MARSHALL AND VARSITY MEET IN OPENING GRID CONTEST HERE SATURDAY

Winn Has Kentucky in Excellent Shape For Initial Scrap

CATS FACE HARD MENU

Ten Letter and Twenty Numerical Men Form Nucleus of Squad

One of the greatest, if not the greatest, Wildcat machines that ever responded to an opening whistle, is scheduled to trot out on Stoll Field Saturday afternoon with Marshall College as its opponent. Three weeks of intensive practice has rounded the Blue and White gridgers into a very formidable outfit and Cat admirers are loud in their claims for Kentucky's supremacy in the south.

Coach Winn and his charges, on the other hand, are keeping the Marshall contest uppermost in their minds and will be content to play each contest as it comes on the schedule. The former Princeton star has taken up his work where he left off last season and indications point to an even better line than the one which turned back the famed "Crimson Tide." The backfield should prove equally as dangerous as the forward wall, and the team that defeats the Kentuckians of 1923 will have indeed proven itself an army of merit.

More than fifty husky candidates greeted "Jack" three weeks ago at the initial call of the season and their number has increased daily. Nine letter men from last year and more than twenty freshmen numerical men formed the nucleus from which Winn could build up his machine. Captain Dell Ramsey, stocky tackle, "Chuck" Rice, veteran end, "Doc" Martin, guard, Russell and Cammack, tackles, Brewer, half, Gregg, quarter, and Sanders and W. H. Rice, fullbacks, are the varsity material that remained from the '22 team.

Led by their former captain Al Kirwan—Evans, Hughes, Dabney, Derrick, Tracy, Stevenson, McFarland, Montgomery, Warren, Griffin,

OPERA MARTHA WILL BE GIVEN BY STUDENTS

Musical Department Selects Popular Play for Annual Production

Under the supervision of Prof. Carl Lampert, the music department has decided upon the melodious opera, "Martha," by Flotow, for its annual production. It has always been a popular one with its spirited Fir Scene, its charming duets and the well-known Last Rose of Summer. Martha has frequently been produced in the Metropolitan Opera House and all leading opera houses in the world where some of the greatest artists have sung leads. The scene is laid in medieval England with the costumes and customs of the times. The six leads require a soprano, mezzo-soprano, tenor and three basses, and the

- Nov. 29—Tennessee at Lexington (Home-coming).

GREGG

Turner "Slats" Gregg, regular quarter last year, appears to be the best bet to start at the pilot position against Marshall Saturday. Gregg can pass, punt or run with equal ability and works the team to its best advantage.

FIFTY FRESHMEN FIGHT FOR KITTEN POSITIONS

Buchheit and Burnham Set Hot Pace For First Termers

"Work, work, work, and we cannot fail," is the motto. Coaches Buchheit and Burnham are practicing in their work with the freshmen football team. Up to date over fifty aspirants have secured uniforms and from all indications the squad will steadily increase until the first cut is made.

Coach Buchheit is rapidly rounding his charges into form, and now that the soreness has disappeared the kittens are working through daily scrimmages. The best hard scrimmage was held last Saturday and each player showed that he was willing to try all he wanted and a perfect game such as this is essential.

The squad is composed of men of all weights. Although this year's team will be a little lighter than the one of '22, it will make up for lack of tonnage with speed.

A very stiff schedule is being arranged for the Kittens. Games have been arranged with Centre, Tennessee, Vanderbilt freshmen and other teams equally as strong.

UNDERGROUND LIGHTING SYSTEM IS INSTALLED

Buell Armory Floor is Repaired By Concrete Covering

One of the most important improvements made this summer on the campus was the installation of an underground lighting system. This improvement cost the University $9,000 and is calculated to save yearly about $3,000 on the light and power bill as it enables the University to buy untransformed power at a cheaper rate. Within a few days the poles will be removed from the grounds which will tend greatly to improve the appearance of the campus.

The usual amount of repairing was made during the summer. A new concrete floor was laid in the Buell Armory and the main driveway was made wider to lessen the danger of accidents. The Mechanical and Civil Engineering buildings have been repainted. The University Cafeteria has been completely rearranged and is in as good a condition as it can be in its present location.

