

SGA Election Scheduled Wednesday

Constitutionalist Candidates

Poll Hours

SGA polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and each student is required to vote in his own college. For the first time there will be a box at the Home Economics Building. Students from different campus organizations will work at the polls. Students must show their ID cards to vote.

Ten Seats Vacant; Party Platforms Given

Student political parties will be competing for 10 SGA vacancies to be filled at the fall SGA election Dec. 14. Four of the vacancies are from the Arts and Sciences College, two from Agriculture and Home Economics, one each from Commerce, Education, Engineering, and Graduate Colleges.

The competing parties are the United Students Party and the Constitutional Party. A new party, the Progressive Party, formed this fall, but the co-chairmen announced this week that for the fall election a coalition has been formed with the United Student Party.

The co-chairmen of the Progressive Party stated that after meeting with the USP, it was decided that as both parties were in close agreement, they would have a combined platform and candidates. Candidates for the Constitutionalists and offices they are seeking are Arts and Sciences: Larry Todd Brown, lowerclass man; Richard Vinson, upperclassman; Joy Bell, lowerclass woman; and Lynn Graham, upperclass woman.

United Student candidates and offices are Arts and Sciences: John Dorsey, lowerclass man; Bob Howerton, upperclass man; Nina Vann, lowerclass woman; and Faye Gibson, upperclass woman.

Agriculture and Home Economics: Bill Luce, lowerclass man; Wilbur Shifflet, upperclass man; Commerce: David Bartram, lowerclass man; Education: Charles Galloway, man-at-large; Engineering: Howard Dohrman, upperclass man; Graduate: Jim Bergman, man-at-large.

Ten places will be filled in this election and then 20 vacancies in the spring election along with the election of the president and vice president of SGA in the spring. The new assembly members will be sworn into office Jan. 9.

The USP components listed in its platform are:

The Kentucky KERNEL

Vol. XLVII University of Kentucky No. 11
Lexington, Ky., Friday, Dec. 9, 1955

Many Topics Discussed By SGA Before Election

YMCA secretary, Olson Huff, presented a resolution intended to curb drinking at public functions, particularly football and basketball games, to the Student Government Association at its meeting Monday night.

The resolution, which read, "We (the YMCA), are hereby against the drinking of alcohol at public functions," was presented to SGA for its endorsement. SGA, however, decided to withhold its vote on endorsement of the resolution until an appointed committee of three, including Don Whitehouse, SGA president, has had a chance to work further with the YMCA on the topic.

The YMCA is also planning to submit the resolution to the administration and the Kernel.

SGA, in the meeting, also outlined the procedure to be followed in the forthcoming campus election Dec. 14. The League of Women Voters will help count the votes, and the president of each party will be notified of the election results. He will in turn notify the candidates.

A committee was also set up by SGA to investigate the possibility of having weekly student "beef sessions," at which time students would have the opportunity to publicly air any gripes they might have.

A proposal to increase the number of members in SGA was overridden, as the members voted to

Messiah To Be Given Thursday

The UK Chorus and Orchestra will present Handel's "Messiah" this Thursday night at 8 p.m. in Memorial Coliseum. Aimo Kiviniemi, of the University Music Department, will conduct.

Particular emphasis is being placed on the religious aspect of the program this year. Kiviniemi says he would like to get away from the concert idea in connection with the "Messiah" and concentrate more on the idea of having it dedicated to the true Christmas spirit. An invocation will be presented by Barbara Roberts, president of the university YWCA. The benediction will be by Donald Clark, president of the university YMCA.

Soloists will be Georgia Hill, Gail Jennings, Elizabeth Kemper, Anita Oldham, Joan Skaggs, Ronald Anderson, Angela Burras, Charles K. Sims, and Roy Woodall. The accompanists will be Edward Bugg, piano, and Carl Bleyle and Pat Edwards, organ.

Gov. Chandler To Be Guest At Reception

Governor-elect A. B. Chandler, Lt. Governor-elect Harry Lee Waterfield, and their families will be guests at a reception this Sunday from 5 to 7 p.m. in the Student Union Building. The faculty and students are invited.

Sponsors are Pi Kappa Alpha, of which Chandler is a member; Kappa Alpha, to which Chandler's sons, Ben and Dan belong, and Chi Omega, of which Mrs. Bob Hardy, wife of the football star and daughter of Waterfield, is a member.

The plans for the reception were made by Gene Spragens, president of Pi Kappa Alpha; Peggy Adams, president of Chi Omega; and Jack Clore, president of Kappa Alpha.

Dr. John S. Dickey

Blazer Talk Scheduled For Tonight

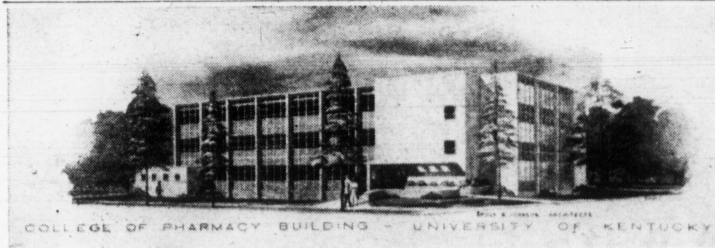

Dr. John S. Dickey, president of Dartmouth College, will give the second lecture of the Blazer Lecture Series at 8 p.m. tonight in Lafferty Hall. "The Problem of Purpose in the College" is his topic.

President Dickey served as assistant Secretary of State under Cordell Hull and later was chief of the Division of World Trades Intelligence. In 1944 he became president of Dartmouth College.

A native of Lockhaven, Pa., he was educated at Dartmouth and Harvard Law School. After being admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1932 he practiced law and worked with the state department.

In 1940 and again in 1943 he was assistant to Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Later he was made director of the Office of Public Affairs and liaison officer for the United States at the San Francisco Conference.

He will be introduced by Dean M. M. White, dean of UK's Arts and Sciences College.

New Pharmacy Building

The UK College of Pharmacy, now located in Louisville, will soon be housed in this proposed $588,000 building to be located on the UK campus. The new building will be located behind the Biological Science Building and is bounded by Washington, Graham and Gladstone Avenues.

Bid Of $588,000 Is Lowest Received On Pharmacy Building

Low bid of $588,000 for the construction of the new College of Pharmacy Building was submitted by the Hargett Construction Company, the state property and buildings commission has announced.

So far, however, appropriations for the construction of the building amount to only $450,000. Frank D. Peterson, business administrator, said. That sum was granted from building commission funds last summer by Gov. Wetherby, Peterson said.

The grant was made to expedite the transfer of the state Pharmacy College from Louisville to the UK campus. Peterson said that the Pharmacy College was in danger of losing its accreditation under the present program.

The Hargett bid included both the building and the equipment for the building, Peterson said. He continued that the building alone would cost about $493,000, leaving a deficit of $43,000. An additional $138,000 would be needed to finance the project if the Hargett bid to supply the building and equipment were accepted.

The Pharmacy College building will be erected on the property purchased last month from Mrs. Ann C. Turner. The site is located behind the Biological Science Building and is bounded by Washington, Graham, and Gladstone Avenues.

Martin, Hart Lead Christmas Seal Contest

The contest for "Miss Christmas Seal" is now entering the final week, with Betty Jo Martin, Chi Omega, in the lead by two votes, followed by Harriet Hart, Kappa Alpha Theta; Tabby Kemper, Alpha Gamma Delta and Ruth Lewis, Jewell Hall are in third place, just 7 votes out of first place.

All contestants have narrowed the gap between them and first place, with only 26 votes separating the last place contestant from the number one spot.

