CLASS FOR ADVANCED TRAINING IN MILITARY SCIENCE TO BE OPENED

Eight R. O. T. C. Sophomores of Last Year Enrolled

Cadets to be paid

Eight members of the Sophomore class in the R. O. T. C. of last year have already enrolled in the class for advanced training in Military Science, which the Military Department is making a strong effort to promote in the University. The men who have enrolled for the advanced work are, H. Hickerson, F. A. C. Thompson, James E. Wilkins, C. S. Carter, H. M. Clay, W. G. Hillen, J. N. Hawkins and I. H. Johnson.

The urging of advanced work in military training is in compliance with the wishes of the government, which is very much concerned in building up an adequate corps of reserve officers for and future emergency. There is no question as to the military obligation of citizenship in time of emergency among the men of our country. The important question is will the citizen when called upon be prepared to do his bit, intelligently and effectively. The Advanced Course furnishes the means for the student to prepare and to train toward this end and to do something for himself and for the University and the country.

The following requirements for eligibility for the Advanced Course must be satisfied:

1. Each student enrolled must have satisfactorily completed the basic course, which includes the Freshman and Sophomore work, either at this institution, or the equivalent elsewhere. Our interpretation of this clause is that the word satisfactorily means more than merely a passing grade. It means that the student must be well above average, but as shown keen interest, and demonstrated fully that he is qualified to carry the advanced instruction.
2. The student must be selected for further training by the Professor of Military Science and Tactics of the President of the University. In interpreting this clause, the marks under No. 1 above apply, and it must be understood that the Professor of Military Science and Tactics in the future will only recommend students whose interest, ability, character, and personality clearly indicate that they will, with additional training,

TELEPHONE TAKEN FROM KERNEL OFFICE

Its Return Will Save Office Much Embarrassment

The telephone in the Journalism department was taken from the office last Sunday by some intruder. The phone is numbered 10 and was pointed its finger at the Journalism department. Unless it is returned steps will be taken to have it "dead or alive."

The Journalism department is open to all of the students and it is regrettable that some of the less worthy ones can not live up to the faith that the heads of this department put in them.

PLAYS TO BE GIVEN IN LITTLE THEATRE

Debates to be Held With Other Colleges Planned.

Plans for the production of plays, arrangements for debates, and details for other work in the Department of Dramatics, not having been fully completed, no information has been given by Professor Millase in regard to his schedule of work for the coming year.

However, the classes in Dramatic Production, Public Speaking, Political Discussions and the debating classes are all being continued with an increased attendance. It is believed that the matinee teas which were held in the women's rest room at White Hall last year will be continued this year and also that elaborate plans for debates with leading Colleges of the South and Middle West are being worked upon by the head of the Department of Dramatics and Public Speaking.

KENTUCKY DAY HELD BY ALUMNI IS SUCCESS

Express Appreciation for President McVey's Decision to Remain.

Kentucky Day observed September 10 by alumni and friends of the University of Kentucky in all sections of Kentucky and in twenty other states is counted a great success by officials of the University and the Alumni Association. This marked the first attempt to bring together everywhere the followers of the Blue and White on one day for assemblies where the University was the dominant note.

Messages were addressed to the 16,000 former students by President Frank L. McVey and by President Emeritus James K. Patterson. Telegrams and letters of greeting from the alumni were received that day and later from alumni in all sections of the country. Resolutions were passed endorsing the spirit of Kentucky Day and calling for it to be made an annual feature, pledging united support to the University in its expansion program and expressing a deep appreciation of the decision of President McVey to remain in Kentucky instead of accepting the presidency of the University of Missouri.

100 MEN ARE EXPECTED AT VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Resident Home established for Them on Harrison Avenue.

Students are arriving every day to enter the vocational school for disabled ex-service men and Co-ordinator Harry Farmer expects 100 men before the year is out. A house at 338 Harrison Avenue has been made ready and will be occupied as soon as the contract from Washington D. C. arrives. Three teachers and one stenographer under the Civil Service will arrive either to-day or to-morrow to assist in the work.

The committee to arrange for work in the University is composed of Dean Cooper, Dean Roberts and C. R. Melcher, Counsellor. This committee works between the University and the Federal Board. Headquarters for forty-six counties in Eastern Kentucky are in the Basset Building with Mr. Armin Binder as Sub-district Officer.

WILDCAT FOOTBALL SQUAD ROUNDING IN SHAPE FOR SEASON

Coach Juneau and Captain Server Working with New Men

SIX TEAMS PRACTICE

Buchheit, Boles and Owens Assist Coach

Headed by Captain Jim Server, seventy husky veterans and former high school stars have been practicing diligently for the past week in preparation of what looks to be one of the greatest years for Kentucky on the gridiron. Half of this number, the largest in the history of the institution, has been rounding into condition since September 12, and many had football on the brain all summer. The list includes stars of other Blue and White days, many of whom earned their "K" last year, and the pick of graduates of the state high schools.

With this wonderful crop of material to work with Coach William J. Juneau has divided his squad into six teams and they are working daily until the shadows of night prevent further workout. Assisting Coach Juneau are George Buchheit, wife, and "K" Kentucky's championship basketball team this spring, and the Rev. R. W. Owens, who has assisted in training but "K" teams since his advent in 1918. Last year he coached the freshmen "Daddy" Boles, in his position is head of the Physical Department, is leading

14 Year Old Freshman

Declaring that he desired to get an early start in preparing himself for the career of a doctor, Roscoe Conklin Kash, age 14, has enrolled as a Freshman at the University of Kentucky. He is taking a premed course. A search of files in the registers office shows that Kash is the youngest student that ever attended the University.

