Dear Dr. Rankin:

I waited to write you until I got Grable's letter telling me that the speech went off in great style. Dr. Engel's train left too early for him to stay for your speech which was a disappointment to him. Miss Vallmar sent me the clipping from the Lexington paper and for once you got the write-up you so richly deserve. I will never know anyone who has worked any harder and anymore unselfishly than you to raise and maintain the standards of your profession along with doing for people what you have done. No honors they give you will be too much. I prayed as hard as I knew how that the Chicago event would turn out well for you and continue to hope and pray that the trip to England
