SILVER CUP OFFERED IN FIELD MEET OF CLASSES HELD WED., THU., FRI.

Compete For Positions on The Varsity Squad For 1924

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

Dashes and Hurdles Have Many Candidates Entered in Contest

The first inter-class track meet of the season began Wednesday, when some fifty-odd track athletes turned out on Stoll Field to determine the class championship of the University. The regular sixteen events are being held in the same manner as in a dual meet.

A silver cup has been offered to the winning team by the Athletic Department. A team must win the cup four times in succession to become the permanent owner. The freshmen, who won the cup last year, seem to be slight favorites this year, as sophomore class representatives.

It will take three days to run the meet, as the dashes and hurdle races will have to be run in heats, because of the great number of entries.

The time schedule for the meet is:

- Wednesday
 4:00—100 yard dash trials.
 4:10—120-yard high hurdle trials.
 4:30—Mile run, final.
 4:45—220-yard dash trials.
 4:55—220 low hurdle trials.
 5:15—440-yard dash, final.
 4:00—High jump finals.
 4:30—Shot put finals.
- Thursday
 4:00—100-yard dash, finals.
 4:15—120-yard high hurdle, finals.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY GIVES PLEASING CONCERT

Programs Are Becoming More Popular With Music Lovers of Community

The concert of the Philharmonic Society at the Romany Theatre Sun- day afternoon was delightfully receiv- ed by an audience that filled every seat in the little play house.

The society was fortunate in secur- ing the services of Mr. Fred Bagshaw of Lexington, who kindly offered his time and talent and played the solo violo part in Aimsy-Korakow's "Song of India," in a charming manner. Miss Jeanette Lampert played a violin solo, "Londonderry Air" arranged by Kreisler. Three Brahms waltzes were favor- ites with the audience and Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys" was especially enjoyed. Before each se- lection Mr. Lampert made a short talk concerning its composer and theme.

These concerts are attracting wide attention among music lovers of Lex- ington, and Professor Lampert, direc- tor of the orchestra, is pleased with their enthusiastic reception. They fill a real need in the musical life of the community and are up to the stand- ard of the productions of the Music Department, representing some of its best talent.

GLEE CLUB WILL SING

Is on Program of Alumni Banquet to Be Held During K. E. A.

The latest reports from the committee on the alumni banquet, to be given in the rathskeller of the Seebach Hotel Thursday, April 24, are to the effect that everything is working out nicely.

Wellington Patrick, chairman of a committee on arrangements at the University, has had a number of letters from Leo J. Sandman, who is in charge of the Louisville part of the arrangements. Mr. Sandman has arranged to have from 200 to 500 served according to the number of applications for reservations before the night of the banquet.

The Kernel, on another part of this page, has a blank to be filled out by all alumni wanting reservations for the banquet. Each alumnus has the privilege of inviting a friend or two of those who may be in Louisville for the K. E. A., whether they are former students or not.

Dr. McVey will be at the banquet and probably Governor William J. Fields, ex-14. The Glee Club, which will probably be on the regular program of the convention, will also furnish part of the entertainment at the banquet.

Mr. Patrick desires to hear from all alumni who expect to attend the banquet so there may be some way of estimating how many to expect.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU IS ACTIVE

Four Members Have Appeared Before High Schools and Clubs

The Student Speakers' Bureau which was organized last year to send prominent students from the campus to address gatherings in various sections of the state has been fairly active this winter and a number of addresses have been made by the best speakers in the bureau.

Early in March C. M. C. Porter, a member of the senior class, went to the Finchville High School, in Shelby County, and made an address before a crowd of more than 200 students and patrons of the school. Previous to that H. H. Grooms, of the law college, appeared before the Alumni Club at Somerset.

Recently H. C. Johnson, of the law college, was the principal speaker at an all day meeting held at the Buena Vista High School, in Garrard county. In old fashioned camp meeting style the congregation brought their dinner and spread it out for all on the ground. This meeting was also well attended.

The last week in February, James Darnell, of the junior class, appeared before the Kiwanis Club in Pineville. Two weeks ago he appeared before a joint meeting of the Kiwanis and Young Men's Business Clubs of Louisville. Darnell addressed these clubs at a luncheon at the Brown Hotel, at which more than 500 persons were guests.

