

MOVIE RUSHING TO BE OPPOSED BY FRAT COUNCIL

Fraternities Will Vote On the Wearing of Caps By Freshmen

COUNCIL RECOMMENDS HOUSE-MOTHER PLAN

Organizations to Exchange Dinner Guests Each Thursday

Resolutions condemning theater rushing by students of the University were adopted by the Inter-fraternity council at the first meeting of the year, held at 6:15 p. m., Monday, at the Alpha Sigma Phi house.

The motion was drawn up and presented by Gordon Burns, president of the organization, and was unanimously adopted. The resolution was as follows:

"Be it resolved: That the fraternities of the University of Kentucky shall refrain from and discourage the so-called 'rushing' of downtown theaters.

Be it further resolved: That the fraternities of the University of Kentucky shall co-operate with the local theaters in eliminating such practices.

Fraternities will vote Wednesday night on the wearing of caps by freshmen, according to a decision reached by the Inter-fraternity council at the meeting Monday.

The decision made by vote in the various fraternities will be final and the measure is carried, caps will be ordered immediately through one of the downtown stores, according to Gordon Burns, president of the council.

A recommendation was made that each fraternal organization secure house-mothers was made by Dean T. Jones and was favored by the majority of the representatives on the Inter-fraternity council.

Plans for the selection of faculty members as representatives were discussed and nominations will be made at the next meeting, on Monday, October 2, at 6 p. m., at the Sigma Chi house. Four faculty members will be elected to serve for the ensuing year.

An explanation of the plans for the drive for funds for the Student Union building was made and the co-operation of the various fraternities was requested. Fraternities were requested to discuss the drive at their next fraternal meeting and return in written resolutions on the matter to either Gordon Burns, president of Omicron Delta Kappa, or to James S. Shropshire, secretary of the leadership fraternity.

At the weekly exchange of letters from the representatives of the fraternities, which was inaugurated last Thursday of this week, dates for exchange will be given each fraternity in accordance with a master chart which was prepared last year when the plan was first put into effect.

Place On Calendar May Be Petitioned

Consent Must Be Given by Dean of Men to Hold Social Event

Applications for positions on the social calendar were received by the Office of the Dean of Men for consideration by the Social Committee, according to the dean, which by Layle W. Croft, assistant dean of men, Monday. Although definite and final arrangements have not yet been completed for the preparation of the social calendar, organizations may submit requests for dates at any time.

Each group will be permitted to make requests for first, second, and third choice as to the date on which social events will be scheduled. As in the past, all organizations governed by the Office of the Dean of Men, must receive permission from that office before holding any social event.

Proceeding the granting of approval for a social event where both men and women students will be present, the organization which is giving the affair must turn in to the office of the dean of men a list of chaperones who will attend the party.

It is expected that the social calendar will be released about the last of October.

LISTEN, FRESHMAN! Freshmen! Just in case you don't know all you want to know about this matter, university, and you can't find out all about "extra-curricular activities" or you want advice (guaranteed to be good, but you don't have to follow it) on the subject of the Women's building, and look for the Y. W. C. A. office. We'd like to help you, really!

COLLEGE NIGHT IS BIG SUCCESS

More Than 1,000 Students Attend Annual Event Sponsored by Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

More than 1,000 old and new students were present for the most elaborate College Night program, which has ever been presented by the student Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. in the annual event, held from 8 until 11 p. m. in the Alumni gymnasium.

Cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. acted as hostesses in the various side shows which included a chamber of horrors, fortune telling, shooting, and Henry's Sleigh of Hand set, a fish pond under the direction of the student Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. in the history of the event, a free picture gallery. Chairman for the committee of arrangements was Betty Anne Pennington.

During the evening a floor show arranged by Wildan Thomas and announced by the student Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. in the annual event, held from 8 until 11 p. m. in the Alumni gymnasium.

The various acts were as follows: tap dance, Marjorie Powell and Wildan Thomas; vocal trio, Nicholas, Henry, and the first time a representative of the Bronson studio; tap dance, Fritz DeWolfe; Junior Fred Hazelwood, mountain music, the Bushwackers; vocal solo, Kitty Cooke; acrobatics, Dan Wallace and Tom Shannon; impromptu of Rubinfeld, Louis Friedman, and song and dance numbers, Loretta Collins.

