

Opera Singer, Hollywood Actor Will Be Presented Next Week In Concert And Lecture Series

London Will Sing Monday

Opera star George London, bass-baritone, will be featured in the first concert of the Central Kentucky Community Concert and Lecture Series at 8 p.m. Monday in Memorial Coliseum.

In 1949 London sang roles in the Vienna State Opera ranging from Annamaria in "Aida" and Escamilla in "Carmen" to Prince Igor in "Prince Igor" and the title part of "Boris Godunoff," and four characters in "The Tales of Hoffmann," Brussels, Bayreuth, Salzburg, Munich and Vienna. His most recent appearances include the title role in Mozart's "Don Giovanni," as the Count in Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," and as Amfortas in "Parsifal."

GEORGE LONDON
Operatic Tenor

BASIL RATHBONE
Hollywood Actor

Rathbone To Appear Thursday

Actor of stage, screen, and radio, Basil Rathbone, will give dramatic interpretations and excerpts from classics at 8 p.m. Thursday in Memorial Coliseum as the second program of the week in the Central Kentucky Concert and Lecture Series.

The program is based on Rathbone's presentation at the Library of Congress on March 23. It includes "The Ballad of a Barber," by Beardsley; "To Olivia and Daisy," by Thompson; "The Unforgotten" and "In Memoriam" by Stevenson; "Sonnet (Oh! Death Will Find Me)" and "The Call," by Brooke; "Ode To The Grecian Tem," by Keats; "The Nightingale and the Rose," by Wilde; and "Ode to the West Wind," by Shelley.

"Lovelace of Trees," "Oh See How Thick The Golden Flowers," "When I Was One and Twenty," and "Benediction Hill," from "A Shropshire Lad," by Housman; "Love's Philosophy," by Shelley; "How Do I Love Thee," from "Sonnets from the Portuguese," by E. B. Browning; "Only a Woman's Last Word," by R. Browning.

"Sonnet 116" ("Let me not to the marriage of true minds," "The Death Speech of Romeo," "The Murder Speech of Macbeth" and "The Soliloquy of Hamlet," by Shakespeare; and "The Future Belongs to the Resurrection according to the Gospel of St. John," by Best.

Six Make Requests For UK-Built Houses On 'Fraternity Row'

Six fraternities have applied for houses on the proposed "Fraternity Row" to be built by the University, Frank D. Peterson, UK controller, said this week after they are qualified to determine if they are qualified to enter into the arrangement, Mr. Peterson said. The investigation will take about a month, he said.

The six fraternities listed by the controller are Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Chi, and Phi Delta Theta.

School officials are investigating the financial status of the fraternities to determine if they are qualified to enter into the arrangement, Mr. Peterson said. The investigation will take about a month, he said.

Construction of from one to eight fraternity houses was authorized by the University Board of Trustees at a meeting in Room 128 of McVey Hall, Dec. 11, announced at that time the cost of the buildings, approximately $110,000 each, would be defrayed by revenues to be amortized over a period of 20 years.

The new fraternity houses will be leased to individual fraternities after their completion. Rent paid by the fraternities would be sufficient to pay interest on the bonds, liquidate the debt, pay insurance and maintain the buildings.

After the bonds are paid off, the plan provides that the same fraternities would continue to operate the houses at a greatly reduced cost. Each house would accommodate 48 students.

Scholarships Are Offered To Oxford

Applications for Rhodes Scholarships to Oxford are now available in Room 128 of McVey Hall, Dr. Martin M. White, dean of the Arts and Sciences College, announced this week.

Scholars-elect will enter Oxford in October, 1953. The scholarship is for two years in the first instance with a possible third year if the scholar's record at Oxford and plan of study warrant such an award.

To be eligible, a candidate must be a male citizen of the United States and unmarried, be between the ages of 19 and 30 on Oct. 1, 1953, have completed at least his sophomore year by the time of application, and receive official endorsement of his college.

Actor Appears In Movies

The actor has been in several movies, including "Anna Karenina," opposite Greta Garbo, "David Copperfield," "Tovarich," "Captain Blood" and playing the title role in "Sherlock Holmes," which he also played on radio for seven years.

He narrated Oscar Wilde's fairy tale, "The Nightingale and the Rose," and the music by Alexander Steinart, as guest soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, directed by Eugene Ormandy, at Carnegie Hall in December, 1950.

Radio WBKY Begins Series On Jefferson

A new radio series, "The Jeffersonian Heritage," began last Friday on WBKY, the University's FM station. The program can be heard each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The series of 13 half-hour programs is based on the life and writings of Thomas Jefferson. Claude Rains, motion picture star, portrays Jefferson on the program.

The transcribed series is based on the research, writing, and advice of Prof. Dumas Malone of the History Department of Columbia University. It was written by Merton Wishengrad and Milton Geiger and produced by Frank Papp. The music was composed and conducted by Vladimir Selinsky.

Advanced ROTC Training Open To Juniors With Qualifications

For the student interested in an army career, UK offers Advanced ROTC. The purpose of the course is to provide the Organized Reserve with well-trained, efficient officers.

