Minutes of the University Faculty August 21, 1944

The University Faculty met in the Assembly Room of Lafferty Hall Monday, August 21, at 3:00 p.m. President Donovan presided. Members absent from the meeting were A. E. Bigge, E. F. Farquhar, W. F. Galloway, H. H. Downing, O. T. Koppius, L. L. Quill, H. N. Sherwood, W. B. Hamilton, M. M. White, Bernie Shively, L. A. Bradford, W. P. Garrigus, H. B. Price, Stacie Erikson, E. A. Bureau, Perry West, F. H. Randall, Maurice Seay, L. H. Carter, Thomas P. Cooper, James H. Graham, William S. Taylor, Sarah B. Holmes, Margaret King, and W. E. Embry.

The minutes of May 31 were read and approved.

The Registrar read to the Faculty the following statement concerning credit for the War Training Service of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, offered at the University of Kentucky:

In the fall of 1941 there was initiated at the University a program of studies known as the Civilian Pilot Training Course of the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Some time after the initiation of this work, the Faculty of the University approved six quarter hours of credit for approximately 72 clock hours of work. The course was continued in this form until July, 1942, when it became the War Training Service of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and was extended to cover a total of 240 hours of instruction. No decision was ever been made as to the amount of credit to be assigned for this extended program, which included hours of instruction as follows:

Mathematics	36	Radio	20
Physics	30	Military and Physical Training	56
Civil Air Regulations	16	Aircraft Identification	12
Navigation	36	Meteorology	24
General Service Aircraft	10

We are now receiving requests for transcripts of credit covering this work, and it is necessary that some decision be made about it. After going over the syllabi and the curricula very carefully with Professor David M. Young, who was the coordinator of the program, and with Dean Boyd, the Registrar's Office is recommending to the Faculty the approval of ten quarter hours of credit for this course, to be recorded as CAA War Training Service. The Faculty voted approval of the 10 quarter hours of credit in War Training Service as recommended.

The following regulations respecting the operation and control of social fraternities were presented by Dean T. T. Jones and approved by the Faculty.

1. No fraternity will be allowed to operate in any capacity until all current debts have been paid.
2. All fraternities must have a housemother living in a room provided for her in the house. She must be approved by the Dean of Men. She shall inspect all the rooms and halls in the house daily and see that they are kept clean and in good order. The Dean of Men or his representative will also make frequent inspections of all fraternity houses.
3. The President of the University will appoint a small Administrative Committee to cooperate with the Dean of Men in the control and management of fraternities. All chapters must have the approval of this committee in buying, building, or renting houses. This committee will decide what improvements, if any, must be made and what equipment must be installed in all houses leased or owned to make them habitable.
4. This committee will decide the extent of the operation of each chapter, whether to operate a house with or without meals or to conduct a chapter without either. The committee will also decide how many men may be accommodated under each of the operations named above. It is understood that any permission given to operate may be modified or terminated at any time if the condition of the chapter demands it.
5. No chapter will be permitted to have more than 50 actives and pledges at any time and none shall pledge more than 25 men in any year. No freshman may be pledged unless he has a standing of 1.0 for the preceding quarter or semester.
6. The committee will see to it that all books and bills are submitted to the Comptroller by each chapter at the first of each month for audit.
7. Each chapter must have a member of the University Staff or an alumnus living in the city in active control of the internal operations of the fraternity. He should approve all purchases of furniture and equipment and see to it that members and pledges pay their bills promptly. He should confer at least once a month with the Administrative Committee and give them a list of all men in arrears.
8. The Board of Trustees has already passed these regulations:
All freshman men must live in men's dormitories unless excused by the Dean of Men; no male freshman may live in a fraternity house; no male freshman may pledge a fraternity until the end of his first quarter or semester in the University.