Following the serving of refreshments, a local orchestra provided music for informal dancing.

ALUMNI GROUP MAKES CHANGES

G. H. Wilson, '04, Re-Elected President of Association; New Constitution and By-Laws Adopted

Announcement was made of the re-election of Dr. George H. Wilson, '04, as president of the Kentucky Alumni association at the annual business session held June 2, at which time the Association was reorganized.

Mrs. Thomas R. Underwood, '19, (Ella Pigott) was elected vice-president; Walter W. Hillemeier, '11, and E. Cronley Elliott, '02, were re-elected as members of the executive committee.

A change in the office regime; reduction of annual dues, and the membership fees, and the adoption of a new constitution and by-laws were among the changes made in the Association.

At a meeting of the executive committee June 14, further changes were made in the constitution of the organization. James Shropshire, '29, resigned as secretary. Robert G. Gordon, Louisville, was taken by the University. The resignation of Mr. Shropshire, who has been assistant to Mr. Shropshire for three years, was appointed secretary.

Betty Hulet, '30, who has been assistant to Mr. Shropshire for three years, was appointed secretary.

Announcement that the "Alumni" would be published quarterly instead of monthly was made by Miss Hulet. Special feature of the new publication will be "The University of Kentucky and Its Place in the Life of the Commonwealth" by James H. Richmond, superintendent of public instruction. An article by Dr. Thomas H. Bryant and a sport story by Cameron Coffman will be other interesting features of the magazine.

GUILGOL PLAYS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR COMING YEAR

New Comedy, "When Ladies Meet", Will Be First Presentation

PRIZE PLAY WILL BE HELD AGAIN THIS YEAR

Rehearsals Will Begin On Wednesday Night For First Production

Guilgol productions for the 1933-34 season were announced Saturday by Director Fowler who has recently completed negotiations which have been under way during the summer.

There will be six productions this season, four of which will be popular, one classical, and one presentation of the prize play. Contrary to last season, the productions will not consist of the type of play, namely burlesque, but the patron will find a selection most pleasing and varied.

The schedule and the date of the opening of the productions is as follows:

October 16, "When Ladies Meet"—Rachel Crothers; November 13, "The Moonlight"—Benn Levy; December 11, "Oedipus Rex"—Sophocles; February 12, prize play; March 19, "Animal Kingdom"—Philip Bar-rett; April 30, "Peter Pan"—J. M. Barrie.

Trouits for the opening production are being held now, and Director Fowler expects to start rehearsals tomorrow night, by which time he hopes to have selected his cast.

Manuscripts for the prize play are not due for several months yet. The only requirement for the play is that it be a mystery. Last season the requirement was that it be a burlesque. "Alas, Poor Yorick!" is the title of the mystery play which the theater director trying to produce a Shakespearean play, was the winner. It was written by Virginia Boyd and Harry Knapp, former students of the University and veterans of the Guilgol stage. A prize play will be presented over the University extension studios of Station WHAS and another presentation during the summer was the reward.

Intramural Sports Will Begin Soon

Several Changes Are Made In Play System For Games

Beginning with tennis singles and doubles, the intramural department is starting another year of extensive sports activity. All entries must be made at the Intramural office in the men's gymnasium.

Intramural sports are open to all who wish to compete, and the department is urging more students to participate. Henry Reick of the Independent Athletic club is again gathering his cohorts together for another year. This club was the first group of non-fraternity men to be permanently organized on the campus for athletic competition in intramural sports.

The season opens with tennis singles and doubles, and horse shoe pitching, track, and volleyball will follow. Entries close September 22. The men's gymnasium matches start September 25. A schedule will be posted on the bulletin board in the men's gymnasium, September 23.

Entry fees of $1.25 per team for each sport will be charged. Any team which is unable to enter in each sport. All students are eligible in intramural sports except numerical and letter men of the respective sport.