If Kash had desired, he could have entered the University last year as, at the completion of his junior year at St. Helens, Lee county, he had sixteen credits. His instructors advised him to wait a year so he was graduated last June with a total of twenty one credits. He was the honor man of his class and delivered the valedictory address.

When Young Kash arrived at the university some of the upper classmen suggested that it would be a shame to shear his golden locks because of his extreme youth. But Kash is a Freshman and he is proud of the fact. He wanted his locks removed. They were and but for the pile of books that he carries under his arm one might think that he had stayed from cradle row at the kindergarten.

He said that he had considered law but that he finally decided that medicine was the profession that he desired. If he completes his course in the scheduled time, he probably will be the youngest physician in the United States.

W. S. G. A. HELD FIRST MEETING THURSDAY

Miss Crane and Dean Jewell Welcomed New Girls.

The first meeting of the Woman's Self Government Association was held Thursday night in Recreation Hall of Patterson Hall for the purpose of welcoming the new girls into the university.

Fannie Heller, the President, was in charge of the meeting. Miss Adelaide Crane, House Director of Patterson Hall, made a lengthy, informative talk concerning the rules and regulations of the dormitories and boarding-houses. Following Miss Crane's talk, Miss Frances Jewell, our new Dean of Women, was introduced and responded with an address of welcome to the new girls. Then the President introduced the W. S. G. A. Council members, one by one to the girls. The Constitution of the W. S. G. A. was then read in full by the President and explained to the new girls.

SOCIAL FRATERNITIES PLEDGE NEW MEN

Large Number of Freshmen Have Been Pledged

The first week of school has come and gone. Freshmen have been shorn of their hair and forty per cent of the new students have been pledged by the various Greek Letter fraternities.

Politics has been at its height and each organization has endeavored to show the new prospects the advantage of this national or sectional union of brothers.

The fraternities and their pledges follow: Alpha Sigma Phi; J. Bedford, Lexington; Oscar H. Bishop, Louisville; Wayne Foust, Owensboro; H. D. Hammack, Sturgis; Pope Kelly, Hawesville; K. King, Louisville; Givens Martin, Providence; W. R. Fleaman, Martins Ferry, O.; A. McCay, Marietta, O.

Alpha Tau Omega: T. Clare, O'Bannon; J. Roberts, Lexington; V. Bell, Lexington; W. Shropshire, Lexington; Ford Ogden, Ashland; H. Krog, Ashland.

LARGEST ENROLLMENT IN HISTORY MARKS OPENING OF U. OF KY.

University Taxed to Care For Large Student Body

New Dormitory by Dec. 1

The fifty-sixth annual session of the University of Kentucky opened Wednesday morning with a total enrollment of 1,364 students which is an increase of 252 in the number registered on the opening day of the semester of 1920. The number of registrants in the College of Arts and Sciences exceeded those in the other colleges by a small majority and most classes are filled beyond their capacity.

The chief problem which the officials of the University have been facing is the difficulty in providing rooms for the unusually large influx of students. The three dormitories for girls, Patterson, Maxwell and Smith Halls are fully occupied; the three sorority houses are housing approximately seventy five girls and many other young women have been obliged to secure rooms among the various boarding houses in Lexington, under the approval of University authorities.

The new dormitory, which is being built for men, will not be completed before December 1, but upon its completion will provide residence for 150 men in the University.

The classes in all of the colleges are much larger than in previous years and there is great difficulty in supplying seats for the overflowing classes. According to Colonel Freeman of the Military Department, there has been approximately 500 Freshmen and Sophomores scheduled to take drill in the R. O. T. C.

BUCHHEIT ISSUES CALL FOR TRACK MEN

Cross Country Run Planned as Autumn Frook Event

Coach George Buchheit of the track team issued notice Monday for all men wanting to try out for the track team to report to him at once. Students taking physical education will be excused to practice track. Coach Buchheit is coordinating with "Daddy" Boles to hold a cross country Thanksgiving. Letters of invitation to enter have been sent to all the colleges in the state, but as yet answers have not been received from all. Track men practicing now will enter the run. All candidates for the track team are urged to report at once.

It is rumored that the Senior Court is about to be organized. The above is an illustration of a familiar bit of landscape on the campus.

ALUMNI NOTES

Officers of the Alumni Association elected to direct affairs of that organization during the year 1921-22 are Rodman Wiley, '06, Louisville, president; Louis E. Hillenmeyer '07, Lexington, Vice-President, and Herbert Graham, '16, Lexington secretary-treasurer.

Members of the Executive Committee are Howard M. West '05, Lexington, chairman; E. B. Webb '10, Lexington; Miss Lullie Logan '13, Lexington; S. Headley Shouse '19, Lexington; Wayland Rhoads '15 Lexington, George H. Wilson '04, Lexington and presidents of all alumni clubs.

Approximately 200 ballots in the nomination of alumni for the Board of Trustees have been received by the Secretary of the Board. They will be tabulated at the board meeting October 4. Ballots for the final election will be sent out within a few days after that meeting.

The Executive Committee will address an appeal to the graduates to cast their votes in the final election of a successor to P. P. Johnston Jr. whose term expires January 1, 1922. An effort will be made to have no less than 150 votes cast in this election. Only graduates are eligible to vote.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions on the death of George Frederic Blessing, '97, adopted by the Philadelphia Alumni Club have been received by the Alumni Secretary.

WHEREAS it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to summon from our midst our beloved fellow member, GEORGE FREDERIC BLESSING be it

RESOLVED that this chapter has lost a true, faithful and valued member whose presence will be missed but whose influence will remain an inspiration.

RESOLVED that we the members of the Philadelphia Club of the Alumni Association, University of Kentucky, extend our sympathy to the bereaved widow and relatives in their deep sorrow.

RESOLVED that a copy of this Resolution be spread on the minutes of this Club, a copy sent to his widow, to the President of the Swarthmore College and to the Alumni Association, University of Kentucky.

