Just to brighten the page, "Honey" Jones, a senior in Education, poses for the Kernel photographer amid a bed of leaves.

Little Girls Aren't Exactly As Mother Goose Proclaims

Just what females are made of is something that occupies the interest of most men sooner or later. Many of us, going on information supplied back in our more impressionable kindergarten days, still think of the fair sex in terms of the misleading rhyme that asserts: Sugar and spice and everything nice; that's what little girls are made of.

That clever little bit of propaganda goes almost unchallenged during the grade school period despite a few signs that all isn't as it's painted. Like the sweet little chick who giggles delightedly when teacher gives a switching to some hapless male who brought a snake into the classroom. Or the sweet one's innocent sister who deliberately wears pig-tails just so they can be pulled occasionally or dunked into an inkwell and then two-facedly howls to teacher when some poor male does what comes naturally.

Pretty Green Walks Are All Very Nice, But So Is Safety

Lovers of beauty will be delighted to learn that the University is going all out in an effort to beautify botanical gardens. Even the sidewalks are being tinted a delicate green so they'll merge with the surrounding grass and not offend the eye of the discriminating stroller.

Possibly there are some who will resent the new sidewalks, but not us. Despite our ink-smudged hands, we on the Kernel enjoy beauty and the other fine things of life just as much as the next fellow. We think the sidewalks will be an improvement, and if they aren't, what's the difference? You won't be able to see them anyway.

One thing bothers us though. Love of beauty has a rival for complete domination of our affection—we're quite fond of our necks.

Any of you taken a stroll down the steps of Miller Hall lately . . . or tried to climb up the front entrance to Frazee Hall? Those crumbling, sinking steps are no longer just a mere disgrace to the University, they've become downright dangerous.

It doesn't really make a bit of difference to us what color the concrete is—whether it's red, green, blue, or just dirty old grey—but it would be nice to see workmen fix up those steps before some hapless student breaks a leg while en route to an 8 o'clock class some misty morning.

These initial suspicions that the real article doesn't quite jibe with her advanced billing come close to downright certainty in the mind of a fairly alert male by the time he gets to high school. After graduation, the perflid and plain contrariness of the female become even more obvious. Additional suspicions as to the true nature of woman are brought to light by mature experience and conversations with married comrades.

Being aware of the general situation, we were highly gratified the other day when we ran across a chemical analysis of woman. We present it with the earnest suggestion that it be adopted by the nation's schools in place of the misleading doctrine that is currently being taught.

The analysis:

The average human female is made up of 30 to 40 teaspoons of salt, eight to 10 gallons of water, enough lime to whitewash a small garage, an amount of glycerine capable of exploding a good-sized bomb, enough gluten to make 2,300 match heads, sufficient fat to produce several pounds of soap, iron for a six-penny nail, sulphur enough to rid a dog or cat of fleas, and one-quarter pound of sugar.

Men of the future have a right to know the truth. A quarter-pound of sugar is not nearly enough to sweeten up such a mixture of salt, water, lime, glycerine, glue, phosphorus, grease, iron, and sulphur.

Asked by a student pollster whether she preferred male students in ROTC uniforms or in civilian dress, an Akron university coed replied, "If they wear uniforms then they don't have to buy so many clothes. That leaves them with more money to spend on me."

Patients Need Quiet

Lexington city officials have informally asked the Kernel to enlist the aid of University students in cutting down the noise that constantly disrupts the rest and convalescence of patients in nearby Good Samaritan hospitals.

Due to its unusually fine medical facilities, Lexington is known as the medical center of eastern Kentucky. Patients from communities hundreds of miles away are brought here for treatment. Many of these people are in critical or serious condition and need almost absolute quiet if they are to have even a chance for recovery.

Traffic on Limestone accounts for at least 90 percent of the noise around Good Samaritan and we're certain UK students don't deliberately contribute to the total. It may help, however, if all of us, particularly those who live near the hospital, would remember the need for silence.

