My dear Fred:

Congratulations and best wishes for a successful tenure of office in the American Medical Association. During recent years I have not been getting to the meetings often and, although I knew you were looming large on the horizon in the medical and surgical world, I did not realize you were to be thus honored at this time.

I know you will fill this office with great credit, and I wish to extend to you my most sincere good wishes.

Yours very sincerely,

Mel. Henderson