Several changes have been made in the all-year point system. The corrected system is as follows: For team sports, volleyball ball, etc., ten points for entry; thirty points for winner of tourney; fifteen points for runner-up; five points for winner of game; two points deducted for forfeit. For individual sports, tennis, etc., two points for entry; ten points for first place in tourney; eight points for second place in tourney; five points for third place; three points for fourth place; one point deducted for forfeit; one point deducted for forfeit in first round.

Frat Presidents Plan To Organize For Present Year

The organization of all presidents of social fraternities will be discussed at a dinner meeting of the presidents of the 18 fraternities which will be held at 6 p. m., Tuesday, September 26 in the University Commons, according to an announcement made by the office of the Dean of Men, Monday.

Plans for the organization have been prepared by Cameron Coffman, who will be presented to the assembled group for their approval. According to organization plans the group will be in a purely business way and will in no way be considered as an honorary, nor will points toward Cameron Delta Kappa be given for membership.

Dr. Funkhouser Returns From World Travels

Noted Dean Relates Many Strange Happenings of Remote Places

After an absence of a year and four days during which he traveled over 45,000 miles and visited in different countries, Dr. William D. Funkhouser, popular dean of the Graduate school and head of the department of zoology, has returned to the University. Accompanied by Mrs. Funkhouser, he went unscathed through three epidemics and one war. He sailed in 42 different ships, starting from the junks on the rivers of China to the Conte di Savoia, sister ship of the world's fastest.

Doctor Funkhouser was present during the cholera epidemic in India, the amplex plague in Java, the malaria outbreak in Belgian Congo, and the Chinese-Japanese war. Besides his interesting research work, he did considerable book work spending some time doing strenuous classification work at the British Museum of Natural History in London.

Doctor Funkhouser studied mainly the membrane family of insects. He obtained his best specimens in the jungles of Africa, the Philippines, India, Sumatra, Bali, Java, Malaya and the South-eastern part of China.

Doctor and Mrs. Funkhouser took 2,000 feet of motion pictures and hundreds of still pictures which they prize very highly. While in London, he attended the summer was graduated last June with high honors. She received her degree of bachelor of arts in journalism and had planned to enter newspaper work.

She was president of her sorority during her senior year, and was a member of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary women's journalistic sorority, a battalion sponsor, a member of the staff of the Kernel and also on the staff of The Kentuckian, University annual.

Members of Alpha Gamma Delta are holding a memorial service commemorating her death. The staff of the journalism department is holding a memorial service for members of Theta Sigma Phi who are winning the news of her death.

Dr. Funkhouser expects to offer work in the field of entomology this semester as a result of his research in that field. He feels in great need of long sojourns in strange lands and is ready to tackle the several years task of classifying the thousands of insects he has collected in addition to keeping up his lecture engagements, his research, and his class work.

Poultry Raisers To Hold Convention

Annual Fall Meeting Will Be Conducted by Agriculture College

Approximately 300 persons are expected to attend the annual fall meeting of poultry raisers of Kentucky, which will be held at the Experiment station, fall, October 18. The program which has been planned by the College of Agriculture will begin at 10 a. m. and continue until 3 p. m.

Dr. J. S. McHargue, head of the poultry department, will explain various experimental projects of the poultry plant from 10 a. m. until 12 noon. During which time the guests will be conducted on a tour of the plant. Lunch will be served at noon in the new building pavilion.

The feature of the afternoon program is to be an address by Dr. M. H. Jones, director of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington. Doctor Juvl will discuss some of the poultry problems of the industry with their possible solutions. Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the College of Agriculture will welcome the visitors.

Other exhibits included the 4-H club's display of clothing and canned and baked goods which were contributed by hundreds of farm boys and girls of Kentucky. The 4-H club also showed dairy cattle, sheep, and poultry, and participated in a livestock judging contest.

One of the exhibits, entitled "Iodine in Agriculture," displayed pictures, maps, and charts, showing the amount of iodine in the soils, feeds of Kentucky, and some of the ways in which iodine deficiency may be corrected. Lack of iodine is considered to be the principal cause of goitre.