The contract has been let for the basement of the new basketball building and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT FACES GREATEST YEAR

Two Battalions Will Be Formed in Place of Customary One

The military department of the University of Kentucky is embarking upon the greatest year in its history in the existence of this institution. The desires of the officers were more than fulfilled when it was learned that more than 700 men have enrolled in the basic course, while 42 have men have entered the advanced course. The data of the military department for the past year shows a marked increase in the number of students with the department. Two battalions of 350 men each are to be formed. The department is expected to be one of the largest in the country. The department will be commanded by Major C. A. Pheasant, newly appointed to the war department for duty here. This is the only change reported in the personnel of the department for the coming year.

Varsity Cross Country Squad Starts Practice

Major Pheasant, who was prominent in military affairs here last year, has been ordered elsewhere by the war department and the vacancy thus formed is to be filled by Major C. A. Pheasant, newly appointed to the war department for duty here. This is the only change reported in the personnel of the department for the coming year.

Varsity Cross Country Squad Starts Practice

Coach Porter Prepares Wildcats For Difficult Schedule

Bob Porter, star of many track meets, has been appointed coach of this year's cross country team. The new mentor sounded the bugle for all distance men Monday afternoon and although only a small number turned out for the initial practice, the team is expected to steadily increase during the week.

New Officers Elected at First Radio Club Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Radio Club was held at the club room Tuesday night at 7:30. Five new members were admitted to the club and officers elected as follows: President, J. A. Weingartner; vice-president, J. W. Stark, recording-secretary and treasurer, J. W. Austin; corresponding secretary, J. Kenoy.

The station will be open to visitors from 7 to 10 o'clock every night and on Sunday afternoons.

FOUNDATION OF U. OF K. BASKET BALL BUILDING IS NEARING COMPLETION

Swamp on Winslow Street Gives Way to Modern Plant

TO OPEN IN JANUARY

To Be Most Modern of Its Kind In the Entire South

After three weeks of fighting the elements the Blanchard Construction Company, of Dayton, Ohio, is rapidly completing the concrete foundation for the new University of Kentucky basketball building and gymnasium. The location of the new building, in a swamp of many years standing, made it impossible for construction to be continued after a rain until the whole building area was thoroughly drained. Consequently, the work was delayed considerably and the amount of work accomplished thus far seems to be very little.

The hardest part of the construction has been completed, however, and within two weeks the entire basement of concrete construction will be finished. This section of the building will rise from the swamp to the level of Winslow street and the upper story will be built of brick. The latter part of the meet, the University of Kentucky will advertise for bids for this brick construction work and by January 1, 1924, the building will be a reality.

Plans for the new building, while not elaborate, call for one of the most modern basketball plants in the south. The basement of the structure will include locker rooms and shower baths for football, baseball, and track teams. The second floor will contain a 90x50 foot basketball floor which will be surrounded by seats that will accommodate 3,400 spectators. The basketball locker rooms will also be on the second floor. During the practice periods, these seats may be arranged so that there will be three basketball courts available. The athletic director's office and rest rooms for both ladies and

$1,000 GIVEN TO THE STUDENT LOAN FUND

C. F. Richardson, of Paducah, Befriends University Students

The West Kentucky Coal Company, Paducah, Ky., through its president, C. F. Richardson, has made a donation of $1,000 to the student loan fund of the University of Kentucky. The donation is the second of the size made to the fund as the Southern Railway Company also made a donation of $1,000.

The donation to the student loan fund has been acknowledged by E. T. Proctor, '14, of Paducah, who is the district chairman of the alumni association of the State University. The fund has reached a total of $25,000 in five years and it is expected to be increased this year by several liberal donations.

Alumni Notes

Editor—Alumni Secretary

CALENDAR

Mr. Club Secretary:
This space is yours. Let us have an announcement for a meeting from every club when the Kernel goes to press next week.

The Postmaster General has added his congratulations to the Greater Kentucky Campaign. Committee's reward for conducting a successful drive. The chief of "mail men," whose rating depends on the volume of business handled, has said "carry on." Officials of the Fayette National Bank, depository for the fund, announce that they have made arrangements for taking care of an indefinite expansion of the fund.