Six days remain before the contest will close. Midnight, Thursday, Dec. 15, is the closing date of the contest.

Bob Tice, 1955 Christmas Seal Sale Chairman, said today, "we want to make it clear that any 'Miss Christmas Seal' contestant can easily win the contest because so few votes separate the first place and last place contestants. The continued interest of the students at the University gives them the opportunity to select their choice in the contest and at the same time make a contribution in the fight against tuberculosis."

"I would like to especially urge that every student get his contribution in now, so that they can cast their vote for 'Miss Christmas Seal' and so they will have it in

Croft Dies; Was At UK For 23 Years

Dr. Lysle Warrick Croft, 53, director of the University of Kentucky Personnel Office and associate professor of psychology, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital Thursday, Dec. 1, after an illness of several months.

Dr. Croft, who lived at 310 Holiday Road, had been associated with the University faculty and administrative staff since 1933, when he was appointed assistant dean of men. He had been director of the Personnel Office since 1938.

Other highlights in his service record at UK include successive positions as student counselor, instructor, assistant professor and associate professor in the Department of Psychology and assistant dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Croft was born in Earlinton in 1902. He attended Hopkinsville High School and received his advanced education at UK. In 1924 he was graduated with a bachelor's degree in economics, nine years later he received a master's degree in psychology, and in 1938 was awarded the doctorate degree in psychology.

As personnel director, Dr. Croft directed the University's student advisory program, including administrative charge of personal and academic counseling, vocational guidance, testing, orientation, and veterans programs.

He also taught advanced courses in psychology on a part-time basis and served as director of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

He was a fellow of the American Association for Advancement of Sciences, a "diplomat" of the American Board of Examiners in Professional Psychology, a certified clinical psychologist by the Kentucky Board of Psychology, and a recipient of a grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York for the study of College Personnel Programs, 1939-40.

He was a member of the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church.

His survivors include Mrs. Daisy Taylor Croft, his wife, and a brother, R. C. Croft of Nashville, Tenn.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the chapel at the W. R. Milward Mortuary. The Rev. Steadman Bagby, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and the Rev. Donald R. Herren, associate pastor of the church officiated. The burial was in the Lexington Cemetery.

All contributions should be mailed to the Lexington-Fayette County Tuberculosis Association, P.O. Box 53, or given to one of the contestants before midnight, Thursday, Dec. 15.

UK Debators Win Tourney

For the third straight year, Kentucky has won the annual Kentucky Debate Tournament. The tournament was held recently on UK's campus.

Kentucky's affirmative team was the only undefeated team out of seven teams in the tournament. James Dundon and Charles English composed the team.

Dundon won first place among the individual debaters and English tied for second place.

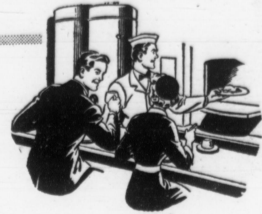

The participating schools were Asbury, Berea, Centre, Georgetown, UK, Kentucky State, and Western.

UK also participated in another tournament last weekend at the Morris Harvey Tournament in West Virginia, but did not win the contest. However, Jane Snyder won first place in the women's speaking division and Tom Schmidt won third in after dinner speaking.

On the way to the office the other morning, I decided to have my car washed, and thereby hangs a tale of modern industrial ingenuity. I discovered that assembly line mechanization has been applied to the traditional hand job of auto washing. I discovered that a skilled crew of men with the aid of new equipment can turn out a washed and dried car every minute for 60 minutes. And by a little pencil and paper work, I calculated that at top speed, only 5 minutes are spent on each car compared with 25 or 30 man-minutes when one man alone washes a car with bucket and sponge. The difference between these figures, of course, consists of machinery, system, and training—the very factors which have raised the American standard of living to the highest in the world. The automatic car wash is just one more example of the genius that a man working with machinery can accomplish many times as much as a man working alone with crude tools. In the special case of my own wash job, it took only seven and a half minutes from the time I drove off the road until I was back on the road headed for the office.

Of this time, about five minutes was spent in actual washing. And since the line is capable of handling five cars at a time, the average output at peak operation, is a car a minute.

The system clicks without delays. You drive into the back of an oblong building and get out of your car. One man vacuum cleans the inside while two men start steam cleaning your wheels and chrome. As soon as the vacuuming is finished, the car is attached to a chain belt then drawn through a series of sprays and huge brushes softer than a shaving brush. It then moves under a line of blowers that look like massive elephant trunks.

To complete the drying a fine crew touches up the car, polishes the windows, and shines the brightwork, while you pay the bill at the cashier's window. As you step back into the car, the front door opens and out you go, feeling like a streamlined citizen of Huxley's Brave New World.

 Surveying the whole scene, Jimmy Butts thinks the day of the man-with-a-bucket is on the wane. The assembly line in car washing is definitely here to stay. Surveys prove ten (10) car washes (one per week) equals a polish job. Buy a season ticket—all the washes you want Monday through Thursday, $18.00 for 3 months.

After school or between classes, stop by and get your car washed while you wait at Jimmy Butts' 5 Mini Car Wash, middle of Middle. OPEN ALL YEAR, from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Sunday (closed) LETS GO TO CHURCH.

Physics Seminar To Have Speaker From Oak Ridge

Cyrus Feldman, a specialist in spectrochemistry at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, will speak at the Physics Department's weekly seminar at 4 p.m. on Dec. 14 in Room 208, Pence Hall.

"Special Spectrochemical Techniques for Aiding the Chemist, Metallurgist, and Biologist" will be the subject of the talk given by Feldman. He is a member of the analytical division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

Feldman is the second speaker from the Oak Ridge National Laboratory to appear at the Physics Department's weekly seminar. John H. Neiler spoke here Nov. 30.

This year marks the eighth year that the Oak Ridge National Laboratory and the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies with the support of the Atomic Energy Commission and the sponsorship of several universities has had a traveling lecture program.

UK, one of the universities helping to sponsor the lecture program, is eligible to have members from the Oak Ridge National Laboratory to give lectures, conduct seminars, and to take part in scientific activities here at the University.

Tea will be served in the Physics Library immediately preceding the seminar at 3:20 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend the seminar.

Around The Turntable

By JOHN ALEXANDER

After this Thanksgiving holiday it almost seems a chore to have to sit down and write a column. Almost, we said! There's one redeeming feature, the brand new 12-inch Jaye P. Morgan LP. Featuring the orchestra and chorus of Frank de Vol, it's priced at $1.98.

Some of the tunes have been released on singles, for the most part Decca's. Some have not. For a fair sampling, "Just A Gigolo" and "Life Is Just a Bowl of Cherries," are two tunes which are better known.

"Nobody Met the Train," "Baby Don't Do It," and "Life Was Made for Living" are some of the less known. Yet their quality and appeal are tops. For our money, this album features some of the best of this banker in tunes.

The label from Lexington has a new tune out—Miranda just released one by Arthur Lee Simpkins (work of Maurey Ellenhorn), "I Wonder, I Wonder" and "Marie." The styling reminds us somewhat of John McCormack. We pick "I Wonder" as the top side.

Our attention has been called to another brand new label, Forest City records calls Cleveland, Ohio, home, and have just come out with their first releases. These feature accordionist Sal Bucarey with the work of Al Russ (recently Coral artist).

The tunes include Barclay Allen's "Cumana," "Debut," written by Al Russ, "Dance on My Pillow," and "Charivari." These arrangements are many spins better in quality than the average in new labels, for a pleasant change. "Dance on My Pillow" promises to make the grade.