The dairy department's exhibit called attention to the advantage of keeping records on dairy cows and the benefits of farm profits from their records.

The department of markets and rural finance had an exhibit illustrating the benefits of farm products under a large chart which showed the various farm products in recent years.

An exhibit which gave some evidence of the work of home demonstration over the state was presented by members of Kentucky home-makers' associations. Garments which these women have renovated were displayed.

At the department of entomology and botany, farmers were shown some of the common impurities after found in seeds offered for sale. Another booth that proved interesting to farmers, displayed the tobacco barn ventilator.

Other exhibits included the 4-H club's display of clothing and canned and baked goods which were contributed by hundreds of farm boys and girls of Kentucky. The 4-H club also showed dairy cattle, sheep, and poultry, and participated in a livestock judging contest.

W. S. G. A. ENTERTAINS NEW WOMEN STUDENTS

A group of new girls were entertained by the W. S. G. A. Tuesday afternoon at the home of Dean Nollan presided at the meeting and introduced the principal speakers, Dean Blending and Dean Holmes.

Major talks were given by each, in which they welcomed the new girls to the University. The presidents of the women's organizations were introduced to the guests, and after the meeting refreshments were served.

Y. W. SENIOR COUNCIL MEETS Senior council of the University Y. W. C. A. met Monday afternoon in the women's building. Mrs. E. Whittinghill presided at the meeting. Membership fees and other financial matters were discussed, and the appointment to take Judith Clark's place as reporter for the Y. W. C. A. meetings.

COMMITTEE HOLDS MEETING

The Grants in Aid committee met at 1:30 p. m., Monday in the office of Prof. S. A. Boles to consider rural extension work. This committee, which is appointed by the President of the University to aid students in working their way through school is composed of the following members: Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, chairman; Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, Prof. M. E. Ligon, Prof. Enoch Greig, Major B. E. Brewer, Dr. T. J. Jones, H. H. Hinkle, and Prof. S. A. Boles, secretary.

HOMECOMING CLUB MEETS

REQUISCAT IN PACE

And dreaming through the twilight That doth no rest nor set, Haply I may remember, And haply may forget

News of the death of Lillian Bliss Warren spread over the campus Friday. The shock and bitterness of the knowledge that she was associated with her during her years in the University...

Outstanding as a student, Miss Warren was gifted with a charming personality that endeared her to everyone who knew her. Her soft, Southern accent and lucid smile will not soon be forgotten...

To her family, we express our sincere sympathy and condolence in their bereavement. Her spirit will tread the corridors of McVey hall forever.

We wish you Godspeed on your journey to your divine reward, Bliss. 'Tis you who live—'tis we who die!

TO THE FRESHMEN

To you, members of the freshmen class of 1933-34, we dedicate this timely bit of friendly philosophy. You are now a definite part in this great institution of learning...

The average newcomer to the University is confronted by a confusion of perplexing, combining, and delightful, heartaches and happiness. A decided transition, apparently not to be noticed by the individual in most instances, takes place.

And yet, on the other hand, do not feel that, merely because you are in new territory, you should grovel in the dust of your classmates, but as all instances, a combination of feeling that you are on your own—can you keep your feet on the ground?

So, we urge you to take the happy medium. Do not bury all at the crossroads; travel straight ahead. Be yourself!

THEY ALSO SERVE

I love to hear those Wildcats yell down on the practice field; Out in God's great open space, with the stars above to shield.

Their souls are wrapt in labor for a purpose grand and worthy. 'Tis a game, never ending, linctured with a streak of courage.

Each afternoon more than fifty young men and women of the Head Coach Harry Gamage and his assistants, toll on the Stoll field practice grounds. Their purpose in this daily football practice is to perfect a Wildcat eleven that will bring glory to the University of Kentucky and its student body.

Everyone appreciates the loyalty and devotion of the Wildcat team more than the students! A Lexington amusement company recently announced that one night each week the varsity and freshmen football squads would be their guests.

Visitors to University football games have often commented on the lack of interest displayed by the students at the games. In other universities, some of which have a smaller enrollment than Kentucky, the students literally go "wild" over a well-balanced football team.

