ABOUT THE LIBRARIES

Staff Christmas party scheduled:

The Library Staff Organization is planning its annual Christmas party to be held December 17 from 11:30 to 1:00. The luncheon will be served from 11:30 to 12:30 with entertainment following. The party is being held on the third floor of King North, in the Administrative Services area. If you plan to come, and we hope everyone will, please bring a potlunch dish (which will serve six) and serving utensils. Please bring the dish, ready to serve, to the Administrative Services area, by 11:00 on the 17th. Sign-up sheets for the various dishes are already circulating in the departments. The categories are: meat casseroles, relishes, rolls and butter, vegetables and desert. Drinks will be supplied by the Director's Office and eating utensils by the Staff Organization.

Please also plan to bring a white elephant, wrapped as a Christmas present, for exchanging at the party. Please come join us and celebrate the Christmas Season!

N.B.: Please put your name on bottom of serving plate and remember to pick up your dish when the party is finished.

Christmas Concert:

The Student Brass Quintet of the School of Music will perform an hour of Baroque Christmas music and carols in the Gallery; at noon on the 10th of December.

Apprentices needed at King Library Press:

The King Library Press has openings for a limited number of apprentices for the 1977 Spring Semester. Apprentices at the Press gain practical experience in printing with the hand press, typesetting and book design, case binding, and paper decoration. The Press publishes only books for sale. There are currently three works in press and a fourth in preparation.

Students (undergraduate and graduate) of the University of Kentucky may earn credit for this work by arrangement with their departments; other members of the University community are also welcome. We are sorry that there are no paid positions at this time.

Due to the small number of apprenticeships open, those interested should contact the Director as soon as possible. The Press is open from 9:00-5:00 weekdays. New apprentices will begin work on 12 January 1977. Individual work schedules can be arranged.

UK/U of L automated circulation studied:

The University of Louisville/University of Kentucky joint study team dealing with the automation of the two circulation departments hosted an on-line demonstration presented by the Computer Library Services, Inc. (CLSI), on Wednesday, December 1, 1976 in the Instructional Services department. In attendance were the company's President, Vice-President, and a sales representative and a cross-section of the King Library and U. of L. staff.

Library publicity note:

If you know of library services or library-related events that deserve public attention, please let David Farrell know. As public information coordinator, he maintains contact with the Kernel, Communi-K, Teaching News & Notes and other on- and off-campus information services. News articles, interviews, and advertising can be arranged.