Of the freshmen who enter military training as freshmen, approximately 20 percent to 29 percent remain to become commissioned officers. The greatest number of men drop out during their first year, and are over 40 percent of the regular course and the beginning of advanced training.

General requirements for admission to the advanced training are that a man must have two years remaining in college before he is required to be in good standing academically, and must have the necessary characteristics of a prospective officer.

When entering regular training, freshmen are offered a deferment of military training between the end of the regular course and the beginning of advanced training. An attempt is being made to adopt a completely uniform standard for accepting men into the advanced period, even if an extended period is required.

New Uniform System Adopted

A new system concerning uniforms has recently been adopted here. A civilian manufacturer takes measurements of each man accepted in the advanced training course, and a tailor-made uniform is made for him. This uniform includes standard blouse, pants, two shirts, and a trench coat. At the end of the course and on receipt of a commission this uniform becomes the property of each individual.

For those considering the army as a career, the advanced training program offers an opportunity to prove themselves as outstanding military students or outstanding graduates. This is also an excellent opportunity to become an officer.

UK Artist Has Exhibit In Louisville

Raymond Barnhart, assistant art professor at the University, is exhibiting 14 paintings at the Art Center Association Gallery, Louisville, this month at the invitation of Eugene W. Leake, Jr., director of the art center.

Most of the paintings in Mr. Barnhart's Louisville show were done by him in Guanajuato, Mexico, last summer. Ten of the paintings are done in tempera, three in oil, and one in synylite. A Louisville art critic termed the style in his recent works as "a personal blend of expressionistic and constructivistic tendencies."

Bureau Seeks To Improve School Heads

Plans to improve educational administration in Kentucky have been made by the Bureau of School Services.

An experimental program, it is known as the Kellogg project. The group's work is a part of the southern states' regional workshop for improving educational administration.

Professors from nine UK departments are working with the bureau to improve the training of principals and superintendents in Kentucky's public schools.

Naval Officer To Interview For Reserve

Lt. Commander N. R. Williams of the U.S. Naval Reserve will be in Room 201-A of the Administration building next Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to interview interested candidates for an appointment to commissioned grade in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

An applicant must be a male citizen of the United States, be physically qualified, be between the ages of 19 and 27, and must attain a minimum Navy score on a written examination. Applicants must be a graduate of an accredited college or university with a baccalaureate degree.

Selected officer candidates will be enlisted for four years in Class V-6, USNR, in the rate of Officer Candidate Seaman Recruit. Officer candidates will be ordered to report to Naval School, Officer Candidate, Newport, R.I. Classes will be held every month and will be of four months duration for all line candidates and two months for staff corps candidates.

SGA Approves $4,313 Budget For 1952-53 School Year

Ten Representatives To Be Chosen Dec. 10

The 1952-53 Student Government Association budget calling for $4,313 was approved by the Assembly Monday night. All items were approved except an appropriation for Freshmen Orientation.

Since the Assembly could not conclude what the money for Freshmen Orientation is used for, the item was not brought up for approval. George Lawson, president of SGA, said he did not know where the item originated unless it to talk to Lexington officials about was copied from last year's budget.

Educators Will Unite For Two-Day Session

A two-day educational meeting at UK next Friday and Saturday is expected to draw approximately 800 Kentucky educators for the combined sessions of the 29th annual UK Educational Conference and the 18th annual session of the Kentucky Association of Colleges, Secondary, and Elementary Schools.

The double-header event will include two main general sessions for all teachers and administrators and nearly a score of sectional meetings, including: Business Management of the Schools; The Role of the School in the Community; The Role of the School in the Home; The Role of the School in the Church; The Role of the School in the State; The Role of the School in the Nation; The Role of the School in the World; The Role of the School in the Future.

Internal Dissension Keeps Kernel From Taking A Stand

Almost every other college paper in the country has come out in favor of a presidential candidate. We'd like to do it too, but it's just an impossibility. Since we have no publisher to dictate policies, the selection of a candidate would have to be done by the staff. That would pose a monstrous problem.

We could eliminate the Prohibitionists right at the start. Although one or two staff members might like to say a kind word for the Socialists, we'd pass them too for fear the House Un-American Committee boys might put us on one of their lists. There's not a one of us that ever had a dime so we wouldn't have to worry about the Greenbacks. That'd bring us down to the two major parties and here the real hassle starts.

The society editor, proudly wears an Eisenhower button and the managing editor, who lives a little in the past, keeps bringing MacArthur's name into office hall sessions. The sports editor has not only chosen a presidential candidate, he's also picked one of the Cabinet members. He favors Bear for the top job with Bunk as Secretary of the Treasury. The editor himself, being a rational man, would insist upon coming out for Stevenson.

As you can see, it'd be almost impossible for us to ever agree on one man. Then too, if we did find someone to support there'd be another problem. Some people out in the state have the erroneous idea that everything the Kernel prints is dictated by the University administration. They also think the administration takes its orders from Frankfort. Of course that's not true, but it sure puts us in a hole.

Although we can't come out for a candidate, we can urge you eligible voters to go to the polls. Vote the way you want to but at least take the trouble to vote. That's a pretty non-partisan attitude and very few people will object to it--no one but Uncle Joe, Brother Franco, and Cousin Peron.