We'd like to nominate these following tunes as tomorrow's tops: "Memories of You," the Four Coins; "A Woman in Love," Four Aces; "Arrivederci—Roma," by Georgia Gibbs; and Sara Vaughn's "C'est La Vie." In the instrumental department, Nelson Riddle's arrangement of "Lisbon Antigua" offers a pleasing, witty arrangement of an old tune.

Here's the top ten tunes across the nation: "Sixteen Tons," "Tennessee" Ernie Ford; "Autumn Leaves," Roger Williams; "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing," Four Aces; "Moments to Remember," Four Lads; "Shifting Sands," Billy

Part of the evening's program is wrapping gifts to be taken to the Lincoln School for a "Y" sponsored party.

THE GIFT HORSE

Today's column is about Christmas gift suggestions, and I suppose you think I'll begin by suggesting Philip Morris. Well, the joke's on you. I'll do no such thing. Why should I? Anyone with two brains to knock together knows that Philip Morris makes an absolutely smashing Christmas gift. Only a poor afflicted soul with atrophied taste buds needs to be told about the new Philip Morris; its bracing flavor; its freshness, lightness, pleasantness, gentleness; its truth, its beauty, its brotherliness in this discordant world of ours. So why should I waste time telling you what you already know?

Let us, instead, turn to less obvious gift suggestions. Here's one I bet you never thought of:

Christmas is the best time of year, but it is also the beginning of winter. How about a gift that reminds one that though winter has come, spring is not far behind? I refer, of course, to Easter chicks. (Similarly, on Easter one can give Christmas chicks.)

Next, we take up the problem, common to all undergraduates, of trying to buy gifts when you have no money. To this dilemma I say—Faugh! It is not the price of the gift that counts; it is the sentiment behind it.

Take, for example, the case of Outerbridge Sigafos. Outerbridge, a sophomore, finding himself without funds last Christmas, gave his girl a bottle of good clear water and a nice smooth rock, attaching this touching message to the gift:

*Here's some water
 And here's a rock,
 I love you, daughter,
 Around the clock.*

And the whole delightful gift cost Outerbridge less than a penny!

I am compelled to report, however, that Outerbridge's girl did not receive these offerings in the spirit in which they were tendered. In fact, she flew into a fit of pique, smashed the bottle on the rock and stabbed Outerbridge with the jagged edge. But the experience was not without value for Outerbridge. First, he discovered that the girl was not his type at all. Second, he learned how to make a tourniquet.

But I digress. Let's examine now a common complaint of Christmas shoppers: "What do you get for someone who has everything?"

To this I reply, "Does he?" Does he, for instance, have a unicycle? A sled dog? A serf? A burlesque? A hairball? A bung starter? (The bung starter, incidentally, was invented by two enormously talented men, Fred Bung and Otho Starter. Their partnership thrived from the very start, and there is no telling to what heights they might have risen had they not split up over a silly argument. It seems that Bung was a firm believer in reincarnation; Starter was just as firm a disbeliever. Bung insisted so violently that they finally decided to go their separate ways. Singly, alas, the two fared badly. Starter gave up business altogether, joined the army, and was killed at San Juan Hill in 1898. He is today buried in Arlington National Cemetery. Bung drifted from job to job until he died of breakbone fever in Elizabeth, N. J., in 1902. He is today a llama in Uruguay.)

Free Press

A proposed amendment to the Student Government Association constitution will be submitted for vote on the ballots of the forthcoming election Wednesday.

The amendment would strike out the words "be subject to the ratification of the Assembly" from Article IV, Section 4 of the constitution.

Striking out these words would eliminate SGA's "power" to ratify the editors of both the Kentuckian and the Kentucky Kernel. It would prohibit, in effect, the student legislative body from having control over a free campus press.

The amendment should be passed.

A free press cannot be free if it is subject to a legislative body. Although SGA has not ratified the editors of the Kentuckian and the Kentucky Kernel within recent years, the clause does provide the assembly with this power.

It is easy to see that SGA could theoretically control the two major campus publications simply by ratifying only the editors that best suited the body. If the power were used, no editor would dare criticize SGA—or anything else SGA did not want criticized.

The Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Kentucky contain no such restraints upon the selection of editors. Instead, they guarantee a free press.

It is a dangerous policy to permit any type of a governing body to control the selection of the highest persons on a publication.

SGA retains its right to have a Committee on Student Publications, which picks the editors. This committee is composed of the Head of the School of Journalism, the University Comptroller, the Director of Student Publications, the editor of the Kernel, the editor of the Kentuckian, and one assembly member.

This committee is composed of persons qualified to select competent editors. It insures good, well-picked editors.

To let the SGA assembly ratify the committee's choice, however, is neither wise nor democratic. The assembly, unless composed wholly of journalism majors, would not have the knowledge of the qualifications of good editors.

SGA has not seen fit to use this power of ratifying the Kentuckian and Kernel editors in the past. But the very existence of the clauses giving this power is a slap in the face of the American principle of a free press.

Students should realize that by voting for the amendment they will not be robbing SGA nor will they be giving campus publications "an unbridled license." They will simply be killing a potential evil.

No Voters

Student Government Association's fall election is generally marked by a "light" turnout of voters. Interest is poor, at best, even though one-third of the assembly is elected.

Every student should vote in the elections held in their respective colleges Wednesday for several reasons.

First of all, according to its constitution every UK student is a member of SGA. The 30 people in the assembly are merely their voting representatives. SGA is therefore the one organization on campus that every student belongs to.

SGA, too, is truly a legislative body that makes or rescinds rules that affect the entire student body. The voice of student opinion, in a sense, SGA is an integral part of the University setup.

Rule Change

The shortened fraternity probation period is certainly an improvement over the old one year ruling. Academic probation for fraternities and sororities was cut to one semester last week by the faculty. The change was approved earlier by both IFC and Panhellenic.

Under the new provision a fraternity or sorority failing to make their standing one semester will be put on probation the next semester. As under the old law, they will lose their social privileges. If they do not make a standing the first semester on probation, they are kept on probation another semester. At the end of two semesters their rushing privileges are taken away, and at the end of the third semester of probation they must show cause why their charter should not be taken.

The new law has three distinct advantages. First, it bolsters morale. It's fairly easy to buckle down and study hard for one semester, but it's hard for any organization to continue the grind for a full year.

Secondly, the old system robbed a man of one-third of his social privileges while in the active chapter of a fraternity. A fraternity or sorority is primarily a social organization, and it is unjust to penalize an individual so harshly for the actions of a few members of his group.

The SGA budget, which comes out of the student registration fee, amounts to several thousand dollars each year. The representatives—10 of whom will be decided Wednesday—vote on how this money will be spent.

A wise student, regardless of his notions of SGA, will look into the merits of the candidates running this time, as well as examining the platforms of their parties.

In few other elections will one find the importance of his vote. Only three years ago an SGA candidate won by a margin of two votes. Two candidates last spring won by majorities of less than 20 votes.

SGA is serious business. The student who fails to vote in its elections—or votes without examining candidates or platforms—is certainly minimizing a great privilege and greater responsibility.

Finally, under the old plan three years elapsed before the charter was taken. In that period most of the men responsible for the poor scholarship had left school, and a new group was punished for their actions.

The new plan has one major weakness. It does not allow any time to make up a poor standing. Probation begins immediately after a fraternity falls below the all men's average.

However, the advantages far overshadow this one fault.

Professor Gifford Blyton
Department of English
University of Kentucky

Dear Professor Blyton:

My attention has been called to the editorial in the Kentucky Kernel of December 2, on debate money.

The article sounds like that you did not inform the writer that the University of Kentucky Athletics Association annually gives the Debate Team $1,500.00. I thought the editorial very good but, apparently, the writer did not know the Athletics Department is helping the Debate Team at the present time.