"Don't worry, honey, our housemother goes wild on Halloween."

The Frying Pan Unhappy Student Blames His Woes On Schedulitus

You hear all kinds of sad stories in campus gripe sessions.

Take the character with schedulitus. To hear him talk, you'd think he registered just before they took down the tables in the Coliseum.

He has a required class in advanced tidlywinks from 4 to 5 o'clock every afternoon, three Saturday classes, and a noon lab in space ship design.

He mournfully describes his full set of 8 o'clock classes on the opposite side of the campus from where he lives and the night class he stumbled into by reading the catalog wrong.

Also in the Sad Story Department is the guy who's burdened with five professors who each think he's taking one course at UK and they're teaching it.

These profs glibly reel off a list of non-accidentals, and reserve room books to be read before January and a couple of term papers the student can whip up in his spare time.

It may help our sad sack to get more out of the courses, but it will probably just boost the sale of coffee, light bulbs, and No Doz pills in Lexington to a new all-time high.

Next to Impossible Department: Finding a UK student who hasn't heard of Pogo. Getting your Kyian picture taken at the last minute.

Telling those kakkhi-uniformed ROTC boys apart when you see a group of them together.

When you hear someone say "PR," does he mean Pershing Rifles, Public Relations, or Periodical Room?

By the way, what happened to those muscular law students that used to play football in front of Lafferty Hall last fall?

You may remember seeing some of UK's best-dressed young men without their usual coats, ties, and narrow brim hats running through vicious scrimmages between classes. It's even rumored that a couple of professors participated.

The powers-that-be must have taken a dim view of the boys using Lafferty lawn for a miniature gridiron, for they had it covered up with tobacco stalks and manure one gray morning.

Lawyers are persistent souls, however. The boys just moved their game across the walk to the large grassy plot in front of the library.

Have you seen a single scrimegrace this year, though. Has some stern edict banning the "games" been passed down from the deans? Have the profs loaded so much more classwork on the boys that they don't have time for football? Whatever the reason, the campus doesn't look quite the same without Bryant's sixth string working out every afternoon.

"What's the idea of stopping this cab in the middle of the block?"
"I thought I heard the young lady holler 'Stop.'"
"Go on. She wasn't talking to you."

Brevities From Other Colleges:

You know those windows that you can see out of when you're inside, but nobody can see you from the outside? Well, the rest room in the new girls' dorm at Alabama Polytechnic Institute is equipped with such windows—only they were installed backwards by mistake.

If you think the ratio of males to females here is rough, try attending Davidson college. Its enrollment: 825 men, one woman.

Ad in the UCLA Daily Bruin: "Will the blonde young lady who wore sun glasses Thursday morning (besides other things) be in the cafeteria between 11 and 12 a.m.?"

Richard Nixon was last week elected treasurer of the Young Democratic club at the University of North Carolina. He is a distant cousin of the Republican vice-presidential nominee.

Asked by a student pollster whether she preferred male students in ROTC uniforms or in civilian dress, an Akron university coed replied, "If they wear uniforms then they don't have to buy so many clothes. That leaves them with more money to spend on me."

Our Readers Speak: Criticizing Sports Editor On Gruner

In Gruner's case, he voluntarily received two such shots the morning of the LSU game. The idea was to speed recovery so he could practice that next week, not so he could play in the afternoon's game.

Boys Like Barracks

Within the last two weeks the Kernel has carried many derogatory quotes and remarks concerning the Scott Street Barracks. These have appeared in editorials, letters to the Editor, and reports by the University Administration. Not a single word in defense of the Barracks has appeared, and as residents of the Barracks we feel that it is our duty to rectify this mistake.