9. No male student above the freshman year may be initiated until he has been enrolled in the University for at least one quarter or semester and made a standing 1.0 or above.
10. Soon after the beginning of each quarter each chapter will submit to the office of the Dean of Men, a list of actives and pledges. No man may be initiated without a permit from the Dean of Men. This will be based primarily on scholarship, a standing of at least 1.0 for the preceding quarter or semester.
11. The Administrative Committee will encourage the formation of a student Interfraternity Council composed of a member from each group, preferably the president. This council will try to settle internal disputes arising over pledging, breaking pledges, repledging and whatever other differences may arise among the chapters.
12. Only regular students in the University may be pledged and initiated into fraternities.

T. T. Jones
Dean of Men

On recommendation of the College of Arts and Sciences, the following course changes and new courses were approved:

English 111a. The Eighteenth Century Novel. Five quarter hours. Defoe, Richardson, Fielding, Sterne, Smollett, Fanny Burney and Jane Austen. This course is designed to serve as the first panel in a sequence of courses for the three regular quarters, together with The Age of Pope and The Age of Johnson. As it will be rotated with other courses, no budget increase will be required.

English 111b. The Victorian Novel in England. Five quarter hours. Number changed from 111.

Math. & Astr. 30, 130. Fundamental Concepts of Elementary Mathematics. Two quarter hours. This course consists of a critical analysis of the basic concepts and principles of arithmetic and elementary algebra. It is designed to furnish, in part, a background for teachers of these subjects. Prerequisite: One year of high school algebra.

Music. The following are changes in music courses required for the degree of B.S. in Music:

Music A: Notation and Terminology. No quarter hours. The fundamentals and essentials of music notation and terminology; the physical properties of sound. A prerequisite to all courses in Theory of Music, unless the student passes an examination in the subject.

In the following courses the descriptions have been changed, and two courses of six hours each have been redistributed to make three courses of four hours each. The University's change from the semester system to the quarter system makes this distribution pedagogically desirable.

Music 33a. Elementary Harmony, Sight Singing and Dictation. Four quarter hours. Melodic and Rhythmic Dictation. Drill in sight singing and keyboard harmony. Harmonizing of given and original melodies, using tonic, dominant and dominant seventh chords and their inversions. Required of all music majors. Prerequisite: Music 12b.

Music 33b. Elementary Harmony, Sight Singing and Dictation. Four quarter hours. A continuation of Music 33a. Introduction of the dominant ninth and the incomplete dominant dissonances, the sub-dominant triad and sub-dominant seventh chord, and non-harmonic tones. Required of all music majors. Prerequisite: Music 33a.

Music 33c. Elementary Harmony, Sight Singing and Dictation. Four quarter hours. A continuation of Music 33b. A study of the subordinate triads and their chords of the seventh; Modulation to closely related keys. Analysis of master works. Required of all music majors. Prerequisite: Music 33b.

Descriptions are changed in the following courses, and the work is offered in three courses of four hours each, instead of in two courses of five hours each, an increase over all of two quarter hours, to meet the requirements in standards set by the National Association of Schools of Music. Music 34a and 34b originally allowed a total of more than the equivalent of 12 quarter hours. (See catalogs for 1939-40 and 1940-41. The former, 10 semester hours; the later, 8).

Music 34a. Advanced Harmony, Sight Singing and Dictation. Four quarter hours. A continuation from Elementary Harmony. Modulation by common chord and by diminished seventh; chromatic alterations of all principal and subordinate triads and seventh chords. Required of all music majors. Prerequisite: Music 33c.

Music 34b. Advanced Harmony, Sight Singing and Dictation. Four quarter hours. Continuation of Music 34a. Modulation by chromatic alterations and further study of chromatic dissonances. Required of all music majors. Prerequisite: Music 34a.

Music 34c. Advanced Harmony, Sight Singing and Dictation. Four quarter hours. Continuation of Music 34b. Modulation by common tone; further study of chromatic dissonance; scales other than the diatonic, and a survey of contemporary harmonic experiments. Required of all music majors. Prerequisite: Music 34b.

Romance Languages 102a. Advanced Spanish Grammar and Composition. Four quarter hours. Prerequisite: 9a, b or equivalent.

Romance Languages 102b. Continuation of 102a. Four quarter hours.
Prerequisite: 102a.