H. BERKLEY HEDGES
President.

C. L. TEMPLIN,
Secretary.

President Emeritus Patterson: "I have been asked to send a word of greeting to you upon this first annual Kentucky Day.

"Many of you are personally known to me. Your faces and incidents connected with your stay here on this campus come unbidden to me in these closing years. It is of you that I think and for you that I hope.

"There are other memories—memories of days when the institution which you enjoy was hard pressed on every side, recollections of critical periods in its history. But when I consider the splendid type of Kentucky youth that was our plastic material, when I recall the brilliant successes that have been yours in almost every instance, I am glad and thankful that my lot was cast in Kentucky and among Kentuckians. Yours is a priceless heritage—the blood and ideals of Kentuckians trained in an institution whose alumni are second to none. Money we lacked, equipment we lacked in those early days but a splendid type of manhood and womanhood compensated for these material things and you went forth to take your place in the front rank and you not only took it but you have maintained it.

"I congratulate you and pray for your continued success and happiness. Ere another Kentucky Day will have come and gone, many of us will have passed to the majority. Keep the faith, fight a good fight, be true to Kentucky."

"JAMES KENNEDY PATTERSON"
President University of Kentucky.

President McVey:

"I take great pleasure in sending to the alumni of the University of Kentucky greetings and good wishes as they meet for a day together in the different parts of the world. Friendships will be renewed and memories of student days revived but that alone would not make a real alumni day for the University itself must be thought of with all its needs and hopes.

"The Commonwealth of Kentucky from present indications has come into a new interest in the University. Promises of help from all over the state have been freely made by clubs, associations and individuals. The alumni must come into this movement with all their enthusiasm for the University coupled with a real knowledge of its needs.

"In general the University needs two things (1) a larger annual income to pay adequate salaries and meet the expenses of a greater institution (2) a new plant with modern facilities and financial provision in the near future to build the larger university. To do this requires a real enthusiasm on the part of the alumni. The State is ready and anxious to respond to the call but the alumni have the solemn obligation to help and to work to their fullest capacity. It is to this work that I call you on alumni day when we think of our University. I am sure the response will be enthusiastic and earnest, upheld by the loyalty and love to the Commonwealth of Kentucky."

"FRANK LEROND McVEY"
President of the University of Kentucky, 1917.

Several new alumni clubs have been established making a total of twenty-two. Others whose temporary organization was effected on Kentucky Day will become active clubs at an early date. A drive for 2,000 members of the Alumni Association is well under way.

Alumni in some counties of Kentucky and in other states were obliged to postpone their Kentucky Day celebration but will meet in October. The movement was linked up in Kentucky with "Better School Week," Kentucky Day, or University Day, being the close of the drive in the interest of education.

DETROIT

Alumni in Detroit are wholly in favor of Kentucky Day and unanimous in their support of the Alumni Association, if the celebration September 10 in a Detroit hotel can be taken as an indication of their feelings. Eight men, graduates from the classes '03 to '20, decided it was good for them to be there, and all but two sent in their dues for 1921-22. Those two had already mailed their two dollars each.

T. E. Warnock, '03, proved to be the most venerable member of the party, and also the only benedict present. Warnock is truck engineer with the Paige Motor Company in Detroit, and told us he has four children. Henry Wagner, is with General Electric, and C. M. Margreaves, with American Blower Co. both in the sales department. E. H. Clark, '16, another engineer, is in the Detroit sales room of the American Blower Company. H. F. Voglotta, '12, is with the same company, but "Vogel" failed to attend the reunion. C. L. Bosley, '13, a civil, is an engineer on the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, and has access at all time for free transportation to Kentucky, a fact that made him an object of envy with the rest of us. Charles E. Planck and Ruby K. Diamond, both of '19 completed the party. Diamond is engaged as an engineer with the Detroit Water Board and Planck is reporting for the Free Press here. H. B. Shoemaker, '15, is an engineer with the Central Products company.

Until a larger representation of Kentucky students in Detroit can be gathered, no club will be formed, but the seven who met decided on the time for the next meeting. We will meet again November 5, at which time we will compose a telegram of congratulations for the Wildcats for their victory over Centre. The report of Evans, the field representative caused much pleasure among the graduates, and every plan of the association, of which we had heard met with approval. The story won't be complete without a mention of the meal. We ate at a hotel called "Dixieland" and were assured before we made reservations that Kentucky cooks are employed there. They are. We had chicken and real biscuits. Two plates of 'em. Everything on the campus from Melcher to the mule was discussed, and serious consideration of the University's problems and future, also had its share of the evening.

C. E. PUANCK.

NEW YORK CLUB

Kentucky Day was observed by the New York Club with a luncheon on Friday September 9. Seventeen alumni, as follows were present:

J. H. Bailey '20, E. L. Baulch '21, H. K. Brent, H. P. Ingels '05, Carlyle Jefferson '15, L. L. Lewis '07, J. T. Lowe '12, H. H. Lowry '09, J. I. Lyle '06, C. Nicholoff '18, J. B. Shelby '10, M. S. Smith '09, Carroll Taylor '10, R. T. Taylor '15, W. M. Wallace '20, C. White '09, G. Wilson '21.

The spirit of the meeting can best be judged by the following resolutions which were unanimously and enthusiastically passed:

RESOLVED, that the members of the New York Club are heartily in accord with and endorse the plan of having a Kentucky Day each year on September 10th, at which time loyal alumni can get together for luncheon and pledge a new their support to the University; it was further

RESOLVED, that the members of the New York Club will do all in their power to aid in getting the proposed appropriation of $8,000,000; it was further

RESOLVED, that the members of the New York Club endorse the plan of the Alumni Association to secure increased membership, thereby strengthening the influence for the good of the University; it was further

RESOLVED, that the members of the New York Club fully appreciate the sacrifice that Dr. McVey is making in remaining at the University of Kentucky instead of accepting the very fine opportunity offered by the University of Missouri, and extend to him their thanks and best wishes for a continued successful administration.