Give credit where credit is due! The men who represent the University of Kentucky on the football field love to play the game. If they did not thrill to the physical contact afforded them in the sport of football, they surely would not enjoy the rigorous practice sessions necessary to prepare them for such physical strain.

Since school adjourned last June there has been inaugurated, over the nation, a great rehabilitation program by President Roosevelt. The National Recovery Administration is a plan by which twelve million unemployed are to be put back to work.

Everyone is being touched by this plan either directly or indirectly. Therefore we as students are our part in the NRA. We should urge the consumers pledge and cooperate with the movement in every possible way.

Four long years ago, all of us unwittingly cooperated to plunge this nation into the greatest depression the world has ever known. Factories were closed, hours lengthened, salaries cut, and a general feeling of fear and uncertainty crept into all of us.

Another example of great cooperation, on a national scale was during the World War. In that attempt we were also successful, and in another extreme. Today, as in 1917, we are fighting another war, this time against the common foe of depression.

It is a struggle for the very civilization and ideals that our ancestors fought and died to preserve. This is a constructive fight—the first and only war that will leave healthy, fraternal and sounder peoples behind.

give food to the millions that now are literally starving; It will make a better United States for each and every one of us to live in.

There is a patriotism of peace as well as a heroism of war and good citizenship is the opportunity that peace affords for the display of this virtue. Good citizenship at this time is buying under the Blue Eagle. There is to be no boycott in the NRA program except that true American patriots should buy from those stores that display the Blue Eagle.

This program cannot fail! It dare not fail! If it should, it means revolution and possibly even worse. Upon the success of this plan depends your job, your food, your future, and the very life of every American.

DR. W. D. FUNKHOUSER

Private colleges and universities with unlimited incomes are able to send expeditions into all countries of the world to make surveys of economic and social conditions, to explore unutilized land and to search for precious metals.

Without endowment to aid such research work, the University now lacks in the international interest and reputation of the illustrious scientist.

Jest Among Us

Monument: the new member of The Kernel staff who did not want his name over his article. This actually happened.

Student's idea for a Blue Eagle in the University business office. "NRA—We get our part."

"And how much are the fees?" asked a prospective pledge. "Oh, blank, blank," replied the loyal member.

"Great. When do I get possession of the house?"

Looking Back

October 28, 1921. New men's dormitory nears completion. Ex-service men will have first choice of rooms.

QUIS VADIT? —CRADDOCK

By JOHNNIE CRADDOCK

This is supposed to be a humorous column, but today it is a serious one filled with helpful hints to freshmen. These hints were compiled by Orville Scudder, who has a job in the freshman department.

"If you get several bids to a fraternity, just flip a coin and let that decide which one to take. This method is always safe for one fraternity is as bad as another."

"If you have to see your dean, after him a cigar, but ask him if he has any more. If he says no, you know that you are allowed to spit on the floor all you please."

"When you meet someone for the first time, the conversation seems to center around the weather. This is some intricate subject. Slowly I am getting around to saying that while a rainy day may influence the character of your conversation, I shall tell you mainly my observations of life on the campus, with charity for all or something."

At the theaters the first part of this week a most interesting array of pictures is being offered. To begin with at the Ben All, Claudette Colbert, Ricardo Cortez, David Manners, Lydia Roberti, and Baby Leroy are playing in "Torch Song."

"The Devil in Love" will run through Monday and Tuesday of the week at the Strand. The play is concerned with rather warmed-over Foreign Legion ideas built into passable entertainment.

"Come On In, Smiles Or Tears!" Is Cheery Greeting At Door Of Popular Engineer. A picture with a wide range of subject matter, some really fine pictures of two airdales whom I took to be relatives of the fellow outside and the other extreme.

EXOTIC LULLABY

Night in a velvet flower,
Whose petals closing,
Enfold thee in a silent scented softness of enchanted gloom.
Upon her quiet heart she gently rocks
thee,
Drenched in dreamy incense
From her sight.
Dream in thy velvet
Of dusky bloom,
While on her fragile stem she aways
between the sunset and the dawn
In measured swing until, forgetful grown,
She woeily leans too far
Into the light.