Later in the spring several of the speakers will have arrangements to make addresses at the high school commencements. C. M. C. Porter has already consented to make the commencement address at Fordsville, in Ohio county.

Letters which have been received from the places where these men appeared are uniform in their favorable expressions of the speeches of the members of the bureau. The speakers bureau gives the individual students an opportunity to work for the University and at the same time become acquainted with more people themselves and give the high schools and business men the true story of the institution.

TO RUN FOREVER

Just before Christmas the business manager of the Kernel received a letter from the Carrier Engineering Corporation placing an order for an advertisement to run forever. The letter said "just a little token of good will to run on the alumni page forever."

The Carrier Engineering Corporation is engaged in manufacturing and installing air conditioners. The add says "manufacturers of weather, to make every day a good day."

J. Irvine Lyle, class of '96, is general manager and secretary of the corporation, and John Esten Bolling, class of '15, is in charge of the publicity of the company. Every year the company takes several new men from the senior class until now there are fourteen graduates in the employ of the company.

THE LOST MAY BE FOUND

The office is glad to announce that some of the lost are found. Of the list published recently about 10 persons have been located. We are glad to report that of the old graduates located all were alive and apparently well. Glance over the list published this week to see if you can't lend a hand in finding the rest of the ninety and nine for there is more joy in the alumni office over one lost alumnus found than in getting three letters from old faithfuls. However, some of you old faithfuls write into us and offer some suggestions of a good way to detect the whereabouts of some of these misplaced alumni.

Class of '15—Esther Mae Bailey, Jeanette Bell, Logan Bentley Caywood, David Dallas Donohoo, Elizabeth Fearn Eldridge, Zachariah Pierce Hamilton, Melvin Hays Judd, John McGarvey Ligon, Archie Xavier Pfeiffer, Charles Stephenson Rainey, Gustavus Adolphus Rice, Thomas Hart Robinson, Clarence Barbour Shoemaker, Newell Pemberton Smith, Arthur Eugene Wegert.

The color scheme was carried out in the fraternity colors, pale and dark blue. Paper ribbon fringes in the two colors was draped from the ceiling to form a leafy canopy. Large peacock feathers were arranged on the panels between the windows and figures of peafowls were on each side of the orchestra balcony. Opposite the entrance a curtain of pale blue and a white lattice formed a beautiful background. A huge peacock, gorgeous in color, and with small electric globes in each feather, was the central figure of the decorative scheme. Favors for the girls were peacock feather fans and for the men new small gold knives. The Blue and White Orchestra furnished the music.

President's Reception

The reception with which President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey entertained the members of the faculty and staff of the University and their wives Monday evening at Maxwell Place, was a most brilliant and beautiful affair.

The house was decorated with lovely spring flowers and plants which were placed about the spacious rooms. Many candles added to the beauty of the scene.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement exercises this year will be held during the week of examinations. In former years the sentiment has been that only those "unfortunates" who graduate were unluckily forced to remain for the baccalaureate sermon and the commencement exercises.

To a certain degree, students have been justified in not remaining for commencement. At that time of the year the student begins to tire of the long grind of school session. The last few days are crowded with examinations and preparations for departure. Tension is high. Consequently, it is difficult for one to remain another week to attend the commencement exercises.

With the change, which places commencement during the week of examinations, every student will have the privilege of attending and witnessing these beautiful and impressive ceremonies. It is the duty of every student to take an active interest in the affairs of his Alma Mater. These ceremonies mark the final and highest service which a university can bestow upon the student. With the attainment of the cap and gown, that student is fitted to begin a life of service. Let's all attend commencement exercises.

QUALITY

It is a fact that less than a decade ago, the University of Kentucky was notorious for its name as harboring "a bunch of roughnecks and rowdies." If one inadvertently let it be known that he attended or had attended the University, his auditors immediately classified him as being a fit subject for iron bars and prison stripes.

It is true that the majority of students were not of this type, but it is also true that a few who were cast aspersions on the name of the University and the majority of the students. The townspeople had no use for the students, and it seems justly so, due to the lawless actions of the few. As a seat of learning, Kentucky held but little rank at home or abroad.