Subscriptions from the alumni, students and friends approach the $190,000 mark. One conditional gift of $14,000 was offered to Prof. W. S. Webb, chairman of the "Clean-up Squad," but may have to go to another fund. An intensive canvass will start next week to have a 100 per cent alumni subscription list. Freshmen and other students not reached in the campus drive in April will have an opportunity to contribute in October.

The Basketball Building is under construction, to be the best in the South; plans for the Stadium are being completed; negotiations are under way for the Paterson Memorial Statue and Professor Webb's committee is considering applications for benefit from the Student Loan Fund.

KENTUCKY DAY

Fifty-seventh Anniversary of University is Date For Meeting

October 1 is the red letter day marked on the calendar of all alumni several weeks ago upon the announcement that this would be the third annual observance of Kentucky Day, the anniversary of the founding of the University when alumni in all parts of the country assemble for formal and informal gatherings.

The Greater Kentucky Campaign, the largest enrollment of students in the history of higher education in Kentucky, brighter prospects in athletics and an improved political outlook furnish happy themes for the alumni gatherings. The Alumni executive committee announced that October 1 would probably be the fixed date for observing Kentucky Day.

o-o-o

Sure Thing—Governor

For the first time in history both nominees for Governor of the State are former students of the University. William J. Fields, Democrat, of Olive Hill, and Charles I. Dawson, Republican, of Pineville, are loyal supporters of the Blue and White.

The University already has a Governor-alumnus, Jas. G. Scrugham, of Nevada.

o-o-o

WILL WEAR STARS

Active Boosters Will Be Designated in New Alumni Directory

A star will appear before the name of each alumnus in the new Directory if he is a contributor to the Greater Kentucky Campaign. There will be no differentiation as to the amount contributed.

Alumni in some sections have objected to this plan as a form of "coercion." "There are alumni who can't afford to give $125 and the effect of this plan is to blackmail them," said one. But there is no son or daughter of "Old Kentucky" who cannot afford to give something. A peanut vendor in a small frontier town could contribute $5 in five installments—if he had the desire.

o-o-o

The annual business meeting, June 12, 1923, was one of special interest. The success of the Great Kentucky

Campaign and its effect on the progress of the State was discussed and the resolution passed unanimously approving same. J. Irvine Lyle, chairman of the Stadium Sub-committee reported briefly plans already formulated. Our stadium will be one of the best in the country, built under his careful supervision.

W. C. Wilson spoke briefly on the support of the University on the part of former students and friends and a corresponding liberality on the part of the Legislature. J. W. Carnahan spoke briefly on the political situation as regards the University.

Professor S. A. "Daddy" Boles reviewed the athletic situation; the Southern champion freshmen football team; the unbeaten yearlings in basketball, a baseball team that lost one game in a season and a track team that lost one telegraphic meet. His talk included an optimistic outlook for varsity in each of the major sports in 1923-24. Professor Boles complimented the alumni on the assistance given him and the coaches in interesting promising students in the University of Kentucky. Such a plan of co-operation on the part of the alumni clubs and individuals is far superior in results, he said, to any scheme for offering financial inducements to athletics as practiced in some institutions.

The report of the secretary showed a greater activity than ever before on the part of the alumni and a greater activity on the part of the University in promoting interest in essay writing, debating, oratory and declaiming, music and athletics, through the work of its alumni as teachers and executives in the public schools. The executive committee held twenty-two meetings in the three-year period up to the beginning of the Greater Kentucky campaign and since that time weekly. Its members have given constant attention to their duties of office, otherwise the present results would not have been obtained. They have co-operated in all the activities of the University mentioned above.

The officers for the year 23-24 are: President, Captain C. C. Calhoun, age 89; Vice-President, Mrs. Belle Gunn Gray '88; Secretary-Treasurer, Herbert Kayham '16. Executive Committee: W. C. Wilson '13, chairman; Presley T. Atkins ex-'06, Wayland Rhoads '15, Wm. H. Townsend '12, Rodmen Wiley '06, George H. Wilson '04.