J. T. LOWE,
Secretary.

OKLAHOMA

I mailed out commands to all important towns in this state and demanded that meetings be held on September 10 to organize local branches of the Alumni Association. They were told to "Meet in your office, public place or private room but MEET. Then after you get together, you will break bread, drink water or lick salt in convenient, swearing that no rest will be allowed around the Capitol at Frankfort until $8,000,000 is paraded loose from the strong box and out into a modern plant on the old campus on South Limestone."

Thinking that we had as well go in for a grown sheep as a lamb I told the Oklahoma alumni we wanted to put Kentucky on the same plane as Yale and Harvard.

The replies received are rather encouraging. The boys think the trick can be turned. Some of our fellows were away from the state on the tenth but they asked my permission to organize later and of course I was entirely too generous to deny that privilege. They will look after the matter soon. By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, even so by faith the great walls as contemplated in our building campaign shall be builded up. There is faith in the tribe of Judah and it shall prevail. I sent press notices to Hon. R. H. Wilson, Superintendent of Public Instruction, of Oklahoma who is a Kentuckian, a scholar, a gentleman, and a personal friend of mine. He was asked to take the matter up with the Daily Oklahoman. I even threatened to bring him out for Governor and promised to support him in case he got into the race and in the words of old Pat Henry "If this be bribery make the most of it."

Trusting that the next General Assembly will be able to decipher the handwriting on the wall and that they will "come across" in a manner which will perpetuate the grand old traditions of our beloved state, and that her good money may be expended for education rather than for prison walls. I am

PHILADELPHIA CLUB

Philadelphia alumni, numbering twenty-eight, met at the home of H. Berkley Hedges, president of the club, in Wilmington, Del. In addition to members of the club there were many other Kentuckians who had not attended the University but were much interested in the institution and the Alumni Association.

Buffet luncheon was served on the lawn in the late afternoon and was followed by a business meeting of the club. Reports were received from the Publicity Committee and the Big Brother Committee, also from the treasurer and from the President.

Thornton Lewis, who has been appointed chairman for Pennsylvania of the regional organization of alumni, gave an interesting description of the plans and work which is being undertaken by the Alumni Association in furthering the interests of the University.

Among those present was David Thornton, a student at the University and wearer of the football and track K. He described briefly the last year in athletics and prospects for this year's football and basketball teams.

Letters of greeting to the Philadelphia Club from President Emeritus Patterson and President McVey were read and greatly appreciated.

An invitation was extended to the

WILDCATS STAGE CURTAIN RAISER HERE SATURDAY

Juneau's Fighting Forces, Stripped for Action, to Beat the Wesleyanites

The Wildcats will begin their 1921 rampage at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon when Kentucky Wesleyan attempts to assume superiority over Coach Juneau's as yet caged hargres. The Methodists also open their season with this game.

Little is known about the Winchester aggregation except that they have some hefty pigskin warriors. Coach Silbey has been putting the Methodists thru hard workouts and they may surprise the Wildcats. Meanwhile, the Blue and White is getting into that stage of practice that means an eleven which will work together with precision. Coach Juneau and his assistants are driving the various squads thru signal work that in the end should mean a machine-like team.

With scrimmage work daily the men are becoming hardened to the joists and jars of football and it is predicted that on Saturday a well conditioned team will take the field in the first game of what presages to be a successful season for the Wildcats. Last Saturday after he first and second squads lined up and battled for half an hour the Regulars registered two touchdowns. However, many of the second string men stood out prominently as possessing marked football ability. Hickerson and Fleahman in the line were towers of strength on defense and a terrors on offense. Brewer and Neale made the yardage for the Yannigans in wide end runs and terrific line drives. The first eleven was better rounded out and made a satisfactory showing.

Headed by diminutive Eobby Lavin at quarter, Wilhelm, Fuller and Whaley made gains at frequent intervals. Pribble started at full for the Regulars, but retired early in the fray as a result of slight injuries.

Coach Juneau made his first cut of the squad Monday when her reduced it by almost half. This cut was made only after he had appraised carefully the promise of everyone who reported. Hereafter, more concentrated practice may be expected each afternoon.

With Wesleyan here Saturday, Marshall is next in line the following week end. October 15, Vanderbilt (Kentucky's hoodoo?) comes to Stoll Field. These first games are considered as important as those later in the season and every effort is being made by coach Juneau to put a well conditioned eleven on the field.

Kentucky's entire schedule is one that appeals to its supporters as all are played in the State and most of them on home grounds. The schedule follows.

October 1, Wesleyan at Lexington.
October 8, Marshall at Lexington.
October 15, Vanderbilt at Lexington.
October 22, Georgetown at Lexington.
November 5, Centre at Danville.
October 29, Sewanee at Louisville.
November 12, Virginia Military Institute at Louisville.
November 24, Tennessee at Lexington (Home Coming game.)

His Troubles Beginning

Among the shining faces of the students returning to the University there shone one just a little brighter. Gleaming eyes—gleaming in that they knew their owner was creating a surprise among Kentucky's loyal supporters. A broad smile—broad because it meant the owner's unbound happiness in knowing that he was received with open arms.

Those broad eyes—that broad smile belong to no other personage than Jim Server, captain of Kentucky's blueclad warriors of the gridiron. Jim, big as he is, became enchanted by Dan Cupid's charms and he fell hard. He was thought to be gone forever, but his Alma Mater called and he responded.