Sincerely yours,
Bernie A. Shively

(Editor's note: The Kernel did not know that the Athletic Association annually subsidizes the debate team. It misunderstood a statement made by Dr. Blyton concerning the finances of the team. The Kernel certainly commends the Athletic Association for its support of the debate team. It's always good to see another champion at the University.)

TB Seals

Regardless of who wins "Miss Christmas Seal," a student's vote is never lost.

The one dollar mailed in to the Lexington-Fayette County Tuberculosis Association for Christmas seals amounts to much more than a ballot for a beauty queen. It is nothing less than a vote to stamp out a dread malady.

Kentucky's major contagious disease is tuberculosis. Even more unpleasant than its name, TB is an insidious, merciless killer. Unhappily, victims of TB are not as cheerful as the Christmas seals.

No, it is isn't agreeable to think of Christmas seals and the pain of TB suffering at the same time. But tuberculosis is not pretty.

It is still not too late to send in a ballot, together with the dollar bill, and vote for "Miss Christmas Seal." Thankfully, it is never too late to fight against tuberculosis.

The "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony grows bigger and better each year. It opens the holiday season at the University in the true spirit of Christmas. The Student Union Board, the YMCA, and the YWCA are to be congratulated for sponsoring such a worthwhile event. The University needs more traditions like the "Hanging of the Greens".

Lest we forget, last Wednesday, December 7, marked the fourteenth anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. That "day of infamy" should always remind us that freedom is hard to get—and even harder to keep.

Barf!!

(The absence of Barf! in the last few weeks was due to a number of reasons. Principal among these, however, is the fact that the author of this heinous tripe which appears below was recovering from a state of shock after being called half-insane in the November 18 issue of the Kernel.)

Vengeance should of course be the barfist's first thought upon returning to the scenes of his crime after picking up his marbles which someone claims he lost along the way. However, bearing no grudges, he dutifully takes it upon himself to act in the role of an enlightener and air campus problems for the benefit of those concerned.

The first of these (looking ahead to the future) is the problem of rest rooms in 1960. With the expected rapid rise in student population, the present facilities simply won't be able to handle the job. Barf! recommends strategic privies placed on the front lawns of all the buildings, and for the more bashful, the back lawns.

Individual organizations, such as fraternities and sororities, could probably make a small fortune by purchasing some of these crescent-adorned edifices, painting their insignia on them, and charging admission.

Another campus problem, one which is one because it hinders operations of organizations and thereby campus activities, is that of the key-collectors. These fellows can usually buy their way in and out of groups as they please, without contributing any effort toward them at all except to struggle over to the meeting hall on the day of picture-taking. Or perhaps if there is a free banquet involved.

Anything not spent on keys by these parasites is usually taken up in longer and heavier chains. Barf! moves that these men be excluded from the convenience of the newly proposed privies.

The drunks are high up on the list of campus sore spots. What with the football season over, we can only pray that they don't begin re-operating in the Coliseum beginning tomorrow night, rolling their bottles obnoxiously down the steps like a few of them did last year. These fellows could at least have the presence of thought to bring a rubber or leather flask. The soft "wum" of these discarded devices sound much better than the nerve-shattering "clink-clink" of the transparent type hurtling past your cordovans.

Besides, these men are known to drink almost chronically in the afternoons and get sick on campus. Barf! moves that they be included in the convenience of the newly proposed privies.

The last of the problems are those people who obstinately lift their voices in indignation whenever a jibe is taken at them in print. To them the Barfist has this to say: If he's gotten to you—it's only because he tried.

And you can't use our privies.

Attends Conference

The recent White House Conference on Education was termed by Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, dean of the College of Adult and Extension Education, as the most democratic conference of its kind which he had ever attended.

Dr. Ginger said that, unlike many people had feared, the conference was not dominated by the desires and interests of business or industry groups. He said that it was directed toward finding the means by which education and the educational system of our nation might be bettered and for no other reason.

The adoption of a plan of federal aid to education was expressed by Dr. Ginger as probably the most unexpected step taken by the conference. He added that, of the over 2,000 delegates there, more than 91 per cent voted for federal aid to education in one form or other. The final plan was accepted by more than two-thirds of the conference.

Dr. Ginger stated that the findings of the conference would be submitted to the President who would consider them in his forthcoming report to Congress.

Old Proprietor Takes Notice Of Frequenters Of Library

By RAY HORNBACK

While breezing through a book at the library the other evening, I couldn't help but notice the many bleary-eyed personages who were frequenting the place.

Now don't get the idea I'm making fun. For I hold the library in high esteem. And I realize we have one of the finest libraries in the South. It's just the people who hang out there.

Take for instance The Thinker. He is a fellow who stares. He never takes his eyes off the book. He sits in the same position all evening. He never moves. He takes no breaks. He's asleep.

Then there's the little gal who comes into the library at 9:15. She has in her possession what appears to be 15 or so books. She gets situated. Spreads her books over an area normally occupied by three persons. And then goes out for a cigarette. She returns at 9:45—just as the library closes.

The Well-Dressed Man is quite a fellow to behold. He is the epitome of dress. His attire for an outing in the library is the very latest. His shoes are shined to a mirror luster. He is Mr. Esquire in person. He has everything. Even his underthings are worked into the color scheme. The only thing he has forgotten is his book!

Then there is Mr. Nauseau. He has a drippy nasus externus and infuriates all around by sniffing the thing instead of giving it a good cleaning out.

And there's always the fellow who looks like he's lost. He spends two and one-half hours wandering around gazing at the shelves. At 9:45, he is quite stunned to find that he isn't in the Law Library.

The Music Major—oh what a pain! He is unable to study without tapping out a tune with his noisy little pencil. He thinks he is a drummer, but if he'll only look at the icy stares, he'll run for his life.

While on the topic of majors, there's the Geography Major. He is loaded down with maps and colored pencils. It's a continual run to the pencil sharpener. And cover up those dainty little ears

Campus Cinema

The last Campus Cinema selection of the year will be shown Dec. 15, it was announced by the Campus Cinema committee. "The Glenn Miller Story," portraying the life of the late Glenn Miller, his orchestra, and his search for a new sound in music, will be shown at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m., Dec. 15, in the Guignol Theatre.

The film is a United World release and stars James Stewart as Glenn Miller and June Allyson as his wife.

The next Campus Cinema presentation will be an Italian film, "Bicycle Thief," on Jan. 5, 1956.

Trooper Says Courtesy, Caution, Safety Essentials

Trooper William Juett, Kentucky State Highway patrolman, told students this week that courtesy, caution, and common-sense were needed essentials for safe driving.

Juett spoke as part of a driver Kentucky State police. The remainder of the program consisted of a driver-safety movie and a question-answer period.

"Courtesy is a rule drivers should follow, and if observed constantly, will bring ample reward," Juett said.

Being cautious when driving, according to Trooper Juett, is to drive as if everyone else were crazy. He said that one American dies every 15 minutes in automobile accidents. Other statistics showed that one person is injured every 25 seconds and of these approximately 85 per cent are permanent disabilities.

"Common sense is up to the individual," said Juett. A person who drives without common sense is asking for trouble, the trooper continued.

The film, "And Then There Were Four," showed how poor driving habits and disregard for safety could result in a fatal accident.

In answering a question on speed limits in Kentucky, Juett said that even though the legal limits are 50 m.p.h. at night and 60 m.p.h. during the day that road conditions are the determining factor.

IFC Dance
The throng of people shown, are none other than UK students attending the Inter-fraternity Council Dance last Saturday night, featuring Ray Anthony's band.