The Alumni Association at the close of the fiscal year 1922-23 has a paid-up membership of 1,120, second to none in the south except Vanderbilt and North Carolina, although others have twice and three times the number of alumni. This was an increase from 293 in 1920, 803 in 1921 and 851 in 1922. In the same period the alumni clubs have grown from two to 34, of which 19 are in Kentucky. These clubs have changed from paper organizations that met annually to active groups that meet monthly and committees that meet oftener when there is work to be done.

Make the paid up membership for 1923-24—2,000.

The Greater Kentucky Campaign
"On July 7 I sent you subscription cards of our Huntington Alumni Club, totalling $675. I am enclosing check for cash pledge for $10 and also call your attention to a pledge for $125 I sent in direct to you. This brings our total to $810 and our quota was $750, so you will see that we have over-subscribed. We still hope to receive more pledges from people throughout this section. Best wishes to the success of the campaign."—Ira M. Nickell '15, chairman.

Quoted from telegrams between Mattison B. Jones, chairman for California, and Captain C. C. Calhoun, chairman of the General Committee. "Your telegram announcing nearly twenty-five thousand lacking University of Kentucky campaign fund received. Have sent third call California alumni each to pledge some amount this great cause. Must not fail. Therefore I personally pledge the last thousand dollars necessary for success. West challenges East, North, South, to meet condition and assure glorious victory," and Captain Calhoun's reply, "I have always believed you were a trump and now I know it." Mattison B. Jones is a member of the class of '94 and a prominent attorney, being a member of the firm of Jones, Wilson & Stephenson, with offices at 522 Citizens National Bank Building, Los Angeles. He was recently tendered a position on the Superior Court bench by Governor Richardson. He declined the honor but it was a great compliment, coming from a Republican to a Democrat.

Quoted from a letter sent out by Professor James A. Yates '90, member of the faculty of the Kansas State Teachers College, Pittsburg, to Kentucky alumni in Kansas. Professor Yates was chairman of the Greater Kentucky campaign in his State: "Since you have been in Kansas you have no doubt, compared Kansas in every conceivable way to our beloved Kentucky. Has it not sometimes seemed to you from this comparison that the sun shines just a little brighter, that the sky is a little bluer, that Kentuckians are much fairer, braver and truer? * * * Kansas, along with the other states, has magnificent colleges and universities, but is there not a charm and thrill to us about the University of Kentucky, our Alma Mater, that no other institution in our country has? * * * Institutions, like individuals, have certain characteristics that distinguish each from the other. Did not each of us acquire some of the fine sentiments of patriotism during our college life that has been a great asset to us since our graduation? * * * That our Alma Mater may hold its place in the front rank of our great state universities, we must raise $200,000 to build a stadium, basketball auditorium, Patterson Memorial and assist the Student Body Fund. * * * Retain the motto of your native state and let us who sojourn in Kansas show by our actions that we are still 100 percent loyal to our Alma Mater."

100 Percent Membership
Two clubs have already commenced drives for 100 percent membership. Why not make it a 100 percent membership in every club? The Kernel and Directory will be sent only to paid-up members and they are of interest to every former student. You can not afford to miss them.

Betwixt Us

The appointment of Walter G. Campbell, now acting chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, as Director of Regulatory Work of the United States Department of Agriculture, a new position created by Congress, has been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. As Director of Regulatory Work for the Department Mr. Campbell will, under the Secretary, have the general supervisory administration of the regulatory acts which it enforces. Among the most important of these is the Food and Drugs Act, the Meat Inspection Act, the Insecticide and Fungicide Act, the Plant Quarantine Act, the Tea Inspection Act, and many others of like nature. * * * Mr. Campbell is a lawyer by profession. He received the A. B. degree from the University of Kentucky in 1902 and the LL.B. degree from the University of Louisville in 1906. He was appointed Chief Food and Drugs Inspector in the Bureau of Chemistry in 1907. * * * developed and put into effect plans that soon placed the inspection work on a high plane of efficiency. * * * Under his leadership this work became so effective that when the entire Food and Drugs Law enforcement work of the Bureau was reorganized in 1914, he was selected as chief of the Eastern Food and Drugs Inspection District. * * * In 1916 he was appointed Assistant Chief of the Bureau of

COUNT RUMFORD
1753-1814

Born Benjamin Thompson in Massachusetts. Charged with being a Tory, went to England, and became Under-Secretary of the Colonies. Later, in Bavaria reorganized the military department and was made Count Rumford. Returned to England and engaged in scientific research. Founded the Rumford professorship at Harvard.