Therefore, we would like to take issue with those who feel that the Scott Street Barracks are the "slums of the University". The word "slums" not only implies poor living conditions but also low character of the residents. We feel ourselves lucky to be living on Scott Street. Compared to the crowded condition of many fraternity houses and dorms where four or five people live in a single room amidst a welter of clothing, books, and dirt, the single rooms of the Barracks are a definite improvement. The rooms in the Barracks are kept cleaner and in better condition than in most other men's residence units.

LUCKIES' TASTE BETTER!

They're made better to taste cleaner, fresher, smoother!

Take a Lucky from a newly opened pack and carefully remove the paper by tearing down the seam from end to end. Be sure to start on the seam. In tearing don't crush or dig into the tobacco.

Then, gently lift out the cylinder. See how free Luckies are from air spaces — "hot spots" that smoke hot, harsh and dry — from loose ends that spoil the taste. Note that Luckies' long strands of fine, mild tobacco are packed firmly to draw smoothly and evenly — to give you a cleaner, fresher, smoother smoke. Yes, Luckies are made better — to taste better! So, Be Happy — Go Lucky! Get a carton today.

SPECIAL NOTE! College students prefer Luckies in nation-wide survey!

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 80 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Luckies than any other cigarette — and by a wide margin. No. 1 reason given — Luckies' better taste. Survey also shows Lucky Strike gained far more smokers in these colleges than the nation's two other principal brands combined.

I was told that the Church had changed Christ's teaching and practiced pompous pagan forms of worship. It was told to me that Catholics worship statues and images, and that the Catholic Church defied God's law and changed the Sabbath." "But now I have learned that these stories and many others about the Catholic Church are not true — and never were." "Every day, thousands of our non-Catholic friends and neighbors are discovering, as this man did... that Catholic belief, worship and history are widely misrepresented and misunderstood." Cats Beat Cincy; Play Miami Tonight

Hurricanes Have Yet To Defeat Kentucky

By Charles Archer
Kentucky's young, revamped football Wildcats who weathered a storm in beating Cincinnati 14-0 last week must face a hurricane tonight at 7:15 in Miami's Orange Bowl stadium as they try for their third victory of the season.
That hurricane will be the University of Miami's revenue-minded Hurricanes who have better memories of the 32-0 shattering given them by the Cats last fall on Stoll Field. Miami will be trying for its first victory over a Kentucky eleven, having been beaten twice in the Orange Bowl by 25-5 in 1949 and 21-6 in 1949.
Coach Bear Bryant was pleased with play of the Wildcats in the Cincinnati game as they repulsed two Bearcat scoring threats in the first half and struck for two touchdowns in the second half to gain a hard-earned 14-6 victory.
Bryant used 25 freshmen and sophomore players in the experiment, experimenting for a combination that would get the ailing Cats on the victory trail. Some of the rookies played with such determination that they will be used extensively against the Hurricanes tonight.

I-M Playoff Start Monday

By Larry Meyer
The Wildcats defeated the Cincinnati Bearcats 14-6 in a game slightly reminiscent of the 1950 contest with this same team here in Lexington.
That year the Cats, led by the quarterbacking of Vito "Babe" Parrilli, ran over Cincy 41-7. The comparative stems from the fact that the Babe threw only two or three passes in the first half, relying mainly on running. The second half was a different story as Babe passed for three scores in about five minutes and went on to total five scoring passes for the game.
In Saturday's game, Dick Shatto, freshman quarterback, started and in the entirety of the one half, threw only one or two aerials as the Cats relied on the running attack of Allen Feltch and Ralph Paolone, fullback converted to halfback slot.
Hunt Takes Over
The second half found Herbie "The Finger" Hunt in the quarterback post as he threw a third quarter pass to Big Steve Mellinger for 18 yards. Steve took it on the Cincy 45 and took off like a rabbit to score.
The score being tied at the intermission, this time the score 6-0. Bob Bassitt converted the extra point to give the Cats a 7-0 lead. This extra punt was the margin of safety the Kentuckians needed, as the most points the Cincinnati could muster was one touchdown, and no extra point. Cincinnati scored in the last two minutes of the game when Gene Rossel heaved a ten yard pass to Glen Dillard in the end zone and Pisanelli missed the extra point.
Carlin Snags 22 Yard Pass
Meanwhile Hunt has thrown a 22 yard pass to Clyde Carlisle who took the toss to the five yard marker. Hunt took the ball over from one to give the Kentuckians a 13-0 lead and 14-0 as Bassitt again converted. This all happened before the Bearcats picked up their touchdowns.
Despite the fact that Hunt and Shatto attempted only five passes during the course of the afternoon, three were completed to give the Cats 108 yards via the air. Added to this was 148 yards on the ground, only one play with a broken nose. Feltch, playing with a broken nose, received two weeks ago picked up