Although this is by no means a medical page, some mention of the "Christmas dance rash" rightfully belongs here. This contagion sweeps the campus around December 1 every year, lasts on through the vacation, and lingers on to plague its happy victims until the night before those fatal semester examinations. The first symptoms were quite evident last week with the IFC, featuring Ray Anthony's band. And this weekend is going to be no means a dead one!

Basketball Season Begins
The weather man has finally given us a break, but the football games are over; so tomorrow night at 8 p.m. we move into the Coliseum where it is warm—remember those wind-swept bleachers on Stoll Field?—to see the Temple basketball game.

Children's Parties
Despite the rush on Christmas activities, gift shopping and the general confusion, some of the sororities, fraternities and other organizations are planning Christmas parties for the less fortunate children from all over Lexington. The chapter houses will be glowing with decorations, some candy, toys, and a glimpse of Santa Claus. Oh, this isn't the first time; year after year they have these special little guests. But it is good to recognize these parties as a sincere effort to bring Christmas to those who need it, and as an effect sponsored by UK students.

Reports of the play Guignol presented beginning last Tuesday night were very favorable. "The Country Girl" was of course the movie that Grace Kelly received her Academy Award from, but we are glad to say Leila Sherman and Wallace Briggs did an excellent job. There is still a performance tonight and a matinee Saturday afternoon if anyone has missed seeing, providing they can still obtain tickets.

into World War II. Everyone thought we were through fighting wars when it ended, but then the Korean conflict came along.

Many students should profit from these wars that have been fought, and seek to avoid them for a better unity in our day and age. With Christmas almost upon us, we must realize that a life was taken so that we might be free and unruly peoples. The fate of our nation will be entirely up to us in a few years. We must learn now how to govern it wisely.

Hanging of the Greens

The annual "Hanging of the Greens" was held Wednesday afternoon in the Student Union Building. Shown above are members of the YMCA, YWCA and the SUB Board who draped the greens over the railing leading to the Grand Ballroom. Carol singing and the reading of the story of the first Christmas tree were other features of the event.

Lovejoy Charged With Alienation Of Affection

Ivan M. Lovejoy, lawyer, will be tried at 2 p.m. today on the grounds of alienation of affection at the mock trial of the Practice Court Docket of the College of Law.

For the first time in the history of the Circuit Court of Lafferty Hall, moving pictures of the defendants will be used as evidence. The case was reported that S. O. Fitch, a horse trainer for Bluetree Stables, and his wife, Mrs. Irma Fitch were involved in an automobile accident. A suit was brought and the Fitch lawyer, Ivan M. Lovejoy, was successful in procuring a large settlement.

After the trial Fitch is reported as saying that he left with a string of horses for a meet in Chicago. Upon his return he was told that his wife had been "running around" with Lovejoy.

Fitch said he immediately hired a detective who followed Mrs. Fitch and Lovejoy, taking moving pictures of them while together.

Fitch then reported when he returned from a second Chicago meet, he saw Lovejoy's car parked in front of the Fitch apartment. Fitch said he waited until his wife came out with Lovejoy and followed them in the car.

When Lovejoy saw he was being trailed by Fitch he swung out and sped across an open field but crashed into a tree. By the time Fitch reached Lovejoy's car he said the lawyer had rolled up the windows and locked the doors. Mrs. Fitch was crouching on the floor attempting to hide.

Fitch states that he then picked up a rock and hurled it through the window striking Lovejoy on the side of the head. Mrs. Fitch refused to go back with her husband and remained in the car. Fitch filed suit the next morning charging alienation of his wife's affection and great injury against Lovejoy.

Attorneys for the defense are James Todd and Julian Carroll. Charles Sennette and Robert Trimble are the attorneys for the plain-

WAA To Sponsor High School Day

The Women's Athletic Association will sponsor its bi-annual high school Play Day beginning at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 10.

Girls from 22 high schools in and around Lexington have been invited to participate.

Basketball and table tennis will be played in Memorial Coliseum, Alumni Gym, and the Women's Gym from 10:00 to 12:00 a.m.

Following lunch volleyball games will be held in Alumni and the Women's Gym. Later a splash party and a demonstration of synchronized swimming by the Blue Marlin Swimming Club will be held in the Coliseum Pool.

The day's activities will conclude with a short program of entertainment, in the Women's Gymnasium, furnished by Tau Sigma, the UK Troupers, and Miss Anne Beard, folk singer.

McCullough, Henry Attend IFC Meeting In St. Louis

Charles McCullough and Bill Henry represented the UK Interfraternity Council at the recent Interfraternity Council convention in St. Louis. More than 700 representatives of American and Canadian colleges and university fraternity interfraternity councils, deans and college administrators, participated in the graduate and undergraduate sessions.

Powell B. McHane, past chairman of the Board of Curators, University of Missouri, and president of American Life Insurance Company, delivered the keynote address at the opening luncheon.

The conference closed Saturday with the grand banquet at which the IFC trophy was presented to the interfraternity council which conducted the most outstanding program during the last year.

Also, six additional trophies were awarded to the most outstanding IFC council programs in accredited colleges in the United States and Canada. Dr. George A. Bowman, president of Kent State University was the principal speaker.

The agenda for the undergraduate conference included panel discussions on "A Good Reputation is Our Most Important Asset," "Rushing," "Pledge Training," "Role of the Interfraternity Council," "Scholarship," and "Interfraternity Council Operations — including Alumni Relations."

Dr. Ethan A. H. Shepley, chancellor of Washington University; and Dean Fred H. Turner, dean of Students, University of Illinois, were among the distinguished speakers who addressed the conference.

Suit Wins $75 Prize

Marvin W. Suit won the $75 first prize in the Patterson Birthday Oratorical Contest held this week. James M. Dundon won the $25 second prize. The contest was held in the Laboratory Theater of the Fine Arts Building.

The orations were given on the life of President James K. Patterson. Suit, in his speech "The Lone President," called Patterson the "father of this University." Dundon, in his speech, "The Lengthened Shadow of One Man," said that "the greatest monument to President Patterson is UK."

Prize money for the contest is provided for by a $1,000 trust fund set up by Patterson.

Safe Driving Featured At Journalism School

The School of Journalism took part this week in the national campaign for safe driving.

Patrolman Juett of the Kentucky State Police gave two illustrated lectures on safe driving at 9 and 10 a.m. Dec. 6, in the Journalism Building.

Also, in connection with these lectures a display of pictures of traffic accidents on Kentucky highways was featured in the Main hall of the Journalism Building. The pictures were loaned to the School of Journalism by the state police. Another part of the display was a wrecked car shown in front of the main entrance to the Journalism Building and labeled "Death Car." OK Service Garage supplied the car.

Why do more college men and women smoke

VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance — cellulose — found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich; satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip . . . and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette . . . that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Choristers To Present Annual Christmas Program

UK Choristers will present their annual Christmas program Sunday, Dec. 11, in Memorial Hall at 4 and 8 p.m. Mildred Lewis, of the Music Department is the founder and director of the group.

In the past Choristers have used carols almost exclusively but, for the first time, they will present a cantata, "The Mystery at Bethlehem," by Healy Willan, contemporary composer and organist.

They will sing, "Fanfare for Christmas Day," "Christmas Night," and "Sing Gloria". The next part of the program will be the cantata. Next they will sing, "Gloria in Excelsis," "Mary, Mary, Where Is Your Baby," "O Tannebaum," "Carol For the Singing Reeds," and "Joy".

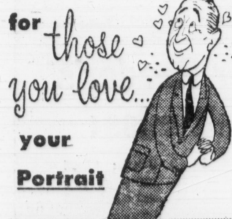

The audience will then join Choristers in singing "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," "Joy to the World," "Silent Night," and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing".