He watched the pot as it boiled

Thousands of people had watched the boiling pot, but Count Rumford wondered why it boiled. He did more than wonder; by scientific research he found out for himself.

And Rumford laid the foundation of the greatest generalization the human mind has yet conceived—the law of the conservation of energy.

Scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are devoting their lives to pure research, carrying on the work of Rumford and other pioneers of modern science. By methodical investigation, the frontier of scientific knowledge is being pushed steadily forward.

The General Electric Company, by continuous scientific research, has developed new and better ways of making electricity of use to mankind.

LOOKING AHEAD

With the largest registration in its history, the University of Kentucky faces what promises to be its most successful year. The present freshman class is the largest ever enrolled here. The percentage of students returning is greater than ever before. Important additions have been made to the faculty and as far as financial resources would allow improvements have been made that will give to the University the place "in the sun" of educational institutions that it has rightfully deserved for so many years. The people of the state are beginning to realize the worth of the University. Soon they must awaken to urgency of its demands for sufficient funds to provide for its expansion.

Despite this pecuniary drawback the University is forging ahead and this year marks a new stride in her rapid advance. Her old students return with greater love for their Alma Mater and the incoming classes come with a greater respect and admiration than was ever shown before.

Athletically the University is facing the greatest year that the blue and white clad Wildcats have ever faced. With a football squad that has been called the best in the south by some of the leading sport writers in the country, and a wealth of freshman material that will swell the ranks of the varsity next year the University will take her place in that field, the place to which she has so long been entitled. The coaching staff is the best yet placed in charge of the Wildcats, and we confidently believe it will bring out the best in the wealth of material that appears on Stoll Field each afternoon for serious practice.

From every viewpoint the perspective for 1923-24 is happy and inspiring.

PROGRESS AND HAIRCUTTING

With the opening of the University for the current session its men students took an important step indicative of progress when the incoming sophomore class decided to suppress one of the most unpopular of the class traditions of the university, that of cutting freshmen's hair.

True it is that this is one of its traditions, but the Kernel fails to see that it is a "sacred tradition," one that should be carried out in defiance of the progressive ideals of the majority of students as well as the entire faculty.

Haircutting is a remnant of the old order of things when freshmen were looked upon as objects of abuse and humiliation during the first and most crucial year of their University lives. All forms of hazing are things of the past and should be discarded with progress just as a worn out piece of machinery, an old suit or a wrecked automobile.

We do not intend to say that the freshmen should not be given rules to follow and regulations to be observed. Far from it. We think that the freshmen should be looked after by the upperclassmen, who should take it upon themselves to see that University customs and ideals are impressed upon them and that they should be required to adhere to these rules. But why should the most numerous class in the institution be forced to bow to the most humiliating act that could be inflicted upon them? Shaved heads have long been associated with the Reformatory, penitentiary, and in this State, the University of Kentucky.

The faculty has asked that it be stopped. The majority of the students wish it stopped and are working to that end. Those few who persist in spite of its detriment to the University should be dealt with by progressive students in such manner as to impress permanently upon them the seriousness of their attitude against this exceedingly outdated custom.

MARSHALL AND VARSITY

Beard, Milward, Alexander, Riffe, Van Pelt, and Wilson, all members of last year's yearling squad, reported for workouts.

Balancing the excellent material Coach Winn has on hand is the schedule that confronts the Cats this year. The Blue and White have a very tough assignment ahead of them and should they survive the season without a defeat, they will have accomplished a very difficult feat. Washington and Lee, Centre, Alabama, Georgia Tech, and Tennessee are all numbered among the best elevens in the southland and must be considered as tough customers. The remaining four scraps are likely to prove equally as hard, so the Cats will have very few breathing spells before the first of December.