Matriculation day found Jim in line. His troubles had just begun. Did he arrange a schedule to justify himself? He did. Jim likes to talk, so not being satisfied with the English language he investigated advantages, shortcomings and limitations of the various foreign tongues and found one entirely to his liking. Espanol—the ancient and honorable speech of the Spaniards. "Ye gods and little fishes!" What is this? Jim's instructor is Mrs. James Server!

FORMAL OPENING HELD ON UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

Natural Amphitheater formed Before Railroad Monument Near Mechanical Hall.

Formal opening of the University was held on the campus at the railroad monument before Mechanical Hall, Wednesday September 21. The president, trustees, deans faculty, and student body in entirety took part in the opening exercises planned by a committee of the University Council in cooperation with the Student Council.

Twenty minute classes were held for the first two class periods Wednesday after which students of the University took places according to classes. The president, trustees, deans, faculty and student council met in front of Kastle Hall, seniors in front of the Physics building, juniors in rear of Mining building, sophomores on south side of Library and Freshmen on south side of the Army.

"Big Jim" Server, husky captain of the Wildcat football squad and veteran gridiron warrior, who will lead the blue clad crew through a victorious season.

A procession led by the University band and headed by president McVey, trustees and deans moved from Kastle Hall and passed thru a double line formed by other members of the faculty and all the students. The two lines were formed facing each other and as the procession passed thru, those on the flank from which the procession moved formed a column of two and followed the preceding column.

The procession followed the road past the Civil and Physics buildings, Library and front of Administration building and Old Chemistry building to Mechanical Hall.

The long procession with its unusually large number of newly welcomed students bringing up the rear, marched onto the natural amphitheater before the flag bedecked platform at the Railroad monument before Mechanical Hall.

A selection was played by the University Band after which the Rev. Ralph Owens, introduced by President McVey, gave the invocation. "America" was then sung by the entire University body and visitors. J. W. Greshaw as president and representative of the Student Council welcomed the faculty, students and members of the University back to the campus. An address of welcome was also given by the Rev. Walter L. Brock, of the Alumni Association. W. G. Dunlap, City Commissioner was to speak but at this point of the program the threatening rain broke forth scattering the crowd and preventing continuance of the program. Dr. Frank L. McVey, President of the University addressed and welcomed the students in the Chapel the fifth hour Friday.

Dean C. R. Melcher, Professor W. E. Freeman and Dean Frances Jewell were the committee appointed from the council by President McVey to cooperate with the student council in arranging the opening exercises. The student council is composed of the following:

Seniors: J. W. Crenshaw, Eng., Pres. Lurton Prewitt, Agr., Berl Body, Law, D. L. Thornton, Eng.

Juniors: Wm. Finn, Agr., O. L. Jones, A & S, S. H. Ridgway, Eng.

Sophomores: Geo. E. Rouse, Agr. Dan Morse, Eng.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP TO BE GIVEN SOON

Prospective Oxons must Apply by October 29.

Applicants for Rhodes Scholarship for 1922-25 must send in blanks on or before October 29, 1921. All eligible candidates will be considered and the election held December 3, the successful applicants to enter Oxford University in October 1922.

Rhodes scholars are appointed without examination on the basis of their school and college record. The scholarship includes three years tuition and a yearly stipend of 350 Pounds, with no restriction on the student's choice of study.

Candidate may make application either in the state in which he lives or in the one in which he has received at least two years of his college education.

To be eligible the candidate must: (1) be a citizen of the United States and unmarried; (2) be between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five; (3) have completed at least his sophomore year in college.

The qualities to be considered in making the selection are: (1) qualities of manhood, force of character, and leadership; (2) literary and scholastic ability and attainments; (3) Physical vigor, as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

For further information or for application blanks communicate with one of the following: President Frank McVey; A. Barnett, Shelbyville, Ky.; or Frank Aydelotte, Swarthmore, Pa.

POPULARITY CONTEST MAY BE CONDUCTED DIFFERENTLY

It is rumored that the popularity contest will be conducted in a manner different from that employed last year. It is thought by many that honors might be more evenly distributed through the student body if each class is permitted to select their most popular member and then permit the student body to elect two at large.

Y. W. C. A. AND Y. M. C. A. MEETING AT PATT HALL

Pres. Frank L. McVey spoke On "Campus Christianity"

The first joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. was held at Patterson Hall, Sunday evening September 25. It was well attended by both old and new students and seemed to be an auspicious beginning for the meetings of these Christian Associations.

President Frank McVey was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Campus Christianity." In part President McVey said: "If we have a real Christian attitude of mind it would have a great uplifting influence in the University. A man must have character behind his specialized training. Christian religion calls on us to live honorably and to be well spirited to those with whom we come in contact. If every member of these two organizations took to himself the principles of the organizations such would be a wonderful influence at the University of Kentucky. Campus Christianity ought to mean that every student could be honest in all his relationships, classes and everyday life."

The special music was furnished by Robert Clem and Elbert DeCorsey. Elizabeth Jackson was the student leader of the meeting.

WELCOME FRESHMEN

The largest freshman class in history has registered in the University of Kentucky. This splendid class, so widely representative of the state, is composed of the finest young womanhood and the best young manhood within Kentucky. From homes of culture and refinement they have come to avail themselves of the educational opportunity which has been made possible for them by their state. Our brief association with the freshman class has left us with the impression that they young men and women who compose the class of '25 are serious minded young people who appreciate the opportunity that is theirs and are determined to secure for themselves its benefits

Freshmen, you have been welcomed in a rather unceremonious manner. In accordance with an old and accepted custom, one of the traditions of the University, well trained pompadors that were the pride of your high school days have been rudely removed. Your conspicuous dome is now a symbol of honor, indicating that you are a member of the large class of Young Kentuckians who have so recently begun their university training here.