This condition no longer exists. Little or no rowdiness is noted on the campus. The students deport themselves at all times in an irreproachable manner. Scholarship standards have been raised, and a higher moral tone pervades University life.

One no longer needs be ashamed to "tell the world" that he attends the University of Kentucky. The University is being recognized in our own state as well as in other states as a progressive, clean school of high standards. Graduates of this school are being recognized as men and women of merit, and are able to secure better positions from the recognition of this fact by employers.

It is the duty of each student to take a personal interest in the promotion of the good name of the University. Every action of the student has a direct bearing upon public opinion concerning our school. We are judged by what we are, so let us be our best selves.

ARE MODERN UNIVERSITIES HOTBEDS OF UNBELIEF?

In the face of the statement that modern universities are turning out ranks and files of flappers and cake-eaters, many people add the opinion that higher education is making infidels and atheists of the younger generation. The argument is inconsistent. An unbeliever is always a person of sparkling intellect and keen wit. If our college men and women are to be charged with one offense, at least they are involuntarily cleared of the other.

When people determine the meaning of the terms belief and unbelief, the time will be more ripe for separating the sheep from the goats. These words, after all, are mooted terms and excellent sources of dispute for those who do not think alike. Conventional middle age thinks youth atheistical, and youth believes old age narrow and intolerant. And so it goes.

There is one thing that university students have learned, and that is fearlessness. Where there is religion, it is revered by them. Where there is sham, it is denounced by them. None are so quick as they to detect lack of sincerity.

The conception of life and religion in the student mind is radically different from that of the former generation. God is not a distant Spirit to be worshipped on Sunday and forgotten on week days. The despotic Yahweh of the whirlwind and the tempest is one with Zeus and Jupiter. The God of the youth of today is a God whose handiwork is nature and whose revelation is in the orbits of the sun, stars and planets. The religion of the youth of today is based on the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. Aribity dogmas and doctrinal tenets hold minor places among the majority of university students. The majesty of God as He is revealed in nature and in the commonplace, and the magnetic personality of Him who was lifted up and daily draws men unto Him are the forces at work today.

Religion is not dead. It has received a new birth. To quote those innumerable words that arose in the World War:

"Religion is betting one's life there is a God."

The soul of Donald Hankey lives somewhere beyond the realms of time and space—the triumphant leader of those of us who were marching into the glorious dawn of a new day. Courage, daring and faith such as his are the banners of the vanguard of the new order. America need not fear. Her educated youth are the hope and salvation of religion.

DIGGIN' IN

Since time immemorial, man has honored custom, passed tradition down thru the ages and has held sacred and preserved inviolate each line and each requirement of tradition and custom.

This year the very old custom, hair cutting, was abolished because it did not any longer blend with the finesse of campus life. In its place was inaugurated the Freshman cap.

Sad to relate this form of hazing has not been taken seriously, in fact, few of the Freshmen are wearing their caps. This would not have to be mentioned if the Freshmen really had the spirit of the University at heart. But they have not. Instead they have created among themselves an idea that they are being humiliated by the upper classmen. This of course is impossible, for the average Freshman in the eyes of the upper classmen has not yet reached the stage where humiliation may be obtained.

The Freshmen have been asked kindly to wear these caps. Some still refuse, logic has proven of no use. Most of them are too dumb to understand it, but thank heaven there is one voice which speaks a language which all of them understand, namely the paddle, and we recommend that it be uncovered and administered freely to those whose idea of school spirit does not coincide with the code of ethics set by the upper class men for them.

We have witnessed some of the inter-fraternity games and we were astounded at the skill and agility displayed by some of the players. They really neared perfection in awkwardness, and inaccuracy. So prominent were these traits that we will pick a mythical alk-Greek team and recommend that they hold a telegraphic meet with Ed Dansforth's selection.

In our mind there would be no doubt as to the outcome of such a game. The team:

Forwards—Sneed Yager, John Dundon; center, Ed Fitch; guards—Russ Vanzant, Sam Hillen.