The Chi Omega sorority entertained with a formal tea Saturday afternoon at the chapter house, 319 Lexington avenue, in honor of the new girls at the University.

In the receiving line were Miss Jean Dawson, president; Mrs. Harrison, housemother, and Miss Ainsworth Harrison, president of the alumnae chapter.

Zeta Tau Alpha Tea

The Zeta Tau Alpha sorority entertained with a formal tea Saturday afternoon at the chapter house in honor of new girls entering the University.

The house was beautifully decorated with large vases of fall garden flowers, and lighted by cathedral candles. Individual cakes and ices were served.

The guests were received by Miss Lucy Jean Anderson, chapter president; Mrs. A. B. McCormick, house mother, and Mrs. W. E. Davis, chapter advisor. About 100 guests called during the afternoon.

Delta Zeta Tea

Alpha Theta chapter of Delta Zeta entertained with a formal afternoon tea from four to six Thursday afternoon at the chapter house honoring new girls at the University.

Garden flowers and lighted candles in rose and green, the sorority colors, were used in the decorations.

Musical selections were played during the afternoon by the members of the chapter. A delicious course, attractively decorated in rose and green and the sorority emblem, was served during the afternoon.

In the receiving line were Miss Gayle Elliott, president of the sorority; Miss Mildred Lewis, alumnae advisor, and Misses Dorothy Compton and Joan Enoch.

The active members and pledges of the sorority assisted in entertaining.

Alpha Delta Theta Tea
Beta chapter of Alpha Delta Theta entertained from 4 to 6 p.m. Saturday with a formal tea in honor of their new girls.

The chapter house was beautifully decorated with candles and flowers and the color scheme was carried out in yellow, green and white.

The receiving line was composed of Miss Edna Brumagen, president of the active chapter; Mrs. Anderson Brown, housemother; Miss Carolyn Chase, president of the alumnae chapter, and Mrs. H. C. Robinson, president of the Mother's club.

Little Miss Betty Deen received the cards at the door, and Miss Kathleen Smith furnished the music for the afternoon's entertainment.

The active chapter and pledges are Misses Stella Bach, Dorothy Martin, Hattie Downing, Kathleen Smith, Margaret Scottow, Fern Osborne, Lois Robinson, Vivian Nash, Lois Mae Banks, Nancy Alverson, Ethel Smoot, Martha Honerkamp, Yvonne Sylvester, and Marjorie Powell, who were assisted in entertaining by the patronesses and the members of the Alumnae and Mother's clubs.

Zeta Tau Alpha Convention
The thirteenth national and second international convention of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority was held from August 21 to 24 at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

The delegates to the convention occupied two floors of the beautiful Elms hotel.

Over 300 girls from all parts of the United States and Canada were present, many of them coming via the "Zeta Special" from Cincinnati.

As this convention was primarily a business meeting, social activities were somewhat curtailed, but the delegates found time to use the two swimming pools, 36-hole golf course, and tennis courts in connection with the hotel grounds.

A stable of fine five-gated horses was also placed at their disposal, and a beautiful bride path wound in and out the lovely Missouri lands near the hotel.

On the evening of the first day, each province entertained its delegates at a formal dinner. A delicious five-course meal was served. Zeta radio stars entertained, and attractive souvenirs of the occasion were presented. Music was furnished by the hotel orchestra and two other musical groups, as the dinners were held in three private dining rooms.

As most of the day was taken up with the routine of business, it was principally at night that social events were held. The Fox Film corporation was holding a brief convention at the Elms and the second evening, the officials of that company gave a dance for the Zeta delegates. A large orchestra played in the hotel ball room.

On the last night of the convention, the farewell banquet was held in the main dining room. Turquoise blue and silver, the sorority colors, composed the color scheme. Between courses, vocal and piano solos, readings, and clever skits were given by various delegates.

The past grand officers and the newly elected ones were seated at the speaker's table, and each gave a brief talk about some humorous thing which she had observed during the past year while connected with the fraternity business.