It is now our privilege and very great pleasure, as the student publication to assure the members of the freshman class that they are most heartily welcome into the student body of the University of Kentucky. We hope that you will find a hospitable student body and congenial surroundings. You will find the upper classmen generous hearted and cordial, glad to help you with the problems which often confront freshmen. You will find the faculty eagerly helpful and sympathetic, always welcoming the opportunity to do you a kindness. Feel assured that the welcome we accord you on behalf of the faculty and student body is a genuine expression of that cordiality which is characteristic of Kentucky and that it is as hearty as it is sincere.

SPIRIT

If there is one thing above all others which works for the betterment of any college it is school spirit, the word "Kentucky" should be another term for "spirit," not necessarily the kind of spirit which is guaranteed to have a kick and leave no headache but the spirit which makes an entire student body turn out to each rally; makes them go to each game en masse, whether the team is collecting the marbles or is merely trying its best to place in a two horse race; and makes every student, whether he be a bemedded senior or onion domed freshman, stand by for the good of the Alma Mater ready to fight for her to the last ditch.

This is the first issue of the Kernel for this year 1921-22 and as is generally the rule at the beginning of the year it is the outgrowth of confusion. The members of the staff have been so busy getting started on the right track in their studies that they have not had time to give much assistance but the next issue will be under the control of a well organized staff and better results are expected.

Society

The social season of the University for the new girls was ushered in beautifully on Thursday afternoon when the Epsilon Chapter, of Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority entertained with a tea at the handsome new home of Miss Pearl Bastin, on East Main Street. The color scheme was carried out in the colors of the sorority which are red, buff and green.

The Alpha Gamma Delta entertained the same evening at their chapter house, on South Limestone with an informal dance following a course dinner which was served to about thirty girls.

The Xi Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority of the University entertained the new girls with a continuous party on Saturday. At noon a luncheon was given in one of the private dining rooms of the Phoenix Hotel, followed by a box party at the Ben All Theatre. 5 p. m. a buffet supper was served at their chapter house on Lindhurst Place, and this was followed by a dance attended by over one hundred of the men students of the University.

The Kappa Delta Sorority entertained with a luncheon at the Phoenix Hotel Tuesday and in the afternoon a Tea Dance was given in the recreation room at Patterson Hall. About 200 of the new students enjoyed the brilliant affair.

The Chi Omega Sorority of the University entertained a number of the new students Monday. At noon a luncheon was given at the Phoenix Hotel followed by a swimming party at the Country Club. In the evening a progressive dinner was enjoyed by twenty new girls and the active chapter. Mary Marshall McMeeken's beautiful home on Main street was the scene of an enjoyable dance following the dinner.

The new students of the University were entertained delightfully with a luncheon at the Lafayette Hotel by the members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. The tables were decorated in the Fraternity colors, and there were dainty place cards and favors. After the luncheon a box party was given at the Ben All Theatre. In the evening an informal dance was enjoyed at their chapter house on Harrison avenue. About one hundred of the new students enjoyed their hospitality.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Prof. Paul Anderson, dean of the College of Engineering at the University is now on a years leave of absence at Pittsburg, Pa., where he is head of the Bureau of Research of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers. He is expected to return to Lexington for a visit in October.

Dean Anderson will be accompanied by Mr. Henry Wendt who has supplied the funds with which to build a black smith shop adjoining Mechanical Hall which is now in use by the students.

Prof. Carl Lampert, head of the Department of Music at the University is planning a series of concerts to be given by the orchestra in chapel for an afternoon of entertainment on Sunday. The orchestra is composed of twenty five members this year, many of the old members back and bright prospects in the new students is expected.

Rehearsals for the comic opera which will be given under the direction of Professor Lampert and by the members of the Glee Club at the Lexington Opera House the night of Thanksgiving will begin next week. Much competition is expected for places in the opera.

Seventeen graduates of the class of '21 were successful in passing the Bar Examination held in Frankfort, July 26-27. Those admitted to the Bar were, W. C. Benton, C. B. Bruner, Thos. Burchett, S. H. Cole, Miss Mariana Devereat, M. K. Eble, R. W. Hagan, E. B. Hatter, R. H. Hayes, J. M. Hewitt, W. A. Minnehan, B. J. Pritchett, G. T. Ross, G. W. Smith, R. H. Thomason, Jr., and D. H. Turner.

The Law Department of the University has received from the American Law Book Company a set of books valued at $285.00. The set consists of all the published volumes of Corpus Juris.

MAIL BOXES FOR USE OF STUDENTS

In order to facilitate the handling of mail from the administration officials and faculty to the students, the University last semester installed mail boxes in the various colleges. These boxes are divided into compartments which are arranged for the different letters of the alphabet.

The locations of the boxes are as follows: Arts and Science College, Administration building; Engineering College, Mechanical Hall; Agriculture College, agricultural building; Law College, Science building.

NORTH CAROLINA

University of Kentucky alumni residing in Raleigh, North Carolina, fitly and enthusiastically celebrated Kentucky Day, September 10, at the Raleigh Hotel Cafeteria. Following an "of course" dinner, which no one paused to criticize and all enjoyed, John M. Foster, State Chairman of Kentucky alumni in North Carolina, explained the occasion of Kentucky Day and the program for expansion of the University, with which all were heartily in accord. Plans for the further organization of our alumni in this State and a more active participation in the affairs of the Alumni Association were discussed.

The gratifying information developed, during the celebration, that the attendance was one hundred per cent of the alumni living in Raleigh and that two-thirds were paid up members of the Association. The one third assured the two-thirds that he would delay payment of dues no longer. A spirited election was held, resulting in the election of Roy H. Thomas '13 as President of the Kentucky Alumni Club of Raleigh and Lecoq H. Nelson '16 as Corresponding Secretary.