We learn with much regret the fact that Gov. Fields voted that part of the University appropriation bill which provides for the Chemistry Department and for the Experiment Station. This situation is not a new experience for the students of the University, but rather one of long standing for the past three gubernatorial terms. Stanley could not see fit; Morrow could not conscientiously pass the bill, and the present Governor has vetoed it without any apparent reason. All of which leads us to believe that Judge Mulligan was right when he wrote, "And politics is the damndest in Kentucky."

We have noticed, during the past week, that one of our great athletes has fallen from his throne of bachelordom. How did she do it?

We have been requested to ask the students to please remember that the traffic signs on the campus belong to the University and not the city. Please remember this, especially on Saturday nights.

III. Artistry and Devotion in Salesmanship

By T. H. BAILEY WHIPPLE

Why do so many salesmen fail to achieve success in their chosen vocation?

In considering this subject, let us eliminate those possessing a low or even an average native capacity, and those of very meager culture, because concerning such the answer to the question is too obvious to justify discussion. Let us consider only those of real capacity; those who really have a very thorough knowledge of the products they offer for sale, and much auxiliary commercial, general, and even technical information. Let us also consider salesmen of character much above the average, and who industriously cover their territories and daily send in reports of the day's doings.

Also, let us consider those who are self-possessed and more than usually fluent in talking their goods. Let us repeat our question, why do so many salesmen of such qualities and qualifications fall short of the "top-notch" class?

Numerous Answers All True

Many answers might be given, all true, so far as contributory truth is concerned, such as:

The pitch of enthusiasm being just a little too low.

Tactfulness not quite sufficient.

Aggressiveness not quite strong enough.

Courage or tact or both not sufficiently active when the psychological moment is discerned.

Balance between dignified independence and persuasive persistence not affectively adjusted.

Taking a little too much or not quite enough for granted.

Over-credulity in relying upon promises of future action.

Over-confidence that fails in applying methods of sustained dynamic action.

Too much time spent with favorite customers to permit of creating the most new ones.

Many other minor shortcomings, the multiplicity of which are cumulative in negative effect, although individually hardly pronounced enough to be vividly recognizable in the field of the salesman's own consciousness, but while carrying him to the threshold of high success fail to carry him across it.

Be Devoted to Work

Again our question, what is the cause or principle underlying this failure to carry this success of more than the usual standard to the point of very unusual achievement? If we will omit the consideration of superlative success, the result of genius itself, we may justly conclude that the failure under consideration is not the result of intellectual limitation, but rather because of an emotional inappreciation which fails to awaken the real devotional attitude from which all highly artistic prominence emanates. This element of devotion to one's life work is an instinct, an impelling force, an aesthetic taste, susceptible to training and concomitant to all high expression of art, for art itself is the offspring of devotional intensity.

Devotion, like prayer, is rewarded more in subjective influence than by direct objective result. This dominating influence is susceptible of cultivation. Good taste, progressively cultivated, will gravitate toward it under the action of self-imposed tasks, sustained by the will and moulded by habit. I advise all my readers, especially young men, to read, study and practice the "Education of the Will," as outlined by Jules Payot (Funk & Wagnalls, Publishers). Most salesmen fail after qualifying in all other respects, because they inadequately consider the synthesis feature in their sales talks. This feature embraces the following:

Summing up of salient points.
Drawing conclusions.

Assisting the prospect to decide through powerful suggestion.

Theatres are packed at $1.50 to $5.00 an auditor to see and hear a great actor. Suppose instead of inflicting the usual sales talk of the average salesman upon the indulgent buyer, the latter had to pay the price of $10 an interview for the privilege of demonstration of the average salesman. How many salesmen would ever get a second interview with the same prospect? How many would merge the alpha and omega of their sales performance into one brief experience, and among those who survived, what a great improvement over present methods would be demanded and acquired.

"Personality is modified mind stuff or original substance which constitutes the basis of individuality, acted upon and moulded into form by all-contributing will. We can fashion ourselves after the order of our thinking by applying the energies at our command or we can just let ourselves become what we may under the control of unmodified environment."

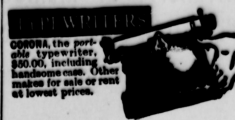

CARELESS OF HIM.

"Terribly rough," said the stranger on board the liner.

"Well," said the farmer, "it wouldn't be near so rough if the captain would only keep in the furrows."—The Virginia Reel.