UK Cagers Seek Depth From Subs

Just how much depth will UK's basketball quintet have this season?
That would be a difficult question to answer this early in the year. But data pertinent to that answer is being recorded daily on the spacious Memorial Coliseum floor as some 19 Wildcats are put through their paces each afternoon under the watchful eyes of Coach Adolph Rupp.
The five returning lettermen—Bill Evans, Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey, Gayle Rose, and Lou Tripolopoulos—are capable of forming the nucleus of the Kentucky attack in 1952-53. But after them, what then?
Who will be their replacements should they foul out or come up with an "off" night?
Guard Willie Rouse, a six-foot, 160-pound junior, gave his own answer to that question last February. He saved the Cats from defeat at the hands of DePaul by stealing the ball and scoring the winning basket in the last minute of play. Rouse, a product of University High, shows plenty of hustle and is developing an accurate shooting eye.
Another junior, forward Gene Neff, can expect to see plenty of action. Neff, who is from Easton, Ohio, stands 6'2" and weighs 165. He is a good rebounder who can give and take with the best of them.
Jim Duff, a newcomer to the University scene, can also be counted on to help clear the boards. The 6'4", 200-pound junior is a transfer from Pikeville Junior College. He plays forward and is from Garrett, Ky.
Center Ron Clark, who at 6'6" is the tallest man on the squad, forward Jim Flynn, and guards, Jerry Brooks, Neal Cosby, and Houston Nutt will be ready when needed. All are sophomores.

Chickillo Is Top Guard
Miami has all-American candidate Nick Chickillo operating from a guard position to bolster the Hurricanes front wall. Chickillo, a 220-pound speedster, normally plays on offense only, but is capable of playing 60 minutes if necessary.
The engagement with Miami brings to the forefront a new problem for the reborn Wildcats to cope with. Actually, the problem is two-fold as national statistics rank the Hurricanes among the top ten in the country on both its running attack and total defense.
Kentucky has given up an average of 129 yards a game to its opponents' ground attack while Miami has been averaging better than 290 yards from scrimmage per game.
On defense Miami's total defense rates well among the nation's leaders. Their opponents have averaged less than 230 yards per game on total offense. In contrast, Kentucky has managed to maintain a normal total of 245 yards in six games.
Unless the statistics tend to give a wrong impression, the Hurricanes rate 106 yards better than the Wildcats. And Kentucky scouts point out that the two much of an edge to give a team like Miami, whose only decisive defeat has been at the hands of the powerful Alabama.

Game 12 Preview
A 7-2 win for SAE over SN was nullified Thursday when the latter's protest was declared official. The dispute arose when one of the officials erred in blowing his whistle at Rustley late in the second half.
In the last game of the evening, the powerful Rebels smashed the Newman Club 33-0. Bob Sitler passed for five touchdowns with brother Gordon on the receiving end of three.