Those present were: Mrs. John M. Foster, Mrs. Roy H. Thomas and Miss Idelle Burnside; John M. Foster '11, Roy H. Thomas '13 and Lecoq H. Nelson '16.

Morris L. McCracken '16 resigned the position of County Agent in Ohio County during the summer to accept a position with the General Immigration and Industrial Bureau—Agricultural Division of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Louisville, Ky.

make creditable officers in the Reserve.

In other words, the purpose is to make the personnel of the Advanced Course a selected body who are actuated by patriotic motives both to country and college. All students in the Advance Course will be commissioned in the Cadet Battalion.

An eligible candidate for the Advanced Course enters into an agreement with the Government as follows:

(a) To pursue the course to completion while in college.

(b) To devote five hours per week throughout the course.

(c) To attend one summer camp of about six weeks, normally between the Junior and Senior years.

In consideration of the above contract, the Government agrees to pay the student commutation of subsistence which at the present rate carries about $12.00 per month, and in addition, $1.00 per day while in attendance at camp. It is seen that the total monetary allowance is very liberal and for the two years amounts to more than $275.00. In addition, of course, the uniform furnished by the Government, saves the student a considerable outlay for clothing. It has been noted that in some cases, students have failed to enroll in the Advanced Course, especially the self-supporting students, feeling that in order to put themselves through college, they could not afford to devote six weeks to the required camp training. When the above figures are analyzed, it would seem that few, if any students, could by working during the camp period, earn an amount equal to the Government allowance.

In addition to the advantages enumerated above, the University allows a total of 8 credits towards graduation for Advanced Course work.

There are among the cadets a great number who are eligible for the work in the Advanced Course and it would be to their advantage to enter upon the course.

The first scrimmage of the year was held Friday, but it was comparatively light, puntwork only being indulged in. Coach Juneau formed first and second squads who opposed each other and practiced offensive kicking. The first squad lined up as follows: Colpitts, right end; Ramsey, right tackle; Baugh, right guard; Pest, center; Elnow, left guard; Server, left tackle; Rice, left end; Lavin, Fuller Wilhelm and Pribble, backs. The contending squad was composed as follows: Boyd, center; Russell and Hickerson, guards; Fleahman and Cammack, tackles; Hollowell and King, ends. The backs were Thornton, Brewer, Neale and Cammack. Other men who are showing up well in the daily grinds are Ferguson, Sanders, Ridgeway, Whaley, Whittaker and Brown. The others are working hard and the daily scrimmaging work will bring out the best of this material. Blackboard practice of new plays was instituted Friday evening and will be continued at intervals.

Many new improvements have been made in order to take care of such a large squad. A new locker room for the varsity men has been constructed in the Gymnasium building. The grandstands have been reinforced and the one on the north of Stoll Field has had an addition built to it under the direction of Mr. Whipple. A large scoreboard is now in the making and will be on hand for the first game.

Daddy Boles has secured the services of two negro massages who are working on tired muscles each evening after practice.

Managing the squad is C. V. Watson, a senior in the College of Arts and Science, and he has as assistants, John Albright and Allan Cammack, juniors. The schedule as arranged is one that is especially appealing to the University's supporters. Five of the eight games are to be played on Stoll Field which has been put in good condition. The other three contests are fairly accessible, two being played at Louisville and the third with our ancient rival, Centre, at Danville.

WORK BEGINS ON 1922 KENTUCKIAN BY STAFF

Year Book of the University To Surpass former Annuals

Under the supervision of Frances Marsh, editor-in-chief, the Kentuckian of 1922 has prospects of being the best in the history of the University. Miss Marsa, with the assistance of Cova V. Watson, business manager, and the other members of the staff, which is now being organized is making every effort to make this a banner year in annual history.

Ed Gregg, art editor of the '21 and the '22 Kentuckians, has not yet returned to school. His position and experience will be hard to replace and it is hoped that he will decide to come back. It is planned to have the most artistic annual ever published. All the illustrative work will be under the direction of the Art Department.

The annual is to be especially typical of Kentucky. The rich, historical background of the University and State will furnish the setting and spirit of the entire book. A Kentuckian that is really Kentuckian is the ambition of the editor. Special attention is to be given to the unusually large football season to which everyone is looking forward.

The Photographic work for the annual will be in the hands of Caulfield and Shook again this year and they will begin taking pictures in October. Students are urged to start right away taking snapshots and collecting other material for publication.

With these very capable staff members and the earnest cooperation of the student body the Kentuckian should rival its own former successes.

FINN MAKES CLEAN SWEEP IN STOCK JUDGING AT STATE FAIR

Agricultural College Men Make Splendid Showing At Louisville

TEAM GO T OCHIGAGO

William Finn, a junior in the College of Agriculture, won the annual Stock Judging Contest at the State Fair at Louisville several weeks ago. Mr. Finn's work was remarkable in every respect. He established a new record by winning first honors in each of the three branches of the contest. The contest was held on three consecutive days.

Other students who won honors were:

Sheeps and Hogs—William Finn, first; W. B. Howard, second; J. W. C. Van Cleve, third.

Beef and Dairy Cattle, William Finn, first; W. S. Anderson, second; F. J. Wiedekemper, third.

Horses, Mules and Jacks, William Finn, first; F. J. Wiedekemper, second; W. B. Howell, third.

Under the direction of Professor L. J. Horlacher, a stock judging team is practicing for the International Stock Judge Meeting to be held in Chicago, November 26. Ten upperclassmen in the College of Agriculture are trying for the team of five. An alternate is also to be selected. The divisions of the contest at Chicago are beef cattle, sheep and hogs, and draft horses.