Choristers will then sing "Carol of the Birds," and then be joined by former members and sing the traditional closing number, "Shepherd's Story".

Students, few members of the staff and one townspeople compose Choristers. During the year they give several concerts, both in Lexington and in other towns.

Strangely, the outstanding ROTC cadet of the years at Meldon University was an Oriental named Gung-Ho.

There are millions of bugs in the world.

Because it is so "special" in the happiness it brings, we take special care in the posing of Christmas gift portraits.

registration in the spring and winter, especially to enable students to get the classes they want and need.

2. "That an indoctrination program for the instruction of the students as to the functions and purposes of their SGA should be undertaken, with special emphasis of this program to be placed during Orientation Week.

3. "That suggestion boxes be placed at strategic points on the campus for the reception of written opinions from the student body and that a committee be formed for the serious considerations of all suggestions.

4. "That the student body should have the power of petition to back the decisions of the SGA when necessary.

5. "That a new up-to-date constitution for SGA be drawn up which would be designed to enlarge and strengthen the powers of SGA.

6. "That SGA social committee combine with other campus organization's social committees in sponsoring more campus-wide social activities.

7. "That we work toward better faculty-student relations by co-sponsoring with the President a President's Ball to which all students and faculty members would be invited.

8. "That SGA work with the faculty in bringing candidates for state and local offices to the University students, and set up a program so that the many new eligible voters can be informed as to intelligent voting.

9. "That freshman girls have an extra night out to the library; and also that the library be opened later than 10 p.m. on week nights so that its facilities may be better used."

The policies which the Constitutionalists are advocating are:

1. "Due to the traffic hazard created by students who find it necessary to drive long distances at night in order to reach their homes, we propose that classes be dismissed at noon on the day preceding a school holiday.

2. "We suggest that the library hours on Sunday be extended in order to accommodate the many students who find it necessary to use its facilities at this time.

3. "We propose that a representative from the men's and women's councils in the dormitories be granted a voting membership in SGA.

4. "It has come to our attention that a sidewalk is needed, extending from the rear of Donovan Hall to Fraternity Row.

5. "In order to promote greater unity among veterans we feel that an organization is needed on campus for these students. Among the functions of this group will be the investigation of situations and problems that confront the veteran at the University. The Constitutional Party will support a representative of the proposed organization for a seat on the Judiciary Committee of the SGA.

6. "Due to the lack of adequate recreational facilities in both the men's and women's dormitories, we will strive for an increase in appropriations for this purpose.

7. "In order to promote a better relationship between the University and the community we suggest the establishment of a board composed of members of SGA, University officials and town officials."

A motion to allocate $135 to Sharon Miller and $65 to Paul Eggum as expense money was passed unanimously. Miss Miller and Eggum are UK delegates to the Student Conference on National Affairs to be held Dec. 14-17 at Texas A&M College.

Committees were also set up by SGA to contact someone to play the chimes during Christmas and to investigate the possibility of cancelling the between-semester holiday and substituting a longer holiday in the spring.

SGA formed a committee to work out plans for obtaining a live wildcat mascot. The committee was instructed to look for a wildcat on a "wildcat farm" or to capture one. (Both members of the committee are girls.)

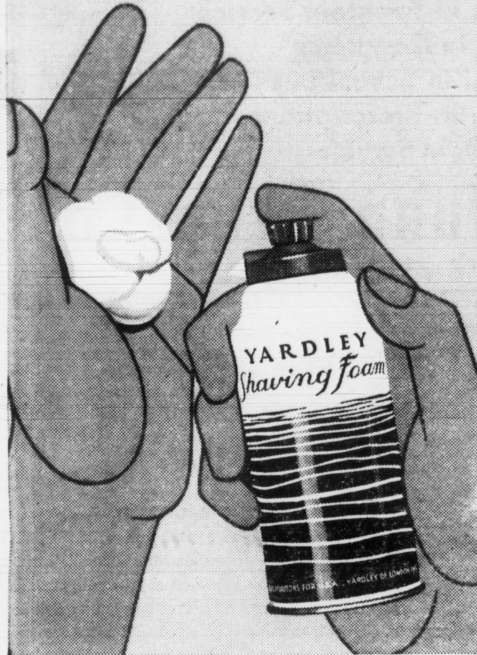

The financial, judiciary, constitution and rules committee also gave reports. The SGA budget of $5,700 was approved at the meeting after the announcement that it had been approved by the University was made.

'Country Girl' Highly Praised; To Be Given Tonight, Tomorrow

By JOHN STRACHAN

Clifford Odets, author of "The Country Girl," would be a proud writer were he in Lexington this week. Guignol Theatre took Odets' script and brought it to life Tuesday night. Repeat performances of "Country Girl" will be staged for the public tonight and tomorrow afternoon.

As the public is seeing and as Odets would see, this is not a stepdown from Broadway to little theatre but an indistinguishable line between professional and amateur staging.

Wallace Briggs, star-director, is accustomed to flattering adjectives. One again Wally makes it difficult to imagine how apparently easy he slips under the skin of a man as torn and distorted as Frank Elgin.

This apparent ease is depicted by the fact that not once does Briggs' mask slip and not once is the vision of the crumbling derelict Elgin lost. This is the stunning performance of the fall and rise of an immensely sensitive human.

Georgie Elgin, the wife, must be the counterpart to Frank. In Lelia Sherman the role is filled to the point of perfect balance. Meeting Frank's every mood, Georgie must humor him, listen to his lies, and live a trying life of childlike tantrums.

Hanging on grimly to restore the man she once loved, Georgie reaches the breaking point in a scene revealing the depth of a woman oppressed for twelve years. Miss Sherman is the girl, the "Country Girl." Only applause could follow this fine acting.

Bernie Dodd, the play director who rebuilds Frank Elgin, is played by David Dick. Throughout the first act you are not quite convinced that Dick is the play director but in the second act it is even harder to believe that Bernie Dodd is actor Dick. Working into the role scene by scene, Dick reaches near perfection in Scene 2, Act 2.

In the play Bernie Dodd realizes what type man Frank Elgin really is, meanwhile on the stage actor Dick recognizes the fictional Dodd and drives it home to the audience. It is by far Dick's best Guignol performance to date.

For a change of pace, Odets has injected a dash of comedy in the dialogue through the characters of Nancy Stoddard, a flighty starlet, and Phil Cook, a pompous producer. Portrayed by Mary Ann Stevenson and Fred Scott Downing, these people not only help build the plot but break the tense atmosphere with well timed humor.

Around The Turntable

By JOHN ALEXANDER

We'd like to here note a brand new Jaye P. Morgan LP, entitled "Jaye P. Morgan Sings . . ." Frank de Vol's orchestra does a fine job of backing on this album.

The sides include some releases previously heard on Decca singles, and some heretofore unavailable. Perhaps the best tunes include "Just A Gigolo," "Nobody Met The Train," and "Life Was Made For Living." This is a 12-inch disc, and has 12 selections.

This past week a new record label hit the market—we'd like to take notice. Forest City Records (of Cleveland, Ohio) features four numbers by accordionist Sal Bucarey, with the orchestra of Al Russ.

The thing most noticeable about this new company is its quality. The selections are not commercial, which is surprising. They are even good, which is even more surprising.

"Cumana," the Barclay Allen theme song, is treated in sparkling manner by the Bucarey Accordion. Backside, "Debut" is pleasing, soft, sweet stuff. "Dance On My Pillow" features a chorus, which blends well with the accordion and orchestra, and is a pleasant surprise—the kind of tune which grows on you, haunting. "Charivari," while being the least appealing side, yet has no back seats to take in arrangement and/or performance.

