Dear Fred:

Now that it is all over and you are out of the Service I would like to send you a brief word of commendation for a difficult job well done.

I know full well how often you were circumvented in your desire to increase efficiency by placing men where they were best fitted. The times you were disappointed were without number and how you stood up under it is beyond me; however, you did well, and I am glad that you are back in civil life and can resume a state of more or less normalcy.

Hope to see you at the Southern Surgical.

Best of luck to you always, I am

Yours cordially,

Floyd W. McRae