Wanted: One Rich 'Sugar Daddy' Who Believes In Brains

Wanted: A money-laden Sugar Daddy who has other tastes besides athletics.

We think it's all well and good that deserving athletes who have a particular talent for putting a little round ball through an iron ring or who can run the length of a football field despite the efforts of 11 other men to stop them should receive extra money to help them through college. It's a shame, however, that there isn't just a little of that loot left over after the muscle boys have been taken care of.

Think of all the potential Phi Beta Kappa lads who could use a few dollars every now and then to help pay for food, clothing, and shelter--items that aren't covered by hardly any of the existing scholarships for brightness. That's just one money-disposal chute. If the boys with the heavy pockets really want to relieve themselves, UK offers a host of other worthy projects.

No one would scream with anguish if a friend of the University decided to endow a dormitory or two. And UK's teachers would probably be overjoyed if their paychecks suddenly started covering their grocery bill. Of course the University could always use a few odd classrooms. To start with, donations might be accepted for new chemistry, physics, commerce, and psychology buildings. When these are completed, the workmen could walk across campus and start on a new administration building.

No, there's nothing wrong with handing out subsistence money to athletes, even if it's superficially illegal to do it in excess. It'd be nice, though, if people with loot were as fond of education and all its benefits as they are of final scores in athletic contests.

"Oh, we had a wonderful time last night and this morning Jim called me up to apologize."

Maybe Specialization Is Best

Many times in the past this paper has ranted about the evils of specialization. We've gone to great lengths pointing out the advantages of a so-called liberal education. After reading a friend's recent letter, however, we're no longer so sure of our viewpoint.

Said friend, who is enrolled in one of the country's better junior colleges for women, writes that she is taking, along with the usual assortment of humanities, language, and science requirements, a course entitled "Life And Habits Of The Goldfish."

Further, she scribbles, next semester she'll be eligible to sign up for a little number she's advertised in the catalogue as "The Study of Early Morning Bird Calls."

Certainly this is a complex world. Tomorrow's wives and mothers must be well-educated so they can inspire their men to dig us out of the lamentable mess the Old Folks At Home have arranged. Still, a course on the intimate details of the home life of goldfish strike us as being beside the point. And what in the world would a "modern" woman want with a run-down on the conversational tidbits of birds foolish enough to get up early in the morning?

We began to lose out a little when the educational psychologists started claiming that it frustrates children if you keep them from murdering their parents. This business with goldfish and bird calls has just about finished us up. Maybe the lads who cry for specialization do have a point.

Think of all the potential Phi Beta Kappa lads who could use a few dollars every now and then to help pay for food, clothing, and shelter--items that aren't covered by hardly any of the existing scholarships for brightness. That's just one money-disposal chute. If the boys with the heavy pockets really want to relieve themselves, UK offers a host of other worthy projects.

The Knapsack by Paul Knapp

The Tragic Saga Of A Dethroned Queen

What else was there for our sorrowing ex-campus queen to do but the regally? Never having taken any psychology courses while in school, the poor girl didn't know about the many delightful forms of insanity available to people who want to flee the rigors of life on this harsh earth.

Her college life had been one triumphant coronation after another. Each successive crowning was a slightly greater achievement than the last. But now she was through. "Queen of the Campus" was no longer her rightful title. Pretty soon she wouldn't even be dated up more than three weeks in advance. The mark of the loser was upon her. She had been defeated, in fact, had come in last in the contest for "Queen of Animal Husbandry."

had been forced to build two extra fireplaces to provide mantels to hold them.

She could still remember being chosen "Miss Christmas Seal" in her freshman year. And along with the affectionate title of "Miss TB," she had enough seals to paper the entire meeting room of the sorority house.

And then her first fraternity queen trophy. It had been a beautiful evening when she walked up the aisle to receive the title, "Dream Boat of Tri-Rho." Afterwards the boys even serenaded her with their Dream Boat song, "Rio Rho Rho Your Boat."

Her eyes paused on the one trophy she cherished most of all, even though she'd forgotten when she had acquired it. It was topped by a figure of Venus standing on the shoulders of Diana standing on the shoulders of Minerva who was scratching herself.

The simple inscription read: "Universitas Kentucky's: Mens Agitat Women's."

When she finished the inspection of her many trophies, she was more sad than ever. What else was there to live for? Now that the ultimate goal of all queens-to-be, the Queen of Animal Husbandry was no longer obtainable, there was only one alternative.

too large to fit inside the house, had been given her by IFC to honor the girl who had been chosen queen of the most fraternities. Standing outside all these years, the gigantic symbol of feminine charm had slowly filled to the brim with rainwater.

Of course the girls hushed the whole thing up and even the Dean of Women never knew the true tale. Think how it would reflect on the sorority if people knew that one of their girls, an ex-queen, had died in one of her cups.

Some People's Luck!

The housing shortage at Michigan State College has its compensations. One of the dormitories there is now housing students of both sexes. Old-time students are saying they "never had it so good."