Turning to the Christmas music, we note with delight a new release by Camden records—an album of folk songs of Christmas by John Jacob Niles. For those who appreciate this kind of music, this album is the ideal purchase.

We are enchanted with the sheer beauty, simplicity, and sincerity of each selection in this album.

Jo Stafford's "Happy Holiday" (Columbia), Mahalia Jackson's "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," (Columbia), and the Four Aces' "A Merry Christmas," (Decca) all 12-inch LP's, are our nominations for the top albums of this season.

Of course, Lionel Barrymore's "A Christmas Carol," is the Christmas classic. And MGM has released same this year on 12-inch LP, preserving all the charm of the radio presentation.

Improved Temple Owls Are Cat's First 1955 Opponents In Memorial Coliseum

Pair Of Games Slated In Three Days Space

Coach Adolph Rupp's Wildcats open up their 1955-56 home-play schedule this week with a pair of contests in the space of three days.

Fresh from their opening triumph over a surprisingly strong band of LSU Tigers the basketballing Wildcats take on Temple University in the first of an 11-game regular season card tomorrow night.

This contest will be followed closely by another top game here this season when the DePaul Blue Demons invade Memorial Coliseum Monday night.

The Cats however will find a vastly improved Temple team over the one they defeated handily last season to the tune of 101-69 on the Owl home floor.

In their opening tussle this year the Temple five defeated Albright quite easily by a lopsided score of 87-56.

Monday night the always dangerous DePaul Blue Demons of Coach Ray Meyer will engage Kentucky in the first of a home and home series.

Last year UK trounced the Demons on the Coliseum floor by a 92-59 score in one of their most brilliant exhibitions of the season.

Later on in the campaign when the Cats journeyed to Chicago to engage this same DePaul five they barely squeaked by 76-72.

This fray was featured by the long shot aristery of reserve guard Earl Adkins as he came off the bench to pop in five long ones and enable the Wildcats to edge the fired-up-five of DePaul.

So far this season DePaul has dropped one tilt while hanging up three impressive victories.

In their first outing of the year, Meyer's boys trounced Illinois Wesleyan University 84-66.

In this initial contest the Demons played what appeared to spectators as middle of the season ball as they passed and shot with amazing accuracy.

Two days later the Blue Demons engaged the currently ranked 12th team in the nation in the University of Minnesota and were turned back in a hard fought contest by four points, 82-78.

Since then the DePaul quintet has played two more games and have won both engagements, one by a sizeable margin.

These two victories were scored over Wisconsin State Teachers College Tuesday night and Pennsylvania State University only last night.

Much to the dismay of Kentucky fans, this year's Demon squad is led by the all-around play of Ron Sobieszek.

Kentucky backers will best remember him for his outstanding play for the previous two seasons. He was the leading scorer on last year's quintet with a total of 381 points good for a 17.3 game average.

Also back this season is big Kenneth Jacky who operates the pivot post for the Blue Demons.

Jacky uses his height with a tremendous amount of speed to good advantage in the break-neck, race-horse style of play employed by the Demons.

Kentucky since the Louisiana State game has been putting in long hours in the Avenue of Champions edifice in preparation for these two important tilts.

The Wildcats starting lineup is expected to be the same as it was for the LSU Bayou Bengal game.

This will be Bird and Grawemeyer at forwards, Burrow at the pivot post, and Calvert and Brewer at the guards.

Vernon Hatton, Ray Mills, and Bill Cassidy will be on hand for the first choices in relief assignments.

UK Fencers Win In Sabre Tournament

Lexington placed four men in the final round of the State Sabre Tournament held in Louisville last Sunday. Bob Hensley of Lexington, won easily, capturing all five bouts.

Carl Burge from Louisville, representing the YMCA, was second with three wins and two defeats. He nosed out Allen Butler, UK, on touches.

Others representing the University were Claud Hazlett, Charles Morris, Paul Ross, and William Snedegar.

Frank Somogyvary, UK, and Albert Wolfe of the Louisville "Y" alternated as directors.

Rupp Retains Record; Wins Wild One

Coach Adolph Rupp's record of never having lost an opening basketball game was kept intact last Saturday night as his Kentucky Wildcats defeated a scrapping Louisiana State quintet, 62-52, in Baton Rouge. This is Coach Rupp's 26th season at UK.

The scoring duel that was expected between All-American candidate, Bob Burrow, and LSU's highly touted forward, Roger Sigler didn't materialize. Instead the contest turned out to be a see-saw battle with neither of these men figuring prominently in the scoring.

Gerry Calvert and John Brewer, the junior guards who replaced last year's captain Bill Evans and Gayle Rose, provided the spark needed for victory.

Calvert, along with LSU's Troy Rushing, took scoring honors with 17 points.

Brewer had 13 points for his night's effort and was closely followed by Jerry Bird who scored 11 points, 10 coming in the first-half.

In the first half the score was tied several times with neither team being able to gain a substantial lead. Bird's timely shots kept the Cats in the game and they were able to forge ahead at half time, 27-23.

With Brewer and Calvert leading the way, the Big Blue kept the lead for the rest of the game.

LSU never gave up and were in the ball game all the way until Captain Phil Grawemeyer put the game on ice with three quick baskets in the last minutes of play.

Meet Mr. Calvert

The Smallest Cager Is UK's Top Scorer

(Note—This is the second in a series of features dealing with UK's basketball squad.)

By MARNEY BEARD

Gerry Calvert, at 5-11, the smallest member of Kentucky's cage squad, led the way last Saturday against LSU as he swished the nets for 17 points.

Known in his home town of Maysville as the "Toy Bulldog," Calvert was virtually an unknown sophomore on Coach Rupp's star-studded team of last season. Then came the NCAA tournament. Billy Evans was declared ineligible and Gerry was called upon to fill the shoes of Rupp's brilliant captain.

But Calvert didn't remain obscure for long.

He hit for eight points in the Cats' opening game loss to Marquette, and then came back the next night with 19 against Penn State in the consolation battle.

These 19 points, incidentally, represent his highest single game total in college play.

Rating the NCAA as the high spot thus far in his hardwood career, Calvert said, "you feel like you're in a daze, and all of a sudden you're out there playing."

Gerry was born in Decatur, Ill., but moved to Maysville before entering high school. While at Maysville, he made All-State two years and was a star on the baseball team.

One peculiarity about Maysville is the fact that, although it has been a basketball hotbed for many years, and has produced many All-Staters (such as George Cooke and Bud Shoemaker), no Maysville boy in recent years has been a college standout until Calvert.

Sharing the feeling prevalent among UK cagers, that Georgia Tech was not their toughest opponent last year, Gerry named Alabama as the outstanding team he played against last year, and cited Terry Rand, Marquette's great center, as the best player he faced.

A physical education major, he is still somewhat uncertain as to future plans. He has thought some about trying professional baseball (he is varsity centerfielder on UK's diamond team). However, Gerry, who graduates in 1957, may change his mind by then and enter medical school. If, as he said, "I can keep my grades up,"

Although he has only started three games, Gerry may, if he continues his stellar play, make UK fans place him with another 5-11 guard of a few years ago — All-American Ralph Beard.

Lowell Hughes Signs Football Grant-In-Aid

Lowell Hughes, brother of UK quarterback Delmar Hughes, has signed a grant-in-aid with Kentucky.

Hughes, an exceptionally outstanding quarterback for Prestonsburg has been on the "wanted" list at UK for the past couple of seasons.