Miami Improving
UK coaches maintain that Miami has improved with every game and seemed at its best last Friday in beating Marquette 20-6. In previous games, a 46-0 victory over VMI in Richmond, a 34-0 triumph over Virginia Tech in Lexington, a 7-21 loss to Alabama and a close one to Boston University by 7-9. Against Richmond, the Hurricanes won handily 41-6 and the third victory was over Marquette.
Kentucky, returning to the scene of its first major post-season bowl venture—the Orange Bowl, has posted wins at the expense of Texas A & M by 10-7 and Cincinnati. The defeats have been to Villanova, 6-25 in the opening game, 7-34 to LSU, and 14-27 to Mississippi State. One of the Wildcats' best early season efforts saw them come from behind in the fourth quarter to tie Ole Miss 13-13.
The Wildcats will enter the Miami game with upwards of seven regulars missing or available for only split duty.

ATO Remained Undefeated
In action the past week, ATO remained undefeated by edging SPE, 23-20, in a game that the latter accounted for the winning TD in the first period. PKT was given a forfeit over ASP in an earlier contest.
TKE spilled AGR 7-6 in the last fraternity contest of the evening. The Rebels won in a sudden-death period. A pass from Bouchy to Ward in the first period gave TKE's first blood but AGR sent the game into overtime on a pass from Pedigo to Rustley late in the second half.

PKA Beats KS 7-0
In Monday's games, DTD won over Farm House in a forfeit, PKA clipped KS 7-0 on a pass interception by Hugh Roe; and KA trimmed EX 7-0 on a Hecker to Sanders aerial.

The Civil Engineers showed that they will be worth watching by scoring a convincing 13-0 triumph over Men's Dorm. Chuck Phillip, former Wildcat footballer, led the engineers to victory with a scoring pass and a touchdown run.
Floyd's 40 yard sprint for a TD buoyed the difference as SPE edged PKT 6-0 Tuesday evening.
Momentarily stymied by an opening safety by BSU, the powerful Rebels rebounded to trim the latter 12-2. Sullivan put the Rebels in the lead with a run-back of an intercepted pass and Risbell finished the evening's scoring by taking a pass from Bob Sitler.

Herbie Hunt Selected For Outstanding Play

By STAN PORTMANN
Fumblets, that disease so prevalent among inexperienced football players, was once again threatening to hospitalize Kentucky hopes for victory against the Cincinnati Bearcats last Saturday afternoon.

Herbie Hunt, who has been selected as the outstanding player of the week, was the key to the victory. He intercepted a pass from Cincinnati quarterback Dick Shatto and returned it for a touchdown.

Coach Bryant found his best medicine for fumblets in the deft quarterbacking of Herbie, "The Finger," Hunt.

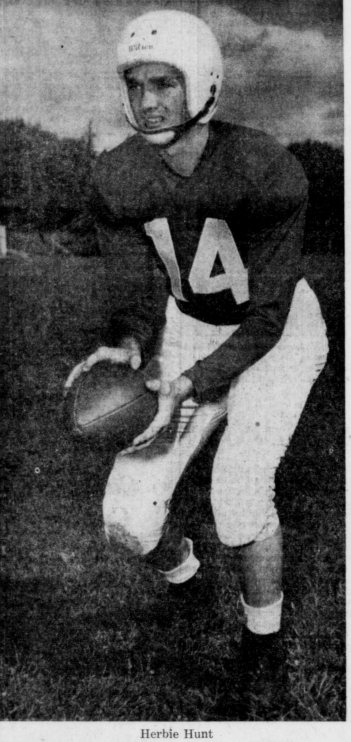

"Player of the Week" Hunt, a junior quarterback from Mayfield, proved to be the spark that set the Kentucky offense to rolling up the 14-6 victory over their northern rival from across the Ohio.

Hunt gained his nickname "The Finger" from his ability to hold the ball for extra point placements.

Twenty-five of the UK players who saw action in Cincinnati are sophomores and freshmen. Among the freshmen who have come a long way since September are Bradley Mills, who, playing his first game as a defensive halfback, intercepted two Cincinnati passes.

On the offensive the Freshmen have quarterback Dick Shatto and halfback Charles Bell supplying a lot of the UK offensive punch.