NOTED ARTISTS TO APPEAR IN CONCERT SERIES

FIRST CONCERT ON OCTOBER 10.

The Fourth Annual Artist Concert Series which has been announced by the Lexington College of Music, to be given at the Woodland Auditorium, offers the most attractive programs yet given in Artist series. The first concert will be given Monday, October 10, by Martinelli, tenor, who is successor to Caruso as leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Co. Evelyn Scotney, coloratura soprano will come for the second concert, October 19 and on October 25 John Philip Sousa and his band will appear in concert but their program will not be considered in the series. The series artists to come later in the season are Ruffo, baritone; Bauer, pianist and Kreisler, violinist. Season tickets may now be reserved by writing or telephoning the Lexington College of Music, 639X, and any order should be accompanied or followed by a check and the tickets should be called for as soon as it is possible for none will be held (unless paid for) after October 6. The price for season tickets are $11.00, $8.50 and $7.70. The last price was made for students and faculty and as long as seats are available in the balcony they may be obtained at that price.

GUY BATES POST COMING IN "THE MASQUERADER"

The University folk are fortunate in that they are again to have the opportunity to see the incomparable Guy Bates Post in "The Masquerader". The great actor comes to Lexington for a two night engagement October 11 and 12 and a matinee performance Wednesday. Those who saw Mr. Post when he appeared here last year acclaimed him as one of the out standing actors of the American stage.

"The Masquerader" is a delightful play with an unusual plot, furnishing vehicle for the eminent artist to display his versatile artistic accomplishments. It is reported that the cast associated with Mr. Post in the presentation of the popular play is one of such ability as to assure an exceptional treat for Lexington theater-goers.

Recalling the abnormal demand for seats when Post last played here the early reservation of seats is the only way to be sure of seeing him in his favorite play.

Y. M. C. A. COMPLETES PLANS FOR 1921-1922

"College Night" held Wednesday at Patterson Hall

Bart N. Peak the genial Y. M. C. A., secretary of the University of Kentucky, states that the program this year will not only be larger in every respect than it was last year, but will have several new phases added to it. During the summer letters were sent to prospective students, offering to help them secure work, room and board in case they came to school this fall. In connection with the Su-Ky circle, the new students were met at the trains and assisted in finding their rooms and getting started in school.

College Night, the yearly social of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., was held last Wednesday evening on the lawn of Patterson Hall. Dr. B. J. Bush, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church delivered a welcome address in behalf of the city and Charles Mahoney, Vice-President of the Su-Ky circle in behalf of the University.

The Bible classes and Sunday evening meetings will be held as usual this year. The weekly Bible classes which were held last year at the various fraternity houses will begin again in the next few weeks. Other features will be added to the program from time to time. Several great speakers will address the Sunday evening meetings this year. The Sunday meetings are held in the "Y" rooms on the second floor of the Alumni building. Miss Margaret Peak, of LaGrange, will be associated with her brother this year and will also be connected with the Y. W. C. A. The "Y" rooms are for the use of any student who cares to use them. There is a pool room, a study room and a lounging room.

The Students Handbook which made its appearance this year was made possible by the efforts of Mr. Peak and some of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet members. This book contains full information concerning the personnel of student organizations, the officers, etc., and also contains such valuable information as athletic schedules, college yells and songs. It is invaluable and to freshmen and new students is one of the many indications of the progressive Kentucky spirit.

A MATTER OF LOOKS.

A homely young English chap, having his view obstructed by the headgear of the girl in front of him, ventu- ed to protest. "See here, miss," he said, leaning over, "I want to look as well as you."

"Oh, do yer?" she replied, in a rich Cockney accent. "Then you'd better run 'ome and change yer face."—Bonton Transcript.

Upper classman: "How many studies are you carrying?"

Fresh: "I'm carrying one and dragging four."—Milton College Review.

Green: "You ought to see that sailor swimmy."

Blu: "Sort of a salt shaker, eh?"

The man whose courage and foresight gave alternating current to America, and founded the Westinghouse industries.

George Westinghouse

Thirty years ago the alternating current system was but an infant, for whose life those who believed in it were fighting daily and nightly battles; today this same system is a giant of almost inconceivable size, so capable of defending itself that no one seeks to attack it. For 95% of the electricity that is generated and transmitted today is alternating current.

The story of the development of alternating current is a story of courage and vision and faith; of misunderstanding and misrepresentation; of engineering failures and triumphs; of commercial ability and organization. It reads like a classic romance. In its chapters are credit and honor for all who have deserved it, but the central figure, the man whose motives and acts furnished the basis of the plot, was George Westinghouse, the founder of the Westinghouse Industries.

When, in 1886, he brought over from Europe the crude Gaulard and Gibbs system, even he, great as was his foresight, did not dream of the coming magnitude of the idea which he was fostering. The development work undertaken by the strong engineers whom he put to work led at first into many serious differences with those who favored direct current. Legislatures were even importuned to prevent the use of the "deadly Westinghouse Current," as many extremists described it.

That the little 50 horsepower generators of those days have grown to sizes two thousand times as large; that stations of a few horsepower have been succeeded by stations with a capacity of hundreds of thousands of horsepower, while at the same time, distribution voltages have grown from 1,000 to 220,000, is due largely to the vision and the courage of George Westinghouse, and to the qualities of the engineers whom he called, characteristically, to help him. By no means the least of the achievements of this man was his ability to organize the greatest aggregation of engineering intelligence ever known, men of analytical ability, consummate mathematicians, great inventors; and to promote in this great group the most harmonious and intelligent co-operation.

The same energy and courage and purpose that forced the acceptance of the air brake, the modern systems for the economic and safe distribution of natural gas, and later of the steam turbine, led and won the fight for alternating current, which has grown to be one of the world's greatest and most necessary commodities.

Westinghouse