A quick glance at the schedule: Marshall, the opener, always a tough nut for Kentucky to crack, falling in defeat last year by a 15-0 score. Cincinnati, defeated by the Cats 16-0 last season but with a much better outlook for 1923. Washington and Lee, a newcomer on the Blue and White schedule and a sure enough hard scrap. Nothing is known about Maryville, therefore no conclusions can be drawn. The Georgetown Tigers have been under the dog for years, but always die hard. They scored the initial touchdown on Kentucky last year, something only Centre, Vanderbilt and Tennessee were able to do. Then comes the "crucial series." Centre, Alabama, Georgia, Tech, and Tennessee follow one another in succession and the team that can emerge victorious in that quartet of games is some team.

The season alone will tell the true strength of the Cats and thousands of Kentuckians are anxiously awaiting the outcome of those last four contests, a real test of stamina and power.

CROSS COUNTRY CALL

Candidates for both varsity and freshman cross country teams are requested to report to Coach Buchheit immediately for equipment and training instructions. Meets have been arranged for both teams with leading universities of the West and South, assuring the athletes of plenty of work.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Here it is, girls—the membership drive for the Y. W. C. A. of old U. of K. We all know what the Y. W. has done and what it is capable of doing; so let's join it full force and lend our efforts in furthering its successes. The membership drive will be launched Monday and every girl who is interested in any way in the Y. W. and its work is heartily urged to become a staunch upholder of this organization during the membership drive.

The initial service of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. of old U. of K. was held Sunday night in the recreation room of Patterson Hall. A large crowd was present and a most successful service was conducted during which Dr. McVey inspired all present with a very interesting and uplifting talk in which he stressed the religious side of college life. Special music was furnished by Janet Lampert and also by Mary Katherine Daniels.

Next Sunday night at the Y. W. C. A. service Mrs. Harmon, of Transylvania, will speak and special music will be furnished. Let's all be at this meeting to hear Mrs. Harmon's message, for it is sure to be interesting.

TO THE KERNEL STAFF!

Staff members of the Kernel are instructed to call for their first assignments every Saturday not later than ten o'clock, and thereafter keep in touch with the assignment hooks in the Kernel office in the Department of Journalism rooms. Copy for assignments must be in the office not later than the succeeding Tuesday noon, when additional assignments will appear on the assignment hooks.

On account of the large number of alumni subscribers reading the Kernel throughout the country it is absolutely necessary that the paper be published promptly on Friday morning. Students who will not turn in their copy promptly will be dropped at once this session from the staff and their places filled by others.

Betty Barbour,
News Editor.

This room will be open to old grads who may come back and find the evidence of the school during their reign. Coaches will be provided with offices on the ground floor.

The excellence of the basketball floor and the plans laid out for the care of spectators will allow the University of Kentucky to invite the best basketball aggregations of the country to participate play at Lexington. Heretofore accommodations have been so bad for spectators that the teams from other states have not been able to come here profitably because the university could not handle large enough crowds to pay expenses. With the new building this trouble will be entirely eliminated and the very best quintets will be seen in Lexington.

NEW ENGLISH TEXT BOOK

One of the texts used by the local freshmen this semester is entitled "A Constructive Handbook for Freshmen," by Grant C. Knight, assistant professor in the Department of English. The aim of the book is to simplify the freshman's view of the fundamentals of our language. To do this, almost all the illustrative material has been culled from papers submitted by students last session.

FRESHMEN WILL RETAIN GLOSSY HAIR, SOPHS DECLARE AT CLASS MEET

First Year Men Must Observe Strict Rules Made By Seniors

SOME HAVE LOST LOCKS

Few Men Are Forced to Suffer Bald Heads; Majority Escape

After years of effort by the faculty and the advanced classes of the University to put an end to what many considered the out-of-date custom on the part of the sophomores of humiliating freshmen by shaving their heads, the sophomores themselves have abolished the disagreeable practice. At a meeting of sophomores held in chapel Saturday morning, the class voted to put an end to all hazing by hair cutting. However, there is no relief for the sixty first year men who have already lost their locks.