Sophomores playing outstanding ball were: Clyde Carlig, who made a sensational catch to set up the second UK touchdown and Tom Black, probably the most improved player on the UK squad, who saw action at one of the tackle positions.

Still on the subject of football—an interesting case is developing in Miami, Florida. A former University of Georgia football player is suing the University for $35,000 for injuries he received playing football.

The football team is scheduled to arrive at Bluegrass field at 2:30 Saturday afternoon. The time of arrival back in Lexington was announced before the team left for Miami, Thursday morning.

Due to delays, this time is not always correct. If you plan to meet the team at the stadium, it is suggested that you arrive at Blue Grass field sometime around noon Saturday. They can give you the correct time of arrival.

Cross Country Squad Meets Butler, DePauw

The Kentucky Cross Country team will open its fall campaign tomorrow in a triangular meet with Butler, of Indianapolis and DePauw of Greensfield, Indianapolis.

This year's team will be composed mainly of the returning lettermen from last year. Jay Wallace, captain of the spring track edition, Speedie Price, outstanding distance man, and Al Wiley will again lead the team.

New additions to Coach Seaton's squad are Charley Wells and Frank Scott. Wells is a freshman from Louisville, untired in competition but looks surprisingly good for his lack of experience.

As a miler and two-miler, Scott won the Interstate conference title in both these events. He set a conference record in his two mile of 10:17.8.

The team will meet Butler and DePauw in a triangular meet. Information on the two opponents was scarce but it is known that DePauw won the Indiana Inter-Collegiate Conference in Cross Country last year.

Coach Seaton has never met either of these teams before but Coach Seaton expects both to be tough.

The Butler squad, built around freshmen and sophomores this year, have already won three meets this season.

Greeks To Celebrate In Halloween Tradition

Halloween parties will highlight the weekend activities of many Greek organizations.

Parties celebrating the annual "spook day" will be given by the Alpha Sigs, Delta, Kappa Sigs, Sigma Nus, Phi Taus, Six Eps, Delta Chi, Theta, AGRs, and Alpha Gamma. The Lambda Chis are having a Halloween party for crippled children.

New Initiates

The Tri Delta has initiated the following girls: Gay Hamilton, Gretal Gross, Dottie Pfeiffer, Nancy Wildman, Wilma Robertson, Evelyn Duncan, Barbara Sluaghter, Joey Schofield, Ruth McMichael, and Jeanine Archibald.

The new initiates of Alpha Gamma Delta are Jan Clarke, Carol Bunnell, Jean Grant, Jo Harris, Vivian Combs, and Ruth Lynch. Initiation was followed by the Feast of the Roses banquet at the Phoenix Hotel.

The officers of the Tri Delta pledge class are Ann Futrell, president; Lillis Beam, vice-president; Judy Hamilton, secretary; and Rae Harris, treasurer.

Chapter Visitor

Chi Omega was visited this week by a chapter advisor, Miss Milam, national visitor from Miami, Fla. She spent three days visiting and advising the Alpha Lambda chapter. The Chi Omegas are also having their first serenade Wednesday evening.

Delta Zeta will hold its Golden Jubilee Tea on Sunday in recognition of its fiftieth year as a sorority.

Delta Zeta presented awards to two of its outstanding seniors, Frances West and Eloise Lorch, at the annual Founder's Day Banquet last Friday. Frances received a bracelet for outstanding service to the sorority and Eloise received a plaque for activities on campus and for outstanding service to the sorority.

Kappa Psi Pledge Officers

Chickie Schrider has been elected president of the Kappa Psi Gamma pledge class. Serving with her are Toss Dunlap, secretary; Carrie Adams, treasurer; Nancy Winn Johnson, Marshal; Diane Parr, scholarship chairman; and Jane Walker Tindler, social chairman.