COMMON COLDS OFTEN CAUSE SERIOUS ILLNESS

Students are Urged to Care For All Disorders Early

The so-called "common-cold" is perhaps the cause of more sick absenteeism in the worlds of school business and industry than any other known disease. It strikes quickly and often temporarily disables thoroughly.

The essential thing is to deal with it early; to realize that the group of introductory symptoms may be the prelude of more severe diseases. With a modern "hot house existence" in a rapidly changing climate, sinus involvement is an increasing complication. Students are urged to keep these items in mind and to report as soon as symptoms develop. Early treatment may save days or weeks of disability. Do not harbor the idea that you should be hesitant about a minor affair; the great creed in medical circles is to prevent as far as possible. Early attention to the common cold is medical common sense even if immediate cure is not always effected.

The second item is immediate care of minor infections such as small boils (too many are like Topsy—they "just growed") and infected scratches. Surgical experience has confirmed the danger of allowing these to go unhindered until more tissues have been destroyed or extension has taken place. In industry, permanent disabilities have resulted by workmen paying no attention to trivial injuries.

Students are urged to keep these items in mind and to report as soon as symptoms develop.

UNIVERSITY OF MEXICO OPEN TO U. S. STUDENTS

Americans are Invited to the Fourth Summer Session in Mexico City

"American students and teachers are invited to enjoy the privileges of study at the National University of Mexico," writes Douglas L. Parker, representative of the American Friends Service Committee in Mexico.

"The revolution is over, and people are returning to normal activities," says Mr. Parker.

"Mexico wants and needs our friendship, and the summer school of the Mexican National University is one of the most potent agencies for the fostering of international friendship and understanding between Americans and Mexicans.

"The rates are reasonable, the climate is delightful and the opportunities are unusual for American students to study American life and civilization.

"A knowledge of the Spanish language is not a prerequisite."

The fourth summer session of the National University of Mexico will be held in Mexico City from July 9 to August 22, 1924. Beginning, intermediate and advanced students of Spanish will find here most favorable opportunities for studying that language. Facilities for research in history and archaeology are exceptional.

It is hoped that the cordial relations established by the three hundred American professors and students of the 1923 summer session will be fortified by new contracts this summer.

Engineering Notes

Mr. Fred W. Luker, class of 1921, recently visited the College of Engineering. Mr. Luker, who has been employed by the A. S. Spark Plug Co., of Flint, Mich., in the research department, has changed his location to Detroit, Mich. In his new location he will be with the Ford Motor Company, and will continue his work as research engineer.

C. H. Cecil and H. S. Jackson, seniors in the College of Engineering, recently went to Middletown, Ohio, where they spent two days making plans for their graduation theses that will be prepared with the assistance of the engineers of the American Rolling Mill Company at Middletown. Messrs. Cecil and Jackson are Metallurgical Engineers and will be employed in the plant of the American Rolling Mill Company at Ashland, Ky., after their graduation.

Mr. Howard Ingles, a member of the class of 1904, arrived in Lexington March 31, to spend several days with his father's family and will be present April 4, at the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University, of which he is a member.

Mr. N. A. Newton, who was graduated from the College of Engineering with the class of 1894, was a visitor at the University the latter part of last week. At present he is general director of sales of the National Transit Company, located at Oil City, Pa., at which place he has been for 25 years.

Agricultural Notes

A room on the first floor of the Agricultural building has been fitted up for use as a club room for the Agriculture and Home Economics students.

The comet came back

The great comet that was seen by William of Normandy returned to our skies in 1910 on its eleventh visit since the Conquest. Astronomers knew when it would appear, and the exact spot in the sky where it would first be visible.

Edmund Halley's mathematical calculation of the great orbit of this 76-year visitor—his scientific proof that comets are part of our solar system—was a brilliant application of the then unpublished Principia of his friend Sir Isaac Newton.

The laws of motion that Newton and Halley proved to govern the movements of a comet are used by scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company to determine the orbit of electrons in vacuum tubes.