While the sophs took matters into their own hands and to them is due the credit of giving the order, it has been hinted that upper classmen had been in serious consultation with them for some time with this end in view. The chief reason, as given by the sophomores for taking this step was not that they considered it so serious a means of hazing or found it much to criticize, but that it was displeasing to the faculty and in direct conflict with a faculty ruling.

The sophomores felt, however, that tradition called for some means of recognition of the time honored inferiority of first year men. Accordingly the following code has been formulated for them:

Code of Ethics

Freshmen cannot have dates for football games.

Freshmen must attend football games in mass formation, wearing the University colors.

Freshmen must at all times show respect to seniors and conduct themselves as gentlemen.

Freshmen must, and other classmates are requested to attend "pep" meetings.

Freshmen will be held responsible for knowing the songs and yells of the University.

No freshman is allowed to sit at the head of a table.

Upper classmen will not, and underclassmen must not mutilate the campus by making paths.

No fast or reckless driving is permitted on the campus.

All customs and traditions of the University must be observed.

Bo Hemia Says

ARTHUR HODGES

The first edition of the Crimson Rambler, the Transylvania paper, contains this sarcastic stab at a prevailing University custom:

Stewed: I beg your pardon, Sam, I didn't aim to sit down on your hat.

Stude: O, that's all right, I am going to State this fall anyway.

The Highlowbrow after a summer on the farm says that the man who says a college education doesn't help a farm boy has never observed the startling effect a college yell has on a slow mule.

THE COGNOSCENTI

When we hobnob with Ph. D's,
And juggle orange pokoe
With profs who own 13 degrees,
There's nothing we don't know.

"Young man," quoth they,
"What do you say to this new play of Shaw's?"

"Oh, Sir," say we, "it's plai nto see
The thing is full of flaws.

"Those gross polemics he repeats,

The play is bare and bleak.
We think that even Synge and Yeats
Surpass its stage technique."

"Young man, it does me good to know
That you are blessed with brains;
I see you love the highbrow show
And not the chorus janes."

While left inspired by worthwhile
plays,

Our roommates round us rally
We roll the bones to see who pays
Our way to the Ben Ali.

—M. Hail.

The above article reminds us of something that we have long believed, namely, that no where else does there exist a group of people with a higher degree of sophistication than on the campus of the University of Kentucky. This applies particularly to the excellent taste continually shown by the students in the books they read and discuss. The opinion is also to some degree substantiated by statements that the students themselves have been known to make.

In order to prove that such a degree of appreciation for the higher arts does exist Bo Hemia proposes to conduct an investigation similar to that employed by other papers by publishing each week a list of ten favorite books of some student on the campus. We intend to show that there are among us men and women, who, though apparently ordinary people nevertheless have communed frequently with the greatest minds of the ages and are constant perusers of those men we know of but not about. The first list will be chosen at random from those received before the next issue of the Kernel.

CAMPUS CHATTER

The State Text Book Commission will meet Friday, September 28, at the Hotel Henry Watterson, Louisville.

STROLLER TRYOUTS FOR THIS YEAR TO BE HELD FROM OCT. 22 TO 24

All Tryouts Requested To Be Not Longer Than One-Act Skits

NEED NOT ONLY ACTORS
Carpenters, Electricians and Business Manager Needed

The Strollers, dramatic organization of the University, held their initial meeting Friday afternoon to make plans for the school year. Plays for their annual production were discussed and the dates for eligibility tryouts were set for October 22, 23 and 24.

Following a custom of several years, try-outs will be in the form of one-act skits. Any group of students who wish to become eligible to Stroller membership may go to James Chapman within the next two weeks and he will furnish them with suitable material.

There are five classifications of Stroller membership: Electricians, carpenters, business managers, artists and members of the cast of a Stroller production. Students possessing talent in any of these departments are urged to try out for membership.

The Stroller dramatic organization has been in existence for fifteen years, and in that time has grown to be one of the most powerful and influential organizations on the campus. For the past few years the plays have been taken to various Kentucky towns where they have been enthusiastically received. A similar tour will be made this year, probably during Easter vacation.