The dinner closed with the singing of Zeta songs, and the next morning the delegates returned to their homes.

The 1933 convention will be held in Pasadena, Cal. The newly elected grand officers are: Mrs. Dorothy Hillix, Kansas City, president; Mrs. Betty Ott, Cleveland, vice-president; Miss May Youngberg, Rockford, Ill., secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Shirley K. Krieb, Champaign, Ill., editor-historian; Mrs. Helen Prophet, Detroit, national inspector.

Pan-Hellenic Tea
The Pan-Hellenic association of the University entertained in honor of new girls with a delightful tea from 4 to 6 Wednesday at Patterson hall.

The rooms were attractively decorated with fall flowers, and punch was served throughout the afternoon. Receiving the guests were Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Miss Sarah Blanding, Mrs. P. K. Holmes and the Pan-Hellenic officers, Misses Virginia Pitzer, Mary Heizer, and Elizabeth Jones.

All the sororities on the campus were represented, and about one hundred and fifty guests were present.

The hostesses were: Alpha Delta Theta: Misses Dorothy Martin, Margaret Scottow; Lois Robinson, Edna Brumagen, Dorothy Downing, Kathleen Smith, and Marianna Martin.

Alpha Gamma Delta: Misses Evelyn Grubbs, Virginia Pitzer, Mildred Holmes, Sue Layton, Edna Evans, Lillian Holmes, Frances Kerr, and Mary Marshall.

Alpha Xi Delta: Misses Mary Heizer, Edna Brown, Elizabeth Soper, Eloise Carroll, Jane Hamilton, Mary Miller, Ruth Dunn, and Ruth Stewart.

Chi Omega: Misses Jean Dawson, Phoebe Turner, Jean Campbell, Eleanor Dawson, Katherine Calloway, Frances Penn Miller, and Martha Lowry.

Delta Delta Delta: Misses Alice Lang, Louise Johnson, Virginia Brown, Anna Bain Hillenmeyer, Betty Frye, Marjorie Fleber, and Margaret Taylor.

Delta Zeta: Misses Gayle Elliott, Virginia Murrell, Mary Hopper Laytham, Louise Payne, Carolyn Stewart, Margaret Tarter, and Mary Higginson.

Kappa Delta: Misses Madlyn Shively, Elizabeth Jones, Nancy Becker, Jane Allen Webb, Mary Emory Stanley, Mary Temple Faulkner, and Odine Gill.

Kappa Kappa Gamma: Misses Martha Alford, Mary Ford O'Fut, Virginia Bosworth, Mildred Hobart, Lucy Shropshire, Anne Payne Perry, and Betty Ann Pennington.

Zeta Tau Alpha: Misses Lucy J. Anderson, Kitty Cook, Dorothy Teegarden, Muriel Wise, Virginia Riley, Elizabeth Montague, and Dorothy Lee Martin.

Prominent Visitor
J. Irvine Lyle, New York, president of the Carrier corporation, pioneers in air conditioning, visited the Engineering co lege Friday and was a guest of Dean F. Paul Anderson for luncheon.

Mr. Lyle is a graduate of the Engineering college of the University in 1896. He is a member of the board of trustees for several years. Saturday Mr. Lyle was joined by his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Snyder, and son, Ernest T. Lyle, former student of the University, and Mrs. Handorf. They will remain in Lexington for the Trots.

Alpha Gamma Delta Tea
The members of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority entertained from 4 to 6 p. m. Friday with a Colonial tea for the new girls at the University.

The house was beautifully decorated with dahlias and gladioli. Red and buff candles cast a soft glow upon pictures of southern statesmen and draped flags of the Confederacy and of the United States. The guests were greeted at the door by Miss Ann Robinson, dressed in crinoline, who escorted them to the receiving line. Mrs. J. W. Smith, Miss Evelyn Grubbs, and Miss Virginia Kelly received the guests. During the afternoon tea and canapés were served the guests. Over two hundred guests were welcomed.

Miss Marjorie Faulkner, Hazard, is a guest at the Alpha Gamma Delta house.

