

Constitutional Principles

The entire program of the TVA represents an effort to undermine constitutional provisions. The record of the TVA to date bears this out. The sponsors for the scheme are interested primarily in building up a Socialistic State. The attempt to circumvent court decisions through the enactment of the pending legislation is indicative of a disregard for the principles upon which our Government was founded. The bill, S. 2357, proposes by adroit means to keep within the letter while violating the spirit of the Constitution.

Already the TVA has arrogated to itself powers in excess of those granted either by the law or by the Constitution. The pending bill seeks to legalize some of these unlawful acts and to bestow even greater powers upon a bureaucratic menace. It has no warrant in law, no justification in practice.
