kegs of Gunpowder brought from New Orleans by Cols. Gibson and Lynn, for supply of the Virginia Forts on the Ohio.

BOOK PUBLISHING IN KENTUCKY.

THE Subscribers have engaged in an enterprise, which is designed to supply the rising generation of Kentucky and the West, with a Series of School Books adapted to their wants. We appeal for support to the people of the State. Why should Kentucky—why should the whole South and West be dependant on our Northern neighbors for the books which are to form the minds and regulate the principles of our youth? It is well known that northern school books are often full of opinions and sentiments hostile to the very constitution of our social relations. Our object is to supply schools with books not merely free from this lurking poison, but full of the highest patriotism—above all sectarian and local feeling.

If our home-made books are only equal to those made elsewhere, have we not a right to ask the people of this State to foster a home-enterprise?

But we are not satisfied in producing works equal to those made elsewhere, but we may appeal to the judgment of the best scholars, whether in point of literary merit, mechanical execution and cheapness, the following are not superior to all competition:

SERIES OF SCHOOL BOOKS.

By S. G. GOODRICH.

The New Primer, 36 pp. 18mo.

The Common School Primer, 96 pp. 16 mo.

Goodrich's First Reader, 72 pp. 18mo.

Goodrich's Second Reader, 144 pp. 18mo.

Goodrich's Third Reader, 216 pp. "

Goodrich's Fourth Reader, 240 pp. 12mo.

Goodrich's Fifth Reader, 384 pp. 12mo. full b'd.

Bronson's Elocution; or VOCAL PHILOSOPHY, 320 pp.
8vo. cloth.

All New, Revised, Enlarged Editions.

The following are supposed to be some of the peculiar excellencies of this system:

1. Completeness—Beginning with the alphabet, and advancing to the highest principles of elocution.
2. Comprehensiveness—Embracing all the helps and facilities both for teacher and learner.

3. Originality—All the lessons in the first, second and third Readers, and many in the fourth, being original, and all the others fresh selections; nothing being copied from other Readers.

4. Progression, to secure which, the number has been increased from four to five, thus obviating the breaks which form the uniform complaints of other series.

5. Style, the execution throughout being of the highest character.

6. Engravings—all new designs, by the very first American artists, and in great variety. This department alone, for the new editions, has cost the publishers upwards of Two Thousand Dollars.

7. Lessons in Enunciation on every Vowel and Consonant sound, and all the combinations of consonant sounds. In this respect the English language does not furnish any other so extended, thorough and elaborate series of practical exercises.

8. Lessons in Elocution, containing copious and minute rules, examples and exercises in accent, inflection, emphasis, quantity, pauses, modulation, expression, and ten times the amount of elegant extracts to be found in any other work.

9. Interest—these Readers presenting, probably, the best collection of matter in the language to interest and stimulate the young mind. Mr. Goodrich's superiority as a writer for the young is proved by the fact, that every other series of Readers published of late years has borrowed, and generally without acknowledgement, more or less from his writings.

10. Cheapness. By means of an enlarged page and a compact but clear arrangement, the amount of matter has been nearly doubled, and these books are now the cheapest published.

HISTORICAL COURSE.

THE complaint has very often been made of the anti-republican tendency of history, as for the most part it has hitherto been written. The child who gets his notion of past events from the class books he studies at school, reads of nothing but kings, emperors and lords, as if they were the only persons worth recording. Their quarrels, wars, intrigues, and even their very vices are minutely registered, while the condition of millions of people is hardly noticed. The child perceives that more importance is attached to the merest whim of a monarch than to the welfare of a nation. What wrong ideas does this not produce in the young mind? What undue appreciation of the value of power, and comparative contempt for the pursuit of virtue. History should be the history of the people, their progress in art, science, civilization, morals, refinements, knowledge, and especially in the consciousness and conquest of their social, political and religious rights—in one word, of the Progress of Liberty!

Seeing this great defect in our literature, so much lamented and so injurious, the publishers of the Comprehensive Series of School Books have made arrangements for the preparation of a complete Historical Series for the use of the young in schools and families, by S. G. Goodrich, Esq., author of Peter Parley's Tales, and beyond doubt the best qualified man of the present or past times for so important an undertaking. They can give no stronger guarantee that this series shall be suited to the formation of the minds and characters of the future citizens of an enlightened republic. It will consist of two parts:

Part I.---Primary Course.

- |                                    |                                             |
|------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|
| 1. U. States and Canada.    | 4. Africa.                           |
| 2. Europe.                  | 5: Asia, (including Jewish History.) |
| 3. Mexico &amp; S. America. |                                             |

In volumes of 216 pages, 18mo., at a very low price.

Part II.---Advanced Course.

- |                            |                           |
|----------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1. Ancient History. | 2. Modern History. |
|----------------------------|---------------------------|

In volumes of about 500 pages, 12mo.

These volumes will be printed in a compact style, with clear type on good substantial paper, and be strongly bound with Morocco backs and muslin sides. They will be copiously illustrated with cuts, engravings, maps and plans. In general elegance of mechanical execution, these books shall surpass any previous similar undertaking, and at a lower price.

GRAMMATICAL COURSE.

INTRODUCTORY LESSONS IN ENGLISH GRAMMAR,
By NOBLE BUTLER.

A PRACTICAL GRAMMAR of the English Language. By the same.

 Teachers will be supplied gratuitously with copies for examination.