Romance Languages 108a. Spanish American Literature. Four quarter hours. A study of the representative writers and principal literary productions of Spanish America. Prerequisite: 9a, b or the equivalent.

Romance Languages 108b. Continuation of 108a. Four quarter hours.
Prerequisite: 9a and b or equivalent.

German 106a,b. Number changed from 6a,b.

German 3a or 3b. to be accepted as prerequisite for German 101a,b, 102a,b, 103a,b.

Physics 210a to be changed from four quarter hours to five quarter hours.

The following proposals were presented to the Faculty by Dean Boyd. These proposals had originated with the Committee on Honors Day of the College of Arts and Sciences and were presented to the Faculty with the recommendation of the Faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences:

1. A University Honors Convocation. The final convocation of the year at which there would be the public announcement and recognition of the new members of the honor societies, as well as of special scholastic prizes and medals. There would be an address by a well known creative scholar. The printed program would include the names of the students honored and the names of students attaining a cumulative standing of 2.3 or more. This convocation would be scheduled for two class periods so that neither the recognition nor the address need be rushed.

2. Effective publicity in the Kernel and in the city papers.

For the purpose of inducing promising students to continue their education after high school graduation and as a further encouragement of excellence in scholarship, the committee further proposes:

1. The establishment of numerous University tuition scholarships for needy high school pupils who graduate in the upper third of their classes. These scholarships would be retained as long as these students maintain a standing of 2.3 in their academic work.

2. The establishment of numerous tuition scholarships for juniors and seniors who have an outstanding record for the two or three previous years of work.

The Faculty approved the recommendation with respect to the University's Honors Convocation. The proposals relative to scholarships were recommended to the Board of Trustees for its consideration.

Dean Boyd also read to the Faculty the following recommendations of the College of Arts and Sciences on Postwar Liberal Arts Education:

1. That a University agent be appointed, authorized and equipped to deal with the proper agencies during the postwar period, to obtain for the University clerical equipment, laboratory apparatus, instruments, trucks, squad cars, electrical fixtures, and many other useful materials which will undoubtedly be released by the government.
2. That a University committee be appointed to study the feasibility and methods of attracting foreign scholars, teachers, and students, and to make recommendations to the administration in regard to them.
3. That the following be referred for consideration to the University Post-war Education Committee:

That the University Faculty authorize the creation of a University committee composed of one ex-service member of each of the several college faculties and chosen by the several college faculties to advise with the returning veterans, men and women, on their individual problems, to evaluate their service training, and to act as liaison officers between the student veterans and the regular administration of the colleges.

The first proposal above was adopted by the Faculty and referred by President Donovan to the University's Committee on Postwar Planning. The third proposal was likewise referred to this committee in keeping with the recommendation concerning it. The second proposal was adopted by the Faculty and referred by President Donovan to the University's Committee on Foreign Students.

On recommendation of the Faculty of the College of Law, the following course changes were approved by the University Faculty:

Law 101a - Contracts I - 5 quarter hours, and Law 101b - Contracts II - 4 quarter hours, to be offered during 1944-45 as:

Law 101a - Contracts I - 3 quarter hours
Law 101b - Contracts II - 3 quarter hours
Law 101c - Contracts III - 3 quarter hours. No change in content of the course.

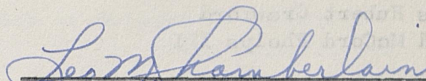

On the recommendation of the Registrar's office, the procedure to be followed in determining credit to be granted veterans in military science and physical education was amended as follows:

The rule as originally proposed by the Committee on Postwar Planning and approved by the University Faculty read as follows:

Credit in the required two years basic course in military science and for the required one or two years in physical education may be given for three months' service in the U.S. Military or Naval Forces. Candidates for such credit will submit duly authenticated copies of their discharge papers to the head of the department concerned, who will send his authorization of the credit to the Registrar for record.

The last sentence was changed to read: "Candidates for such credit will submit duly authenticated copies of their discharge papers to the Registrar."

President Donovan announced to the Faculty the retirement of Col. B. E. Brewer and introduced Col. Guy Chipman as the new Commandant and Professor of Military Science and Tactics.