'Dear Local Board,' The Lament Of A Poet Who'd Like To Serve

By BILL C. CLARK

I am writing this in answer To a letter that was sent By mail to me the other day, Signed by the president, It's not that I object to your greetings Or that I'm trying not to go. My stomach's acting up again, I just thought I'd write and tell you About some things you ought to know. My feet have bothered me for years, They're flat as they can be, And my eyes are crossed so badly That it's very hard for me to see; My teeth are slowly falling out, It won't take long I fear, But then this wouldn't worry me If I could only hear. Or that I'm trying not to go. My stomach's acting up again, I might as well confess, I must be careful what I eat, There's ulcers there I guess; And my back is nearly killing me, It doesn't help it much, For my legs be so broken-up That I have to use a crutch. It was just the other evening That I heard a fellow say He didn't think that I was bright, Or should not be anyway; 'Cause he'd known us all for ages, And throughout our family name, He could count at least a dozen That were proved to be insane. Wish that I could heal this cough, It kinda worries me, But I guess I'm not the only one That's afflicted with T.B.; And I'm really to be thankful To be one of those among All the rest that's getting on so well, Just breathing on one lung.

I fainted twice the other day, My heart's not very good, Blood pressure's about two-twenty, Would help it if I could; But I'm in a tight position And I'm handicapped you see, There's 12 here in the family And they all depend on me. I tried to work the other day But finally had to quit For fear that if I overworked I'd have another fit; And I've had about a dozen now Since only yesterday. So I reckon to be truthful, I should go to bed and stay. But wouldn't help much if I did, My mind with worries full, And what would make it even worse, I'm allergic now to wool; I have had dreams of every kind, If I just but close my eyes, And the doctors here have given up My case to analysis. So now when you read this letter, I sure hope you understand, That in view of what is written, I'm a patriotic man; And I'm not to be dodging, Like some other fellows do, I just thought this information, Would be of help to you. P.S. - This should not be quite enough, I have only touched it lightly And the letter's kinda rough 'Cause I had to get a neighbor That I hoped would fix it right And I would have told you everything But I cannot read nor write.

Afterwards the boys even serenaded her with their Dream Boat song, "Rio Rho Rho Your Boat."

Her eyes paused on the one trophy she cherished most of all, even though she'd forgotten when she had acquired it. It was topped by a figure of Venus standing on the shoulders of Diana standing on the shoulders of Minerva who was scratching herself.

The simple inscription read: "Universitas Kentucky's: Mens Agitat Women's."

When she finished the inspection of her many trophies, she was more sad than ever. What else was there to live for? Now that the ultimate goal of all queens-to-be, the Queen of Animal Husbandry was no longer obtainable, there was only one alternative.

Her death went unnoticed for two or three days. Then it was discovered only by accident. One of the sorority sisters wandered out onto the veranda of the house and happened to peek into a large trophy standing off to one side. Inside, sodden and pitiful, floated the body of our ex-queen.

Her mode of destruction was ironical. The trophy,

First Cold Winds Bring Preview Of Winter Wardrobes, Activities

With the first cold winds as a preview of the coming winter weather, we've all dragged out our heaviest coats and donned our warmest sweaters. The cool, crisp days surely do wonders in keeping you awake between classes though!

Now that another week of classes is behind us, we can look forward to a pleasant weekend of relaxation and fun. Turn on the heaters though, or you'll freeze!

But first let's take a look at last weekend and reminisce about Lanes' Carnival. These shows and tents were both quite original and highly entertaining. We all had a great time, except for a few cold noses. The dance afterwards was the best, and what a crowd!

Our congratulations to Pat Wheatley for being crowned Lanes' Queen and to Jane Walker Tindler and Sally Trumble, her attendants. The Kappa Alpha production, "Dangerous Dan McGrew" won the prize for the best and most original carnival caper in the fraternity division. The "Parisienne Style Show," written, directed and produced by the Phi Kappa Tau's, placed second.

In the sorority division, the show from another world, "Election on Mars," created by the Chi Omega's, won first place. Another take-off on the coming election, "I Go Pop," by the Tri Deltas was second.

Deltas List Initiates
New initiates of Delta Tau Delta are Jeff Ray, Jim Hampton, Terry Ragan, Jim McGruder, and Hilton Minton. Good luck to you in the active world, but don't be too hard on those new pledges.

Speaking of new pledges, some of the recently pledged groups have already announced their officers. The officers of the Delta Zeta pledge class are Jackie Allgeier, president; Carolyn Turner, vice-president; Joyce Smith, secretary; Marsha Wright, treasurer; Jill Mahoney, social chairman; Lynn Deitelhoff, activities chairman; and Pat Hoffman, song leader.

Officers of the Chi Omega pledge class are Jane White, president; Jean Ford, vice-president; Betty Jo Martin, secretary; and Betty Kilgore, treasurer.

Tonight the Delta Zetas are having their Founders' Day Banquet at the Lafayette Hotel and awards will be given to two outstanding activities who have done the most for the sorority.

Student Lawyers Plan Dance
Also on the agenda for tonight is a dance at Joyland held by the Student Bar Association. The dance will begin at 8 p.m. and admission will be $1 sing or with a date.

Most of us will be journeying to Cincinnati tomorrow for the UK-Cincinnati football game. Several buses are going up for the game and many private cars. So it looks like there will be a big gathering of Wildcat fans boosting the UK eleven on to victory.