As spectacular as a comet has been the world's electrical development. By continuous scientific research the General Electric Company has accelerated this development and has become a leader in the industry.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB OPENS SEASON AT FRANKFORT

Program is Given Before Large Audience at First Christian Church

The Men's Glee Club of the University of Kentucky in its initial appearance at Frankfort on March 27, pleased an appreciative audience at the assembly hall of the First Christian Church.

A chorus of twenty-five voices, a quartette, solo and violin solo provided a varied program of entertainment. Frequent encores expressed Frankfort's approval of the program. A contrast of chorus singing and negro spirituals furnished a diversity of music which was pleasing to the hearers. The quartette composed of Robert Clem, Paul Matthews, Earl M. Heavrin and Elbert DeCoursey rendered a number of selections. Solo numbers were given by Elmer Barker, Robert Clem and Samuel Adams.

Professor Lampert, whose leadership and enthusiasm are responsible for the interest the University is taking in musical activities, favored the audience with a violin solo. Miss Pearl Martin, pianist, accompanied the singers.

than their opponents; won three matches and lost four.

The squad has done remarkable shooting, the lowest of the high five never scoring less than 95, and in several of the matches the lowest score was 98. The girls on the squad are: Margaret Doty, Dorothy Kerth, Geneva Rice, Virginia Kelly, Elsie Coleman, Nellie Clay Corbin, Lelia Stroker, Lillian Rasch and Mary Louise Norman.

At the beginning of the first semester, twenty-four girls signed up for rifle practice and were showing steady improvement. Jeanette Lampert, Lydia Kahnt and Estella Hebden were among those making high scores. All except the nine composing the squad dropped out before the second semester.

No matches were engaged in during the first semester. During the week of February 15, Kentucky was defeated by Oklahoma A. and M., and during the week of February 23, Kentucky outshot Indiana University and the University of Maine. Two weeks later Kentucky was defeated by Vermont and Nebraska. The week ending March 15, Kentucky defeated De-paw, and lost to Cincinnati two weeks later by one point.

WILDCATS FINISH THIRD IN ANNUAL L. A. A. F. MEET IN LOUISVILLE

James Allen is High Point Maker for Blue and White; Hall and Miller Score

BUTLER MAN BEATS RAY

Illinois Athletic Club Wins Meet and Butler College Takes Second

The University of Kentucky finished third in the annual L. A. A. F. track and field carnival, which was held in Louisville last Saturday, with 13 points. The Illinois Athletic Club won the meet with 36 points and was closely followed by Butler College, of Indianapolis, who registered 27 points. James Allen was the star of the blue and white squad, winning the 880-yard run in the good time of 2:02½. He led his field from the start and finished in excellent shape. So far this season Allen has shown more form than any other man on the squad. In the meet held at Cincinnati he finished fourth in the mile run and was beaten only by such men as Joie Ray. Much emphasis should be placed on the fact that at the Louisville meet was the first time that Allen has run the 880, except in tryouts. Uncas Miller and Ray Hall were the other point makers for Kentucky. Miller finished third in the 440-yard dash and Hall finished third in the mile handicap.

H. Phillips, Butler College freshman, pulled the surprise of the meet when he outfooted Joie Ray, Illinois Athletic Club runner and holder of the world records, and Emil Krog, also of the I. A. C., in the half mile run. Phillips negotiated the distance in 2:01 2-5. According to members of the Butler squad this was Phillip's first race.

St. John's Military Institute, of Del-field, Wis., was first in the high school events. East High, of Cincinnati, was second, and Louisville Male High was third. Only one-fourth of a point separated the second and third schools.

Miss Norma Zilk, 15-year-old Chicago star, broke the national indoor scholastic 80-yard dash record for girls twice during the meet. She brought the record down 10 seconds in winning the finals after clipping it to 10 1-5 in the preliminary.

 - Right guard "Hilo" Hill

 - Right end "Phili" Rice
 - Quarterback "Liz" Helm
 - Halfback "Sport" Taylor
 - Fullback "Patriot" Klopp
 - Halfback "Dee" Jameson
 - Drawback "Ginnie" Kelley
- Scrubs: Bess Boughton and Irene Morgan.

Fritz Leiber, the Shakespearian actor, was submitted to a long and trying interview not so long ago by a woman reporter, who finally wound up with this question: "Don't you think, Mr. Leiber, that if the immortal William were alive today he would be looked upon almost in the nature of a curiosity?"