The Floyd Countian, in his last three years of high school football amassed an average of 68 plus per cent in completing 225 passes in 347 attempts for 3,482 yards.

But not only has his name been recorded in Kentucky high school record books of grid greats, he is also a top-notch basketball player.

Intramural Standings

SAE and Newman Club B are the present leaders in UK's all-year intramural race.

SAE leads the fraternity race with 118 points, holding a 36½ point lead over runner-up KA, who had 81½.

SN is close behind in third place with 77; LTD is fourth with 56 and PKT is sixth with 32 points.

Newman Club B has a leading total of 61½ points, followed by Dorm I with 38. BSU is the only other independent organization that is close behind the two leaders as they have 18 points.

These totals were based on points gathered in flag football, basketball free-throw, croquet, golf singles plus mixed doubles, and the Turkey Run.

RUMORS of an Intramural allstar basketball game to be played as a preliminary contest to one of UK's varsity cage tilts may be very much in the picture.

Back in 1948 a program such as this was put on and reports say that it went over in grand style.

The set up will go something like this. Ten fraternity players, selected as the best netters in their division, and a similar number of independent all-stars will constitute the two squads. Regular practice sessions under the direction of student coaches (probably winning mentors of frat and non Greek divisions) will be held. Selection of the 20 top cagers should be handled by mural coaches and officials.

This is a fine proposal, if true, and my able I-M sportswriter, Scoop White, says it is. It can draw considerable attention to UK's student athletic program not just from within the University but with outsiders as well. If the game DOES develop and is a success maybe it will become an annual affair.

DON'T be surprised when Coach Harry Lancaster's Kittens take to the hardwood next Monday evening and you see an outstanding frosh squad. Contrary to popular belief that the yearlings are hurtin-for-certain is the fact that they will have a well-rounded club to represent Kentucky.

Talking to Coach Harry Lancaster about his group he said that they were "looking fairly good." Lancaster also praised the work of center John Cox, a 6-4 whiz from Hazard.

WHEN Georgia's Governor Marvin Griffin came out with his idiotic statement that the Sugar Bowl game should be played by "Southern rules," with no Negroes participating, in New Orleans, it just goes to show you what politics can do to the American sports. No doubt there was a political motive for the governor's intentions, recognizing the state he represents, but he should keep his undemocratic nose out of athletics.

More power to Pittsburgh's team AND Georgia Tech. They certainly have hit a rough obstacle even before reaching the holiday contest.

BLANTON Collier shouldn't have quarterback worries for the next few years since Lowell Hughes has signed a grant-in-aid.

Of course Hughes doesn't have to make UK his final choice but no other SEC school will get him for sure! Besides, I expect brother Delmar will sway any intentions, if any, of Lowell to go to another institution.

ALLEN Felch, paralyzed UK football star, will get a big boost on the road to recovery when he receives a check totaling $6500. A sum of six thousand dollars was donated by Kentucky fans and the remaining $500 will come from the K Club. The club has decided not to program their annual dance in order that they may contribute to their grid buddy Felch. Bob Hardy and Bernie Shively will fly to Chicago where they will visit Felch and his wife at Hines Veteran's Hospital.

Mural Cage Tourney Now In Full Swing

By SCOOP WHITE
(Editor's Note: Scoop is an SAE.)

The fraternity basketball tournament opened Wednesday night with nine teams trying to prevent PKT from capturing its third consecutive basketball title.

In the opening round SAE easily romped over PSK 59-37 showing smooth ball-handling and accurate shooting. The SAE regulars played the first half and built up a 30-19 lead while the subs came in in the second half and raised the lead to 22 points at game's end. Bill Martin and "Bo" Griffin led the SAE attack with 13 and 11 points respectively. Martin made nine of his points on free throws. By winning, SAE moves into the semi-finals where they will meet the winner of the SX-KA game.

Ray Leist and Ronnie Garvin scored 10 and nine points to lead SN to a 39-32 first round victory over AGR.

SN broke a four game AGR winning streak in eliminating them from further play. AGR was last year's fraternity runner-up. SN now plays the PKT-ATO winner in the other fraternity semifinals. ATO won a thrilling overtime victory over FH 32-28.

FH led 9-8 at half, but ATO rallied to tie it up 28-all at the end of regulation time. Jack Burchett and Don Mills were high for the winners as they tallied eight points each.

SX won the other tourney game by forfeit over LXA.

DTD finished its regular season by capturing a 24-21 decision over PKA. Reeves Jackson again led the Deltas, scoring seven points.

ATO nosed out TRI 40-37 with Hugh Smith and Burchett leading the way with 13 and 11 points. Ed Newlin was high for TRI with 18 followed by Omer Carter's 10. Bennie Coffman's 13 points aided SAE to an easy 44-21 win over SPE. Ronald Fuydal was high for SPE with 10 points.

KA defeated ATO 50-29 with Jim Farris' 16 markers being high for KA. Jim Flynn and Dan Chandler gave Farris good support by scoring 10 points each.

KA captured its fifth straight victory by romping over TRI 57-31. Farris again was high with 17. "Short" Sautley and Chandler followed Farris with 14 and 12 points respectively.

LXA, led by the sharpshooting of O. C. Gartin, handed ATO a 45-34 defeat. Gartin hit the nets for 17 points, while Tom Gunter scored 11 for runner-up honors.

SPE won a close decision over KS 31-29. Jon Collier led SPE with 18 and Verne Engstrom was high for the losers with 13. SAE came out victorious 49-38 over SN. Don Crutcher's 12 point performance was high for SAE.

Three Undefeated Teams Vie For Engineer's Hoop Crown

Three unbeaten teams seem to be the chief challengers in Civil Engineers' quest for a second straight independent basketball championship.

The independent tournament began last night and CE was to meet Dorm I in its first title defense. Newman Club I (6-0), Independent Cats (5-0), and Clifton Cats (5-0) are the unbeaten teams after CE's title.

Sharp Shooters (4-1) and Canterbury (4-1) are dark horses.

Newman Club I defeated BSU II 54-34 as Ed Lassiter, Bob Vogel, and Tom Milton each tallied 11 points for the winners.

Dorm III handed the Freshman AC a 31-26 defeat as Ralph Gunter led the winners with eight points. Charlie Hedden's 11 points was high for the losers. Dorm III led at half 14-14.

Dick DeLozier and Steve Logan scored 20 and 15 points to lead defeating champs, CE, to a 51-44 victory over Cool HA's. John Smith's 20-point performance led Cool HA.

Clifton Cats handed Sharp Shooters their first and only loss by defeating them 40-31. Perry Cornett was high for the Cats with 16, followed by Don Blevins with 10.

Mechanical Engineers easily defeated BSU III 57-30 as John King and Bobby Flynn each netted 12 points.

John Riley was close behind with 10 for the ME team.

CE, led by Harold Mays and Steve Logan with 14 points each, downed the Freshman AC 44-24.

Cool HA had little trouble in disposing of Dorm III 47-27. John Smith and Wanner tallied 20 and 18 points respectively in leading Cool HA.

Dorm I nosed out BSU III 30-29 as John Johnson scored 20 points to lead the winners. Simpson was high for the losers with eight.

George Gleason's 11 points led the Independent Cats to a 40-29 win over BSU III. It was the fifth straight win for the unbeaten Cats.

Canterbury was a 50-33 victor over ME with three players hitting the double figures for the winners.

Bill Woodall, Walter Smitson, and Charlie Ray scored 16, 14, and 12 points respectively to lead Canterbury.

CE defeated Wesley Foundation 43-36. Dick DeLozier's 13 points were high for CE, but Homer Blythe was close behind with 11.

Jim Hamilton was high point man for the losers with 13.