Kappa Queens To Be Crowned
The queen will be presented at the Kentuckian Queen Dance on Saturday, November 1. The dance will be sponsored by the senior men's leadership honorary, Lamp and Cross. Late permission will be given to all sorority and dormitory girls. Seems that an unusually large number of ghosts and goblins have been lurking around the dark corners lately. Must be that Halloween is coming. Tonight Dillard House is having the first of many Halloween parties. Their party will begin at 7:30 p.m. and should be full of good old fashioned witches, goblins, and black cats. So, grab your best broom stick, biggest bag of soap, and let's join the fun!

Kyian Judges To Name Finalists Wednesday

The 1953 Kentuckian Queen will be chosen at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, at Memorial Hall. Seven finalists will be announced then, but the queen's identity will not be known until Nov. 1, at the Kentuckian dance.

Red Holland, president of Lamp and Cross, senior men's honorary, said that the girls will be judged on beauty Wednesday night, after being interviewed individually by the judges for poise and naturalness.

Judges will be Cissy Gregg, fashion columnist for the Louisville Courier-Journal; William Ogden, professional photographer from Winchester; and Harold Davis, Roto magazine and cover photographer on the Louisville Courier-Journal.

An admission fee of 25c will be charged at the judging to defray the expenses of the contest. Holland also said these funds will enable the organization to secure a well-known Cincinnati band for the dance. As it is the first formal of the year, he said, "We are making plans for this dance to be the biggest and most successful dance of the fall semester."

The queen and her six attendants will be presented during the intermission when the queen will receive a crown and a trophy.

Sorority 'Bid Day' Is Scheduled Nov. 8

Nov. 8 will be Bid Day for informal sorority rush now in session. All girls who have not previously signed up for rush this semester, and who wish to do so, should register in the Dean of Women's office, Miss Jane Hasel, assistant dean of women, said this week.

ADPi, AGR Lead In Sale Of ODK Tags

Alpha Delta Pi and Alpha Gamma rho are leading in the sorority and fraternity divisions respectively of the ODK tag sales, Don Richardson, tag sale chairman, said this week. Delta Delta Delta and Kappa Sigma are in second place.

Trophies will be awarded to the winners of first and second places in both divisions this year. The first place winners will have an opportunity to assist on a panel to decide how the money will be used.

The annual tag sale is sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, a national men's honorary that recognizes men who have attained high scholarship and leadership. The money made on the sales is used for student projects such as the new television set in the Student Union, the lighting system on the intramural field, and a scholarship in one of the minor sports.

Richardson said, "Although there are only two home games left in the football series when the tags are sold, the race is still wide open for those trophies."

He also requested that the money from the sales of the preceding week be turned into him at 4 o'clock each Monday in the Student Union lounge.

Third Sigma Chi Derby To Be Held Next Week

The third annual Sigma Chi Derby for sorority pledges will be held Nov. 1 on Intramural Field, Arch Mainous, chairman of the Derby committee, said this week. The theme for this year's derby will be "County Carnival."

Cups will be awarded to winners in each of five events. The events and their supervisors are "Barry Race" by Bill Marcum, "Pig-Glee" by Jerry Bradley, "Turkey Tots" by Bud Fisher, "County Capers" by Carter Glass, and "Tatoo Sack Race" by Ray Meyers.

A trophy will be awarded to the queen of the derby and to the sorority having the highest total number of points. Previous winners were Zeta Tau Alpha, 1950, and Kappa Delta, 1951.

"Costume for the event," Mainous said, "will be shorts and sweaters with sorority colors. In case of inclement weather, bluejeans will be worn."

Mainous said that a big turnout is expected again this year "to witness the competing sororities and also to see who will be crowned queen of the derby."

Cincinnati Is Favored To Beat Cats Saturday

The Wildcats will find themselves in the underdog role again tomorrow afternoon as they meet the University of Cincinnati Bearcats in Cincinnati. The game will be played at Nippert Stadium and gets underway at 1:15 Central Standard time.

The predominantly senior and junior Bearcat squad will post a real test for the Kentucky squad in the department that Wildcats have found themselves weak in five games this year, pass defense.

The Queen City squad, led by the aerial work of senior Gene Rossi, has completed 51 of 80 attempts for 822 yards and six touchdowns in five games. The Bearcats are undefeated in these five games.

Kentucky opponents, on the other hand, have completed 60 per cent of their pass attempts for five scores and 867 yards.

Bunky Gruner has been dropped from the squad completely as a result of a flare up with Coach Ernal Allen. Miles Willard and Don Jirschele will also sit this game out with injuries. Harry Jones is still recuperating from an operation on his knee after the L.S.U. game and will probably be lost for the season.

Dick Shatto has been given the number one quarterback job for the rest of the season to give him the experience for next year. As a freshman, Shatto has earned this position in the last few games by showing that he knew how to handle the Split T.

Cincinnati has had experience against the split T as three of the five teams they have met thus far this season have employed this popularly used formation. The Bearcats, themselves, will throw variations of the straight T and split T at the Kentuckians.