"Indeed, he would," answered the actor. "Just think of it! He'd be more than three hundred years old."—New York Evening Post.

BASEBALL SQUAD GETS KNOCK BY WEATHERMAN

Barger Selects Tentative Team For Game With U. of Indiana

After a week of pretty weather and hard practice the baseball squad was met Monday afternoon by a cold wave and a sprinkling of snow. Much of the practice this week has been confined to the gym. The pitchers and catchers have been warming up every afternoon but they cannot get in shape unless the weatherman can give them some more good weather.

Coach Barger was especially anxious this week to be the best of weather as much practice is necessary in order to get the boys in shape for their first game which is to be played on Stoll Field, April 10, when the Wildcats meet the nine from the University of Indiana. No definite lineup has been given out as all the men have not had sufficient practice to show their real ability.

From present indications the probable lineup will be: Miller 1b, Capt. Rouse 2b, Alberts ss, Croft 3b, Henry or Sauer catcher, Vossmeier, Hughes, Riffe, Stith, Boren or Barnes as outfielders, and the pitcher will be selected from the following: Stokes, True, Hughes, Riffe, Vossmeier, and Samuels.

From all reports the Indiana squad is having as much trouble as Kentucky in getting ready for the game. All of this section has been infested with bad weather so things should be about even when the two teams meet. Kentucky should have the best team that they have had for years, with the letter men of last year and the numerical men from the team of '23 on hand. A hard schedule has been arranged for the Cats.

POWER OF PRAYER

"A Sabbath school teacher, because no conversions had occurred in her class of sixteen young men, resigned, thinking herself to blame or unfitted for the great work. Seeing the unflagging interest of her pupils, neither the superintendent nor pastor would consent to it. In her anxiety she prayed more earnestly for the Holy Spirit's help.

"One day while thus pleading she was so strongly moved to go and see a certain one at his home that she at once yielded, and in that home parlor she told her anxiety that when prayer was suggested the pupil kneeled with her and soon yielded to Christ and was most happily converted. Thus encouraged, she visited another, and another in turn, as opportunity opened, till she saw the whole sixteen won to Christ and added to the church.

"As vacancies occurred in her class others joined, who were often converted. These pupils passing out into the business world were urged by her to write annually a letter as to their Christian life, until finally she was receiving as years rolled on over two hundred letters from missionaries, lawyers, mechanics, farmers, physicians and others from various parts of the world, still busy in pulpit, or Sabbath School, or other church work."

What if this teacher had persisted in her determination to give up her class? Would God have held her responsible? Will He hold you responsible if you give up? "Let us not (as soul winning Christian workers) be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not." (Gal. 6:9).—A Tract.

A TRUE CALF STORY

The papers are continually telling that some bones or eggs have been found and that some professor says that they are many hundreds of thousands of years old. J. J. Taylor in the following tells us about some bones and what the scientists said of them:

"A while ago there lived in Knoxville a man who went out into the mountains to open up a mine. One night the cabin in which he slept was burned. In the ashes were found scorched bones and a heart scorched and blackened by the flames. The pitiful remains were carefully gathered up and carried into the city. The coroner and the scientists from the University of Tennessee were called. Ample time was given and all known laboratory tests suited to the case were applied. Guided by the learned scientists the jury brought in a solemn verdict: 'We find the remains to be those of A. B. Blank, who came to his death by a fire in the place of his residence, and so forth. The undertaker and the preacher were duly notified, and the last sad rites solemnly observed. In the city of the dead there appeared a new-made grave strewn with flowers.

The chapter ended, but there was a sequel. Later the man appeared and told the tale. He had gotten into debt and discouragement. He got a calf into the hut, knocked it down, set the place on fire and left for other scenes. Like Dr Keen, the University scientists considered the calf's bones and a calf's heart the same as a man's bones and a man's heart. At any rate their science did not know the difference; and following scientific ignorance the preacher and the choir prayed and sang over the remains of a beautiful bull. This is the truth wherever found, on heathen or on christian grounds, and the man who distrusts his Bible and goes after the guesses of evolutionists is likely to find himself singing psalms over the dead calves or doing something else just as foolish and just as funny."
