LEXINGTON, KY.

July 1st.

Dear Friend:

The three great principles of our American Commonwealth are Liberty, Equality and Fraternity.

On the 4th day of this month in 1776 our forefathers proclaimed to the people of all Nations that these three requisites to happiness would be guaranteed to all who might seek the hospitality of these shores. Today one hundred million people—many from foreign countries—enjoy these three cardinal principles.

And yet there will come a time in each of these hundred million lives when to fully enjoy Liberty, Equality and Fraternity they must have that sordid handle to this triple combination—Money. Start a bank account today and celebrate your Declaration of Independence from the errors of the past and the limitations of the future.

Yours very truly,

Channing L. & Co.