Some twenty lettermen will be playing tomorrow, back from the 1951 squad which lost only one game (to Xavier) in 11 starts last year.

The Bearcat squad lists fourteen out of state boys on its roster with three of these boys coming from Pennsylvania. The only Kentucky listed is senior end, Paul Yetton from Burlington.

The Wildcats will field a majority of freshmen and sophomores in one of the youngest major college varsity squads, experience-wise. Twelve freshmen and about 36 sophomores make up this year's squad as Coach Bryant builds for 1953.

This series, which dates back to the turn of the century, finds the Wildcats with a 15-6-2 record in competition with the team from the Queen City. The last time the Cats met the Cincinnati team was in 1950 as they won 41-7. If you'll remember, Kentucky hadn't been scored upon that year until the Cincinnati game to Lexington and led Kentucky 7-0 at half time. Babe Parilli came back in the second half to unleash a barrage of aerials in setting a single and passing yardage record of 338 and heaving for five touchdowns.

The last time a Cincinnati team beat Kentucky was in 1946, 14-7, which means that a victory tomorrow for the Bearcats would be sweet and they will be trying harder than ever to pull that little trick.

Felch Leads Attack In Loss To Maroons

By STAN PORTMANN

In falling 27-14 to the Maroons of Mississippi State last Saturday the split-T attack of Kentucky picked up a total of 220 yards on the ground. Allen "Bull" Felch, "Player of the Week" accounted for 52 yards of the total with 11 carries for an average of 4.6 per rush. His line-splitting slashes set up the first Wildcat touchdown.

Felch, a 26-year-old sophomore from Marietta, Wis., seems a likely prospect to take over the rushing leadership from the injured Harry Jones. He now ranks second with an average of 4.1 yards coming from a total of 166 yards net gain in an even 40 tries. Jones, out for the season with a knee injury, has a 4.8 average for 40 tries in four games.

The hard hitting Peich, 5 feet 10 inches and 195 pounds, earned a varsity letter as a freshman last year with a final tabulation of 4.5 yards per smash.

The "Bull" is an explosive starter and hits the line of scrimmage with a full head of steam. It's this type of running which will pull enemy defenses in and leave the secondary vulnerable to passes. Felch played his fine game, after being listed as a doubtful starter, with a barely broken nose received in the L.S.U. game.

Ralph Paolone, the other half of Kentucky's one-two punch at fullback, picked up 53 yards for a 4.8 average in Saturday's game. The injury-ravaged Paolone has rushed the ball forward 70 yards in 14 carries for an even 5.0 average this season.

Paolone, a junior transfer from Notre Dame, stands 6 feet 2 inches and weighs 204 pounds and combines the attributes of speed and power necessary to a fullback. He is a native of New Castle, Pa. and was All-State in 1948.

Felch and Paolone, Kentucky's fullhouse of fullbacks, teamed together Saturday to batter the Maroon defenses for 105 yards of the total of 220 on the ground for Kentucky.

Jim Mayo, a freshman from Prestonsburg, made a successful debut as Kentucky's punter. His four punts traveled 159 yards for an average of 40.0. Mayo played for Prestonsburg High School and was coached by Doc Ferrill, a former pupil of Coach Bear Bryant.

Kittens Lose To Vanderbilt; Tennessee Game Cancelled

Kentucky's Kittens, following a pattern laid down by their older brothers earlier in the day, played erratic football while losing their opening game to the Vanderbilt "B" team 21-0 Saturday night on Stoll Field.

But the freshmen were twice as good as the Wildcats were in their 14-7 loss to Mississippi State. The Kittens lost the ball only three times on fumbles, the Cats, six. The Kittens had their pass defense penetrated for only one touchdown, the Cats, two.

A few hundred fans saw the sharp Vandy squad combine their own talents with Kitten misuses to push across touchdowns in every period except the third.

Kentucky's first fumble lead to the Sailors' first score. Vandy had pushed to the Kitten 23 where they were held on down. On the first play freshman quarterback Bill White's pitch out was wide and Vandy's Willis Rice recovered on the 14. Three plays later McCloskey smashed over from the two for the touchdown. Ed Merry kicked the first of his three conversions.

Kentucky fans sensed a close game when Kitten halfback Frank Pettit from Tompkinsville exploded for a 71-yard dash to the Commodore three-yard line in the second quarter. But their hopes were short-lived. Two line plays by Fettit, an attempted sneak by White, erratic football while losing their opening game to the Vanderbilt "B" team 21-0 Saturday night on Stoll Field.

The Commodores went for a quick touchdown with four minutes remaining in the half. End Charles Rolfe took a six-yard pass from Jim Looney and raced 35 yards for the score.

The Kittens fought on fairly even terms with Vandy during the third and part of the fourth quarter until White's pass was intercepted on the Vandy five. Bacon returned it to the 23 to start their final touchdown drive. Vandy scored in 14 plays with John Burt going over from two yards out.

Some bright spots in the Kitten loss were Pettit's long run, the hard play smashes of fullback Guy Tracy from Bellevue, and the defensive play of guard Delmas Carnutte of Paintsville.