Last year's production, "Lady Windermere's Fan," was pronounced by competent critics as one of the best amateur plays ever given in Lexington. The only decision which has been reached in regard to this year's production is that it will be some high grade comedy.

KENTUCKY SIX TO PLAY AT WICHITA WINTER GARDENS

Programs To Be Broadcasted By Radio Nightly

The "Original Kentucky Six" dance orchestra now playing under the name of the Kentucky Kernels will leave for Wichita, Kansas, where they will play during the winter. The members of the orchestra are former students of the U. of K. The program of the orchestra will be broadcasted each night from 8:30 to 12:00 western time.

The orchestra consists of: Pat Ryan, piano; Dick Hawkins, saxophone; Ed Sidebottom, cornet; William Herring, trombone; Ray Williams, saxophone; Earl Gresh, violin; William Palmer, helicon-bass, and Joe Huffman, drums and chimes.

This orchestra played for the U. of K. Radio Club two years ago and their music was greatly appreciated by a large number of people.

ENGINEERING NOTES

This school year brings promises of the most favorable year the College of Engineering has ever had. The number of old students that returned to school this fall is remarkable, and more freshmen are enrolled than at any previous time. To show that the college is receiving widespread recognition is a large number of students that have transferred from other colleges. Former students of twelve colleges are enrolled. The colleges are Carlell, Carnegie, Purdue, Virginia Poly-Tech, Cincinnati, Butler, Centre, Georgetown, Kentucky Wesleyan, Transylvania and Kentucky State Normal. There are 156 freshmen and 261 upper classmen, making a total of 417 students enrolled in the College of Engineering.

Engineering Levels Mountains

The Pack Train has become a relic of the past, along with the Prairie Schooner. Modern methods of transportation have leveled mountains, brought San Francisco nearer to New York, and widened the markets of all our great industries.

And the engineering brains and energy, that have developed transportation to the prominence it holds in the business of the world today, are no longer employed in improving means of overland travel alone. Street Railways, Elevator Systems, Interurban Lines and Improved Shipping Lines—these are some of the accomplishments of engineering in the development of better transportation.

Neither have the builders of such systems been concerned only in the actual hauling of people and materials. A study of the methods of handling passengers and freight at the large terminals has developed the Terminal Engineer, who has greatly improved existing methods, and has developed entirely new ones, as well.

Engineering, as it is applied to transportation, has had to concern itself with many kinds of materials and many ways of handling them under all manner of circumstances. For instance the problems surrounding the handling of iron ore, in bulk, are vastly different from those encountered in moving any one of the finished products manufactured from iron ore, that must also be transported in large quantities. But Engineering constantly meets each situation with improved transportation facilities.

Industry, as a whole, and the nations and the people of the world owe much to the engineers, associated with such large manufacturing industries as Westinghouse. They have not only brought about vast improvements, but they have done so at a constantly decreasing cost to those who derive the greatest benefit from them.

ACHIEVEMENT & OPPORTUNITY

SCRAPS

Somewhat of a novelty along football lines will be introduced by the University of Cincinnati athletic authorities September 29 when the eleven of that institution plays the Kentucky Wesleyan grid team. The contest will be played at night under the glare of numerous flood lights, bright enough, Cincinnati men assert, to make the field as bright as day.

The opening contest of the year is usually played under heat conditions that keep good football out of the game. Thus the Bearcat authorities are experimenting with the night scrap, which if proven successful, will tend to eliminate some of the troubles that attend opening games.

Lives of football men remind us
'Tis for glory that we slug,
And departing leave behind us
Handprints on another's mug.

"Daddy" Boles announced the other day that he has already scheduled basketball contests with Georgia Tech and University of West Virginia quintets. Negotiations are under way for a number of first class attractions, chief of which is a contest with one of the leading eastern fives to take place at the dedication of the new court.

York Suits

York Suits have that bit of snap and swing that College Men insist upon. They are unusual in character of line, workmanship and beauty of fabric. They are made to withstand hard usage and are modestly priced—

$30—$35

Stein-Bloch Suits, J. & M. Shoes, Stetson and Trimble Hats, Bates-Street Shirts, and other furnishings are also here in all the new styles.