Betty Bishop Engaged

Miss Betty Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reid B. Bishop, Lexington, is engaged to Warren Featherston, Petty Officer in the Navy. Miss Bishop, a junior in elementary education, belongs to AAZ Sorority.

Mr. Featherston, also of Lexington, was an agriculture major and belonged to AGR Fraternity. He is serving as a neuro-psychology technician in Bethesda, Md., one of the national medical centers in the U.S. Their wedding date has not been set.

Pledges Compete In 'Derby'

The third annual Sigma Chi Derby will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow on the Intramural Field. The theme for this year's derby, held for all new sorority pledges, is to be "County Carnival."

The fourth event is an old-fashioned Charleston contest called "County Queens." Two contestants from each pledge group will take part in this event. The winners will be chosen on the basis of dancing ability and originality of costume.

A "Tote Sack Race" will complement the active contests for the afternoon. Four representatives from each sorority, composing two relay teams, will take part in this event. To highlight the afternoon's events a contest will be held to choose the "Queen of the Fair."

Each pledge class will nominate two girls. The entrants are to be dressed in sweaters, shorts, and heels and are to be approximately 5'6" in height. Each contestant will be asked to step inside a silhouette of a "perfect girl." The queen will be chosen upon the basis of her figure in proportion to the silhouette.

Cups will be given to the winners in each of the five events. A trophy will be awarded to the sorority having the highest total number of points and to the Queen of the Derby.

Arch Mazonos is chairman of the derby committee and Bill Marcum, Jerry Brady, Bud Fisher, Carter Glass, and Ray Meyers will serve as supervisors of the events.

Comfortable, Glamorous Footwear Needed For Varied Campus Life

By Claire Wood

College is a down-to-earth proposition. It hurts your feet. Several square miles of campus, many flights of stairs, and lines—meal lines and mail lines, bookstore and latrine lines—make the Kentucky co-ed realize that shoes are the basis of college life. Her feet do the groundwork, and Josephine College is only as good as her metatarsal arch. In college, shoes make the woman.

The main requisite for college footwear is solid comfort, so no college wardrobe is complete without at least one pair of worn, mellowed loafers. This year, a variety of buttons, straps, and buckles have added distinction to this fundamental footwear. For general comfort, the invariable saddle shoe makes its bid with the loafers, but after these two are recognized, the trend is non-conservative and anything goes.

White bucks, for instance, have been borrowed from the boys, and green, black, brown and navy "flap-jacks" of suede are equally popular. Also in vogue, the first American shoe, the Indian moccasin has been copied and re-copied this fall. Suede, in fact, is an important element in fall and winter foot fashions. It's good for dress, sport, and casual or classroom wear.

For more formal occasions, for a movie date or a class in which "Somebody" sits across the aisle, popularity as a dancing slipper. A blessing to tall girls and just plain comfortable for short ones, they are here to stay.

Alligator, im-gator, and lizard skin do much more for the co-ed's feet than they ever did for their original occupants. Expensive and difficult to "break in," they compensate by perfecting the dressy, tailored outfit. Smooth, smart calf is tops for suit wear also, and with a moderate height heel for the old element of comfort, still manages to be "just right" for almost anywhere.

And anywhere is the place that shoes are noticed. They make or break your outfit, to say nothing of your arches—and your disposition. You can't be charming when your feet hurt, and if they do, it's your own fault. With the variety in style and price-range of this season's shoes, even Kentucky girls don't have to go barefoot!

Protestant Groups Sponsor Discussion

Three UK representatives of different denominational groups will go to Kansas City during Christmas vacation as the result of an inter-denominational study group which holds its next meeting tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, the Rev. Lyle Sellards, director of student work at Wesleyan-Chesapeake College, said this week.

The group, sponsored by Protestant campus groups in the United Student Christian Council through the YMCA and YWCA, is divided into small groups for serious study on three topics. The subjects discussed are the role of the Christian student in the church, the university, and the world struggle.