Kentucky outrushed Vandy 180 yards to 167, but the Commodores completed seven of 15 passes for 113 yards compared to the Kittens 43 yards on two completions in seven attempts. Vandy had 15 first downs, Kentucky 10.

Sports Sidelights

By TOM EASTERLING

The B-team game scheduled for Saturday night between the Kittens and the Tennessee Jayvees has been cancelled. General Bob Neyland, Tennessee coach, has announced that he doesn't have the personnel to field a varsity team and a freshman team. Maybe he was thinking of the situation here at UK, rather than his own at Knoxville. Kentucky is carrying 19 freshmen on the varsity roster this year. This leaves only 11 freshmen on the Kentucky B-team.

For a school that is de-emphasizing football, Vanderbilt isn't doing so bad recruiting players. Only nine of the players listed on the roster for last Saturday's game with the Kittens were from Tennessee. The homes of the other 21 are scattered from Texas to Massachusetts.

Harold "Bunky" Gruner has issued a statement that he was misquoted by two Louisville papers concerning the recent flare-up over outside aid to UK football players. During Bunky's high school days it was these same two papers that made him the most sought after player ever to come out of Louisville. The publicity given Gruner by these two papers made it possible for Gruner to nail down a starting berth on his high school team without trying. When Gruner tried the same thing here at UK he found out that he would have to work to break into the starting line-up. It seems to us when a player says he is ready to play on Saturday afternoon he should be ready to take part in practice the following Tuesday. Two or three times during the LSU game we noticed Bunky warming up on the sidelines.

There will be quite a throng of Kentucky fans in the stands when the Wildcats meet the Cincinnati Bearcats in Cincinnati Saturday afternoon. Harvey Hodges, ticket sales manager has announced that he has sold close to 4,000 tickets for the game.

October is pretty far gone and Judge Saul Striet has not announced the date of Bill Spivey's trial. Kentucky, and perhaps all collegiate basketball, can prepare for another blast from Judge Striet. It looks now as if this blast probably will come after the presidential election. To borrow a phrase from those who appear to be using the basketball scandal as a political springboard, "Wait until it will get the most publicity before making the announcement."

Although it seems longer, it was just a year ago today that it was announced that three former Wildcat cagers were involved in the basketball fix scandal. It has been a rough year for the players and followers of the Cats. Various people have criticized UK officials for the way they are trying to clean up the mess. What more could the officials do than ask for an outside investigation, which the University has done by its utmost?

Unless the Suky Circle eliminates its own selfish interests and attempts to promote better school spirit we think it should be replaced by a more potent organization. We have always contended that Suky organization is too small to accomplish what is needed on the campus. When Suky was organized the enrollment was approximately one-third of the present enrollment at UK. While the enrollment has tripled Suky's membership has remained the same.

FOR A LONG TIME we've suspected that today's college man would no longer "gladly die for dear old Siwash." Neither does he play ukuleles and sing "Alma Mater" at the drop of a beanie.

We believe, too, that when it comes to sportshirts the college man is no different from his older brother in town. He doesn't go for fads and screwball styles. But he does go for smartness, good workmanship, and above all, value.

That is why we believe you'll like the new selection of sportshirts by Manhattan®. For they have all these qualities, plus a distinctive air that sets them above the ordinary shirt.

So ask for Manhattan... the college man's sportshirt.

Rebels, BSU Are Undefeated; SAE, ATO Lead Fraternities

By DAVID NAKDIMEN

Four teams are undefeated in the intramural touch football play this year. Heading the list of undefeated is SAE with a 4-0 record followed by ATO with a 3-0 record. The other two undefeated teams are in the independent league, BSU and the Rebels have both won their only game played so far.

Division II action Wednesday night saw DTD handling KA their first loss of the season by mugging them 7-6. The teams were tied 6-6 at the end of regulation time. DTD won the contest by outgaining KA in four downs during the extra period. KA scored first on a pass from Howard to Bennett in the initial period. DTD tied the score on a pass interception by Lambert who ran all the way to score.

The second game found the Kappa Sig edging SX 7-6, the margin of victory being a conversion by Gipe in the second period. SX scored first on a pass from Boggs to Choate but the try for the extra point failed. KS came back late in the contest to score on a pass from Gipe to Bonnell. Then came Gipe's successful conversion and victory for KS.

PKA was given a forfeit over Farm House 1-0 in another Division II game Wednesday.

Men's Dorn won over the Newman Club 1-0 in an independent division game. The contest was decided in a sudden-death period with the Dorns outgaining the Newman Club by six yards.

In a Division III contest Thursday evening, the ATO's remained undefeated by trimming AGR 12-0. Elsewh three touchdown passes, one to Estlin and one to Morris, to account for both ATO touchdowns.

ASP remained winless by dropping a forfeit to SPE 1-0.

PKT clipped TKE 7-0 with Richardson passing to Miller, for the only score, in the first period. King added the extra point.

In independent action, the B.S.U. defeated Men's Dorn 1-0 in a sudden-death contest. B.S.U. gained the most yardage in the extra period and captured the win.

SAE remained on top in Division I by rapping LXA 13-0 Monday night. Mandt passed to Black for the first SAE score in the first period. Another Mandt pass was good for a second tally in the last period, with Creger on the receiving end.