3 ALWAYS LUCKIES PLEASE

Why do we say "Always Luckies Please?" Well, one reason is that every Lucky is made of choice, ripe tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop. Another reason—Luckies are always round, firm, fully packed—with no loose ends to sputter and spark.

Careful examination and inspection by over 60 precision instruments and 17 alert scientists guarantee unflinching uniformity. That's why Luckies draw so easily, burn so evenly—always mild and smooth. And that's why—"Always Luckies Please!"

With the publication of all the reports of the South's leading sports-writers it seems that they do not give the Big Blue a chance to cop the championship...

As Ed Danforth, of the Atlanta Georgian says, "No longer does Alabama hold the monopoly of behemoths, but Kentucky has a collection of men with superlative physiques..."

The super-workouts of the team up until last Friday brought wreaths of smiles to the faces of the coaches. But Friday the vaunted offense of the seers of the Blue and White could not penetrate the big frosh wall...

With a two-days' rest, the varsity will probably digest the frosh this afternoon and the rest of this week. Coach Fribble has plenty of big boys out there...

Coach Rupp again has a magnificent crop of freshmen with which to strengthen his team for next year. Three of the stars from the great St. Xavier High school in Louisville are enrolled at present...

After watching the Wildcats in action it is our opinion that the Cats, barring injuries to their important players and if they get past Georgia Tech, will not lose but two games...

The Cats, for the first time in years, have two teams of almost the same weight, power and aggressiveness. Coach Gamage in ways said that to win games he needed two teams. He has them and it is beginning to show...

Jim Ross, deaf and dumb student who was a faithful member of the Wildcat football squad in 1921, is back in school. It is undecided whether he will go out for football...

Although several of the stars from last year's tennis team failed to return to school, it looks like the Wildcat tennis team will have their best season this year. With several excellent prospects from last year's yearling and Yost, Wilson, and several other holdovers...

BASKETEERS TO BEGIN WORK SOON

With four letter men lost by graduation, any one of whom would be a serious loss to any team, Adolph Rupp, head coach and ketball at the University, has begun to look for men around whom he can build a winning team...

Coach Rupp expects to begin practice about October 1, and will work the non-football players until the end of the grid season when the gridgers who play the net game will report.

Coach Bob's two veteran tackles, along with Rayburn, all-southern end, have left his ranks by graduation route. He has a group of husky 200-pounders to fill in these gaps but they lack experience.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 18—Coach Bob Neyland should, according to Bernie Moore, L. S. U. coach, win the newly formed Southeastern conference and also have one of the five best teams in the country.

COLLEGE OF LAW IS 26 YEARS OLD

Many Improvements Noted As Criteria of Progress Made Since College Was Begun in 1906

The law college this year is entering its 26th year on the campus. Considerable change has occurred during that time. The school has grown from an enrollment of 160 to an annual attendance of 160.

All the bound volumes of Shepard's "Citation" were added to the law library this summer so that now the library has a complete set of the "Citation" both for the reporter system and for all the states for which citations have been prepared.

Observing a young lady standing alone, the young man stepped up to her and said, "Pardon me. You look like Helen Bynum."

Passing Insured Insurance against flunking is the latest fad at the University of Missouri. The company pays for a summer school course if the student does not pass his subject.

She—This liniment makes my arm smart. He—Why not rub some on your head?

She—Have a Shakespearean cough? He—What do you mean by a Shakespearean cough?

Some smarty said that 99 per cent of college students are journalists because they write for money.

Editor, to Poet—That's the best poem you ever wrote. Poet—I'm glad you like it. Editor—I don't.

Spinster—Why don't you get married, Mr. Oldback? Oldback—Why marry a woman when I can buy a parrot for $5?

Spinster—Yes, that shows once more how the men have the advantage of us women. We can't buy any kind of a bear for less than $200.

The University of South California Daily Trojan claims that more college graduates among the students claim Harvard as their alma mater than all other colleges.

From the Co-No Press of the Cortland State Normal School comes the news that "love is an ocean of emotion surrounded by expenses."