Winless ZBT suffered another drubbing, this time losing to SN 7-0. Rich of SN scored the only touchdown of the game on a run from scrimmage. Mudd kicked the extra point to account for the final margin.

Triangle dropped out of a tie for first place in Division I by dropping one to PDT 1-0 in a sudden-death tussle.

In independent play, the Newman Club edged the Civil Engineers 1-0 in another sudden-death affair. DTD won a thriller from KS Tuesday night by a score of 4-3. Burton of DTD accounted for the first scoring with a field goal in the first period. Gipe of KS matched this with a field goal in the second period to knot the score at 3-3. DTD then won the game in a sudden-death period.

KA won over Farm House 1-0 on a forfeit.

PKA trimmed SX 7-0 on a runback of an intercepted pass.

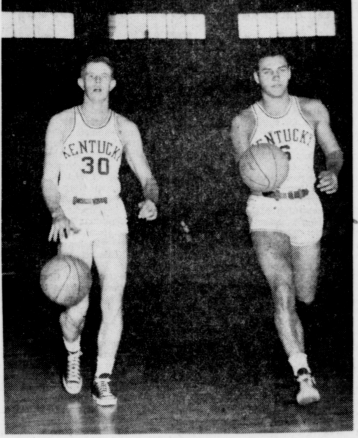

SAE kept their lead in Division I by musing out Triangle 6-0. A pass from Mandt to Riddle accounted for the winning margin. Standings follow:

All-Americans Frank Ramsey, left, and Cliff Hagan, right, have been selected as captains of the 1952-53 UK basketball team. Both Hagan and Ramsey, who are playing their last year at UK, have been selected on numerous All-American teams during their college careers.

Five Lettermen Listed On Basketball Roster

Coach Adolph Rupp is in his second week of polishing a rough Kentucky basketball squad into the precision outfit that will be needed to successfully carry the Wildcats through a tough 21-game schedule. When the 1952-53 basketball card is released it will contain some of the nation's better teams.

But the Kentucky head man has added championship teams from less likely material. Included on the 18-man squad are returning lettermen Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey, Bill Evans, Gayle Rose and Lou Taborpoulos.

The Cats' two captains and all-American candidates, Hagan and Ramsey, along with Evans, Rose, and Willie Rouse have looked good in practice sessions, but are still far from perfect.

After a week of shooting drills and running play patterns Coach Rupp threw in a freshman defender against the Cats' offensive plays. The varsity had a good shooting percentage but their passing was poor and they were outbatted under the boards by the eager frosh.

All-American Cliff Hagan, picking up where he left off last year, worked smoothly from the pivot. He displayed a magic touch on tip-ins and connected frequently with his hook shot. Guards Gayle Rose and Willie Rouse, both who stand at six feet even, were hitting on set shots from out in the court. Ramsey, who alternates as either guard or forward, showed last year's form on his lay ups.

At the end of their first full week of practice, Coach Harry Lancaster's UK freshman basketball team is beginning to shape up into quite a formidable outfit. It is too early to predict who the first five will be, but one thing is sure, whoever is selected from the 18 man squad will certainly be able to give UK a good representation.

Three new freshmen were added to the roster following the try-outs held last week. Thirty-one boys, including 15 already on scholarship, tried out for the squad. The three new freshmen are Charles Claypool, a 5' 11", 160 pound guard from Flemingsburg; Curtis Congleton, a 5' 11", 160 pound guard from Barbourville; and Douglas Lawhorn, a six foot, 185 pound forward from Paris.

Wildcats Lose Six Fumbles In 27-14 Loss To Maroons

Mississippi State Maroons, recovering six of eight Kentucky fumbles, beat the Wildcats, 27-14 before 18,000 homecoming fans in Starkville, Miss. last Saturday.

For the first time this season, the Wildcats had a statistical edge on their opponent. Kentucky made 21 first downs to 16 for the Maroons and gained 230 yards on the ground to 140 for Mississippi State. The Maroons had the edge in the air as they out-gained the Cats 176-86.

Taking the opening kickoff the injury-riddled Cats drove to the Maroons 18 yard line, where they fumbled the ball over to Mississippi State.

Late in the first period, the Maroons recovered another Wildcat fumble and in four plays broke the scoring ice. On the first play of the second quarter, Parker passed to Wilson, who caught the ball on the two-yard line and fell into the end zone. Parker kicked the extra point to give the Maroons a 7-0 lead.

Score Twice In Two Minutes

Two minutes later the Maroons had another score as the Cats fumbled the kickoff on their own 23 yard line. After two plays failed to gain for State, Parker passed to Norman Duplain on the two and on the next play threw to Duplain again. Duplain bobbled the ball and it fell into the hands of Wilson, who carried it over for the second Maroon score. Parker again kicked the extra point to give State a 14-0 lead.

The Wildcats took the next kickoff and drove 72 yards for their first score. Fullback Allen Felch bore the brunt of the attack as he carried the ball ten times for 49 yards. Larry Jones, playing his first game at halfback this year, carried the ball for eight yards and caught a pass from Freshman Dick Shatto, good for 15 yards to keep the ball moving.
